Scotia Branch On Shore Relieved

—A dragnet was cast throughout lower British Columbia today for the two men who held up the Bank of Nova Scotia in North Vancouver and escaped with $4,400. A maroon sedan was used by the gunmen, this being later recovered at Seymour Mountain, twenty miles east of the scene of the robbery.

The masked men entered the bank yesterday and ordered L. A. Hannah, manager, to open the vault. Hannah said the vault was time-locked.

The bandits scooped up the cash in the teller's cage and ran out to the waiting car. Both men wore overalls, dirty grey masks and sunglasses.

One had painted his face to cover identification marks.

CORONER'S JURY FINDS DEATH BY STRANGLING

Evidence presented to a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Joseph Garnis, whose body was found on July 3 on the beach near Casey Point, indicated that Garnis may have tied two rocks about his own neck with telegraph wire then entered the water at a spot three and a half miles south of the city 24 to 48 hours before the body was found.

The jury brought in a verdict of "death by strangulation at a spot three and a half miles south of the C.N.R. depot on or about July 3," after hearing testimony last night by four witnesses during a session that lasted more than two hours.

Garnis' body was first seen lying 150 feet out on the beach at low tide by John Edgar, C.N.R. workman when a gravel train in which he was riding was returning from Kalet siding at 6:40 Thursday night. The discovery was investigated by Corporal A. H. Taylor of the City police.

According to Corporal Taylor, evidence indicated that Garnis had arranged the anchor of rocks tied together with wire, which kept his body under water at high tide. There was no indication of foul play by another person.

The body was identified by R. H. Spencer of Inverness Cannery, for whom Garnis had intended to fish this summer. Garnis had operated a gillnet boat for the cannery for the last two summers. Spencer said that Garnis was "excitable and very generous," but that he believed him to be despondent because of money matters recently.

Spencer said that he had heard Garnis say that he had worked in mines throughout the province, and that he believed he had mentioned working at Premier mine. His national registration card was issued at Wells in 1940.

A workman's identification card issued to Garnis by the B.C. Bridge and Dredging Co. at Port Edward during the war gave Garnis' birthplace as Lachine, Quebec, while a passport made out to Joseph "Garnys" in Lithuania in 1928 gave his birthplace as Lithuania. Both documents gave the year of birth as 1897. He had no known relatives.

Dr. R. E. Coleman, pathologist, gave the cause of death as strangulation, declaring that by "careful manipulation" deceased could have placed the rocks about his own neck. The rocks, which weighed about 40 pounds, Dr. Coleman said were "not too heavy to carry."

Jurors were A. E. Field, foreman, Arthur Krock, Leslie Camp-ton, Eric Janes, George Hauge and Harold Benson.

"JIMMY" DOOLITTLE MAY PAY YACHTING VISIT TO PR. RUPERT

Prince Rupert may have a visit shortly from General Jimmy Doolittle, former United States Army Air Force chief staff and legendary leader of the famous "Shangri La" exploit which was one of the turning points in the war against Japan. General Doolittle, who is now engaged in the mundane existence of an oil company executive in New York, will be flying Alaskaward soon in his own B-25. At Ketchikan he will join his boyhood friend, C. V. Brink, retired building contractor of Los Angeles for an Alaskan cruise on the handsome yacht Patricia which arrived in Prince Rupert Tuesday night. The cruise may include a call back at Prince Rupert by the Patricia.

One of the most handsome and up-to-date power cruisers to visit Prince Rupert this year is the 65-foot twin-diesel Patricia. Of the Shain-Trimmer completely streamlined type she was built in Seattle four years ago and later acquired by Mr. Downs. She has six staterooms and the latest of equipment for navigating facility and living comfort at sea.

Mr. Downs and party, who arrived in Prince Rupert Monday night, started out from Los Angeles May 15 and have been making their leisurely way northward since then. They have called at Portland, Seattle, Vancouver and Princess Louise Inlet (Malibu Camp) as well as many other points along the coast. Their ultimate destination is Anchorage and Steward in Western Alaska.

The party includes Mr. and Mrs. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Brink and Ralph Hatfield, the latter of Seattle. Mr. Brink is no stranger in the north for he was United States Army fire chief at Skagway during the war. He will revisit Skagway in the course of the cruise.

The Patricia is moored at the floats of the Prince Rupert Yacht & Rowing Club and will leave for Ketchikan Wednesday morning.

Coal Strike Now Settled

Half of U. S. Miners Returning To Jobs and Rest Expected Soon

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Agreement averting a nationwide soft coal strike was signed today by John L. Lewis and the majority of bituminous operators. In announcing the signing, Lewis told a news conference that it is "reasonable to assume" the entire industry will accept the agreement within a few days. More than half of Lewis' 400,000 United Mine Workers are covered by agreement thus far signed by northern commercial operators of steel companies and mine owners in the west and midwest.

Result of the agreement means the highest pay in the history of the workers. For the public it means higher coal prices and possibly less coal production under the shorter work day provided in the contract.

REFORESTATION IS DISCUSSED

LONDON —C. D. Orchard, chief forester in British Columbia, said at the Empire Forestry Conference that, in Canada, ninety per cent of the land was still vested in the Crown and the State could not cope with reforestation of all the land owned. Arrangements might be made with private enterprise to undertake part of the work.

RUSSIANS IN BERING SEA

Russia is resuming post war fishing activities in the Behring Sea but, according to those who make a study of the situation, whatever is done will not have any bearing on British Columbia fishing. The Soviet, which did not fish Canadian waters before the war, will again operate floating canneries on quite a wide scale.

DISARMAMENT PLAN PASSED

United Nations Security Council Approves American Blue Print For Discussions

LAKE SUCCESS — United Nations security council today approved an American blue print for arms reduction discussions despite the Russian warning that the plan would bring about collapse of arms regulation efforts. The vote was nine to nothing with Russia and Poland abstaining.

In view of Russia's firm stand against the United States plan, it had been believed she might invoke the Big Power veto to block it. Andre Gromyko gave his warning before the United Nations security council in a new effort to revive a Soviet working plan which had already been rejected by the commission for conventional armaments.

ODLUM IS CRITICIZED

Attacked in Parliament By Progressive-Conservative Member

OTTAWA —Major-General Victor Odlum, formerly commander of the Second Division overseas, was described in the House of Commons by Colonel Douglas Harkness (P.C.-Calgary East) as an army commander who "produced a great deal of misery" for the troops who served under him.

Col. Harkness, who served under General Odlum in the Second Division, made the charge in taking objection to government legislation to provide pensions for senior diplomatic appointees who served outside of Canada.

General Odlum, questioned at his home in Vancouver, said: "I don't remember him at all. I have not the slightest idea of what is in his mind."

OTTAWA —There was a flare-up in the House of Commons during consideration of Department of Transport estimates last night when Howard Green, Progressive-Conservative for Vancouver South, precipitated another debate on merchant seamen and expressed amazement at the statement by Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction, that he was not "prepared to say that the man who did not put on a uniform was in the same position as one who wore a uniform."

Mr. Green warned the government that more would be heard in the case for merchant seamen.

World Needs Religion

OBJECT of the recent Marian Congress in Ottawa, in the words of one writer, was "to start a wave of religious renaissance which will turn men back to God and away from war and conflict." Canadians generally will welcome efforts in that direction.

The Roman Catholic church is an effective international institution. It has gone on surviving and growing for 1900 years. Its prayers and its work in the cause of peace will have effect.

We wish it well in its effort "to start a wave of religious renaissance." We wish the same for other faiths. Was there ever a time when the world more needed it?

"Full employment" is the best that governments can offer. Honest socialists know that their finest dreams, fully realized, do nothing more for the human race than give it the materials and mechanisms required for animal existence.

Milk cows on the carefully supervised farms that supply city milk get a clean stall, all the fresh water and chop they can eat, fresh bedding every day, carefully selected mates, expert medical care constantly.

Who wants to be a cow? Yet doing the same for the human race as has long since been done for cows is the great frenzy of our time.

We are vastly concerned about putting stuff in men's stomachs and arranging things so they will have more time and money to devote to beer, movies, ball games and idleness. We are frantically building the social service state from which all blessings are supposed to flow and which is supposed to do as much for us as we now do for the cows.

Very general, we find, is the uncomfortable feeling that none of these things, like the social service state, nor full employment, nor free beer, nor better motion pictures, are going to solve man's immemorial problem; living with himself in contentment and with his neighbors in peace; above all, in knowing that there is some point to life, that he has some part of the answer to the riddle of human existence.

We know a lot of people rich in talent, money and power. But the happy people we know, the truly successful human beings, are all people with some kind of a religion; some firm faith in a power beyond themselves.

We have a very sick world, filled with spiritually sick people. We hope a religious renaissance is on the way.

CANADA FAR AHEAD

CANADIANS enjoy more of the modern comforts of life than any other nation with possible exception of the United States, according to an interesting graph published in "Round Table," a publication for General Motors dealers and their employees.

With only six-tenths of one per cent of the world's population and 6 per cent of its land area, Canada, under the free enterprise system, enjoys an overwhelming advantage not only in industrial strength but in the everyday comforts of life. The mileage of its railroads and telegraph wires, in relation to population, surpasses all nations. The electricity it produces nearly doubles that of any other nation.

In everyday comforts Canada is in the unique class of the United States; it has a telephone for every 5 persons... an automobile for every 8... a radio for every 7... 32 times more automobiles... 22 times more telephones and nearly 7 times more radios than in Russia.

In the dissemination of news, Canada stands comparison with the United States. In proportion to its population, it has two-thirds as many daily newspapers as the United States... nearly 3 times as many as in Great Britain, and 55 times more than in Russia.

LETTERBOX

NORTHERN PORT NEEDED

Editor, Daily News:
After thirty-five years of pilgrimage in our northland I can assure you I was more than interested in your editorial on daily train service. When one meets so many men over thirty years of age who have never seen a track laying machine at work it really appears as if our country is finished and painted.

There seem to be few men who realize that the railway which the tri-weekly trains travel on through Prince George was designed as a through trunk railway from Moncton, N.B., to Prince Rupert. Could these men realize that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been permitted to finish his Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and set it going as he designed it and put the money into it to keep it going through its infertile years as Sir John McDonald did his C.P.R., then I am sure that we all could see where the G.T.P. would be a going concern today and would not have cost the country a dollar more than the present mix-up. Prince Rupert would be on a par with Vancouver as an ocean port, docking ocean liners from Vladivostok, the Pacific terminal of the Siberian railway as Charles Hays planned. Prince George would have been a divisional terminal employing more men and handling more traffic than it ever will handle even if all their present dreams are realized.

Can we remember that Prince Rupert is 500 miles nearer oriental points than is Vancouver, which means that a boat making a round trip sails 1000 miles extra in order to pass Prince Rupert up, and there were 415 of these sailings in 1936, meaning there were 415,000 miles of extra sailing done in that one year, but this extra mileage of boat sailing put passenger, mail and express traffic into Vancouver to load five and sometimes eight C.P. passenger trains out of Vancouver daily.

Now what would happen if Prince Rupert and Prince George should be getting even a fair share of that traffic? And why not, when it is claimed that Prince Rupert is two days sailing nearer oriental points. Well, if one consults the time table it will be found that 48 hours would put passenger traffic in Winnipeg before the boat arrives at Vancouver.

Surely it is as plain as a harvest moon in a clear sky at midnight that all the north country needs is an overseas port on the North Pacific whether the Port is at Prince Rupert or elsewhere.
PAGE RIDEOUT.

Constable Grant Is Awarded Medal

Constable Andy Grant, who was stationed at Prince Rupert and Hazelton years ago and who is well known here, was honored recently, in view of his excellent record. The ceremony took place at Duncan, Vancouver Island. The B.C. Police Medal was presented to him for long service and good conduct by Cpl. Eric Peplar, provincial deputy attorney-general. In doing so he referred to Constable Grant's more than 20 years service and incidents in his career, one being the occasion when he risked his life to aid Skeena settlers during a flood some years ago.

ANGER TO BE SENT BACK TO KETCHIKAN

Gerald W. Anger, whose story of shipwreck in the Aleutians followed by an epic lifeboat voyage across the Gulf of Alaska, was discredited by police and immigration authorities 24 hours after his arrival here last Friday, will be shipped back to Ketchikan as soon as steamship passage is arranged for him, Immigration Officer R. D. Evans said today.

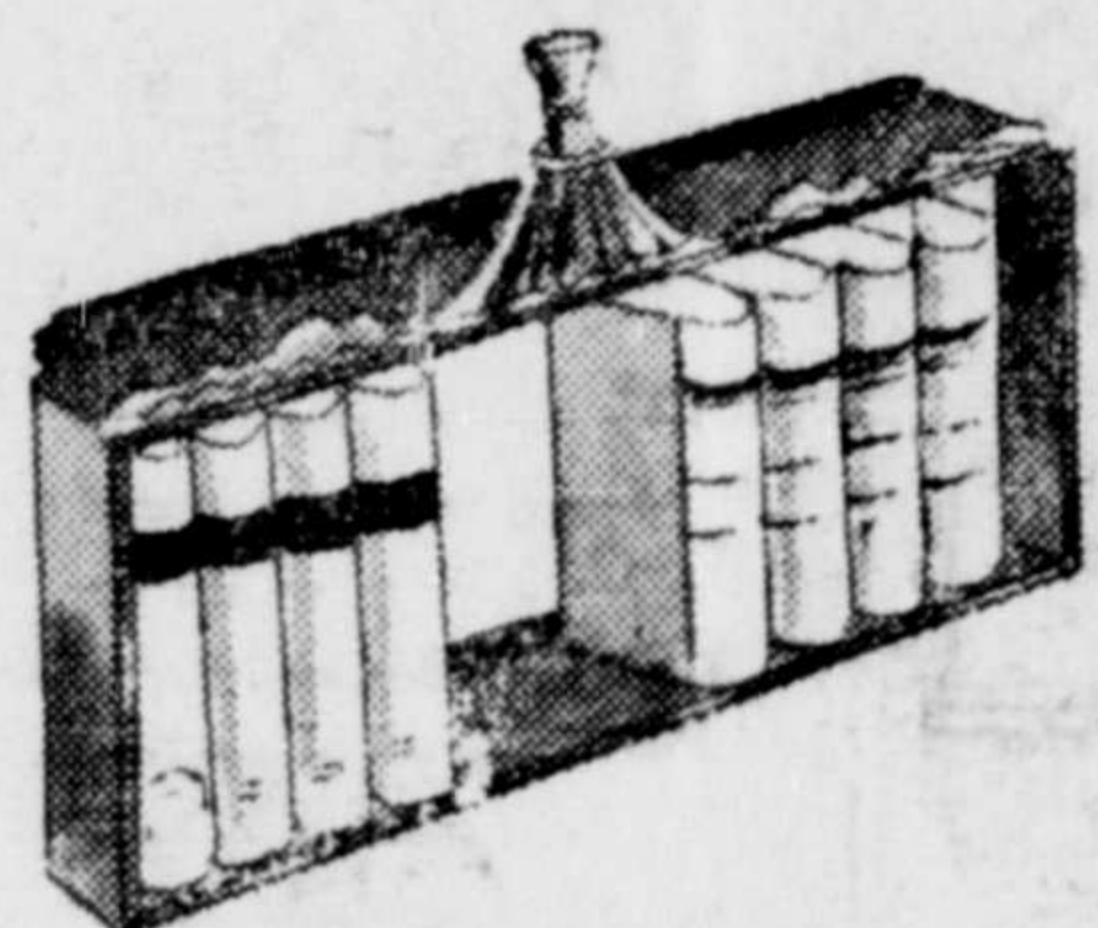

Anger, who gave his name as Andrew Young on his arrival here in a 16-foot sail boat, has been in the city jail since Saturday afternoon when he admitted the falsity of his story. No charges are expected to be laid. Object of the local immigration office is to get rid of him as soon as possible, and it is expected that he may be shipped back to Ketchikan, where his voyage originated, tomorrow night on the Prince Rupert.

The Customs office, so far, has reached no decision regarding the release of the sail boat or equipment which was seized shortly before Anger's detention on Saturday.

Questioning of Anger by the authorities has resulted so far in no coherent story as to his background, other than that he spent the last three months around Ketchikan. It is believed however, that he has been in Alaska for some time.

Vancouver Plane Failed Saturday

Owing to mechanical trouble the Douglas transport plane, operating on the Vancouver-Sandspit leg of the Vancouver-Prince Rupert air service, had to turn back to Vancouver on Saturday. It came through yesterday to make the connection with the Canso flying boat from here through passengers between here and Vancouver being held up for the day.

R.I.P.

We regret the death of Bobby Houston and Stan Orvik when the Prince Rupert halibut craft "Lorna H." blew up while refueling at the Home Oil dock. Han Knutsen, John Wick son of Ole Wick, Barney Berg and Einar Magnusson had fortunate and narrow escapes from death in this regrettable accident. Both boys were among our readers and have often read of similar tragic accidents, which appear just as tragic to the staff every time we have to pen a few poor words of sympathy to loved ones. How empty words seem in times such as these.

Dahlias—Seed or tubers. Many varieties and colors. All grow well here if given a rich soil and a sunny position in the garden.

Gallardia—Perennial, 2-3 feet high, bright shades of yellow, orange and crimson, good cutting flower, blooms freely.

Gladiolus—Seed or Corms. Corms must be lifted for winter storage. Spikes of bloom unrivalled for colors and beauty. Do best in sunny spot in well-drained, fairly rich soil.

Peonies—Beautiful flowers in June, decorative foliage, require rich, deeply-dug, moist soil.

Montbretias—Seed or Corms. Culture similar to gladiolus.

Iris, Japanese and Siberian Varieties—Unlike bearded iris, they require a cool, moist root-run which has been deeply cultivated.

Hollyhocks—Perennial 6-10 ft. high, single and double varieties in many colors. Like a sunny position sheltered from rough winds, and a rich soil. Cut down flower stalk in the fall and limit number of shoots that appear in the spring to one or two.

Mignonette—Annual, insignificant but very fragrant spikes of bloom. A "lime" lover. Does best in semi-shade.

Schizanthus or Butterfly Flower—Annual, suitable for bedding, window boxes or potted plants. Covered with small orchid-like flowers, comes in many colors, remains ornamental for months.

Astilbe or Herbaceous Spirea—Decorative foliage, feathery plumes in shades of salmon, lilac, cerise, red and white. Likes very wet soil and grows especially well here with little fussing over it. A native, white spirea grows along the highway and railroad tracks, 2-3 feet high.

Hemerocallis or Day Lily—Another ideal perennial for the amateur Prince Rupert gardener. Requires little attention, likes moist, shady position. Blooms are yellow, orange and bronze, during July-August 2-3 feet high.

Lilies of the Valley—Produce sweetly-scented sprays of white bells in profusion, if given a cool, moist root-run in a slightly shaded spot.

Near Flood After Water Main Break

Residents of Fourth Avenue East were without water for several hours from midafternoon to late last evening following the breaking of a main at the corner of Cotton. There was a great gush of water which broke through the surface of the street and flooded at least one basement before the torrent was stopped by the turning off of the supply into the main. Several waterworks men were employed digging up the street and replacing the broken pipe.

NAVY DOWNS LEAGUE LEADERS IN THRILLING FASTBALL FIXTURE

C.N.R.A. Defeated 2-4 In Game That Goes To Eleven Innings

In what was undoubtedly the best game of the season so far, the Navy, who had not previously won a game, defeated the league leading Canadian National Recreation Association by 4 to 2 in a stirring game that went to eleven innings before a decision could be reached.

Navy went scoreless in their first inning while C.N.R.A. scored once on successive hits by Hunter, Schwab and Dunbar. C.N.R.A. added a second in the third inning when Schwab scored, after being given a walk, on Dunbar's hit. From then on C.N.R.A. were held scoreless. The Navy scored in the fourth to tie the game when Groff and Hallam crossed the plate on Postuk's bunt and Beback's single. It was a pitcher's duel from then on with both pitchers getting airtight support in the field. Score was still tied at the end of the regulation nine innings. Neither got a hit in the tenth but in the first half of the eleventh Dumas got a solid two-bagger. Groff got on and both came home on Postuk's two-bagger. In their half of the eleventh Dunbar got on base but Boulton and Tschabold both struck out to retire the side and end the game.

OUTCLASSED BY BETTER PLAYERS

With no apologies for their complete defeat in the international series with Ketchikan, Manager Bill Lambie and the Prince Rupert All-Star baseball team returned home on the Princess Norah Saturday afternoon from the "First City of Alaska." They were just out-classed by a more-practised and seasoned team. The local trip to Ketchikan followed the visit of the Alaskans here last week under Manager Harry Ludwigson.

FANCIES OF THE FANS

The new Navy pitcher, Beback, caught everyone's eye. He has speed and control. His practice of warming up by pitching with his left hand—and he really can throw that ball—and then switching to his right hand for the regular game was an eye-opener.

Postuk caught a good game and kept everybody, including the umpire, on his toes. Hallam at short stop did a good job, one high Texas leaguer that he took over his shoulder was really clever. Parlett in the left field took a great catch to retire the opposition at a crucial point. Groff starred at first and at bat. The Navy team promises to be the "team to beat." Turner also shone.

C.N.R.A. were always in the game with Dunbar pitching well and hitting hard. Too bad he got caught taking a lead off in the last inning. He was too keen. Schwab does a good job as catcher.

BEATRICE ROSS IS JASPER BRIDE

Married to Prince George Man at Recent Ceremony

Pale pink gladiol, roses and fern decorated the United church at Jasper Park for the evening wedding of Beatrice Heien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Ross of Jasper, formerly of Prince Rupert, and Arnold Assman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Assman, son of Prince George. Rev. A. D. Carr officiated. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Killin of Prince Rupert.

Entering the church with her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a princess-styled gown of white sipped satin, the skirt terminating in a slight train. The bodice, which fastened down the back with self-covered buttons, featured a round neckline edged in tating. Her floor-length veil was held in place with a pearl-studded tiara and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white heather, which had been sent from relatives in Scotland. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace with earrings to match, gifts from the groom.

Miss Margaret Simondson of Prince Rupert attended the bride. She was gowned in ice blue nylon with a chapel veil to match and she carried pale pink carnations. Groomsmen were Alastair Ross, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Mr. Harold Assman, brother of the groom, and Mr. Tom Ross, brother of the bride. Mr. W. B. Watson played the wedding music and prior to the ceremony Mrs. Harold Assman

New Garage Is Being Built At Smithers

SMITHERS—Fair headway is being made with the construction of the new garage building for W. J. O'Neil in Smithers, despite the fact of delays due to the shortage of materials. It is being built of frame and stucco. The contract is in the hands of R. C. Mutch, of Prince Rupert. The foundation work was completed last autumn.

song "Until." During the signing of the register she sang "All Joy Be Thine."

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Ross, mother of the bride, received in a turquoise and black figured jersey frock with a black hat trimmed with turquoise ribbon. Her accessories were in black and her corsage was of Talisman roses.

Rooms throughout were decorated with pale pink roses and pale pink and white carnations. Laid in white Madeira linen, the bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake topped with a circle of orange blossoms. The cake was made by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. M. L. Taylor. Small vases of Sweetheart roses and sweet peas and tall tapers in silver candleholders completed the arrangement.

The knife the bride used for cutting the wedding cake had been used by her great-grandmother, her grandmother and her mother at their weddings.

D. S. McCready proposed the toast to the bride. Presiding at the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. Killin of Prince Rupert, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. D. Ross, aunt of the bride.

For going away the bride donned a turquoise jersey dress with a matching topcoat and white accessories. The couple will reside in Prince George.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Killin, Mr. Alastair Ross and Miss Margaret Simondson of Prince Rupert and Mr. and Mrs. H. Assman, Mr. and Mrs. D. Ross and son Davie, Mrs. W. Muirhead and Mrs. Scofield, all of Prince George.

RISKS OF FISHING TOLD IN ARTICLE

After the B. C. quota is caught, says Peter Madison in the current Canadian Fisherman, he may decide to go into the treacherous northern waters off the gale-swept Alaskan halibut Area 3 which remains open considerably longer. Here, if he is lucky, he may end the season with $1,000 or $1,500.

On the other hand, if he runs into a spell of storms or other bad luck he may end up in the hole. Gear losses and repair costs are deducted from the gross take of the halibut boat each trip. Then 20 per cent comes off for the owner, and the rest is equally divided among the crew. Out of his cut, each fisherman must pay his own expenses for grub and his share of fuel.

Timely Recipe

Olive Fruit Salad

Because Olive Fruit Salad is so simple to prepare and so good to taste, it is one of our favorite all-season quickies. When it's for a luncheon main course, serve two filled peach halves per person and garnish the plate with whole ripe olives.

Two-thirds cup chopped ripe olives.
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese.
1 tablespoon mayonnaise.

4 canned cling peach halves
Lettuce.
Chopped unblanched almonds.
Paprika.

Blend together olives, cheese and mayonnaise. Arrange peach halves cut side up on garnished salad plates. Cover tops generously with cheese and olive filling. Sprinkle with chopped almonds and a dash of paprika. Serves 4.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CINDERELLA—Once upon a time there was a scrubwoman in Watford, England, who washed floors for 36 cents an hour, 8 hours a day. She resented stories about models and titled ladies who were called glamorous by newspapers. So Mrs. Sarah Waldoek (right) wrote to one of them: "There's real loveliness in our little homes, but hidden under dust caps, mops and scrubbing brushes. 'I'll prove it.' She hurried off to a beauty parlor early in the morning and then visited a dress shop. And when the clock struck twelve—Mrs. Waldoek, the mother of three children, proved her point. At right you see the glamorous, finished job.

Directors of the Prince George Hospital have met a request of Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia that salaries be increased to a minimum of $140 during the first year of adjustment. This entails a difference of $780 per year on the present basis. Like other hospitals, Prince George is still faced with a serious shortage of nurses and at the same time the problem of giving increased hospital service. Requirements by spring, it is anticipated, will be 120 beds. At the end of this year there were seventy patients in hospital here. Clifford E. ... has been appointed administrator of the Prince George Hospital following the retirement of C. H. Wise, ten as managing secretary.

The local Moose Lodge has purchased the former hospital building here and will use it as lodge headquarters. Purchase was made from the city council for the sum of $5,000.

E. Wilson, K.C., has been in Vancouver to attend conventions of the British Columbia Bar Association and the British Columbia branch of the Canadian Association.

EFFICIENCY HAS REWARD

Alina Hoen of New York is a very efficient person. If not, she wouldn't be enjoying herself for "three grand days" at famed Jasper Park Lodge up the Canadian Rockies. Her original vacation plans had called for two weeks with relatives in Baltimore. But Alina's competency changed all that and the two weeks at Baltimore will be only part of a seven-week holiday.

Back in 1929 a thoughtful and wealthy depositor of the City Bank Farmers' Trust Company, New York, established a trust fund from which each accumulated $1,000 was to be awarded to the most efficient employee of the firm. Miss Hoen is just that. Selected by the company itself, she is latest employee to win the award.

A proviso is that the money must be used for vacation purposes and suggests Europe if possible. Alina, however, wanted to see Canada's Golden West. A Canadian National Railways passenger agent drew up an itinerary and she boarded the Montreal train at New York June 9. From Montreal she crossed Canada to Vancouver. A quick change there and she was on the steamer for Alaska. Then back again and by rail to Jasper—and her only remorse.

Even a dream holiday is not perfect. Her short stay at Jasper Park Lodge ends soon and Miss Hoen is not happy. "I can't see how anything before me can be as nice," she says but realizes that last-minute changes in travel plans are disrupting and will keep to her schedule until July 28, bowing to efficiency.

On that day, the charming and attractive vice-president's secretary will have to turn her able mind once more to business. Unfortunately for her though, she is not eligible for a second award.

FORMER C.P.R. MAN REVISITS

"I hardly recognized the waterfront. Changes have certainly been numerous," remarked P. I. Peters, a former resident of Prince Rupert, shortly after arrival of the Princess Adelaide last evening. Mr. Peters, it will be recalled by many local old timers, was in the employ of the C.P.R. in Prince Rupert for years and, while he has been back since, a considerable time has elapsed since his last visit.

Construction and operation of the cellanese plant at Port Edward, he feels, will be of first importance in development of city and port.

ARE OCCUPYING KING'S COTTAGE

JASPER—On their second visit to Jasper Park Lodge, the Governor-General and his party are occupying Outlook Cottage which commands a magnificent view of the surrounding peaks and in which, during their visit to Jasper while touring the Dominion, stayed Their Majesties, the King and Queen.

The Alexander children—Rose, Shane and Brian—are also familiar with their holiday ground because of their stay here last summer. This time, the children have a new playmate, curly-haired little Peter Smith, a friend of the family who accompanied them on the trip.

For the vacation the Governor-General has made no day-to-day schedule but for them during the next ten days there will be motoring, walking, swimming in the heated Lodge pool and a variety of other occupations to make their visit an enjoyable one.

A skilled golfer and member of the Hole-In-One Club, there is little doubt that Viscountess Alexander will play the picturesque 18-hole course and His Excellency, an avid painter, has planned a trip to the Maligne District to capture its beauty and charm with brush and easel.

ANGLO-SOVIET AMITY—The men who guide the destinies of their respective nations may not always agree with each other, but these two youngsters, children of United Nations officials are in perfect accord as they enjoy a day together at Steeplechase Park, Coney Island, N.Y., amusement centre. The children are Roy Stephens of Devonshire, Eng, whose dad is Renold Stephens of the United Nations documents department, and Eugenia Safonov of Russia, whose father is Dmitri Safonov of the U.N.'s radio division. Here they partake of hot dogs and soda pop, which they share. Clown Angelo Brienza locks on.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

Fishing industry on the Pacific Coast is entirely strike-free today. All types of fishing are now fair. The last dispute was that involving some halibut fishing boats which had left for the No. 3 grounds without signing up with the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union. These have since signed up.

With a capacity list of 106 round trip tourists, Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Alex McLennan, arrived in port at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, sailing at 6 p.m. for Ketchikan via Portland Canal.

The vessel sailed from San Francisco for Indo-China, without ever coming here, it would nevertheless, have meant considerable voyaging toward the north. There was relatively little time lost in making the call here.

Two liners of the Canadian Pacific Railway's British Columbia Coast Steamship Service were in port yesterday. The Princess Louise, Capt. P. L. Leslie, arrived at 10 a.m. from Vancouver, sailing at noon for Skagway and other Alaska points.

The United States battleship Iowa, which spent almost a week at Vancouver, sailed from there yesterday with but little space to spare between the top of her masts and the bottom of the harbor bridge. While in port, it was necessary for her to keep two times—daylight saving, in deference to Vancouver, and standard, or official.

NEW HOME FOR B.C. NEWSPAPER

SALMON ARM—The Salmon Arm Observer will have a new home. This newspaper has let the contract to Grabler-Webber and Allan. The building will be 72 by 45, one and two floors, concrete tile, with a cement foundation and partial basement. The main floor will contain the newspaper office, and accommodation for a modern store or office, with the rear taken up by job printing. The upper floor can be rented for offices.

Pioneer Japanese Succumbs In South

There died recently at Christina Lake, in the Cascade country, 34-year-old Hideo Fukuya, who was born and brought up at the Premier mine. He lived in and around Stewart until he was fifteen, later moving with his family to Vancouver. He was quite an athlete. He died from the effects of heart disease.

SENTENCED FOR DRUNK DRIVING

In city police court Monday, Robert McFarlane was sentenced to seven days in jail and had his drivers' license revoked for three months when he was found guilty of a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Fish Popular In Restaurants Here

Judging from what local restaurant men say, the enjoyment of fish is pretty general among their patrons. They are fish-conscious and eat it fried, baked, boiled, steamed.
