Schumann is French Premier; Communists Still Stir Trouble

PARIS (CP)—Robert Schuman, finance minister and member of the Movement Republicain Populaire, became Premier of France tonight and, as he prepared to take office, truckloads of mobile guards, ready for any emergency, moved into Paris during the night. As the tide of Communist-engineered labor difficulties continued, demonstrations and disorders were feared by the authorities.

BULLETINS

GASPERI ASSAILED

ROME—Pietro Neini, pro-Communist leader of Left Wing Socialists, declared today that a general strike might be called throughout Italy to protest what he termed violence against Italian workers. Bloody demonstrations and sporadic strikes plagued communities throughout Italy in the last week as Leftists continued their assault against the De Gasperi government.

INCREASED ALLOWANCES

VANCOUVER—Veterans Minister Ian Mackenzie told a Canadian Legion delegation that its case for increased veterans' allowances will be considered by a Parliamentary committee. The delegation sought specific aid for veterans attending universities and removal of the rule limiting outside earnings to $75 monthly.

VEGETABLES, FRUITS UP

VANCOUVER—Local dealers report green vegetables and fruits from the United States have advanced twenty-five percent in retail stores since Monday when the new import restrictions became effective.

TRAIN-TRUCK CRASH

VICTORIA—One man is in hospital, a diesel locomotive and two cars of a three-car train were derailed and 200 feet of railway track was torn up last night as a result of a train-truck collision at Westholme on the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway. Alfred O. Nelson of Ladysmith, driver of the truck which collided with the freight train, is in hospital with broken leg, hip injuries, head lacerations and shock. The truck was smashed.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis A strong northerly flow of moist air at high levels has brought cloudy skies to the interior of British Columbia and snow flurries occurred on the lower mainland during the night. The cloudiness spread to the lower mainland this morning. The marked southerly flow of Pacific air into the northern coastal regions of B. C. is causing cloudy skies and rain in those areas. There will be a gradual moderation in temperatures over the province in the next 48 hours.

Forecast

Prince Rupert, Queen Charlottes and North Coast—Overcast with intermittent rain today and Sunday. Winds southerly (20 m.p.h.). Milder. Lows tonight and highs Sunday—At Port Hardy, 35 and 45; Massett, 42 and 48; Prince Rupert, 42 and 48.

Cool Weather In Southern States

NEW YORK—Temperatures in the 30's were general in the southern states throughout last week. This was true of Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana. Alabama had a minimum of 40. The coldest spot in the United States was in North Dakota. There, it was zero. For New England, continued cold weather is predicted. Temperatures remain near normal along the American Pacific Coast.

Official announcement of Schuman's accession to the Premiership following the collapse of Premier Paul Ramadier's government and failure of middle-of-the-road Leon Blum to get a vote of confidence last night came after he had stated that he had agreed to try to form a new French government. He had been called to conference with President Vincent Auriol following Blum's failure to win approval of the National Assembly

As Blum failed in the Assembly—by nine votes—to win the necessary majority to succeed his Socialist colleague, Paul Ramadier, Communist leaders continued to push country-wide strikes, now estimated to involve nearly 750,000 workers.

Socialists promised the 61-year-old Schuman their support but the DeGaulists pledged themselves to oppose any government until they get a new election. They voted against Blum last night.

COMMONERS—AND NONE TOO HAPPY ABOUT IT—With a befitting farewell ceremony which included a tea party, 11 members of the Japanese Imperial family became commoners under the new constitution which stipulates that only the emperor, his wife and immediate family may hold royal station. The others were quite unhappy about the whole thing inasmuch as it cuts them off from imperial subsistence and funds. Some of them are pictured standing on the steps of Akasaka Palace in Tokyo ready to step off into the world of commoners from whom they had been aloof all the years of their lives.

CANON TURNER IN WINNIPEG

Epic Aerial Rescue Episode In North Successfully Concluded

WINNIPEG—Canon John H. Turner, seriously wounded Church of England missionary, is expected to reach here late today when he will be taken to hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound. His rescue since the injury seven weeks ago has been a saga of the north in which Royal Canadian Air Force rescue squads played an outstanding part.

Turner, shot in the head when a rifle he was carrying accidentally discharged, his wife and two children, an Eskimo girl and four paratroopers who had gone to his aid, were rescued from the isolated mission Friday and the flight to Winnipeg then started.

WOMAN WORLD WHEAT CHAMP

Mrs. Grace Kelsey Scores Again At Toronto Royal Winter Fair

TORONTO—Mrs. Grace Kelsey of Erickson, British Columbia, who won the North American Wheat Queen title at Chicago International Grain and Livestock Exposition last year, has been awarded the world's wheat championship at the Royal Winter Fair here.

The 55-year-old housewife's hand-picked kernels of Reward spring wheat, grown between trees on a six-acre fruit ranch in the Kootenay Valley, won her the world's title and a $2000 cash award donated by Canadian National Railways.

Jap Mine Destroyed

Had Been Washed Up On Nigei Island Not Far Off "Inside Passage"

ESQUIMALT (CP)—The Royal Canadian Navy today destroyed its eleventh mine on the Pacific Coast. The Provincial Police notified the Navy that a Japanese mine had been washed ashore at Nigei Island off the northeast tip of Vancouver Island in Queen Charlotte Straits not far from the "Inside Passage" steamship lane.

Gunner R. Freeman was flown to Port Hardy whence he went to the beach in a high speed boat. He disposed of the mine single-handed and returned to Esquimalt.

TREATMENT FOR POLIO

MONTREAL—Crippled in infancy by infantile paralysis, Avil Thril Tmas, a 14-year-old Trinidad lad, will come to Canada next month where he hopes to realize his fondest dream—to be able to walk.

On arrival at Halifax aboard the Canadian National steamship Lady Nelson, Avil will go to the Sick Children's Hospital at Toronto where, under the auspices of the Ontario Division, Junior Red Cross Society, he will receive orthopedic treatment for his crippled legs.

Like many other school children in Trinidad and Canada Avil is a member of the Junior Red Cross Society. It is by means of the nickles and dimes contributed by its members that young people with physical handicaps are able to obtain medical treatment.

In Avil's case the treatment required was not available in Trinidad so his Canadian Red Cross friends have offered him their assistance. The young lad has good reason to be hopeful about the result of his Canadian visit. Last year, another Trinidad boy, Ramprasad Jaggernouth, who came to Montreal to receive similar treatment, returned home recently with the use of his legs restored.

Turkey Child's Gift To Princess Bride

NEW YORK—Rattling her little child's bank, Julie Allore, four year old, entered the office of a food-shipping agency here and said she wanted to buy a turkey for Princess Elizabeth. She had $4.20, which was not enough, June's mother was notified and she added $5.

Julie was happy. She made only one stipulation: "Please ask the Princess to send me the wishbone after she gets done with the turkey."

International Incident Develops From Detention

Official Representation Made For Their Release—Soviet Suspects Their Business

OTTAWA (CP)—The Department of External Affairs has confirmed that two members of a Canadian military mission in Berlin are being detained by Soviet authorities in the Kalingrad border area on charges of illegal entry into Russian territory and Canadian representations have been made seeking their release.

PANAMA SHIP VISITS PORT

Freighter Alabaman Loading Tugboats at Dry Dock for Indo-China Delivery

The 12,000-ton Hawaiian-American Line freighter Alabaman, Capt. E. B. Vaux, entered the harbor shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and tied up at the dry dock to load four steel tugs for French Indo-China. The vessel arrived here after a direct run from San Francisco.

The Alabaman is the second vessel of the same line to take steel tugs and deck cargo for the Far East. Several months ago the steamship Hawaiian also loaded four which were destined for Indo-China. The tugs come from Owen Sound, Ontario, and were shipped to Prince Rupert on flat cars over C.N.R. lines.

At present there are six tugs at the dry dock. Four are being loaded aboard the Alabaman. Two more are expected to arrive in the near future and will be shipped on another American vessel which will call here early in the new year.

According to E. J. Smith of the G. W. Nickerson Co., which is acting for the agents, loading may be completed some time Sunday, after which the ship will sail direct for the Orient.

CAR HITS TRAIN; TWO ARE KILLED

VIRDEN, Man. (CP)—Three persons were killed last night when their car collided with a Canadian Pacific Railway train near Hargrave. The dead are Mr. and Mrs. William Elmore of Maryfield, Saskatchewan, and their two-year-old son.

SCANDINAVIANS DOING WELL

People Have Plenty to Eat and Wear, Says Capt. Jack Christensen After Visit

People of the Scandinavian countries have plenty to eat and wear but still they complain, says Capt. Jack Christensen, veteran halibut boat owner and skipper, who returned to the city yesterday on the Camosun following an absence since July on a trip to Norway, Sweden and his native Denmark. If there is any hardship in those countries, it is not apparent on the surface. The people appear to be well-dressed and well-fed. Mr. Christensen also paid a couple of visits to England including London and Southampton. He would have crossed the Danish border into Germany for a visit but that country is occupied by the Russians and he could not enter.

Accompanied by Mrs. Christensen, he crossed the Atlantic Ocean between New York and Copenhagen, both going and coming on the Danish-Polish liner Batorl.

LOGGER ESCAPES DEATH

GANGES—Alex Dodds, 39-year-old logger, escaped death yesterday but suffered severe injuries after he fell eighty feet when a spar snapped during logging operations. He is in hospital with two broken arms, a broken leg and smashed cheek bone.

The Canadians are Dr. J. D. M. Weld, whose home is in Ottawa, and Capt. A. W. Clabon of Victoria.

The report says that the commander of the Kalingrad border area is awaiting authorization from Moscow before allowing the men to proceed.

Weld and Clabon were returning in Capt. Clabon's car from an authorized visit to Warsaw and presumably lost their way in a maze of roads.

Soviet reports charged, however, that the men were "engaged in special business" but did not amplify the charge.

FILM COUNCIL PLANS CONCERT

To Raise Funds to Ensure National Board Benefits Here Faced with the need for funds to join the National Film Council which will provide films for public showings, the Prince Rupert Film Council plans to hold a concert and film showing in the Civic Centre on December 5.

A meeting of the local council held in the Civic Centre last night under chairmanship of Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton decided that such a concert, with an additional showing of a colored film of Prince Rupert and the central interior, would help provide the $200 needed to join the National Film Council.

Sgt. Potterton stressed the fact that, if the local film council is unsuccessful in its project as agency for the local showing of films, the National Film Board, which at present is providing the films and projectors, will leave the city, thus depriving the schools of many educational and instructive films that have been available for the last two years.

The National Film Board originally made its films and projectors available free of charge on a temporary basis until a local film council could get organized, Sgt. Potterton said, and the failure of the local council to assume an effective place would leave the community without that convenience.

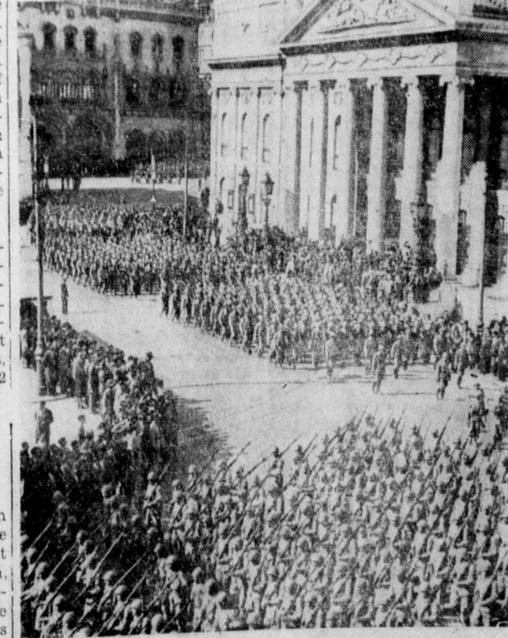

He stressed that the greatest loss would be to the schools which are making continued use of National Film Board productions for educational purposes.

With the support of organizations in the community, he declared, a film library could be set up in connection with the Public Library. These films would be available to organizations wishing to use them. They must, however, provide their own projectionists.

The council plans to assess interested organizations $2.50 for the first six-month period and make further adjustments later as the need for money dictates.

General Marshall Now In London

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall arrived Friday in London to put United States policy toward Russia to a new and, perhaps, crucial test at the Big Four foreign ministers' conference opening Tuesday. Travelling in President Truman's special plane, the Sacred Cow, Marshall took off at 1 p.m. Friday from Washington.

PEACEFUL PORTUGAL SHOWS MILITARY MIGHT—Portuguese infantry parade through the peaceful streets of Lisbon during a recent military display in which 10,000 men took part. The display was part of a big celebration commemorating the 80th anniversary of the capture of Lisbon from the Moors.

Railway Wage Issue

CANADIAN RAILWAY UNIONS, representing 140,000 workers, have served notice demanding a 35c an hour wage increase but it is to be confidently hoped that once again negotiations will result in a settlement before there are any untoward developments. Canadian railway companies and unions in the past have got as far as disputes on the wage question but collective bargaining at its best has always to date characterized negotiations and settlements have been reached within the framework of existing labor laws and without recourse to extreme tactics which would, of course, bring nigh economic chaos to the country.

Heretofore both parties to railway wage differences have realistically approached the issues involved, operators and employees of the nation's vital communication services consistently showing mature appreciation of their responsibilities. Their most serious disputes have been settled with a minimum of harsh words, threats or any of the other devices resorted to by less responsible labor unions.

Railway unions, indeed, have plotted the course and set the example in the development of collective bargaining in Canada. On more than one occasion negotiations have reached the point where strike has been mentioned as the next logical step but it has not been necessary in the end to resort to this extreme. Always there has been a willingness to give and take at the bargaining table which has permitted negotiated settlements.

Doubtless, railway labor relations will again in this instance maintain the good example which they have set heretofore.

WINTER IN BRITAIN

IT MAY BE, and it will be no disgrace to Britain if this proves so, that the British people will be unable to make the great productive effort demanded of them in the conditions of dreary austerity they will know next winter. In that event, the North American nations will be obliged in their own interest to offer further help. Many must think that it is their duty to do so now; that the moral anomaly of great abundance and conspicuous waste on this continent, alongside desperate poverty in Western Europe, cannot last long.

No better or more sympathetic portrayal of the case and condition could be given than this, by the internationally-minded Christian Science Monitor: "How can the bare facts, the bare figures, of British austerity be brought home as living need to American hearts and minds? How can the family that has just driven joyfully through the glowing autumn countryside, heaped with the fruits of harvest, and has come back at chilly dusk to a warm house and an abundant meal—how can such a family realize what autumn means to Britons this year? No spin into the country for the British family; no gasoline nation. No snug relaxation before the fire afterwards; no fuel available. No jam with the bread and butter; no butter often. Just the hint of another winter in the air, with one's clothes a little shabbier, one's work a little harder, and eight years of austerity growing a little grimmer."

UNITED STATES CONTROLS

RETURN of rationing and price and wage controls if imposed in the United States should not necessarily lead to the resumption of recently dropped controls in Canada although such might be the case.

A levelling off in the United States to stop the tide of inflation, which as President Truman says has reached dangerous proportions there, should have its indirect effect here without any compulsory measures being taken in this country.

Of course, the controls are not yet back in the United States and it is even possible that the President's proposals may not be fully effected by Congress even though there may be general agreement that something must be done to check the inflation there which has been to a lesser degree reflected in Canada of late.

PAYING FOR BOOMS

VANCOUVER is again lamenting the fact that she has far more lots than are needed and, as a consequence, slum areas are increasing, unsightly gaps, and upkeep costs which are both annoying and expensive for the small taxpayers. In fact, there are not less than 34,000 parcels of land that the municipality could do very well without. Like many another city, Vancouver is paying for past real estate booms, when the years just ahead were to create miracles in the way of an influx of prosperous people and swift growth of property values. There has been development, of course but it may be some time yet before British Columbia will find within her borders a town with a population of a million or more.

LIFE in this Prince Rupert

by BIDDEE JINKS

When someone is fervently loyal to his country that honored them by birth and education—or which they adopted—then I am warmed clear through. So at this moment, a spark from the pen of Catharine Gavin has ignited again the candle of patriotism instilled in my centre regions by parents and foreparents.

This is a bit unusual, particularly so when her article deals mainly with her reasons for leaving this land of my loves—putting it not exactly in a poor light but certainly showing some dim spots as in comparison with a scarred and heroic Old World. She is going back to a battered Paris to sleep in a cold bed and eat skimpy meals after trying us out for nine months. And while I think that, after a brief nine months in any country I would still feel like returning "to where I come from" I still quiver with admiration for this woman. She is going back to do what she can for France, the land she calls home. What can one adamant, loyal woman (even of Scotch birth!) do for a country in continual political upheaval?

One thing only will she really miss on the other side—food. She made the statement that never before had she learned so significantly that men do not "live by bread alone." Although it meant all of Canada, I felt a stinging slap. I felt shame for us who allow people, fellow Canadians, to "ping-pong" with deadly missiles at the foundation of our country's structure. I say foundation. Much has been allowed to accumulate since, like proud-flesh in a wound, that is not healthy, but an attitude of perpetual criticism of everything and for everything has never yet gained anything for anybody.

It is beyond my ken how anyone can take up cudgels against their own land. (Or how hotel staffs could strike during the time of the royal wedding.) Probably I was taught to feel like that but I like rather to be born that way. Long ago my foreparents felt that way and became United Empire Loyalists—and they had no teacher. Today, we need loyalists—people who are just plain loyal like the old-timers of this city. When someone (presumably a newcomer) mentions the rain within earshot they get a matter-of-fact "Well, yes, it has been wet lately. But if it's raining here then it's worse other places—blizzards may, and cold!" Thinking of clearer skies, time has been when I smiled; nonetheless, filled brimful with admiration for these people who came here in their youth, to a youthful city, who worked and built and gave their strength until today they are justly proud of what they have accomplished.

Which may be a clue to our country's ills. If people really give the best of themselves in whatever circles they live then they might find reason to be proud rather than critical. Few persons find much wrong with the work of their own hands. If they do, then it is to improve it, which is right and good. A letter to Prince Rupert from Holland recently commented on the strike problem in other countries. Said the writer: "We are so busy here in Holland, re-building, that we haven't time to think about strikes."

Catharine Gavin knows full well that France is full of traitors, inspired by leaders getting poisonous political transfusions from a neighboring realm. But she knows personally one old man who gave up his job during the Occupation rather than work for a firm which supplied the Germans. She calls him one of the "small, silent heroes." There are others, of course, many more, and when she steps into rank beside them, there will be still another to stand quietly and firmly in aid of a desperately needy France.

Britain has her civilian army of silent heroes too. In time of crisis people slept in their coats and said dreamlessly: "We will not give up." And they arose to eat stew out of a thermos packed between pillows, glad a little warmth had been preserved from yesterday's fuel.

In our continent where life is comparatively easy and we speak of "the East" and "the West" as if into a barrel, we get the habit of blaming the other fellow for the things we don't like—forgetting that each of us ought to be a link in the chain of events. We, the people, are Canada.

SATURDAY SERMON

(By CAPT. EARL JARRETT, Salvation Army)
"Therefore be ye also ready, for in such an hour that ye think not the Son of Man cometh." —Matt. 24:34

God has not left the sinner without abundant knowledge and warning concerning the future... the red light of danger is continually flashing. "Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish" (Luke 13:3) also "As it was in the days of Noah so shall it be also in the days of the Son of Man" (Luke 17:26). Noah, we learn, was a Godly preacher, preparing an ark at the command of God. We find there were those who sneered and laughed at Noah but soon "the tables were turned" and, when the floods came and they were in great danger, the same folks knocked and pleaded for the door of the ark to be opened. Of course, this was impossible for God had shut the door—not Noah. So they who were outside perished. The same sad plight will meet those who today will not repent of sin and turn to God and be saved. Because surely all signs about us today depict the soon return of the Lord Jesus. Why not now make sure of your safety in Christ?

Then again let us turn to the eighteenth chapter of Genesis because there we find another warning. The story in part goes like this: Lot pitched his tent toward Sodom (a wicked city) and mingled with the inhabitants of that city. How much this is true of many Christians in this day—allowing themselves to get so near to the "world" (city of sin) that there is little difference between them and the unsaved one. Oh, let us as Christians beware of this warning and act upon the instruction given us in II Cor. 6:17: "Wherefore come out from among them and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you." You will remember that, through Abraham praying, God showed mercy to Lot and he had a marvelous escape. The same escape can be experienced by us when we are willing to "come out."

Earlier in this message reference was made to the second coming of the Lord Jesus and I would like to dwell on this for a minute more. The Scripture gives several signs relative to his coming. It is said two women will be preparing a meal. The "Born Again" woman will be taken but the other one left. Reference is also made to two men working in a field. The prepared one is taken and the other left. But better still turn to II Tim. chapter 3, and I am quite sure you will agree that we are definitely living in the times spoken of there. So is it not high time we all gave great heed to our soul's need and yet prepared to meet God? This is gloriously possible by confessing our sins to God and becoming a new creature in Him. If you are among those who do love Him continue to "look for His appearing."

KINSMEN CLUB OF PRINCE RUPERT

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

The late John Houston was the first man ever to stake a claim at Prince Rupert but the last thing he thought of was prospecting. He had quite different matters in mind. What old John never, never dreamed of was the coming of a time when, with Prince Rupert a sizeable city, dozens of citizens would be staking claims right in town. Hang it, man, hadn't they seen gold and silver right underneath their rubbers? What were they waiting for?

A year or so ago an odd mortal won free newspaper space when he kept telling children that Santa Claus does not exist. He strengthened his arguments, mainly for the consideration of maturity, by emphasizing that it is harmful to impress on expanding minds that which is so absolutely false. No one hears of him, today—and rightly so. The youngsters would have none of it, and their parents felt the same way. Santa Claus! Generosity! Kindness and laughter! A little nonsense now and then! Perhaps if we had had more of it, and less solemnity and deadly serious attitude today's world would not be in the mess that it is.

Eastern Canada is full of persons whose ideas of the coast are grotesque. And it is doubtless true enough that in British Columbia can be found many whose knowledge of the older provinces can invite criticism. And this, when there was never a time that the art of publicity had attained, in so many different ways such a pinnacle of skill and resources or when travel was more comfortable. The war sent the sons and daughters of Canada overseas—and to the ends of the earth. They were removed from countless ruts, and old home scenes with a vengeance. But to tens of thousands more, much of their native land remains an unknown country—or practically so.

EASTERN STAR DANCE ENJOYED

Moonlight Waltzes and Novelties Featured
Moonlight waltzes and novelty dances were featured at the dance held Friday night in the Civic Centre auditorium under sponsorship of the Eastern Star lodge. A large crowd attended the function, dancing to music by the Four Dukes orchestra. The hall was decorated in Christmas style, with Christmas trees and lights forecasting the arrival of the Yule season. The guests were received by Mrs. Alf

Rivett, Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star chapter. A popular sidelight was the singing by Mrs. Ralph Smith of the songs "Alice Blue Gown" and "When Apples Grow on Lilac Trees." She was accompanied by Andy McNaughton at the piano. Master of ceremonies was Alex Mitchell. George Dawes was in charge of the door. Buffet refreshments were served during the evening. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. George Peters, convener; Mrs. F. M. Kempton, Mrs. Robert Gordon, Mrs. A. D. Ritchie, Mrs. Dan Parent, Mrs. L. Alexander, Mrs. B. Cowgill and Mrs. A. J. Dominato.

SINKING OF JAP WARSHIP

I joined the Imperial Japanese Navy in 1935 in answer to an appeal by our Honorable Emperor. I had only been in the navy two years when I was raised to the rank of petty officer and posted to a ship in our main fleet.

On December 9, 1941, we arrived at Luzon, where we commenced an attack on Corregidor. As night fell we carried on with our bombardment of the island. All through the night we kept firing the shore guns answering ours. At last, as the fateful tenth began to dawn, we eased our attack slightly. At about 10:30 a.m. a squadron of American planes were seen to be heading towards us. At 1045 they had reached us and were dropping small bombs and torpedoes among us. One small ship was sunk and our forward gun turret was put out of action at 11:15. The planes drew off but after a short period, more planes reached and attacked us. We had kept up a barrage most of the time, our ship succeeding in hitting down two enemy planes. At 12:00 a.m. we stopped steaming around the island and gave all our attention to fighting the American planes. At 12:30 we decided to withdraw, having had many casualties. Only a few planes were attacking us at the moment.

We had hardly started to steam away when, looking upwards, I saw an American plane flying toward us. We opened fire on it but it continued on towards us. That plane must have had a charmed life for it came on and on and we wondered what had happened to the pilot. Not for a minute did we think the pilot was heading for us on purpose but he was, as I later found out. Now the plane was diving towards us. Quickly it descended to the level of the ship. Then with a terrible crash it struck the side of the ship. The force of the plane had driven it clean through the side. Now the bombs began to explode. The hole became larger until it reached the water-line. Immediately the ship took on a list which quickly became more pronounced until at last the ship began her long slow dive into the sea. I shall never forget that moment, men were screaming and lurching overboard. I jumped and clung to a piece of wreckage. I saw the ship sink into the depth of the rolling sea. I was picked up later by an American warship.

I write this to pay tribute as even I, an enemy, must to the pilot of that small plane, Captain P. Kelly, who met his death very bravely.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "The enormity of the circus was a surprise to me."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "finale"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled, Centenary, centennial, sentinel.
4. What does the word "turbulent" mean?

Answers
1. Say, The "enormousness of the circus" when referring to size or amount. Use enormity when referring to evil or wickedness; as, "the enormity of the crime." 2. Pronounce fe-na-la-E as in ME unstressed, fir sHA as in AH. Second A as in lay unstressed, accent second syllable. 3. Centennial. 4. Being in violent agitation or commotion. "Gambling houses are temples where the most sordid and turbulent passions contend." — ZIMMERMAN

The club members have been discussing foreign stamps and Mr. Fletcher has sold some stamps to members for their own collections.

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

November 22, 1922
Report of the B.C. Fire Underwriters, received by City Clerk E. A. Woods, indicated that Prince Rupert had a small annual fire loss and that the fire fighting apparatus in the city was considered adequate. Gross fire loss in the city for the five years between 1916 and 1920 was $49,448 and the insurance carried totalled $34,602. Value of the property involved was $1,606,211.

Three local clubs—the A.A. Social Club, the Travellers' Club and the Citizens' Club—were each fined $1,000 when they were found guilty by Magistrate McClymont of selling beer contrary to the Liquor Act.

Prince Rupert could, and probably did, boast of being a more temperate town than Prince George on the basis of revenue from their local liquor store. Liquor receipts at Prince Rupert for the year ending September 30, 1922 totalled $355,600, while Prince George residents dissipated to the extent of $355,660.

Four local members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine went south on the Prince George to attend a Shrine convention at Victoria. They were Dan Jabour, S. C. Thomson, J. L. MacLaren and R. V. G. Lepine.

First Junior-Senior High Assembly Is Held

Principal, Vice-Principal, Students' Council President, Junior Red Cross Director Heard

Wednesday afternoon the staff and students of Booth Memorial High School assembled in the spacious auditorium of the Civic Centre. This assembly gave the Junior-Senior High schools their first opportunity of meeting together this term.

With Alan Hurst, the principal, presiding, the meeting opened with the singing of "O, Canada."

After the students' attendance was checked, the pupils were seated according to their respective Houses, namely, Alpha, Beta, Gamma and Delta.

Mr. Hurst then introduced Vice-Principal Cleland, who explained the system of point awards which would be given each House for students' participation in sports as well as for other activities such as for alademid attainments, participation in student activities, citizenship, and for punctuality and regular school attendance.

Arthur Olsen, president of the School Council, addressed the meeting, explaining in detail the functions of the Junior and Senior Councils as well as those of the main School Council.

Taking as his text the well known lines "The Time Has Come the Walrus Said..." from "Through the Looking Glass", Mr. Hurst delivered an interesting and instructive "sermon" in which he stressed the need for worthwhile student and adult aims in life.

The next speaker on the afternoon's program was a former student of Prince Rupert schools, Miss Margaret Palmer, provincial director of the Junior Red Cross Society. In her talk Miss Palmer outlined the activities of the Junior Red Cross and made an appeal for any assistance the students might be able to render in furthering its great work.

Individual house meetings were held at the close of the meeting. The accompanist for the afternoon was Miss Loverna Linney of 11B.

PERSONALITIES

BOB McCHESNEY

Bob was born in Prince George and before coming to Prince Rupert he attended King Edward School in Prince George. He also attended Borden Street School here in town.

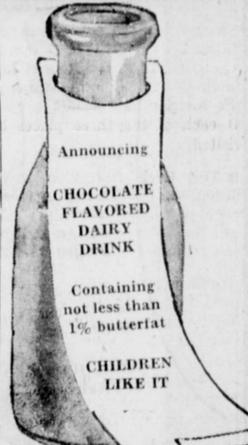

Bob tells us his favorite sports are hockey and football. We haven't had a chance to see what he is like at playing hockey, but we have seen him play football last year for his class, 11M.

When we asked him what his favorite pastime was he said it was sailing. We hear he is quite the sailor.

Last summer Bob worked at the Dry Dock and seemed to like it fine.

Bob was president of Beta house last year and was 11M's rep. to Student Council. This year he is the Senior Council President.

TERRACE

California Visitor Hostess At Terrace

TERRACE—A very entertaining afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. Anne Kirkaldy on Wednesday when her house guest Miss Dorothy Riley, entertained a number of her friends prior to leaving for her home in Oakland, California on Thursday's train. Tea was poured by Mrs. Kirkaldy and Miss Onolee Kirkaldy was serviteur. Guests invited included Mesdames Head, Pohle, Johnstone, McAllister, Maxted, Barr, C. de Kergonmeur, McLeod, Kirkaldy, Mills, and the Misses West, Mary and Phyllis Little, Grace Little, Elliott and Marian Head, Jean and Onolee Kirkaldy, Velma Greig, Grace Moiliter.

Mrs. Christie Being Honored At Terrace

TERRACE—Mrs. E. L. M. Giggey entertained at the luncheon hour on Tuesday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Robert Christie of Vancouver, who is visiting here. Covers were laid for 10 at the Silvertip Cafe. Among those present were Mrs. Giggey, Mrs. Christie, Mrs. Will Christie, Mrs. Lorna Wrathall, Mrs. A. Brooks, Mrs. Sundall, Mrs. Jim Smith, Mrs. Corlett, Mrs. Dover and Mrs. Moore.

Several luncheons and teas are in the offing for Mrs. Christie as this is her first visit back to Terrace since she and her husband left here to reside in the south a few years ago after many years residence here.

TERRACE HEARS ROYAL WEDDING

TERRACE—Quite a number of people in Terrace district had the pleasure of listening to the broadcast of the wedding of Princess Elizabeth in the early hours of Thursday. The reception was unusually good and no local interference was noted other than the passing of a freight train.

A few Terrace residents took advantage of the local telephone service to listen in on the Royal wedding broadcast. An amplifying set is installed at the telephone office and a very obliging operator left the lines open of those subscribers who have temperamental radio sets at home and who wanted to hear the original broadcast.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I economize in the use of butter?

A. Bring ½ cupful of good milk to a boil, then set aside to cool. When just lukewarm, add ½ pound of unmelted butter and beat with eggbeater until mixture is thick and creamy. Then put in refrigerator to harden.

Q. How can I remove grease stains from silk?

A. By applying a mixture of one ounce of castile soap shredded, one teaspoon of saltpeter, two ounces of ammonia, and one quart of water.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

BULBS NEED PLANT FOOD TO GROW QUALITY FLOWERS

An impression is widely held that bulbs which are newly planted in the fall do not need plant food added to the soil. It is true that mature bulbs have food stored up on their own tissue which may be sufficient to produce a flower, but this is not the whole story.

Before the flower is produced a large number of roots are formed, and these roots seek in the soil plant food and water to supply the needs of the growing plant. If there is a deficiency of food, the growth of the plant will be seriously hampered. A flower may be produced, but it will not be the vigorous, perfect blossom of normal size which complete nutrition would insure. Fully important as the production of a flower, is the development of well mature bulbs for the following year. To insure this, many gardeners give an additional feeding to tulip plantings after the bulbs have flowered.

The danger of using manure with bulbs is well understood. Any kind of fresh manure is dangerous and only compost thoroughly decayed is safe to use. Bone meal is the traditional bulb fertilizer but it becomes available so slowly as to do little good the first year. Commercial bulb growers use chemical plant food dug into the soil so that it is available to the bulb roots.

When the entire bed is dug out before planting the bulbs, 4 pounds of balanced plant food should be spread over the surface; the digging will mix it thoroughly with the soil. When bulbs are planted with a trowel, a teaspoonful of plant food may be mixed with the soil at the bottom of the hole before setting the bulb.

VANDERHOOF

A shipment of thirty-one sows and one boar passed through Vanderhoof this week. Under the auspices of the National Hockey Policy, the animals being distributed through the district as far west as Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Patterson were hosts to the Young People's Society at a meeting Thursday night. There was a goodly turn-out and a happy evening was spent.

Johnny Rasmussen of Fort St. James is recovering in St. John's Hospital here from a freak accident in which he sustained considerable injury to ribs and back when a load of lumber fell upon him.

After a successful cabaret, Vanderhoof Teen Towners are now busy preparing for a Christmas concert.

Ladies of the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. Smithers.

A Kirk, president of the Vanderhoof branch of the Canadian Legion is advocating the building of a hall here for the benefit of the young people.

The Northern British Columbia Hockey League will act to action immediately first of the year. The two sections with Vanderhoof and Prince Rupert in the north, and Williams Lake in the south.

The Canadian Legion regular monthly session Thursday night of this week.

Rev. Dr. Telfer, president of the British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada, was a visitor last week. He addressed a meeting at the church on Tuesday.

Rev. Rural Dean J. Cormick held services at Fraser on Sunday morning in addition to the same at Vanderhoof the same day.

The Finest Car in the Low-Price Field

Making Friends Wherever It Goes!

And what friends it makes! The sort of friends who do not give their friendship lightly . . . whose affection, respect, and loyalty can only be earned by the truly deserving . . . by a car such as Pontiac. Wherever you travel, you'll find these friends of Pontiac — owners who have experienced at first hand the thrilling power and dependable performance of the famous Pontiac L-Head engine . . . owners whose expenses have been cut amazingly by Pontiac's low cost of operation and upkeep. Inside, outside, bumper to bumper, compare Pontiac with other cars. The truth will always out — Pontiac is the finest car in the low-price field.

The stack of orders piled up for the new Pontiac are gratifying testimonials to the quality and beauty of this finest of the famous Silver Streaks. Unfortunately, so many orders also mean that many who choose Pontiac must wait. So if your car-wise head and heart say "Pontiac" . . . your present car will give better, safer service while you wait if you have serviced by your Pontiac dealer.

Between the Baskets

Local Hoop Talk

High School and Gyros raise the curtain in tonight's basketball league games. Both teams will be in there fighting and trying to register their first win. The Intermediate tussle between Bo-Me-Hi and Merchants should be the game of the evening. The Rainmakers are out to try and keep their winning streak just as much as the salesmen are as neither have been defeated. The Senior game between Brownwoods and Co-op will be a close tussle. The salesmen will have Forman back in the line-up, which should strengthen them considerably. So the winners of tonight's games should be: Brownwoods over Co-op. Merchants over Bo-Me-Hi. High School over Gyro.

Labelling Salmon at Prince Rupert—
Camosun Back On Run—Bella
Coola to New York by Canoe

The saga of salmon fishing—a story rich with the dramatic elements of danger and conquest of the elements—has been told many times, often in this column, and the processes of canning are not exactly unknown but there is a phase of the salmon fishery, which is part of the life of Prince Rupert, that is relatively unknown.

The salmon—with any necessary apologies to the halibut—is probably the best known product of British Columbia's waters. It can travel abroad year after year, sustained by its gastronomic appeal and the bright labels that are wrapped about its metal containers. And that brings us to the crux of things—labelling.

Prince Rupert has a labelling industry that this season alone has accounted for almost 70,000 cases and will put stickers on another 5,000 cases before it is finished for the season. A case, incidentally, contains 48 one-pound cans.

Labelling of all salmon cans in the Prince Rupert area is done by Wells (P.R.) Ltd., whose parent company, Wells Ltd., Vancouver, labels the salmon pack for all of the companies except the Canadian Fishing Co., which does its labelling privately.

At present, Wells (P.R.) Ltd. is working at the Canadian government elevator where, so far this season, 30,000 cases have been labelled for Nelson Bros. Another 10,000 cases are still to be done. With two labelling machines in operation, labelling crews finished three weeks ago on the Skeena River, where they did 35,000 cases at Inverness and North Pacific canneries. This, of course, was only a fraction of the Skeena River salmon pack.

A competent crew of labellers, using a machine which does the process automatically, can label about 100 cases an hour. The cans are taken unlabelled, from the unsealed cases, run through the machine, re-packed and re-sealed and piled ready for shipping. Five men form the actual crew of the machine, but at times, with two machines operating, there have been as many as 18 men employed. The majority of them are local men.

This year's labelling at Prince Rupert is the first done since 1945. However, during the war, Wells (P.R.) Ltd. did about 150,000 cases a season at Prince Rupert and on the Skeena.

The salmon being labelled at present are coho, pink and dog salmon or Keta as it is known to housewives. This year, coho salmon is selling for about $25 a case wholesale, while the wholesale price of pinks is about $18 and Keta, $14.

As well as being labellers, Wells Ltd. are also authorized government samplers, and out of every "code" or day's pack from the cannery, a number of sample cans must be taken at random and sent to the government inspection laboratories at Vancouver where its quality is inspected. Each can in a given day's pack is marked with a company code which tells the day it was packed, the kind of fish inside the can, and where the fish was caught. In the sampling process, about 3 cans out of every thousand are sent down for laboratory inspection to assure that the fish is up to the government standard of quality.

Harold Whalen, local manager of Wells Ltd., sees an opportunity for the labelling and storing of Alaska salmon in bond at Prince Rupert. This port, he says, has more than adequate storage facilities, which could be put to use for the benefit of Prince Rupert and with added convenience to the sales organizations of the big Alaskan canners who could have their packs labelled and stored in bond here until required for shipment. The matter of sampling should cause little difficulty, he believes, because samples could be sent as readily to American government inspectors at Seattle as Canadian samples are now sent to Vancouver. At present, he says, salmon storage facilities at Seattle are stretched to their limit and there is a large back-up of canned salmon in Alaska.

Labelling done in the government elevator warehouse for Nelson Bros. included 2,500 cases of sockeye, 10,000 cases of coho, 10,000 cases of pink and 13,000 cases of Keta. An additional 9,000 cases of sockeye and 1,000 cases of pink were labelled at the C.N.R. dock warehouse where it was stored because the elevator shed could not hold the whole amount to be labelled here.

Incidentally, Mr. Whalen says, practically the whole of this year's Skeena pack is destined for the domestic market, much of it going to eastern Canada.

Back on her regular run after being out of service for three weeks for annual overhaul, the Union steamer Camosun docked here at 8:30 Friday morning northbound for Ketchikan, Petersburg and Wrangell. She sailed for the north at 2 p.m. and will return here at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to sail at 2 p.m. for Vancouver. The Camosun was under command of her regular skipper, Capt. Harry McLean. The Chilcotin, which replaced the Camosun for the last three weeks, is now in dry dock for overhaul. It is likely that she will remain out of service until next spring when she will resume her summer cruise schedule to Alaska.

BELLA COOLA TO NEW YORK IN CANOE

Word has been received in Victoria that Peter Burr, formerly of that city, had succeeded in travelling from the Pacific coast to New York in an aluminum canoe. The journey took him seven months. Burr began the actual water trip last April from Bella Coola. The canoe was described as "battered but useable."

A week from Monday, vessels of the Canadian Pacific coast-wise service will be berthing again at the provincial government dock for the first time in years. They have not been seen there since early in the war when the waterfront space was needed for naval and other purposes connected with defence.

The Northland Transportation Co. has changed its route in northern waters, calling at Sitka first, after Juneau, rather than Haines. The steamer Alaska will sail directly from Juneau to Sitka, then up to Haines, from there to Skagway and then back to Juneau.

As a result of the recent mishap to the Union Line steamer Chelohsin, the vessel will be out of service for about three weeks, that much time being necessary for repairs and annual overhaul. The Chelohsin, when she swung on a submerged rock near Minstrel Island, damaged rivets, propeller and a seam. The Cardena will take her place for the time being with the Catala back on the Vancouver-Bella Coola-Prince Rupert route.

The suggestion has been heard that for the protection of steel-heads, the present closed season, December 1 to 31, be extended to a two-month period, December 1 to January 31. It may be considered.

Early next year the largest motor liner ever built in Sweden will start her schedule between New York and Gothenberg. She is called the Stockholm, is 525 feet long, 11,000 gross tonnage, and has yacht-like lines. Her speed will be 19 knots. There are many new features embodying passenger comforts and conveniences for officers and crew. Her lines are sleek and modern. She has a raking stem and a long after-body with cruiser stern.

ALASKA CANNING REGULATIONS PLANNED

A code for the regulation of salmon canneries is coming up for study in Juneau during the first week of January with the public invited to attend all the hearings, which will be preliminary to the formulating of a safety and sanitary constitution. Announcement was recently made by Henry Benson, the territorial commissioner of labor. Whatever is to be done will apply, of course, to Alaska only. Mr. Benson admits that safety measures for the workers are not up to the standards of modern industrial processes which means reduced manpower and increased expense to the canners. Matters to be investigated will include problems such as water supply, housing for employees and the disposal of waste.

One million feet of pulpwood logs, assembled here during recent weeks from the Crawford Moore Logging Co. operation at Khutzmateen Inlet in the Naas River area, was contained in a flat raft with which the Pacific Mills tugboat Wireless left here early yesterday afternoon for Ocean Falls. The raft contained 22 sections which had been brought here by the smaller tugs C. R. C. and Phippen. A further 34 sections are at Khutzmateen awaiting delivery to the local assembly point on the waterfront near the elevator.

A plastic suitable for insulating and wallboard material is produced from potato pulp.
