Coastal Ship Tie-up Looms This Week

Further British Cabinet Reorganization Being Made

Minister Shinwell Coming Down in Shake-up

LONDON (CP)—The London Star reported late that Prime Minister Attlee has removed Fuel Minister Shinwell, chairman of the Labor party, from cabinet in a large-scale government shake-up. He will become minister for war a job which will carry cabinet rank and which puts him under the immediate supervision of Defence Minister A. V. Alexander, the Star said.
Composition of the inner cabinet—Attlee, Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison, Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin, Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton and Sir Stafford Cripps, minister of economic affairs, is unaltered.
The Star reports that Shinwell's deputy in the fuel ministry, youthful Hugh Gaitskill, might be moved into Shinwell's position or some higher job.

Prince Rupert Home Port

New Steamer Prince George Is Registered Out of Here
Prince Rupert remains the official home port for Canadian National Coast Steamships. This policy became evident yesterday afternoon as the fine new liner Prince George slid down the ways for her launching at the Yarrow's yard. Under the "Prince George" on her stern, she carried "Prince Rupert," indicating the port of registry.
At the launching of the 5700-ton vessel, first large passenger vessel to be constructed in Canada in the past 25 years, Mrs. Lionel Chevrier, wife of the federal minister of transport, carried out the christening in the traditional manner.
George Murray represented the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at the launching.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
A storm centre off the Washington coast was causing overcast skies over Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland areas this morning and cloudy skies across the southern interior. Occasional light rain now along the Washington coast will spread to the southern British Columbia coast.
Clear skies now over the northern interior will continue today. Cloudy skies over the north coast will become overcast during the afternoon in advance of an intense storm centre in the western Gulf of Alaska. This storm will bring gale force winds and rain to the northern coast late today with the clouds extending to the interior Wednesday.
Overnight temperatures were again well below freezing at most interior points with near freezing temperatures expected again this evening. Daytime temperatures will continue unchanged.
Forecast
Prince Rupert, Charlottes and North Coast—Cloudy, frequently overcast this morning. Overcast this afternoon, overnight and Wednesday morning, becoming cloudy thereafter. Intermittent rain during the afternoon, becoming continuous tonight and Wednesday morning. Showery thereafter.
Winds southeast, 15 m.p.h., increasing to southeast 35 m.p.h., gusty tonight and Wednesday morning, shifting to westerly 25 thereafter. Little change in temperature. Lows tonight and high Wednesday: Port Hardy 48 and 55, Massett 48 and 55, Prince Rupert 50 and 55.

Morrow of Sandspit has appointed a justice of the peace according to an announcement published in latest edition of the B. C. Gazette. Morning timekeeper for Pacific Queen Charlotte Island.

DISPLACED PERSONS ARRIVE IN HALIFAX—Headed for employment in Ontario lumber camps are 832 Ukrainian, Polish, Yugoslav and Lithuanian displaced persons who arrived in Halifax, N.S., aboard the General M. B. Stewart. Some of them are photographed as they waited to go ashore.

Anscomb Comments On Coalition Continuation

Should Be Respect of Principles and No Perpetual Advantage to Either Party—Conservatives Made It Possible

VICTORIA (CP)—The Progressive Conservative party favors continuation of the coalition government of British Columbia "on the basis that principles, obligations and responsibilities of the partnership are respected in every way and that no perpetual advantage to either party is to be taken for granted," said Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb when interviewed here today concerning the future of the coalition government.
Mr. Anscomb declined very definitely to be drawn into any further discussion.
The finance minister expressed sincere regret at Mr. Hart's retirement.
"The Progressive Conservative party is the one that made coalition possible and Mr. Hart's elevation to the premiership," Mr. Anscomb declared. "The party's main object, first and foremost, has been to serve the public good."

Bulletins

ECONOMIC CHANGES
QUEBEC—Canada faces "new and sharp adjustments and compromises" said the annual report of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce submitted today to the eighteenth annual meeting by Executive Secretary D. L. Morrell, Montreal. "We may be forced with economic readjustments which have been deferred from the immediate postwar years and a degree of belt-tightening may be necessary," the report said.

TO DEFENCE BOARD
WASHINGTON—President Truman today announced appointment of Dean Acheson as United States chairman of the International Joint Defence Board, succeeding the late Fiorella LaGuardia.

PILOTLESS PLANE
LYNEHAM, England—Guided only by a "mechanical brain" which piloted it to a safe landing two weeks ago, a Skymaster plane of the United States Army Air Force droned its way westward across the Atlantic today on the return leg of a history-making flight. Aboard the plane are Col. James Gillespie and a crew of ten. "Unless something goes wrong, no human hands will touch the controls of the ship," Gillespie said.

Saint John and Prince Rupert Unite in Resolution on Ports

Saint John, New Brunswick, Board of Trade and Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce will be joint sponsors of a resolution seeking fuller and more efficient use of all Canadian ports in the flow of world goods which will come before the annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce which is being held in Quebec City this week.

CITY LOT VALUES DOWN 'SLIGHTLY'

A man called at the City Treasurer's office in the City Hall Monday and enquired about the assessed value of two lots on Third Avenue just west of McBride Street. Clerk R. W. Long obligingly searched the assessment roll for the figures.
"One lot is assessed at $1000 and the other at $2000."
"No," replied the man, "I'm not figuring on buying them. I used to own them. I paid $15,000 for those lots in 1910 and kept up the taxes for years. They have dropped in value slightly, haven't they?"

MARINE ENGINEERS' WALK-OUT SET FOR THURSDAY

VANCOUVER (CP)—Threat of a crippling transportation tie-up hangs over British Columbia today as 140 British Columbia marine engineers prepare to walk off 36 coastal vessels beginning noon Thursday and street railwaymen in the province's three major cities take a government-supervised strike vote tomorrow.

Whaling to Be Revived

VANCOUVER (CP)—The province's once-rich whaling industry, dormant since 1943, is expected to begin operations next spring following formation of the Western Whaling Corporation, it was learned yesterday. The new company will take over the old whaling station at Rose Harbor in the Queen Charlotte Islands. The company comprises a joint operation of a number of coastal fishing concerns.

German Industry Is Crippled By Drought

BERLIN—According to General Lucius Clay, Germany's worst drought in a century has crippled economy in the American zone.
Hydro-electric output has been cut 22 per cent and crop prospects are slashed up to 40 per cent. Inland water transportation has been cut almost one-half.

INTERNATIONAL PROJECT TO AID IN RESCUE AT SEA — BASE AT Q. C. I.

To seek out a suitable site, possibly in the vicinity of Cape St. James at the southernmost tip of the Queen Charlotte Islands, for one of four "Sofar" air-sea long range rescue signal stations which are being installed under international auspices at widely separated points in the North Pacific Ocean, the United States fleet naval tug U.S.S. Hidatsa left Prince Rupert this morning after a two-day stay in port following her arrival from Sitka. The project in which the Hidatsa is playing a preliminary part represents something entirely new in the development of detection measures for rescue at sea for ships and aircraft.

THIS TUESDAY NOT MEATLESS

President Truman's Appeal But Fuller Observance of Is Anticipated
NEW YORK (CP)—Butcher shops throughout the country were open and active and restaurants were serving meat in spite of the request of President Truman that Tuesdays be observed as meatless days in order to conserve food for Europe. However, it is explained that arrangements had already been made for the selling and serving of meat this Tuesday and later it is expected there will be a more general falling in line.
In his appeal Sunday night for food conservation, the president also announced that the government "will demand of grain exchanges" that they increase their down payment requirements on grain futures tradings to at least one-third.

Canada's Soldiers Interment Orders

OTTAWA—The Canadian Army has issued long and explicit instructions for the funeral and burial of members of Canada's postwar army who died while still serving. The order is designed to alleviate as much as possible the grief and suffering of next-of-kin. To this end the remains of soldiers who die in Canada or in the United States will be conveyed to any point in these countries dependent on the wishes of relatives. The choice of a military or private funeral depends on next-of-kin.
Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Youngs returned to the city on the Princess Adelaide Monday night from Vancouver where Mr. Youngs attended the executive sessions of the British Columbia Liberal Association last week.

WHAT NEWSPAPERS DO

BESIDES giving service and information, what else does a newspaper do? Editor W. L. Baker of Ketchikan, well known in Prince Rupert, proceeds to answer the question as follows:

CHIEF JUSTICE SEES CHALLENGE

Fred Vinson Warns Against Pitfalls—Personal Responsibilities CLEVELAND, Ohio—The Chief Justice of the United States, Frederick M. Vinson has given a double warning to the American public not to fall into reactionary pitfalls.

"Here's something I want to quote you," said the Old Timer this morning. It says: "When socialists keep on harping about controls as the essence of their policy, they lend plausibility to the charges that they are really frustrated bureaucrats with an itch to manage other people's business for them."

"What do you think you would get if this country should decide to throw out free enterprise and substitute government ownership and control of everything? You'd certainly get controls by a lot of bureaucrats, and then more controls, and still more. It's an inevitable process. Look at any socialist country in the world and you can see it working."

"THE MINER COMES TO TOWN"—A huge relief map showing the mining areas of Great Britain is a feature of an exhibition opened at the Marble Arch, London, by Prime Minister Clement Attlee. Named "The Miner Comes to Town" and organized by the National Coal Board and the Ministry of Fuel and Power, the exhibition includes a replica of a coal-face, complete with miners' ponies at work. Britain's future, dependent on the output of coal, has brightened in prospect with the return of 60,000 men to the mines after a 39-day strike. Here a workman is shown putting finishing touches to the exhibit.

sensitive. What should mother do?

This was one of the sample questions put by Mrs. E. D. Forward to a group of mothers who gathered at the United Church child psychology series. The Hall in the first meeting of a course will be based on a set of 12 bulletins supplied by the Extension Department of the University of British Columbia and by it parents who attend are expected to benefit through increased understanding in co-operative thinking and by sharing ideas. Careful examination of the subject will provoke individual thought and exchange of ideas will help the person with a particular problem.

Mrs. Forward presented material from the first bulletin and acted as discussion chairman for the meeting. Mrs. C. J. O. Olson was elected permanent chairman of the group with Mrs. R. M. Lane voted to the office of secretary-treasurer. As a matter of policy it was decided that each member will take a turn as discussion chairman.

The ladies are enthusiastic about the possibilities of their group and hope that any mother, or father, who can, will take advantage of this course, particularly if their children are still very young.

Crisis at City Hall Locked Vault Keeps Bylaws Too Secure

Wanted. A gentle safecracker. While no placard seeking the services of such a sinister professional has appeared at the doorway of the City Hall one is liable to make an appearance at any moment. His employer will be City Clerk H. D. Thain.

The trouble, of course, is a locked safe—and a lost combination—in the clerk's office, the result of an over-zealous action on the part of some unknown city employee at the week-end. Someone closed the doors to the huge strong box, never thinking that it could not be opened.

In fact, City Clerk Thain was not particularly worried when he saw the safe locked Monday morning. At least, not until he tried the combination that had been given him four years ago.

After several attempts with the four-numbered combination, he began to realize that maybe things were not as they should be. As far as he knew, the outer doors had not been locked in at least four years. It was possible that some mechanical transformation had taken place within the safe during that time or that he had been given the wrong combination. Despite the volunteer efforts of other city hall workers, the safe remained stubbornly closed.

Mr. Thain sent down word to the police to scour the bastille for a competent cracksmen. The police replied that there was nothing in stock but some well constructed hangers. No luck!

By Monday afternoon Mr. Thain had got as far as pondering the feasibility of employing a locksmith but, knowing how safes are constructed, he was not too hopeful about the prospect. All this time, he was in constant receipt of anecdotes about how various friends of somebody had alternately had to drill, blast, pry or otherwise gain forcible entry into locked vaults with forgotten combinations.

Somebody even had the nerve to suggest sending out a call for Jimmy Valentine.

Meanwhile, he has the consolation of knowing that the contents of the safe are secure. None of the long list of bylaws which a generation of aldermen have conceived in the interests of civic felicity will be stolen. But bylaw number 1060 (a bylaw to amend a land sale bylaw) which will be approved by council next Monday, faces the cold prospect of being separated from its predecessors until

THE Civic Centre QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Are Carnival funds used for operating expenses of the Civic Centre?
A. Yes. In the fiscal year ended September 30, 1947 approximately $3,500 of the $6,600 netted during the 1946 Carnival was expended on actual operation of the Civic Centre building. The balance was added to the capital fund for building project.

Q. Can membership be purchased on the instalment plan?
A. Yes. One-third down and the balance in three months.

Q. Is membership available for those who cannot afford it?
A. Yes. If the canvasser, school principal minister or welfare workers reports these cases, free membership cards will be issued. Persons being granted free cards need feel no embarrassment as all information is confidential.

PASSENGERS ON AIRPLANE SIGHT GRIZZLY STALKING MOUNTAIN GOATS

STEWART—While Bill McLeod was piloting the Haida Queen in the Morris Summit area six goats were sighted browsing on the mountainside. To give his passengers a better view of the animals, Bill circled down. The startled goats scampered off in all directions and then it was noted that a grizzly had been on the stalk also. With the scattering of the goats concealment was no longer necessary and a very disappointed bear lumbered into view and ambled off the scene.

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

October 7, 1912
Capt. H. S. Cameron, owner of the small launch Guilford, arrived in port from Skidegate after one of the stormiest trips in his 10 years on the coast. The Guilford lost a smaller boat which she had in tow in Hecla Straits.

The Marine Department announced the installation of several new aids to navigation in northern waters and the discovery of several uncharted rocks. The U.S. government also was active in hydrographic work on the coast.

C. C. Perry, Indian Agent, returned from Port Simpson where he presided over a number of police court cases. The society of matrons in the village had been airing their grievances on the evening of the Duke of Connaught's visit and some uncomplimentary language had been indulged in which resulted in fines being imposed by the Agent.

Dining "corner": Make it easy for yourself! Eat right in the kitchen . . . in front of a cool "herb garden" window. Use a "dining table" that drops down out of the way between meals . . . And then — most important of all — put down a sparkling bright Gold Seal Congoleum rug! Its smooth surface is easy to clean with the swish of a damp cloth. And durable! Why, its wear-layer of heat-toughened paint and baked enamel is actually equal in thickness to 8 coats of best floor paint applied by hand. But — when you buy your Congoleum rug — look for the familiar Gold Seal. Without it — remember! — it isn't Congoleum. You'll be surprised how much quality you can buy for so little money.
