MIGHT DEFER CLAIM
LONDON—Russian sources reported today that Foreign Minister Molotov might offer to defer Russia's $10,000,000 reparations claim against Germany if the foreign ministers' conference agrees to the immediate establishment of all-German economic and administrative agencies in Germany.

The voters handed the Liberals an increased majority of at least three seats. The government won 23 seats, the Progressive Conservatives six, with one still in doubt. The C.C.F. failed to elect a candidate and all 16 of them lost their deposits of $50 each. The standing after the last general election in 1943 was: Liberals, 20; Progressive Conservatives, 10.

ALASKA MUST BE DEFENDED

WASHINGTON—Representative Crawford (Republican Michigan) says Alaska must be "made impregnable against attack."

Today, he declared, the great dams on the Columbia River and the huge power system serving Washington and Oregon have no protection. Alaska bases are still without adequate defence. Immense airfields are being provided in Alaska, but there is nothing to shield them.

Crawford is a believer in early statehood for the northern territory.

Appeal To SS Company

Strong Presentation by Chamber of Commerce Against Curtailment of Service

Holding that the proposed new schedule of Union Steamships Ltd. would result in a grave loss to all classes of Prince Rupert shippers and business men and that the hardships imposed upon smaller communities which have been entirely dependent upon the company for service are obvious, a strong presentation has been dispatched by a special committee of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce to the company seeking reconsideration of the drastic service curtailments. The loss of goodwill which the company would sustain thereby is also emphasized in the communication to the company which is as follows:

"The effect of your schedules on the mails for which Prince Rupert is the distributing centre, is nothing short of chaotic and of course vigorous protests will be made to Ottawa from all points concerned."

"We do not want to criticize without offering you any alternative. We suggest that you could handle the traffic with satisfaction to your customers by installing a ten-day service from Vancouver to the southern Queen Charlotte Island points thence to northern Queen Charlotte Island ports thence to Prince Rupert for a layover of from 24 to 48 hours, returning via northern and southern Queen Charlotte ports to Vancouver. This involves no additional vessels.

"Have you considered the danger of freight competition by some independent line which might at this time take over business which would be retained even if you do, later in the year, augment your service. From the personal knowledge of the writer's, this is already being considered by several really sound parties."

QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS SERVICE

"Your proposed new schedule will result in a very grave loss to all classes of Prince Rupert shippers and business men. It will be said that your proposals are for the winter months only but we would point out that once this business is lost to our community, new contacts will have been made elsewhere and the loss will be permanent. Committees from this Chamber have gone fully into the particulars at this time, a conservative figure of loss to Prince Rupert business men will be $400,000 per year in volume of business. Many of our members state this figure is far too low. One small service alone will lose $20,000 in business, involving $12,000 wages and $2500 freight bill to you.

"The hardships your schedule will impose upon smaller communities entirely dependent on your company for service are too obvious to need belaboring but should certainly be considered by your company on their own merits and also in respect to the long range effect on your company."

"We urge that you consider the value of goodwill to your company. The resultant loss of goodwill to you will be very great and will undoubtedly result in a drastic reduction of tonnage and passenger traffic between Prince Rupert and Vancouver. You have given such good service and attained an enviable record for good service that it seems a pity that you should lose it. As the public here now regards your proposed schedule it seems to the writers that you might almost as well forget Prince Rupert as a source of business."

CIVIC ELECTION— Mayor Arnold Wins Easily, Rudderham Is Top Alderman

Independents Carry the Day With One Exception—Bus Franchise Idea Rejected

Returning Mrs. Nora Arnold, incumbent for the past year, to the mayoralty seat for a period of two years, sending the veteran Laborite, Ald. G. W. Rudderham, back to the council with three independents, choosing two young business men for school board service and rejecting the idea of granting a private franchise for city bus service, electors of Prince Rupert went to the polls in the record large number of 1366 in the annual civic election yesterday.

Mrs. Arnold had a decisive majority of 142 over ex-Mayor H. M. Daggett in the mayoralty contest. The vote was 746 to 604. The lady mayor had gained in favor since a year ago when she started her first term with a scant majority of four.

Ald. G. W. Rudderham, who has already served ten years in the council, won another two years when he topped the poll for the fourth time in a civic election. Despite the general trend away from Labor, Ald. Rudderham seems to have gained in popularity over the last time he ran two years ago and made only third place. J. R. Morin, a newcomer in municipal politics, ran a strong second and Ald. T. B. Black came a good third while W. F. Stone took fourth place to commence his first term as an alderman.

W. J. Scott and A. J. Dominato had no difficulty in taking the two school board seats. The vote against the bus franchise idea was close—636 to 612. Over 100 ballots were spoiled, many being unmarked. The details of the voting were as follows:

For Mayor
Mrs. Nora Arnold, 746 (re-elected).
H. M. Daggett, 604.

For Alderman
Ald. G. W. Rudderham, 758.
J. R. Morin, 731.
Ald. T. B. Black, 694.
W. F. Stone, 603.
G. A. Hills, 581.
Mrs. Edith Black, 561.
Ald. T. N. Youngs, 540.
August Wallin, 489.

For School Board
W. J. Scott, 890.
A. J. Dominato, 868.
G. J. Dawes, 513.

Counting of yesterday's vote was completed shortly before 10 o'clock, less than two hours after the polls closed at 8 o'clock. During the first hour of the counting, trends in the voting remained practically indistinguishable, except in the mayoralty vote, but as the count advanced the leaders began to emerge.

Mayor Arnold's majority showed up in the first survey and grew steadily as the counting continued.

One of the highlights of the counting was the heavy vote polled by J. Ralph Morin, who at one time achieved a one-vote lead over Alderman Rudderham to head the aldermanic vote. Final count, however, found him in second place.

Mr. Morin, although a well-known pioneer of the city, had taken little part in civic politics up to the present campaign.

Alderman Youngs was the only one of the three present aldermen who sought re-election to lose his seat on council.

The election gives the 1948 city council an independent mayor, six independent aldermen and two labor aldermen.

Next year's council will consist of Mayor Nora E. Arnold, Aldermen T. B. Black, Arthur Brooksbank, Casey, McKay, Morin, Nickerson, Rudderham and Stone.

Super Takes Strong Arm Methods to End Strike

ROME (CP)—The situation in Rome became more ominous today as Premier Alcide De Gasperi's government backed with arm police measures its efforts to negotiate a settlement to the general strike, now in its second day.

Piazza Colonna, heart of Rome, and under the eyes of the foreign ministry, helmeted police charged crowds which gathered under the vast arcade, about among them with whistles.

Groups of idle bystanders and the policemen with jeering, whistling and shouting interrupted.

Throughout Rome jeep loads of police circulated constantly, demonstrators kept on the streets. Many arrests were made.

A strike has been called in Rome at unemployment centers.

SPEEDY COUNT IN ELECTION

By means of use of the Hunter ballot, results of mayoralty, aldermanic and school board contests as well as the bus franchise referendum became known simultaneously just about two hours after the closing of the polls in the annual civic election. In view of the heavy vote cast, this was considered a very expeditious accomplishment. Sometimes in the past, even when there have been smaller votes, it has been as late as midnight before final results became known.

ELECTIONS IN CITIES

Loutet Defeated in North Vancouver—Nicholson Re-elected in Prince George

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eight British Columbia mayors were returned to office yesterday and three were elected for the first time in civic elections held throughout the province.

North Vancouver provided the biggest surprise when the veteran mayor, Jack Loutet, was defeated 1582 to 883 by a newcomer, Frank Goldsworthy, 36-year old shipyard electrical superintendent.

George Muir of Nanaimo and Jack Nicholson of Prince George were returned to office, the latter defeating Frank Clark in a straight contest.

The Civic Election

RE-ELECTION of Mrs. Nora Arnold as mayor with a substantial majority and the success, with but one notable exception, of independent over labor candidates in the aldermanic contest were the outstanding features of Prince Rupert's annual civic election in which a healthy interest was manifested by the voters who turned out in record heavy numbers.

Mrs. Arnold had given good service in her first year as chief magistrate and it was fitting enough that the electors should have expressed their approval thereof by sending her back to the mayoral chair for a two-year term, thus affording her the opportunity of leading in carrying on the work she has been instrumental in starting.

The year 1947 has seen a start made on post-war reconstruction planning for the city. The coming year should see considerable accomplishments achieved along those lines although the program of necessities is so large that everything cannot be fairly expected to be done. However, there is a competent aldermanic board which, with the mayor, should be able to see that the fullest advantage is taken of all the opportunities.

A notable feature of the aldermanic contest was the fact that Labor, which otherwise fell by the wayside, should have succeeded in placing the perennially popular veteran George Rudderham at the top of the poll, indicating that his support was of a more general character than being exclusively Labor. Ald. T. B. Black, who has already given sound service, goes back and there is new aldermanic blood in J. R. Morin and W. F. Stone.

Two young men—W. J. Scott and A. J. Dominato—had no difficulty in capturing the school board seats.

All the winners are to be congratulated. Now their job is to prove up. There will be plenty of work to be done to occupy their energies and problems to be faced to tax their ability. Their efforts will be watched with critical but, it is to be hoped, helpful interest.

WHY, UNION STEAMSHIPS?

IT IS NO WONDER that there should be aroused indignation all along the coast at the precipitate action of Union Steamships Ltd. in drastically cutting its services not only between Vancouver and Prince Rupert, which points are not entirely dependent upon this company for their connection, but to lesser points which have no other service than that accorded by this veteran and so long esteemed concern. We refer particularly to such points around these parts as Port Simpson and Stewart and the Queen Charlotte Islands which have been cut to the lowest frequency of calls than have had in many a year.

Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is losing no time in making vigorous representations since it is obvious that the changes involve not only real hardship in many directions but much loss of business for this port. We are most anxious that there should be no diminution of the facilities of giving service to points on this part of the coast which are directly tributary to the city and should be permitted to continue so.

The Union Steamship Co. over the years has built up an enviable quantity of goodwill for its unremitting and friendly service to the ports of importance as well as the most inconsequential nooks and crannies of the coast. Only recently it had been expanding along broader lines and did not seem to be doing so badly. It is difficult to understand why, by action so precipitate and seemingly ill-considered at this, that in one swoop, it would undo it all.

It is because the company is so highly regarded by reason of its past good and faithful service that the protest at what it is now doing to its old friends is not even more vigorous. It is to be hoped that the appeals which are being made do not fall upon deaf ears. We had never expected anything like this from Union Steamships and find it hard to take.

CHRISTMAS TREE BUSINESS

IT'S big business while it lasts—this Christmas tree boom. It is reckoned this season that not less than a million will be cut and shipped to meet the needs of North America.

For the tree is a "must" if Yuletide is to be observed in the right spirit and with traditional environment. The Christmas tree is a matter-of-fact trade but, for that matter, a large proportion of December industry is also that.

On the United States market, the price of a tree is reported to be from $3 to $10 and some cutters are said to make as much as $25 a day.

A pain in the neck is something between a headache and a heartache.

STORY LOCATES DOG'S OWNER

"Queenie" is Claimed By Local Fisherman

"Queenie," the gentle Alsatian police dog who spent the last two weeks at the city jail after she had become lost, was returned to her owner within a matter of hours after her story had been told in the Daily News on Wednesday.

"Queenie" became lost because she didn't want to become a sailor.

According to her owner who claimed the dog Wednesday evening, and whose name was not taken at the police office, "Queenie" jumped from the after-deck of her owner's boat at Cow Bay floats while he was untying the mooring lines to make a run in the harbor. He is a fisherman.

"Queenie" was sitting on the deck while her owner untied the after lines, then he went forward and cast off the bow lines, then into the cabin to steer the boat. When he went out on deck a few minutes later, "Queenie" had disappeared. She had jumped ashore, apparently preferring dry land to sailing.

WIND CAUSES TWO FIRES

High winds which whipped the city in gusts Thursday afternoon gave the fire department a busy time shortly before 6 o'clock. Two chimney fires in quick succession brought out the firemen who put out the fires before damage was done.

The first alarm came at 5:30 with a report that the chimney of the Bayview Apartments, First Avenue, was aflame. On their return, the firemen found another call waiting.

The second call, sent in at 5:37, came from the Family Shoe Store, where soot in the chimney had caught fire. It also was extinguished without damage.

Earlier, the department put out a fire on the halibut boat Smith Sound, moored at the Cow Bay floats. Oil in the galley stove had overflowed, setting the interior on fire. The blaze was put out with the use of fire-killing foam.

The Smith Sound is owned by Nelson Bros. and was under command of Arthur Brown. Damage to her was slight.

GUIDE FOR MEN—

Christmas Shopping Is Made Easy For Males

Men, are you shy? Timid about entering a women's ready-to-wear store to shop for Christmas gifts for your wives, mothers, girl friends, sisters and daughters?

You need be no longer. Prince Rupert stores are making a special effort this year to ease the strain for you. Shopping for presents for the opposite sex will be easy, if you go armed with some of the following information:

- Height, weight and age of recipient;
- Complexion, color of hair and eyes;
- Usual taste or choice of recipient.

Before you men rush off and decide to buy the first article you see on display, give thought to the advice of Prince Rupert women's store proprietors. One merchant suggests: "A man buying a present for a woman at Christmas should select something useful. The more useful an article, the happier and the more satisfied the recipient will be."

Another store proprietor sounds this warning: "Keep the sales slips on all Christmas purchases to facilitate exchange of articles, if it is necessary."

HELPFUL HINTS FOR SHOP-SHY MEN
Bewildered males might well consider the following items as Christmas presents. Each article is sure to please most women.

You can't go wrong when you give lingerie. Women always like to receive it and they claim they cannot have too much. There are nightgowns, slips, panties and brassieres in satins and nylon with lace trim.

"Men never seem to want to buy lingerie by the single piece," observed one salesgirl. "They prefer to purchase it in sets; they want everything to match."

Alert manufacturers have solved this situation by bringing out the bridal set and the dancing set. For the information of you men, a bridal set comprises a nightgown, with matching slip and panties. The dancing set provides panties and brassiere. Those in the women's wear business say these are big favorites with feminine customers.

HOUSECOATS HOLD FAVORED POSITION
Housecoats are high up on the Christmas present list. And no wonder! The range is interesting with the trend heavily toward silks and satins and jerseys—in colorful designs. Quilted housecoats, too, are continuing to enjoy popularity.

"We are getting away from the war austerity," explained one store proprietor with enthusiasm. "If you want to take HER breath away, surprise HER with one of the latest floor-sweeping hostess gowns. Trimmed with gold and fuchsia and designed with push-up sleeves, these crepe gowns are just the thing for afternoon entertaining."

For the formal or semi-formal occasions, when she is stepping out in the evenings, the evening skirt-blouse combination is a big hit. One evening skirt with two or more evening blouses, perhaps with metal or sequin trim, will provide plenty of variety, interest and glamor.

TEEN-AGERS ARE GIVING BALLERINA A WHIRL
Indications are that the ballerina or short formal—fitted at waist and swinging out at the bottom—will be increasing in popularity. At the moment they are favored by the younger set, particularly the teen-age girls.

Blouses are a nice buy, particularly if you happen to know the size of your wife's waist and her favorite color—or the dimensions of whoever you are shopping for. A big choice is offered in this line of apparel. But, if you want the lady of your choice to head the fashion parade, you can't do better than to pick a blouse with a long Windsor collar and a large, contrasting tie that bows at the neckline.

Perhaps the most surprising news for men in women's fashions is the return of the Gibson Girl costume. The full skirts that fall to within four inches of the heel, topped by a white blouse with a Peter Pan collar and large contrasting bow tied at the throat, are taking the girls by storm.

MODERN VERSION OF HOBBLE SKIRT HERE
Of course you've heard a lot about how the girls are getting set to hide their legs behind longer skirts but, brother, that is only part of the plot. They are beginning to wear dresses which, in the fashion world, are called pencil-skimmed. Waists are nipped in, hips draped and concealed to give emphasis and skirts are designed to recall the once-popular hobble skirts.

Now for accessories. Women during the war years were starved for imported handkerchiefs with Swiss and Irish embroideries and laces.

Gloves make ideal Christmas gifts. Pigtex and soft kid are big sellers.

Corded cloth purses are taking their place with plastic and leather models, and for the evening ensemble the ladies are inclining toward velour pouch-style bags.

In conclusion, here are other items that will be appreciated: silk scarves, sweaters, dainty bed jackets, nylon stockings, costume jewellery, blankets and bedspreads.

IN NEW YORK—In a New York restaurant the radio was carrying a running account of the British royal wedding pageant. And these people, including a milkman making deliveries, were getting as much of a bang out of the great event as were any of the officials in Westminster.

"We are getting away from the war austerity," explained one store proprietor with enthusiasm.

If you want to take HER breath away, surprise HER with one of the latest floor-sweeping hostess gowns. Trimmed with gold and fuchsia and designed with push-up sleeves, these crepe gowns are just the thing for afternoon entertaining.

For the formal or semi-formal occasions, when she is stepping out in the evenings, the evening skirt-blouse combination is a big hit. One evening skirt with two or more evening blouses, perhaps with metal or sequin trim, will provide plenty of variety, interest and glamor.

TEEN-AGERS ARE GIVING BALLERINA A WHIRL
Indications are that the ballerina or short formal—fitted at waist and swinging out at the bottom—will be increasing in popularity. At the moment they are favored by the younger set, particularly the teen-age girls.

ABOUT HOUSING . . .

While reading a columnist's piece the other day about housing in Vancouver, He was pretty mad when he knew some people who were discouraged about ever seeing a new home.

He gathered he didn't think the situation was working worth a damn. Low-lived characters somewhere must be doing the public in.

Producing these facts: Vancouver is the fastest-growing city in Canada and the housing situation is aggravated mainly by so many new people wanting to live in the city.

Since the war, has more new houses in proportion to population than any other city in Canada.

Vancouver has received more lumber and a higher percentage of the lumber produced in B.C. than ever before in its history. Much of the rest is going to Britain where a third of the homes were bombed out.

By far the greater part of the cost of a new house and its materials is in wages, direct and indirect.

In Britain a Socialist government can't come near the number of housing completions which the Churchill government set as its minimum objective and which the Labour Party, in its campaign, called "gracefully and impossibly" inadequate. Now it is cutting down house building licenses drastically.

Crowded though Vancouver is, coverage is less than one person per room in residences. In Russia the figure is nine persons per room. It has never been less since the present government was formed.

But then, in Russia they love communal living . . . and there's no central heating.

CARELESSNESS

At first it was a mere wisp of smoke. The Forest Ranger at his lonely lookout atop Bald Peak Mountain thought at first that it was only a party of campers picnicking in the woods. The column of smoke began to grow bigger and bigger. When the ranger noticed it again the forest about five miles away was a blazing inferno. The flames grew larger by the minute.

He could do nothing now but turn in an alarm. Wild life of all kinds came streaming out of the forest in a large horde. Enemies were running side by side, fear of each other forgotten in their fear of fire, destroyer of all. After it was all over there were hundreds of animals who had no homes and hundreds were no longer needing homes. For the wildlife's sake: Make sure your fire is out before you leave, Buddy!

Christmas Dinner By Girls of 9M

Bo-Me-Hi teachers are anticipating a Christmas dinner prepared by the 9M Home Economics girls next Thursday. The occasion should not only provide the girls with practice in preparing the Christmas dinner for the family but also the teachers with practice in getting around that turkey awaiting each at his or her home.

Delicious aromas drifting to rooms above, suggest plum pudding, mince meat, cranberry sauce and other essential portions of the menu. After the excellent luncheons and teas prepared by these girls in the past month, no one entertains a doubt that this Christmas dinner from turkey to trimming will be just as delectable as the wafting aromas suggest—good to the last gobble.

CHRISTMAS PLAYS

Final rehearsals for the three High School Christmas plays will be held early next week. The plays themselves will be held at the Civic Centre on Wednesday night next. High School students selling tickets will be admitted to a special show free.

Cheer Meets In Auditorium

Two cheer meets were held in the school auditorium this week in order to give the students practice in the school yells for the Bo-Me-Hi—Kay Hi games on Friday and Saturday nights.

The cheers will be led by three lovely cheer queens—Shirley Slater, Beth Astoria and Lily Sylvester.

At the cheer meet on Thursday noon there were approximately 85 students and teachers present who intend to be at the games on Friday and Saturday.

The cheer queens will not only yell for the Bo-Me-Hi team but have practiced several yells for Kay-Hi.

A new school song will also be sung at the games. The words are as follows:

"Well stand and cheer for the old Gold and Green,
And we'll defend her where'er we're seen
For Bo-Me-Hi and we are proud—
To echo her praises long and loud,
Though we may wander o'er

Physical Exercise Healthy Diversion

All morning Wednesday the class sits in school working. But what they're waiting for is noontime. The 12 o'clock bell rings. Everyone to their seats and quiet. "Class Dismissed." Oh! what a clatter, they all run for their hats and coats and away they go, down the stairs and out the door. And then all is quiet. They don't have to go to school this afternoon, they just have to go down to the Civic Centre for P.E.

Everyone has eaten by now. The students who live out across the bridge take the bus or ride bikes. They all arrive waiting for the gym to open. When they are in they put on their shorts and runners in the dressing room. Then they all come out to play either basketball, volley ball or exercises. The exercises aren't so much fun though. The P.E. teacher will keep score while the children play. It's a lot of fun playing the games but when the fun is over we have health and go home.

PADDLES ACROSS CONTINENT IN 19 MONTHS—Peter Burt, 28, a Canadian logger, is the first man to have navigated the inland northwest passage. He travelled 6,000 miles across the North American continent by canoe. He began his trip at Victoria on April 13, 1914, and arrived in New York on Tuesday, November 25, 1914, nineteen months later. He did all his traveling in a 16-foot aluminum canoe. Burt's hair was shoulder-length when he arrived in New York. It had not been cut since he started his journey. The traveler had this to say: "I proved you can get across the continent by water; it is something I have dreamed about since I was 13."

BRENTWOOD, Essex, Eng., Grandmother Ellen Whitehead, 86, had seven proposals of marriage in six months.

To the Electors

May I convey my most sincere thanks to those who supported my aldermanic candidature at yesterday's civic election. I shall do my best to give our city good government.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make gloves look like new after washing them?

A. When laundering gloves, wash them in warm soapy water and rinse in tepid soapsuds, adding to the last rinsing water one tablespoon of glycerine. This method will make the gloves look like new.

Q. How can I clean a slender vase satisfactorily?

A. Fasten a piece of an old sponge on a stick and push this down into the vase. This method is also very useful for cleaning decanters and water bottles.

Tells About Alaska Run

New Steamer Prince George To Start at End of June

Steady progress is being made with the completion of the fine new $4,000,000 coastal liner Prince George at Yarrow's Shipyard in Victoria and the vessel will go into service on a nine-day run from Vancouver through Ocean Falls and Prince Rupert to Alaska about June 30 next, it was stated by Bernard Allen, general superintendent, Canadian National Railways, for British Columbia, before he sailed Thursday night by the Prince Rupert for Vancouver after a two-day visit here on official business. Details of the schedule are being worked out, said Mr. Allen, who gave assurance that, while it would be essentially a tourist cruise service, space would also be protected on the vessel for local Prince Rupert traffic.

While the Prince George will operate through to Skagway, the intention is to retain the steamer Prince Rupert on the run which she has for the past few years been carrying out through Prince Rupert as far north as Ketchikan.

Mr. Allen also spoke optimistically about the changes of having passenger service on the Jasper-Prince Rupert line of the railway increased at least during the summer months.

While here, Mr. Allen made an inspection of the local dry dock plant of which he was manager during the war years when the plant was so busy on wartime shipping construction and where today there is a staff of about 60 engaged on miscellaneous marine repair work. After the first of the year, when preparations for the fishing season became more active, he expected there would be more work going on there.

The general superintendent referred to the scarcity of express refrigerator cars, many of which were tied up in the United States. Under the circumstances, it was fortunate that sufficient cars had been available to handle heavy movement of fish from Alaska through Prince Rupert to the United States. This traffic had been given the priority on such cars.

Mr. Allen expressed interest in reports which were being circulated in regard to the possibility of wartime port installations here being used for ocean shipping through Prince Rupert but had no comment to make or information to give himself.

LYMINGTON, Eng., — John Woolcott, 11, the youngest competitor in a plowing contest, won third prize.

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

(December 12, 1922)

It was learned on good authority that Alderman Collett would be a candidate for mayor at the civic elections in January. It was expected that he would campaign on a platform to reorganize the departments in the city hall.

After having been out of operation since May, the car ferry for carrying pulp from Swanson Bay to this port for transshipment to the east, resumed service. It was expected that it would make one trip a week.

A load of prime Bulkley Valley steers arrived in the city from the interior for slaughter at the local plant of Burns and Co. for the Christmas market.

A big explosion at Premier mine was believed to have been caused by an attempt by Carl Boey, an Austrian, to end his life. He succeeded, but also injured three other mine workers and damaged part of the mine.

B. B. Kelliher, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific was a visitor in town. He planned to make an inspection of the railway line out of Prince Rupert before returning to Vancouver.

Captain C. H. Nicholson, manager of the G. T. P. Steamships arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert on an inspection trip.

I. N. Linnell and J. J. Sloan returned to the city from a trip. Ben Self and Miss Viola Leadbetter were married here.

Reminiscences
By W.J. and Reflections

The skeleton of a marine creature, recently found by fishermen at Vernon Bay, west coast of Vancouver Island, is not at all mysterious. But, they thought it was. The situation is similar to what happened at Prince Rupert years ago. The body of something of deep sea origin was discovered on an island near here and because no one could name it, Prince Rupert jumped at conclusions. Perhaps this or perhaps that! Maybe the missing link. The story even hit the London press. A man of science took a look and a sniff and said "basking shark". And its also basking shark in the story from Vernon Bay. But, like in Rupert, the discoverers made the most of the occasion, as long as uncertainty existed. The Vancouver Sun ran a story, set double column on the front page thereby following the example of the Prince Rupert press years earlier.

BOX CARS TO RUSSIA

Paradoxical Situation Seen By Representative at Washington

WASHINGTON — Representative Mundt will present a resolution asking the government for details of a shipment of 216 freight cars to Russia when a car shortage exists throughout the United States.

Said Mundt: "Asking Americans to stop Communism abroad, permitting American food to be wasted through a shortage of box cars and then shipping the box cars to Russia so she can build a more aggressive Communism—and all within a six months period—is a whirling dervish program which would would make a self-respecting corkscrew turn green with admiring envy."

For years, municipal elections in British Columbia were held in January. This was true of Prince Rupert where, as a rule, everyone who could exercise his or her franchise, was sure to show up and, standing behind the curtain, put down the little "X" on the precious ballot. With some, the process barely occupied a minute. It was clear, their minds were made up. But others might take ten times as long.

There is a good story in every life, whether that life is famous or obscure. For things of interest happen to everyone. The latest celebrity to tell about himself is the Duke of Windsor. The opening chapter is in a widely circulated periodical. The Duke is a natural born newspaperman. That's clear from the highly readable way in which he writes. Nothing stuffy!

BASKETBALL BREEZES

by A FAN

Everyone else is doing it and just so we won't be left on a limb by ourselves we'd better jump back into the current Arney-Forman controversy. This corner goes on record as heartily endorsing the sentiments expressed by "Spectator" in yesterday's "Letterbox." That spectators are anxious to see clean, competitive basketball goes without saying and we feel that the local league should either treat us to some exhibitions of real basketball or follow the suggestion that they take up some other game. The responsibility for providing local fans with the kind of basketball that is a pleasure to watch and is not an exhibition of raw tempers, flying elbows and general poor sportsmanship, rests with both the Referees' Association and the Basketball Association.

INDIAN TROOPS TAKE PRISONER IN KASHMIR—Liaquat Ali Khan, prime minister of Pakistan, in a statement at Lahore recently, proposed that the whole dispute over Kashmir between India and Pakistan should be brought before the United Nations and asked immediately to appoint representatives in Jammu and Kashmir state to put a stop to fighting there. This photo shows soldiers of the 1st Kumaon Regiment as they arrest and search a prisoner on the road to Baramulla, Kashmir. All his belongings are on the ground.

Quite frankly it appears from this distance that major responsibility rests with the Basketball Association. We hold no brief for the Referees' Association nor do we feel that they can be entirely exonerated from blame for the game having slipped to such a sorry level in Prince Rupert, but we do feel that the referees can only be held responsible for the behavior of teams and individuals on the floor during actual contests. The Basketball Association has fallen down very badly in that they have, apparently, failed to back up the decisions rendered by their referees during games. It seems obvious to us that, when the referees had banished two players from a game—one for a flagrant foul, the other for a display of unsportsmanlike conduct—that the Basketball Association should then have meted out to the players concerned whatever suspension or other form of penalty seemed appropriate.

"BASKETBALL" THIS EVENING

Tonight perhaps we shall be treated to a "basketball" exhibition between the local Rainmakers and their Alaskan rivals, the Kay Hi Polar Bears. Mr. Hollister has brought down a pretty powerful outfit to tackle Alex Bill's Rainmakers and the story goes that the Polar Bears are a well drilled, smooth working aggregation. Some of last year's players are still with the squad and the boys are confident that they will take both games when they play here tonight and tomorrow. The Rainmakers are equally confident that they can take the measure of their Alaskan rivals. If Jim Flaten continues to play the brand of heads-up ball that he has shown recently in the local league and if the Rainmakers can keep up with him, it should be quite a battle.

The preliminary for tonight's game should be a very interesting encounter. This is something more than just another girls' game. Rumor has it that Mr. Hurst and Vernon Cleonne will do the whistle-blowing for this preliminary encounter and it seems that the idea is to give both the girls who play and the fans an object lesson in refereeing. Since the two teams who will be guinea pigging for the exhibition are Sweet Sixteen and the Rainbirds, this should be a very edifying experience.

KETCHIKAN TEAM HERE

Under Coach E. Hollister, the Ketchikan high school basketball team invaded Prince Rupert last night, all set for the two-game series which will be played here tonight and Saturday night. The party was made up of the following: D. Anderson, J. Stenford, E. Johnson, J. Tucker, E. Forstad, A. Hammer, H. Martinson, H. Johanson, M. Slatta, J. Johanson, J. Lewis, D. McMillan.

VARDEN SINGERS CONCERT PLEASURES CHURCH GROUP

Choral and solo renditions of Norwegian folk music and classical composers made up an interesting program presented by the Varden Singers and assisting artists at a pre-Christmas concert held in St. Paul's Lutheran Church Thursday evening.

The choral presentations by the Varden Singers under direction of Peter Lien, included anthems and hymns from the Lutheran hymnal, followed by a group of four Christmas carols, sung in Norwegian during the second half of the program.

The second part of the program was opened by Rev. Earl Soiland who established the Christmas atmosphere with a short introductory talk on "The Message of the Advent." Mr. Soiland concluded the program by thanking the choir and assisting artists.

First portion of the program included the hymn "Awake, Awake, for Night Is Flying," sung by the choir and audience. The choir then sang two anthems, "Glory of God in Nature" by Beethoven and "Send Out Thy Light" by Gounod.

Two organ solos, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Cajus Animum," played by 15-year-old Roald Fesses, showed a fine mastery of the instrument and were warmly received by the audience.

Concluding choral number in the first section was the anthem "Jubilate, Amen." It was followed by three piano solos by Mrs. George Mead—"Liebestraum" (Liszt), "Cradle Song" (Jarnfeldt), "Pastoral Dance" (Edward Germy).

The Christmas music in the second portion of the program included the anthem "Behold, Thy King Cometh" and two vocal solos, "He Shall Feed His Flock" (Handel) and "The Prayer Perfect" by the American composer, Speaks.

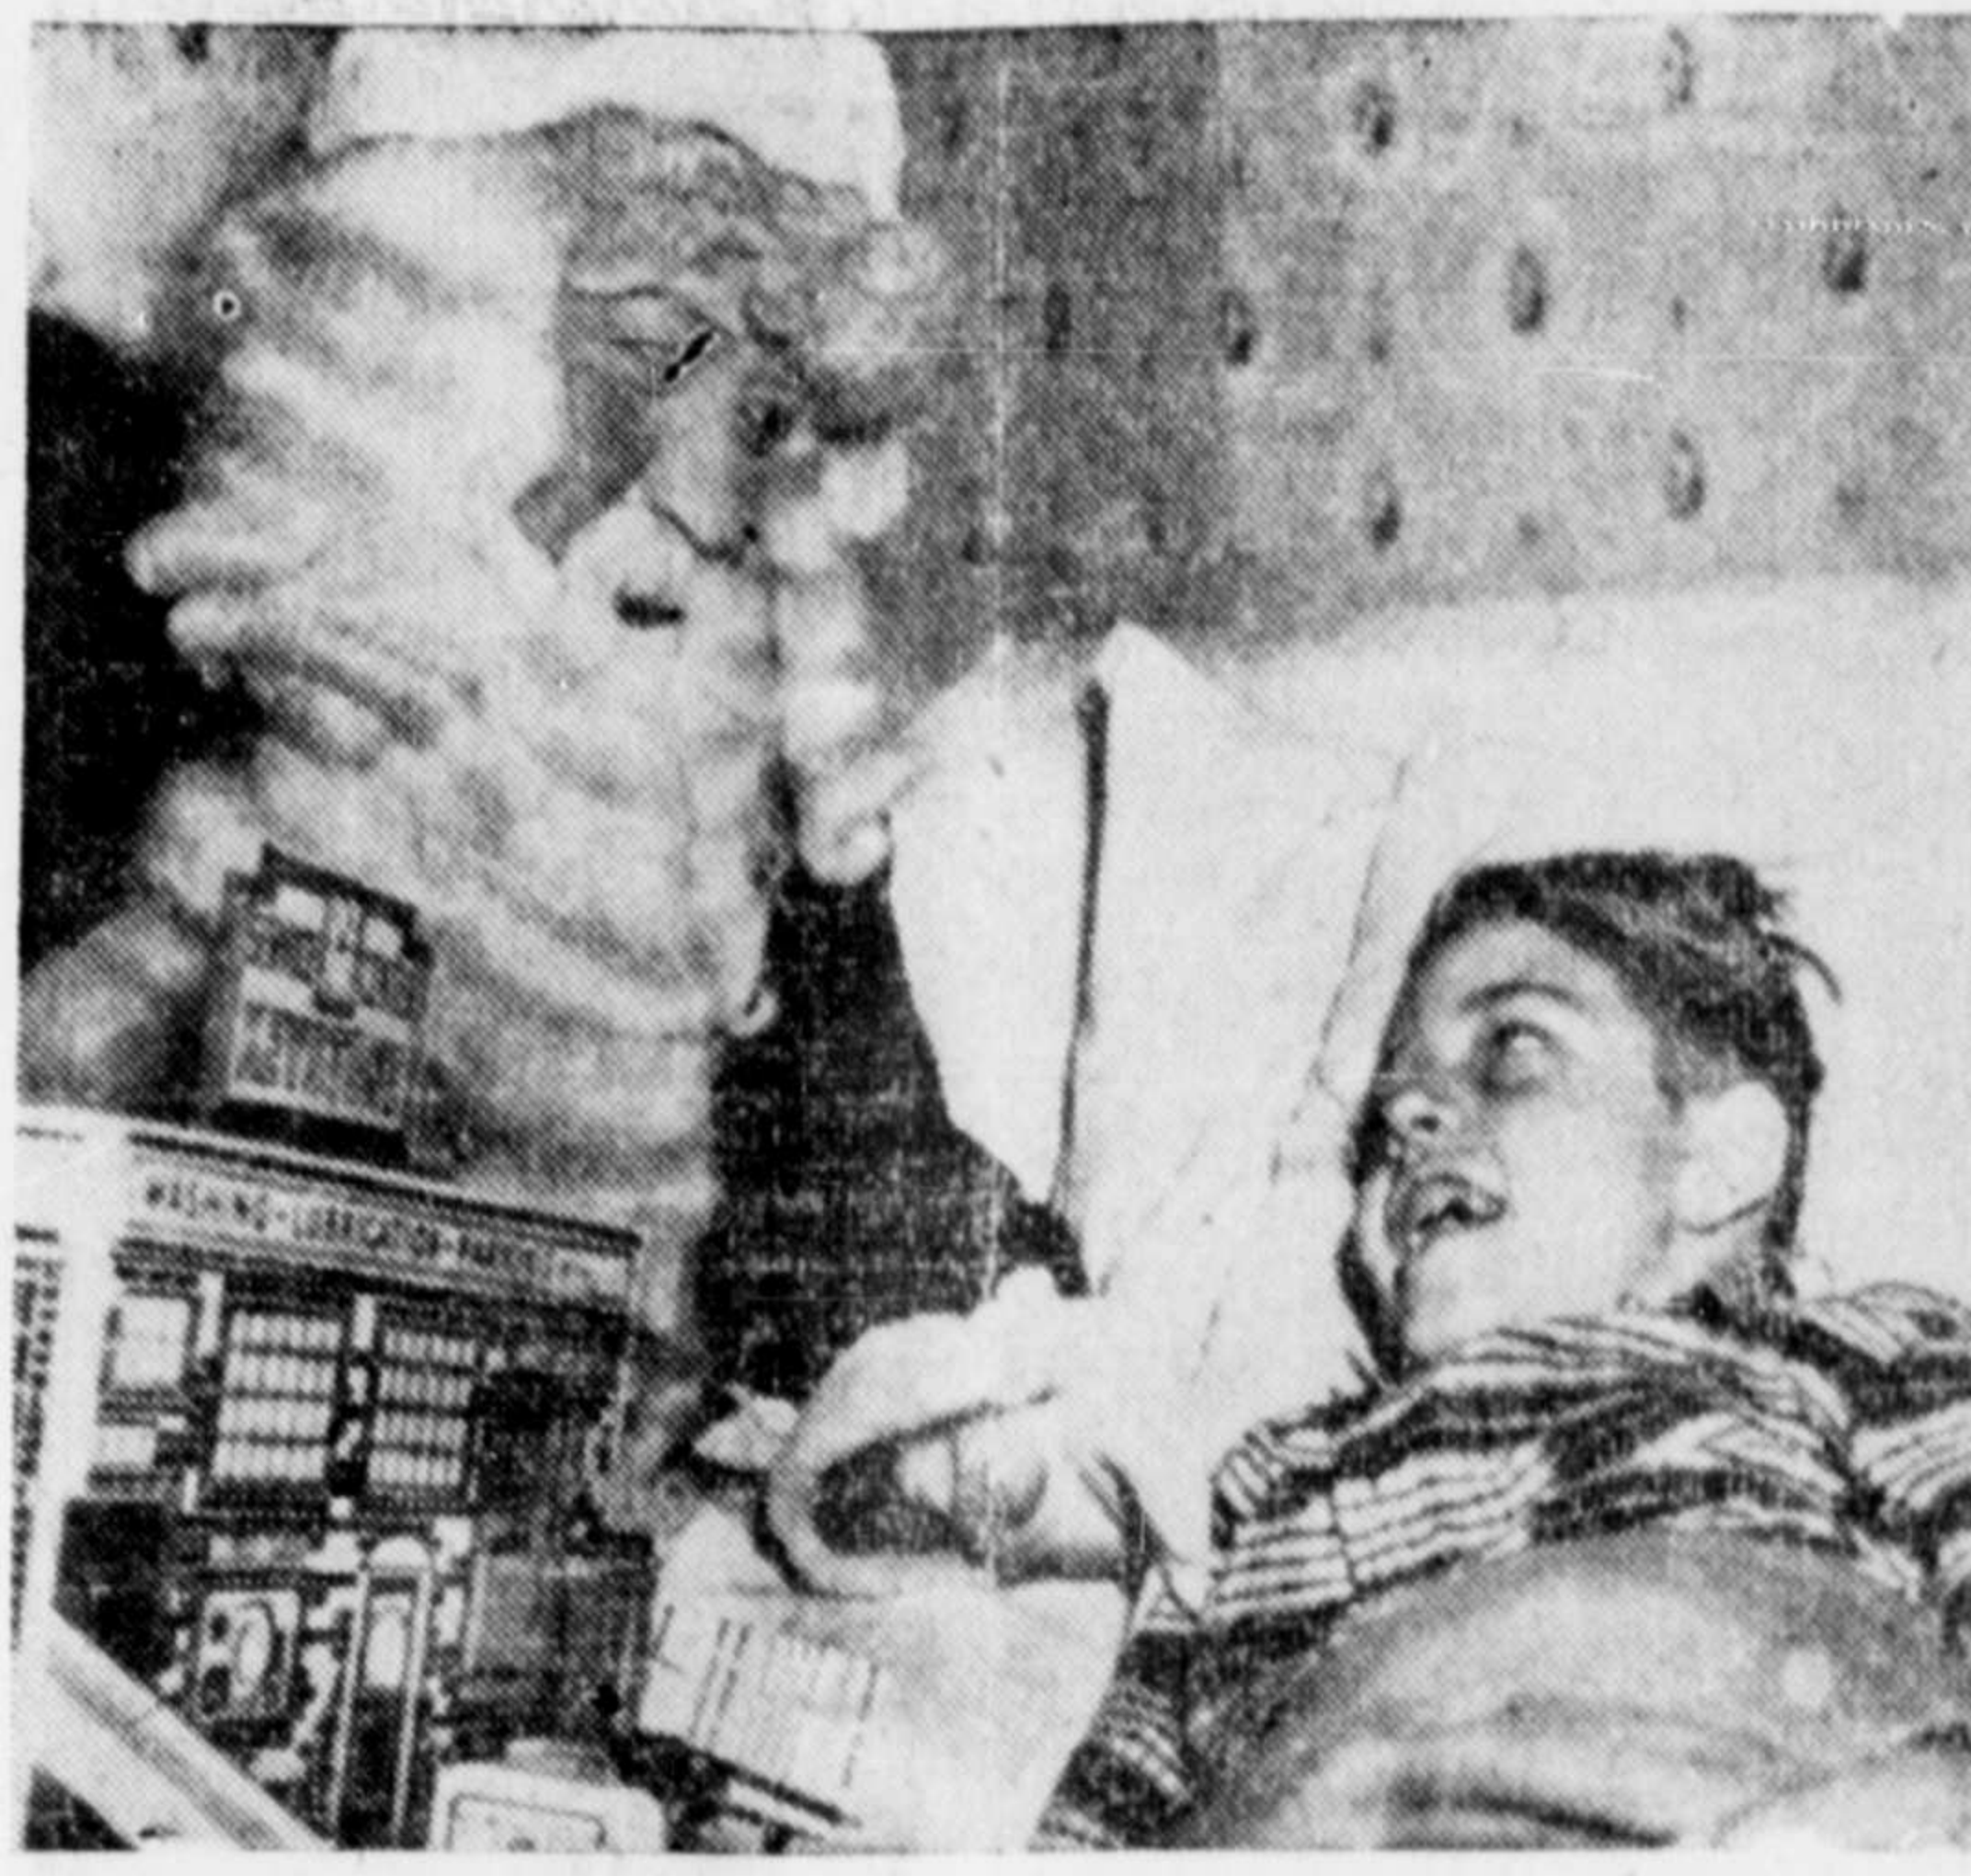

Four Norwegian Christmas carols, sung by the choir, concluded the program.

Scotland Having National Parks

OTTAWA—Some of the finest scenery in Scotland is being preserved for all time from any danger of being spoiled by industrial development. As soon as the necessary legislation is passed, five areas recommended by the Scottish National Parks Committee will officially become parks. The areas are Loch Lomond, Trossachs, Glen Affric-Glen Cann Cannish-Strath Farnae, Ben Nevis-Glen, Coe-Black Mount, the Cairngorms, Loch Marise-Little Loch Broom.

ARMY LEARNS FROM ESKIMOS

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The furs of the primitive Eskimo are warmer than the cold weather combat clothing worn by the army and navy. This is admitted here, states Lt.-Commander J. W. Haggard, speaking at a naval research meeting. "To keep warm, men must wear layers, and in so doing, perspire at the least provocation. The Eskimos' clothing fits more loosely, allows for free circulation and provides maximum warmth."

PREVIEW OF CHRISTMAS FOR ILL BOY—The spirit of Santa Claus became a living, vital thing for bright-eyed Donald McEnaney, eight, of Chicago, who is a victim of the dread leukemia. At a party for the boy, Santa brought Donald gifts from warm-hearted Chicagoans. Donald also got a long-distance phone call from his cowboy idol, Gene Autry.

THEFT CHARGES AGAINST WILSON

Amendments Are Made By Prosecution

Leslie Wilson, Port Edward fisherman, who was committed for trial on three charges of breaking and entering at his preliminary hearing before Magistrate W. D. Vance in district magistrate's court Thursday afternoon, will face three charges of theft, instead, when he comes up for trial in County Court.

The charges were changed by J. T. Harvey, who was appointed crown counsel at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing. The change was made on the basis of evidence presented in the preliminary hearing.

The depositions indicated that theft would be a more fitting charge than breaking and entering, Mr. Harvey decided.

Wilson is alleged to have entered three homes of natives at Kemano Bay, Gardner Canal, last August and stolen household articles and a shot gun. Goods, claimed by the crown to have been stolen, were found in his home at Port Edward earlier this month.

Wilson was scheduled to appear before Judge W. O. Fulton for election this afternoon and it was expected that he would elect speedy trial immediately.

Roderick MacLeod is acting for Wilson.
