MORE RESPONSE TO T.B. SEALS

Two thousand and twelve Christmas letters went into the Prince Rupert post office Saturday for distribution as far north as Stewart and Hyder, as far east as Smithers and to the cannery settlements of the coast as well as to householders of Prince Rupert city. Within the envelopes were T.B. seals with the familiar double-barred cross, almost as closely associated with the Canadian Christmas as the evergreen tree and the holly.

RATIONING IN CANADA

Minister of Finance Non-Committal on Price Control—No Unemployment Foreseen

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Douglas Abbott, minister of finance, said yesterday he could not state definitely whether price control and rationing would be reintroduced in Canada as a result of import restrictions imposed to conserve United States dollars.

At a press conference, Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction, who will have charge of the new program, said he did not anticipate unemployment would result from the government's restrictions on imports. There was every incentive for industry to expand rather than contract.

On the second day of the campaign this year $210 had been turned in to the committee. For the same period last year only $37 had been returned. Chairman Pierre LeRoss is taking this as an indication that the people of this northwest area are out to set a new high mark in this the twenty-first anniversary of T.B. seal sales in Canada.

GOLD STOCKS REVERT AFTER PRICE BOOST

Gold stocks, which shot sharply upward on Tuesday following the government announcement that the price of gold mined in the year ending June 30 is to be boosted from $35 to $42 an ounce, retired to their Monday levels as the industry began to assess the significance of the increase to mine operators.

Designed to stimulate production by making surpluses available to the mine operators, the move temporarily sent stocks upward but a study of production difficulties, many of which are tied up with labor costs, reverted the market price of gold stocks to the Monday levels.

FRUIT GROWERS ARE ALARMED

Loss of British Preference May Be Damaging to Industry, 'Tis Feared

KELOWNA (CP)—Fruit growers registered initial alarm over reports that the Dominion's new trade agreements involved a loss of preference in the British market.

A. K. Lloyd, president and general manager of British Columbia Tree Fruits Ltd., said "With the elimination of the British preferential market, it simply means that the fruit industry will revert to the days around 1935 when there was cutthroat competition."

Growers and dealers said they feared the effect would be to place Canadian apples on a par in both domestic and foreign markets with United States grown fruit. They said, however, that the loss of the British market might be compensated for to some extent by the acquisition of new markets in European countries which have lowered their tariffs on Canadian fruit.

WEDDING REHEARSAL

Final Rehearsal Today—Abbey Is Sealed and Guarded

LONDON (CP)—Last day before the eagerly awaited wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten dawned murky today with a chilling rain falling on a grey London. However, unsettled weather could not dim the enthusiasm of workmen putting the final touches on street decorations and Westminster adornments or daunt the determination of many hundreds of thousands to see just as much of the great day's happenings as they possibly can.

The key event for the wedding eve was a rehearsal at 5 p.m.—complete in all details down to the wedding ring of beaten Welsh gold. The King, Elizabeth, Philip and the wedding attendants all took part along with the Archbishops of Canterbury and York and other ecclesiastical dignitaries assisting in the performance of the rites.

Westminster Abbey is already closed to the public and, after the rehearsals, was "sealed" by Scotland Yard with all-night guards posted. The guards were doubled today in all Whitehall offices, scrutinizing with the utmost thoroughness all who enter—casual visitors, government officials, civil servants and even cabinet ministers.

Princess Elizabeth attended a tea party at St. James Palace this afternoon and showed five rooms of wedding gifts to the visitors. The Princess had no further engagements for tonight.

Already crowds are lining the route of the wedding procession. Standing room space is selling at $100 per person.

Austerity...

AUSTERITY they may call it but, taking the dimmest view possible of the prohibitions and restrictions placed on Canadian buying and living habits under the government's dollar-saving program, there is a long way yet to go in the cramping of living standards before the people of this country will be doing any real suffering.

We may have to put up a little longer with things we have already, change our buying ways a bit, deny ourselves a few things if we are to make ends meet on our personal budgets but, on the whole, it will amount to little more than getting back toward wholesome thrift after the splurge we have been having the last few years.

In fact, it will be a good experience for the most of us and, with no one really suffering from the things we are denied, we can well accept the suggestion of the Prime Minister that we look beyond the temporary adjustments, even if they might seem a little distasteful, toward the wider horizons and the long-run objectives on the road to which the new restrictions are only passingly incidental.

We have come through many worse things than these restrictions can possibly present in the way of trials or discomfort.

ORGANIZING MERCHANTS

THE MOVE of local retail merchants to reorganize an association is to be welcomed. Healthy competition by way of vying to give the public service and value does not remove the desirability of getting together to settle on certain common methods of practice and service.

Often matters come up in which the merchants are mutually interested and there is inconvenience, embarrassment and misunderstanding through having no central body representative of all which can get together from time to time to deal with such matters and make decisions.

IN NELSON'S MEMORY

AN EIGHT-ROOMED MANSION in Britain known as the Nelson Estate may soon fall to the highest bidder. It is costing more and more to keep as it should be kept and the increasing expense is too much. The Nelsons are the direct descendants of the victor of Trafalgar.

An appeal is now being made to save the estate for the nation. The land consists of 3,500 acres. Relics and reminders of the life and deeds of the admiral are numerous and of priceless value. It is indeed right that the memory of the man whose genius and devotion led to British naval supremacy for a century should be revered forever.

But it does not follow that the same reverence need apply to those who, later, can claim kinship. After all, they are just people bearing the name of Nelson. The relics of a national hero can be taken care of in fewer than eighty rooms. Times have changed. The bread and butter question—restoration of prosperity—count today. It is possible to think just as much of Horatio as ever and at greatly decreased cost.

TRADE AND COMMUNISM

IN A RECENT ISSUE of "The Tribune", a Toronto Communist paper, there is an article on trade and trade expansion. It tries to point out that we are losing a golden opportunity and endangering our future by failure to open up trade with "the new democracies"—Russia and her satellites.

Here is the way the Tribune puts it:

"There is an alternative for Canada—the only road to trade and peace—and that is, while naturally preserving trade with the Americas, to break away from U.S. domination by sending missions to the U.S.S.R. and the European states, ('that is the satellites') to conclude mutually profitable trade agreements; to take the initiative in calling a Commonwealth economic conference where the resources of the Dominions and Britain can be used to help to build up the new democracies, ('Russia, Yugoslavia and Albania') by selling our goods to them and importing from them."

Now this would all be very delightful if Russia believed in trading with other nations but Russia has peculiar conceptions in regard to trade. Never have we been able to do an important import or export business with that country, whether under the Czars or under the "new democracies" of Messrs. Stalin, Vishinsky and Tito.

From 1869, which is about as far back as our trade returns go, and coming down to the beginning of the war in 1939, there was only one single year in which our imports from Russia amounted to over a million dollars and only nineteen years in which our exports to that country amounted to over a million dollars. Trade with Russia almost dropped out of sight between 1931 and 1939—exports in one year fell to $1,201.

In the same period from 1869 to 1939 our total imports from all countries expanded from $63,000,000 to $658,000,000. Exports grew from $56,300,000 to $970,000,000.

Smiles and Chuckles

That shrill shriek of laughter came from the fellow who saw the bureaucrats' simplified income tax form.

Mrs. Knowitall: "It is best for a girl to marry an economical man, you know."

Daughter: "I dare say, mother. But it's awfully trying to be engaged to one."

Two little boys had just heard the story of William Tell for the first time.

"Do you really think he shot the apple?" asked one.

"Naw," said the other, "I think he shot the bull."

Proud of having a new arrival in his home, little Johnnie announced to his school teacher that he had a new sister and she had cost more than a hundred dollars.

"Goodness," the teacher replied, "isn't that a lot of money for a tiny baby?"

"Yes, but think how long they last!" was Johnnie's reply.

They tell this story about a politically appointed worker in one of our larger cities. He had just finished a leisurely meal and was perusing the newspaper when his wife exclaimed: "Had you better be getting back to the office?"

"You're right," he replied. "You know, for a minute I thought I was at the office."

USELESS

All professors are supposed to be absent-minded, but this one was worse than usual. He was out one day and vaguely remembered that he had to get his wife some preserving jars. He walked into a shop and saw some displayed upside-down on a counter. He looked at them and said, "Absolutely useless. The things have no mouths."

Then he picked one up and looked at the other end.

"Absurd," he muttered. "Absolutely absurd. They have no bottoms, either."

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

November 20, 1922
S. D. Macdonald, president of the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council, was appointed to the B.C. executive of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. There were four other members from Vancouver, Nelson and Victoria.

A torrent of water which poured down the cliff at the south side of the City Hall wandered from its regular course and flowed in the door of the jail Chief of Police W. H. Vickers, his constables and the prisoners used tin cans and buckets to keep ahead of the flood.

Mayor Harry Rochester returned from a trip to Victoria on the Prince Rupert. He had been in the south attending a convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities of which he was an executive member. He declined to say whether he planned to run for office in 1923.

SYDNEY, Australia. (P)—Australia is beginning to turn her excessive rabbit population into something more than a liability. During 1945 and 1946 she exported 28,558,000 pounds of rabbit skins and one factory alone cans 2,000 carcasses a day.

PUP'S LITTER PUZZLES

IPSWICH, Eng. (P)—The case of a three-month old pup giving birth to five perfectly formed puppies, each about one inch long, has veterinary experts puzzled.

HITCHIN, Hertfordshire, Eng. (P)—A rare specimen of an English chain-driven watch, discovered in a crevice of a mountain wall, was returned to the workshop where it was made 140 years ago.

AFRICAN CIVICS

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika, (P)—With arrival of a town planning expert from the United Kingdom, Tanganyika Territory is planning a program of township development.

"Here's something I have often thought about," remarked the Old Timer this morning. "Have you ever noticed that, in efforts at planned economy, there is a new emergency requiring 'temporary measures' of more planning, arising almost every day?"

"It happened over and over again in the days when the Nazis were getting under way in Germany and when the Fascists were taking over Italy. New emergencies were always arising, and new decrees for their solution followed as a matter of course, usually excused as just temporary. But they always remained in force."

"It happened too in the early days of Mr. Roosevelt's administration in the United States, the days when the 'New Deal' was blossoming, and all the theoretical economists and college professors were called in to establish a planned economy. It was just one emergency after another, until finally the whole thing just about blew up, and Mr. Roosevelt went back to his original belief that free enterprise, within limits, would operate to take care of most of the country's difficulties."

"You can see it happening in England now where the planners are in charge—always a new emergency, a new 'temporary' measure to meet it, and the freedom of the people being whittled away more and more every day."

"All in the best of intentions, of course—like that easy grade on the road to hell."

"I've yet to see a planned economy anywhere in the world that I would like to live in."

(The views of the Old Timer are presented weekly in this newspaper under the sponsorship of the British Columbia Federation of Trade and Industry). F-18

Goldeyes Gift for Winter Fair Banquet

— A distinguished visitor dropped from the sky yesterday in front of the Winter Fair's main hall. They came in a four-engine Sikorsky helicopter and the trip from Malton Air Base took exactly seven minutes. They were 50 Winnipeg Goldeyes, the scarcest fish on the market, and they were flown by Trans-Canada Air Lines. Mr. Norther, president of the Winter Fair, and a representative of the T.C.A., to commemorate the inauguration of the grain championship in grain at the fair this year. Goldeyes will be served to the opening-day banquet.

ROYAL WEDDING CAKE—Here is an overall view of the four-tier wedding cake, left, made by Huntley and Palmer, famed British cake makers, for the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten on Thursday. The cake bears portraits of incidents in the lives of the couple and is made from ingredients from many parts of the Empire. At left, top, one side of the cake which bears Mountbatten's monogram, "P.M." Below, the royal heraldic symbol of Elizabeth's.

End of World, But Not Soon

Disintegration of Universe in Million Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The end of the universe through a gradual scattering of all matter through cold space is seen as a possibility by Harvard's famed astronomer, Dr. Harlow Shapely. But don't get excited.

Our own system of planets hasn't even started to go into this cosmic spread-formation and Shapely is thinking in terms of millions of years.

His view is that creation may be slowly dying by "negative gravitation"—A cosmic force which already has caused many distant galaxies (star systems) to fly apart.

"At the same time," Shapely said in the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution, "through the operation of the laws of thermo-dynamics, the heat of the stars is going out into the coldness of space.

"The universe is steadily approaching the heat-death—a coldness near absolute zero in an empty world."

Absolute zero is 273 degrees below zero centigrade. But the astronomer offered this comforting thought: Although the stars—like our own sun—radiate plenty of free heat into space, they have built-in subatomic-energy "stoves" which will enable them to replace the lost heat a thousandfold for millions of years to come.

Getting back to cosmic scattering, Shapely holds that most of the hundred-billion odd galaxies—far distant from our own "milky way" galaxy—are flying away from one another with enormous velocities, which eventually may bring about "infinite dissipation" of all the bodies that go to make up the universe.

FILM BAD BOY TO BE MARRIED

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Victor Mature, former bad boy of Hollywood, is on the brink of marriage.

Vic, who has eschewed night-clubbing and publicity-grabbing since his return from the Coast-guard, apparently has gotten over his torch for Rita Hayworth and has found the girl he wants to marry. She is Dorothy Berry from Pasadena, and she isn't in the film business. Vic says they'll tie the knot "if she'll have me."

The actor is the pride of 20th-Fox these days due to "Kiss of Death." After "Ballad of Fur-nace Cheek," he's set for "The Chair For Martin Rome," "Strictly Dishonorable" and "Road House." The former "Beautiful Hunk" is a changed man.

REDDY KILOWATT — Your Electric Servant

"Isn't it wonderful?"

"Any wife who takes pride in her housekeeping would rave over a sparkling new automatic electric range. Cooking is such a pleasure—cooler, cleaner and more dependable than the old-fashioned cook stove."

"It takes just a few moments and very little 'elbow grease' to keep an electric range in brand new condition. There's no soot or smoky flame to blacken range or pans."

"Yes sir, electric cooking is economical... It costs less than 1/2¢ per meal, per person. And think of the saving in time and labour!"

The Experts Say

ECONOMY FIRST — Higher prices are playing hob with family budgets, and nowadays "economy first" has become the slogan of the Canadian housewife.

Buying for the small family always has been a problem and when it comes to choosing a chicken for Sunday dinner, home economists suggest picking a small bird. Right now there are a number of these on the market and they have been termed an "excellent buy."

A small fowl—three to 3½ lbs.—will make satisfying servings of pot pie or chicken with dumplings for one meal for two persons. And there will be enough left over for a hot chicken mould, a delicious dish for a company meal of four.

Hot Creamed Chicken Mould
Ingredients: three tablespoons flour; one cup milk (or ½ cup milk or ½ cup milk and ½ cup chicken stock); salt and pepper; one cup cooked fowl; two tablespoons chopped green pepper or pimento ½ cup minced canned pressed meat; ½ cup soft bread crumbs; two eggs.

Melt fat and blend in flour. Gradually add milk or milk and stock. Cook this over hot water, stirring constantly, until thick. Season with salt and pepper. Cool slightly, then add chicken, pressed meat and crumbs. Add beaten eggs. Pour into individual greased moulds. Place in pan of warm water and open poach in moderate oven about 45 minutes, until set. When set, a knife inserted in the centre of the mixture will come out clean.

If your family is going to appreciate the gravy you make, better be sure it's dark and smooth and full of meaty flavor. Several rules must be followed if the gravy is to be just right in consistency and flavor. When the meat is cooked it should be removed from the pan to a hot platter and kept warm in the oven with the heat off, or in a warming oven.

All excess fat must be poured from the pan before flour is added. Otherwise, the gravy will have floating fat which makes it unappetizing.

For each cup of gravy required there should be two tablespoons of fat left in the pan. For the average family two cups of gravy is sufficient for generous servings.

Brown Gravy — One-quarter cup fat; one-quarter cup flour; two cups water; salt and pepper. Pour excess fat from the roasting pan, leaving one-quarter of a cup. Add flour and cook, stirring constantly, until flour becomes liquid brown, but not burned. Remove pan from direct heat and add cold liquid. Return to low heat and cook, stirring constantly, until gravy boils and thickens. Season to taste. Makes to cups gravy.

Milk Gravy — Use milk as all or part of the liquid. Serve with roast poultry, veal or pork, chops or cutlets.

Giblet Gravy — Add finely-chopped, cooked, steamed or baked giblets to brown or milk gravy. Serve with roast poultry.

Onion Gravy — Add one-half cup raw onion to fat in pan. Cook until clear and golden brown, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Add flour and proceed as for brown gravy. Serve with roast beef, baked heart, baked or fried liver, or meat loaf.

Cyclist Collides With Automobile

Sydney Gulbrandsen, 16-year-old cyclist, escaped injury but the front wheel of his bicycle was bent when he collided with a car driven by Robert Parker at the corner of Third Avenue and Fifth Street Monday morning. The lad was travelling north on Fifth Street when he collided with the car which was travelling east on Third Avenue. He was thrown from the wheel but, apparently, was uninjured.

Reminiscences
By W.J. and Reflections

Pre-election days in Prince Rupert years ago were feverish, speculative and full of peppery small talk. Nearly everyone had something up in the way of a wager. To gradually develop a sort of good-natured excitement was recognized as a public duty. By nomination day, the municipal polling pot would start faintly simmering. Another few days and it would come to a boil. And the few final meetings would see packed and perspiring meetings, candidates galloping down the home finish, cheerful and, perhaps happy. Anyway, part of the electorate would be that way on the morrow.

For the next few weeks, this port will not see a familiar vessel with two tri-colored funnels gliding along the harbor and hear the blast of the siren as it goes echoing back among the hills. For the steamer Prince Rupert is being given her annual overhaul. There is something about a ship, when you've been seeing and hearing her, and often thinking of her, and can look back on so many jolly hours aboard her for more than thirty years, that just naturally converts her into an old and trusted friend. When she fails to appear, you miss her.

Mines, made and distributed by Japan, will sooner or later be arriving along the coasts of Alaska, British Columbia and the Pacific States. It is said about 50,000 were sent out and, of this number, so far as British Columbia is concerned, less than a dozen have been destroyed. The war ended two years ago.

It is a situation that means indefinite peril, yet a menace to be accepted in a matter of course spirit. There will be the every day risk of living—only a little more so. Meanwhile, eternal vigilance will continue as the price of reducing the danger from a threat by no means temporary or of negligible consequences.

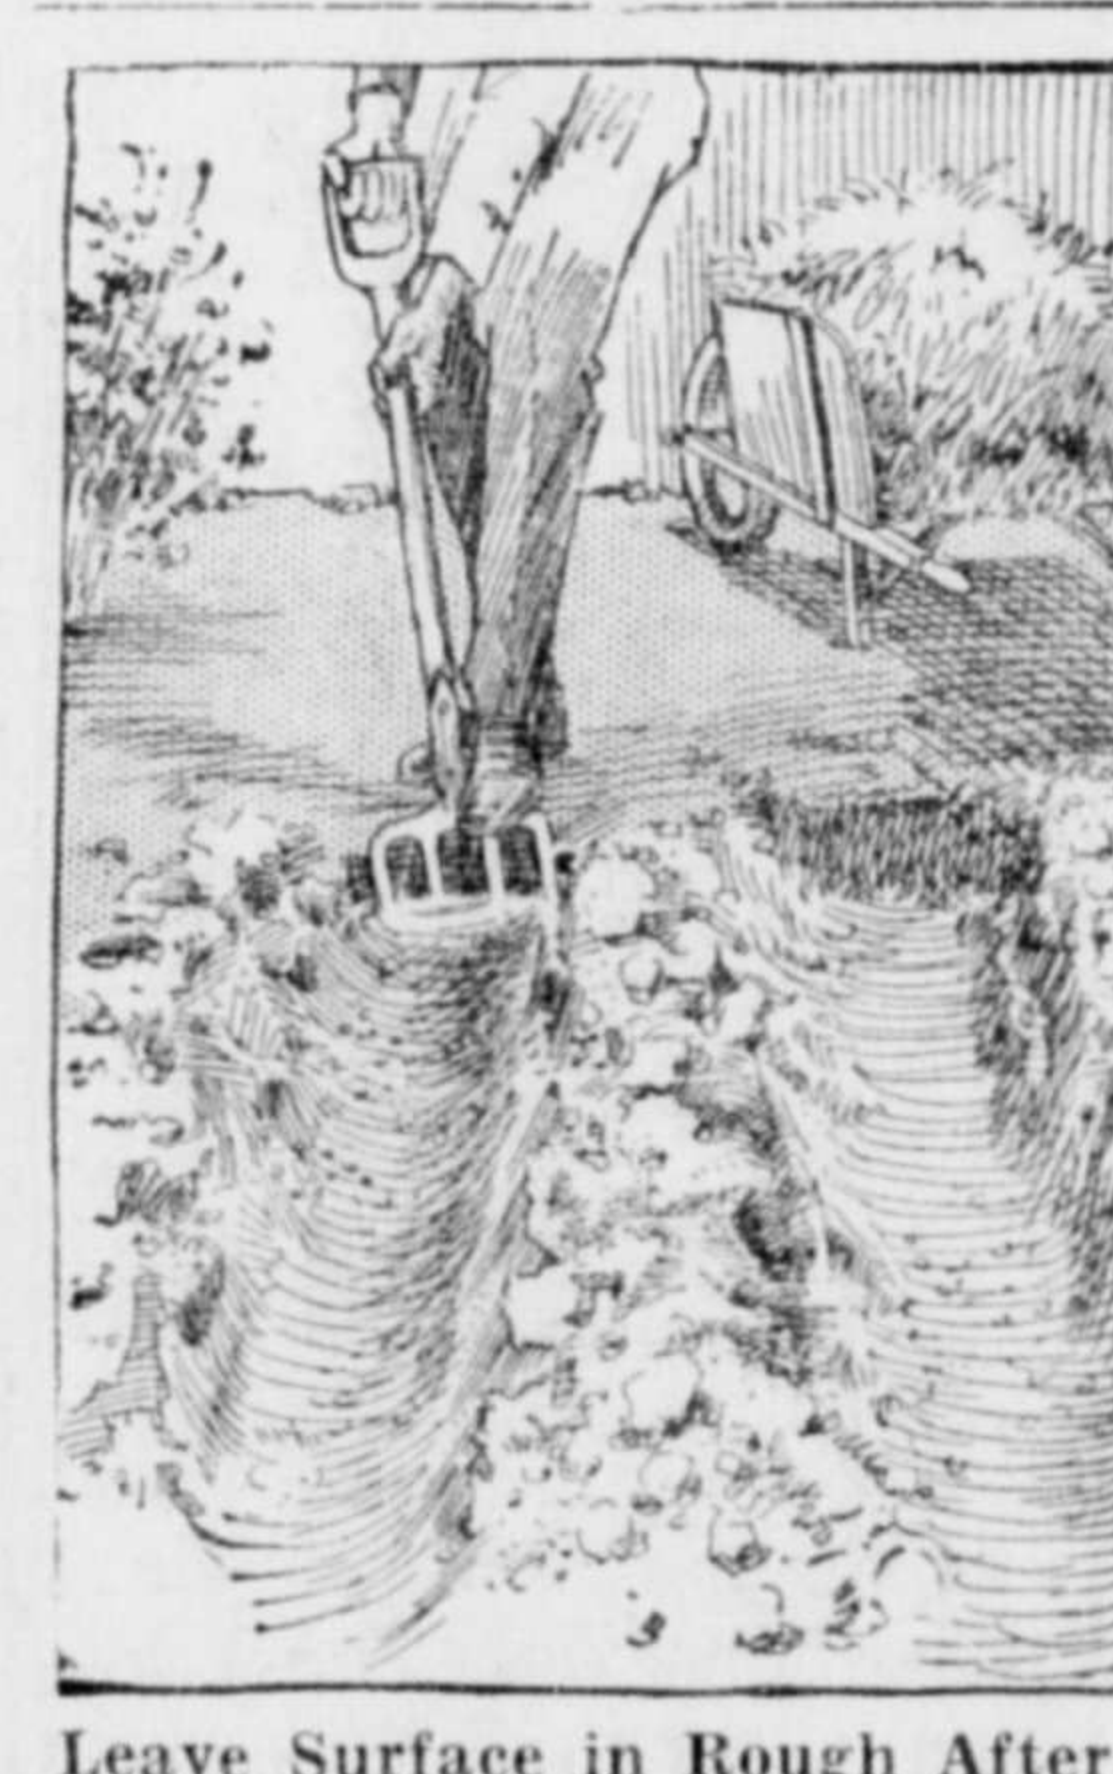

Gardens which are spaded this fall can be sown to this cover crop, and this is a good practice when manure is to be spaded under or sod turned. The rye will give protection against erosion. But since spring spading will also be necessary to turn under the rye, little is gained by spading a garden where a cover crop is to be grown unless there is some material to be spaded under.

Fall is the best time to spade under limestone screenings, which are excellent for loosening heavy soils. There is little danger of using too much and a quantity as small as four pounds to 100 square feet will be effective.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

FALL SPADING IS GOOD FOR GARDEN FREE FROM EROSION

Study of the serious damage to garden top soils caused by erosion has brought doubt about the value of fall spading in many cases. Plots which are not level, where the newly turned soil might be washed out by heavy rains, may be more harmed than benefited. Where this danger is not present, fall spading is beneficial for heavy soil and in cases where sod is turned under or manure spaded in. When practiced, the surface should not be levelled or raked after spading, but left in rough condition with small hills and hollows.

Frost action will tend to break down and loosen heavy soils and the uneven surface

CREDIT UNIONS ARE EXPLAINED

Operations of Prince Rupert's two co-operative credit unions and the co-operative health services society were outlined at a public meeting attended by 30 in the Civic Centre Tuesday evening by Harold Daykin of the University Extension department and George Vierick, treasurer of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Credit union.

The direct control of policy exercised by shareholders both in the credit unions and the health society was stressed by both speakers who urged the audience to acquaint others with the benefits of these co-operative enterprises.

The co-operative health services society, which was organized a year ago, provides maximum benefits of $500 in any one year in case of sickness or accident to members or their dependent Mr. Vierick said.

While health society had paid out approximately $400 more in benefits than it had received in premiums from Prince Rupert members during the last year, this was due to the fact that the majority of the members had transferred from an existing health service group, Mr. Vierick explained. He appealed for more members to strengthen the Prince Rupert section of the society which has its head office at Vancouver.

Membership in Prince Rupert stands at more than 60, practically all of whom are employees of the Fishermen's Co-op.

Credit Unions Showing Growth

Notable growth of both the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Credit Union and the Kaien Consumers' Credit Union were emphasized by Harold Daykin in his explanation of their operations. In seven years of operation, he said, the Fishermen's credit union has made 585 loans totalling $209,000, all of which had been repaid.

At present, the fisherman's credit union has some $200,000 on deposit, $50,000 of which is always readily available for withdrawal.

Interest rate on deposits is 1½ per cent, while interest on shares is 3 per cent a year. Average loan taken out during the years of operation of the union has been $300.

Mr. Daykin accented the membership-control aspect of the credit unions and explained a newly instituted plan under which members of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Credit Union living in Vancouver can now use the facilities of Vancouver credit unions for withdrawal of funds. This, he said, provided a convenience for the fishermen during the winter months.

CONRAD STREET P.T. MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Conrad Street Parent-Teachers' Association was held last night in the school with over 50 in attendance. Mr. Thom was chairman for the business session. Mrs. J. H. Black then gave an interesting account of the national convention which she attended in New Brunswick. She pointed out the vastness of the Home and School clubs which are called Parent-Teacher Association here in British Columbia. Sergeant Potterton showed three of his reels of colored film. All were delighted with these pictures. The vice-president, Gordon Durkin, has been transferred to Regina and regrets were expressed at such a fine P.T.A. worker leaving. Martin Stewart was appointed as Mr. Durkin's successor. After the meeting was adjourned all enjoyed delicious refreshments, under Mrs. King's convenship.

Dr. R. M. Lane, director of the Prince Rupert health unit, is leaving tomorrow by car on a routine visit to Terrace.

Latest from Portland Canal Mining Centre

A two day walk-out at Silbak Premier Mine was ended to the satisfaction of all concerned when the men returned to work on Saturday morning. It appears that an extra $2 assessment was asked from the men by the local of the Union and while the company was willing to make the payroll deduction, they insisted that the men's signatures, authorizing the deduction, be obtained first. The Union officials, apparently, did not want to do this and called the men out.

About 18 inches of snow has fallen during the past week and the snow now made its first trip to Silbak Premier Mine on Monday. The thermometer dropped to 22 degrees above zero.

Toni Mariotti bought a young bull and not knowing what to do with it he thought he had better raffle it. He did so and it was won by Mrs. Sparks of Prince Rupert, whose husband, by the way, operates a butcher shop there. Meantime Tony got lonesome and repurchased the bull. So Tony got rid of the Bull and still has it.

J. O. LeFrancois, general manager of the Gold Drop Mines Limited, left for Montreal on the Coquitlam. He expects to return early in the spring to resume operation.

TENDERFOOT BURNS HIS FOLDING MONEY TO KEEP WARM ON TRAIL

STEWART—Considerable excitement and worry was occasioned by the attempt of a tenderfoot, Clare Leinen, to make the journey over the Salmon Glacier to the Morris Summit Mine in the lookout for a job.

Leinen, who is a recent arrival in this district, against the advice of old timers, left here clad in the lightest of clothing and very inadequate footwear and no food or bedding. Last Thursday the thermometer went down to 22 degrees above zero and, after two days had elapsed, fears were entertained as to his safety.

Constable George Nelson, accompanied by Bill Rudell, trapper, and Tony Mariotti left for the Glacier to search for the missing man. On their way in they met Leinen returning from his abortive attempt.

The first night out he managed to get a fire started by using every scrap of paper in his pockets and this included cash. The next day he ran across one of the Morris Summit Cabins, which are always kept supplied with food and oil, and was thus able to cook himself a meal. Fortunately for himself, he decided that he could not make it and turned back for Stewart.

MUTUAL LEADER HONOURED

RICHARD SEPHTON

The Mutual Life of Canada has released its Honours List, recognizing Mr. Richard Sephton for outstanding service to his community in the Club Year recently closed. He has again qualified for membership in the Company's senior production group, the Quarter Million Club. Mr. Sephton had the distinction of being the third highest producer in the Company, and is a member of the Executive Committee of the Club.

Qualification for Club membership requires not only the writing of a large volume of new business, but, more important, the writing from year to year of "quality" business, that is, life insurance that is continued in force. These two factors, combined with a high personal standard of confidential service to policyholders, earn for Mutual Life representatives membership in the production clubs. (adv)

GEORGE HILL PASSES AWAY

George Hill, one of Prince Rupert's pioneer business men who had operated a shoe store and repair business in the city for the last thirty-five years, died in Prince Rupert General Hospital Tuesday night at the age of 69 after a lingering illness. He was a prominent Mason.

Active in the business life of the community since coming here in 1913, he was a quiet man of many friends. He was a past master of Tyee Lodge A.F. & A.M., and this year was district Deputy Grand Master of the order. He was also a member of the Rotary Club, which he joined three years ago.

Mr. Hill was born at Newport, Monmouthshire, Wales, on October 10, 1878, and recently he commented that he had passed his "apprenticeship" period in the shoe making and retailing business after being active in it for 50 years.

In his early youth, he shipped aboard a vessel from Wales and sailed around the world before returning to learn the shoe business.

He was married in Newport before coming to Canada first in 1909. At that time he worked at Saskatoon, Lethbridge and Nelson but returned to Wales late in 1911. He came back to Canada in 1913 with his family, settling in Prince Rupert.

Mr. Hill started his first business on the site of what is now Superior store, later moving to a building near the present John Bulger Jewelry store. At one time he was a partner in the Family Shoe Store. He left the partnership, however, and re-entered business alone at his present site on Third Avenue, near Sixth Street.

A kindly man of even disposition, Mr. Hill had many friends in the city and it was said of him that he had never been known to say an unkind word of anyone.

He is survived by his wife and six children, three sons, Willis Henry (Buster), George, Jr., and Trevor H. all of Prince Rupert, and three daughters, Mrs. A. C. Kenney, of Glendale, California, Mrs. C. R. Taylor, of Vancouver, and Miss Phyllis Hill, of Prince Rupert. All are in the city at the present time.

Masonic rites will precede the funeral which will be held at St. Andrew's Cathedral Friday afternoon.

CALVERT · 1622 MEN OF VISION LOGAN · 1845

Over a century ago, William Edmond Logan discovered much of Dominion's mineral resources. Pioneering as Chief Geologist of the Geological Survey of Canada, Logan's explorations hastened the development of today's great mining industry. Sir William Logan's eminence as geologist, metallurgist and international fame as father of Canadian science.

In 1845 LOGAN said:
"It Will Become a Great Country"

In 1622 CALVERT said:
"The Land Will Yield Many Things"

Far back in the 17th Century, Calvert foresaw the development of the New World. "My resolution is to build," he wrote: "The commencement of industry is near."

Famed English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, Calvert founded historic colonies in the early 1600's. "Encourage the building of this country," he urged his settlers:

"Be partners . . . preserve unity and good government."
Man of Vision 300 years ago, Calvert's ideals of unity have been shared by all men of vision through the generations since Calvert's time.

The full measure of our status as a nation depends upon unity of purpose. There is only one Canada for clear-headed Canadians.
