Tariff Reductions Are Agreed Upon; New Deal With Canada Made Too

Wilson also announced to the House that the United Kingdom had negotiated tariff agreements with fifteen countries, including Canada. Most of the new agreements are for a period of three years with provision for renewal at the end of that time.

TOO MUCH FISH NOW

OTTAWA (CP)—The Atlantic fishing industry is able to make offers totalling only about $815,000 to date on over $3,000,000 available for east coast canned and pickled fish under Canada's post-UNRRA relief feeding program abroad and the close-off date for purchases has been extended, it was announced Monday night.

A fisheries department official said that production of the west coast fishing industry was now in full swing with every prospect of a 4,680,000 canned herring order being filled. No mention has been made that prices will be paid for fish on either coast.

HIGHWAY PER CAPITA HIGH

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia has the highest per capita expenditure on highways of any province in the Dominion. Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, said Monday night in a radio address.

Mr. Carson also issued an appeal to all motorists to exercise caution on highways to halt the appalling increase in highway accidents.

The minister said that phases of road improvement during the last three years had cost an amount equal to the total estimated revenue from all sources in the 1946-47 fiscal year. The government was expending on the road system for all purposes more than it had collected from all sources of motorist and highway traffic revenues.

SEARCH IS KEEPING UP

New Clue Reported in Case of R.C.A.F. Bomber in Southern Interior

EDMONTON, Ont.—Northwest Air Command, Royal Canadian Air Force, announced today that three Dakota aircraft are now enroute from Rockcliffe to Pen-ticton to take part in the search for a plane missing on a flight from Calgary to Penticton for nearly two weeks. It is said the search for the R.C.A.F. craft had not been reduced.

Yesterday a farmer in the Blueberry area near Trail, British Columbia, advised the authorities that on the night of October 18 he heard the sound of what he thought was an aircraft engine cutting out, followed by the tearing of timber and a crash. R.C.A.F. search planes will reconnoitre that area.

CONSERVATIVES GETTING READY

Are Losing No Time About Getting in Running Again

OTTAWA, Ont.—Progressive-Conservative members, some of them confident the next general election will come not later than the fall of next year, plan to lose no time in letting it be known that they will be in the running again whenever the balloting day is fixed.

This is particularly true in constituencies affected by the redistribution bill passed at the last session of Parliament. The bill, while increasing over-all representation from 245 to 255 members, reduced the representation of some provinces and changed the boundaries of some existing constituencies.

For instance, John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, saw his present Neepawa riding in Manitoba merged with the constituency of Portage La Prairie.

Mr. Bracken plans to stand for nomination at the convention in Brandon November 18. He is expected to carry the convention easily and undertake to stand as party candidate in the Brandon constituency in the next federal election. The seat now is represented by J. E. Matthews, a Liberal.

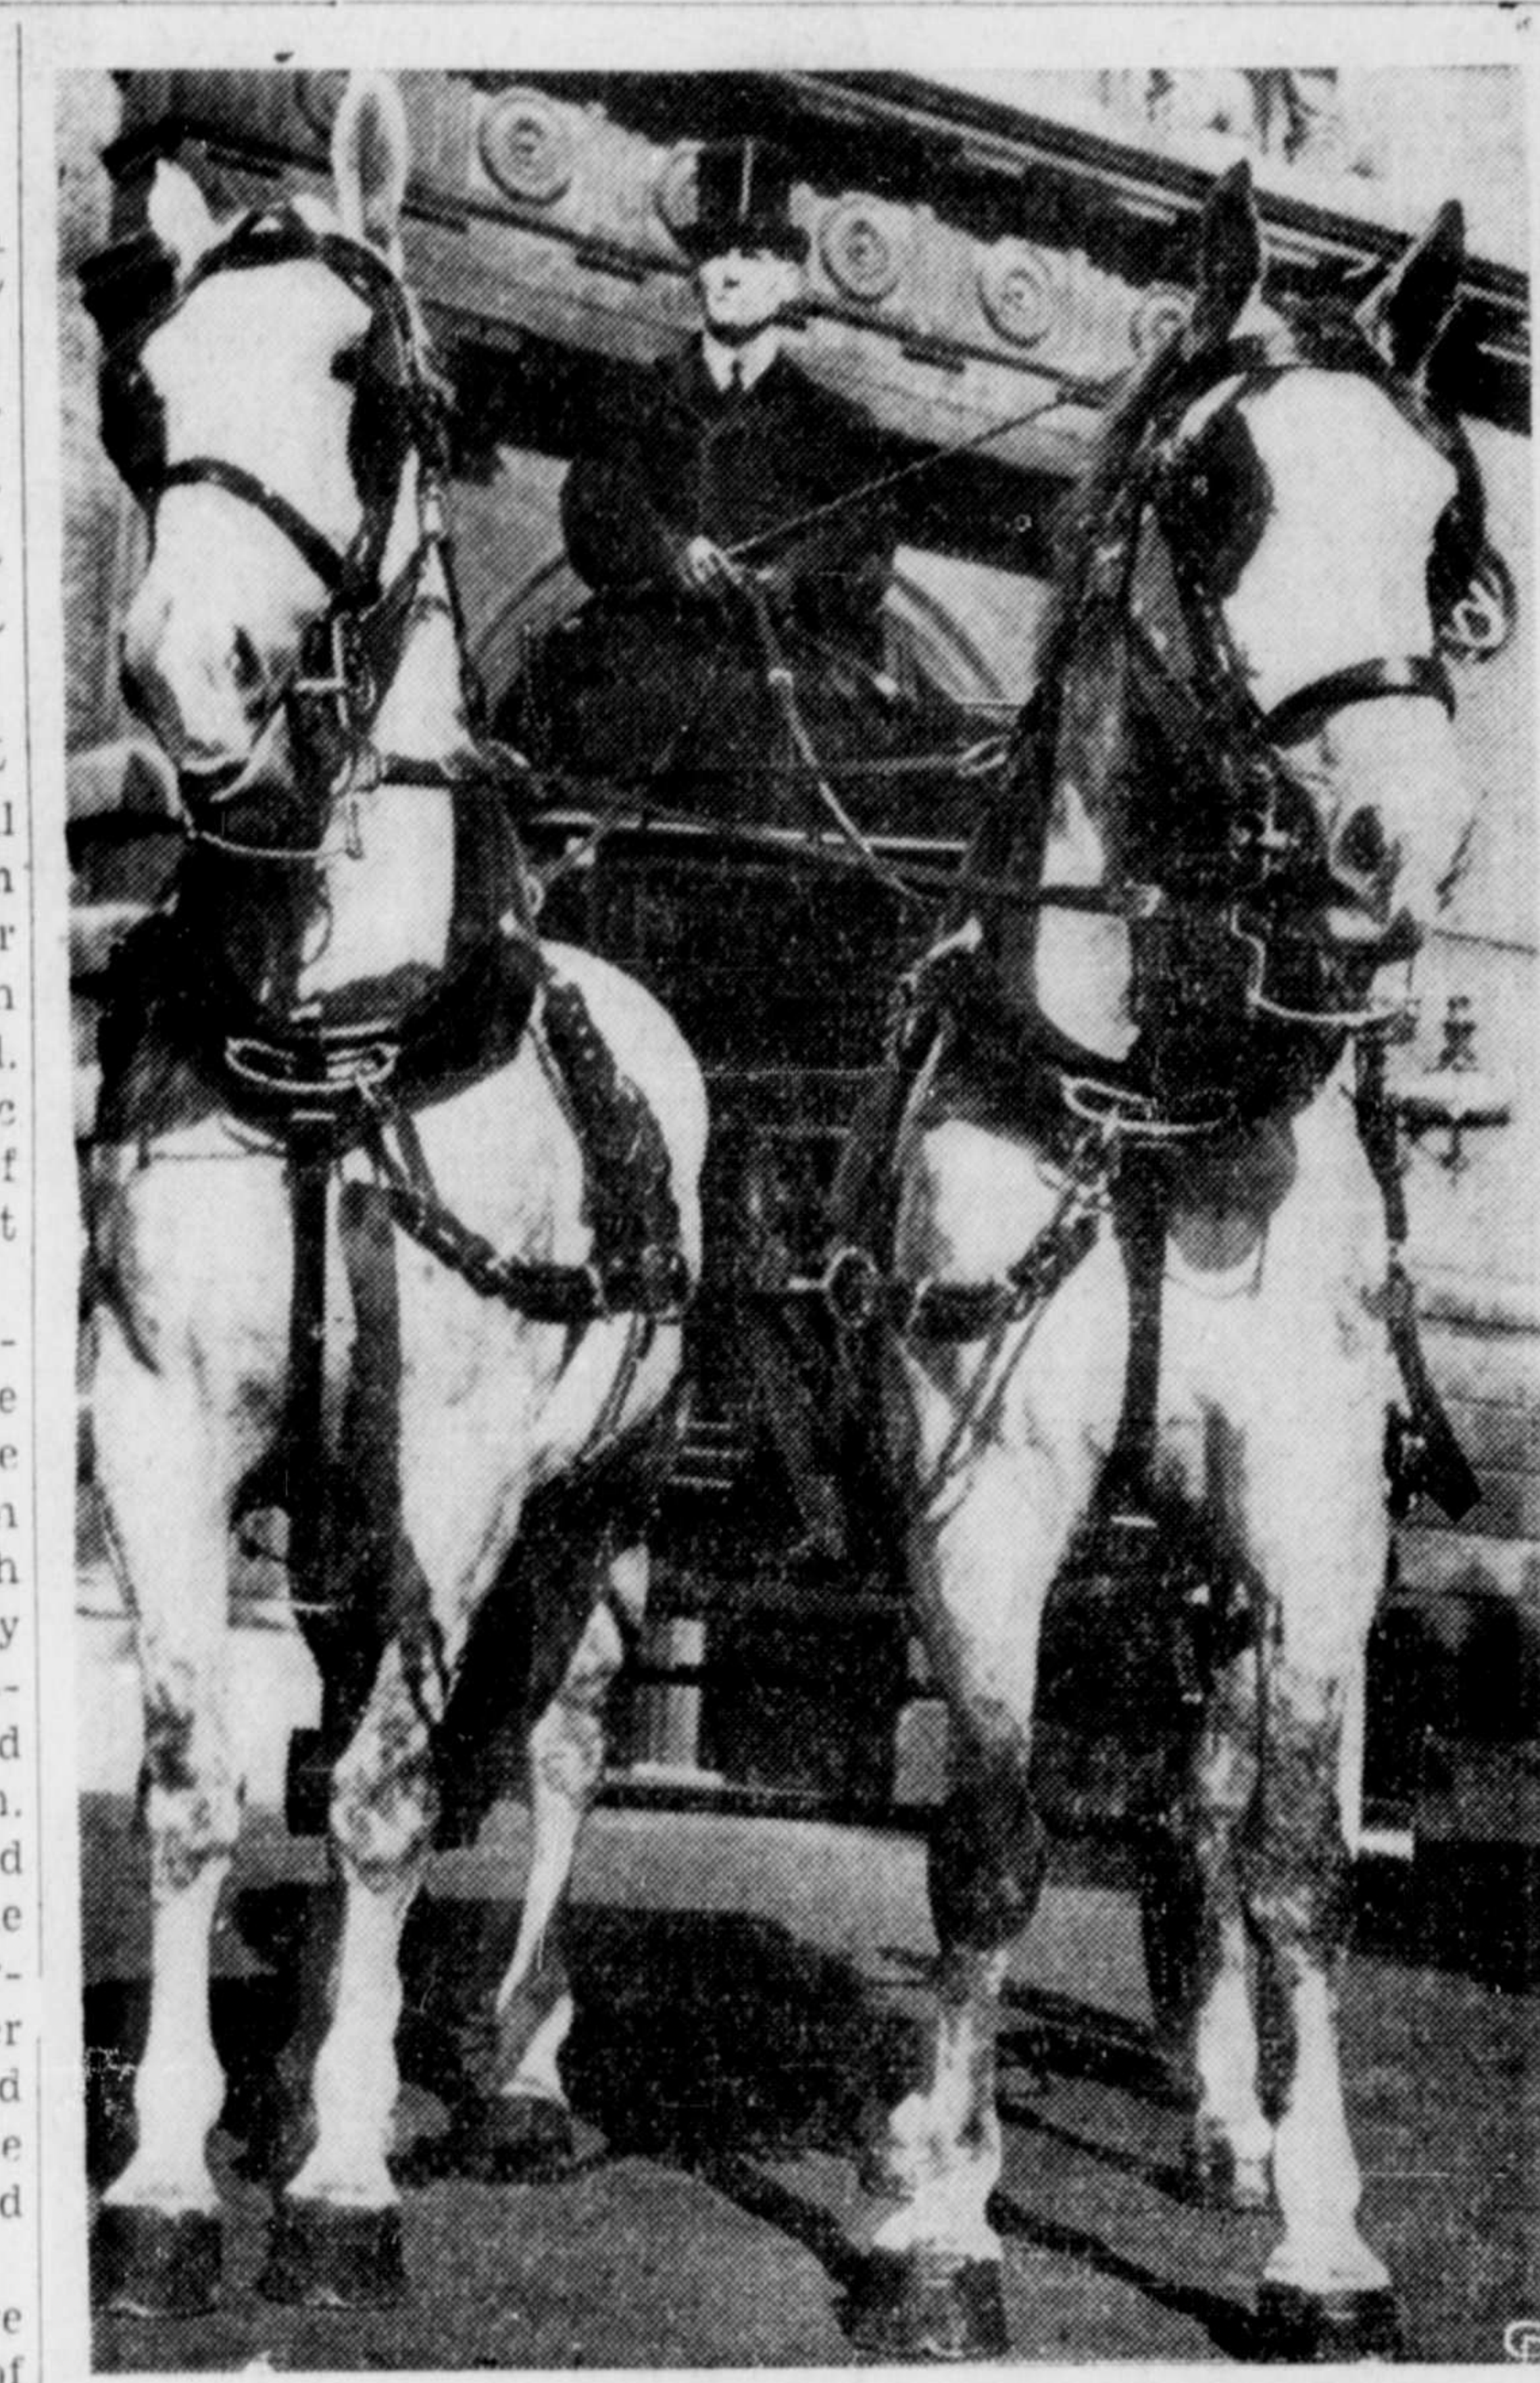

J. M. Macdonnell, president of the Dominion Progressive Conservative Association, also saw his seat disappear in the reshuffling of boundaries of constituencies in Ontario, but last week he was nominated to represent a new riding.

C. C. Miller, Progressive Conservative member for Portage La Prairie, will go before a convention at Carberry tomorrow to seek nomination as the party representative for the combined seat of Portage-Neepawa in the next election.

Another nomination convention will be held November 1 at Penticton, B.C., to choose a successor for Hon. Grote Stirling, who resigned recently as Progressive Conservative member for Yale because of ill-health. The candidate chosen will stand as party representative if a by-election is held before the general election.

CITY RELIEF DISBURSEMENT SHARE APPLIED AGAINST SINKING FUND

Money received from the provincial government as reimbursement for a portion of the city's unemployment relief payments during the 1930's will be used to write off bonds floated for relief purposes during that period and the balance applied toward the city's sinking fund, council decided last night.

Give Food Parcels for Elizabeth Wedding Gift

Princess Elizabeth's wedding gift to Prince Rupert in the form of food contributions to the British Isles and will be directed by a committee which already has $100 donated last night by the city council.

The details of the fund structure have not yet been completed, the fund will be open to contributions from the citizens and will be under direction of a committee which will be chosen by Mayor Arnold. Mayor Arnold chose the civic finance committee as part of the administrative group last night.

In deciding to send food parcels to the British people, Prince Rupert is following an example set by many other Canadian cities, notably Toronto, which originated the scheme. City Clerk H. D. Thain was instructed to write to Toronto and learn the mechanics of the plan.

Council last night authorized the plan to be known as the Mayor's Fund and Mayor Arnold intimated that a number of citizens would be appointed by her to sit with civic finance committee members on the fund committee.

The idea was brought before council with the presentation of a letter from a Vancouver jewelry firm which stated that the company had an assortment of silverware which would make suitable gifts for the royal bride.

Mayor Arnold suggested that Prince Rupert follow Victoria's example of sending food parcels for the people of Britain, rather than an individual gift to the Princess herself.

HUMANITARIAN GIFT FAVORED

Alderman Youngs, chairman of the finance committee, declared that it would be a good idea to send some humanitarian gift "rather than something which the Princess probably has too much of already."

Alderman Youngs moved that the city establish a fund to be raised by donations from the citizens, and that the city start the thing off with a contribution of $100. The motion was passed unanimously.

Various schemes for the distribution of the food parcels were discussed, resulting in the aldermen deciding to write to the Royal Household for suggestions regarding distribution and possibly getting names of people in Britain who have never received a food parcel from overseas.

Alderman Rudderham suggested that C.A.R.E. parcels, which are distributed in Europe by a co-operative organization, be used and this suggestion met with approval of Aldermen Brooksbank and Black. Mayor Arnold told council that the city of Victoria had received a distribution list from the Marchioness of Reading and that parcels were being mailed directly to the recipients from Victoria.

Included in each parcel sent from Prince Rupert will be a card explaining its origin and that it is part of Princess Elizabeth's wedding gift.

BRUSSELS (CP)—Brussels University announced yesterday that Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada will be awarded an honorary degree November 10 while in Europe to attend the wedding of Princess Elizabeth. He will also visit other western European countries during his tour.

Beef Business

LIKE ANY BUSINESS, there are points about cattle raising and marketing that, unless you follow it, are missed, in giving any consideration to the subject.

Right now, beef is a timely topic. We talk about the cost of living, alleged profits, charges, and all that. Beef is an important item. It's the good old backlog of solid, dependable nourishment but a lot of us, in discussing the situation, do so with rather limited knowledge.

Waldo Kane, who seems to be qualified to say a few words, states that today, a steer raised in B.C. is sold by the rancher at a figure around 13 to 14 cents. A steak, from that carcass, sold in the butcher shop is bought at say 50c a pound.

Undoubtedly, there is a spread, but get this! The cattleman is paid live weight and there is only 60 per cent edible meat in the animal sold. There is freight to be paid from shipping point to destination—along with holding charges at the stock yards, abattoir fees, wholesalers and middleman's overhead, as well as plenty more incidentals, all of which mount up. It may not be all velvet even if the consumer has to pay all the shot.

UNITY

INTERMINGLING, one with the other can be thought of as a first step toward attainment of the unity that today is being so earnestly urged. It can be cultivated, even in a small way, to begin with. For only through actual association does it become possible to form an opinion of someone else. Not infrequently revision is needed. People are so often misjudged. There may be faulty relationship among kinsfolk. In a wider sense the same may be true of communities, and in a still broader meaning it becomes international. Yet unity, building on a large or small scale or helping to be the means of getting people to really know and understand each other, bristles with difficulty. It is easier to talk of unity than to achieve it.

LETTERBOX

"COW BAY" EXPLAINED

Editor, Daily News:

"W. J." posed a query in last night's article of his interesting column "Reminiscences and Reflections" which, I believe, could be answered by a very good friend of his, Alderman Robert MacKay. The query was "How did Cow Bay get its name?"

According to Mr. MacKay a chap named Tommy—last name forgotten—brought two cows to the city back in 1908 and the only place the bovine cargo could be unloaded from the scow was at the little cove east of the government wharf.

Subsequently the cows were housed close by in a barn which, according to my own records, was torn down only a few years ago. The animals remained there for several years before being taken out Park Avenue way by a Mr. Schaeffer who had purchased them from Mr. Braun of Terrace, successor to the original "Tommy."

The landing of the two cows and their residence of several years was believed to be responsible for the naming of that area, Cow Bay, the location of our first dairy.

BRUCE STEVENS.

ALDERMEN PUT "WINDFALL" INTO GENERAL FUND

A "windfall" of $2,000 which resulted from a patriotic gesture by three local men was turned over to the city's general revenue fund last night when city council decided that a grant from the federal government in lieu of taxation for the armories should be merged with other taxation funds.

The city received notice of transfer last July, after the trustees of the formerly private-owned armories, Col. S. D. Johnston, Col. C. V. Ewitt and J. T. Harvey, turned the building over to the Department of National Defence with stipulation that any payment be made to the city.

Reason that the money was given to the city, Col. Johnston said at the time of the transfer, was "as compensation for what the city lost in taxation in giving up adjoining lots to the military in 1940."

The aldermen joined in discussing what should be done with the money, finally adopting a motion by Alderman Black that, since it was given to the city in lieu of taxes, it should properly go toward general revenue, just as other taxation receipts.

Council, he said, had several contingencies to meet which had not been budgeted—such as repairing the fire hall and re-wiring the city hall—and the money might be used in that way.

Alderman Brooksbank moved that the money be used to beautify the park area at the corner of McBride and Sixth Avenue but his motion was defeated in favor of Alderman Black's.

Episode of Thrift Gives Local Merchant Change

A local merchant this week found himself short of loose change which is a source of some inconvenience in retail trade.

While he was contemplating the cash register, a lady with three children entered, said she wished to make a purchase and asked if he would mind accepting a few dollars in silver. This was precisely what he had been hoping for. Would he? He certainly would.

"You see," said the buyer, "the children have been saving until their little banks became full. Each saved $5, and they are so proud of it. In fact, we all are."

The merchant sold what was desired, took the silver currency, congratulated his customers and gave some of the cash back to the youngsters by way of encouraging them to further cultivate the saving habit while still in their youth. And each was surprised and tickled.

SEEK EQUITABLE FUNERAL COSTS

The city is seeking to obtain information from Kamloops and Nanaimo on the cost of burying indigent persons whose funerals are the city's responsibility. The question arose in council last night following a request from B.C. Undertakers for an increase of from $45 to $80 for such funerals.

The aldermen agreed that $60 plus a free plot at the cemetery would be a fair price, a figure which was considered too low by the undertaking company.

Alderman Casey charged that, in the past, indigent persons have been buried without a rough box and took strong exception to the procedure. Council will try to solve the problem by getting advice from the two southern cities.

IS AIMING TO WIN CUP AGAIN

Yvonne Neilson Shellout Cup Winner Last Year

Yvonne Neilson is out for 1947 shellout honors. She is a nicely spoken blue-eyed blonde with money in the bank. Although she is busy entering her teens Yvonne Neilson already has a mark of success about her. There is nothing indefinite about her plans for the future. She is going to be a stenographer.

This inclination towards a business career, combined with a generous portion of personality and hard work, is part of the reason Yvonne has money in the bank. Last year while in Mr. Cheeseman's grade five class at Borden Street school, Yvonne won $15 and a silver cup as first prize in the Kinsmen Shell-out selling contest conducted among the public school students of Prince Rupert.

Yvonne is in Mr. Moore's class at King Edward school this year and is working as hard for her new school as she did for Borden Street school last year. During the 1946 contest she was living downtown and was able to spend all her spare time selling tickets in the business section, the apartment houses and the boats. Now living near Seal Cove, she finds it more difficult to contact buyers but is hopeful that she will be able to win the silver cup again this year.

TERRACE CIVIC CENTRE ACTIVE

TERRACE—At a meeting of the executive of the Civic Centre Association held on Monday at a luncheon, it was announced by the president that the bank loan of $2,000 had been approved and immediate plans of improvement at the Civic Centre could now be carried out.
The motor for one of the furnaces was ready to be installed and a second motor for the other furnace had been purchased so that the whole building could be heated on special occasions. In the meantime however, the bowling alleys, badminton courts club room and wash rooms are being satisfactorily heated by oil heaters.

On recommendation of Director Alf Yoxall, 36 pairs of bowling shoes are to be purchased for renting to the patrons of the bowling alleys, as the floors are being damaged by the heavy shoes of some of the bowlers. A strict rule will be enforced, that no one can go on the Alleys without the proper shoes.
Mr. Yoxall asked for leave of absence from December 20th to January 4 and, if it is decided to keep the Centre open while he is away, he will provide a substitute director.

It is hoped that the membership roles will be increased as Director Alf Yoxall has prepared a good program of sports has recreations for the winter for which many supporters are needed. The organizations in town are being asked to pay their membership dues as quickly as possible, as, up to date, not one has done so. Before the meeting broke up, Mr. Little announced that donations of used furniture are being asked for the club room. A general meeting will be called in the near future.

C.C.F. LEADER AT TERRACE

TERRACE—There was a large crowd at the Terrace Theatre on Sunday evening to hear an address by Mr. M. J. Coldwell, National Leader of the C.C.F. party. With Mr. Coldwell on the platform were W. H. Brett, M.L.A. for Prince Rupert, H. G. Archibald, M.P. for Skeena and Floyd Frank who introduced each speaker to the audience.

Mr. Brett and Mr. Archibald spoke very briefly but Mr. Coldwell kept the interest of his listeners for an hour and a half after which he answered questions asked of him.

The theme of Mr. Coldwell's speech was the opportunities for young men in the country as well as for those brought into the country. He spoke of the emigration of young immigrants to the United States where the prospects are brighter. He deplored the exploitation of the natural resources of the country and declared that there would be no peace in a world where sections of the people were underfed and starving.

Mr. Coldwell's address was interspersed with anecdotes of the U.N. Assembly at San Francisco at which he was one of Canada's representatives.

During the question period Mr. Coldwell explained the difference between Nationalization and Socialization of Industry.

Mr. Archibald answered questions put forward by Mr. Adam, a native of the Queen Charlotte Islands, and said that the C.C.F. party was doing all in its power to have the Indian schools under state control and not under the churches; to give the vote to the Indians and to have better

NEW GYM IS "IDEAL" FOR REC CLASSES

"Ideal for the purpose" is the reaction of Rup Rec Assistant Director Margaret Slinn to the new gymnasium which she put to its first use Monday night with her ladies "keep fit" class in which 20 women labored happily and diligently in a group effort for that youthful feeling and figure.

"It looked so nice it seemed a pity to use it," she added, referring to the highly varnished maple floor which gleamed after its final application of varnish a few days before. "But we really found it an ideal place for our classes."

Program of the class, which is held on Monday and Friday evenings, includes folk dancing, square dancing, fundamental gymnastics, keep fit exercises

The new gym was used for the second time by Miss Slinn on Tuesday afternoon when she led a class of 35 Rup Rec junior girls.

Incidentally, next Friday night's ladies' keep fit class has been cancelled by popular vote among the ladies because of Halloween night and the Gyro Hoedown which will take place in the auditorium that night.

SHORT SPORT

English Football Association referees must not blow their whistles for "purely sentimental reasons" and, by jove, they had better watch their peas and no pun intended. Item 56 of the F.A.'s latest bulletin reminds the refs that their whistles must be heard above the crowd's roar. It adds: "The life of a whistle is not determined by the condition of the outer casing but by the more rapid deterioration of the pea." Presumably this discovery follows years of scientific research on the part of F.A. experts and it's a pity they did not give the refs advice on how to get a new pea into an old whistle.

The F.A. item also leads with a neat piece of ambiguity. "Use of a whistle for purely sentimental reasons should be avoided." That's all the ruling association had to say about this but probably it's aimed at those sentimentalists who use the dear old whistle of their big game in 1930 in the belief it will bring them luck. The Association, in all its wisdom, has left a major problem unsolved: what to do with the humorist who brings his own whistle, particularly when his and the referee's are as alike as two underdeteriorated peas.

Constable William McLatchie of the local R.C.M.P. detachment returned on the Prince Rupert this morning from a trip to Vancouver.

Wrangell— Hoping For Better Days

In Doldrums Now With Its
Big Sawmill in Receivership

WRANGELL—On her farewell voyage in the Prince Rupert-Alaska service, the Briggs Steamship Co.'s motorship Southeastern was at Wrangell during the week-end discharging lumber from Juneau. That seemed paradoxical for normally discharging lumber at Wrangell would be like carrying coals to Newcastle since the industrial mainstay of Wrangell for many years has been a big sawmill occupying a central position on the port's waterfront. But Wrangell's sawmill went into receivership this year and that is why Wrangell, its population shrunk to 1000, is not very cheerful these days as a considerable number of the people leave for more promising fields of endeavour and the rest dig in for what they anticipate will be one of the quietest winters on record in the community. Nevertheless, there is talk of other interests acquiring and reopening the mill in which case the picture would be considerably changed.

Wrangell was hard hit this year not only the closing of the sawmill but also by a poor fishing season. Once the town derived considerable prosperity through being the port of entry for the Stikine and Cassiar mining country but the mining in that area has never come back since before the last war.

One encouraging thing at Wrangell this year was the revival of the tourist travel which will be better next year due in at least considerable measure to the extension of Canadian steamship services—the new weekly run of the Union Steamship Co. and the expected inclusion of this port on the schedule of the big new Canadian National luxury ship Prince George.

WOULD DO BUSINESS WITH PRINCE RUPERT

Like the rest of southeastern Alaska, Wrangell is all for doing business with Prince Rupert. Howard Blatz, president of the Wrangell Chamber of Commerce, himself the proprietor of one of the town's principal department stores, tells how he shipped in produce this year from Prince Rupert but went back to Vancouver and Seattle because of Prince Rupert's failure to give quality and service, something which he feels could be easily rectified.

Mrs. Doris Barnes, who was

SOUTH AFRICA HEARS OF GOLD STRIKE HERE

Writing from Bulowaya to her friend, Mrs. D. C. Stuart of this city, Mrs. William Millar, former pioneer resident of Prince Rupert, tells now Prince Rupert's recent "gold strike" was featured both in press and radio of South Africa. Commenting on local conditions at Bulowaya, Mrs. Millar observes that it is a very expensive place in which to live—and also very dry. Mrs. Millar is making her home there now with her niece, Mrs. Leonard Alcock, the former Miss Maisie Macdonald of Prince Rupert.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses and messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings shown on the death of my husband, Harry Burton, who passed away on October 23.

HOW CAN I ??? By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean an automobile radiator properly?

A. Dissolve about 1 teacupful of ordinary washing or baking soda to each 2 gallons of water. Fill the radiator. Let the engine run for about 12 minutes, with throttle retarded. Drain radiator and flush with a hose for about 10 minutes, to remove all solution. Do not spill any soda solution on painted or varnished surface.

Q. How can I remove a fresh ink stain from a carpet or rug?

A. Pour milk on it and press with blotting paper until it is all absorbed. This will not be effective unless done immediately after the accident.

Q. How can I keep fish fresh for a longer time than usual?

A. Sprinkle the fish with salt, then keep in a cool place.

SHEFFIELD, Eng. (CP)—Because it would give wives an opportunity to see that their husbands really were attending lectures and not in the pub, Sheffield University departed from a 30-year tradition and invited wives to attend the first night's lecture.

WATER 120,000 ACRES

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP)—A new large scale irrigation scheme to provide water for farms on 120,000 acres in the state of Victoria has been planned at a cost of $648,000. Cereal, hay and wool growing are main industries of farms in the region.

Agrees to Supply Team to Help City Police

Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce will provide an eight-man patrol in an effort to safeguard property during Halloween night, an executive meeting of the body decided last night after receiving a request from Police Sergeant L. A. N. Potterton.

The patrol will supplement the regular law enforcement agencies in an effort to avert any excessive damage and mischief which has featured Halloween night observance by the city's young people during the last two years.

"We are doing it as a civic duty and on the assumption that the youths will not be likely to get into trouble if they are watched," Junior Chamber President A. P. Crawley said.

The patrol, which will be made in four cars with two men to each car, will cruise through the city on Friday night and report acts of vandalism such as resulted in more than $1,000 damage last year.

Sergeant Potterton said that he is determined that the destruction which characterized last year's Halloween celebration will not be repeated this year. Following last Halloween a number of youths were brought into juvenile court and assessed damages totalling more than $800 which they have been paying off in instalments during the last year.
