Old Post Office Site Released For Purchase

Valuable Third Avenue Property Turned Over

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAS NO FURTHER INTEREST—NOW IN HANDS OF WAR ASSETS

The federal government has "no further interest" in the property on Third Avenue—lots 16, 17, 18 and 19—which it has held for upwards of thirty-five years as a prospective Post Office site and has placed the property, just across the street from the present Post Office and regarded as one of the finest business sites in Prince Rupert, in the hands of War Assets Corporation for disposal.

MAYOR ARNOLD RETURNS HOME

Tells of Municipal Convention—Not Very Pleased With Roads

Mayor Nora Arnold returned home by car Saturday night after spending three weeks in the south during which time she attended the convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Harrison Hot Springs and some of the meetings of the British Columbia Cancer Fund, which went into session following the municipal convention.

This year's convention of the U.B.C.M. was the largest gathering to be held in the history of the union, said Mayor Arnold. When the question of next year's convention was discussed she extended an invitation to the Union, on behalf of Prince Rupert, to have their meetings in this city.

There was a good deal of work accomplished during the convention, said Mayor Arnold, and she is satisfied that Prince Rupert contributed substantially to the success of the meeting.

The roads from here to Cache Creek are terrible, with the exception of a stretch between Prince Rupert and Terrace and a piece between Vanderhoof and Prince George, Mrs. Arnold reports. "Going south, one of the front shock absorbers was all but torn clear off, and this morning she was having the tires of her car checked to see if they had been damaged. The weather was very good in fact wonderful, declared Mayor Arnold. There was no rain after she left Prince George going south and she did not see any again until yesterday when there was a brief shower in Prince Rupert.

So far, no clue as to his disappearance has been obtained by the police. The missing man was last reported to have been seen early Thursday morning, but was later said to have been seen on Friday. He suffered a skull fracture some time ago which may have accounted for a sudden lapse of memory.

Canada and Marshall Plan

IN THE WEEKS immediately ahead, Canada which has already contributed nearly $5,500,000,000 in various forms of aid to European countries, is going to be engaged with the problem of what to do about the Marshall Plan—if anything.

At the recent conference in Paris of the 16 European nations affected by this proposed aid plan, several references were made to "Aid from North America" and this has set some authorities here wondering if these countries are expecting Canada to play a significant role in the scheme.

The United States, it is understood has not approached Canada on the deal. Neither has Great Britain and the whole situation regarding what attitude this country will take is very nebulous at present in Ottawa. But it seems likely careful consideration will be given the question on a high level soon.

If the European request of more than $19,000,000,000 in credits from the United States is endorsed by Congress, a considerable portion of this amount could conceivably be spent in Canada, buying needed supplies.

But it is possible Canada could not supply the specific requirements of the European countries.

It is doubtful whether she could meet large demands for such orders as rolling stock, electrical equipment, pit props, railway ties, wheat and other foodstuffs, which would be high on any list.

This country has to consider its own domestic supply position and the contracts she already has to fulfill abroad. But if Canada does not participate indirectly in the Marshall Plan as a supply nation, it is highly unlikely she will have any part at all for there appears to be very strong opposition here to making further large credit loans in Europe—which would be the alternative method of sharing in the project. The government financial records show that the last Canadian credit loan to be made in Europe was in June, 1946 when the Norwegian loan was extended to $30,000,000.

Since that date all applications from foreign countries have been rejected, usually because of the Canadian supply position. The general attitude of the financial people here obviously is against Canada going any further in advancing these credits. This is understandable, considering the huge amounts granted over the last five years, totalling $5,474,000,000.

The majority of this total was in outright gifts, with $1,000,000,000 made available to the United Kingdom in 1942 to purchase goods and services in Canada and $2,342,000,000 under the mutual aid program of 1943 for food and civilian supplies for the U.K., the Soviet Union, China, France, Australia, India, New Zealand and the British West Indies. In addition there was an $18,000,000 gift of Canadian wheat for the relief of Greece before liberation; $154,000,000 to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration over two years and $20,000,000 in post-UNRRA relief.

The rest of the total was in loans and repayable contributions. Under the Export Credits Act, $594,000,000 in loans to European countries was authorized; military relief supplies took $96,000,000 and $1,250,000,000 was advanced to the U.K. under the United Kingdom Financial Agreements Act of 1946.

The $594,000,000 in credit loans went to eight European countries, with Norway getting $30,000,000, Czechoslovakia $19,000,000, Russia $3,000,000, Netherlands East Indies $15,000,000, Netherlands $125,000,000, China $60,000,000, France $242,000,000 and Belgium $100,000,000.

East Was Too Warm Is Glad to be Home

"Anybody who complains about the weather at Prince Rupert should have their head examined," quite bluntly said C. A. Berner, divisional superintendent, Canadian National Railways, today as he enthusiastically expressed pleasure at being home from a holiday trip to Eastern Canada and the United States. The trip was an interesting and pleasant one, Mr. Berner admitted, but the heat he encountered around Buffalo and Niagara Falls—reaching 94 in the shade and from which it was difficult to obtain relief, was most uncomfortable. Mr. Berner also visited Montreal and Toronto.

A Brosseau, a crew member of the coastal freighter Noctua, who is, according to reports, suffering a fractured limb, was brought to the city from Butedale on the Catala Friday evening. Brosseau was taken from the Catala to the Prince Rupert General Hospital by the city ambulance.

BIG ARTIST COMING

On my return to town yesterday, one of my first concerns was to see how the seat sale for the Igor Gorin concert was going.

I was naturally very perturbed to find the response of the general public so poor.

Last year, as you will remember, Mr. Editor, we brought several very good artists to perform for Prince Rupert audiences and the response was very gratifying. It led the members of the Civic Centre executive to feel that Prince Rupert was ready for some of the big artists of the entertainment world. We therefore, after much thought, decided to engage Igor Gorin for the first of this season's guest artists. In doing so we gambled to the tune of $1,500 on getting the support of the music lovers of the city. While having to pay such a high figure for Mr. Gorin's services we have kept the admission price below what would be charged in Vancouver for the same concert. We are very concerned, Mr. Editor, at the response to date. This concert is in the nature of an experiment. Upon the response we receive will depend the class of artist we will be able to bring in future. It will be a serious reflection on our community spirit if Mr. Gorin has to sing to a half empty hall.

Thanking you for this space, I am
R. G. LARGE,

KIN LEADERS ARE INSTALLED

Due to the tragic fire on Tuesday evening, the Kinsmen's dinner meeting at Phil's Cafe, scheduled to start at 8 p.m., did not get under way till 11:30. The meeting opened with the Kinsmen song after which prayer was said by one of the members and dinner was served. After the toast to the King a short business session, principally concerned with financial matters, took place. The club has had a highly successful year but this year's aim was twice as much as last year.

Dudley Little gave a short talk on the convention at Montreal to which he was a delegate. Installation of the officers elected last June took place with William Jarmson of Prince George in the chair. Mr. Jarmson is the deputy governor of the northern District Five Kinsmen's clubs and he addressed the members on Kinsmanship and Education.

This year's slate of officers include:
President, Jack McLeod (re-elected).
Vice-President, Dave Mawhinney.
Secretary, M. Peeke-Vout.
Treasurer, Dudley Little.
The executive includes: George Grant, Alf Yoxall and H. Seaton. Light refreshments were served before the adjournment of the meeting at 2 a.m.

HOW CAN I ??? ?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How should lace be laundered?

A. Lay a sheet of white paper on a flat surface and sprinkle thickly with fine magnesia. Put lace on this coating and sprinkle more magnesia over it. Place another clean sheet of paper over this and weight it down. Allow it to remain for two or three days. Then shake off the powder and the lace will be like new.

Q. How can I remove that faded and worn look from the seams of carpets and rugs?

A. Try using paints or soft crayons of the same shade as the rest of the rug, and touching up the worn places with these.

Q. How should one select pieces of steak?

A. When choosing steak, and other pieces of beef, see that the red meat is elastic and the fat firm and white.

SPECIAL PATROL TRUCKS FOR N.W. COMMUNICATIONS

TORONTO—Specially built for maintenance of the Northwest Communication System's lines along the Alaska Highway between Edmonton and Alaska, the first nine of a fleet of line patrol trucks were officially inspected here Saturday by W. M. Armstrong, general manager of Canadian National Telegraphs, prior to shipment to Edmonton.

The fleet is painted an attractive Morency orange scheme and the National Telegraphs maple leaf crest with the additional identification "Canada - Department of Transport" surrounding it, appears on the cab doors.

The trucks are specially designed to withstand the rigors of the territory. There is approximately 1,800 miles of pole line as well as 18 repeater stations located along the route, and each crew, with its truck, patrols about 100 miles of line.

The Northwest Communication System was constructed by the United States Army during the last war as a component part of the airway and highway route to Alaska. In 1946, the Canadian government took over from the United States the section in Canada and made the R.C.A.F. responsible for the operation and maintenance of the communication system.

In June of the same year, the Department of Transport assumed responsibility for the line and appointed the C. N. Telegraphs as its agent to operate and maintain the system on a commercial basis.

Because of this communication system, the formerly isolated and remote areas are only a matter of minutes from the commercial centres of Canada and the United States and it will, undoubtedly, contribute to the development of the northwest.

THIS AND THAT

"I can't get a maid and I can't get a caddy so what else is there to do?"

SHORT SPORT

Every time Jackie Robinson comes up in the forthcoming World Series the New York Yankees had better brace themselves. If they ever slip and let Robinson start running, it could be a "Pepper Martin" series all over again. It is not difficult to remember how another Yankee team was practically run right out of the park by the Cards of '42.

On the possibility, then, that Robinson might win a game or two by sheer speed and daring, he has to be given the nod over George McQuinn, who hasn't stolen a base. By the same reasoning, the Dodger infield must be rated over that of the Yanks in a sudden death series.

The two short-stop, second base combinations are just about a stand-off. The Brooklynns have a beauty in Pee Wee Reese and Eddie Stanky. The Yanks are more than willing to string along with little Phil Rizzuto and George Stirnweiss.

The only spot at which the Yanks must be conceded an edge is at third, where Billy Johnson outranks Johnny (Spider) Jorgensen, the second rookie in the Brooklyn infield. Johnson out only outthits his hungry-looking young rival, 288 to 273, but he has been around a good while longer and is a steadier fielder.

First meeting of the 120th Coast Battery, which has been in its early formative stage during the last several months, will be held tonight in the Armory, according to Col. S. D. Johnston, M.C., V.D., officer commanding. The meeting will be of an organizational nature. If you've never smoked a burley tobacco, you'd be surprised how it keeps your tongue cool, packs so easily, burns smoothly, and stays lit with a minimum of light-ups. You can smoke it all day long, and still come up for more.

Picobac is the pick of the Burley crop, grown in sunny southern Ontario, where climate and soil are the secret ingredients for a mild, cool, satisfying smoke.

Folks keep asking about those new Chevron signs

And those questions are music to our ears—because we want you to know all about 'em. You see, lots of people appreciate the careful, friendly service they get at independent stations but they don't always know they are locally-owned. So those new Chevron Signs and the distinctive burgundy, cream and green paint jobs on our stations mean that we're independent business-men in the community.

It's mighty important to us that our customers get the finest—so you can be sure we'll continue to handle products like Chevron Supreme Gasoline and RPM Motor Oil. Our services and accessories will be the same high quality, too.

Chevron Gas Stations always honor Standard of B.C. Credit Cards, too. If you haven't applied for one yet, we'll be glad to take your application at any time.

REMEMBER...the same products, the same service, the same folks to serve you

THIS AND THAT

LONDON, Eng., (P)—The Lord Mayor's National Air Raid Disaster Fund has been offered money to build memorial homes for old people bombed out during the blitz.

REICH BATTERED, DEPRESSED TWO YEARS AFTER WAR

DUSSELDORF, Germany, (P)—Two years after the war it is hard to find a town that does not still bear the scars of Germany's defeat from the air or a single German who has confidence in his country's future.

Up and down the industrial Ruhr—through Wuppertal, Essen, Dortmund, Mulheim and Duisburg to Hereford Hannover and Frankfurt in the American zone, I visited a succession of battered towns, some mere skeletons of brick and rubble below which German families exist in cellars.

Here in once-prosperous Dusseldorf 6,000 are living in cellars, 7,000 more in the small, windowless cells that serve as living and sleeping rooms in the big, square concrete shelters. Essen has nearly 15,000 homeless, Dortmund more than 7,000, Mulheim at least 6,000. Even Herford and Hannover, miles outside the Ruhr, have extensive bomb scars.

As in most bombed areas these cities—with the possible exception of Essen and Dortmund—have residential areas that escaped bombing but these, too, are seriously overcrowded with as many as eight and nine families sharing the larger homes.

Lifting Device Aids Truckers

An unusual device designed to facilitate loading of trucks has been attached to one of the heavy Co-op vehicles, and is working satisfactorily, according to the driver. It is a hydraulic tail-gate, which lowers to the ground by hydraulic action, then re-lifts, at the touch of a lever, to the level of the truck platform.

Capable of raising great weight, it is being found useful in loading 200-pound fish boxes and other heavy objects. It can be lowered to any level required by the operator. The device was installed and purchased from Bob Parker Ltd. From the number of demonstrations requested by other truck drivers, it is likely that several more will be ordered throughout the city.

WOKINGHAM, Eng., (P)—Floods in the Thames Valley can be prevented only by vast expenditure, said Lt.-Col. C. D. Burnell, chairman of the Wokingham Council.

POOLE, Eng., (P)—The Golden Hind, Britain's 34-ton flying boat, recently released from B.O.A.C. and spared the breakers' yard, now is for sale to the highest bidder.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

Modern Etiquette By ROBERTA LEE

Q. What is one of the most improper topics of conversation?
A. Discussing illness. The height of social misconduct is to talk of sores, pus, ulcerated teeth, colds, mucus, boils, corns, eczema, or other physical imperfections. It is much better to discuss these subjects only with your doctor.

Q. What should a guest say to her hostess when she leaves a luncheon party?
A. She tells her goodbye and how much she has enjoyed herself.

Q. Should an engaged couple monopolize each other when in public?
A. No; it is very rude and implies jealousy.

Stewart Women of Moose Initiation

STEWART — Women of the Moose held their publicity chapter night program in the Moose home here. A class of three candidates was welcomed into the heart by Senior Regent Mrs. H. A. Stewart. There was an excellent turn-out of members.

Following initiation Chairman Mrs. W. R. Tooth and her committee entertained members and guests with a travelogue contest. Miss Betty McAulay won and Mrs. Dave Geddes carried away the consolation prize. The special gift was won by Mrs. H. McDonald.

Refreshments were served to about 40 ladies, with Mrs. Geddes presiding over her birthday cake.
