Domestic and International Problems Keep Canada's Legislators Busy in 1947
By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Domestic and international problems shared Canada's legislative spotlight in a parliament which sat from January to July when meets again in December comes a heavy load of business—bills relating to wartime controls, wheat marketing, old-age pensions, peace with defeated enemies and Canada's many obligations under the United Nations charter.

Rome Strike Called Off

ROME (CP)—The 48-hour communist-led general strike in Rome, latest skirmish in the Left's increasing war against Italy's middle of the road cabinet, ended today after a steely show of government might. Both sides claimed victory.

Lack of public support was believed responsible for the call-off of the walk-out which was in protest at unemployment in Rome.

JAILED AND FINED ON THEFT CHARGE

Convicted in County Court of three charges of theft Friday afternoon, Leslie Wilson, of Port Edward, received sentences totalling six months in jail, plus $125 fine on each count with an optional one month in jail in default of the fines.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
Gale winds and considerable rainfall over the southern British Columbia coast resulted from the rapid development of a storm centre off Cape Flattery overnight. It was unusually mild last night over southern Vancouver Island and the lower mainland where temperatures remained near 50 at most points. Variable cloudiness was reported over the northern coast during the night while snow was general over the interior of the province.

ROTARY CLUB
RAISES $4500

For the Rotary Club, the drawing was a climax to a campaign to raise money for the installation of a children's ward in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. The drive was outstandingly successful, netting the club more than $4500 in excess of expenses.

GOOD CHANCE TO SAVE EYE

Encouraging word has been received from Vancouver, concerning the condition of five year old Lynn Griffiths, who was flown south from here after a serious injury to her right eye in an accident.

INSURANCE CANCELLED NELSON

Fire insurance policies have been cancelled by underwriters on all schools in Nelson's No. 7 school districts in the heart of the Doukhobor area. Destruction of a $5,000 school at Taghum last weekend was given as the reason.

MORE MURDERS, MORE SEARCHING IN PALESTINE—Following the recent shooting of two British policemen in Jerusalem, the entire Jewish quarter was cordoned off by police and troops. Houses were searched and the male population screened in an effort to find the slayers. Here, a British soldier searches an aged Jew while another soldier, left, looks around the room for possible hidden firearms.

Mrs. M. R. Franks of Cedarvale Wins Rotary Club Car Drawing

CAR DRAWN LAST NIGHT
BY MAYOR NORA ARNOLD

Prince Rupert's second big question of the week—"Who will win the Rotary Club's automobile?" was answered by Mayor Nora E. Arnold shortly after midnight Friday when she drew from among some 7,000 others the winning ticket before an eager audience of 1,200.

Winner of the new Chevrolet Fleetline Aero sedan was Mrs. Mary R. Francks, a widow of Cedarvale, whose ticket was drawn by Mayor Arnold at the Rotary Club ball in the Civic Centre auditorium.

The audience, which completely filled the standing space in the auditorium, paused for a 10-minute period a few minutes after midnight, then resumed its dancing after results of the draw were announced by master of ceremonies D. C. Stevenson.

Disappointment by members of the vast gathering of hopeful ticket holders was shrugged off as the people resumed their dancing when the result was announced.

Mrs. Francks, winner of the automobile, is the widow of a farmer and is at present employed as cook in a sawmill camp near Cedarvale, 170 miles east of Prince Rupert.

Her ticket, number 5,640, was sold by Heggie's Cafe, at Smithers, which will receive $50 as sellers of the winning ticket.

The automobile was valued at $1,850 at the time it was purchased by the Rotary Club two months ago, and recent price boosts have increased its official value to the neighborhood of $2,250.

Mr. Stevenson wired Mrs. Francks of her good fortune this morning.

The children's ward is a project which the Rotary Club began more than two years ago and will be located in the former military wing of the hospital.

The ward, when completed, will contain nine beds and six bassinets for the treatment of child patients.

Tickets on the automobile were sold from as far north as Point Barrow, Alaska to West Virginia in the eastern United States, and there were ticket holders in every one of Canada's nine provinces and 16 States.

FOREIGN MINISTERS' MEET DEADLOCKED

ADJOURNED UNTIL MONDAY FOR TEMPER TO COOL OFF

LONDON (CP)—The foreign ministers' session, scheduled for today, was postponed until Monday on the British initiative in order to allow tempers to cool after a violent argument last night. The conference is hopelessly deadlocked on the subject of reparations and, without agreement on reparations, discussions

BOY RESCUES CHILD FROM DROWNING

Prompt action by 11-year-old Leonard Smith of 1315 Overlook Street, saved the life of three-year-old "Rusty" Russo when the child fell into the harbor at the east end of fishermen's floats at noon today.

Leonard dove into the water and swam to the rescue of the child who had fallen into the water while playing on the ramp leading from the floats to the shore.

With Patrick Russo, 11, a brother of "Rusty", Leonard was talking along the floats when Patrick saw his brother fall from the edge. He screamed for help. At the same time, Leonard dove into the water and swam to where the small boy was floundering in the water. Leonard carried "Rusty" to a piling where he hung on until Fred Skau, a fisherman, who had just gone ashore, ran back and got a rowboat to rescue them.

Leonard learned to swim slightly two years ago on the Queen Charlotte Islands, but he attributed his life-saving ability to swimming instruction received at the Kinsmen boys' camp last summer.

Other guests of honor at the function were Gyro Club President C. G. Ham and Mrs. Ham, Kinsmen Club President R. G. Moore and Mrs. Moore, and Mr. Alex Mitchell.

Mrs. Mitchell was leader of the Job's Daughters girls who sold a large number of tickets by downtown street canvassing during the last month.

Special mention for the sale of large amounts of tickets was made to club members Stewart Donaldson, who sold 41 books—410 tickets, George Green, 39 books and Harry Hanson, 33 books.

Entertainment at the meeting included community singing led by R. G. Van der Sluys, a quiz contest and the presentation to G. Durkin, who is leaving for Regina next week, with a booklet bearing the signatures of all those present.

E. T. Applewhite, entertainment committee chairman was master of ceremonies during the dinner program.

PROGRESSIVE-CONSERVATIVES RESIGN FROM COALITION GOV'T

VICTORIA, (CP)—Resignations of four Progressive-Conservative members of British Columbia's coalition cabinet, to become effective at Premier Hart's resignation next week-end, were handed in to the Premier yesterday.

Finance Minister Herbert Ansbach, head of the Conservative bloc in the coalition, tendered the resignations of himself, Minister of Public Works E. C. Carson, Minister of Mines R. C. Macdonald and Trade Minister Leslie H. Eyles. He said that they were intended to enable the Premier-Elect, Byron Johnson, chosen this week as new head of the Liberal party, to form his new cabinet with a free hand.

No indication was given as to the intentions of the Conservatives to continuing the coalition in some form.

Lewis Quits
A.F.L. Again

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—John L. Lewis divorced his 600,000 miners from the American Federation of Labor today again in a move viewed by some labor men as a sign he intends to play an independent part in the 1948 presidential election.

The second split between the United Mine Workers and the American Federation of Labor came eleven years after Lewis first marched them out of the parent body and less than two years after he had marched them in again.

Lewis has been at odds with the A.F.L. over the issue of signing anti-communist affidavits, a requirement which he defied.

The Veterans' Appeal

AN APPEAL is being launched by the Canadian Legion throughout Canada for increase in the pensions and allowances to veterans of the conflicts in which the Dominion has played so outstanding a part. That these veterans contributed in the main to winning the war, both wars in fact, and that without the service of those who gave their all to the survival of the British Commonwealth of Nations, of which Canada is a component part, is undisputed. Every consideration, therefore, should be given by the federal government and by the ministers of the Crown, to the apparent needs for which the Canadian Legion appeals at this time.

No one can question the fact that the cost of living has risen highly since the end of hostilities and so continues to increase. Increase of wages in many industries has been taken care of to a large extent, some being the outcome of strikes which forced employers to submit to the pleas of the workers. The veterans, however, both those who receive pensions for wounds and those who, on account of their inability to become rehabilitated on account of age, sickness and other causes, are still at the stationary stage at which they found themselves in 1945.

It would seem reasonable, therefore, that all members of parliament, irrespective of their party affiliations, should make this appeal their greatest concern, and consider thoughtfully as to whether this request is one deserving of their support. A cost-of-living bonus to these men and women, who fought for the cause of democracy, would, it seems, meet the demand at this time, and the House of Commons should, at least give ear to the Legions' appeal.

One thing certain, is, however, that no body of Canadians deserves greater consideration than those who spent several years in the armed forces, many giving the best years of their lives to a cause which saved Canada, and the world for that matter, from dictatorship.

MANDATORY RADAR

WE WERE INTERESTED to learn how the skipper of the ill-fated Clarksdale Victory, which crashed and sank on Hippa Island recently, knew where he was when he sent out his SOS call but did not know where he was 10 seconds before his vessel went onto the rocks.

The second mate, Henry H. Wolfe, explained at Ketchikan, Wolfe was the navigator on the ship. He took his bearings before the crash and got his latitude (distance north of the equator) correct. He was a bit uncertain about his longitude (east or west of Greenwich meridian) but, not seeing any coastal lights, presumed he was safely offshore. There are no radio compass stations in the vicinity and the course of the ship was set to take her straight down the coast.

Where the pilot erred was in not taking full note of the low-hanging clouds that were encountered as the coast drew near, together with the rain squalls. These are accepted by older pilots as such signs of land. Also, several waves hit the ship from its port side, which means only one thing, that the boat was so near the shore that the backwash of the high seas was breaking into the vessel.

When the ship hit a rock, the skipper knew he was on shore. So he took his chart, followed his latitude circle into shore and knew where his ship had struck. The fact that he gave his position as Graham Island instead of Hippa Island was natural because Graham is a large island and Hippa a small one.

Conversely, if he had had radar instruments aboard, he could likewise have reckoned his proper position by learning how close he was to land.

The continuing loss of life in the air and on the sea mean to us only one conclusion—that radar must be made mandatory. What good is it to discover such an instrument of safety and then not use it to save lives and goods?

—Ketchikan Chronicle.

ADVERTISING HIGHWAY

AUNITED STATES HOTEL directs attention to the Skeena Highway to Prince Rupert through placing an advertisement in the Alaska Sportsman. The hotel is in Montana and describes itself as being on the direct route to the Alcan road or Skeena Highway to Prince Rupert, B.C., from east, south and mid-western points.

It is so refreshing to read the truth. For three years now, cars have been running in here, yet despite this, tourists have been told by those who should have known better that "there ain't no road."

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

(December 13, 1922)

Prince Rupert was in the grip of a record cold snap. Temperature in the city dropped to a record low of 13 degrees above zero, while at Terrace it was 10 below and at Hazelton 22 below.

Alderman Collart confirmed the rumors that he would run for Mayor in the 1923 elections. Principal plank in his platform was civic financial retrenchment with a view towards lowering the tax rate as far as possible.

Membership at the public library continued to increase steadily, according to the Librarian, Miss Minnie Grant. There were about 2,000 books to choose from and more were expected in the near future.

CHRIST, THE WORD

By Rev. A. M. McColl, First Presbyterian Church

Christ is here called "the word." No other name given to our Saviour in the Bible is more puzzling but full of most blessed significance. A word is the visible or outward expression of the soul's inner thought or emotion. The poet Wordsworth says

"language is the incarnation of thought, and the word was made flesh and dwelt among us" John 1:14. Jesus Christ on earth was the outward expression which men could behold of the thought, the heart, and the love of God. Hence it was said of Him that He was God manifest in the flesh. A word differs from a sound because it is the expression of intelligence or affection. A sound is soulless but a word is the voice of the inner being.

This is a marvellously tender way of putting the incarnation of Christ "and dwelt among us." In olden phrase "He pitched His tent among us," meaning "to dwell, to make Himself known to us." So Jesus Christ, leaving all the glory He had with the Father before the world was, was born among us common folk when He might have been born in a palace. He might have come in the full glory of manhood—leading legions of angels but he chose to be born in Bethlehem, in the home of a humble toiler. As we read in the book of Hebrews, "He took out on Him the nature of angels but He took on Him the seed of Abraham wherefore in all things it behoved Him to be made like unto His brethren that He might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in all things pertaining to God to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. For in that He Himself hath suffered being tempted." That is the most marvellous thing in all the world that He who had infinite riches, for our sake became poor; had all power in heaven and on earth, yet he came down and was born as the child of a carpenter, became part and parcel of our humanity, just as the child in your home today. For 33 years He dwelt among us, talked with us, opened His heart to us, shared all our trials. He was God over all, yet He became tenderest brother to rich and poor, ruler and peasant, high and low, good and bad. This is the Christ of the Gospels. He had all riches yet He shared our poverty. Do you have weariness? How much it means when the Saviour stands before you in your weariness, knowing Himself what it means to be tired out, and nervous, and sleepless, and says with tenderness, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

The supreme evidence of the divinity of Christ rests not merely on the historical fact that Jesus Christ was born in Bethlehem, and did live the life recorded in the Gospels, with its miracles of mercy and love, and was raised from the dead in mighty power. There is nothing in history that has been substantiated so perfectly as that. One of the most distinguished jurists of the world said that, if human evidence has proved, or ever can prove anything, then the life and miracles and resurrection of Jesus Christ have

Chamber Names Park Committee

Earl Gordon, W. J. Scott and J. C. Gilker have been appointed a special committee of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce to look into the possibility of establishment of a national or provincial park in this area. The Chamber had interested itself in national park possibilities for the Lakelse district but received information that would make that seem unfeasible in view of the complications entailed in industrial and private property rights. Now it has been suggested that there might be the possibility of a provincial park somewhere not too far distant from Prince Rupert.

With a ready domestic market between Prince Rupert and Prince George and the Northern British Columbia Power Co. the principal industrial user for its steam plant at the Prince Rupert dry dock, the Bulkley Valley Collieries are today turning out seventy-three tons of coal daily from the mine on Goat Creek about seven miles south of Telkwa, it was learned from F. M. Dockrill, veteran operator of the property, who left by last evening's train on his return to the interior after a visit of a few days in the city on business. Twenty-eight men are

Reminiscences
By W.J. and Reflections

The middle of November was early enough, in Saskatchewan and further east while across the line in Dakota and Montana, zero and snow came along as cheery reminders. So far, in Prince Rupert, hundreds of miles north, nothing has been seen or felt that actually reminds one of winter. A touch of light frost, an abundant rain service and gusty days! Meanwhile, friends dwelling where the cold is real, continue to write Christmas greetings to those unfortunate folk away in Prince Rupert, so close to the Arctic. How do they manage to stand it?

The gate at the "Joe vs Joe" battle approached a quarter of a million dollars. To be precise it amounted to $216,477. And now, with the dust scarcely settled, they are talking of a bigger and better bout in June, an open air affair, and with expectations of take not being a cent less than a million. Did someone say "the fight game."

Coming back to Prince Rupert from sojourning in some larger town is apt to cause a bit of reflection and to decide that comparisons are not always odious. Has it ever occurred to you that as Prince Rupert becomes more populous, the sidewalks, streets and lanes will be reasonably wide and that in planning the town-site, foresight was not entirely neglected.

employed with Arthur Dockrill as manager. The coal is trucked from the mine to the railway at Telkwa whence it is shipped east and west.

Lumbering continues brisk in the Bulkley Valley, Mr. Dockrill also reports small mills operating in all directions from Telkwa and shipping from there for a ready market.

KNOW YOUR TREES

Western Red Cedar
(Thuja plicata)
Also known as Giant Cedar.

A coniferous tree found in moist flats, benches, gentle slopes, river bottoms, in and about swamps and wet, springy places, and in cool moist gulches and ravines. Moisture more important than quality or quantity of soil. Commonly grows to height of from 150 to 175 feet with diameter 3 1/2 to 8 feet. Well known for panelling, siding, shingles, lumber, veneer, pulp and poles. Roots and bark used by Indians for baskets and mats.

LIFE in this Prince Rupert

by BIDDEE JINKS

Figuratively speaking the Queen Charlottes are draped in black since the Union Steamship Co. announced their newly proposed schedule. Certainly they are in mourning over there, with a grief as deep as David's of old when "he lifted up his voice and wept." For the thought of a final departure of the Cassiar, never called anything but "the good old Prince John" on the Islands—surfaces a sentiment built up by a 45-year service without precedent.

This sentiment belongs to many beyond our own border. This summer, enroute to Vancouver, an American lady at our table spoke so frequently of a boat she and her husband affectionately called "the good old Prince John." They had travelled many successive years aboard her in days long gone. Those trips were undoubtedly the most joyous ever spent, and now they could find no trace of her. Many times I heard her ask the same question, "What has become of the old Prince John?" And I, nor anyone else, knew to tell her that the name had been changed to the far-fetched Cassiar.

Once, living far inland, I glimpsed briefly through "The Wreck of the Hesperus," that somewhere people depend upon upon boats and are compassed by water as treacherous as it is wonderful; that boats are called "shee" and become in truth a living thing. Since coming to Prince Rupert, I too have entered into that spirit so that a boat moving through the water brings an incomprehensible thrill. Yet, as compared to the families isolated except for the coming and going of a boat, my feelings are nil.

It would be very difficult to picture exactly what the "old Prince John" means to the people it has nurtured for so long. Arriving at Queen Charlotte City, be it 2 p.m. or 2 a.m., every available soul, women and children alike, hurried to meet it. It was a glad meeting of old friends. Sometimes it was more than that, for one critically ill with a construction that steered them safely to port.

BeBrt Robinson, now senior purser on the Prince Rupert, was purser. Being single and of warm disposition, he obliged all the ladies. When the boat left Queen Charlotte, he usually carried a lengthy list of shopping to be done in Vancouver—articles not always to the liking of an unattached male.

That was the spirit of the whole crew and the Island people relied upon them. If someone in port were sick the larder of the boat was open to them for a bit of fresh meat, a little fruit or even ice to cool a small fevered tongue.

On board was the atmosphere of "one big family." On one occasion Premier Pattullo was serenaded by a group at his door during the wee small hours of the morning. When he sleepily made an appearance he was presented with a celery bouquet in flourishig style. No longer drowsy, he ordered supper and a party of fun and frolic finished the night.

Occasionally the people found opportunity to show their gratitude. When coal was unloaded (onto a barge out in the harbor) the boat was docked several hours. Quickly, word spread and messengers scurried from house to house. It was, "You bring a cake and we will have a party." It was a happy affair of cake and deer-meat sandwiches topped by dancing until last possible minute.

The Prince John has perhaps done more of the unusual than any other coastal boat with no thought other than service. Once a very stout woman was put ashore by a sling at Naden Harbor. At no time was it unusual to suddenly anchor somewhere for an hour or more while a passenger rowed in from some isolated spot, came finally along side, climbed up the rope ladder and aboard to be welcomed as if he were the brother of every watching person on board.

Was Hit by Disaster Too

Disaster struck hard at her by times. Once it was a fire which began in the mail-room. Lifeboats were unslung and passengers prepared for emergency. Meanwhile, the boat went full steam ahead, knowing it impossible to go ashore in so fierce a wind. Finally, they came into Sandspit, a volcano of smoke. It was met by a curious crowd who had long been watching, at first trying to analyse that moving blob of smoke on the horizon. Strangely the only item not destroyed was a fur coat which had come by mail order. It was not even singed. A lady, telling me of the incident said, "I can see it yet, that coat hanging in the captain's office, the only thing that wasn't burned."

Another time there was a collision at Lawn Hill between the freighter Prince Albert and the Prince John. It was snowing heavily and the freighter was holed quite badly, the Prince John however, made port.

But now, this boat and this type of service is to become another relic of the past. It is very well to speak of the plane service as a substitute but those who live on the Islands and those who know them well realize that the plane does not greatly benefit Queen Charlotte or Skidegate, the most populated points. Fifteen miles of water separate these points from Sandspit and, in winter particularly, it is almost inaccessible.

In talking to those whose lives have been associated with the coming and going of the Prince John, now the Cassiar, I got a glimpse of the isolation they felt except for that schedule. Also, the indescribable feeling of loss when they said: "What will we do without it?"

More Important Than Ever... This EATON Shopping Safeguard!

In these days of unsettled prices it is more reassuring than ever to know that every single thing you buy at EATON'S is backed by a permanent, unchanging Guarantee that safeguards every penny of every dollar you spend... a Guarantee of:

"GOODS SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED, INCLUDING SHIPPING CHARGES"

This simple contract between a great organization and its customers has never been more significant than it is today... for it applies not only to performance and quality, but to price and value, too! It is a constant safeguard against unwarrantable price rises.

It has always been our policy to pass on the saving to our customers immediately the cost of any item is lowered by the removal of a tax or the lowering of a duty; similarly, when new excise taxes are imposed the increase is not reflected in our prices until we, ourselves, have had to pay the increased cost.

The meaning of the EATON Guarantee is simple. It admits of no exceptions. If, for any reason, you are not completely satisfied with the downright dollars-and-cents value of anything you buy at EATON'S, you can send it back and your money will be refunded. That has been the basis of our way of business since 1869... our biggest, most important reason for saying:

SIX DAYS TO GO IN NEWS CONTEST

With six days to go in the Daily News carrier contest for new subscribers, Leonard Leigh is still maintaining his lead in the race for first place. If he holds that position until December 20 Leonard will become the owner of a new bicycle. He now has a point score of 245. His nearest rival is Roy Webber with 110 points.

There has been an upset in third place with John Ketcheson edging Neil Forman out of that spot. John's score of 88 tops Neil's by 17 points.

Fifth place in the contest is shared by the Daily News' only girl carrier, Marion Greenwood, and Roy Mostad, each with a score of 55 points.

GREAT EXPERIMENT
Sports Editor,
Daily News:
The great experiment—the refereeing in last night's inter-High School basketball game—proved only that a coach's place is on the bench with his own team.
Will tonight's preliminary game between Co-op and Brownwoods be another "die-hards vs. upstarts" battle?
After last night's close game tonight's feature will really be the highlight of the evening.
In a total point series Kay Hi holds an infinitesimal lead which could easily be overcome.
Bo-Me-Hi's cheer leaders added a welcome touch of color. Could they find a couple of Kay Hi sweaters for tonight?
A FAN.

Hopes Issue Now Closed

"Insignificant," Says Art Murray of Basketball Squabble
Sports Editor,
Daily News:
In December 15 issue of your paper you publish a column under the heading "Hoop Talk." In that article or column, you attacked the players, refereeing and the general policies of the local basketball league. Subsequent to that date you seem to have given space to most anyone that cared to voice his or her opinion with a resultant annoyance to those of us that feel we know what goes on within both the referee's association and the basketball body itself. I would, if at all possible, be pleased to know that I have heard the last of the insignificant issue and if the writer or writers insist on requesting publicity for their gripes, I would, first of all, suggest that you offer them a copy of the National Federation Basketball rules and one of the constitution of the Prince Rupert and District Basketball Association.

I will not go into lengthy details on the Arney-Forman trouble or any other troubles we have had so far this season but will advise your correspondents that at one of our regular executive meetings of the Basketball Association to be held Tuesday next, we will deal with a letter from the referee's association pertaining to suspensions. Anything more than taking the matter of that letter up as routine business is not promised and definitely Ted Arney or Jim Forman will not be suspended for any period.
I may sound a little hot-headed over this issue but am sure, judging from general comment of steady basketball fans, that, if the courageous individuals, be they men or women, were to offer their names to the public at the next basketball league games they and not the players in the question will be booted from the gymnasium.
I might go further to advise those that may not be aware of the fact that many of the players that seem to have raised the ire of your "Spectator" were literally dragged from their fireplaces to assure the basketball association of an even and interesting senior league. Two of them in particular, Angus MacPhee and Jack Lindsay, have bolstered a very weak Co-op entry until now they stand at the top of the league standing. Sev. Dominato, who was also placed in the crocodile category, is playing regularly with the Savoy Hotel entry and, remember, these three boys have been playing here for 15 to 17 years and still make first string rating on our city all-star team.
Please now, Mr. Sports Editor, Spectator, and any others with journalistic tendencies, consider these athletes. They do their best. The referees do their best and regardless of what I do, I

Kayhi Defeats Rainmakers By One Point
In a thrill-packed hour and a half, Ketchikan's popular Kayhi Polar Bears last night nipped through with a close 47-46 victory in the first game of their annual four-game basketball series with Bo-Me-Hi playing before a packed house of excited fans, the Ketchikan products carried the show most of the way and enjoyed a comfortable ten-point edge at the half-way mark. Only towards the closing stages of the game did Bo-Me-Hi really close in on the Alaskans but, prior to that time, they had many chances and their display of very poor marksmanship was something to marvel at. Doug Shier, usually a threat anywhere close to the basket, was probably the goat of the evening and ended up with six points when he should have gathered at least twice that number.
It was not alone Bo-Me-Hi's poor shooting that gave the game to the visitors for they are a very smooth club and no doubt will be in there punching tonight for a second win which they should easily gather. They have an advantage in most every department over the local lads and show the result of a proper set-up for athletes in the Ketchikan Hi School. In the game itself, they displayed clean tactics and good sportsmanship, a credit to their coach, Mr. Hollister.
Alex Bill's charges, on the other hand, provided a surprise. They were rated underdogs by about ten to fifteen points and they probably rated that disadvantage. Last night was the first time they have been up against any competition this season. The majority are new faces on a basketball floor. Everyone was proud of them when the final whistle blew even if they did miss over half of their foul shots and the odd lay-up to boot.

REG LAVIGNE IS LOCAL STAR
Reg Lavigne, was as usual the star of the Bo-Me-Hi team and seemed to carry the game on his able shoulders most of the evening. He grabbed himself 17 points in a very unselfish manner and it was fortunate that he did in view of the way his pals were showing up in that department.
Flaten was very disappointing. Scherk couldn't seem to get rolling, at all and Mr. Shier has already been dealt with.
Art Olsen, playing his first year with the team, was a stalwart one defence and could do with a little more height to help him at the other guard position.
Anderson, Markuson and N. Slatta were banished on personals in the closing stages of the game leaving Coach Hollister on the spot with his second string to draw from. Substitutes however, proved very able and proved the rounded-out strength of the visitors.
Individual scores:
Ketchikan—H. Juhansen 14, Joe Lewis 4, J. Stanford 14, N. Farstad 2, D. Anderson 3, Markuson 6, N. Slatta 4.—47
Prince Rupert—R. Lavigne 14, D. Shier 6, D. Scherk 4, Flaten 13, Davidson 3, Olsen 3.—46.

BASKETBALL BREEZES

by A FAN
A one-point difference in the final score made last night's Ketchikan-Prince Rupert inter-High School game between Kay Hi and Rainmakers a good game to win and one which it was no disgrace to lose.
The current edition of the Rainmakers put up a spirited battle and made the Alaskan visitors really fight for their slim win.
Stanford of Kay Hi gave a remarkable exhibition of coffin corner shooting in the first half when he wished in 12 of his total 14 points.
Markuson was a good field general and sparked Kay Hi's attack until the dying moments of the game when he retired via the five personal foul route.
The visitors' chances were not improved when Anderson and Slatta were also lost to the cause by the same route.
Apparently the refereeing in Ketchikan allows a more rugged type of play than that permitted by the local whistle-blowers in last night's encounter.
Neither Comadina nor Calderoni allowed any unnecessary roughness and were prompt in calling some lesser violations such as walking or carrying the ball.
Johansen of Kay Hi got hot in the second half and must have wound up with nearly top scoring honors.
The Rainmakers shifting zone defence gave the Polar Bears plenty of trouble throughout.
Shier of the Rainmakers was a tower of strength on the defensive but wasn't nearly as effective offensively.

Cassiar On Farewell Voyage—
Winter Pickings For Sea
Gulls—Japanese Mines

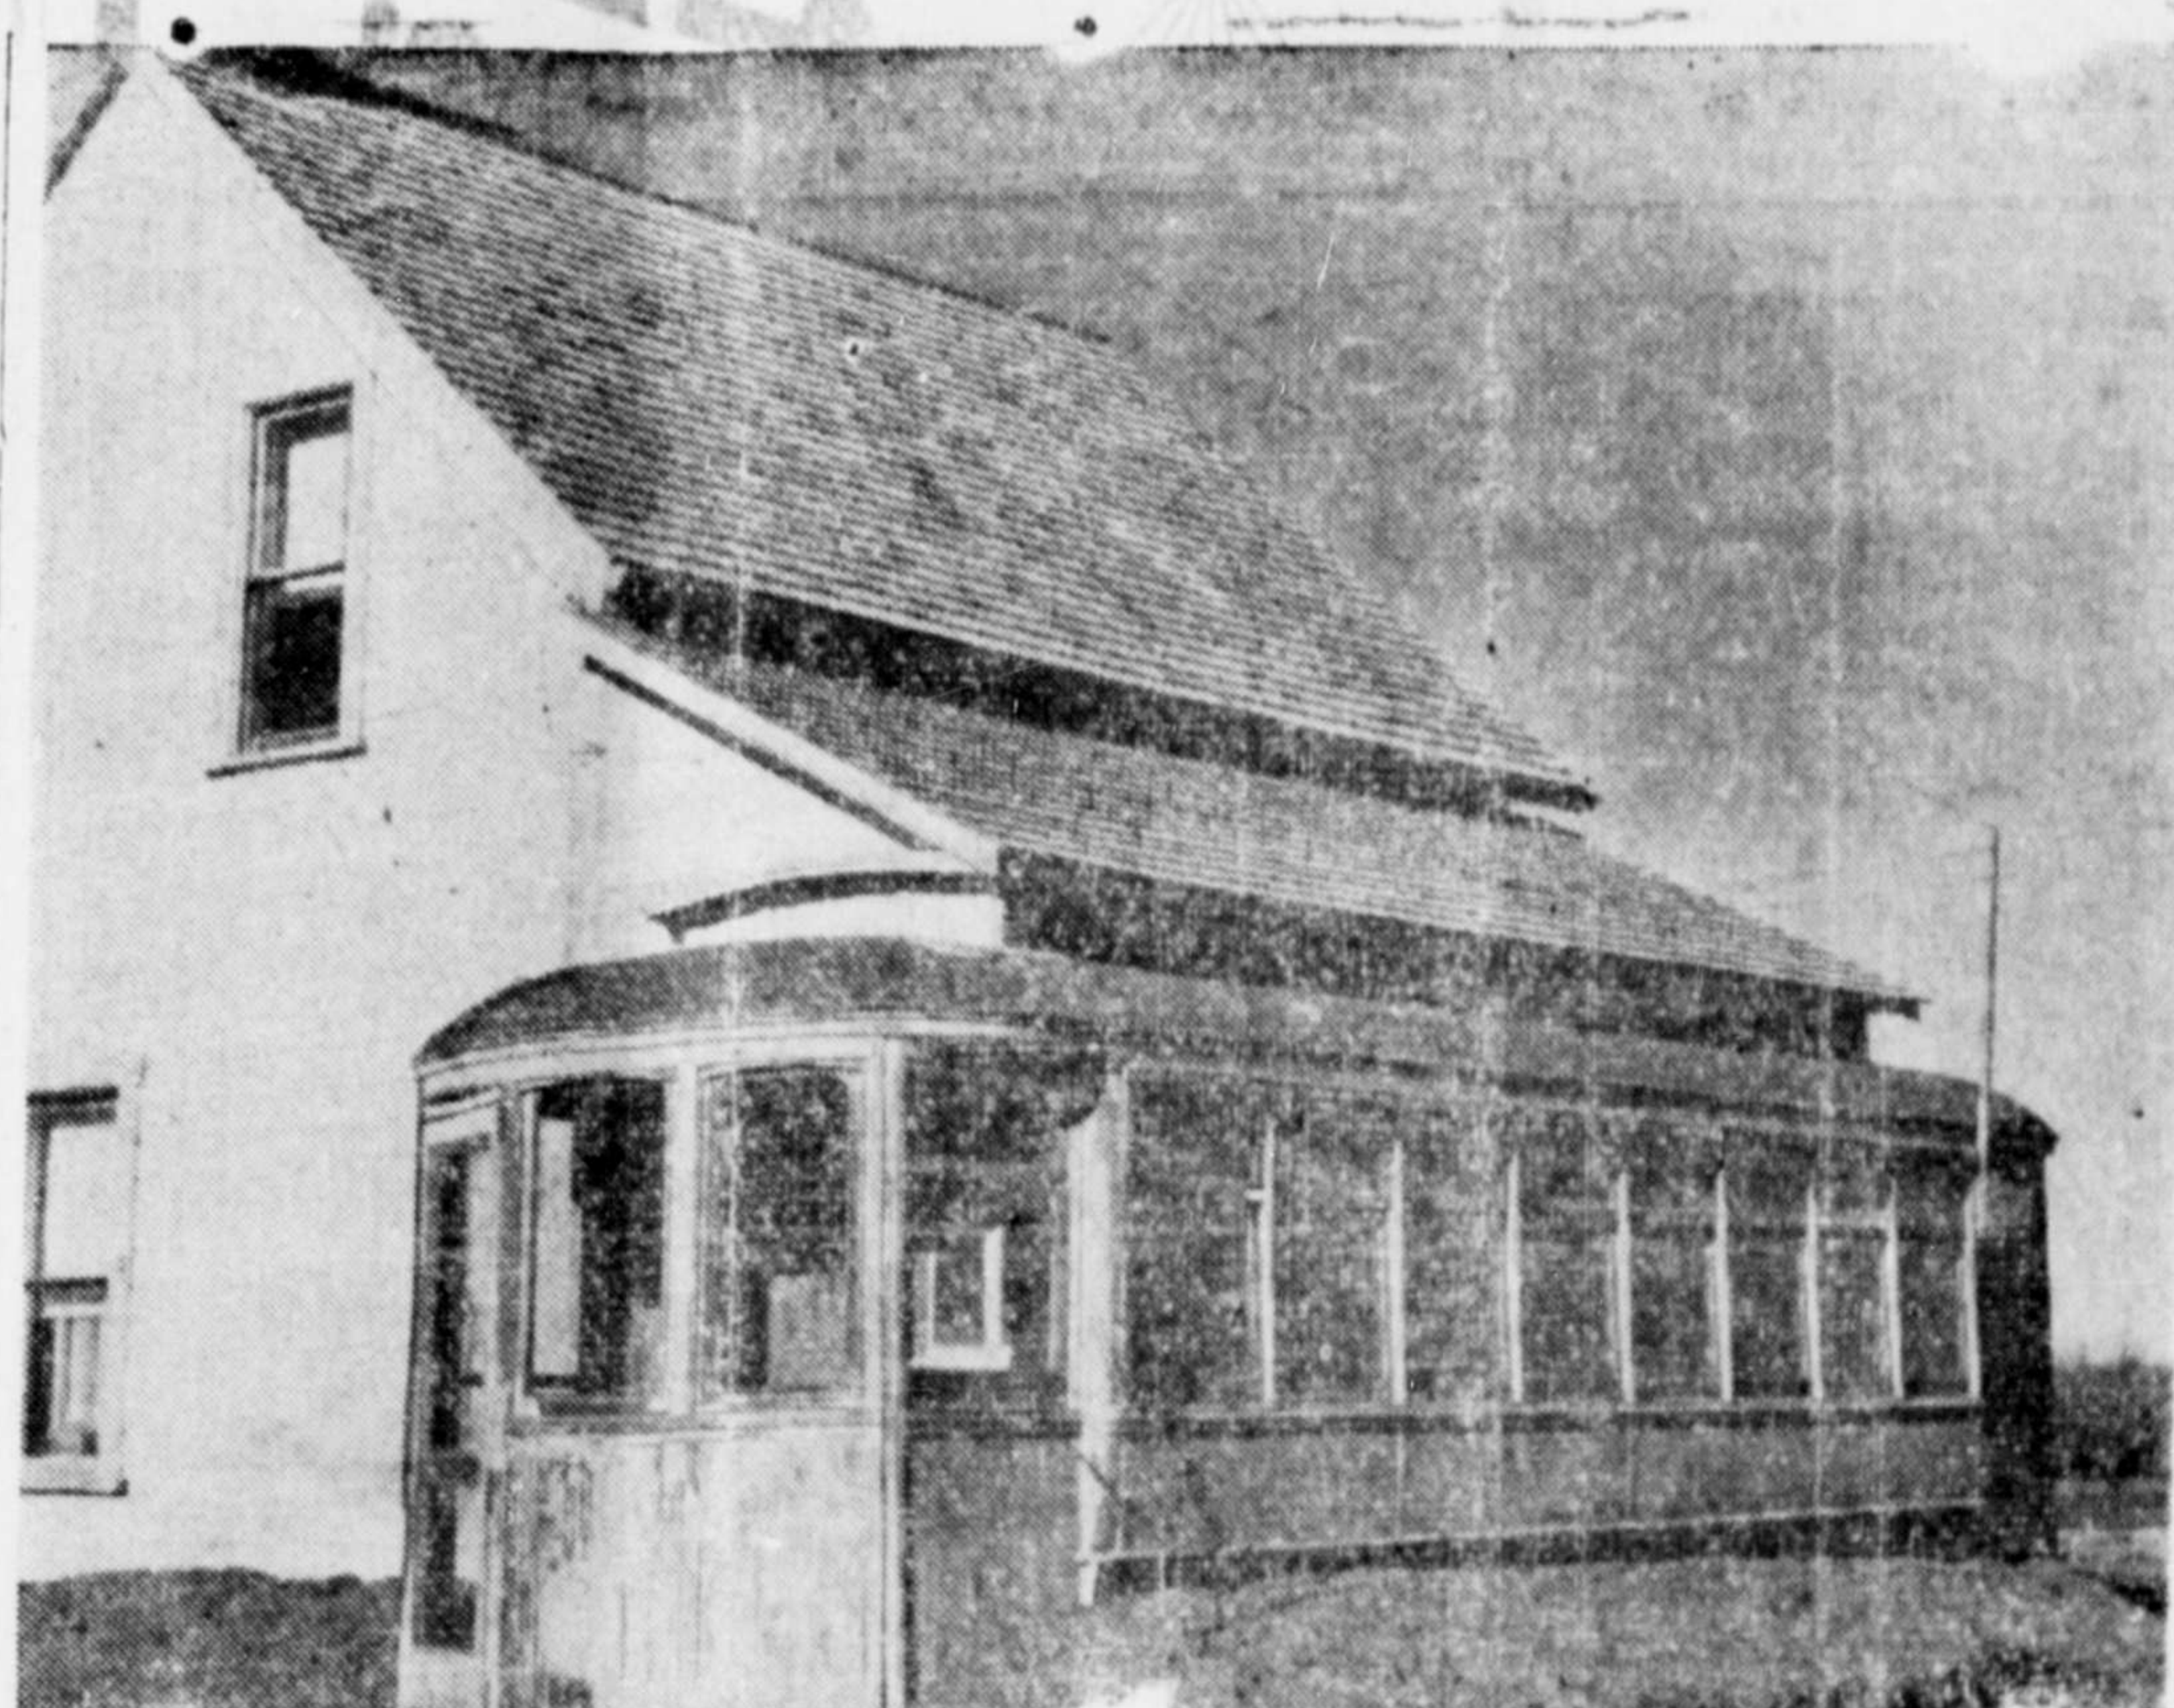

Historic vessel on the Queen Charlotte Islands in which she has plied for thirty-five years, the most of the time under the name of Prince John first in the service of Grand Trunk Pacific Coast Steamship Service and then as a vessel of Canadian National Steamships before being acquired several years ago by Union Steamships Ltd., Union sion of this voyage, the vessel steamer Cassiar, Capt. Alex Mc- is to be withdrawn from service Lennan, is here this week-end and it is understood is being making what is understood is disposed of by the company, one report being that she is to go to China to end her days. Be- Vancover via the south end of Queen Charlottes and sailed at 10 a.m. for Massett Inlet points. She will return here tomorrow to sail at midnight on her re- turn to Vancouver via south Island points. At the concluthe south and sailed early this afternoon on her return to Van- couver and waypoints.

With fewer ships calling, and the seasonal change, sea gulls are finding rather sli mpickings along the waterfront. They are making the usual winter move- ment up town, favorite calls being in front of stores and be- hind restaurants. A thoughtful and kind-hearted citizen also spreads bread crumbs and other odds and ends of food over the surface of a large stump in Totem Pole Park and this spot is never neglected. The birds swoop over, and verily, it's a case of first come, first served.

The exports through the port of New Westminster this year will be the heaviest in eight years, according to a recent re- port from there. In the first eleven months, the total for that period approximated a million tons. Until the end of last March, there were 336 deep sea freighters arriving at New West- minster.

Steamship companies, speaking of the increase in fares on this coast for passenger and auto- mobiles, say it is due to higher operating costs, mainly in wages and fuel oil. It is a ten per cent boost to lower coast points and 13 per cent higher to Prince Rupert and adjacent regions.

MOOSE JAW FARMER CONVERTS STREET CAR INTO SUN PORCH HOME— This Moose Jaw, Sask., farm home veranda has, if nothing else, plenty of windows. The veranda was formerly a Moose Jaw city street car, bought by the farmer when the city converted to buses.

A vessel with 73,500 bundles of mandarin oranges from Japan, arrived in Vancouver today. This will make the second post-war orange ship. She be- longs to the American Mail Line. There were also passen- gers.

While by no means underesti- mating the menace of Japanese mines, there are some marine men on this coast who say that not all are as deadly as might be supposed. This, they say, largely depends on how long they have been adrift.
