BATTLE SEEKING SPECIAL POWERS

Up-to-Date H.M.C.S. Ontario Is Now the Senior Naval Vessel on B.C. Pacific Coast

The Ontario, one of the most up-to-date ships of the Royal Canadian Navy was returned to active duty late last month when she was re-commissioned in Esquimalt. The 9,000-ton vessel has been completely refitted since her arrival from the Far East in November, 1945, and replaces H.M.C.S. Uganda as the largest ship on the Pacific coast.

Senior Local Naval Vessel is Now Pleasure Aircraft Carrier

"Breezin' Thru," Unique Yachting Vessel, Is Visitor To Port Today

The first aircraft carrier to ever visit Prince Rupert docked at 8:30 p.m. Monday. The "Breezin' Thru," however, is not designed for the smoking action of war. She is meant for pleasure and that she gives to owner Bearl Sprott and his wife as they breezed into Prince Rupert Monday afternoon on the yacht's "Seabee."

Though the "Breezin' Thru" is employed exclusively in a pleasure role during the summer months, she played a prominent role during the war for she was formerly a patrol boat and executive vessel.

Equipped with radar, Sperry compass depth finder and shore telephone, the "Breezin' Thru" probably has the most up-to-date pilot house on the coast. The added deck of a plane that rides on the deck or the blue skies over the water makes the vessel a unique sight.

The plane and the yacht left for the last Thursday and the "Breezin' Thru" made her way to Comox the Seabee by the well-known Canadian, Wilfred Davies, and Mr. and Mrs. Sprott, up Howe Sound, Jarvis Bay and over the Gulf Islands. At Alert Bay when the plane was unsecured the party travelled on the Seabee as far as Bella Bella where the vessel was resumed with (Continued on Page Six)

WORK STARTS ON THIRD AVENUE

The block of Third Avenue from McBride to First Street known facetiously as "Hecate Strait" and the adjoining "waters" from First Street to Second Street are in process of being calmed by the City Engineer's department. Re-building of that portion of the city's main thoroughfare began Monday.

Work on the two-block section started when the city power grader began scarifying the old pavement, ripping it up and breaking it into small pieces on Monday. This morning the new overhead loader started loading the broken pieces of pavement into trucks to clear the under-surface for new topping.

The job is being done in a manner which will allow traffic to use half the street while the other half is being re-built. Work is being done on the north half width of the street.

Make Skeena Coast Riding

Redistribution May Bring Important Boundary Change Says Archibald

A further redistribution of election constituencies which will cut off the interior and northern regions of Skeena riding and make it a totally coastal riding in 1951 was predicted today by H. G. Archibald, M.P. for Skeena, who arrived here Saturday night after the summer recess of the federal parliament.

"Skeena has not been affected by this year's distribution, but there will be another in 1951 which will create a new constituency," he said. "Skeena then will be cut off not far east of Prince Rupert and extended southward to include Powell River. This will make it completely a coastal riding."

Object of the 1951 redistribution will be to divide up the western constituency, not on the basis of increased population, but because the riding is geographically too large, he said.

Mr. Archibald will be in the city until Friday night when he will leave by train for Edmonton for the purpose of flying to Atlin and Dawson City. He drove from Ottawa to Fraser Lake, leaving his car at the interior town because he plans to return there shortly on a speaking tour.

Saff Changes At H.M.C.S. Discovery

VANCOUVER—Two important staff changes at H.M.C.S. Discovery here are announced. Cdr. K. C. McRae is retiring as commanding officer and will be succeeded by Lt. Cdr. W. R. Stacey, New executive officer will be Lt. Cdr. J. A. Allen, succeeding Cdr. E. T. Simmons, also retiring.

MISINFORMATION ABOUT ALASKA

Cost of Living There Even Higher Than Seattle

SEATTLE—William Wallace of the government service is here after a 3,200 mile jeep journey over the Alaska Highway. Of the highway traffic, he said in an interview:

"There are travellers of all descriptions. The average person going to Alaska to settle is on the way with a lot of misinformation. He expects to find tremendous wages, plentiful jobs. He doesn't know about the enormous cost of living. It is 35 to 40 per cent higher than even Seattle which I believe is the highest in the United States."

Housing shortage he described as still so severe that families often double up in garages with earthen floors.

Postmaster General Suggests Only Interest of Some Line Is Necessary

The Postmaster General's department is looking favorably on the idea of giving small coastal towns airmail service and it could be put into effect if Queen Charlotte Airlines or some other non-scheduled line would make a serious bid to put it in operation, H. G. Archibald, M.P. for Skeena believes. Coastal towns

The Dutch won control of 210 air miles of the north coast of Java by linking up their eastern and western forces a few hours before the cease fire orders took effect, a despatch from Semarang said.

NAZI BRIDES ARE SEEN AS MENACE

BERLIN—Two visiting American clergymen—a Methodist bishop and a Jewish rabbi—are convinced, after talks with United States army chaplains, that marriages between American soldiers and German girls should be banned. WOODSTOCK, Oxfordshire, England—Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill offered on Monday to support the Labor government in an appeal to the United States for a new loan on condition that "Britons labor long and hard" to help themselves.

In a party speech the Conservative leader charged that Premier Attlee's government had frittered away a great part of the present American loan of $3,750,000,000 on non-essentials.

Athletes Can Eat In Restaurants

LONDON—A renewed attempt to get extra food rations for British competitors who will battle against world athletes in the next Olympic games in 1948 has failed. The food minister, John Strachey, says there is nothing to stop the athletes from Britain from patronizing cafes as often as they wish.

City Collects 90 Percent of Taxes

The city of Prince Rupert collected 89.9 per cent of property taxes due for 1947 when the collection period closed on July 31, according to figures compiled at the City Treasurer's office today. Taxes collected after July 31 will be penalized as delinquent.

Collections up to July 31 totalled $224,794, out of the 1947 tax list of $249,995. This was 89.9 per cent, a figure slightly below the 1946 percentage.

In 1946, the collections made before the penalty date were $229,512 out of a total taxation of $250,115. This works out to roughly 91 per cent of the year's collectable taxes.

In 1945, $210,354 was collected up to July 31 out of a total taxation of $237,351. This was roughly 88 per cent of the total.

Tourist Business

A MAN FROM VANCOUVER prominently identified with business development suggests that Prince Rupert might be getting a great many more tourist dollars if there was more concentration upon catering to the visitors who are coming here in their hundreds again this year. There are things that might be done to facilitate tourist shopping. The stores might be dressed up more in keeping with the tourists' fancy and goods stocked which would particularly appeal to them. The lower prices here, and tourists are great students of prices and love to compare those they see here with what they pay at home, should be clearly shown. The suggestion is also made that store hours might be so arranged as to take the fullest advantage of the tourists' presence.

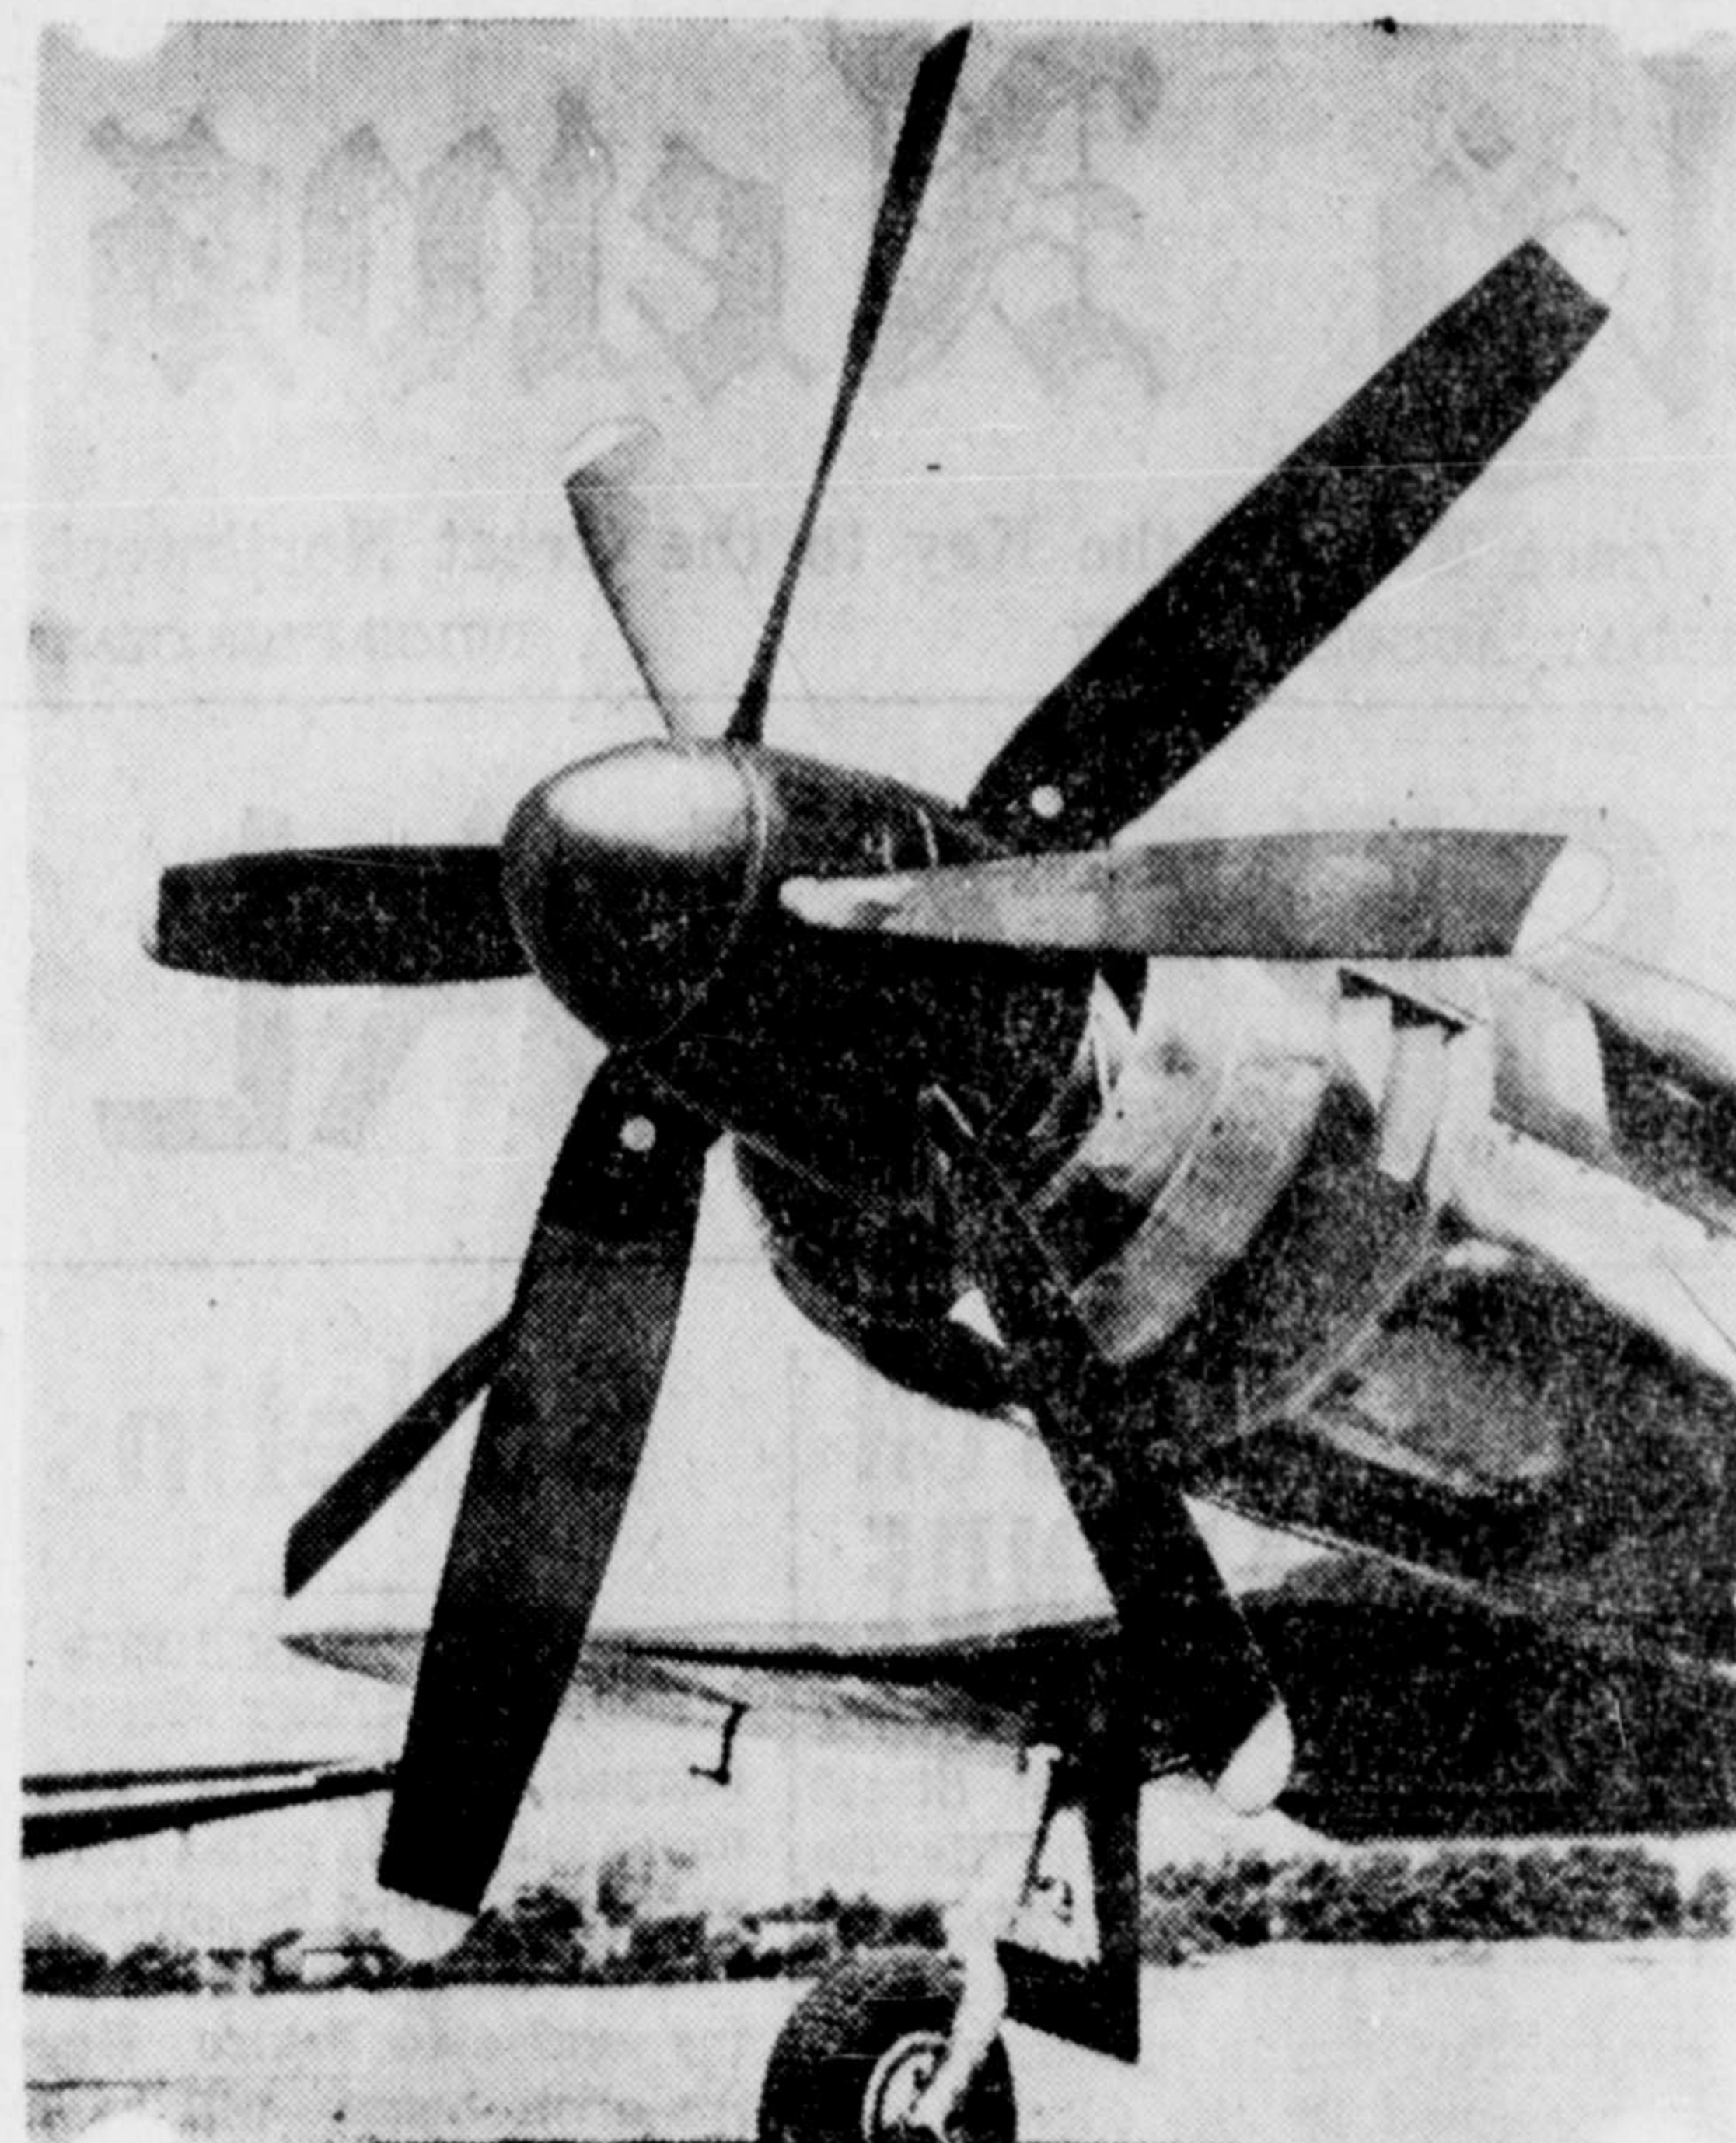

Prince Rupert business people should consider the especial needs of the motor tourists who are new here and whom we have not had to deal with before.

The tourist traffic is becoming heavier than it ever was before and it has much greater possibilities for us to legitimately exploit. In Prince Rupert particularly it is becoming an increasingly important industry. And its importance will increase further in volume.

PARADOXICAL CONFLICT

BACK OF THE OBVIOUS and direct aspects of traditional prejudice and hatred and the most ancient nationalistic motives, there is something tragic about the continuing troubles stemming from the "Holy Land." There in the cradle of Christianity dating back far before the days of Christ, we see today a situation, filled with tragedy and horror, which is one of the tensely disturbing factors in the world scene today. But, paradoxical as it may seem, it has often been thus in Palestine. Nevertheless, when there can be no peace where Christianity was born, the world outlook, indeed, must seem dim to many.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY NEWS FOR BEST RESULTS

BRITAIN'S NEW "EGG-BEATER" PLANE — Among the new planes shown for the first time at Britain's recent naval display at Lee-on-Solent, near Southampton, was this Westland Wyvern, single-seat torpedo fighter with a nose that resembles an egg-beater. This illusion is created by the eight-bladed contra-rotating propeller. The plane has a single Rolls-Royce Eagle engine of 3,500 horsepower.

REPORTORIAL EXPERIENCES

(W. J. R.)

Saskatoon, away on the bald headed prairie, could not have had more than six or seven thousand population back in 1906-7.

The winter had seen one of exceeding toughness. But no one was down-hearted. Only the sky was blue. There were two newspapers. Friend Aitkin ran the Phoenix and George Thompson and Charley Tryon presided over the destiny of the Capital. Each would solemnly repeat that their enterprise was by far the best of the two.

Saskatoon had visions, and a knack of making them come true. The papers fought cheerfully, in a political sense, but everyone pulled together in every other respect. The university was far in the future. The stately Bessborough might have been on the cards but was dim indeed.

There was the usual grind of "getting out the sheet" . . . My introduction to community life was a breakfast hour shooting. A section man went off to work and when part of the way there though it might be well to return home. He did so, sprang a surprise on the wife, and a killing followed. He got a jail term and public sympathy. That was good for a full column, at least. And every line alive. It took up the forenoon slack.

There was even a shipwreck in Saskatoon—a couple of thousand miles from deep water. One spring morning, with freshets going strong, the small steamer City of Medicine Hat bound for Lake Winnipeg came sweeping around the bend, to discover the surface of the surging Saskatchewan was too close to the bottom of the Saskatoon traffic bridge. Her smokestack hit the bridge and there her voyage ended.

Major Burbank, who will be remembered by many in Prince Rupert, lived in Saskatoon for some years. On a certain brilliant summer Sabbath day, friends spent an afternoon at

IS SHOWING SONS BOYHOOD SCENES

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin of Inglewood, California, and their two sons left by car yesterday on their way home. Mr. Martin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin Sr., formerly of Prince Rupert and now resident in Los Angeles. It is twenty years since Bill Martin paid a visit to Prince Rupert and this time he brought his family to show them the scenes of his boyhood. During the first World War, Bill Jr. worked as a runner in the local shipyards.

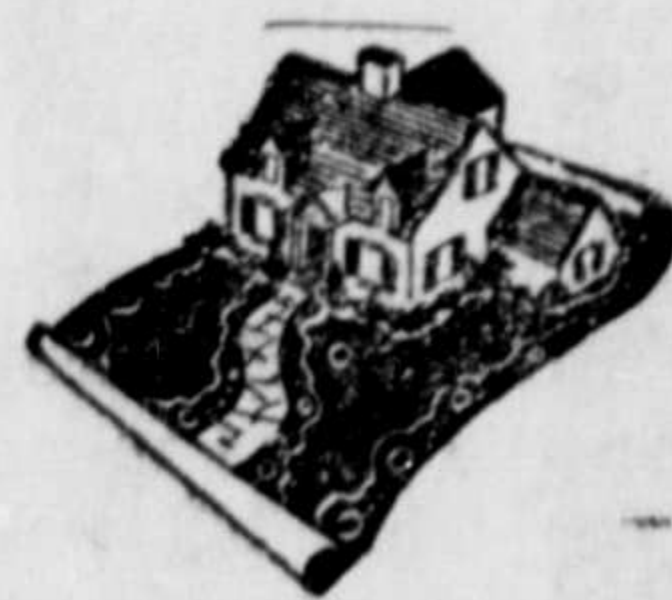

Recalling some of his youthful experiences, Mr. Martin told of stringing gill lines from the dock, and as he went from one department to another he would pause at the handiest lines to give them a hoist to see how his luck in fishing was holding up. On this visit Bill took his sons down to Hays Creek to watch for salmon making their annual return to fresh water but the boys were disappointed. It is too early for the salmon to go up Hays Creek.

One thing Bill Martin feels about Prince Rupert is that it was a great place in which to grow up. Bobby Reid of Prince Rupert is a cousin of Mr. Martin.

his construction camp—an occasion to be long recalled with keenest pleasure. Being his guests was a privilege. Burbank had been heard to say, in the past, that he had the best cook on the great plains and it was no exaggeration.

And, the wild ducks were fat. One for each! A menu with length and variety.

DISTRICT GETS GOOD PUBLICITY

Prince Rupert is given valuable publicity in the Year Book of The British Columbia Journal of Commerce which is just off the press. The same may be said for northern and central B.C. Developments here, such as the celanese plant are featured, and there are numerous pictures and articles of timely interest.

ROAD HERE IS IN GOOD SHAPE

Dr. A. L. Pritchard, After Driving Here, Unable to Account for Complaints

Highly satisfied with the condition of the highway all the way into Prince Rupert from the interior is Dr. A. L. Pritchard of the Nanaimo Biological Station staff, in charge of extensive research work into the life history of salmon in the Skeena River watershed for the Fisheries Research Board of Canada, who arrived in the city late yesterday afternoon. Dr. Pritchard is at a loss to account for reports suggesting impassability of the road. "It is in excellent shape, and, for a gravel road, is a very creditable one," Dr. Pritchard said. The only difficult piece of road all the way from Vancouver was in the Quesnel area south of Prince George.

Dr. Pritchard was accompanied north by his wife and family who will spend a time at Lake Lakelse near Terrace.

MONTREAL, Q.—Indian boys share with Canadian boys a common love of camping and outdoor life, but in India camping is doing something that is not needed in Canada; it is helping to remove communal and caste differences among young people, according to Bhagiahathar Rajalah, young Indian Y.M.C.A. worker, who visited Montreal.

RY DOCK

Co-operative fish packer which struck on Humber near Triple Island was brought to dry dock after Armour Salvage men, using two scows, towed the vessel on to Digby Island.

As to what is to be done with the 110-foot vessel is the concern of the owners. The bottom is damaged, the stern and forward side having been damaged by the impact and the vessel took before being pulled from the rocks to save her from the dock.

The vessel was towed by the tug from Digby Island and was beached, to the west, where preliminary examination is being made today.

STEWART NEWS
Latest from Portland Canal Mining Centre

W. H. Forrest, B.C.L.S., and his assistant T. Williams, who have been surveying at the Morris Summit Gold Mines, returned to town on August 3. It is understood they will undertake a survey of a road from the Big Missouri Mine to Tige Lake for the Provincial Government. This projected road will facilitate transportation to the Morris Summit Mine, the Silver Tip, the Unicorn and other properties in that vicinity. This road will avoid the present hazardous route over the Salmon Glacier to the Morris Summit. It is unofficially reported that the Morris Summit Mine has reached its objective in the tunnel which they were driving with excellent results.

During the week the Stewart Board of Trade held a meeting for the purpose of presenting data to W. D. Smith, M.L.A. for Atlin, who was present at the meeting.

Mrs. H. D. Rochfort, R.N., arrived last week to relieve her sister Mrs. J. N. Houston, R.N., matron at the Stewart General

What is said to be the largest tye salmon caught at Campbell River, Vancouver Island, was taken there recently by R. E. Slocum of Oakland, California. He landed a seventy-pound fish. Slocum, who used a number 36 thread line, can now wear a diamond button. The salmon did not give in until the struggle had gone on for fifty minutes. The salmon was three and a half pounds heavier than one caught by Mrs. Grace Randall in 1941.

the B.C. coast and Alaska. He is travelling on his 142-foot yacht "Breezin' Thru," converted from a Canadian war-time patrol boat. The vessel has an estimated value of $200,000. His outfit includes radar, a sail boat, a rowboat, two motor boats and an amphibian plane.

H.M.S. Kenya, which will visit Prince Rupert this month, will be calling at most of the larger ports in the United States, Canada, Alaska and Mexico. The West India squadron, of which the Kenya forms part, will split up for the three month's cruise. At San Francisco, the Kenya will be joined by the sloop Sparrow.

"A month after the Japanese surrender, President Truman proclaimed a policy of setting aside certain areas of the high seas as fishery conservation zones. This is a tremendous step forward in fishery protection." —From address by J. A. Krug, U.S. Secretary of Interior, in the Canadian Fisherman.

A Pasadena business man, Beryl Spratt, is on his way up the coast on what he calls his vacation. He will leisurely cruise stops at Butedale and Swanson's Bay.

Yesterday the plane was taken over to Seal Cove to check its radio equipment. Plane and ship cleared for Ketchikan Monday afternoon.

At Juneau, Joe Crosson of Alaska flying fame will take over controls of the "Seabee" and the Spratts will spend two weeks exploring Alaska and the Yukon by air. Fairbanks Nome Point Barrow, Whitehorse and Dawson. During the war she was acquired by the Canadian government and saw service with the Canadian Navy on this coast. The ship is 142 feet long and is powered by twin diesels whose combined 600 h.p. drive her along at a cruising speed of 12 to 14 knots, or top speed of 16 knots. Inside from the master state-room and crews' quarters there are two guest rooms aft and three forward.

Mr. Spratt bought the yacht at Vancouver in 1946 and had her redesigned to his specifications at the Burrard Shipyards. The lifting tackle for placing the plane on the deck or in the water is operated by an electric hoist. The equipment is tested for 5 tons so that passengers may remain in the aircraft when it is being lowered or raised. The "Seabee" has a reversible rudder and can go back and forth in the water like a boat.

Mr. Spratt, whose home town is Pasadena, California, is sometimes referred to as the "Hotel King" because of his former connections with hotels and lodges that cater to the motor traveller. During the war he specialized in feeding war workers from the cafeteria system developed what became known as the fast-feed method. At one time his chain of eating places were feeding over 200,000 people a day. As Mr. Spratt says—he was feeding more people than anyone else in the world—except the American government.

At present there are no guests aboard the "Seabee" but a party of the owner's friends will join the ship in Alaska.

Aside from Mr. and Mrs. Spratt, Captain Thomas King, Pilot Davies and secretary Mary-Lou Russell, the "Seabee" carries a crew of five including both Americans and Canadians.

The Spratts expect to be back in Prince Rupert in about four weeks' time and hope to be able to fly up to Stewart and into the Interior as far east as Prince George.

AKRON GETS TOTEM POLE

AKRON—A totem pole in Ohio is something to regard with wonder, to talk about, and to study. In the city of Akron, one has been received from Juneau. It is a gift, in connection with certain Rotary activities. Wrote Myron Scott, an official: "We were more than pleasantly surprised to find such a vivid, colorful and massive pole. We are now preparing a metal inscription plate which will contain the history of the pole. The totem will be dedicated on August 16 as a permanent display in front of the main entrance of the world famous Derby Downs."
