ALASKA SHIP SINKS AFTER COLLISION

Marine Disaster Off Race Rocks, Victoria

Three Million Dollar Salmon Cargo Lost But Crew of Thirty-six Men Are Saved—Crash In Dense Fog

VICTORIA (CP)—The 10,681-ton freighter Fenn Victory and the coastal motorship Diamond Knot collided early today in thick fog off Victoria and the Diamond Knot, rapidly filling with water, later went to the bottom.

Three hours after the collision at 2:10 a.m., the crew of thirty-six of the motorship took to the lifeboats. The Diamond Knot, laden with a $3,000,000 cargo of salmon from Alaska on board, had gaping holes in her bottom and her holds soon became flooded. She was held afloat for a time while the Fenn Victory remained locked in her side but, when the larger vessel withdrew, she rapidly went down. Salvage tugs from Victoria and United States Coastguard vessels had fought a losing battle to save the Diamond Knot which was cut almost in half. It was at 9:15 a.m. that she finally sank. The Fenn Victory then proceeded to Seattle with the Diamond Knot's crew on board.

REAL PIONEER REVISITING CITY; SURPRISE CALLS UPON OLD FRIENDS

To return to a city after an absence of about thirty-five years and note the changes is the experience of Harry L. Dixon who arrived here a few days ago from Seattle.

It was back in 1909 that Mr. Dixon first saw Prince Rupert and that was away in advance of the completion of the railway or incorporation. There was not much to behold. The town consisted of Centre Street and collection of make-shift buildings down by the harbor front. He decided to stay and did for a while. He became interested in the transfer business.

"I believe my horse was the first here," he remarked reminiscently. Dwellings were scarce but he managed, before long, to put up a small house in the immediate neighborhood of where the late Frank Hart had a furniture store, Second Avenue and Sixth Street, the site now occupied by the Hotel Prince Rupert. It was here Mr. Dixon's daughter was born.

Recalling those eventful days, some of the old timers he mentioned included the late Fred Ritchie, Arthur Barrow, Jack Kirkpatrick and many another—not omitting Arthur Little, whose news stand and local forum, was a central rallying point. Mr. Dixon enjoys meeting anyone still in Prince Rupert who can speak from experience of life in the city back in 1909. He started out to find Jimmy Bacon. That was easy for James continues to be in the active citizenship class. He looked him up and, posing as the casual tourist, inquired if he ever heard of a fellow named Dixon here in the early days. "Dixon," said Jimmy, after a brief pause. "Sure, I remember. Knew him quite well." "Here he is," said the stranger. Then the handshaking. For years bring changes. Mr. Dixon, who expects to return home this evening, says he cannot understand why people in the south do not know there is a highway here. Before he left Seattle, he quite unaware of there being any automobile connection between the city and Vancouver. He came north to be agreeably surprised. "Down our way," he remarked, "we never hear of any road. It seems there is no way to find out. No matter which way you turn, you're told there isn't any highway and, if it's not that, any information you do get leaves a lot of doubt. One can hardly call it information."

Rock drilling work at the site of the Port Edward Cellulose Co. plant at Watson Island has begun and blasting is expected to start shortly by the B. C. Bridge and Dredging Co. which has a $400,000 contract to clear the island textile pulp mill location. Equipment on the site includes four trucks, three air compressors and drills and a power shovel, most of it new. About 20 men are employed on the work at present. Face of the rock bluff opposite Port Edward is being drilled for blasting, with the intention of levelling the area for the mill site.

VAUGHAN CALLS COAL EMBARGO OF UNITED STATES ARBITRARY

MONTREAL—“The situation created by the United States Office of Defence Transportation in placing an embargo on the movement of coal in open-top cars from points in the United States to points on the Canadian National Railways in Canada is serious. We believe the decision has been made arbitrarily and without a careful weighing of the factors involved,” said R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National system today. “Since the O.D.T. ordered that United States open-top cars be returned to American lines from Canada, the Canadian National has been making every effort to comply with the order. The situation is that the numbers of such cars on our lines today does not exceed what has been regarded for years as being average.”

“It is realized that requirements of such cars in the U.S. for unusually heavy export shipments of U.S. coal have created an unusual situation but in Canada an equally unusual situation has been created by coal strikes in the United States and coal strikes in Nova Scotia which combined to threaten industrial and railway supplies of coal in this country and have forced the Canadian National to haul large quantities of U.S. coal to the Maritimes to stave off this threat. This is an abnormal situation, which had to be met by abnormal measures. It is also a situation involving unusually long hauls for coal which, in turn, slowed down the normal return of such cars to the United States. No other railway in Canada has been faced with this situation and it is deeply regretted that the O.D.T. appears not to have taken this factor into consideration before suddenly placing an embargo on the movement of coal in open-top cars on C.N.R. lines in this country.”

VICTORIA MAN SHOOT WINNER

SOUTH MARCH, Ont.—Sergeant Jack Regan of Victoria on Monday posted a possible century to win the feature match of the opening day's competition of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

PENNSYLVANIA DERAILMENT

ELIZABETH, N.J.—The Pennsylvania Railway was blocked here early today by the derailment of a freight train which sent coal cars sprawling over four mainline tracks. Elizabeth police said the derailment would probably block traffic most of the morning and delay thousands of commuters headed for Manhattan as well as mainline trains to and from New York.

SHOVELL LACK HALTS WORK ON NEW ROAD

Construction work on the new road from Park Avenue to the Westview fishermen's floats has been halted by damage to Highway Construction Co.'s power shovel, but it is expected to be resumed shortly when a new shovel arrives, according to a report by City Engineer C. B. Howe made to city council. Mr. Howe estimated that about 1,600 cubic yards of rock had been placed in the road bed, forming an unfinished base about 600 feet long. The contract calls for completion of the 1,800 foot road by the end of September.

A "fairly large leak" in the submarine water main under Shawatians Passage in about 70 feet of water, was authorized for repair after Mr. Howe had reported the findings of a diver who inspected the two 14-inch mains recently.

Mr. Howe was requested by council to prepare estimates on the cost of construction of a lane on the north side of Second Avenue east of First Street at the rear of the new Lindsay garage.

Downtown lanes have been partially graded and depressions filled with materials taken from the Third Avenue excavation. Similar work is being done on Sixth Avenue East from Immanuel Street to Seal Cove Circle.

W.W.C. O'Neill

BECAUSE HE WAS REGARDED by acclamation as one of the best teachers it has been the good fortune of Prince Rupert schools to have ever had, we had hoped when W. W. C. O'Neill resigned recently as principal of Booth Memorial School that he would carry on with the teaching staff, thereby permitting his valuable services to be retained in this city. However, he has now advised the board that he has been offered an appointment elsewhere and has, accordingly, been granted his release. To replace him will be another problem for a board already perplexed with the filling of vacancies.

First a vice-principal at Borden Street School, later principal there and then principal at the High School, Mr. O'Neill served in the schools of this city for many years faithfully and well. Quiet and unassuming, always earnest and conscientious, a man of convictions too, his interest was always the classroom and the constant concern his pupils. Mr. O'Neill won and held the esteem of pupils and parents alike and, now he is leaving, it will be with feelings of affectionate regret that his many friends, both within and without school, will see him go.

Our expression of esteem and well-wishing will, we know, be shared throughout this community and particularly by the many young citizens who, during the years, passed through his capable pedagogical hands.

A BABELESS WORLD

MRS. MARGARET SANGER SLEE suggests complete birth control as a solution of the economic problem of the postwar world. Mrs. Slee is an American, presumably a widow, in her early sixties and has had three children of her own. She has been advocating birth control for many years in the United States and is reported to be going to Britain and Europe to tell the people over there all their problems would be solved if they ceased to have any more children for the next ten years.

Such a "slaughter" of the great unborn would undoubtedly cut down immensely the food and other bills connected with the birth and raising of children. Ten years of a babeless world would also save a lot of money on education, and by the end of that period all the lower school grades would be closed. In that world there would be "no infant crying in the night," "no children run to lisp their sires return" at the end of the day, and no "children playing in the streets thereof."

The world would then be like the town of Hamelin after the Pied Piper had lured the children with his enchantment into an opening in the mountain side, leaving behind a lone lame boy who sadly complained: "It's dull in our town since my playmates left." It would be a dull town indeed that had no children. Home and family life would cease to exist — although many young married couples in these days seem to think that children are not necessary to home life. But this may be largely due to restrictions of modern apartments where landlords, and many tenants, regard children as a nuisance. Perhaps they are a nuisance under such confined conditions — and the youngsters probably regard such conditions as a nuisance.

So far as the big cities are concerned, apartment life and the shortage of housing have already imposed upon us a rigid system of birth control. Moreover, the five-room bungalow puts a definite limit to the size of the average family. The one-child family is quite common, and it always reminds one of a hen with one chick. The large families of two generations ago in many instances imposed an unbearable burden on mothers. But the mother of one child often suffers more anxiety over the one than the old-fashioned mother suffered over a dozen. This intense anxiety may be attributed to the fear of losing the sole object of mother love. But the mother instinct is strong in most women and it suffers from frustration when its exercise is limited. That may explain why so many mothers of large families have been happy and "easy-going," and why their offspring are usually more self-reliant.

The idea of birth control is not a modern one. It was practised in many primitive societies and in ancient civilization. Birth control may have been responsible for the decline and fall of Greece and Rome, and of highly cultured races which appeared and disappeared unaccountably in various parts of South America. Birth control has been condemned as a form of race suicide, and if the people of North America were to follow Mrs. Slee's advice their civilization would pass into oblivion along with that of the ancient Mayas of Yucatan.

PLANNING FOR FLOWER SHOW

Prince Rupert Horticultural Society in Session Last Night

Plans for the flower show and the garden contest were finalized at last night's meeting of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society held in the Civic Centre.

The flower show will be held on August 21 and 22 in the cool atmosphere of the Civic Centre gymnasium where there will be more than ample room for display purposes. Members of the Society will be on hand Wednesday evening and Thursday morning to receive entries.

Paintings by Mr. Selvig, Norwegian artist, will occupy a part of one wall. Members endorsed the suggestion of President C. P. Balagno that Mrs. T. Priest display her collection of "shell flowers" and novelties as an added attraction.

It will not be necessary to enter one's garden in the garden contest. If it is within the city limits it is automatically in the contest. The judges will scour the city looking for likely gardens, probably starting this week and continuing until next.

Judges for the garden contest will be Arthur Payne, C. P. Balagno and H. T. Lock. Flower show judges are C. P. Balagno and Mrs. C. King of Terrace, if available.

Peeps Behind the Scenes; Preparations for Carnival Workers Laboring Hard

"Hock, upstarts, mounts, dismounts, flag, uprise, high bar, back plant balance and circles." This seems a strangely assorted vocabulary for any one group to use at any one time. And the dictionary would not help the listener to unravel the mystery. "Hock—the joint in the hind leg of some animals, corresponding to the ankle in man; also a German white or yellow wine; well, there might be some connection between that and a "high bar!" also "hock, slang for pawn." Yet I heard these terms all properly used by a group the other evening as I watched a small select group perform on the "high bar."

All these words and similar ones form the vocabulary of athletes as they perform their exercises on the high horizontal bar. And visitors to the Carnival will see some of the acts as the local gymnasts display prowess on the "high bar" during Carnival week. Neil Ross, Emil Blain and George Ferguson are limbering up for their part in the program. Springing lightly to the bar these active individuals were practising the various exercises, swinging single and double circles, swinging and stationary hock-offs, the graceful of these would bring to the lucky competitors. It was easier to see the amount of labor it meant for these ladies to prepare all the articles. Such a job takes not only hours but days and weeks and it is work-hard work.

Here again the spirit of community effort was amply displayed as the ladies worked "far into the night" getting the articles all ready. The committee is fortunate in having Mrs. George Rorie, who has done it so capably in the past, take charge of the job again and with the willing help of Mrs. Neil Ross, Mrs. Joe Scott and Miss Margaret Slinn, order was made out of chaos and the preparations were progressing satisfactorily.

A word dropped by Don Forward brought very forcibly to mind the statement that "the Carnival is big business." There is an investment of thousands of dollars and any investment with that amount at stake has to be managed properly. It calls for foresight, good judgment, an ever-watchful eye and preparations well in advance, so that when the week does come there will be no hitch. Nowhere is the need for community effort and support more necessary and nowhere will such effort be more amply repaid.

In other places there are practices "behind the scenes." Soloists are practising daily, accompanists are playing, rough places are being smoothed out, sequences are being perfected, and all are motivated by one desire . . . to make the Carnival pleasing to the citizens and visitors, and build up the financial reserves that such a big undertaking requires.

LONDON, (C)—Because children try to eat the plaster on the walls in a day nursery the walls are to be tiled.

and difficult ways of getting off the bars after the movements had been completed, front and back hock-offs, front and rear upstarts, the tricky "flag" and back-plant. All call for good muscle development, skill and perfect timing, and these are the result of practice and more practice.

So when one enjoys the display, in addition to what he will see, he will realize that these athletes had put in many hours of their own time voluntarily so that enjoyment might be assured on a visit to the Carnival. These gymnasts will show not only their skill but also their fine community spirit in giving of their time and talent that the Carnival may be satisfying.

LADIES BUSY SORTING PRIZES

On another occasion a visit "behind the scenes" showed a small number of ladies with a very large number of very large cartons of all sizes. The cartons contained the hundreds and hundreds of articles that will be winning in the various games of skill and chance at the Carnival. The total number of articles must run into the thousands. Each carton had to be unpacked, the contents noted, checked and priced. The immense variety of dolls of all sizes, shapes and designs; the glassware of such quantity and quality, the miscellaneous toys of every description, all made the room look like a Santa Claus stockroom. It was easy to imagine the pleasure the winning

CITY SHOULD BE GIVEN CLEAN-UP

Many Attractions of Prince Rupert Marred by Unkempt Surroundings, Government Photographer Says

To take a variety of local scenes for a travelogue featuring central British Columbia which is to be prepared by the provincial Department of Trade and Industry as a major publicity project this year, Clarence Ferris, chief photographer for the department, is in the city for such a period of time as will be necessary to obtain the shots he desires. He was today awaiting clearing up of weather conditions so that full advantage might be taken of the famous brand of Prince Rupert sunshine. Subjects to be taken locally will include the fishing and processing, local homes and community activities.

Mr. Ferris is impressed with the many picturesque attractions which Prince Rupert possesses but is definitely disappointed with the settings which he has so far seen. There is much cleaning up to do before the natural beauties of the place can be fully exploited. In fact unkempt surroundings are constituting something of a handicap for the carrying out of his photography.

Mr. Ferris arrived yesterday after making the round trip to Observatory Inlet and Portland Canal on the steamer Coquitlam. The weather was bright and sunny and Mr. Ferris enthused about some fine mountain scenery he was able to picture.

SHORT SPORT

Tonight's fixture in the Men's Fastball League sees Gordon and Anderson in action against the Co-op nine. At present they stand in third and fourth places respectively. A win for the ironmen would consolidate their position in third place while a victory for the co-operating nine will give them third place.

In their two previous encounters this season Gordon and Anderson beat their opponents 8-7 and 20-5. Tonight's game will see the west-enders staging a determined fight to upset the ironmen.

Thursday evening's game in the Ladies' League should prove a top-notch fixture. The up-and-coming Gordon and Anderson nine, inspired by their first win of the season over the leading

RESIGNATION OF W. W. C. O'NEILL

Former Principal of Local High School Accepts Position Elsewhere

Announcement is made at the office of the board of school trustees of the receipt of the resignation from the staff of of Booth Memorial High School of W. W. C. O'Neill who recently relinquished the position of principal of that school but who, it had been thought, might have continued as a member of the staff. Now, however, Mr. O'Neill has advised the board that he has been offered a position elsewhere which he desires to accept. His application for release from his duties here has been therefore, granted with regret.

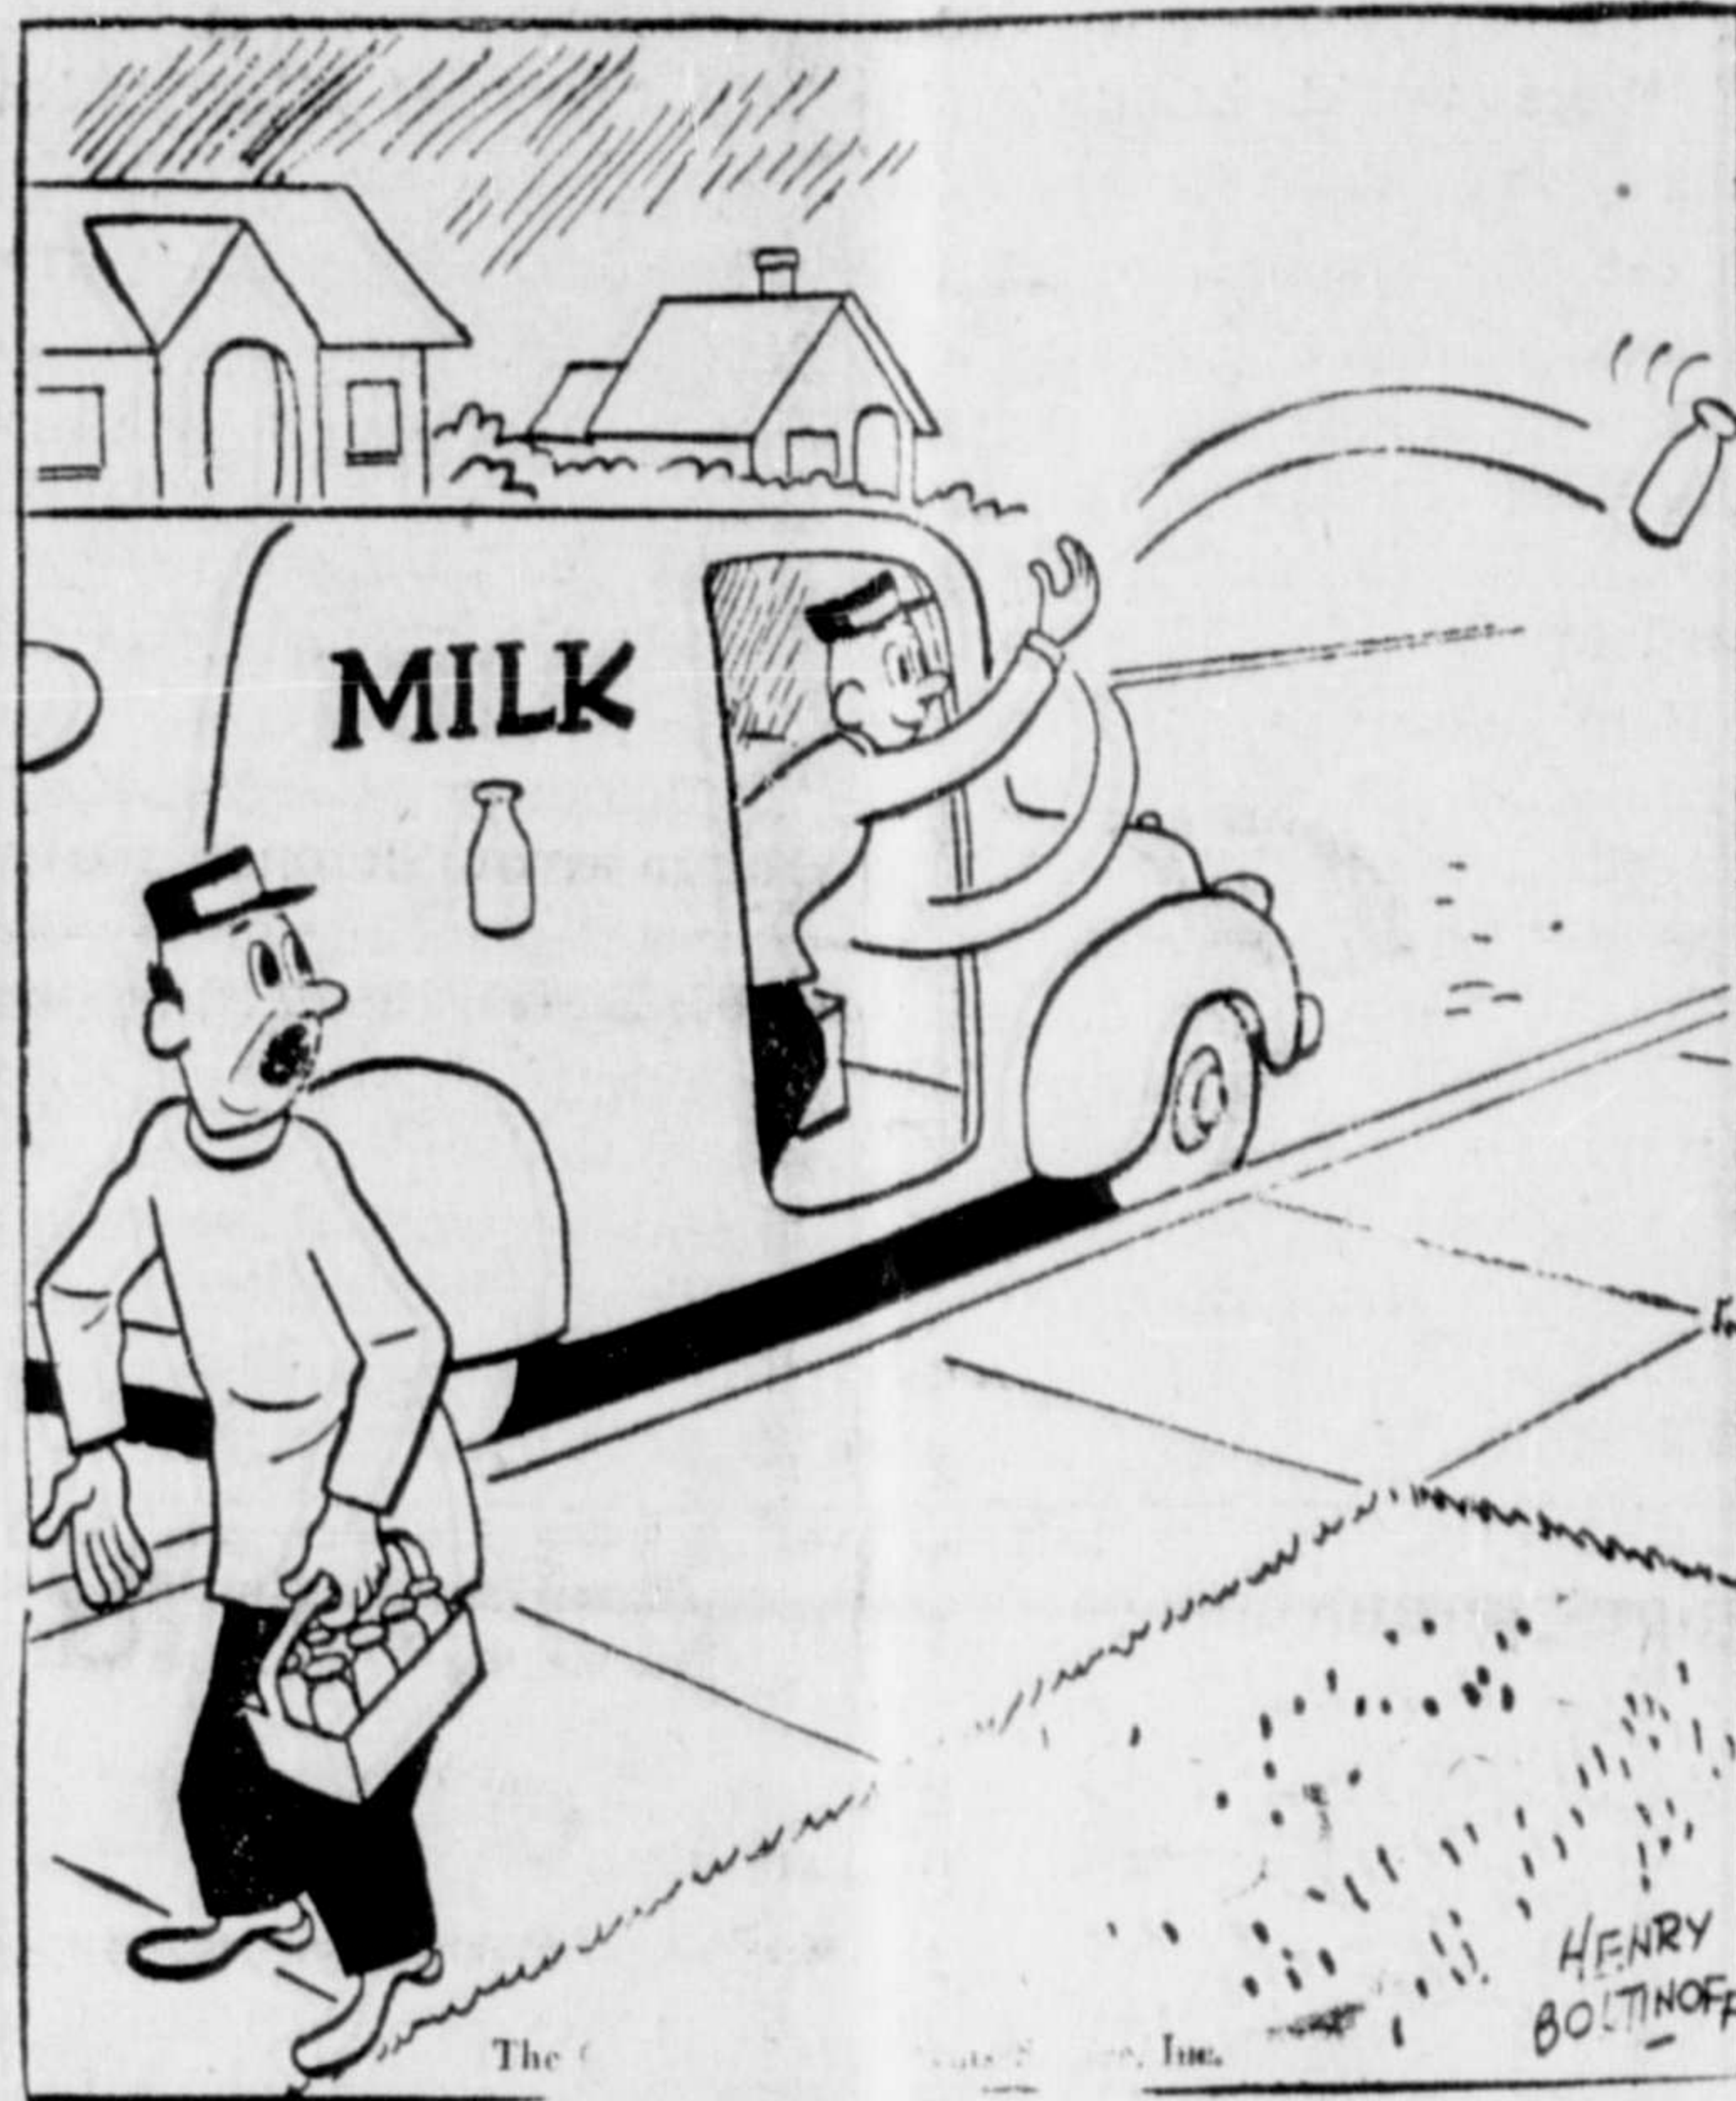

Mr. O'Neill had been identified with the local teaching staffs for many years—first as vice-principal of Borden Street School, later as principal and for the past several years as principal of the High School.

Mr. O'Neill is at present in Vancouver. Where his new post is to be is not yet known here.

Moose team, will be all out to show that their win was no flash-in-the-pan. On the other hand Alf Ternevov's young High School nine will be out to repeat their previous win over the store girls. In their last engagement the students trimmed the store ladies 14-9.

In the Western International Baseball League yesterday the Vancouver Cablanos registered a double-header win, defeating the Salem nine by scores of 7-1 and 2-1. The Vancouver team is fighting hard to continue their climb into the top positions of the league.

PARTY OF QUEBEC BOY SCOUTS HERE

Three men and fourteen boys comprising a Boy Scout party from Verdun, across the St. Lawrence River from Montreal, are spending the day in the city today in the course of a Pacific Coast tour. They arrived on the Prince Rupert this morning from Vancouver and will proceed East by the evening train. Entertainment during their stay in Prince Rupert, organized by F. E. Anfield, president of the Prince Rupert Boy Scouts' Association, includes a cruise to Port Edward on the lighthouse tender Birnie and a drive to points of interest around the city as well as a visit to the museum. There will be an early evening dinner by the Prince Rupert Boy Scouts' Association.

The 9,000-mile good-will tour began on August 1 and reached its westward extremity today when the 14 boys and three leaders stepped down the gangplank of the Prince Rupert at noon and immediately began to aim their cameras at the city's waterfront.

The group was met by F. E. Anfield, chairman of the Prince Rupert branch of the Boy Scouts Association and A. Van Meer, scoutmaster, and were given an outline of the entertainment planned before they leave for the east on tonight's train.

"We are really seeing Canada," said Scoutmaster A. A. Smith of the Woodlands Troop, of Verdun, a suburb of Montreal. "This is the first venture of its kind by any troop in the Dominion and we really are enjoying it."

"With Mr. Smith in charge of the troop are Assistant Scoutmasters George Coleman and Don Peddie. All the boys are members of Woodlands troop, and they owe their trip to their energy during the last year.

"We financed it by a scrap paper drive," Mr. Coleman said a bit proudly. "The boys worked for it, and that is part of the enjoyment."

On the westward trip, the troop stopped at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver. While the Prince Rupert was docked at Ocean Falls, the Boy Scout troop there held a camp fire for the visitors.

"I find a great enthusiasm for scouting on the west coast," Scoutmaster Smith observed. "The leadership is of very high calibre and I have a feeling that scouting is on the threshold of big things." The troop plans to make several stops on the way east and will return to Verdun on August 22. Boys making the trip are A. Tristram, Keith Spurr, Bill Borland, R. Wright, R. Senior, R. Brodie, G. Edwards, G. Gauld, R. Emo, P. Barolet.

BASEBALL NOTES

Joe Berusch, in his capacity of Watts and Nickerson short-stop, not as league umpire, has been diligently searching through his abbreviated rule book for a ruling on third-strike bunts. The ruling Joe obviously sought was the one covering third strike bunts which go foul. According to the official rules, when a batter bunts on the third strike and the ball rolls outside the base line, the batter is automatically out.

The disappearance of the centre bleacher at Roosevelt Park has caused some comment but little regret among either fans or players. It wasn't popular, not only because its position behind the wire backstop hindered the view, but because it looked unsafe. It was unsafe. City workmen, in a move to strengthen it, found the wood spongy, so they tore it down as a matter of public safety. The first baseline and third baseline bleachers are being strengthened, however. Work is also being done on drainage ditch covers skirting the field and a tentative line for a new sidewalk to the field has been laid. Repairs to the wire backstop also are under way.
