SMITHERS BACKS RUPERT AS GRAIN PORT

MANY IMMIGRANTS ARE ARRIVING IN CANADA THIS WEEK END TO SETTLE

New Arguments Brought out by Smithers Board of Trade Favor Grain Elevator at Prince Rupert

Would Develop Grain Growing Industry in Central Valleys of British Columbia: Return Freights Ready.

In backing the claim of Prince Rupert for a grain elevator and other facilities at this port, the Smithers Board of Trade brings out two new points, one being the possible development of the Bulkley, Nechako and other valleys if grain shipping facilities are provided, and the other fact that the hauling of ties to the prairies provides a large return freight for the grain cars. The resolution, which was passed by the Smithers Board of Trade follows:

That this board of trade place itself on record as strongly endorsing the proposed development of grain shipment by way of Prince Rupert British Columbia, and the early establishment at that port of grain shipping facilities, including a cleaning and sacking plant and a grain elevator; and

That this board of trade direct the attention of the Dominion government and the management of the Canadian National Railways to the following considerations rendering such establishment at an early date advisable:

Good Reasons

1.—It will provide the shortest and most direct possible route for a grain trade between the Canadian prairies and the Orient; 2.—The port of Prince Rupert offers many advantages as a port for the shipment of Canadian grain, such as:

- (a) Deep water harbor;
- (b) Close proximity to the open ocean;
- (c) Saving of pilotage expense;
- (d) Cheaper insurance costs;
- (e) Freedom from the ice the year round;
- (f) Rock foundations for elevators, piers, etc.
- (g) Plenty of room on the water front;

(h) A large part of the water front now owned by the Canadian National Railways, obviating the acquisition of property from private owners, etc., etc.

3.—The railway haul to Prince Rupert is over a road bed with exceptionally favorable grade and passing through the mountains at a very low elevation.

Traffic Interruptions

4.—The railway from Yellowhead Pass to Prince Rupert is less subject to traffic interruptions from slides, wash-outs, etc., than any other rail route across British Columbia, so that delays in hauling will be minimized.

5.—An additional railway route and port will be added to relieve the congestion often experienced in handling the prairie grain crop.

6.—Congestion of grain at the port of Vancouver and on the Canadian National from Yellowhead Pass to Vancouver, now very serious, will be relieved by another outlet for grain from Edmonton and the northern prairies.

7.—With proper facilities for handling grain at Prince Rupert, grain can be hauled to that port at the rate of four hundred cars per day.

Return Freights

8.—Hauling of grain on the Yellowhead Pass—Prince Rupert line of the Canadian National Railways will give loads for cars now being hauled west-bound empty. Lumber and ties shipped ticket.

east from this line at the present time require some nine thousand cars per year, practically all of which are brought west empty. With west-bound loads of grain and east-bound loads of lumber and ties, the non-productive movement of cars will be greatly reduced, thus giving greater economy in railway operation.

9.—The hauling of grain over the Canadian National Railways to Prince Rupert will help to give the necessary freight tonnage to put the Canadian National Railways on a sound financial basis.

Potential Grain Areas

10.—An accessible outlet will be provided for potential grain producing areas comprising millions of acres of fertile farm lands in Central British Columbia, including the rich valleys of the Upper Fraser, the Nechako, the Bulkley, the Skeena, and the Nass Rivers.

Already it has been amply demonstrated that these areas are capable of producing the finest grain, but the development of grain production has long been retarded by the great distance from existing grain markets and the lack of grain handling facilities.

With the stimulus of a grain port at their back door, the farmers now settled in these areas will no longer limit their production to home needs as in the past, but will grow grain for the outside market. With the growth of this branch of the farming industry, new lands will be brought under cultivation, new settlers will flock into Central British Columbia, new business will be created for the railways, and another long step will have been taken on the way to the ultimate solution of our big Canadian railway problem.

OLIVER WILL DENY EVIDENCE

Counsel Announced That Premier Would Again go Into Witness Box

VICTORIA, March 14.—Within the next few days Premier Oliver will go into the witness box before Commissioner Galliher, who is conducting the P.G.E. probe, and will swear that statements made before the commissioner by E. Mr. Taylor intimated that Premier Oliver will deny that he dismissed Rossiter, as the latter alleges, and will swear that he gave Rossiter definite instructions to check up every dollar spent on the P.G.E. project. Rossiter denied yesterday that he received such instructions from the premier.

Special Trains to Carry Many Immigrants Westward who are Arriving Today and Tomorrow

MONTREAL, March 14.—Steamships arriving at Halifax over the week end will bring in more than sixteen hundred immigrants according to advices which have been received by J. B. Morrison, general passenger agent of steamships of the Canadian National Railways at Montreal.

Among this number are several personally conducted parties coming to Canada under the auspices of the department of colonization of the Canadian National Railways, the Salvation Army, and the Church Army. The number includes quite a large

TWO BIG MILLS TO BE OPERATED

Giscome and Hutton Plants in Prince George District Preparing for Active Season

Two big lumber concerns in the Prince George district are busy preparing for an active sawmilling season this year. They are the Eagle Lake Spruce Mills Ltd., at Giscome and the United Grain Growers at Hutton. Logging is going on in full swing and new machinery is being put in the Giscome mill. Between the two plants close to 800 men are now employed.

All British Three boats are due to dock on Saturday. The heaviest passenger list is that of the Cunarder Ansonia, which will land 327 passengers at Halifax, of this number about 300 are immigrants, among whom is a conducted party brought out by the Ontario government and another by the Church Army. The first numbers 25 and the second 11.

Practically all the passengers on the Regina and Ansonia are Anglo-Saxon and from the British Isles.

One hundred and ninety-six continentals mostly from the districts bordering on the Baltic Sea are due to arrive from Halifax on Saturday on board the Lituania of the Baltic-American line.

As far as is known the majority of these will proceed to Western Canada.

On the French liner Houssillon which docks on Saturday also there are 14 passengers, the most of whom are for Quebec ports.

Two boats, Oscar II. of the Scandinavian-American line and the Brennen of the North German Lloyd line are due to dock at Halifax Monday. The Oscar II. will bring 300 passengers, of whom the vast majority are immigrants of Scandinavian birth.

These it is believed, will settle in Ontario and Western Canada.

Five Special Trains

The Brennen has only 60 passengers for Canada but these are thought to be settlers for the German colonies in Western Ontario and Western Canada. From Halifax the passengers of all these boats will be brought to Montreal by special trains over the Canadian National Railways and it is thought that at least five special trains will be required to take care of their transportation.

It is possible also that special trains may have to be run to Toronto and Winnipeg to take care of the parties for Ontario and Western Canada points.

CAUSE FOR ALL DELINQUENCY

D. Brankin Speaks to Rotary Club on Duties Toward "The Handicapped Boy."

That the cause of delinquency in a child could often be traced back a long way, even to prenatal days was one of the many interesting things told the Rotary Club yesterday afternoon at their weekly luncheon by David B. Brankin, head of the provincial industrial school for boys. He said that for over twenty years he had been engaged in work among boys and he told the members of the club of many of the problems which presented themselves. The 137 boys in the home over which he presided were largely the victims of circumstances or conditions. The home was one of the largest factors but there were many others and one of these mentioned particularly was the prenatal influence. In the case of these boys the home, the schools, the church had all failed. In the industrial home the lads were taught vocations.

Physical or Mental Boys, Mr. Brankin said, were often found to suffer from some physical or mental disability. This was a contributing cause for the delinquency. The first thing done, when a boy entered the home, was to have him examined by a doctor. Diseased tonsils, adenoids, defective hearing, or sight and sometimes in the case of a moral degenerate the lack of circumcision was a contributory cause. By removing the disability the child got a new outlook on life. While the home cost a good deal it was money well spent.

The speaker told of a great many cases where injustices had been done children by placing them in foster homes. When a person takes a particular fancy for a child and it does not develop according to expectation, the child has an unhappy life. Under the new law of inheritance the foster child is given the rights of parentage. In 420 cases of adoption under that law he knew of only five that had proved unsatisfactory.

Mr. Brankin urged the need of an educational campaign in order to do the right thing by the boys. In that way many of the wrongs could be prevented. He thought a school for parents would be a good thing to teach them how to look after their children. The duty of the father to the boy was just as great as that of the mother. The boy copies his father because he would grow into a boy and not a girl. Parents were often guilty of the same sins of omission more than of

MEETING OF POLICE BOARD

Fines for February Totalled $311.75; Patrol Light System Again up; Fraser Street Discussed

The regular monthly meeting of the police commission was held yesterday afternoon in the city council chamber. Mayor Newton and Commissioner R. W. Cameron were in attendance, Commissioner Montgomery being absent.

The report of Chief Vickers for the month of February showed there had been nineteen cases in the police court resulting in fifteen convictions, three dismissals and one pending. Collection totalled $311.75, $56.75 being for keep of provincial prisoners and the balance fines. The payroll totaling $788.84 and several small accounts were passed for payment.

Mayor Newton asked if any of the women who had been sent to Okala last fall for liquor selling and who later were released had returned to the city. The chief reported that one was back.

A letter from Thomas A. Long, chief of police, Nelson, describing the working of a patrol light system in that city was read and the matter was laid over until next meeting so that Commissioner Montgomery may have an opportunity of saying something about it. The system, which Chief Long stated was satisfactory, was operated from the telephone exchange. There were white and red lights respectively for day and night use. Officers could thus be called immediately from their beats when a call was lodged at the telephone exchange.

Chief Vickers reported that his officers would soon be needing new uniforms. It was decided to have the chief and the purchasing agent prepare specifications and call for tenders.

Inquiry was made by Commissioner Cameron as to how conditions were on Fraser Street. Mayor Newton told of a Comox Avenue house owner complaining that his houses were empty. It was suggested that the occupants might have gone to Fraser Street. The mayor urged the chief to keep a tight grip on the Fraser Street situation.

A letter from "Julius Caesar," making fun of the dog tax collecting system, was handed to the commissioners by the chief and caused considerable merriment.

The meeting adjourned after a session of less than half an hour.

TO TAKE STEPS TOWARD RELIEVING CREDITORS

Question of Defunct Northern Polytechnic Institute to be Taken up with Department

The co-operation of the Department of Education towards making settlement of accounts against the defunct Northern Polytechnic Institute is to be sought by the Prince Rupert school board. This was decided upon by the board last night after a letter from Rose, Cowan & Latia, which firm is a creditor of the institute to the amount of about $500, was read. The letter stated that the firm had been under the impression the school board and department of education had been behind the institute when credit had been extended it.

Trustee Casey felt that the board might have a moral if not a legal obligation. He was in favor of going to the extent at least of bringing the matter to the attention of the department of education. Mr. Kyle, the department's representative, had been an active factor in launching the institute.

The agreement between the board and the institute whereby all financial responsibility of the former was relinquished was read. It was the general opinion of the board, however, that the board might do something to relieve the creditors. Accordingly it was decided to take the matter up with the department.

Outstanding accounts against the Institute total about $1,000, Secretary Vance reported.

BOY'S BAD COLD TURNED TO BRONCHITIS

The frequency with which bronchitis develops into pneumonia is appreciated by very few mothers. The danger of pneumonia is, probably, well understood too, but how many mothers take into consideration that a neglected attack of bronchitis frequently leads to this dangerous disease?

We would advise all mothers to give their children Dr. Woods' Norway Pine Syrup the first moment they show any symptoms of a cold or cough, as by doing this they may save them from an attack of bronchitis or pneumonia.

Mrs. Lawrence Quick, Sandwich, Ont., writes:—“My little boy, six years old, had a bad cold which turned to bronchitis. I tried everything I thought would be best for it, but did not see him getting any better. I was told to try Dr. Woods' Norway Pine Syrup, and after giving him two bottles he got wonderful relief. I cannot praise it enough.”

The two bidders having tendered within 32¢ of each other on school supplies for the year which business amounts to approximately $600, the school board last night decided to split the order between W. W. Wrathall and McRae Bros.

J. C. Brady, principal of the High School, reported to the school board last night that King Edward School was badly in need of a new flag. The secretary was instructed to obtain the flag from the department of education which supplies them free of charge.

An account from A. A. Cox, architect, for $1750, balance claimed in connection with plans and specifications prepared by him for reconstruction of the Booth Memorial School, was received by the school board last night. A committee consisting of Trustees Williams, Orme and Rochester was delegated to take the matter up with Mr. Cox with a view to reaching a settlement.

LOCAL TEAM WINS AGAIN

Maple Leafs Beat Anyox Ladies at Smelter Town Last Night by Score of 10 to 5

Scoring their fourth consecutive victory on as many succeeding nights, the Maple Leafs, girls' basketball champions of Prince Rupert, were successful in defeating the Anyox ladies in the home town of the latter last evening by a score of 10 to 5. It was a good game and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd of spectators.

Fred Brown refereed and the teams lined up as follows:

Anyox — Miss Sundae Calderone; Miss Julia Calderone; Miss Janet Moffatt; Miss Rose Moffatt; Miss S. Dean; Mrs. Wensrum.

Maple Leafs—Miss Margaret Graham; Miss Laura Frizzell; Miss Myra Harvey; Miss Lillian Lowe; Miss Aileen Stephens.

After the game, there was a dance in honor of the Prince Rupert team. The steamer Prince George was held over for an hour to allow the local girls a little longer to enjoy the hospitality accorded them. They arrived home at 7 o'clock this morning, all reporting a very pleasant trip.

Besides the players named above, others making the trip were Miss S. A. Mills, chaperon; Miss Louie Fisher, Miss Dorothy Macdonald, Ralph Smith, coach; Dick Greenwell, Don Graham and Miss Hulda Graham.

Sport Chat

The meeting tonight between the Grotto and the Great War Veterans in the Prince Rupert City Billiard League competition for the Bulger & Cameron cup significant of city championship will be particularly interesting to fans of the popular indoor sport for it will mark the tightening up of the league race or the stretching out by the Veterans of their lead to a point where it will be practically impossible to overcome it. The match will probably go further towards deciding the city championship than any meeting now left on the calendar. To-night's games over, each team in the competition will have played nine games and there will be but one apiece left for each.

The strongest players on either side are being mustered as the following line-up will show:

George Waugh (Grotto) vs. Col. McDermie (Great War Vet.).

7 p.m.

Don Brown vs. Sgt. Jepson, 10 p.m.

Jack Soden vs. E. Fenelon, 8 p.m.

Jack Judge vs. F. Pyle, 7.30 p.m.

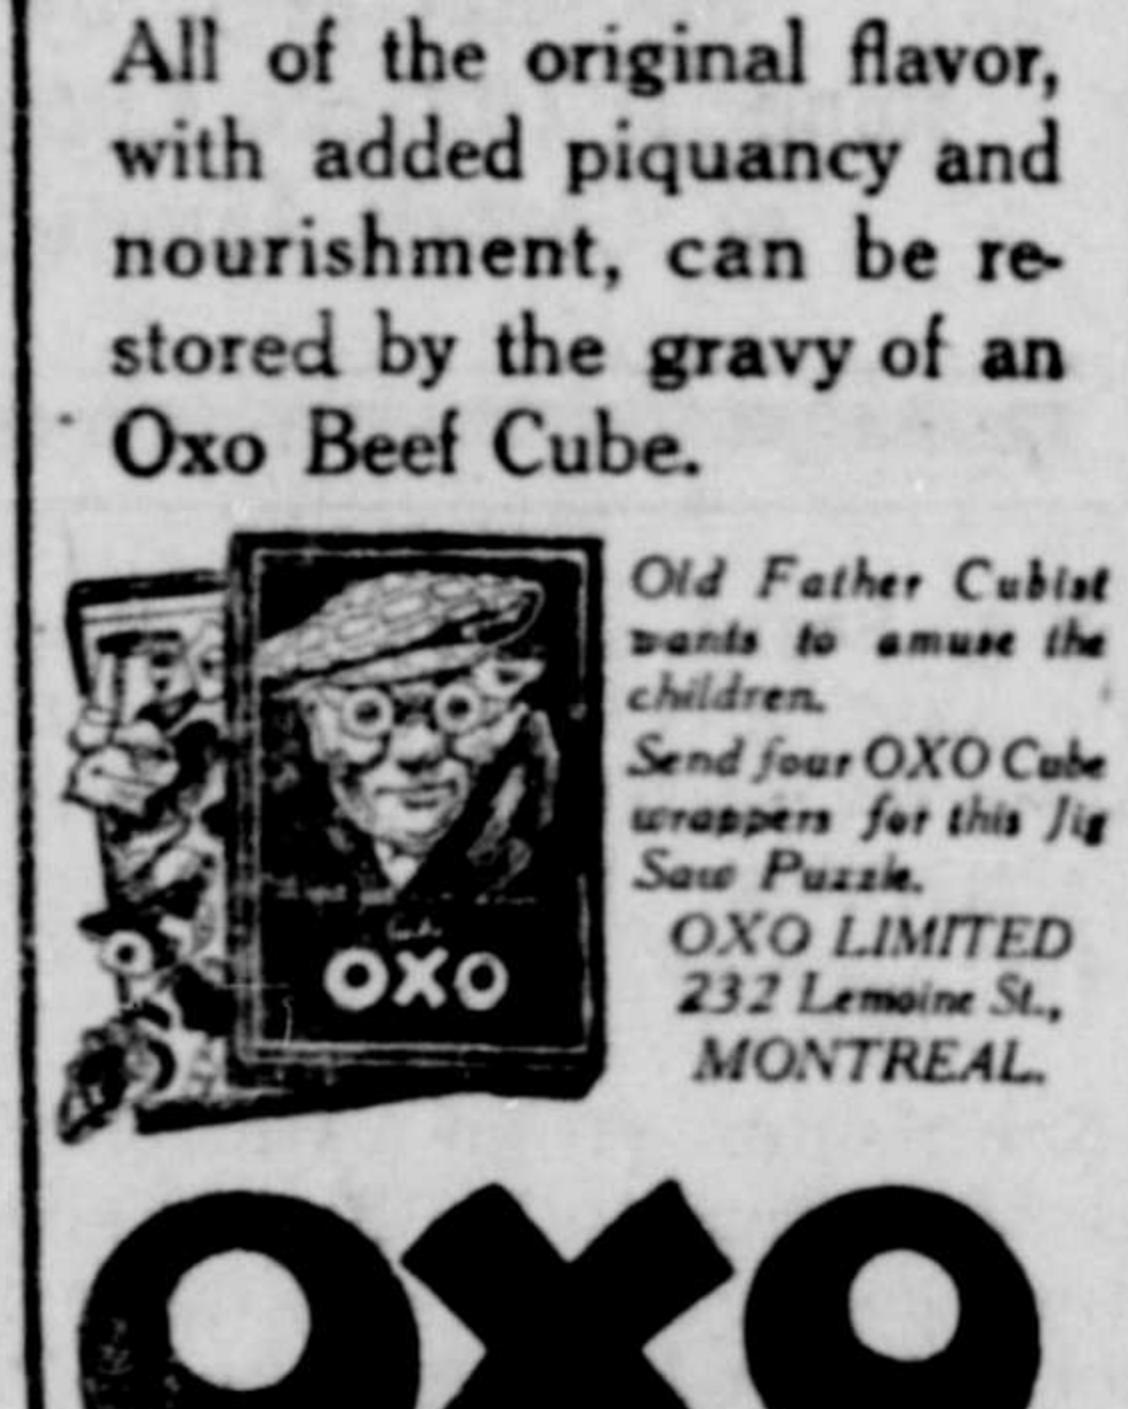

Bert Morgan vs. J. Walsh, 9 p.m.

The first three games will be played at the St. Andrew's Publors and the last two at the Great War Veterans.

The following snappy account of the Gyro-Rotary basketball game last week blossoms forth in the last Rotary Bulletin:

"The names of the Rotarians who played in that game in the Elks Hall last Friday deserve to be handed down to posterity with all honors. The result was declared by the winners to be a magnanimous draw which was satisfactory to all parties. Jack Nicholls and George Woodland were worthy of International Rugby honors. Dick Moore provided a most excellent short, back and long stop. Theo at third base was most effective. Walter Vance at left centre played one of the games of his life, while George Borie quietly putting the cannon ball or tossing the caber was in his element. They say the aggregate ages of the contesting teams were 278 against 152, while the fighting weights were 613 lbs. against 951 lbs. respectively. The Gyro kids played a more finished game but were sadly lacking in condition. When they reach maturity they will be a fine looking set of men."

FINE BANQUET BY ORANGEMEN

Grand Master Brankin Gives Address on Principles of the Order to Large Gathering

Seldom has there been a more enjoyable banquet, more eloquent or incisive speeches or a more representative group of citizens gathered than that at the banquet given last night by the Loyal Orange Lodge of this city at the Regis Cafe. Host Richmond set as many tables as possible and yet there was but just sufficient room to accommodate all those who were present. With Dan Davis, master of the local lodge, presiding, everything went with a swing and was kept up until past midnight. In addition to the speeches there was a musical program given by Art Easson, saxophone solo; Mrs. William Miller, vocal solo; Mrs. Miller and A. Clapperton, duet; Mrs. Woodworth, vocal solo. The affair was given in honor of the visiting Grand Master for British Columbia, D. B. Brankin of Coquitlam.

In delivering the address of the evening, Mr. Brankin said he became an Orangeman thirty years ago. To succeed in anything it was necessary to remain with it, staying with it if he had achieved the position in the order which now held and the responsibility of which he felt keenly. He was a firm believer in the fundamental principles of Orangeman. Often the order was misrepresented and misunderstood and on that account it was necessary to have a clear statement of their principles.

Orange Principles
The Orange Order was essentially religious. It was justified in its faith. In politics they set principles before party and attached themselves to no party that would not fly the Union Jack and sing God Save the King, believed in equal rights to all and part of its obligation was to sustain from unkind actions toward those to whom it was opposed. It was part of their faith that all should worship God as their conscience dictated. It was the duty of an Orangeman to serve God, mankind, and the British Empire as a bulwark to the whole world. The order dated from the time of the landing of King William in England in 1688 and it spread so rapidly that in 1696 there were 420 members of the House of Commons and 850 others belonging to the order. It was a stronghold in the Ulster plantation.

Mr. Brankin said he believed Canada was the greatest country under the sun and to Orangemen loyalty was a religious duty. In his way of thinking it was possible to be religious and to be loyal. There were thousands of Orangemen in Canada holding up the banner of the altar and the throne. They believed in the public schools. He was as proud, he said, of the opportunity of saying he was an Orangeman.

Abundant Optimism

Dr. Grant, in proposing the toast of "The City we live in," said he had been here ten years and he remained because he liked to live in Prince Rupert. He spoke of the possibilities and said he expected this to become the second city in the province, next to Vancouver. Association Necessity of Education

United States Consul A. E. Wakefield addressed the Parent-Teachers' Association at its meeting held last night in the auditorium of Booth Memorial School. After relating some childhood reminiscences, Mr. Wakefield told of youthful joys and sorrows and emphasized some of the needs of the boys and girls of today. There should be great co-operation between teachers and parents in order to bridge the gap between school and home which concerned the amusement of the child.

The child of today should be trained to take greater interest in the affairs of state than they had manifested in the past, Mr. Wakefield declared. They should learn the importance of exercising the franchise consistently and properly, and should realize the responsibility resting on the If the liver is not doing its work whole expressing this realization by hundred per cent voting.

There were vocal solos by Mrs. P. S. Bonney and Mrs. G. Woodward and selections were rendered by a string quartette consisting of Prof. A. Aubrey
