Deputy Foreign Ministers Bog Down Again On German Peace Pact Terms

OLD DISCORD AND NEW, TOO

'Setback if Anything,' Says Official Observer

LONDON (CP)—Big Four deputy ministers bumped into new and old disagreements today over the German peace treaty and an official American observer reported, "If anything, there was a setback."
The deputies failed to reach an accord over just what countries should be given a voice in the treaty-making, just as diplomatic chiefs themselves did at Moscow.

JEWELRY VALUED AT $150 STOLEN FROM RESIDENCE

Jewelry valued at $150 was the loot of a thief who broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woods, 432 Fourth Avenue East, Friday evening while Mr. and Mrs. Woods were attending a public meeting in the Civic Centre.
Mr. and Mrs. Woods returned to find their house ransacked by the bold intruder who apparently had gained entry through a basement window.
The raid was made less than six hours after two men had received sentences of a year at hard labor for breaking and entering downtown business establishments.

Owners of the house returned home shortly before 10 o'clock from an Education Week public meeting to find the place in disorder from the efforts of the thief to find valuables. The jewelry was taken from a bedroom.
An investigation was begun immediately by Detective Corporal A. T. Lashmar and Constables Fletcher and White of the city police.
The theft was the second of its type this week. Victor McKay, Greenville native, reported to the police on Tuesday that his boat, moored at the Fairview Bay fishermen's floats, had been broken into and jewelry valued at $100 stolen.

Coroner Is Criticized

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Criticism of a coroner's inquest at Powell River into the Gulf Stream disaster, which cost five lives on October 11, was made in Admiralty Court by Mr. Justice Sidney Smith.
"It seems an attempt was made to turn it into an inquisition," His Lordship said at the opening of an inquiry by the Department of Transport.
The judge asked that a protest be sent to Attorney General Gordon Wismer.

"It seems to us that the coroner's duty was to inquire into the deaths and not into the cause of the accident," he said, expressing the belief that the coroner's court had exceeded its duties.

At Powell River the jury returned a verdict placing "immediate blame" for the wreck on Second Mate Ray Ketchum who was in charge of the motor vessel when she crashed into Dinner Rock.
Allegations of heavy drinking aboard the Gulf Stream were denied today by the evidence of passengers and crew. They testified that neither Capt. J. E. Craddock, Second Mate Ray Ketchum or the quartermaster had taken any liquor on the day of the accident.

Australian Election

Victoria State Labor Government Is Definitely Beaten Today

Issue Was Federal Labor Government's Bank Legislation

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—The Australian Broadcasting Commission announced tonight that "it is definite" that the Labor government of Premier John Cain was defeated in Victoria State's elections today.
The federal Labor government's plans to nationalize banking, now in second reading at Canberra, constituted the main issue.
Early returns indicate a sharp swing away from Labor. It appeared the Liberal party would gain nine seats and the Country party, also in opposition to Labor, three seats in the legislative chamber.

Young Mother Foils Admirer Who Killed Husband-Father

ROCKFORD, Illinois (CP)—A young farmer, disappointed in his attentions to another man's wife, killed her husband and father last night and forced her to accompany him on a wild flight of 100 miles over a northern Illinois highway, police allege.
At her first opportunity, Mrs. Kathy Anderson, 26-year-old mother of three children, seized the pistol with which the police said Glenn Marsh, 28, had shot down her husband and father and jumped from his automobile.
Marsh sped off and today was the object of a widespread hunt. He is married and the father of two children.

Prince Rupert Liberals To Propose Kenny for Leader

J. D. McRae Named New President of Local Association—To Be Active in Publicity and Otherwise

Prince Rupert Liberal Association, at its annual meeting Friday night, named delegates for a district convention to be held November 17 to propose a new leader of the Liberal party to succeed Premier John Hart. Delegates were instructed to primarily support Hon. E. H. Kenney, minister of lands and forests, and to place their support as circumstances would appear to justify. The meeting decided to embark on an energetic publicity campaign.

John D. McRae, well-known young business man and naval officer in the recent war, was elected president of the association in succession to T. N. Youngs, whose term of office had been completed. S. G. Furk was tentatively named secretary in succession to E. T. Appelwhite who asked to be relieved of the office.

The slate of officers for the year was named as follows:

- Honorary President—Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.
- Honorary Vice-President—Hon. John Hart.
- Past President—T. Norton Youngs.
- President—John D. McRae.
- Vice-President—Oscar Havroy.
- Secretary—S. G. Furk.
- Treasurer—J. J. Judge.
- Executive—A. S. Nickerson, H. F. Glassey, Elmer Clausen, John Eyoison, W. M. Watts, B. J. Bacon, J. A. McRae, G. C. Mitchell and Robert Parker (to be added to).

The meeting was well attended, considerable new and younger blood being in attendance.
T. N. Youngs and Arthur Brooksbank reported on attendance at the recent provincial executive sessions in Vancouver when the resignation of Premier John Hart as leader of the party had been accepted. Mr. Youngs stated that the feelings expressed there were preponderantly in favor of continuing with the coalition. He urged a good representation at the forthcoming convention to be held in Vancouver to elect a new leader and a general revival of interest in affairs of the party, particularly by the women. Mr. Brooksbank elaborated on further aspects of the convention.

It was reported that Olof Hanson had been named to the provincial election to represent this district, the meeting approving of this action.
The new president, J. D. McRae, expressed a resolve to revive the party's activity and enthusiasm in this area.
A motion was passed regretting the resignation of Premier Hart as leader of the party and expressing appreciation of his long service.

A wreath was ordered sent to the funeral of the late Kenneth Smith, Liberal stalwart from the earliest days, who died in the city this week.
Robert McKay put forward the

idea of a sustained publicity campaign on behalf of Liberalism and it was left to the executive to carry this out with due attention to the financial aspect.

Delegates to the Prince Rupert district convention were named as follows from the meeting, with others to be added: William G. Bacon, A. S. Nickerson, G. A. Hunter, George B. Casey, J. A. MacRae, J. J. Judge, C. C. Mills, H. F. Glassey, John Currie, R. H. Parker, Alex McRae, Robert McKay, T. N. Youngs, O. Havroy, W. E. Chapple, John Eyoison, C. P. Balagno, J. W. Rosedale, B. J. Bacon, J. D. McRae and E. T. Appelwhite.

TWO BOMBERS ARE SEIZED

More Involved Than This, However, Says Oklahoma Customs Official

PONCA CITY, Oklahoma, (CP)—The United States has seized two privately owned bombers on Oklahoma air fields to stop their use in a revolution believed to be pending in South America, a government official announced today.
Customs Inspector O. C. Milligan of Kansas City made a statement after impounding both planes under wartime law governing arms export that "we have been working on this thing for a month. It involves a lot more than just two bombers."

SEARCHING FOR KILLER

Police Have Description of Man Believed Guilty of Toronto Rape-Strangulation

TORONTO, (CP)—Police, searching for the man responsible for the rape-strangulation of 13-year-old Arlene Anderson, were today believed to be concentrating on the hunt for a man between 25 and 40 years of age with fair greying hair and wearing a sand-colored windbreaker. Such is the description given by Mrs. Robert Tomali, who knew the dead girl, of a man she saw walking with Arlene on Sunday evening on the street not far from the vacant lot where the partially crippled girl's body was found.

Royal Couple to Be Asked to Canada

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who left for Paris today, will invite Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten to visit Canada as soon as possible. He will represent Canada at the royal wedding November 20. He was going, the Prime Minister of Canada said, to express "very strongly" the hope that the princess and her husband would find it possible to visit Canada. "Canada would give them a great welcome," he said.

LAKE SHIP DISTRESSED

Coastguard Has Steamer Jupiter in Tow on Lake Michigan

LUDINGTON, Michigan (CP)—A radio message from the stricken steamer Jupiter, anchored in stormy waters of Lake Michigan three miles off shore southwest of here, indicated today that the ship was taking water and the anchor might be giving way.
Later in the morning the little coastguard cutter Sundew ended a dramatic race through 25-to-30-foot seas and took in tow the stricken freighter and her crew of 28.
Ground crew of the coastguard station at Muskegon were mobilized on the sandy shore at a spot opposite to where the crippled Jupiter was battling against gales and high seas.

Peter Colombo Passes Away

Peter Colombo, aged 67, a resident of the city for the last 20 years, died Friday in Prince Rupert General Hospital after a brief illness. Unmarried, he lived in a cabin on Wantage Road where he kept an attractive garden. He was born in Italy and had no known relatives in Canada.

COMMONWEALTH ECONOMIC UNION

LONDON (CP)—In his economic union plan under which there would be pooling of raw materials and food supplies, Cmdr. A. H. R. Noble, Conservative member for Chelsea, would have the United Kingdom given a status similar to that of any one of the dominions.
"The dominions and colonies perhaps in the past have been satisfied to act as the barnyard of this country, but now there is a tremendous trend toward industrialization, and that needs capital and more manpower," he said.
The economic union scheme must be flexible and Canada might not even participate in it apart from serving as a link between the United Kingdom and the United States.

Compromise Is Rejected

Uncertainty as to Result of Traction Strike Vote—Result to be Known Tonight

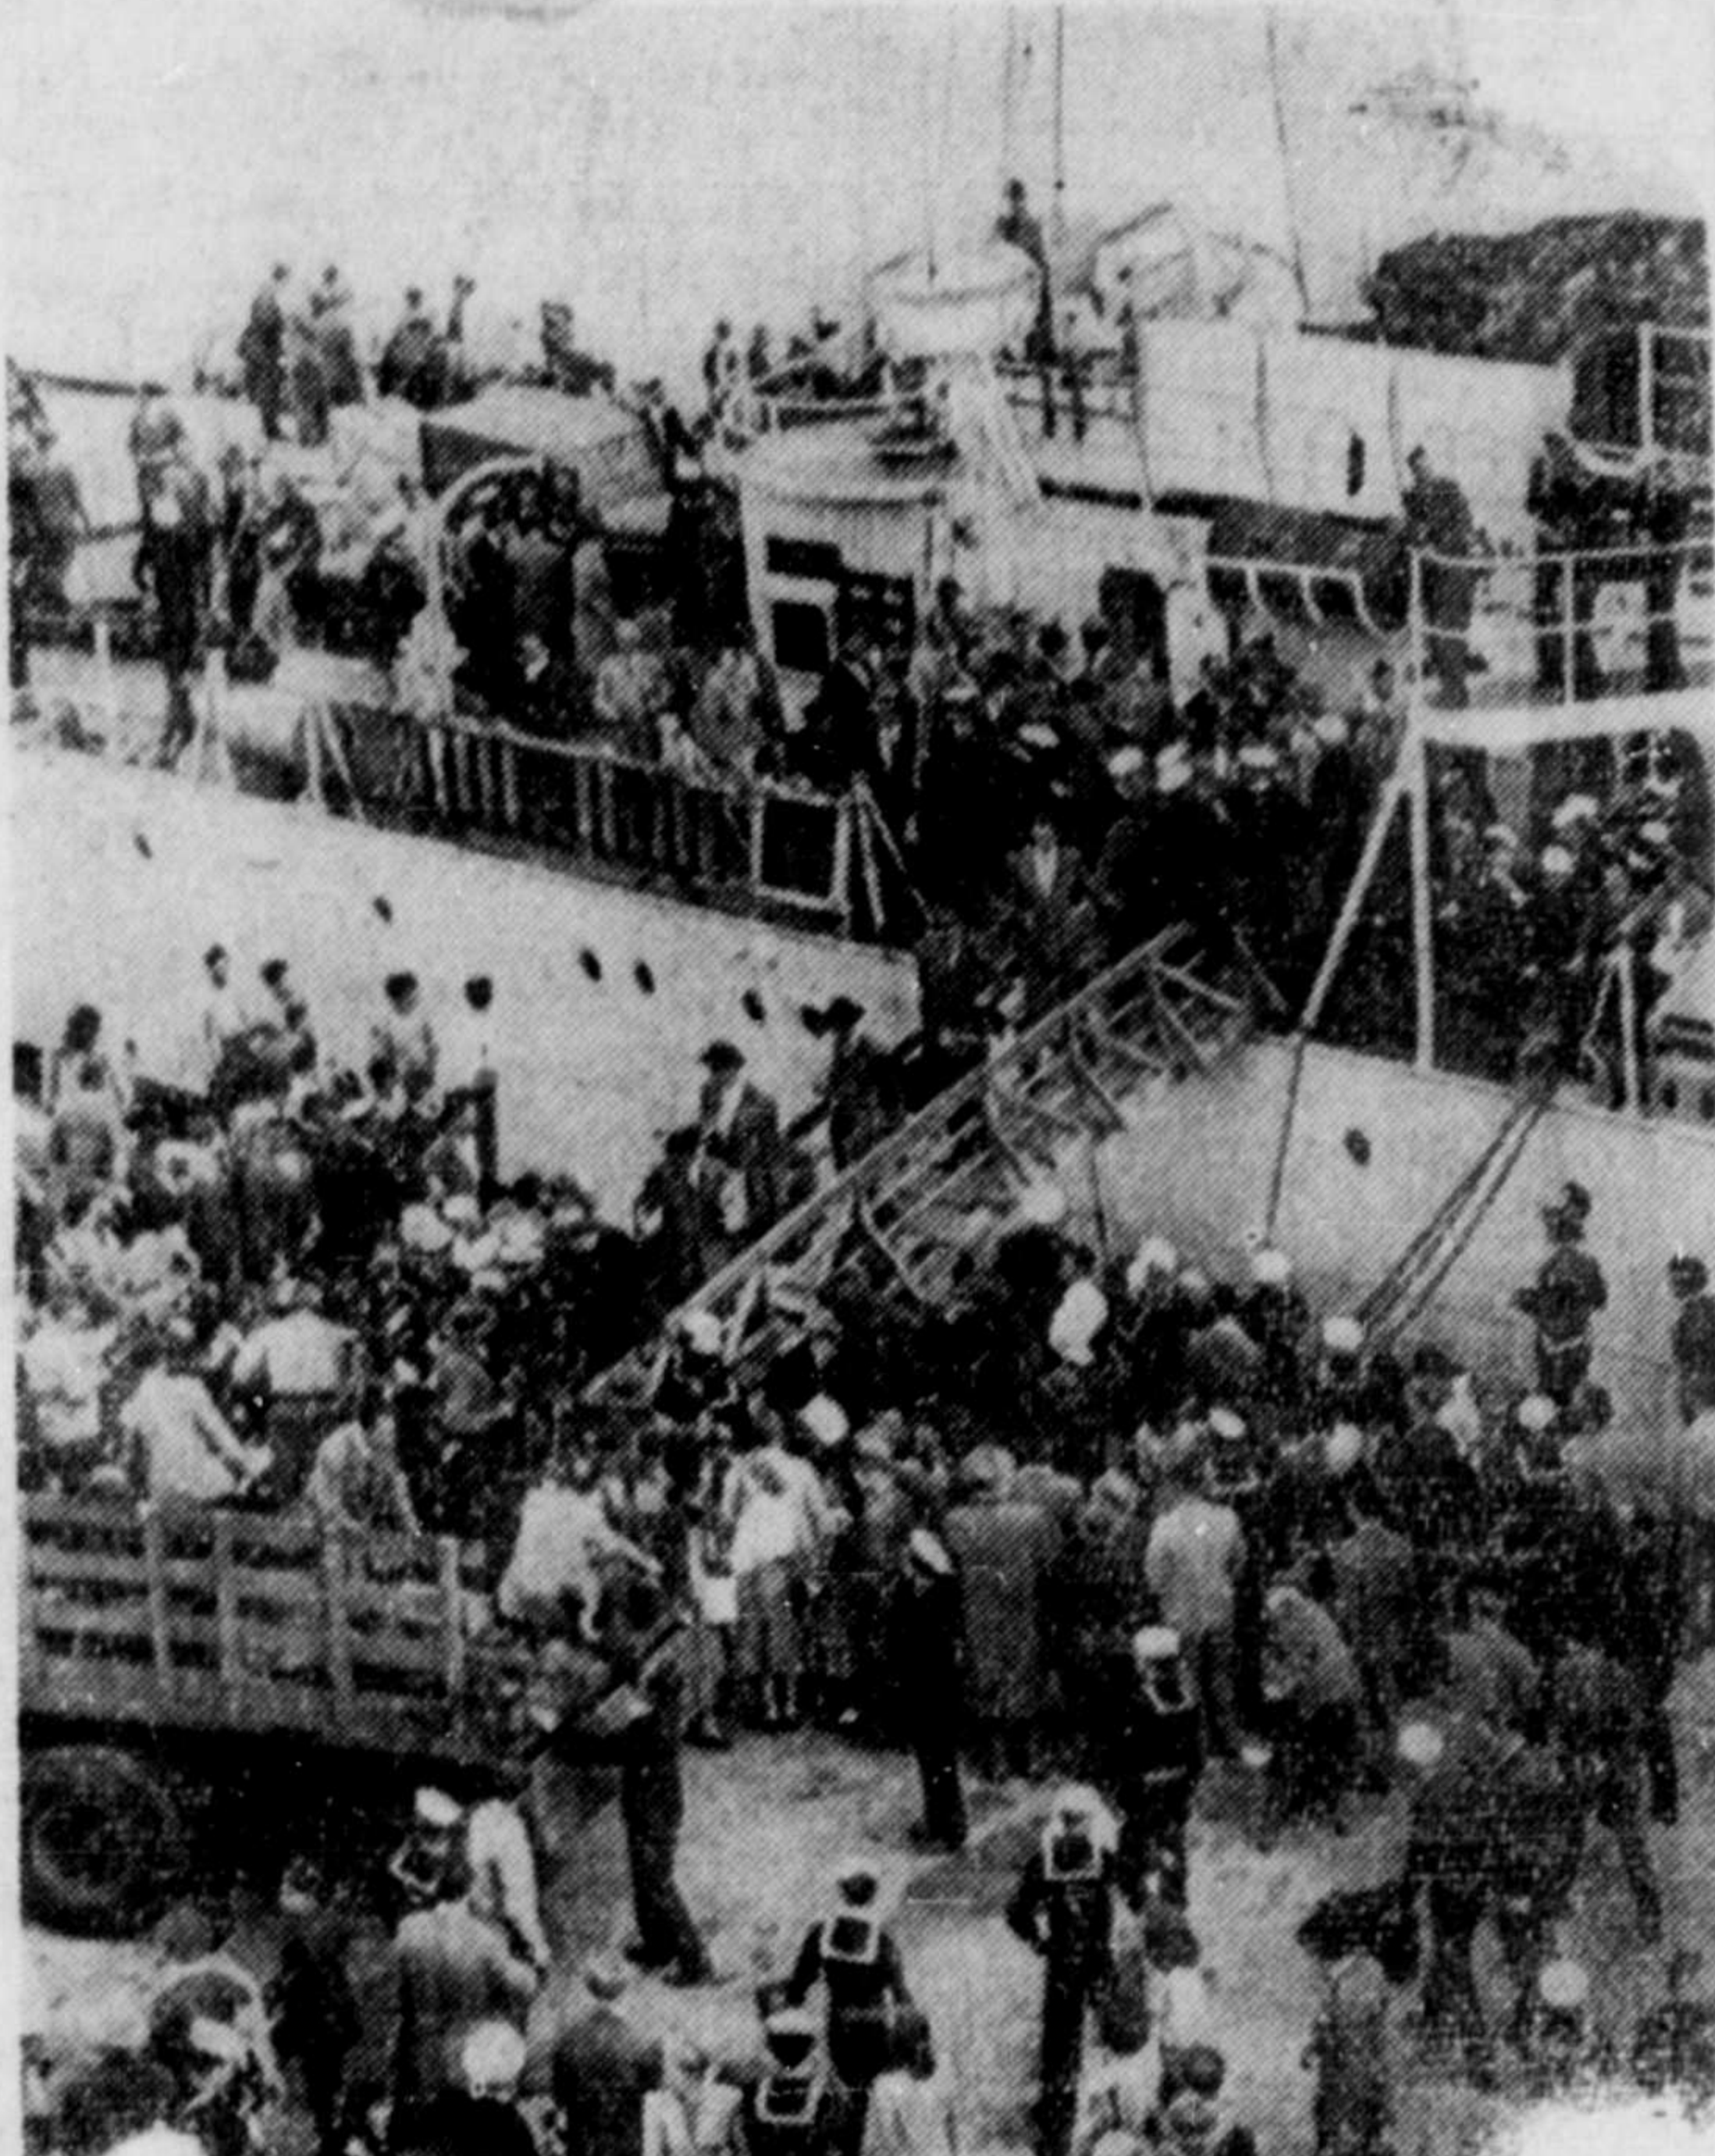

VANCOUVER, (CP)—The Vancouver News-Herald said Friday night that striking street railwaymen in Vancouver—the majority of the members involved in the 20 day walkout in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster—yesterday turned down by secret ballot the latest offer to settle the transportation tie-up in the three cities. While exact results of the balloting by 2800 members of the Street Railwaymen's Union awaited totals from Victoria and New Westminster, 200 Vancouver members were reliably understood to have turned down the latest settlement offer by a large majority.

However, Lloyd Easier, president of the Vancouver local, said the reported compromise rejection was "amusing and news to me." He said the ballots could not be touched until the Victoria ballot boxes had arrived here this evening.

The workers have been on strike since October 20. They voted on an offer of a 10c per hour pay boost and a 40-hour week by the fall of 1948. They had demanded 20c per hour and immediate 40-hour week.

THE WEATHER

Forecast
Prince Rupert, Queen Charlottes and North Coast—Cloudy today. Overcast tonight and Sunday. Intermittent light rain or drizzle Sunday. Winds light. Little change in temperature.

PLANE SURVIVORS REACH BOSTON—Here's a general view of Constitution wharf at Boston, Mass., as the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Bibb was tied up and the rescued survivors of the ill-fated Bermuda Sky Queen started walking down the gang-plank into arms of waiting loved ones. Sixty-nine persons including crew members of the giant flying boat were rescued in heavy seas some 800 miles off Newfoundland in mid-Atlantic by the crew of the cutter.

PUBLIC MEETING CLIMAXES EDUCATION WEEK IN CITY

Aims and values of modern education were summed up before an audience of 300 last night in the Civic Centre auditorium by speakers at a public meeting which climaxed Education Week in Prince Rupert. Need for public understanding of the problems of education was stressed.

Speakers were Alan M. Hurst, principal of Booth Memorial High School; Mrs. J. Harry Black, representative of the local Parent-Teachers' Council, and A. Bruce Brown, representing the district school board.
The addresses were interspersed between entertainment offerings by groups from five city schools. The whole program was directed at acquainting parents and other adults with the operation of the modern school system and arousing their sustained interest in it.

The problem of modern education, as seen by Alan M. Hurst, is that of "humanizing" man—to show him that spiritual values are genuine and permanent.
He stressed the fallacy of attempting to "overcrowd" the curriculum and thus reducing education to a "smattering" of knowledge whose importance cannot be assessed by the student.

"In education as in housing, overcrowding brings ill-health," he asserted. "Overcrowding prevents a pupil from learning what knowledge is. It gives a smattering of superficial facts. Smatterings are interesting but their uses are limited. By overcrowding the curriculum, you make the school an intellectual slum."
"Any good education must be narrow," he continued. "I submit that education should send the pupils out into life knowing thoroughly something that is in itself first rate, knowing how to learn and be interested in life."

"To do this, the school should have a basic subject or subjects that the pupil will know and, as a result, know what knowledge is. He must be brought face to face with the great things in life and in the history of man. Nothing educates like the vision of greatness, and education without it is poor and incomplete."

P-T ASSOCIATION STRUCTURE OUTLINED

Mrs. J. Harry Black outlined the structure of the Parent-Teachers' Association in Prince Rupert, describing the organization as one of the most active in the province. She told of being a delegate to a recent national Parent-Teachers convention in New Brunswick where the major problems discussed were the current shortage of teachers and the creation of a basic curriculum for all of Canada.

The local P-T.A. organization is unique, she said, because its executive contains a higher proportion of men than any other in Canada. Almost 50 per cent of local executive members are men.

PROBLEMS OF SCHOOL BOARD

Problems facing the local school board—those of finance and providing new schools—were discussed by A. Bruce Brown. The board, he said, is responsible for the spending of $150,000 a year, an amount equal to about 30 per cent of the city's gross revenue. Most of this goes toward teachers' salaries.
Among the major problems facing the board is the building of a new junior-senior high school. Cost of such a building is expected to be in the neighborhood of $700,000, 50 per cent of which will be paid by the provincial government and the balance by the school district.

Entertainment features included the songs "Ave Maria" and "My Heart's in Canada" by Annunciation School choir; folk dancing by Conrad Street pupils; a playlet by children of King Edward school; songs "This Canada of Ours" and "Begone! Dull Care" by the Borden Street choir, and violin solos by Vaughan Tattersall of Booth Memorial high school. Accompanist was Alan Forman.

J. S. Wilson, principal of Borden Street school, was chairman, and master of ceremonies.

Clipper Turns Back From Mid-Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, (CP)—A Pan American Airways clipper bound for Honolulu turned back because of trouble in one of four engines and landed safely at San Francisco airport yesterday. Immediately after arrival 25 passengers and baggage were transferred to another clipper for resumption of the flight which was interrupted by the mechanical trouble 1000 miles at sea half way to Hawaii.

Will They Fight?

INSTRUMENTS of destruction have been brought by atomic development to the point where another war will most certainly be one of annihilation with the very possible termination of the present age of civilization. We know what two atom bombs did at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, virtually destroying two entire cities at one fell swoop and bringing proud Japan almost instantly to her knees. Two years have passed since then and who knows how atomic power may have been developed since then or what other horrors of warfare may have been contrived? Indeed, the horrors of another war are too terrible to contemplate, almost too terrifying to even think about.

It would be a terrible responsibility to precipitate another war, to fire the first gun that would release a fury of conflict containing the potential seeds of the world's destruction. Amid the growling and alarms of the day, it is difficult to believe that any nation, even Russia, would assume such a responsibility—and such a risk.

Possibly the best assurance of peace may lie in the fear of war which must be in us all. Yet, as the conflict of ideologies continues unabated, there must be anxiety in the minds of all as to where it will end, how far it can go without exploding into terrible conflagration.

Certainly the continued thinking of war does not help to prevent it. On the other hand, it is so difficult to think of peace. The wonder is that nations still cannot settle their differences without fighting. But still there is hope that they can. Possibly, we are unduly worried with the current unpleasantness. Possibly, we hope, the lack of will to fight will save the world.

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

November 5, 1922
The steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Donald, was welcomed into port on her five hundredth voyage. During her 12 years of service, the vessel had travelled 800,484 miles and carried 151,000 passengers.

Capt. Hoopes K. Freeman of the launch Narbethong, charged with obstructing Customs Officer W. J. Nelson in performance of his duties, elected jury trial before Magistrate McClymont. He was released on $1,000 bail.

William J. Cash, who had been manager of Both Fisheries here for five years, left to take a post in the Seattle branch of the company. He was replaced by C. A. Kirkendal of Seattle.

November 5, 1912
Superintendent G. A. McNicholl of the G. T. P., who returned to the city bringing his family with him, planned to occupy the A. J. Morris house on First Avenue until his own new home on Fifth Avenue East was ready.

At the city council meeting announcement was made that the bank was agreeable to advance another $25,000 to be devoted to the completion of street work in Section One. The bank further intimated that, if the treasury certificates to the extent of another $25,000 could be disposed of, they would be available for this work to the extent of $50,000. A proposition was received from a Toronto firm of financiers stating that it thought that it could dispose of about $90,000 worth of 6 per cent treasury certificates at par. The firm asked for an option on them at that figure. It was decided to give them a 30 day option in which to attempt to place the certificates. The certificates covered a four-year loan.

SATURDAY SERMON

WE WILL REMEMBER THEM

(By REV. BASIL S. PROCKTER, St. Andrew's Cathedral)

The first thing that must come upon us as we think of the Fallen is a sense of unworthiness, especially with such a one as myself who was not among their comrades on the field of battle.

We should frequently think of the Fallen, the Disabled and the Bereaved and, in thinking of them, should stop our everlasting complaining about this and that, for we who do not belong in these categories are the fortunate ones. And we owe our good fortune in no small measure to those, the Fallen, the Bereaved and the Disabled.

Let us continue to fight our battles for justice, fair play and the good life with good humor and charity knowing, as we think of them, that we have much more than we deserve.

It is sad as we reflect that it is too easy to forget the lads who died on the battlefield. They had only begun their lives and had made little mark on the communities in which they lived. Much more of a flurry is caused when some person full of years who has been prominent in the community passes away in the more natural manner.

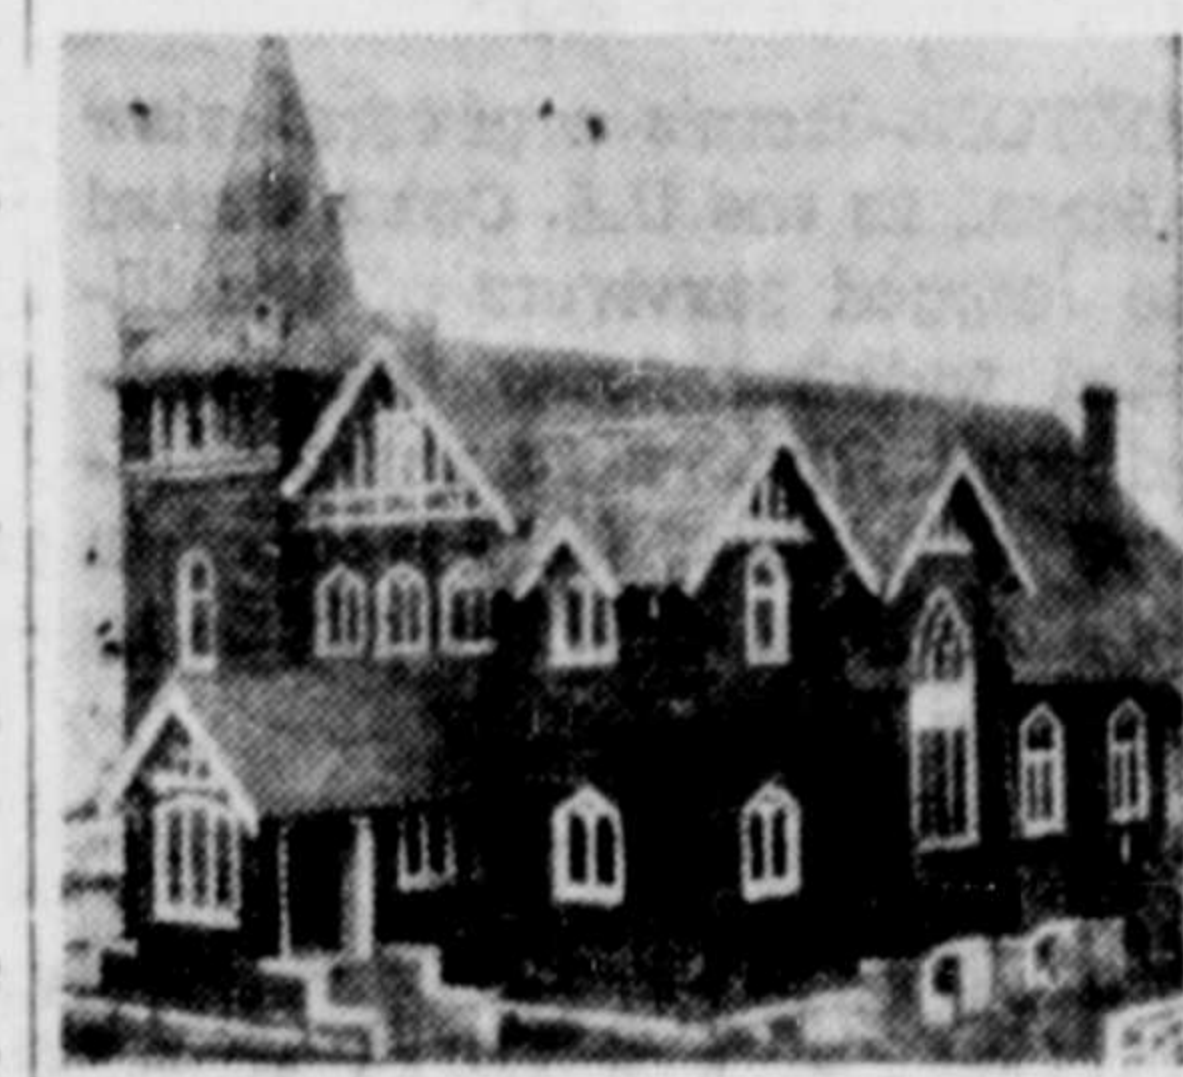

It is idle, unfortunately, to say of the Fallen that their name lives for evermore... so far as the general community is concerned.

But it is good that we have this one yearly reminder and the privilege of standing at the salute in silence to remember them.

We have to turn to our Religious Faith to save us from the bitter sense of utter waste. For generations we have been taught that, since none of us are here forever, the greatest thing that any person can possibly do is to lay down his life for a reason that is bigger than he is. At the top of the list are the martyrs, those who have died for their Faith. And next are those who have died for their country. Sacrificial death is an infinitely greater thing than sacrificial life. And the spirit of those we honor was not that they wanted to be names on a cenotaph—far from it—but that if that should happen to them it was part of the adventure on which they were engaged. That spirit, we hold, is a good and acceptable thing in the eyes of our Divine Creator.

KNOW YOUR TREES

Engelmann Spruce
(Pices Engelmann)

A coniferous tree occurring in the interior of the province, preferring land moist from springs, seepage or overflow. Of merchantable size at middle and lower elevations; stunted or depressed at timber line. Occupies plateau sites in southern interior, gradually approaching valley floors as you progress north. In dense stands, reaches height of from 80 to 125 feet and diameter from 18 to 36 inches. At high altitudes is often only 2 to 4 feet high.

Similar to White Spruce, the two may be cut together without distinguishing them. Suitable for pulp wood, cooperage, sounding boards in pianos, violins and normal lumber products.

whose Only Begotten Son did that very thing perfectly. Therefore, we do not despair.

Somehow, the mystery of our life on this earth is unshakably bound up with the mastery of death and viewed from the point of view both of time and eternity it matters supremely how men die perhaps even more than how men live.

And the Heavenly Father Who sees the sparrow fall and Who has wrought a universe in which free souls can live, ensures that His Good Will is fulfilled through tears and blood and lives laid down. These dreadful things which are brought upon us by our own folly and greed are nevertheless potent factors in the Creative Purpose. Do not wonder, therefore why the ancients thought it was a disgraceful thing for a man to die in bed!

Education Week

By E. E. HYNDMAN
Inspector of Schools

There are no good outcomes of wars, but they have given mankind a few lessons on reality. We found, for example, that one nation's interpretation of freedom could mean slavery to another. Freedom for one race could mean devastation and slaughter to another group. The only absolute freedom among nations, it would seem, is to have the liberty and duty to share the responsibilities in the affairs of the world.

Less spectacular but equally devastating to the individual are the lessons taught us in our own societies. The freedoms that we seek in the ideal social order are not selfish. Freedom of speech to some might mean freedom to spread malicious gossip but it is a tyranny to the victim. The freedoms of "speech," "press," "religion," from "want," "fear," for "leisure time" that are worthy must be acceptable to the dignity of each individual man. Quite surely these absolute freedoms cannot be legislated by a benevolent state but are the products of individual growth in enlightenment, responsibility and eternal diligence.

Byron described "the men of Rome" as "a commonwealth of kings." If our children, when they leave school, know how to think for themselves they too

(By Martin F. Stewart)

Education Week—with a little suggestion and prodding our thoughts focus on the education of our children.

Periodically our minds wander in some hazy, unsettled and confused manner to the things we imagine and know our children are learning in school. Then we go on to the things we hope our children will have learned by the time their formal education will be completed.

In our children's very early years they learned to stand on their feet literally speaking. The task in their school years is to teach them to do the same thing metaphorically speaking. Thus we must view our children's school years as a period of training, as well as education. An untrained mind conditions itself readily to its environment. If the environment is of a base nature the outcome is obvious. The trained mind is an overwhelming force to combat all difficulties.

Byron described "the men of Rome" as "a commonwealth of kings." If our children, when they leave school, know how to think for themselves they too

'BILL 39' PROTECTS Labor's Vital Stake in the RULE OF LAW

British Columbia's labor laws contain many guarantees of the rights of employees to organize and bargain collectively.

Along with these privileges go responsibilities. One of the requirements, if negotiation and conciliation fail to settle a difference of opinion between the employees' bargaining agents and an employer, is that the issue of a strike shall go to a secret, government-supervised vote of all the employees whom the bargaining agents represent.

Surely that is fair and democratic.

It is legislation passed by the elected representatives of the people because they realized that some bargaining agents could, if they wished, tie up industrial production and lose payroll money to workers by strikes called after improperly conducted votes.

Note: "Bill 39" is not perfect legislation. No one claims it is. Where necessary it can be improved by orderly and democratic action in the Legislature. The public approves its basic provisions.

WHY SHOULD THE SECRET BALLOT BE OPPOSED?

may justly face their future with the confidence and assurance of Byron's "men of Rome." Doing their own thinking without fear or diffidence, letting the Golden Rule be their guide, should be their course for the future. To teach them how to do this must be a combined effort of the parent and the teacher. They must be the two united forces working as a team to accomplish the growth and development of the citizens of tomorrow.

Our children will study English, foreign languages, mathematics and son on. These are important but will help little in their careers. What will help is that spirit of confidence which will be developing gradually within them as a result of the successful working through one task after another during the school years—the habit of putting their work in first place and themselves, as individuals, in second; of considering their work as a thing to be accomplished and themselves as the means of its accomplishment.
With a background of self-control and training in our children we of this generation need have no fear for the future of the world.

Changes and New Activity at H.M.C.S. Chatham — Salmon Coming Here From Down Coast

Lieut. Eric Jones, R.C.N., who has been executive officer at H.M.C.S. Chatham naval reserve division here for the last year, is to leave Prince Rupert at the middle of November for re-assignment. Although he is not certain where he will be transferred, it is likely that he may be assigned to the Royal Navy for service.

Lieut. Jones part of whose wartime services was spent on the British aircraft carrier Victorious in strikes against Japan, came here in September 1946 when Chatham was re-commissioned as a reserve establishment. Since that time, he has been in active command, under Lieut. Commander Orme Stuart.

Replacing him will be Lieut. John L. Quinn, R.C.N., who is due to arrive next Wednesday from Esquimalt. Lieut. Quinn has just returned from a period of service with the Royal Navy in England.

Following Lieut. Quinn's arrival, a recruiting campaign for navy reservists will begin here, part of a drive that will cover all of Canada for the purpose of bolstering the naval reserve. Equipment for training the reservists has been arriving for the last several months, and now Chatham has a fairly complete lot of technical equipment for training purposes.

The equipment includes an azide layout comparable to that carried on a destroyer, an in-torpedo is housed in a separate building, and is divided into sections to show the inner parts. Its record shows that it was built in 1914 and fired twice for practice purposes.

The Juneau fish packer Robert Eugene, with Capt. Fred Dahl in command, docked here Friday at 1:30 with five cars of frozen fish for rail shipment to the eastern United States. She carried an unofficial passenger in the form of a small bird which landed on deck during a snow storm on the southern passage. What kind of a bird it is, no one seems to know. According to Customs Officer Bert Martin, it is slightly smaller than a robin, slate grey in color, web-footed and with a black, hooked beak like a hawk.

Anyway, the bird found its temporary shelter so satisfactory that it refused to quit the boat. After it landed, it was placed in a box and fed by a crew member. Now it really feels at home.

Southbound from her regular sailing to Alaska, the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Louisa docked at the C. N. R. wharf at 4:45 Friday afternoon. She was under command of Capt. P. L. Leslie.

The only part of the coast open to salmon fishing is the Johnstone Strait area, which has been yielding a fair quantity of dog salmon. Much of it is being brought to packing houses in Prince Rupert. Landings here last week from packers totalled 71,000 fish, averaging about nine pounds per fish. Fishermen were receiving about 12 cents a pound.

the more common expressions, "Education for Democracy" and "Education for Living." Our schools should be supplying an environment where the ideals of good living make worthy objectives, and where every child has security, dignity and responsibility.

This is no dogma of soft pedagogy but a philosophy which exercises effort and gives purpose to the tools of living. Reading, writing and arithmetic are as important tools to the person living among others as the construction tools are to the carpenter. But just as the tools are not enough to make a good carpenter neither are the tools of learning enough to make a good citizen. Every possible experience in the training of citizenship should be offered. We all know that the things we say and do influence our fellow's far beyond the intention of the word or deed. We are aware of the great need our social order has for leaders. Our children must taste the joy that comes from giving service to others where the only return lies in the satisfaction of a job well done. Our children should experience the power and exhilaration that goes with leadership so that in maturity they are prepared to carry the torch. The school is a little social order patterned on the better things of our own life. The teacher is the guard that tries to keep out the undesirable conditions, the guide who supplies guidance to the direction of pupil energy, the counsellor who counsels pupils on their social behaviour.

Education for freedom is not just a catch phrase nor does it offer an aim that is easily reached. It is rather the banner of an engrossing philosophy and points to a goal that can be reached only on the banishment of selfishness, intolerance, bigotry and prejudice.

HALLOWE'EN AT FRANCOIS LAKE

FRANCOIS LAKE—The School children's Halloween party at the Hall here was a fearsome and delightful affair. There were twenty-four youngsters, all in costume made by themselves, and masked. Several parents were present and enjoyed watching.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reed had charge of the party and it went off with a swing. It started off with a grand march round the Hall in costume and Mrs. Phil Kelly played the piano. The children were then judged, winners being John Kelly, Butch Curtis, Ethel Calder, Connie Erikson and David Catore. Each received a prize. Then followed several supervised games, some causing much excitement and amusement.

A table was laid at the end of the room prettily decorated with colored streamers, and quantities of delicacies piled up. After the games the children helped themselves and, in spite of healthy appetites, they were hardly able to eat everything.

Coyotes Beating Interior Farmers

WISTARIA—Arthur Sheldford is shipping a carload of sheep gathered from the farmers of the Lake District. Predatory animals are driving these farmers out of the sheep business. Charles Priest lost 27 ewes and lambs, destroyed by coyotes which are more numerous in the central interior than ever before.

Even the rabbits are disappearing. Seven black bear, which have been preying on the sheep, have been killed between Wistaria and the Nadina River.
