Famous Arctic Expedition Reaches Canada After Spending Fifteen Months in North

AMATEUR RADIOPHONE

Vessel Communicated With the World Through Jack Barnsley of Prince Rupert

SYDNEY, N.S., Sept. 27.—The schooner Bowdoin, bringing the MacMillan Arctic expedition of ten people after fifteen months spent on the shores of Greenland, arrived here yesterday. The explorer announces that he expects to return to the Arctic after a rest at home in order to continue his scientific work.

Before leaving, the Bowdoin was equipped with a short wave radiophone broadcasting and receiving set, the kind that is used by amateurs, and it was announced that an attempt would be made to keep in communication with the outside by means of amateur wireless. The Amateur Radio Relay League took the matter up and repeated attempts were made to communicate after the vessel reached the Arctic regions but without avail until Jack Barnsley of Prince Rupert heard the signals from Mix, the radio operator aboard the boat, and reported it to the world. Then a series of messages passed between the vessel at or near Etah and the Prince Rupert amateur station. They were mostly picked up after midnight and they told the world of the progress of the expedition and the conditions of life there.

Proposal to Unify Police Forces Throughout Province as Announced By Attorney General Manson Today

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17.—The question of abolishing municipal police altogether and having a unified force for the whole province is being considered by the Provincial Government, according to an announcement made in Vancouver by Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney general. This would prevent overlapping and it is suggested might lead to economy and efficiency.

Should the general plan of unification not be followed there is a proposal that a metropolitan police force be established for the various municipalities comprising Greater Vancouver.

The question came up following recommendations from the Union of Municipalities to the Provincial Government asking that control of the police be taken out of the hands of commissioners as at present and placed in the hands of municipal councils.

The point of view of the Attorney General is that he is held responsible for the administration of the laws of the province. When the Legislature passes a law they expect the provisions to be carried out. The municipalities do not always do that. This has been particularly noticeable in connection with the administration of the liquor laws in various parts of the province. The lack of initiative on the part of the municipal authorities has brought the law into contempt and tended to cast odium on the Government of the country.

Large Local Industry is the Cutting of Poles, Posts and Piles for Export Trade

Up to August 31, 532 carloads of poles, posts and piles have been loaded for the markets by producers in Prince Rupert forestry district since the first of the year. During the summer some 500 men had been given employment in the industry but now the number has been reduced to something like 200. There are several camps operating but probably half of the production has been by the settlers working independently but disposing of their production to the large operators. The most of the output goes to the United States and some also finds its way to the prairies.

Forestry department statistics show that since the first of the year, poles, piles and posts have been scaled as follows in this district: Poles, 924,925 lineal feet; fir piles, 3,020; hemlock piles, 36,197 lineal feet; cedar piles, 319,597 lineal feet; posts, 124,42 cords.

Largest Operators
The Hanson Lumber & Timber Co., headed by Olof Hanson of Prince Rupert, still continues to handle the large bulk of the pole and pile production in this district. The Dominion Lumber Co. of Edmonton and the Pacific Fir Co. of Seattle has also entered the field and during the past season has shipped small quantities. A few carloads have also been shipped by smaller independent contractors.

The largest pole and pile camp in the district is that of Fred Griffin at Skeena Crossing. Up to 65 men have been employed there this year and the output has been sold to the Hanson Lumber & Timber Co.

W. Van Meter has a camp at Vanarsdol where from 15 to 20 men have been employed. Its output having previously contracted for by the Pacific Fir Co. of Seattle, the Van Meter camp is now turning its production over to the Hanson Lumber & Timber Co.

Other smaller pole camps include that of G. W. Kerrigan at Terrace, 10 men; Hallberg & Bergman, Kaien, 15 men; Sam Johnson, Phelan, 15 men; Smith & Olsen, Hazelton.

Two Assembly Yards
The Hanson Lumber & Timber Co. has established two assembly yards in the district this season. One is at Phelan just outside of Prince Rupert at the mouth of the Skeena River. The poles and piles cut by settlers on the islands and at the mouth of the Skeena River have been handled there and some 200 carloads have been shipped from this one yard this year. R. E. Allen is in charge of it.

The second assembly yard of the Hanson Lumber & Timber Co. is just above Cedarvale and is in charge of Dahlquist and Turnbull. Here is assembled the output from various camps on the Skeena River as far distant as above Hazelton.

Value Of Industry To This City.

One of the industries that has helped Prince Rupert during the summer has been the pole cutting which has been carried on and fostered by the Hanson Company, particulars of the activities of which are related on another page. It has given employment to a great many people and enabled settlers to earn a few dollars with which they might improve their farms. If this business is continued, it will enable the coast islands to be developed to some extent and will also bring business to this city.

Small Industries Grow To Big Ones.

Small industries often grow to big ones. That is the chief reason why Prince Rupert people should be keen to see small industries started in and around the city and should aim to help make it profitable. Just now there is room for many industries and these might be operated to the benefit of the owners of the industry and the city. The difficulty here in the past has been that as soon as anything got going, people began to put spokes in the wheel. That was very clearly illustrated in the Prince Rupert mill. While it was running there was an everlasting snarling going on that they were getting their power too cheap or that the wages they paid were not high enough or some other kick. Now we should all like to see the mill running and would put up with even a loss of power if we could have the industry in the city.

Should Be Shingle And Lumber Mill Here.

There should be a shingle and lumber mill in this city. Cedar is taken to Ocean Falls from the islands and made into pulp even though the Ocean Falls mill does not want it. In and around this city cedar can be secured for bolts and it would seem as if a shingle mill would be a profitable venture.

So it is with a lumber mill. If a mill can be operated in the country where supplies have to be hauled in and the lumber hauled out and handled twice, it surely ought to be profitable at the terminal point where all extra charges are eliminated.

This is the logical point for industries. Here is where they should be established. The only drawback is the lack of power but even that might be overcome.

Defense Day In United States.

The annual defense day in the United States was participated in by approximately sixteen million people, according to reports received from Washington. The people throughout the country took part and even in Alaska there was a response from the people. Juneau and Ketchikan did their parts holding meetings and enrolling for defense.

ON A SOUND BUSINESS BASIS

BRITISH COLUMBIA PUBLIC SHOULD NOT DEPART FROM EQUITABLE METHODS

A Third of the Province's Annual Revenue in the Balance

In dealing with its businessmen the public of British Columbia should be guided by business principles.

The public's equity in the forest wealth of this Province is fully recognized by the lumbermen. This is proved by the fact during the last 20 years the people have collected $45,000,000 from the timber holders and industry in rents and royalties.

By collecting one-third of their total annual revenue from the lumber industries the British Columbia public are certainly doing a good stroke of business.

There is no more satisfactory type of capitalist to attract to a young country like British Columbia than the man who is prepared to invest money in the development of its natural resources.

The public has again shown its business acumen by pledging its good faith to a group of the most solid and patient timber investors in existence.

The present position is that the lumber industry is taxed to the uttermost, and that any further impost will undoubtedly force it into bankruptcy. Also the investors in our timber are becoming very nervous indeed at the prospect of heavier levies.

If the public of British Columbia wish to stick to sound business principles they will avoid overtaxing their basic industry and disillusioning their investors.

A third of the public's income is dependent on the ability of its representatives to handle satisfactorily the present taxation situation in the lumber industry.

This series of articles communicated by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

STAR OPPOSES BRULE CUTOFF

Says Anitiation Favor of it is Inspired by Owners of Coal Property

NOT SERVE PEACE RIVER

Declares Oliver Wants it to Connect with P.G.E.: Brule vs. B.C.

A Vancouver paper is making a strong campaign in favor of the "Brule cutoff"—a proposed line of railway to connect the Grand Prairie country in Alberta with the Canadian National line at Brule says the Vancouver Sun in a front page editorial.

There is a story behind this campaign.

The Brule cutoff would serve only a strictly limited locality. The country it would traverse is so difficult that it would be extremely expensive to construct. In spite of these drawbacks, if it could conceivably offer a permanent solution for the transportation needs of the Peace River, the expense could be faced and the proposal defended.

But the Brule cut-off would not serve the Peace River at all. The Peace River is impassable all the way from Peace River Crossing to Hudson's Hope, and hence the Brule cut-off would be denied all access to it. It is the Peace River country, and not the Grande Prairie, which offers the big volume of grain some day to be set rolling to the Pacific Coast.

Then why the outcry?

Hands of Coal Owners

On the proposed Brule line are certain coal measures, owned by certain people. These measures must continue inaccessible and valueless until a line is built to them. The country is difficult, and the line would be costly. The owners do not want to charge themselves with the expense.

For a long time they have carried on an active lobby at Ottawa to get the public to provide their road; and the hardships of the poor farmers of Grande Prairie have formed the whip they have been using. Their campaign has spread to the West and has now blossomed out in Vancouver. Everywhere they have gone they have left a trail of agitation behind them.

But they have said nothing about the coal.

Double Purpose

Premier Oliver knows his B.C. He knows, too, something of Alberta. And he has been studying the railroad situation and possible rail routes for years. He is determined to find an outlet towards the coast for the rich grain fields of the northern interior, but he wants the outlet, when found, to prove an asset to the P.G.E. The Brule cut-off will not fill either of these purposes. It will not solve the grain problem, nor will it help the P.G.E.

As a matter of fact, if it is built, it will retard for years by its very cost any practical and profitable extensions of the P.G.E.

It is a case of the Brule coal owners versus the people of British Columbia. And the coal owners have found tongue where it is most to be expected.

LYNN CANAL CLOSED TO SALMON FISHING

KETCHIKAN, Sept. 17.—An order closing all of Lynn Canal north of the 59th parallel to commercial fishing for salmon was received in Juneau by Asst. Fisheries Agent E. M. Ball. It remains in force until the end of the year, he announced.

This regulation was recommended to the Department of Commerce by Commissioner Henry O'Malley in a cablegram sent from Juneau before he left there. It is designed to protect the late runs of fish in Chilkat Inlet, the Chilkoot and Grikat Rivers and other streams in that district. In former years, it was stated, there has been considerable seine fishing north of Sullivan Island. Recently several large seine boats went there from Ketchikan but most of them have returned to this end of the division.

TIE CONTRACTS NOT SO LARGE THIS YEAR

Canadian National Railways Will Require Only Half of Last Winter's Production it is Reported

Canadian National tie contracts for the district between Endako and Prince Rupert this winter will be only about half of what they were last year states Olof Hanson who returned from the interior last night. Last winter the production was approximately 4,200,000 ties.

The reduced contracts will be divided among the contractors who were in the business last year and it is understood no new parties will get the work. The most of the settlers, who generally participate in this work, will be taken care of it is expected.

Mr. Hanson says that his company will operate camps at Priestly, Savory and Decker Lake.

In a statement given out by Dr. C. C. Wu, son of the late Wu Ting-fang, one time minister to Washington, the Kuomintang refuses to entertain an alleged proposal of certain Shanghai members of the party to rescind the party's order refraining from anti-foreignism. A new and stronger order was in fact issued. This reads: "It is the duty of this party to make China a really independent and sovereign state on the basis of the party's three principles. It regards all narrow and violent anti-foreign sentiments as harmful to society and the world at large, and detrimental to the complete independence and equality of the Chinese state and race. For this reason the party has always strongly exerted itself in suppressing such tendencies. Insane Movement The pronouncement asserts that even during the Boxer uprising of 1900, when the Manchus were encouraging the Boxers in their "insane movement to destroy the foreigner" the Kuomintang, which had started a revolution at Waichow, accorded protection to foreign life and property. Since then the revolutionaries, whenever they took up arms, never failed to take special care to give adequate protection to foreigners. The northern militarists on the other hand, Dr. Wu's statement continues, "having usurped the Pekin government, have not hesitated to work in league with the imperialistic powers, and to sell the country in order to furnish their selfish aims. Our people have often denounced their slavishness towards foreign powers, but the minds of the militarists and reactionaries are really suffused with medieval and monarchical notions and su-

The sleeveless frock is a very useful citizen especially in warm weather when one can keep cool and fresh with a constant change of guimpes.

For all practical purposes the sleeveless jumper frock has a great deal to recommend it. It takes little material and represents very little work. If you are wearing tub frocks in the country, separate guimpes will save your linen or chambray dress many a trip to the laundry. If you are in town the guimpe cools off a frock of wool jersey tubing, light-weight flannel or heavy silk crepe so that you can wear it even on warm days. With linen or cotton dresses in powder blue the guimpe is very smart in organdy, trimmed with bright colored stitching—rose, lilac, apple green.

ALICE ARM

The Keystone Mining Co. which has a bond on the Sunset property on Roundy Creek, is now prepared for an active program of development work. Thirty feet of tunnel has already been driven. C. H. Ripley is in charge of the work.

During the summer 140 feet of tunnel has been driven on the Vincent property, six miles up the Kitsault River, by James Peacock. The mine looks very promising.

Ridgeway R. Wilson, formerly superintendent of the Granby Co.'s coal mine at Cassidy, visited the district last week examining mining properties in the upper Kitsault country.

Mrs. G. Anderson and daughter are spending a brief holiday in Prince Rupert.

Elmer Ness has returned from Anyox where he has been receiving treatment at the hospital for the past few weeks.

Maurice Nightscales has arrived from Vancouver to take a position on the staff of the Alice Arm Herald.

Misses Helen and Christina Nuech and Miss Zorka Sutlovich have returned to Prince Rupert to resume their school duties.

Mrs. Eric Carlson and daughter have arrived from Vancouver to visit Mr. Carlson who is operating the logging camp of the Abbotsford Logging Co.

The new federal government float here has been completed by the contractor John Currie who has returned to Prince Rupert.

STEWART

A nine foot ore body has been reached on the North and South Mine after driving 110 feet. The property is situated on the divide between Bitter and Glacier creeks near Dunwell and was bonded a year ago by Gus Seiffert and Jack Pederson.

Clearing is to commence at once for a club building which the Stewart Service Club will erect this fall.

Development work has been resumed by a small crew of men on the Portland Canal mine, one of the best known old time properties. Strong financial interests are in control and, if showings warrant it, no time will be lost in getting the property on an operating basis.

J. S. Wood has arrived from Penticton to take the position in the local branch of the Bank of Montreal made vacant by the departure of W. O. Clark.

There are 39 pupils enrolled in the Stewart public school. Miss Marion Henderson and J. S. Harper are the teachers in charge.

The compressor plant has been completed, camps put in order and all is now in readiness for the driving of the long tunnel on the Fish Creek property throughout the winter. Fifty tons of ore is ready for shipment. Previous shipments of this ore gave smelter returns averaging $350 per ton.

The flume which supplies water to the Glacier Creek and Dunwell mines is being rebuilt in anticipation of heavier operations at both properties.

PUMPS OF PORCELAIN

BERLIN, Germany.—Suction pumps of porcelain for handling powerful acids have been built by the State porcelain manufactory here, and are declared to be superior to metal pumps affected by acid erosion. The new pumps will be used by chemical works and laboratories where acids are handled.

ANYOX MAKING WINTER PLANS

Secretary Reported on Activities During Holiday Season and Action Endorsed

TENNIS COURTS COSTLY

Inclement Weather Cause of Loss of Income from Post Season Games

ANYOX, Sept. 17.—After the holiday interval the Community League Council met on its regular meeting night and transacted considerable business. In the absence of the president, A. LaFortune occupied the chair. The secretary's report told of receipts and expenditures in connection with baseball and football activities under the agreement with the Mine and Elks clubs. After deducting costs of rolling and care of grounds for the games, payment of umpires and scorekeepers, supping prizes, about four hundred dollars would be divided. The Community League's share of this would not nearly take care of the outlay for the season as the ball grounds had cost several hundred dollars to keep in shape in addition to what the Granby Company had spent in the interest of sport. Besides this, baseballs, footballs and equipment had amounted to a considerable sum. The tennis courts cost amounted to $2,465 of which $1,068.00 had been paid, leaving a balance owing the Granby Company of $1,396.00. The receipts from members of the tennis club in dues amounted to $101.50. The celebrations on Dominion Day had cost the league a deficit of $137.00, the accounts having been paid.

Owing to the unfavorable weather conditions the Post Season sports, which were expected to furnish enough money to take care of the Annual Sports' banquet fell down; and if this affair was to continue it would be necessary for the League to donate the money. In addition to what was already on hand about $125.00 would be required. Mr. Champion, manager of Granby stores, had supplied a number of prizes for the Dominion Day celebration and had been instrumental in securing others from outside firms.

The gymnasium had been required by the Granby Bay School Board for school purposes until the new addition was ready. Two months was the time set, the rental to be $50.00 per month, the school board to supply the light and heat.

In connection with the heating of the gymnasium this winter, the Granby Company offered to change the system at present installed for steam heat supplied from power house No. 2, at $50 a month when used, the cost of the alteration to be borne by the company. This would effect a saving to the League of $50 a month during the winter.

Owing to demands on the time of Granby workmen, it had been impossible to have the Recreation Hall painted, the library office completed or the by-laws printed. The Council agreed that Recreation Hall be painted by contract, if possible, and that a big dance be held by the League when ready.

A resolution of thanks was passed to Mr. Champion and others who donated Dominion Day Prizes. It was decided to accept the Granby Company's proposal with reference to heating the gymnasium, and the Secretary was authorized to have the sports banquet as usual, while the Secretary's action in renting the gymnasium to the School Board was endorsed.

Sport Chat

There will be no more trap-shooting meets this season, Jack Keefe, secretary of the Prince Rupert Gun Club, states. After a very successful series of shoots the local marksmen will now devote any spare time they have to the active pursuit of game. The summer's practice at the range has kept them in good form and any ducks or geese that come in their way may just as well call themselves "mud."

Now that the summer's outside sport season is over, plans for the basketball season will soon be under way. The most of the players who engaged in the successful activities of last winter are still in the city and the indications are that the forthcoming competitions will equal if not exceed those of last winter in general interest.

The sudden death of Harry Lipsitt will be mourned in local sporting circles as deeply as by the general public. Harry was vice-president of the Prince Rupert Lacrosse Association and an active player. He also took great interest in other lines of sport and was always very generous when financial assistance was required.

Frank Chance, whose death was recorded yesterday, was not only manager of the White Sox but was also a former manager of the Cubs. He led the Cubs to win four world series. He was born in Fresno in 1877.

Harry Martin, formerly of the local provincial police force, was a passenger returning south to Seattle on the Princess Alice yesterday afternoon from Wrangell.

AMERICANS WIN IN POLO MATCH AND RETAIN CUP

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Americans retain the international polo cup defeating the British team yesterday by a score of fourteen to five. The first game was won by a score of 16 to 5.

STAMPEDE TO DEASE LAKE

Crew of River Steamer Staked Claims at Eagle Creek and Others Go

WRANGELL, Sept. 17.—Every one who can possibly get away has gone to Dease Lake where claims are being rapidly staked on Eagle Creek, following reports of the discovery of rich gold bearing sands there. The crew of the Stikine River boat all quit their jobs and rushed off to the diggings, according to Captain Sid Barrington of the Barrington Transportation Company.

River boats and autos carry passengers to within about twenty miles of the spot where the gold was found and from there it is easy to mush the rest of the way.

RYE PRODUCES 900 FOLD

VIRCHOW, Pomerania.—From a single seed of rye, planted this spring by a village school teacher and nursed with fertilizers, 10 stalks were grown, and from these heads 900 grains were harvested. This is said to be a record in Germany. Agricultural experts consulted the schoolmaster as to what kind of fertilizer he used.

Hugh Bugden, local fisherman, is leaving on this evening's train for Halifax where he will spend a holiday visiting his old home.

RADIO STATIC

By The Daily News Radio Expert.

Now that sets can be purchased locally, radio in Prince Rupert has received its long needed impetus and it is increasing in popularity by leaps and bounds. Almost every day sees some new aerial being erected and a receiving set installed and it will not be long before the radio set percentage among the population will be very high.

The people of Prince Rupert are discarding the idea that radio is a fad and with their characteristic insight into future matters, are looking forward to one of the best means of entertainment that can be found.

At present the listeners can be divided into two classes, those who listen in merely for the entertainment and pleasure provided, and those who are known as DX or long distance fiends. It is the latter who belong to the experimenting class, and it is to this class that we owe some of our greatest discoveries in radio.

This section of the country around Prince Rupert seems particularly adapted to radio receiving. The atmospheric conditions in this temperate climate are very suitable and are only bothersome in mid-summer. It is in the hot regions that static is prevalent. Sometimes there it is so consistent and loud as to drown out all telegraphic signals. The danger from lightning here too, is at a minimum since lightning is practically unknown. Being so far north and away from established ocean shipping routes, this district is not bothered with commercial traffic, except on the higher wave lengths.

The big naval station on Digby Island does interfere greatly though, and at times when traffic is very heavy there is particularly exasperating. It is impossible to tune out the crashing sound of his 5 kilowatt spark transmitter, it being so powerful and located so close. The continuous wave transmitter is perhaps not so bad along this line, but even with it, it is very difficult to eliminate the key-click when he is sending.

In spite of this, however, the radio fans in the vicinity are achieving remarkable results. To get Chicago, a distance of nearly 2,000 miles, is an every day accomplishment, but which is worthy of equipment worth twice and three times as much.

Note—Our expert will be glad to answer enquiries from listeners through these columns, or direct by mail when a self addressed stamped envelope is enclosed.

SCHOOL PUPILS PRIZE WINNERS

List of Those Who Were Successful at Exhibition Last Week

The school exhibit at the fair last week was an excellent one and excited much favorable comment. The Annunciation School joined with the others and carried off a good many prizes. Particularly noticeable was some of the primary work, a doll's house made by the pupils of Grade I. in Borden Street School being most complete and cleverly executed. That room carried off most of the prizes in the grade. The prize list, which is somewhat belated, follows:

TEACHERS FEDERATION VISITS WINDERMERE BUNGALOW CAMP

Here are seen a group of Ontario teachers members of the Canadian Teachers Federation, who, with colleagues from every other province in the Dominion attended the annual convention of the Federation at Victoria, B.C. The Canadian Pacific provided special trains for their accommodation in both directions. Many of them returned via the Kettle Valley and the British Columbia Lake district, but this party preferred to pass through the Rockies again. They are seen at Windermere Bungalow Camp to which they made excursion. At Banff and Lake Louise they were entertained and local teachers organizations and Boards of Trade at many points along their west and east-bound routes turned out to greet the "Teachers Special" and to afford the delegates to the convention whatever entertainment time allowed. The next annual meeting of the Canadian Teachers Federation will be held in Toronto.

RULES PUBLISHED FOR USE OF AIRMEN

Keep to Right is Rule of Sky as Well as of Land: No Jay Flying

LONDON, Sept. 17. — Rules agreed on by the British, Belgian and Dutch governments to minimize risk of collision between aircraft, have been issued by the air ministry.

These provide that every pilot when flying on a compass course shall, whenever it is safe and practicable, fly on the right of the straight line adjoining the point of departure and point of arrival. When an aircraft is flying beneath cloud, it must keep at a fair distance below the cloud base in order to see and be seen.

When a pilot decides to follow a route which is officially recognized or consists of a line of ground marks, he must bear in mind that the risk of collision with another aircraft following the same route is considerable. Every pilot therefore following such a route shall endeavor to keep it at least 300 metres on his left.

ALLAN BROOKS VISITS CITY

Famous Naturalist and Artist Passed Through Yesterday After Summer in Atlin

TALKS ABOUT BIRDS

Says Balance of Nature is Myth and Tells of Ruthless Destruction in North

That the so-called "balance of nature," which some people are afraid to disturb, is all a myth and does not exist in fact is the conclusion arrived at by Major Allan Brooks, the famous naturalist and artist who was here yesterday on his way back from a four months visit to Atlin where he had been studying the birds and mammals. He illustrates this from his recent visit into the Canadian north where he found the country dominated by red squirrels and whiskey jacks. He says that at least eighty per cent of the eggs laid by the birds up there are taken by the squirrels and jays. He found that on the islands in Atlin Lake, where there are no squirrels or jays, birds were numerous and the young were all hatched. On the country surrounding the lake, which is infested by squirrels, there were three colonies of waxwings, birds which always nest in colonies, but not a young bird was found. They had all been destroyed young or else the eggs taken by the squirrels and whiskey jacks.

Birds a Pest

Leaving everything to nature does not meet with the approval of the major. He says the crow is a pest everywhere and destroys an immense number of birds' eggs and young birds. This was particularly true on the islands where the seagulls breed. The crows there destroy more eggs than ever the Indians did.

Major Brooks says a book has recently been published by a student of nature, Miss Althea Sherman, which shows conclusively that nature does not balance things up correctly and it is up to man, wherever possible to help adjust matters.

Birds are usually plentiful in or near a town because to a certain extent they are protected there and provided with food. An instance of the destructiveness of some birds is seen in the herring gull which eats the eggs and young of other seabirds with the result that wherever it nests the other birds are driven away. Gulls, guillemots, puffins and many other birds are the victims of the crow.

The major was very emphatic that he did not believe in the balance of nature and his studies had all tended to make him more pronounced in his views.

Art Work

Major Allan Brooks' illustrating work will be familiar to those who are interested in bird life. He made the drawings for "The Birds of Washington" many of which were beautifully reproduced in their natural colors. Also he has done much work for the Government at Ottawa and for scientific and other journals and books. His water color sketches are in much demand as well as his bird and animal studies.

RATE TOO HIGH TO SHIP FLOUR THROUGH RUPERT TO POLAND

Joe Sigmund received an order from the Polish government for 20,000 barrels of flour and took steps to ascertain if it would be possible to make the shipment from the prairies via Prince Rupert. It was found, however, that the freight rate from Calgary to Prince Rupert was 20c per barrel higher than from Calgary to Vancouver making a total difference on the 20,000 barrels of $4,000. Mr. Sigmund states that there is no flour mill in northern Alberta large enough to handle the order. The flour was to be for Polish relief this winter and was to reach there by December. It was proposed to ship it via the Panama Canal.

Officers for Year Elected with J. Mitchell Head of Sports Committee

The annual meeting of Anyox Parent Teachers' Association was held last week in the new school, Mrs. O. K. Dwyer presiding. Haffner, Dr. Harper and Professor Williams. A moving picture had been installed in the school and a number of framed pictures had been placed in the various class rooms, while half the cost of a set of de luxe scales had been borne by the association, the other half being donated by the school board. Supplies had also been purchased for the baseball and football activities. At the conclusion of the report, the election of officers for the ensuing year took place and resulted as follows:
