TERRIBLE FOODS AT LENINGRAD MAKE MARTIAL LAW NECESSARY IN CITY

Martial Law Declared in Leningrad in Consequence of Serious Floods There

LENINGRAD, Sept. 25.—Martial law has been declared here owing to the serious condition caused by floods. The waters of the river were nine feet above normal this morning damaging the great warehouses along the waterfront. Nineteen deaths are reported so far in consequence of floods.

Later Despatch

DUBLIN'S POPULATION LIVE IN SINGLE ROOMS

DUBLIN, Sept. 25.—Twenty two thousand families, numbering almost a third of the city's population, are living in Dublin in one-roomed tenements. It is estimated that at least 20,000 new houses are needed. The municipal commissioners have drafted schemes to provide for 7,000 families. They propose to clear away old tenements and lay out a number of blocks in flats.

Negotiations With Germany Over Commercial Treaty are Off Owing to Differences

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—Negotiations between Germany and Britain over a proposed treaty of commerce have collapsed. Secrecy is maintained on both sides but it is believed the main reason for the breakdown of discussions was the German refusal to grant Britain exemption of taxation on imports. On such goods the German tariff now being prepared will be practically prohibitive.

U.S. FLYERS HOPPED OFF FOR 'FRISCO

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 25.—The United States flyers are nearing the official end of their round the world flight. They left here this morning for San Francisco en route to Seattle where they end their long journey.

Here they were given a splendid reception for it was here the planes were built and for that reason alone the people took an unusual interest in the flight.

Premier Ramsay Macdonald Says he is Often Sick of Party Politics Would Put Honor of State First

Men of different views and diverse conceptions should put the honor and reputation of the state ahead of party, according to Right Hon. J. Ramsay Macdonald, prime minister of Great Britain, speaking at a dinner at which he was entertained by the town council of his native town of Lossiemouth, Scotland.

Responding to the toast of his health, Mr. Macdonald said that for the first time Labor had given a prime minister to the British Empire. None of them would ever know how terribly risky the experiment was—the leader of a minority faced with problems the like of which in their number, in their complexity, and in their critical character had never, he thought, faced a Prime Minister. It was a very risky step to take, but "once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide." The decision was taken. He hoped that whatever was to happen, it would be said that as the result of that experiment the way was made smooth for whoever was to follow them. They knew the many troubles he had had—the tragic entanglements of Europe, defying apparently everybody who tried to disentangle them, ill will, suspicion, and unwillingness to change, almost an impossibility to get people to approach the problem in a new frame of mind.

Immense Burden
Any one of those problems was a burden quite heavy enough for one pair of shoulders to bear, but the Government had had them all, and all at the same time. All he could say was: "We may have come in by accident; perhaps we did. We may have come in by luck; perhaps we did. I am not concerned in answering those questions, but the only thing I am concerned with is that we are there, and that whoever is there has to do his best to solve those problems in accordance with British honor and with British security and peace. Never did this country want men more than it wants men now. I sometimes get sick and tired of party politics. I get sick and tired of that method of controversy which is dishonest and which people of all parties indulge in, knowing very often that it is dishonest. The only way that the State can be guided in safety through its difficult days is for men of different views and of diverse conceptions to put the honor and reputation of their State first, and everything else afterwards."

No Longer Colonies
The empire itself, in the course of generations of evolution, had reached a time when it was no longer sufficient for somebody to be in the Colonial office or in Downing street to issue edicts, and say, "You are our colonies, our children, our dependents," but an Empire of self-respecting, self-governing, liberty-loving Britishers requiring the machinery of government of a totally different character, requiring somebody to solve the problem of how self-governing nations might cooperate without losing self-respect—that problem had not yet been solved, and it had been the fate of the Government to have to face it in its first phases.
Ireland that never slept, Ireland that seemed to defy every one who touched it, to-day was as troublesome as ever it was—Ireland, which nevertheless he was determined, if he could succeed, to keep out of the arena of party politics.
India had also reached the stage of evolution when she was beginning to offer the statesmen of this country that great problem of self-government within the Empire, of liberty which was not independent, but which, nevertheless, was experimental, which was satisfactory. Egypt, endowed with independence of a partial character, and yet surrounded by some thorny problems of administration. In Russia—it was almost unsafe to mention the word, because there were still newspapers out for "stunts" rather than for the truth—in Russia they had to solve a problem which was confronting not only this country, but the whole civilized world, and one which we could not afford to overlook.

Mrs. C. R. Gilbert of Terrace arrived from Vancouver on the Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon and proceeded to the interior by train.

Chinese Law Student Shot in Vancouver but Assassin Not Identified

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25.—Lew Hung Cheng, better known as David Lew, a Chinese law student and business man, was shot and killed last night in the Oriental section of the city by another Chinese. His assailant shot him through the heart at a distance of two feet and when Lew fell discharged four more shots into his body.

Before the many witnesses of the assassination could intervene the murderer disappeared. Lew died en route to the hospital and his assassin was not identified.

Lew was a thorn in the side of the gambling ring and had been active in prosecuting criminal Chinese.

VERNON, Sept. 25.—The Oliver government received a jolt yesterday when at the by-election in North Okanagan Hon. Dr. K. C. Macdonald was defeated by A. O. Cochrane, Conservative. With two small polls not reported the majority for the Conservative candidate was 180.

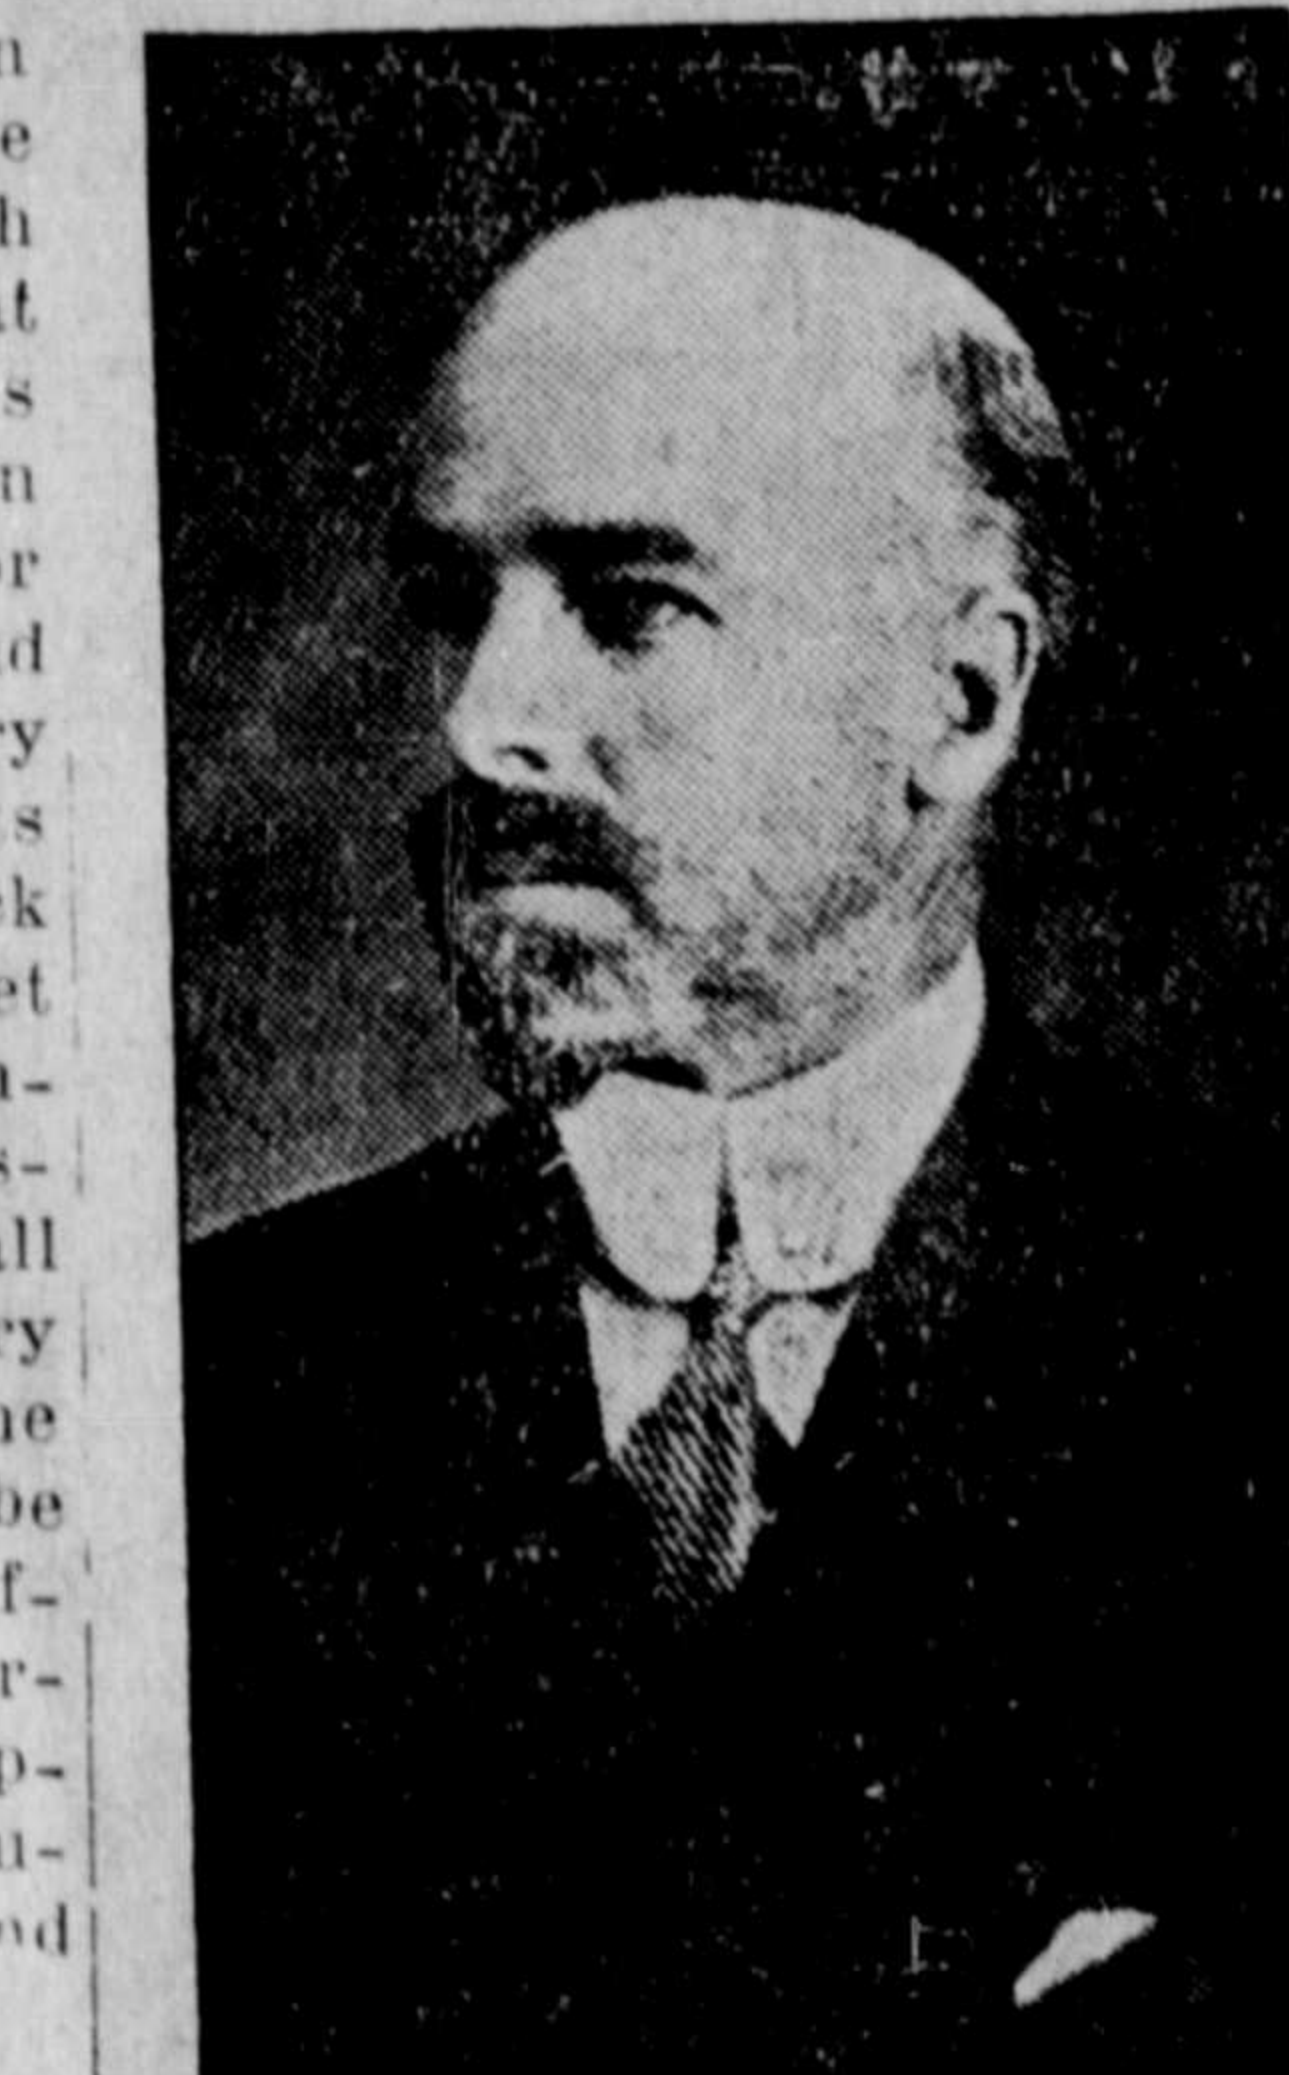

The election was made necessary by the appointment of Dr. Macdonald to a cabinet position, he being made provincial secretary.

FAMOUS WALKER APPROACHING

W. H. Chapman, Octogenarian Pedestrian at Terrace Monday and Remo Tuesday

TERRACE, Sept. 25.—W. H. Chapman, the famous walker, who is just completing a sixteen thousand mile hike, arrived in Terrace Monday afternoon. As he is two months ahead of his time limit he is able to take things easier on this last lap. His feet were beginning to trouble him so he had only come the fifteen miles from Usk that day. Tuesday he left for Remo, choosing the nine mile trip over the road in preference to the shorter distance by rail. Where possible he likes to do this, not only because of the easier walking but he is enabled to see more of the country.

Mr. Chapman's long hike originated in a bet between the editor of The American Magazine and a couple of millionaires as to the relative merits of young and old under such a test. The two young men who started with Mr. Chapman soon dropped out of the contest, but Mr. Chapman has kept doggedly on till his goal is now less than ninety miles away and the five thousand dollars almost won.

Mr. Chapman has found the section crews very hospitable and has spent many a night with them. This is only one more adventure in a very full life. He was twenty years in the U.S. army. He served as a scout under Buffalo Bill and was killing Indians at the time of the Custer massacre. He also served twelve years in the navy and has visited every part of the world.

Mr. Chapman thinks this is a fine country but doesn't see much opportunity for its further development till there is a better system of roads. He expects to arrive in Rupert next week.

W. H. Heidman of the Golskeish mine near Anyox passed through on the Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon returning north after a business trip to Vancouver. His son accompanied him.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:-

WEATHER seems to have been bothering people almost everywhere this year. It was especially bothersome in those parts in the east where tornadoes scooped up the houses and carried them to smithereens.

THE hogs do not all live on farms.

THE ice fields of the north are said to be advancing and in time will once more cover the whole of the northern hemisphere. As it will be a million or more years before this is achieved, the anvil brigade has not yet started its chorus.

WERE it not for the unpleasant memories they recall, one might paper the study with stock certificates purchased in unguarded moments and which have no other value than to be used as wall paper.

TWO Scotsmen once visited Holland and not being able to lay their hands on anything else they brought away the game of golf and the civilized world has had to pay the penalty ever since.

THE grey squirrel is said to be good at planting nuts. I think I shall have to import a few grey squirrels to keep around this town.

TWENTY years ago socialists and others were foretelling the doom of civilization within a very few years and yet the poor old world carries on much as usual only a little better all the time.

NOW that the dull time myth has been exploded for this fall, what are we going to worry about?

What Shall We Do During The Winter?

The long winter is facing us and it may be a dreary time with nothing to do but look forward to spring. It also may be the most enjoyable and instructive time of the year when the long winter evenings may be utilized to great benefit.

This is the time to plan the winter program. It is evident that activity is desirable and that it should be some greater activity than simply attending social events. Some definite purpose might well be achieved without interfering with the work that is being carried on during the day time.

Learn Something Of Definite Character.

This is a good time for the young men or young women to learn something of a definite nature. Some will study music. Others will possibly perfect themselves in English or make a study of French or some other language. Art work, mechanics, radio or electrical studies all offer fields for research or for developing the faculties.

So far there has been no announcement in regard to whether there will be a night school conducted under the auspices of the school board. Even should this not be done there are correspondence courses, private tutors and much study may be carried on without any of these means. The library lends aid to those anxious to study and the services of the librarian are always open to them to help in the selection of books.

Aimless Life Leads Nowhere.

The aimless life leads nowhere. Sports and games will engage a great deal of the attention of many and others do evening work to help augment their incomes. Purely cultural subjects do not receive as much attention today as they should. There are so many calls on our time that we cannot get down seriously to work.

Second Language Helps A Lot.

Learning a language other than our own is a valuable means of cultivating the intellect. It has been said that no person knows the English language until he knows at least one other language. We learn very largely by comparison and no one quite appreciates the intricacies of English until he has learned how it translates into French, German, Spanish, or some other language.

Make Our Homes More Beautiful.

Efforts to make the home more beautiful are always in order. Many homes are very bare and it is no wonder those who live there prefer to spend most of the time away from it. The walls are bare and dirty, the curtains hang awry, the furniture broken or unpolished, the wall paper torn and everything indicating lack of interest in the surroundings. What a pleasant contrast it is to find the people of the house anxious to have everything neat and tidy, the decorations in keeping with the surroundings and the place made homelike and attractive. It does not cost much except effort to have everything neat and it is wonderful how we learn to improve our taste as soon as we begin to show an interest in making the most we possibly can of the means at our command.

Difficulties Make For Determination.

There is a visitor in the city who says he takes most of his pleasure from his garden. He grows flowers when at home and particularly roses. In Prince Rupert gardening is not as easy as in some part of the country but a garden here well repays the efforts of the gardener. It is necessary only to look at the results obtained at the government Buildings where the flowers compare quite favorably with those raised in other parts of the country. This is the time to plan the garden for next year and to do the preliminary work. It is work well worth while and is of value to the whole community. It is less selfish work than any other.

THE MENACE OF UNEMPLOYMENT

SHUT DOWN OF MILLS WOULD RELEASE ARMY OF LUMBER EMPLOYEES

Royalty Act Takes Wage Appropriations Instead of the Worker

It is no secret that the emigration of skilled labor from this province is causing the authorities serious concern.

The inability of a community to maintain the quality and quantity of its skilled labor supply is a sure and certain sign that its industrial forces are in economic difficulties.

The forest industries of British Columbia, which gave direct employment to a fourth of the male population of this province, are making gallant efforts to combat overtaxation and at the same time keep intact the great industrial army nominally dependent upon them.

The further levy on the raw material of the British Columbia timber industry which will automatically take place at the beginning of next year, will mean the shut down of the mills, and the release from employment of the largest body of workers in the history of the province.

Workers themselves will realize that if the Royalty Act lays hands on the money appropriated to their wages, remedial measures become a matter of great difficulty.

It is not as if the timber industries were not fulfilling their obligations to the province. For many years they have continuously subscribed approximately one-third of the total revenue of the Province. British Columbia stands where it does today by reason of its lumber industry.

One might be tempted to prophesy that in the event of the present Royalty Act remaining in force, considerably more than the extra taxation it provides for will be spent in the alleviation of unemployment conditions.

The Tragedy of the Bug
A bug awoke in the evening
As all good bed bugs do
He took many a bite
Throughout the night
And he heard many curses too.
And then he puffed up with bravado
His head began to swell
And he took a last nip
From his victim's nose tip
And now he's a victim as well.

A Dog's Life
I'm only a dog
Just made to bark
Yet always ready
To go out for a lark.
But alas and alack,
I raced with a car
And now I am living
Where wicked dogs are.

ANGLICAN PARSONS MUST CULTIVATE VOICE

LONDON, Sept. 25. — The comedy parson, one of the standing jokes on the English variety stage, is threatened with extinction. With the enthusiastic support of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, a scheme is to be launched in October preparing for Holy Orders in the Church of England will be trained in the right production and management of voice.

Already the sum of $40,000 has been secured to meet the expenses of instruction. Teachers will be assigned to train in voice production and elocution to the end that all clergymen be taught to read and preach with "clearness, sympathy and reverence."

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

September 25, 1914.

Steamer Prince Albert, which was stranded outside the harbor recently, arrived in port at noon today in tow of the Salvor. The Albert's rudder is broken off and she is taking water freely but her pumps are quite able to overcome this. Considering the fact that she was at first believed to be a total wreck, the success of the salvage company was quite complete. The vessel will be taken south for permanent repairs.

It seems certain that another order-in-council barring Orientals from Canada for six months is to be passed.

Capt. H. L. Roberson left last night with the Henriette for Vancouver where, after turning the vessel over, he will make arrangements to proceed to England to join the Navy.

GOOD NEWS FOR BUYERS OF COAL

Some fifty years ago a remarkable coal was discovered on Vancouver Island. This coal caused a sensation at the time and quickly established a reputation for greatest heat, very little ash, no clinker or rock. It was called Wellington coal. Many other mines have since been opened on the Island and the name "Wellington" has been given to them. But the public should not be confused. "Nanaimo-Wellington" coal has the reputation of being the best domestic or steam coal mined on Vancouver Island. The mine has an output of 3,000 tons per day which is surely satisfactory evidence as to its quality.

The public is cautioned against substitution and in order to make sure that they get the real "Nanaimo-Wellington" coal they should order direct from Albert & McCaffery, Ltd. who are sole agents for this coal in Prince Rupert. Their phone numbers are 146 and 564.

You can buy a ton or a sack. We have our own trucks and team and can give prompt service.

Making wash day pleasant

Just use Rinso where you used to use bar soap—for soaking, boiling, or in your washing machine.

THE hardest part of wash-day, rubbing, rubbing, rubbing, has given way to the new method of soaking the clothes clean with Rinso. This wonderful new soap gently loosens the dirt and a thorough rinsing leaves things white and glistening as you never could get them before.

Only spots where the dirt is ground-in, such as neck bands, cuff edges, and the like need a light rubbing, and a little dry Rinso rubbed on these spots quickly makes the dirt disappear.

Rinso is sold by all grocers and department stores.

FASHIONS & FOIBLES
by Shirley Sharon

If the straight-line coat and the dress it covers are to appear as one, the dress must renounce any frivolity and be severely plain.

The French women are devoted admirers of the new three-piece ensemble costume. With the straight one-piece dress she offers the coat of a matching material, a coat which may be three-quarter length or reach almost to the hem of the dress. American women find this costume very smart and serviceable for motoring or traveling since one may slip off the coat after a dusty tour and wear the dress for dinner at one's hotel. Silk poplin or silk alpaca are rather newer materials, though one sees a great deal of heavy silk crepe and satin and some rajah for Summer.

TWO CONGREGATIONS WORSHIP TOGETHER DIFFERENT BUILDINGS

Radio Utilized to Conduct Service During Absence of Pastor

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—One of the most unique church services ever held was that at Sherbrooke Methodist Church when, the pastor being away, it was decided to install a radio receiver and loud speaker and listen to the sermon, prayers and music from the St. James Methodist Church, one of the largest in Canada. The instrument was installed for the occasion and the whole service was heard and greetings were sent by the pastor of the sister church to the one whose congregation was "listening in."

This was the first occasion on which a service had been broadcast and received by a sister church, the congregation of each taking part.

WOLF LED MINERS TO FIND CLAIMS

That Accounts For Origin of Name of Properties Just Sold

TERRACE, Sept. 25.—An interesting story of the discovery and naming of the Black Wolf claims which were sold last week came to hand recently. A big black wolf had come quite close to the camp where the prospectors, Jack Couture, Oscar Gendron, Paul Brodin and Oscar Olander were camped. They took a couple of shots at it which they were sure would prove fatal. Jack and Oscar tried to follow it, but it was dusk and storming so heavily—sleet, rain and snow, that they gave it up after a short distance. The next morning Paul Brodin took up the trail and followed quite easily for some distance. Then it had evidently jumped over a ledge.

When he was hunting around below to pick up the trail again, he noticed a rusty piece of rock which looked as if it might be something good, so he picked up a piece and put it in his pocket. That night when they were crushing rock as they sat around the camp fire, Paul remembered his find. When it was crushed it contained such a promising streak of gold that the boys

DANCING IN LONDON CHURCHYARD UNDER AUSPICES OF RECTOR

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The new rector of St. Paul's, Covent Garden, is bent upon developing the social life of his parish. There is no suitable institute, so the churchyard has been utilized. This churchyard was recently the scene of a dance, given at the rector's invitation. The weather was unfavorable, but when the rain stopped there was a fair number of dancers. Music was provided by an orchestra stationed on the steps outside the church and before the dance there was a concert by the choir.

COPPER PRICES CONTINUE LOW

Review of Situation Given in Granby News Indicates Possibility of Improvement

For some time past, the producers have been expecting a rise in copper prices, and have attempted several things in their own behalf to effect this end, the most important movement being the curtailment on the part of a number of big copper companies of production, and which went into operation some months ago, says the Granby News. While this undoubtedly has had some bearing on the fact that copper has been selling for a while back at 13 1/4 to 13 3/4c, it has not proved to be the remedy that was sought.

Copper buying both in the United States and abroad has been small in volume lately, with the producers holding the metal around 13 5/8 and 13 3/4c, while the market for modern tonnage covering the next two months is 13 1/2 to 13 5/8 for domestic deliveries, with the possibility of the above prices being shaded for close-by shipment. The large buyers are inclined to hold off and await developments, it being no secret that large stocks are at present in transit and at the refineries, which naturally must have an effect on the market, the demand being insufficient to absorb the output from the mines and refineries. This knowledge of output, which the producers of copper have been publishing freely for a long time, has recently been the cause of argument and divided opinion, resulting in the suppression of output and sales figures heretofore disseminated by the copper interests; and there is now a disposition in certain quarters to question the activities of the Copper and Brass Research Association, especially in connection with its advertising. It is felt that these differences of opinion among copper producers is responsible for much of the instability characterizing the copper situation, and which is not evidenced in any other major industry. Most copper producers of North and South America are members of the Copper and Brass Association.

Necessity of Co-operation

Following the close of the war the industry felt the necessity of co-operation acutely. Mergers and integration of copper producers were in the air and some developed. Notable examples were the Copper Export Association, the Kennecott-Utah and the Chiles-Anaconda mergers, the Calumet and Hecla consolidation and the absorption of Chino by Ray. The Department of Justice had to do with the disintegration of Copper Export Association, because one of its duties is to prevent collusion in price movements under power conferred by the Anti-Trust Law; but why the most impoverished industry of all in the country should have been singled out some people are still wondering. Producers are really looking for higher prices with the adjustment of reparations matters, and they feel that a long period of sustained improvement is about to commence.

Whether this continual uncertainty in connection with copper will have the effect of consolidating the leading copper companies into a number of compact groups, like that which is now taking place among the railroads, or from a world revival in the buying of metal, or from a combination of both, is at present in the lap of the gods. And they say nothing.

"The injury thus inflicted upon religion can hardly be measured. The result is that intellectual honesty is largely drained out of the church, and public opinion within it does not reflect either the best knowledge or the most candid temper of the community.

"The question of miracles is for many the meaning of the conflict between religion and science."

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stampage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partly free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

WILL NOT ACCEPT MIRACLES SAYS DEAN

Conflict Between Science and Religion Discussed by St. Paul's Preacher.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—"The conflict between science and religion is still far from being reconciled," said Very Rev. W. R. Inge, the "gloomy Dean of St. Paul's," in his presidential address at the Conference of Modern Churchmen, Oxford.

"It is an open sore," continued Dean Inge, "that poisons the spiritual life of the civilized world. It is difficult for a man to accept orthodox Christianity, as it is presented by the churches, without treachery to his scientific conscience.

WHITE BEAR FROM PRINCESS ROYAL ISD. INTERESTS VICTORIA
Is Kept at Beacon Hill Park But is Property of Province

VICTORIA, Sept. 25.—The little white bear (Ursus Kermodei) which was recently captured at Princess Royal Island but now is a captive at Beacon Hill Park the property of the province of British Columbia is receiving a great deal of attention here. A new bear house is to be erected for its accommodation and meanwhile suggestions are being made for its care.
Visitors to the park all pose as bear experts who know exactly what little Ursus ought to have. Some of them suggest better shelter, forgetting that on Princess Royal Island it had no shelter and it rains a great deal here. Others think it ought to be fed honey, but there is no honey to be obtained on Princess Royal. Most of the women would like to fondle it and think it a shame to confine the pretty little chap to a small space.
Discussions rage here as to whether the Ursus Kermodei is really a different species of bear or just a freak. It is pointed out that there have never been more than about a dozen of the white bears taken or shot and that so far as known they are confined to Princess Royal and Gribble Islands with perhaps a few of the surrounding islands. The specimen here is a valuable one, and many offers to purchase it have been received.

At Rice Creek, forty miles west of Nanton, the Imperial is drilling a new well and the bit

The deep test at the No. 4 well of the Royalite Company, near Black Diamond at Okotoks, has attained a depth of over 3,500 feet and is now in a very interesting stage of the work. Considerable difficulty is being met with because of the depth and the work is necessarily being proceeded with very slowly.

FRED STORK IS SPEAKER

Told Gyro Club Last Night of Visit to Wembley—also of British Parliament and Naval Review

In a very interesting address delivered before the Gyro Club last night, Fred Stork, M.P. went into a description at some detail of the Canadian section of the Empire Exhibition at Wembley which he recently visited. Mr. Stork described the main Canadian building and its contents, the Canadian National building and the machinery building. Canada, Mr. Stork declared, had spent a million dollars on its exhibit but the results would be worth it. It was attracting the most favorable comment and was highly interesting to the millions of visitors to the Exposition. By depicting Canada from the standpoint of industry, natural wealth and scenery, the idea of many people from various parts of the Empire that Canada, as Kipling quoted, was "Our Lady of the Snows," was being erased. It was being shown that Canada as an objective for travelers outclassed France and Italy, two nations which owed much to tourist business. The Canadian section at the Wembley Exhibition was such that even in the public press of Australia comment was made on the fact that this Dominion had far exceeded that in the exposition of its products and attractions.

Parliament Houses

Mr. Stork also told of a visit he made to the British Houses of Parliament. He had been surprised to see that the chamber of the House of Commons was not as large as that in Ottawa and that there was seating accommodation for only 400 of the 600 members. It had been notable to observe the contrast of attitude between the House of Commons and the House of Lords. The latter was quite interested in a body but its members were very matter-of-fact and dignified about their business. The Commons was more demonstrative of its enthusiasm.

The naval review at the Spithead by King George was also witnessed by Mr. Stork. This had been a sight well worth seeing. The orderly parade of British naval ships was nothing less than stupendous. A visit to Admiral Nelson's flagship "Victory" had also been of great interest.

Last night's was the first meeting of the Gyro Club in six weeks and there was a large attendance of members who displayed renewed enthusiasm. There were also the following visitors: Fred Stork, M.P., J. W. Scott, S. J. Macleod, Dr. C. A. Eggert, Ralph Harrap, Jack Barnsley, A. H. Carmichael, Fred Weaver, Howard Frizzell, F. W. Pearson, Weldon McAfee (Georgetown) and Al Falconer (Alice Arm).

Mr. Macleod, who is leaving the city to assume the management of the Royal Bank at Moncton, N.B., was called upon for a few remarks. As he rose, he was greeted with the singing of "For He's Jolly Good Fellow."

MAKE LUNCHEON GREAT EVENT

That is Desire of Board of Trade, Members of Which Will Co-operate to that End

At the meeting of the council of the Board of Trade held yesterday afternoon S. J. Macleod presiding, it was decided to offer the Canadian Club cooperation in the entertainment of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King on the occasion of his forthcoming visit to the city and will urge upon the Canadian Club the desirability of making the luncheon to be given the Premier a large and representative one and if possible to have it open to everyone to attend, whether a member of the Canadian Club or not.

The opinion was expressed that the visit of the Canadian Premier being so great an occasion, opportunity should be given for every man, woman or child who so wished, to meet him and hear his address. A resolution was then put and passed unanimously asking the president to appoint a committee to meet the executive of the Canadian Club with a view to having the scope of the luncheon enlarged and to give any assistance possible in carrying out that laudable object.

FATHER'S FATHER MOTHER'S MOTHER

MUNICH, Sept. 25.—The recent weddings of Karl Braun, 25 years old, and his father have started an endless chain of relationships which has got beyond the reach of genealogists and culminated in Braun becoming his father's father-in-law.

Young Braun married a widow of 45 with grown-up children. Shortly after his father, 50 years of age, married the 24-year-old daughter of his son's wife. Genealogists figure that as a result of the two weddings young Braun became his father's father-in-law and that his wife's daughter became her mother's mother-in-law and the step-mother of her own stepfather.

In the one-piece Summer dress, plaits make a modest debut confining themselves to clusters on each side in deference to the straight-line silhouette.

A black ribbon tie which adjusts itself after the manner of the scarf, a single motif embroidered in black, and small black bone buttons made a smart contrast on a dress of white silk crepe worn by a New York woman. On many dresses the ribbon or scarf softens the direct of the untrimmed neckline. Linen in strawberry, brown, yellow and Lanvin green is used for some of these plaited dresses. If one is in the city much of the time, pongee makes a very cool dress, does not soil as quickly and can be laundered easily.
