LABOR PASSES THROUGH ANOTHER STORM FINDING OF FIRST MARINE COURT IS COMPLETELY REVERSED BY SECOND

Once Again Macdonald Government Staves off Overthrow in Commons

LONDON, May 23.—Labor's ship of state sailed along in calmer waters today having successfully withstood another parliamentary storm, the approach of which caused political look-outs to predict disaster.

The Labor administration's unemployment policy was chosen by its opponents in the Conservative ranks as the vulnerable point and a question was brought up on a technical motion to reduce the salary of the Minister of Labor, Tom Shaw, by a hundred pounds a year.

The resolution was finally talked out last night after a motion by ex-premier Baldwin to impose the closure was defeated by 241 to 210.

BEAVER SEEN ON PIPE-LINE

W. Robinson, 1033 Eleventh Avenue East, while walking along the pipe line last evening, saw a genuine live beaver—an animal that is not often seen on Kaien Island. The furry beauty was on the top of a bank near the pipe line creek eating salmon berry leaves. Mr. Robinson and his daughter were able to get within ten feet of him before he scurried off into the bush.

EMPIRE DAY IS OBSERVED

Annual Patriotic Demonstration For School Children Held by Daughters of Empire

The annual Empire Day patriotic demonstration for school children under the auspices of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, took place this afternoon at the Westholme Theatre.

At 1.30 the youngsters marched from the various schools to the theatre where the proceedings opened at 2 o'clock. On the platform were Mrs. A. T. Parkin, regent of municipal chapter, presiding; Mrs. J. G. Steen, regent of Queen Mary Chapter; Mrs. S. Bateher, regent of Adair Gars Chapter; Miss Blanche Macdonald, regent of Hill 60 Chapter; Mrs. David Thomson, standard bearer of Municipal Chapter; Mrs. S. V. Cox, standard bearer of Adair Gars Chapter; Miss Agnes Donaldson, standard bearer of Hill 60 Chapter; Archdeacon G. A. Rix, and S. E. Parker, chairman of the school board.

As the curtain rose, the various standard bearers took their places at the front of the stage and the children saluted the flag, the singing of "O Canada" following. Mrs. Parkin then delivered her address and Mrs. Jarvis McLeod sang a solo. S. E. Parker, chairman of the school board, spoke briefly, followed by the singing of "Rule Britannia." Archdeacon G. A. Rix then gave an address. Mrs. H. G. Fraser sang a solo and a flag drill was performed by the children. The singing of "Men of Harlech" and "God Save the King," followed by the exhibition of a reel of pictures, brought the proceedings to a close.

The theatre was kindly given for the occasion by the management.

These captivating curls won the owner—12-year-old Lillian Guenther—a "curl contest," which was recently conducted in Los Angeles. The curls are adjudged to be the finest in Hollywood—and for that matter in all the rest of Los Angeles.

Captain Harris Exonerated of Blame at Second Enquiry into Canadian Scottish Stranding

VANCOUVER, May 23.—The marine court of enquiry hearing the case of Capt. Harris, master of the steamer Canadian Scottish which was wrecked out of Prince Rupert harbor on March 3, reversed the decision of the first court and finds that Capt. Harris was not to blame for the stranding of his vessel.

Capt. Alex. Brown, the pilot, was commended for his frank statement and for assuming the blame in connection with the accident.

The second court consisted of Capt. Charles Eadie as commissioner and Capt. F. James, R.N., of Victoria, and Capt. V. Stark of the cable ship Restorer as nautical assessors.

The first court presided over by Capt. J. D. McPherson, Dominion wreck commissioner, found Capt. Harris guilty of negligence and suspended his papers for three months on the grounds that he and the pilot were jointly responsible. The decision was protested by the Canadian Merchant Service Guild and the second enquiry was ordered.

Coolidge has no Difficulty Beating Johnson in Contest for Presidential Nomination

(By Ben Deacon, Canadian Press Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 23.—The race for the Republican presidential nomination has been run. All that remains is the posting of the winner. Despite thrilling forecasts, it proved a very tame affair. Calvin Coolidge won in a walk, his only active opponent, Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, being left hopelessly in the rear. The big Republican gathering at Cleveland next month will not be a convention, but a ratification meeting. It will merely endorse Coolidge's nomination. Predictions at the present time are that not more than 50 of the 1,109 delegates will vote against him and efforts are being made by party leaders to arrange for the unanimous nomination of the New Englander on the first ballot.

Senator Johnson provided the only excitement of pre-convention campaign—what little excitement there was. He also furnished most of the comedy and practically all of the noise. He was particularly noisy in the early stages of the contest, but at no stage was he a dangerous rival of Coolidge.

Johnson's defeats were certainly not due to inaction. He toured the Middle West, speaking almost daily, and had a live organization at work aiding him in assaulting Coolidge and the "Old Guard" of the Republican Party. It was a live organization at the outset, that is, but as the Johnson hopes faded it gradually dwindled and died. As one primary after another passed and was recorded in the Coolidge column Johnson became less vociferous and his supporters fewer and less active. He waged his most violent campaign in the Middle West and Illinois, one after the other, went against him the rebuff practically forced him out of the race. He was touring Ohio at the end of the month when he suddenly gave up the struggle, cancelling an Indiana campaign which had been arranged for him and returning to Washington. He announced that his voice had given out. Reporters who met him in Washington, however, declared that his voice was still strong but his hopes were very weak.

Johnson's present political status is also the subject of no little discussion and speculation. He seems to have nowhere to go. A local writer has aptly termed him "a political waif on no one's doorstep." He appears to be not only out of the presidential race, but out of the campaign as well, and for such a fluent and strenuous spellbinder as Johnson this is a very serious position. Johnson undoubtedly loves to orate, but in this campaign it does not appear likely he will have much chance. He is the country's leading stump orator—without a stump.

He cannot very well support Coolidge actively in the campaign after the bitter attacks he has made on him in the various primary fights; he has arraigned the record of the Coolidge administration and the "Regular" Republican organization, therefore cannot now support the official Republican party. On the other hand, he cannot join forces with the "Progressive" wing of the party, for the Progressives will have none of him. There is a possibility that there may be a third party, but Johnson is excluded from that too. The groups that may coalesce into a third party distrust him. Their leaders—Borah, Morris, La Follette—have declared that they regard Johnson as a backslider from Progressivism, and during

MINISTER IS UNDER FIRE

Action of Hon. James Murdock With Regard to Home Bank Referred to Committee

OTTAWA, May 23.—Without division the House of Commons passed the motion of Gus Porter, Conservative member for Hastings West (Ontario), referring to the committee on privileges and elections, the action of Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, in withdrawing $4,050 from the Home Bank two days before it failed.

The motion asserted that Mr. Murdock had made the withdrawal being certain, through information he had as a minister, that an immediate failure was likely.

Mr. Murdock, in replying, read correspondence between himself and Liquidator Clarkson showing that he had returned $1,050 of the amount withdrawn, and proposed to return the balance.

Vancouver Sun Behind Oliver.

The Vancouver Sun cannot be said to have been a consistent supporter of all the policies of Premier Oliver and his government but that journal is right behind the government in the present election campaign. Here is an editorial in which the Sun last Sunday gave its reasons for supporting Premier Oliver:

Can British Columbians repudiate Premier Oliver? That is the question every voter must ask himself before June 20.

Isolated out here behind the Rocky Mountains and three thousand miles from the political, financial and population centres of Canada, this province has struggled and fought for thirty-five years for its very existence.

Canada's tariff policy has prevented British Columbia from enjoying commercial relations with our natural and adjacent trading markets—Washington, Oregon and California. And Canada's freight rate structure is designed in a manner which facilitates the movement of Western raw products Eastward and Eastern manufactured products Westward, disregarding altogether the natural short haul in and out to Pacific tide-water. So that since joining Confederation, this province has been the outpost, the tail-end of Business Canada.

The Panama Canal entirely changed all this by dividing Canada into two transportation slopes, and therefore into two trading areas; the Eastern area to be served from the Atlantic and the Western area to be served from the Pacific.

But it is one thing to have a natural heritage or a moral right, and it is another thing to collect that heritage or enforce that right.

Vancouver Must Get Out and Fight.

Notwithstanding British Columbia's claim to greater recognition from Business Canada, the executives of every large financial, commercial, political and transportation corporation in Canada are personally interested and personally live in Eastern Canada. Although Vancouver is the third city in Canada, there is not a Vancouver director on the Canadian National, on the C.P.R., on the Canada Grain Board, on the Dominion Railway Board, or on any one of the large institutions of Canada. Under such conditions, what chance has B.C. to get proper recognition—to even get a hearing?

The only chance we have of developing this end of Canada within the next generation, is to get out and fight for recognition, fight for equalized freight rates, an equal charge for equal service applying to other parts of Canada, fight for free and unrestricted use of the Panama Canal, fight for representation on financial and National directorates, and fight for the right of this Province to develop and grow.

Can B.C. Repudiate Premier Oliver?

Whether one likes or dislikes Premier Oliver; whether one agrees with him on other questions (and the Vancouver Sun disagrees with him on many things), it must be admitted:

1—John Oliver's greatly homely common sense and dogged fighting qualities particularly adapt him for a champion of equity and justice.

2—That he is fighting for conditions which are fundamental to the prosperity of British Columbia. Without these conditions, we can make no real progress.

3—That great progress has already been made by him in the case of grain rates, grain elevators, and harbor improvements; and, working with a sympathetic government at Ottawa, there is every reason to look for and expect even more favorable consideration in the immediate future.

4—That to replace Premier Oliver at this particular time with either Mr. Bowser or Gen. McRae would in effect say to official Ottawa that we were not sincerely interested in Premier Oliver's campaign. But this is not so; we are interested, vitally interested.

Disregarding petty issues, disregarding personal sentiment and disregarding political sentiment, our provincial election gets down to the simple economic question—Can this province afford to repudiate Premier Oliver?

EARLY DAYS ON PRAIRIES

Rev. G. G. Haeker Delivered Interesting Address Before Rotary Club

At the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday afternoon, Rev. G. G. Haeker, pastor of the Methodist Church, gave an interesting talk on his experiences in church work on the prairies in the early days. In opening his speech Mr. Haeker said he did not pretend to be one of the pioneers of the prairies but rather of the second group of pioneers having landed in Regina from eastern Canada some 20 years ago. At that time he was a young man of between 22 and 23 years of age. He arrived in Regina at night. Going to the small country hotel he put his grip down and went out to see his church superintendent. The superintendent asked him if he had sleeping accommodation for the night and he (Mr. Haeker) said that he was staying at the hotel. However, on going back to the hotel he encountered the night clerk, who was none other than Jim Hampton of this city and upon asking for a room was told that the hotel had been full up since 10 o'clock in the morning. Being too proud to go back to his superintendent for a night's lodgings he walked around until he spotted a sign reading "Beds." There he got a bed in a dormitory in which there were 40 other beds and, although negroes, Chinamen, Japanese, Galicians and all sorts of other nationalities were in the same room, he managed to sleep fairly comfortably. The cosmopolitan nature of the sleepers had taught him that the west was very different from the east.

Optical Illusion

The speaker went on to tell how the next day he went out into the country by train. On seeing a house in the distance he judged it to be about a mile and a half away but, after encountering swarms of mosquitoes and walking for a considerable time, he found it was five miles off. This experience taught him that the prairie was a good deal vaster than he had previously thought. From the house Mr. Haeker borrowed a rough riding pony and being a "rough" rider himself went on a 25 mile ride next day. On returning late at night he was met by two large wolfhounds who resented his approach and he was forced to sleep in the barn on a bag of oats. In the morning he felt a fairly good westerner.

The speaker said that he soon learned to like the country and had a good deal of fun out of life as well as a lot of hard work. The water in those days was obtained from tanks in which buckets were dipped. The water was invariably full of polywogs and it became necessary to bang the bucket on the top of the water thereby driving the polywogs to the bottom and then to quickly dip the bucket under the water. In this manner only a few polywogs were caught in the bucket.

Range Horses

In speaking of horses on the range, Mr. Haeker told of the manner in which the leader would marshal his herd at the approach of a storm to a sheltered position in which they would stand in a circle until the storm had passed. The range horses, he said, preferred to run out in the winter and to paw for their food underneath the snow even at a temperature of 10 degrees below zero. They would do that rather than eat in a barn. Oftentimes the horses would kick out the side of a granary standing in the open and eat the grain as it ran out on to the ground.

Mr. Haeker told of how he had driven 80 miles in two days to see his girl. On coming to within a mile of the house, it became necessary to pass through a slough with about four feet of water in it. When the team he was driving got into the middle of the pool one of the horses lay down and refused to budge. Tying the lines to the top of the buggy, to prevent the horse from getting its head under the water, he was forced to remove his trousers and wade through the water to the house. There he obtained a heavy team and hauled his own team out.

Types of Settlers

The old type of settlers were the men who had come to the prairies when there was little market for grain or other farm produce. They were conservative men and afraid to go into debt. The European foreigners, the speaker said, had come out to the prairies to make homes. They were not afraid to go into debt, always had stock on which to live and made good farmers. They hung together, spoke their own language, and lived as they had always lived in their own country. They always lived well and some of the best meals he had ever tasted he had eaten in the homes of the foreign born.

Mr. Haeker told of visiting a Russian home on the prairie one day where he ate the finest bread and butter he had ever tasted in his life. The type of settler who started things going on the prairies had been the American settler. The American, he said, had unbounded faith in the possibilities of the country and was not afraid to go into debt to better his working conditions. They were never worried about not making good, saying that they could always go back to the States and start again. The American had revolutionized the use of farm machinery and was always out to do things in a big way.

Cyclones and Weather

The speaker then told of the extremes in temperature in winter and summer on the prairies and mentioned some facts about the freaky things done by the Regina cyclone. In that cyclone he had picked up a chicken which had been plucked clean by the wind. His neighbor's house had been lifted completely from the lot on which it stood to the next lot and but for the breaking of glass had suffered little damage.

The work of the church was little different on the prairies to other parts of Canada. On first taking up the work on the prairies Mr. Haeker said he had experienced difficulty in making the people understand that he would hold services every Sunday they having been used to periodical services only. In conclusion the speaker said that in the old days one's wants were few, credit was good and the merchant only sent in his bill once a year.

TELKWA

J. J. McNeil, the prominent merchant of Telkwa, is preparing for a motor trip through the States and will leave Telkwa after Race Day which is annually held on May 24. The great event of the day is the Telkwa Cup, Warrior, owned by Dr. Geo. Paine, is the favorite this year after having two previous successes to his credit.

A. E. Richards of Summerland is ably filling the bill as Dominion representative of the Department of Agriculture and has just completed a tour of the experimental plots of the northern and central interior. He advocates the growing of seed and states that red clover tried on the Dockerill ranch came through the winter exceptionally well.

Work on the Owen Lake property of the Federal Company is forging ahead. Early next month it is quite possible camps will be erected. Mining in and around the Bulkley Valley looks more promising than ever. Already there are some very good men in the field.

During last week the Telkwa bridge was permanently closed after being condemned over two years ago. The closing of this structure will be a serious handicap to the settlers on the west side of the Telkwa river.

Guy Farrow was elected president, G. V. Wright, secretary and Messrs. Gilmore, Lemieux, Gowatlock and J. Warren to serve on the executive of the Round Lake local association of the Provincial Party while Messrs. Farrow, Lemieux and Warren received the appointment as delegates to attend the Burns Lake Convention on May 21.

Hon. A. M. Manson, Dr. H. C. Wrieh and R. S. Sargent, addressed a meeting at Telkwa on Saturday afternoon with O. C. Lawson in the chair. The attendance was exceptionally good and Mr. Manson's fluent speech was most interesting. It was the attorney general's departing speech to the old Omineca district.

The Provincial Party Local have elected Rev. J. S. Brayfield, J. Donaldson, E. M. Hoops and F. B. Chettleburgh to act as delegates at the Skeena Convention to be held at Smithers on May 27.

BRINGING UP FATHER

VETERANS WIN SOCCER GAME

Scored Four Goals in Second Half and Emerged Winners by 5 to 1.

The Great War Veterans' football team won its first victory last night by defeating the Sons of England 5 to 1. The Sons got their only tally in the first half which was the best phase of the game. Percy Tinker scored, W. Murray equalized for the Veterans a few minutes before half time. In the second half Murray scored from a penalty and J. Johnson registered three goals for the Vets.

The teams lined up as follows: S.O.E.—Harvey, goal; George Kelsey and R. Howe, full backs; Hayter, Cameron and Hodgkinson, half backs; Geo. Hill, Jr., A. Lane, P. Tinker, Cole and Dickens, forwards.

G.W.V.A.—Knox, goal; Hunter and Whatman, full backs; Carney, W. Murray and Finley, half backs; Hamilton, Barton, J. Johnson, Norwood and Dido Gurvich, forwards.

First Half

The Sons won the toss and elected to kick up hill with the wind in their favor. From the kick-off the Sons pressed and Tinker tried Knox. Gurvich, for the Vets, got a run but a bye kick resulted. The Vets were pressing and the sphere was booted up and down the field in turn. The teams were pretty evenly matched and the play at this juncture was of a good brand. Both sides were playing their hardest and there was little to choose between the two. The wind seemed to blow in all directions and did not materially help either side. The Vets pressed and Barton tested Harvey, who made a pretty save conceding a corner but nothing came of it. The Great War boys continued to press and Gurvich tried to score but Kelsey cleared. The Sons then took a turn and Dickens passed a nice one to Lane, in front of Knox, but he did not use it to advantage. In a determined rush by the Son's forwards P. Tinker scored when Knox dropped the ball. From the centre the Vets pressed but the wind was interfering with the play. In a bombardment of the Son's goal W. Murray for the Vets scored a dandy. At half time the score stood 1-1.

Second Half

In the second half the Englishmen were outplayed entirely. Their forward line seemed to sag and, but for Tinker and Dickens, there was not much to it. The defence tried hard to stop the old soldiers but it was in vain. During a bombardment of the Englishmen's stronghold Dick Howe fouled in the penalty area which, taken by W. Murray, was turned to good account.

From the centre the Sons came down the field but Hill was unable to score. In a return dash by the Vets, Johnson got an open goal and introduced the leather to the net thereby registering the third tally. Although the Sons worked hard to stop the soldiers it was without avail and in quick succession Johnson, in the Vets forward line scored two more points. At the final whistle the score stood 5-1 in favor of the G.W.V.A.

Comments on Play

The weak spot of the Sons of England team was the forward line. There seemed to be only two men doing anything namely Tinker and Dickens—although the rest seemed to work hard without effect. Too much individualism seemed to be at the bottom of it. Harvey, in goal for the Englishmen, did well and the size of the score was no particular fault of his. Kelsey and Howe at full back played a good game while Cameron and Hodgkinson in the half back line put in very effective defence work.

The G.W.V.A. team has materially improved since the last game. Hunter and Whatman at full back played a fair game. Their forward line showed good combination and was constantly attacking. Knox, in goal, carried out what little he had to do with confidence. Murray in the half back line played a sterling game, while J. Johnson, Dido Gurvich and Hamilton in the forward line did well. Barton, also in the forward line, tried hard but was badly handicapped with an injured leg.

Sport Chat

Between the carnival being held by the Elks and the Fair Board and the program of sports being offered at Aeropolis Hill grounds, Victoria Day bids fair to be as fittingly celebrated in Prince Rupert tomorrow as it ever has been in past years. Providing the Weather Man is considerate, everybody should have a good time because arrangements have been made to provide fun for all. The committee in charge of the carnival have been working hard for several weeks and their efforts bear promise of being crowned with success. A number of novelties are being introduced and a visit to the Exhibition Hall will be well worth while it is assured.

A Nervous Wreck

Victim of Gas—After Endless Suffering—Turns To His Old Friend and Is Well

The Fruit Treatment "Fruit-a-tives"

One of the most astonishing recoveries that seems almost like a miracle, is that of Mr. James Dobson of Brant, Ont., a prominent merchant, a mine owner and one of the charter members of the Dominion Stock Exchange, Toronto.

In 1912, Mr. Dobson was completely relieved of Rheumatism by taking the Fruit Treatment, after suffering for more than five years. In January of last year, Mr. Dobson was almost suffocated by gas from a furnace in his house. He says, "I had blood tests, analysis of the stomach, X-ray of teeth, had eight teeth extracted and became a nervous wreck. Finally, my wife suggested trying our old medicine 'Fruit-a-tives', which I did. Today, I weigh 189 pounds instead of 140 and am completely restored to health. In my estimation, there is no other medicine that will give as good results as 'Fruit-a-tives'."

Thousands and thousands of people, in the past eighteen years, have come to the same conclusion—that there is no other medicine that will give as good results as "Fruit-a-tives"—for all troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, liver, kidneys or skin. "Fruit-a-tives" are the intensified juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, combined with tones and form a complete treatment in themselves. If you are not well, try the Fruit Treatment. Your dealer has "Fruit-a-tives"—25c. and 50c. a box—or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Halibut landings this week were well up to the average and many large American schooners arrived in port to augment the sales. The weather conditions on the northern fishing banks have remained very favorable and the long days have permitted good remunerative work to be carried on. Prices offered on the Fish Exchange fluctuated very slightly from those prevailing last week. American offerings remained around the 10c and 11c mark for first class fish and 5c and 6c for second class, while Canadian offerings have received from 9c to 11c for first class and 4c for second class, which was a cent more for the latter than they received the week previous. The landings of red and white salmon have not been so heavy this week. On Monday nine Canadian and five American schooners landed a total of 174,500 pounds when Canadian second class fares obtained 6c as against the 5c prevailing previously. Six Canadian and seven American boats arrived in port on Tuesday morning with a total catch of 228,000 pounds of halibut when prices dropped a few points for first class landings. Landings on Wednesday dropped when only three Canadian schooners brought in 14,000 pounds of halibut. In consequence of the light arrivals prices for first class fares rose as high as two cents while second class fares obtained 6c and 5c. Yesterday four Canadian schooners landed a total of 14,300 pounds of halibut and prices for first class fish attained 11c while second class fish rose half a cent from 6c to 6 1/2c. On Wednesday the troller Seminole landed 1,300 pounds of red and 1200 pounds of white salmon which sold to the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. at 14c and 3c. The packer Taplow brought in 5,000 red yesterday and the price dropped to 13c.

Arrived in port on Tuesday morning with 32,000 pounds of halibut which was sold at 8c and 5c to the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. This is the second catch the Seamaid has made since her initial trip to the northern banks. Her previous catch of 35,000 pounds was sold at Seward owing to inclement weather. The arrival of the Seamaid on Tuesday marked her first trip in to the port of Prince Rupert since her launching here about a month ago.

Jim Broke Arm

On the arrival of the Canadian schooner Annie May, Capt. G. Bagley, on Tuesday morning Jim Marshall, a member of her crew, was rushed to the hospital suffering with a broken arm. The accident happened on the northern banks while Jim was hauling in fish. By some unaccountable manner he caught his arm in the gurdy with the result the member was broken in two places. Directly the accident occurred Cap ordered the ship turned for home to rush the invalid to medical aid, first aid being administered on the boat. The Annie May, as a consequence of the accident only brought in a light catch of 4,000 pounds. The nauticals will wish Jim a speedy recovery.

Owing to the weight of the engine and the consequent vibration when opened up, the launch Oh Baby, skippered by John Myhill-Jones, has this week undergone a new power installation. The 30-50 horse power Sterling has been replaced with a 25-30 horse power Sterling. This replacing of the engine will not in any way lessen the speed of the craft but will enable the engine to run at full speed without causing unnecessary vibration.

The Naas river launch, recently built by H. Darby to be commissioned in the Naas river transportation business, particulars of which already have appeared in these columns, was successfully launched on Monday night. The hull is now down at the dry dock in preparation for the engine installation. The engine will be a Van Blerck of 200 horse power.

New Fish Boat Launched

The 63 foot Canadian fishing schooner, recently completed at the N. M. McLean yards for Messrs. Ted Shrubbs and Pete Jensen, was launched on Monday morning. The hull is now tied at the slips and work is going forward on the decking and deck fixtures. The arrival of the Skandia engine, with which the boat will be powered, is expected any day now. If all goes well the boat should be ready for a trial trip towards the end of next month.

The Canadian schooner N. M. & R. skippered by Jim Neville, having completed her herring fishing activities and subsequent overhauling, left for the northern banks on Saturday last to engage in the halibut fishing.

The power cruiser Vera S. Fry, owned by M. M. Stephens, has been thoroughly overhauled during the week.

Capt. Pete Sorensen has completed work on the general utility boat Jenny. The new craft, particulars of which have already been given in Whiffs, is now in Cow Bay undergoing minor fixings above deck.

Pete Gamula has fixed up his pleasure launch during the week. Hull and engine repairs have been carried out.

The Canadian fishing schooner Murineag, Capt. Jud Thurber, is on the Ward ways for a spring cleaning.

Slap Dab

It's a case of "Slap dab, slap dab, up and down the woodwork" in the vicinity of Cow Bay these days. Every available brush has been rushed into action suitable for painting. It's funny what lovely painting some men can do with even a toothbrush. There is not a craft at anchor on the waterfront that is not undergoing untold joys at the hands of their respective skippers who seem bent on beating the fellow next door at making their craft the snappiest. The fashion in paint this year seems to be a cross between the color of a fish's feathers and the skin of a billiard ball. It is of a lovely hue if one can notice which part of the boat has been painted. However, joking apart, the various boats are looking nifty in their new summer suits of paint and for real smartness the local fishing fleet, both trollers and halibut boats, would be hard to beat.

The boats of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.'s fishing fleet have all recently undergone spring painting. In place of the all black paint the boats have been done in white with grey facings and present a very epic and span appearance.

The trolling boat Roy W. has been repaired at Seal Cove this week by Alex Wylie. The stern has been extended for 4 feet and other necessary jobs have been done on her.

A native craft arrived in port during the week from the Gardner Canal district with a cargo of fur including mink, marten and otter. The furs found a ready local sale.

The native power boat Emma Grace, of Oolichan fame, arrived in port on Wednesday afternoon from the Naas district. She will leave on her return trip over the week end after taking on supplies and doing a little engine fixing.

The Doreen II, a native craft from Kitkatla, is being repaired at the Suga yards on Cow Bay creek. The guard planks are being fixed and new deck planking is being put on.

Launch "23," the flagship of the Prince Rupert Boat House fleet, has been thoroughly overhauled in readiness for the Salt Lake run. Jeff Lambley will officiate as skipper this year.

W. G. Walford, of boat launching fame, has just completed making a new pleasure hull for A. H. McLean of Ocean Falls. The hull measures 22 feet by a 5 foot 9 inch beam and was packed and shipped in pieces on the steamer Prince Rupert last night. The hull will be assembled by Mr. Smith upon arrival at Ocean Falls.

The launch Dixie Rupert is looking as new as a bride these days. This well known craft has recently been overhauled and painted by her skipper, George Newcomb.

Five Roses—Fine Boat

The launch Five Roses is the latest craft to appear. She has been built by and is owned by R. T. J. Rose. The new launch was built by its owner at his home on Seventh Ave. W. The dimensions of the boat are 28 foot long by an 8 foot 4 inch beam. She was skidded down to the waterside on Sunday morning last by the Lindsay Transfer Co. There is still some mechanical work to be done on her and she is now placed at the Ward electric dock where a 13.15 h.p. heavy duty Buffalo engine and the propeller is to be installed. The boat is of the forward cabin type with observation accommodation in the rear and presents a very snappy appearance. The name on the bow has been very artistically put on in scroll work showing a picture of a cluster of five roses. The boat has been named Five Roses from the fact that there are five members of the Rose family.

Claude Lee Busy

Our congenial friend Claude Lee, of Seal Cove crab fishing fame, is busily engaged putting his nets and fishery premises in order in readiness for engaging in the fall rush of crab and shrimp fishing at which he is quite expert. Claude has thoroughly overhauled his nets and boat and everything is looking in apple pie order. He has been rumored that Claude and Jack Toner are seriously thinking of forming a merger in the local crab and shrimp fishing.

WAS CONSTIPATED FOR SEVERAL YEARS

If you have suffered from constipation for years, tried all kinds of remedies without getting relief, if you have been subject to all the miseries associated with constipation, wouldn't you consider it a blessing to be able to keep the bowels regular and in a good healthy condition and prevent disease getting a foothold on your system?

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are indicated just for this purpose; their regular use relieving the worst cases of constipation.

Mr. M. Hedican, Sudbury, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with constipation for several years. I began to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and find them to be the best remedy I have ever used for regulating the bowels and liver. I always keep them now and recommend them highly."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Eat More Wheat. Do it with Bread, Cakes, Puddings, Pastries, baked with Five Roses Flour. The World's Best. Oh! You Florence. In consequence of the stir in boat painting circles around Seal Cove during the week agents of the fleet secret service were sent out to investigate. After an exhaustive inquiry it was learned that every paint brush, or any old thing that could be painted with, including shaving brushes, and every paint pot was conspicuous by its absence. Also there was not enough paint left on hand with which to paint a mosquito's cheek. The search of the agents was rewarded when they espied the Florence B. owned and skippered by one Bob Blance, shining like a diamond in a basin of mush, moored securely under the wharf. Upon going aboard it was discovered the weight of the paint pots and brushes aboard was liable to sink the boat and when these were removed the boat lifted like a cork. However, the craft was a masterpiece of camouflage art and if it were possible to frame it and hang it in the Royal Academy it would either get the painter a ten dollar prize or a ten year sentence. ANYOX SPORT SEASON OPEN

Three Football and Two Baseball Games Have Been Played to Date

ANYOX, May 23.—The Anyox sport season is well away, three games of football and two games of baseball having been decided in the past ten days. On the football field the Mine has won two victories, one over the Smelter eleven and the other over the Beach aggregation, the Smelter annexing one the last game played, the Beach team again losing. All these games were evenly contested, however, and what promises to be the best year so far experienced in Anyox football annals has started.

There will be two nights devoted to football on the local grounds, two to senior baseball and the remaining two nights to intermediate baseball, with a ladies' baseball game sandwiched in between somewhere.

The intermediates were the last to organize, a well-attended meeting starting the ball rolling on Wednesday evening, May 21. The intermediate season will commence on the first Wednesday after the beginning of June. The schedules for all three leagues will run until the end of August.

The senior ball tossers have played two games of the baseball schedule to date, the Mine losing both games, one of the Smelter and one to the Elks. The Mine-Smelter game result was a big surprise to players and fans alike as the Mine was touted to get an easy win instead of which the Smelter through won nine to three.

Well Organized

Anyox sport is better organized this year than ever before and the leaders for the summer months are as follows:

law. If these Washington observers are right Johnson is politically dead, his career furnishes interesting material for a post mortem. It reveals a severe case of egotism and self assurance and one of the causes for his political demise. For if Johnson had been willing to play second fiddle he would be President of the United States today. He had two chances.

Missed Opportunities

In the Republican convention of 1920 he refused to throw his strength to Philander Knox for the Presidency on the agreement that he had the vice-presidency. If he had been willing, such a ticket would have been the Republican choice long before Harding and Coolidge were selected as a compromise. If Johnson had acceded to this plan he would have been president on October 21, 1921, the date of the Death of Knox, only seven months after the inaugural.

Johnson however, felt that he could win first place and refused to take second place to Knox. Yet when it was apparent that he had no chance of the Presidential nomination and Harding was finally selected, Johnson still was not content to accept second place. Harding, according to reports of the "inside" convention happenings, got Johnson on the telephone and requested him personally to stand as his running mate. Johnson, in a huff, again refused. Had he accepted he would have been president in August, 1923, and would in all probability have been assured of Coolidge is today.

It was the Presidential nomination or nothing with Hiram Johnson. Today it is apparently nothing.

Nine Years Ago---A Few Remarks

The passing of May, 1924, marks the completion of our ninth year in business, as the Table Supply first opened its doors on June 1, 1915. During this time, our expansion has been rapid. We take this opportunity to express to the public our appreciation of the splendid support accorded us, and to assure our many loyal customers that we will do our utmost to retain their confidence for the future.

Looking back, we cannot help recalling just one incident, which occurred on June 30, 1915. We disposed of more than 2,000 full size quart baskets of strawberries in one hour between 11 a.m. and 12 noon, at 5c per basket on the day before a holiday. Prince Rupert consumers never received such value before or since. Our policy of quick turnover and small profits has been a winner.
