Atom Is No Longer Secret --- Molotov

UNITED STATES IS PRESUMING TOO MUCH IN BASING ITS POLICY ON BELIEF IT IS EXCLUSIVE, SO VIET FOREIGN MINISTER HINTS

MOSCOW—Foreign Minister Molotov said today that the Soviet Union would defend the interest of peace of the whole world "till the end" but also said that "it is well known that the United States is basing its policy on the sole possession of the secret of the atom bomb although this secret has long ceased to exist."

ist" is reporting his reference to the secret of the atom bomb. It quoted Molotov as saying "It is interesting that, in expansionist circles of the United States, a new peculiar sort of illusion has been formed about their internal strength—a belief in the secret of the atom bomb although this secret has long ceased to exist."

ists need this faith in the atom bomb which, as is known, is not a means of defence but a weapon of aggression. Many are indignant that United States and Great Britain should hamper the United Nations from adopting a final decision on prohibition of the atomic weapon."

FIRE DAMAGES TRUCK INTERIOR

A fire which smouldered unnoticed for eight hours, badly damaged the interior of the cab of a truck owned by City Transfer before it was put out at 4 o'clock this morning by the fire department which answered a call to Hays Cove Circle where the vehicle was parked in front of the home of Vic Menzies.

The blaze is believed to have been caused by a cigarette which dropped down under the seat while Mr. Menzies drove the truck from Terrace Wednesday evening. He arrived in the city at 8 p.m. and parked the truck in front of his home.

Contents of the gasoline tank, situated under the cab, were aflame when the fire department arrived. The firemen used fog spray and quickly extinguished the blaze.

STREET CAR MEN ARE NOW VOTING

VANCOUVER—Members of Street Railwaymen's Union in Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria started today discussing a new proposal to end the eighteen-day old transit strike. The result will not be known until Saturday.

CITY BACKING RODENT DRIVE

Campaign to be Instituted—Poison to be Distributed
The city council plans to embark on an anti-rat campaign to reduce the increasing number of rodents that are menacing the health of the city. Poison, of a type that will be practically harmless to domestic pets and children, will be made available to householders and spread in liberal quantities by the City Engineer's department.

Decision to attack the rats was made at a special meeting of city council last night, called to consider a report on the garbage disposal problem submitted two weeks ago by City Engineer C. B. Howe and to re-consider a decision made last week in regard to the sale of wartime houses.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
Milder weather is in store for the entire province. A moist flow of warm Pacific air is expected to extend into the interior during the day. Snow now reported at most interior points will become mixed rain and snow during the afternoon. Rain will continue over the lower coast through the day with gradual improvement overnight.

Forecast

Prince Rupert, Queen Charlottes and North Coast—Overcast with widely scattered showers becoming cloudy by noon. Cloudy, occasionally clear overnight. Overcast Friday. Intermittent rain beginning about noon. Winds westerly (20) today, light Friday. Little change in temperature.

GARBAGE TO BE CHECKED

Prior to Final Decision on Improving Service and Raising Rates
Following a discussion of a report from the city engineer on the garbage disposal problem, city council last night decided to have the department make a house-to-house check on garbage collections for a month before taking action on raising rates as recommended in City Engineer Howe's report.

Figures obtained during the checking period will be turned over to the city treasurer's department for comparison with present costs and revenues and a decision will be made on that basis.

The scenic seas of the "inside passage" offer a charm not outmatched in all the immensity and beauty of the rest of Canada and the United States.

There is such a seeming anomaly as having good vision, and yet being unable to see. There is, with some, possession of an inner insight that gives a true picture of a place without ever having been there.

Education Week

DEMOCRACY IN EDUCATION

(By a Teacher) "The kind of environment we place around a child will invariably react on the child." If the school prepares him for "Democratic living" it is performing its job.

The needs for democratic living are many. The Canadian Educational Council deals with the plans and curricula to make this possible but, beyond all, making them effective is the teaching profession.

Let us briefly trace a child through his school career and then take an inventory to see whether or not the school has prepared him for democracy.

The school receives our child in a group that has a great variety of individual differences. He may or may not have had experiences in getting along with others.

Now, we see him in school, where he becomes one of a group. The opportunity for his proper development exists and he finds many new things to hold his attention.

His previous training will now play an important part in his school life. He may find school interesting and a happy place to be or he may suffer from the attention his parents shower on him.

Since his attitude and position is secure school will become a happy place to be. Educational growth may be rapid and he will make friends and find good in everything.

Finally he grows into manhood. He must find his vocation in life. Is he prepared to meet this challenge? Let us now evaluate the man we have had the honor and responsibility of training.

Has the church done its share? Has the home? Has the school? Is the child capable to fit into a field of work in which he will be familiar and happy?

If we have taught the child instead of the subject so that he can measure up to this test of citizenship, surely we may proudly say: "Our child is prepared for Democratic living."

Spitfire Out: Rocket Now

By STUART UNDERHILL Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, (C)—Britain's famous Spitfire fighter, pride of the Royal Air Force in the Second World War, is becoming obsolete in a world of jet aircraft and will gradually be retired, it is reported in British flying circles.

"Spitfires are still operational and will be for some time," said an Air Ministry spokesman, "but they may be replaced by another type of aircraft."

This "other type," it is reported, is the Vickers Supermarine Attacker, a single-seat fighter fitted with a Rolls-Royce nene jet engine developing more than 5,000 horsepower.

The Attacker lacks the Spitfire's graceful lines, but has a maximum speed of 590 miles an hour, an operational ceiling of 48,500 feet and can climb 30,000 feet in 6.17 minutes.

The first Spitfire took the air in 1937 after six years of planning. Its initial speed was 362 miles an hour, which was increased to 450. Later models could climb at 4,800 feet a minute, compared with an original 2,500 feet.

Its basic design was never altered, although experiments were made with wings and engines, and it served the R. A. F. as a fighter, fighter-bomber, reconnaissance plane and aircraft carrier plane.

It cannot, however, be converted to jet engines.

Features of the Attacker are an engine set amidships and a cordite operated jack which can jump the pilot out of the aircraft in an emergency. It can cruise at 380 miles an hour for 1.6 hours or for 3.78 hours when a 270-gallon drop tank is fitted.

Its armament consists of four 20-millimetre cannon and two 1,000-pound bombs or four 300-pound rockets. The Spitfire started with eight .303 machine guns, four in each wing, then two 20-millimetre cannon and six machine guns. Later there were four cannon, then 250 and 500 pound bombs, and finally rockets.

There are hundreds of legends about the Spitfire, including the rigger who made an unintentional trip at 300 miles an hour,

LET THERE BE LIGHT

MONTREAL (C)—Window washing is a big item in this city's budget. Price of the low-bidder for the washing contract, to run April 30, 1950, was $8,550.

Its origin goes back to 1931, when a supermarine aircraft won the Schneider Trophy for speed. Experience gained in the victory went into the Spitfire through the mind of designer R. J. Mitchell, who struggled against illness to complete his task.

ENROLMENT TOTAL 1055

Considerable business was transacted at the regular sitting of the Prince Rupert School Board last night which remained in session until 11:30.

Present were Dr. R. G. Large (chairman), Bruce Brown, A. J. Dominato, Mrs. E. W. Becker, School Inspector E. Hyndman, Mr. Aleny, and Mrs. Roper, secretary.

Permission was given to the Canadian Legion to visit the schools Friday in connection with poppy distribution.

A communication from the Indian day school at Port Essington, expressing thanks for co-operation and assistance, was received.

The total school enrolment for the month was 1055.

Enrolment in Borden Street School for October was 202 with average percentage of 90.46. There had been the customary inspections, with the general school routine satisfactory.

In Booth Memorial School the general average attendance had not been so good. Enrolment was 475. Percentage attendance was 92.62. It was suggested by the principal that some students were not progressing as they might, the main reason seeming to be disinclination to work.

King Edward School enrolment was 271 with average daily 247.35. In the school fire drill, the building had been emptied in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The Conrad Street School attendance was 107.

Reports were also received from Port Simpson, Port Edward and Digby Island schools.

The architect firm of Gardiner & Thornton wrote from Vancouver, saying it was under-

The board received a written suggestion from Principal Alan Hurst, Booth School, inquiring about the desirability of utilizing some of the school rooms, in the evenings to accommodate certain local groups interested in training, and preparing for a variety of activities as the winter season comes on. This would mean a rearrangement of hours for the janitor. Before any action is taken, there will be a conference between board representatives and the janitor.

WARTIME HOUSE SALE APPROVED

City Council last night re-elected a motion passed at a regular meeting two weeks ago which objected to the sale of wartime houses on Rushbrook Heights unless Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation could guarantee the sale of half of the 88 houses before purchase agreements were entered.

The stipulation was withdrawn on motion of Alderman Youngs, who had moved the original motion, after council had been told by Mayor Arnold that she had been assured that there would be no difficulty in selling the homes and that Central Mortgage and Housing planned to sell them on a block basis, rather than as individual, scattered units.

Dodge Cove School Is Not Satisfactory

School accommodation at Dodge Cove, Digby Island, was brought to the attention of the school board last night without delay. Heating is not everything it should be and the same goes for sanitary facilities. There is exposure to the bad weather for lack of play shed, the playground is tiny and entirely unsuited and to sum it all up, it's no place for either teacher or youngster.

Doctor Addresses Nurses' Meeting

A lecture on the employment of anesthetics, given by Dr. J. P. Cade was a feature of the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Nurses' Association, held Tuesday night in the nurses' residence, Fourth Avenue. Dr. Cade's address followed a general business meeting which was attended by 18 members and was under the chairmanship of Miss Inga Jensen, association president. The evening concluded with the serving of refreshments.

THEN AND NOW IN EDUCATION

An interesting and informative part of Mayor Arnold's radio broadcast Monday evening in connection with Education Week was her reference to the progress of education in Britain a few generations ago. In 1870, for example, it was a privilege indeed for a member of a poor family to have knowledge. Such is now taken as a matter of course today by any child, no matter what the circumstances.

The Experts Say

SUGAR FREE AGAIN

The Canadian sweet tooth was neglected during the sugarless war years, but nowadays with sugar available without rationing, any housewife may be forgiven for treating her family to a good cake with a light fluffy icing. Home economists of agriculture, have come up with a seven-minute frosting which "is one of the easiest of the egg and sugar icings and goes on a cake in beautiful swirls and peaks."

Fluffy Frosting: two egg whites; one-eighth teaspoon salt; one-half cup sugar; one-half cup corn syrup; 1½ teaspoons vanilla.

Combine all ingredients except vanilla in top of double-boiler. Place over boiling water and heat with a rotary beater until mixture holds its shape. Remove from boiling water, add vanilla, and beat well. Spread bottom layer of cake with tart jam or jelly and cover with a layer of frosting. Place top layer in position and cover top and sides with frosting.

Choosing Fish—Choosing fish for the family meal often becomes a problem for the new housewife who may be at a loss to know what piece is absolutely the best for her money.

At this time when buying fish a few general rules may be sufficient guide.

When buying fresh fish choose fish with firm flesh, no strong odor, bright gills and eyes, bloom on skin or flesh (not dull). Choose thick plump fish in preference to long slender ones of the same variety for quality and economy. Substitute

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. When a girl is applying for a position, shouldn't she dress in her very best outfit?

A. She should wear clothes of conservative cut and color.

Q. What should one do, in conversation, when the person to whom he is talking persists in arguing?

A. Say pleasantly, "Let's talk about something else."

Q. When a hostess has arranged for some kind of game or entertainment, is it permissible for a guest to ask to be excused?

A. Never; it is very discourteous to do so.

Q. Where should one introduce friends when meeting them in the theatre?

A. Do not try to introduce friends in a crowded aisle. If necessary to make introductions, make them in the lobby or wait until you are seated. Even then, two persons who are seated some distance from each other should not be introduced.

Q. Is it all right for a man, in the back seat of a car with two women, to sit between them?

A. Yes.

tute cheaper varieties for more expensive where price is important. For generous servings, allow three servings to the pound for fillets and half a pound a person for whole fish.

When buying fish it's economical to purchase a pound or so extra, so that if any is left from the first meal it may not be wasted, but combined with the extra fish and used in another way for a second meal.

Keeping Fresh or Frozen Fish: Clean fish and put in cold place until cooking time. Fish may be kept cold to prevent spoilage and loss of juices and flavor.

Wrap in waxed paper to keep air from drying off cut surfaces. Cover closely when storing in the refrigerator, to prevent odors affecting other foods.

Do not thaw, if frozen, unless too stiff to work with; then just partly thaw, slowly, in a cool place and use at once. If quick thawing is necessary place the fish in cold water for a short time.

Fish Odors: Clean hands after handling raw fish by rubbing them with salt and then rinsing.

Kill cooking odors by burning orange peel, coffee, or sugar in a pan.

Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

SOMETHING HANDY AND TEMPTING AS FATHERS AND BOYS ENTERTAIN

When father has his weekly foursome of bridge or the boys bring the gang in after bowling or basketball practice they want something mighty filling.

Since they seem to enjoy these affairs better when they are strictly "stag" mother usually plans to go to a movie, leaving everything ready so they may serve themselves. Buffet style is easy as everyone serves himself. Doughnuts or chocolate cake or big ginger cookies will follow. Hot foods are most popular. If left on a glass baking dish or platter they may be slipped into the oven to be heated and served on the same dish.

Some boys call hamburgers their "favorite fruit" so they should like a version recommended by home economists.

With a hot drink, some good substantial sandwiches often fill the bill.

Toasted Deviled Hamburgers

1 lb. hamburger steak
½ cup chili sauce
1½ teaspoon prepared mustard
1½ teaspoon grated horse radish
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
6 slices bread, ½" thick
Combine all ingredients except the bread. Toast bread on one side under broiler. Spread the untoasted side of each slice with meat mixture. Return and broil for 6 minutes at least 3 inches below broiling unit. Serve hot with tomato sauce. Six servings.

Ham and Beans Sandwich Spread

2 cups baked beans
1 cup cooked ham
½ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 teaspoon horseradish
¾ teaspoon salt
Combine ingredients and blend together lightly. Yield: 3 cups.

Dilly Sandwich Filling

1 teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ cup salad dressing
1 cup sliced or diced ripe banana
2 cups shredded cabbage
½ cup chopped sweet or dill pickles
¼ teaspoon salt
Combine prepared mustard with salad dressing. Slice or dice bananas into first mixture and blend only enough to coat fruit. Mix together the cabbage, sweet or dill pickle and salt. Add the first mixture and toss together lightly. Six servings.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I get rid of roaches?

A. Sprinkle around the haunts of roaches and waterbugs a mixture of two parts of boric acid with one part of powdered sugar. It will act as a poison to them.

Q. How can I clean marble and granite statues?

A. Use soap and water. If badly stained, you will find that pumice stone is satisfactory.

Q. How can I impart the real flavor of the fruit when making applesauce or cranberry sauce?

A. The real flavor of the fruit will be emphasized if a pinch of salt is added to it.

Q. How can I prevent bottles of poison from being handled by mistake?

A. Buy several small bells at the toy store, or take them out of old toys and rattles, and fasten one to the neck of each bottle containing poison, to serve as a warning, even in the dark, when the bottle is picked up. Poisons should never be left within the reach of children.

Q. How can I remove a scorched taste in food?

A. When fruit or food has become scorched or burned, drop a small piece of charcoal into the vessel immediately and the scorched taste will disappear.

Q. How can I relieve the pain of a sore corn?

A. Touching it with a little oil of peppermint often gives relief.

BABY'S COLDS

Help Nature To Fight Them Off

Medical Science denies there is any such thing as a cure for colds—only Nature herself can do it. So when baby's snuffles, or stuffy breathing warn you of a cold's presence—cooperate at once with Nature. See that baby is kept warm, gets plenty of sleep and take extra care that the bowels are thoroughly cleared of harmful wastes. To do this without upsetting baby's whole system and further weakening it, try Baby's Own Tablets. Mild, yet act promptly in getting rid of the irritating materials that make baby restless and feverish. Mrs. George McBride of Scarborough says: "My baby of 26 months caught a nasty cold so I tried Baby's Own Tablets and she threw this cold off quicker than ever before. I certainly am for Baby's Own Tablets from now on." Effective also in teaching troubles, constipation and other simple baby ailments. 25¢.

MIDDLE AGE SUFFERINGS

Male Hormone Testosterone Not Very Helpful

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
ST. LOUIS, (AP)—The male hormone testosterone is not much help to most men suffering from mental depression and fatigue in middle age, studies at the Washington University school of medicine indicate.

The studies were made under direction of Dr. Edwin F. Gildae, professor of psychiatry, in an investigation of the so-called change of life in men.

This change of life in men does occur, but is rare, Dr. Gildae said. When men do undergo it, their bodies produce less testosterone. In such cases, they usually are helped by doses of the hormone, he added.

But quite a few men reaching middle age suddenly begin to feel despondent and tired, and these feelings may last for a few months to three years. The studies here showed that there was not any lack of production of testosterone by their bodies, Dr. Gildae reported.

Why the mental depressions occur was an unsolved problem, but there was no indication that it was due to change of life. The states of mental depression tended to run their course, ending in recovery in due time, whether or not the men were given testosterone. Most men with such complaints had had similar attacks earlier in life. Extroverts and unusually active persons were more likely to develop these conditions.

RAILWAY CHANGES—The retirement of Walter C. Owens, formerly general manager of the Western Region, Canadian National Railways, is announced by W. R. Devenish, vice-president. Mr. Owens finishes his railway career with close to half a century of service. Succeeding Mr. Owens will be Howard H. Sparling, formerly assistant general manager. Two further appointments are those of J. R. McMillan, formerly superintendent of the Edmonton division who becomes assistant to the general manager, and J. J. Behan, formerly superintendent of car service, who becomes assistant general superintendent of transportation.

Women suffer mental depressions three to four times as frequently as men and most of their attacks occur before or after the menopause, Dr. Gildae said. He declared that the importance of the menopause in causing mental depression had been grossly exaggerated. ELECTRIC SHOCK FOR MENTAL DEPRESSION

The most effective treatment for mental depression in men and women was electric shock therapy. Why shock works was not clear. Some cases of despondency due to extreme grief over loss of a loved person did not respond so well to shock therapy. Also, certain neurotic conditions which are not helped by shock might be confused with mental depressions.

Electric shock therapy should be given only after psychiatric study indicates that the patient will be helped by this type of treatment, he said.

The shocks were transmitted through the brain for a few 10ths of a second, with just enough given to produce unconsciousness and a mild convulsion. Up to 12 to 20 treatments were given, and most patients began to show improvement after the third to fourth shock.

UNPREJUDICED AWARD WINNIPEG—The Winnipeg school board has upheld award of a $5100 scholarship to a Japanese-Canadian pupil, despite objections of one trustee who said the boy's parents had returned to Japan and his education should not be the responsibility of Winnipeg taxpayers.

Religion In House

LONDON — Religious exercises of the House of Commons, for press and public, are represented by the dignified picture of Rev. Prebendary Christopher Cheshire in churchly robes backing off the House floor with sundry bows to the Speaker, Col. Douglas Clifton Brown.

The United Kingdom parliament, like the Canadian, has its daily prayers in private with the Commons doors made fast as soon as the procession of the Speaker, sergeant-at-arms bearing the mace, train-bearer and chaplain has entered.

Prebendary Cheshire, as Speaker's chaplain, performs a daily duty unchanged in nearly 300 years. He reads the ancient prayer before the Speaker, takes the chair and the day's tasks begin.

Commons members, who had heard the traditional words spoken for years, recently became interested in their origin. When parliament was young, the Litany was read daily by the clerk kneeling and answered by House members on their knees. Changes came with the reformation but Commons guide books did not reveal the author of the prayer now used which was assumed to date from about 1600.

Recent inquiries revealed that it was written by a layman, Sir Christopher Yelverton, elected to parliament in 1562 and later made Speaker. He presided over a parliament which took office in 1597 and held power for only two months, long enough to establish the prayer as a Commons tradition.

The prayer appeals to God, "by whom alone kings reign and princes decree justice," and beseeches wisdom for "thine unworthy servants gathered here together."

It continues: "and that, we having thy fear always before our eyes, and laying aside all private interests and partial affections, the result of our counsels may be to the glory of thy blessed name, the maintenance of true religion and justice, the safety, honor and happiness of the king, the public wealth, peace and tranquility of the realm, and the uniting and knitting together of the hearts of all persons and estates within the same, in true christian love and charity one towards another."

OPEN HOUSE AT KING EDWARD

School in Action Seen by Education Week Visitors

On Wednesday in observance of Educational Week, open house was held in King Edward School. Over 150 parents, guests and visitors came to see a school in action. From grade I room up to the grade VI rooms intense interest was shown in the studies being taken and the work displayed. Discussions were held between teacher and parent as to child progress.

In Division 6, Mrs. Kullander's room of grade ones went through singing, reading and art work based on reading. Her room was tastefully arranged to show Hallowe'en art.

Miss Spence in Division 7, a mixed grade one and two, were doing a writing lesson which was followed by cutting and coloring stand-up pictures. On her display boards was some excellent printing work and her room with Hallowe'en art was pleasing.

Miss Sweeney's Grade II was doing poem illustrative work. On her board was a pumpkin device used for stimulating games and work. Her display boards gave some excellent pupil work on art and everyday subjects.

In Miss Hart's room the library corner brought many compliments. Her room showed the work of an Indian project. Spelling and reading lessons were held.

Miss MacBeath's grade IV was having lessons in language and reading. An interesting travel project was under way. Methods of communication and actual means of travel were shown in miniature form.

Parents who visited Miss Moxley's room say lessons in social studies and art. Her boards showed the work being done in social studies of North America. Remembrance Day art was especially interesting.

In the grade VI rooms of Mr. Moore and Mr. Goscoe parents say interesting library corners with display boards showing excellent pictures illustrating social studies and science. On the mural boards were pictures of art of Hallowe'en, country scenes, Remembrance Day art and samples of pupil's work in various subjects. One room was doing art for the school item in the Civic Centre on Friday. Some parents expressed surprise at the excellent work done. In the other social studies was being held.

After school even pupils visited rooms to see what others

The three-year domination of St. Michael's College Majors in Eastern Canada junior hockey has finally come to an end, leaving the race wide open for Memorial Cup bids from the rest of the 46-odd junior puck teams in the East. The high-flying St. Mike's who won the Memorial Cup twice in the last three years are a team of the past with all but one of last year's squad having graduated to senior and professional ranks. As for this year's version of the Majors, early season showings make it evident that Coach Joe Primeau will have to use all his cunning to mold another winner.

The strong Quebec junior league has expanded to 10 teams this year with Montreal Nationals as the likely cup contender. The Junior Canadiens last year's Q.A.H.A. winners, are without several of their stars who moved into senior company. Aside from six teams from the Montreal district, the junior loop now includes six clubs from Valleyfield, Quebec City, Granby and Three Rivers.

Another 10-team loop has developed in the Ottawa district with Ottawa St. Pats still appearing as the strong squad of the league. Other strong clubs are Montagnards, Hull Volants and Ottawa Senator Juniors, with the balance of the league made up of Shawville, Pembroke, Renfrew, Arnprior, Carleton Place and Ottawa St. John Baptiste.

In the Maritimes, Halifax St. Mary's, the surprise package of last year, appears to have another formidable outfit. Competition will be strongest from the Sydney Sunbeams, experts say.

In northern Ontario the outlook so far as cup play is not good. The Northern Ontario Hockey Association says that teams in their area have been "bled white" by professional clubs. Porcupine Combines, last year's champions, Copper Cliff Redmen and Falconbridge Falcons are the only entries in the loop.

An atmosphere of crisis hung about the Millhouse council school rugby team, Huddersfield, when the headmaster ruled out Monday afternoon practice games as a disciplinary measure. The kids replied with: "no Monday games, no play on Saturday" and school authorities sat back to await developments with the observation: "Naturally, we'll have the last word." The crisis blew over within 48 hours. The youngster who swiped the headmaster's cane returned it intact and now there's Monday rugby.

There were two good reasons for cancellation of a heavy-weight wrestling match at Wembley Stadium between British Champion Fred Oberlander and Gaston Fay, his French counterpart. Eight hours before the contest Oberlander slipped and fell while getting out of his bath and broke a rib. About the same time Fay was seriously injured in a Paris car smash.

A race at Hawthorn Hill, just outside London, was run in two sections because of insufficient lead weights. The race had sixteen entries, but when the lock-ers crowded into the weighing-room it was discovered there were only enough "leads" for 12 of them. An inquiry was held and stewards decided to run the event—the Hawthorn Hill trial hurdle—in two divisions of eight runners.

CONSTRUCTION UNION SIGNS WORKING PACT

Covering wage levels and hours of work, an agreement was signed this morning between representatives of Northwest Construction Co. local contracting firm, and the recently organized Prince Rupert local of the Construction and General Laborers Union.

The pact is the first to be entered by the local union with any company in Prince Rupert, and establish wage and working conditions similar to those negotiated by the Vancouver local with southern construction firms.

Signatures on the agreement were those of Nell Kingston, local manager of Northwest Construction Co. and William James, of Vancouver, consultant-conciliator for the union. Mr. James was instrumental in organizing the union last September.

The agreement calls for a normal 40-hour week—except where it is especially required to work Saturday morning, when 44 hours shall constitute a week's work. Overtime rates begin after 44 hours.

Hourly wage scales are as follows: common labor, 90 cents; general building, concrete and cement laborers, $1; jackhammer and breaker men, $1.15; powder men, $1.30; rock foremen, $1.40.

The wage scales and working conditions are similar to those which employees of B.C. Bridge and Dredging Co. at Watson Island have with the Vancouver local of the union.

KINSMEN BUSY ON T.B. SEALS

Harry Sheardown Speaks on Kin Ideals at Semi-Monthly Meeting

Seals were on the receiving end of a good deal of energy last night when Pierre LeRoss, chairman of the Kinsmen tuberculosis seal committee, enlisted the aid of all members present at the regular Kinsmen dinner meeting in the task of reading 2400 seal-containing letters for mailing.

Following dinner in the Civic Centre dining room the 16 members present and ex-Kinsman Orville Moscrip, a former charter member of the New Westminster club, who attended the meeting as a guest of Carson Wallace, retired to the Ladies' lounge to work on the T.B. seals and to conduct the business of the evening.

Harry Sheardown, called on by President R. G. Moore to address the club on the subject of qualities desired in a Kinsmen candidate, stressed several points a prospective member should be judged on. He should be the type of man that will cooperate with other members and the people he may have to deal with while carrying out club projects. He should be willing to work hard to live up to the club's aims and ideals. The speaker felt that it was also important to know whether a candidate had sufficient spare time to assume the obligations required of a member.

Reporting on the shell-out ticket campaign, Jack McRae stated that, while gross sales were less this year than last, the net gain was up $40. He pointed out that this was due to reduction in expenses.

Capt. Hoopes K. Freeman appeared in police court before Magistrate McClymont on a charge of obstructing a police officer. The charge arose out of Capt. Freeman's armed protest against the workings of the Customs office when he posted himself at the door with a rifle and the entertainment committee, said that contestants in the Kinsmen amateur night would be limited to those between the ages of 6 and 18 years, thus making it a show entirely for the youngsters.

MOVIE PARTY FOR CHILDREN

As a Christmas treat to the kiddies this year the Kinsmen will sponsor a free movie party at the Civic Centre. President Moore, who suggested this form of entertainment, received the full support of the club on the question.

A report by Bert Haugen, Kinsmen representative to the Civic Centre, touched off a discussion on the effectiveness of presenting constructive suggestions to the board of directors through the club representative. The members approved a motion asking that more supervised recreation be arranged in the Civic Centre for children between the ages of 6 and 12 years.

A new office was created in the club when Pierre LeRoss was appointed to the position of property man. Charles Collins was appointed to represent the club at the National Film Board council; Wes Manning and Harry Seaman were named to assist Alex Baillie, editor of the Kin Bulletin.

forbade the officers to enter.

Registration of voters for the civic elections closed with 108 new homes added, as compared with 207 the previous year. The large increase in voters during the last two years was taken by City Clerk Woods as indicating an increase of interest in civic affairs.

Communism Seen as Continuing Menace to Europe's Restoration

Bishop Jordan Fears For Italy and France—Tells Gyros of Impressions After European Tour

Enormous difficulties in the restoration of Italy and France following the war ravaging by Nazi Germany were being made the more acute by the influence of communism which worked not for the good of a country but for the promotion of an ideology, declared Bishop Anthony Jordan, O.M.I., in speaking words and actions were tending to give men hope and to renew their faith in the old beliefs. In conversation, the Holy Father himself had told the local Bishop of his constant anxiety over conditions in his own country of Italy, extolling the people of Canada and the United States for what they were doing in a humanitarian way. One of the outstanding impressions of his trip abroad, asserted the Bishop, had been the great name which this country had, the praise and esteem he had seen manifested on every hand when he said with pride that he hailed from Canada. Gyro President C. G. Ham presided over the meeting which was well attended by Gyros with guests in the persons of Mayor Nora Arnold, R. E. Moore, Jack Sauriol Kelowna, Al Mather (Penticton), S. E. McCrea (Vancouver), and Orville Moscrip (Vancouver).

There was still a danger, Bishop Jordan feared, of communism gaining the ascendancy in Italy "because the ordinary man in that country is not aware of what communism means or what has happened in other countries where communists have taken over." As for France, it was, unfortunately, even further along the road of communism with which it had been dilly-dallying since 1937 until now the public morale was shaken and the depressed and pessimistic people had lost confidence in almost everything. However, events of the past few weeks indicated that the country might turn, in spite of his faults and mistakes, to General Charles DeGaulle to lead them to better days.

Speaking of Spain, the Bishop said he had gone to that country full of question marks in regard to the Franco regime and had come away still with questions in his mind. The people of Spain, he found, however, were better clad, better fed and happier than in many other European countries. They might not be satisfied with the Franco regime and its rigid discipline but Spain, having had a taste of communism, seemed agreed that it would make any sacrifice to prevent that doctrine getting hold of the country again. However, it was to be hoped that, as time went on, the Franco regime might be liberalized.

STRAIN OF WAR LEAVES ITS MARKS

In the countries in which he had travelled deprivation, strain, anxiety and semi-starvation had left their marks upon the people. The people of Britain seemed to be standing up better, however, than those of other countries. Better disciplined, Britons still retained their power of endurance, their ability to laugh and, above all, the insuperable hope that everything would turn out well in the end. One of the difficulties in Britain, however, was that the wholesome attitude toward hard work had been vitiated if not destroyed. Much harm, he felt, had been done through the workman accepting the philosophy that he should work fewer hours and take more time for play. In that attitude lay peril for the person and for the nation.

There was another Europe, however, which was trying to carry on with culture and religious practices which were a stabilizing and humanizing influence. Here the Bishop paid tribute to the Pope as being one of the most powerful stabilizing factors in the world today. His
