WOODROW WILSON PASSED AWAY SUNDAY CANADA BEAT WORLD IN OLYMPIC HOCKEY SERIES CHAMONIX YESTERDAY

Ex-President Wilson Died Yesterday After a Long Fight for Life

Story of Life Reads Almost Like a Romance; Great Democrat and Great Autocrat was Broken on Altar of his Country.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Woodrow Wilson died here yesterday morning at 11.15. The end came peacefully. Mrs. Wilson, Miss Wilson, and Dr. Grayson were at the bedside. Fatigued and worn by a battle for life which began before he left the White House in 1921, the war president of two terms, eight of the most momentous years in the history of the world, closed his eyes and slipped peacefully away. The end came when his vitality no longer could retard the steady dissolution which set in with a stroke of paralysis that laid him low in 1919, on a speaking trip during which he declared he was glad he had given his life for the League of Nations, if that would make it a success.

MINISTER WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

Hon. T. D. Pattullo Will Address
Liberal Association at Annual Meeting

Hon. T. D. Pattullo returned to his home town on Saturday evening and this evening will address the Liberal Association at its annual meeting in the old Carleton Cafe rooms, Third Ave., at which Fred Stork will also speak.

Mr. Pattullo addressed a meeting at Prince George in the Court House under the auspices of the board of trade, where he told the people that he was again negotiating with the principals in the proposed pulp and paper plant at that centre. These are Frank Jones, head of the Canada Cement Co. and Angus McLean, president of the Bathurst Lumber Co.

Mr. Pattullo urged that the people unite on trying to get the railway into the Peace River constructed through British Columbia instead of through Alberta. P. Wilson was chairman of the meeting and he and H. G. Parry also spoke.

OCTOGENARIAN LADY PASSES

Death Occurred This Morning of Mother of Mrs. W. S. Fisher

Very suddenly but peacefully the death occurred this morning at 1.30 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Fisher, 654 Fourth Avenue East, of Mrs. Randolph K. Jones in her eightieth year.

The late Mrs. Jones, who was a frequent visitor in the city of recent years, arrived here last about two months ago. In spite of her advanced age, deceased had been in normal health up to the time of her death. She passed away shortly after returning to the home of her daughter after spending the evening with friends.

Deceased was a native of Woodstock, New Brunswick, and besides Mrs. Fisher, is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John A. Reynolds of Seattle and Mrs. Arthur Hoadley of Bellevue, Washington, and two sons, Hon. W. P. Jones, former attorney general of New Brunswick, and Thane N. Jones, judge of probates, Woodstock, N.B. She was the widow of the late Randolph K. Jones of Woodstock, N.B. Mrs. Charles H. Luzzin, widow of the former editor of the Victoria Daily Colonist, is a sister.

Many friends of the late Mrs. Jones will be shocked to learn of her death and will extend their heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Fisher in her bereavement. Having made many friends in the city, Mrs. Jones was highly esteemed.

The remains are resting at the B.C. Undertaking Parlors. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Real Cause of Death
The real cause of death was a stroke of paralysis which followed his collapse in the late summer of 1919 while on a speaking trip. Up to this time it was thought he was a normally healthy man, but was far from it. He entered the White House with a well developed start toward Bright's disease, which caused the physician to predict he would never finish his term, but he fought off the malady. He was practically blind in one eye but the country never knew it. On the morning of October 5, 1919, it now becomes known, the president was found prostrate on the bathroom floor in a semi-conscious condition. He was paralyzed in the left side but he ordered his condition to be kept secret excluding from the room all but his physicians and members of his family.

During all Friday, Saturday and Sunday night the late president had lingered on the verge of eternity. He slept fitfully and toward the last refused to take any nourishment. Before extreme weakness overtook him he talked with those about him and told Dr. Grayson he was ready to go.

News of his death spread rapidly and was flashed around the world. Messages of sympathy poured in a great flood to the widow and the first came from President Coolidge. The president and Mrs. Coolidge were at church when the announcement was made. Immediately after the service they drove to the Wilson residence and left their cards.

An obscure lawyer, by nature a man of letters, he became an educator and won his first attention from the public as president of Princeton University. Then by the strange ways of a political system he became Governor of New Jersey and later, because the voters of the Republican party were divided between Roosevelt and William H. Taft he became president of the United States.

During his eight years of power he travelled the gamut of human emotions; victory, defeat; courtship and marriage; responsibility for leading a nation into war with the collateral responsibility of bringing it back again to the ways of peace; and finally a daily struggle with death.

PRESENTATION MADE TO ALEX. MCRAE BY FORMER MESSMATES AT INLANDER

A number of the boarders at the Inlander on Friday evening raided the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McRae and presented them with a very fine mantle clock as a gift from the institution of which he was for many years a member.

The presentation was made by Harry Welford on behalf of the visitors and Mr. McRae made a suitable reply.

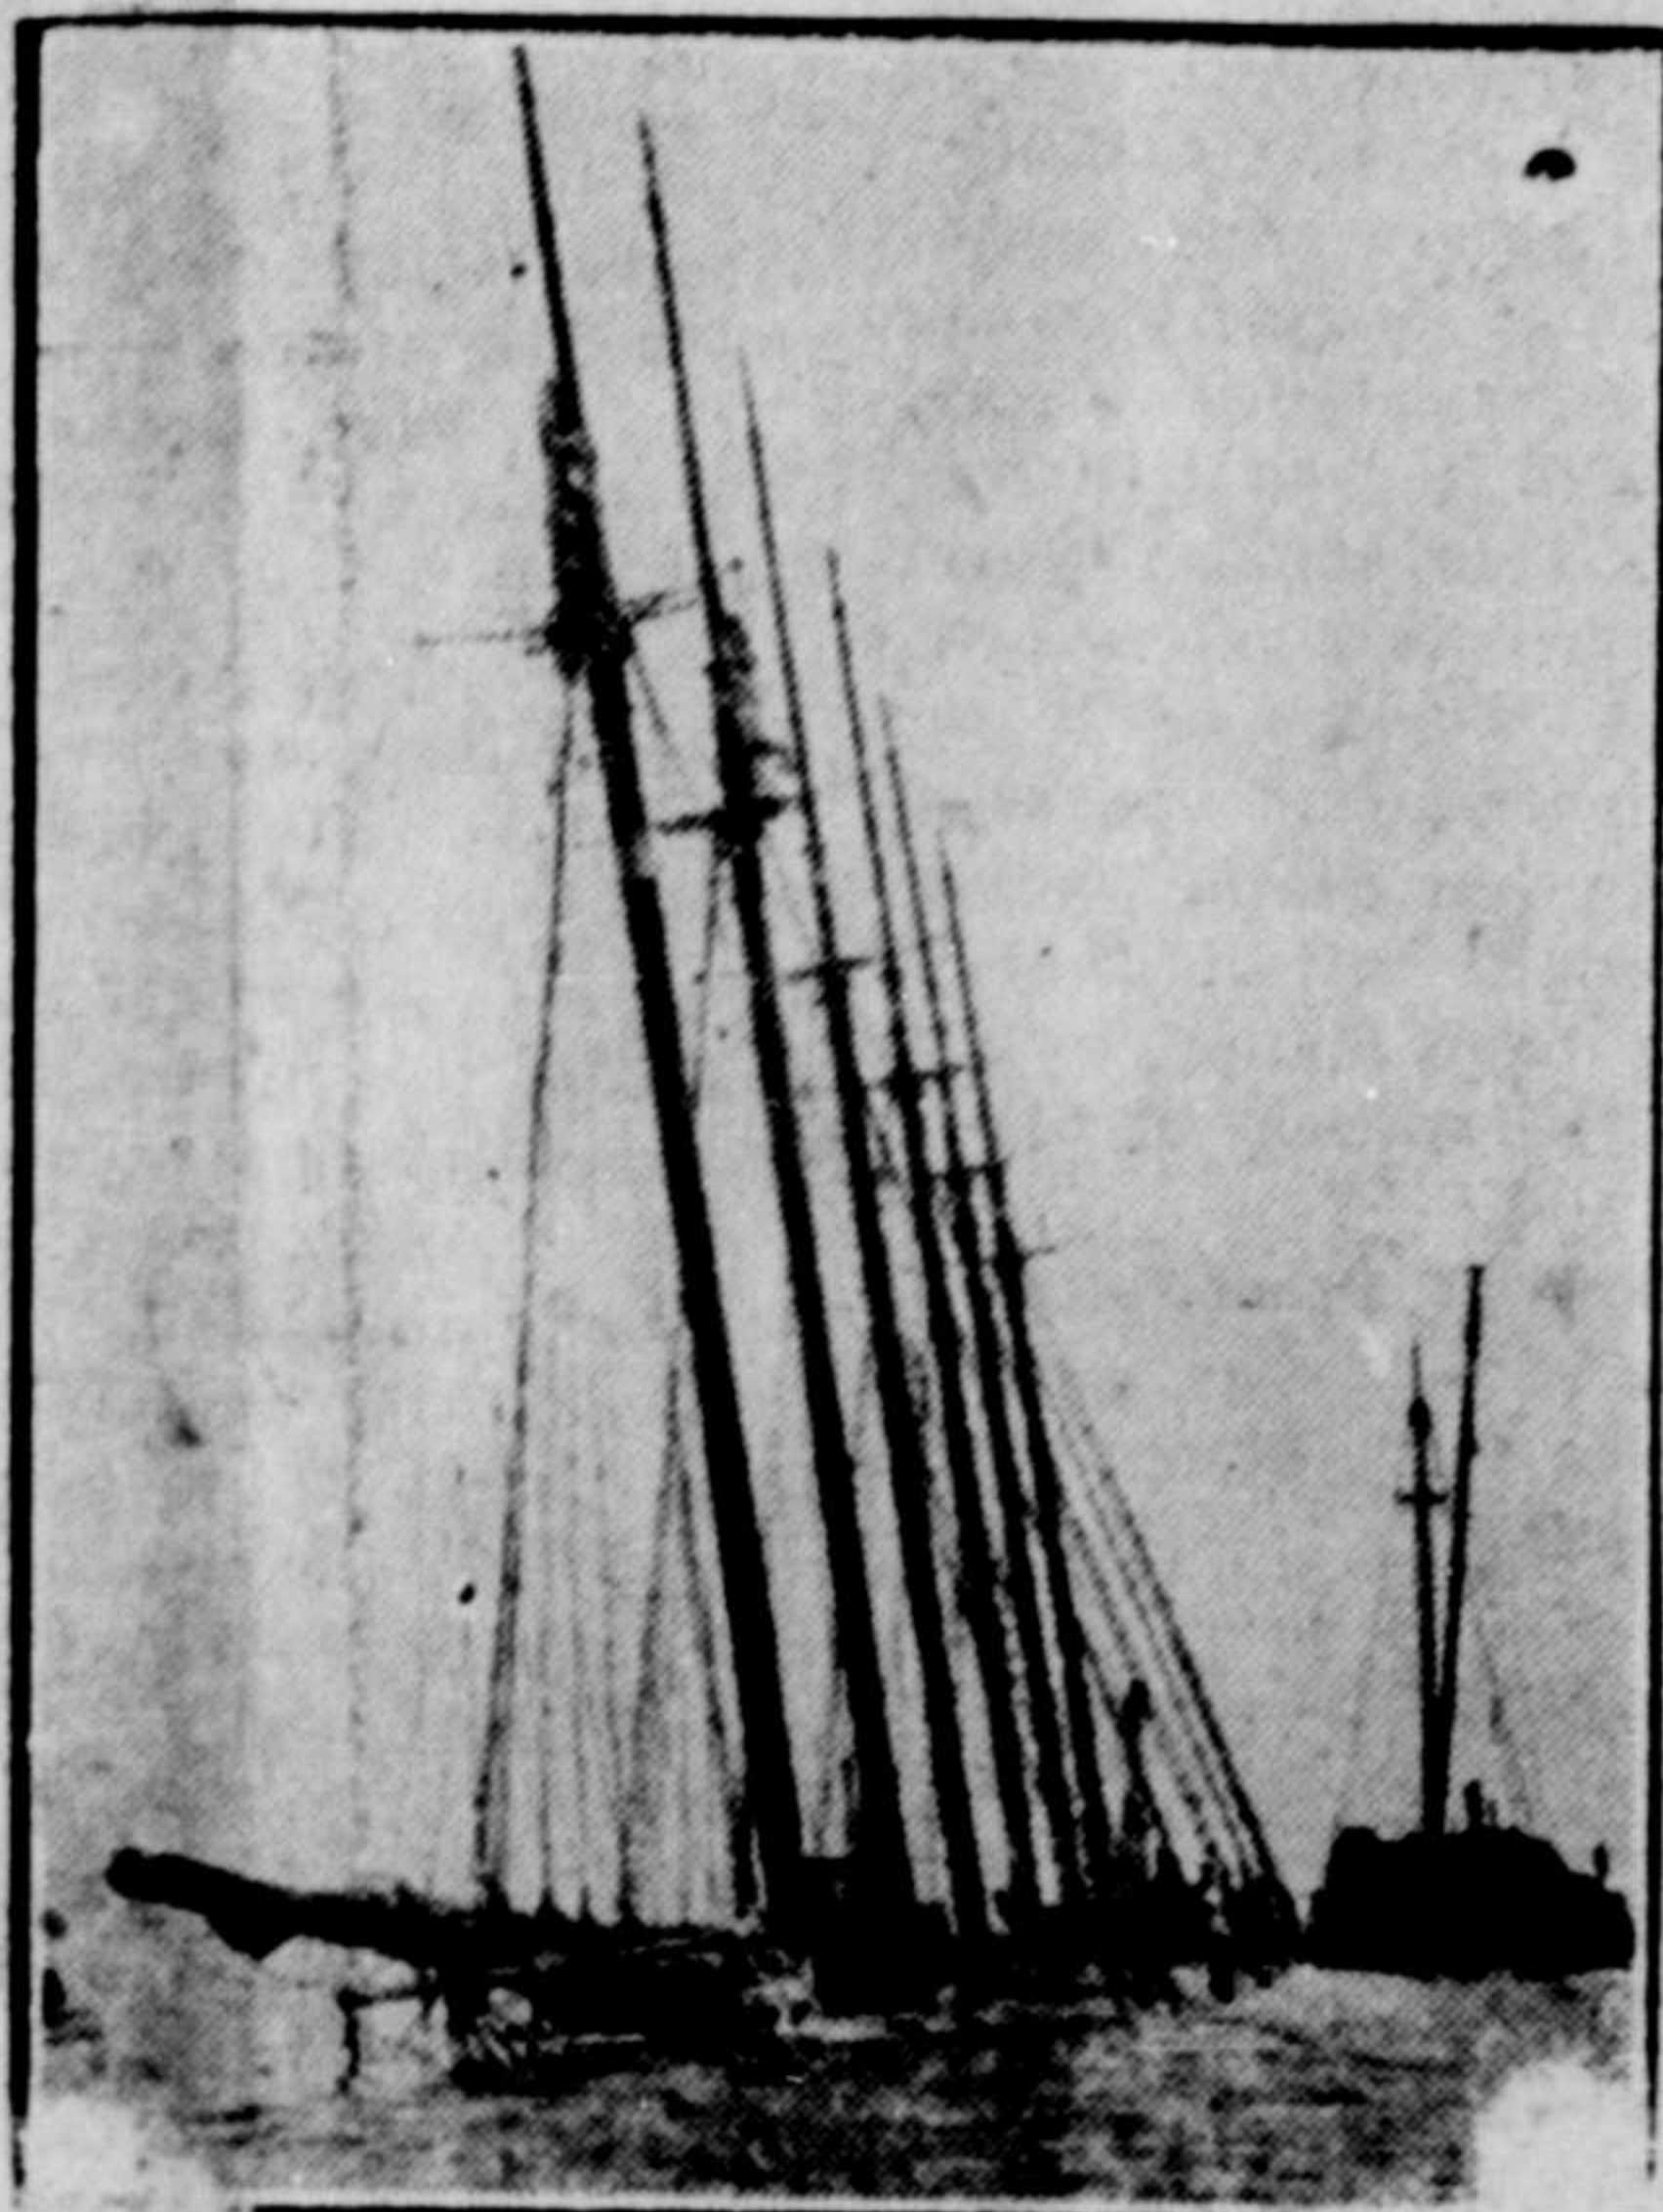

The evening was spent pleasantly, a great many old time and modern songs being sung around the piano. Refreshments were served and the party left about midnight.

MAYOR OFFERS TO AID PRINCE GEORGE GET ITS RAILWAY

An offer of assistance from Prince Rupert was wired this morning to the Prince George Citizen by Mayor Newton in connection with an effort being made to have the railway tapping the Peace River district come out in the neighborhood of Prince George instead of through Alberta. The text of the wire is as follows:

"Have read your splendid report of the McBride and Perry meetings re proposed Peace River Railway branch from Prince George instead of Brule. If your public bodies will suggest what Prince Rupert can do toward supporting the proposal please depend on my co-operation."

CHATTY NEWS LETTER
Matters of Interest to Canadians
Discussed by Correspondent in England

LONDON, Feb. 4.—London has just had three or four inches of snow. This may not strike you in Canada as very remarkable, but it means a good deal to Londoners. Here, and indeed, all over the south of England (where the mercury has not touched zero in the eighty-and-odd years of official weather records) we assume that snow practically does not happen, or anyhow melts as it falls. We are justified in this belief about seven years out of ten. There is even a hoary British joke that links a professional snow-sweeper with the seller of Coronation programs.

Domestic Birds
The London Inter-Club Cage Bird Society held this week a two days' exhibition of canaries and other birds. Canaries, you must know, are not just canaries; there are Yorkshires, Norwich Borders, Crests, Ginnamons, Lizards and all sorts of hybrids. There were 150 entries in the class for "rollers," who are bred for song. So carefully are these canaries trained that they have to be kept apart from other birds, lest they pick up unorthodox notes and methods of voice production; and at this show they had a room to themselves. When these singers are judged, marks are given for each of fourteen possible notes, of which the "hol-

Alaska Steamship
COMPANY CANCELS
ITS SERVICE HERE

The call of the Alaska Steamship Co.'s steamer Alameda here last night enroute north was the last that the company will make at this port. This was the effect of a letter received by Douglas Sutherland, local agent, from the headquarters of the company in Seattle. Lack of business is given as the reason for the discontinuation of the service.

The Alaska Steamship Co.'s instituted northbound and southbound calls here once every three weeks about three months ago. It is said by local business men that the company was getting its share of business arising out of this port. In any case, the present season was the best in volume of business and it is considered that a proper chance for its development has not been given. The service was cancelled without notice, word of the action not having been received here until this morning.

The Alameda unloaded 21 tons of freight here last night and took north eight passengers.

Canada Victor Olympic Hockey Tournament at Chamonix Beating United States in Final 6 to 1

CHAMONIX, Feb. 4. — Canada won the Olympic hockey championship in a sensational game with United States yesterday six goals to one.

It was a fast and furious contest from start to finish and when it was over the United States players were physically exhausted. The smoothness and finish of the Canadian offensive combination overwhelmed the brilliant individual play of the United States men.

There was little love lost between members of the two teams. The game was a hard checking one with minor casualties resulting.

Play was lightning fast. The Canadians scored two goals in the first period, three in the second and one in the third. United States scored the lone goal in the first period.

In the other games Britain beat Sweden four to three and takes third place.

The final games followed the easy defeat of all other contenders in the preliminary rounds. The teams were divided into groups, the first of which was headed by the Canadians and the second by the U.S.

the war. He insisted from the first for a unified command on the western front; for vigorous measures to curb the submarine menace. He personally initiated much of the war legislation such as the passage of the selective service law, the creation of the Shipping Board, the War Industries Board, the War Labor Board and a multitude of other arms of the government for carrying on the struggle. He devoted his whole being to the war, seeing nobody and thinking of nothing else. Some of his days probably were like Lincoln's.

It was President Wilson who conducted the correspondence with Chancellor Max of Germany when the request for an armistice came, and once the Germans laid down their arms he turned his thought wholly from war to peace, telling his friends that while Germany must be made to pay to her full ability, Europe must not have another Alsace-Lorraine.

When War Ended

It was quite a different Woodrow Wilson who sat in the president's chair when the war ended. With hair whitened and face lined he showed the effects. He had learned something about men and human nature. He had learned, he told a friend "that some men become great and others swell up," but his penchant for doing things himself never had lessened. He wrote state papers and read them to the cabinet afterwards; he became impatient with men who disagreed with him and frequently dismissed them. He quarreled with friends who in turn reproached him for being ungrateful, but he always kept on his course having once decided upon it.

Went to Europe

Peace in sight, Mr. Wilson decided to go to Europe himself and take a hand in making it. Congress, no longer the suppliant hand-maiden it was during his first administration roared its disapproval. Mr. Wilson assured Congress that in the day of wireless and cable it would know all he did. As a matter of fact he told Congress very little of what he was doing, or anybody else for that matter, until it was done. That was not Mr. Wilson's way. The result was that he committed the United States to the League of Nations and was repudiated.

President Wilson's participation in the memorable peace Congress has been described by many pens, friendly and unfriendly, and his part was so indelibly written in recent history that it needs little attention in a brief resume of his life work.

Secret Meetings

The statesmen of Europe were charmed by his oratory, his wit and his personality, until it bumped into his indomitable will to do things his way when he was convinced he was right. Then the spark flew in the secret meetings he had with Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando. He was determined to have a League of Nations Covenant so inseparably interwoven with a treaty of peace that no nation could accept one without accepting the other. The opposing statesmen found that only by letting him have it could they get the provisions of peace they wanted. The result was a treaty in which all got something and it was denounced by its opponents as a breeder of wars rather than a treaty of peace.

It would require a large volume to tell all the interesting things that happened to Woodrow Wilson while he was participating in making the treaty of peace in Paris in that historic winter of 1918-1919. It would require another volume to tell the engrossing story of diplomatic manoeuvres, intrigues and dramatic moments that attended it. Publication of either at this time probably would result in the creation of Annanias clubs on both sides of the Atlantic and certainly would not add to good feeling among peoples who are looking forward to an end of wars and an era of peace.

Peace Prize

Woodrow Wilson himself would not wish it. When, in 1920, he accepted the Nobel Peace Prize for being "the person who has promoted most or

PATTULLO GETS FINE RECEPTION

Addresses Well Attended Meeting at Terrace on Topics of the Day

TERRACE, Feb. 3.—There was a big crowd out on Friday night in Progress Hall to greet Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, and to hear him deliver an address. Bert Kenny presided and the minister referred to the fact that on the first occasion of his addressing them nine or ten years ago Mr. Kenny was then chairman of the meeting. Mr. Pattullo dealt at some length with conditions throughout the province. He said the government had been charged with extravagance but he would like the opposition to be more specific and say wherein they would cut down expenses. Would they cut down the mothers' pensions, he asked, which cost the province almost half a million dollars a year? Would they shut down the P.G.E.? Would they close the university? The remedy, he believed, was to increase the population and thus increase the number of tax payers and distribute the burden. Mr. Pattullo was given a splendid reception.

The churchwardens were able to report the most satisfactory financial year in the church history. The Women's Auxiliary also had a very successful year under the able guidance of their executive. Mr. Fowler, superintendent of the Union Sunday school, gave a report of their work which has been doing splendidly. A cradle roll has been added this year to other departments. Votes of thanks were passed to Miss Fowler for her faithful service as organist, to the members of the auxiliary and the choir and to the wardens and the vestry clerk, Geo. Powers. A vote of thanks was also passed to Rev. W. J. Parsons for assistance during Mr. Marsh's absence. Mr. Fowler spoke very feelingly in appreciation of Mr. Marsh's long and faithful service, the fruit of whose labors are beginning to be reaped in increasing abundance.

YOU CAN EAT ANYTHING YOU LIKE AND NOT HAVE HEARTBURN

In all cases of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by a disturbed appetite, as when too much food is taken into the stomach it is liable to ferment and become extremely sour, vomiting occurs, and what is thrown up is generally sour and bitter. When you are in this condition you will find that Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will give you relief right away.

Mr. Joseph H. Macdonald, Christmas Island, N.S., writes:—"Two years ago I suffered all the time from heartburn. I took one vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver pills and have never been troubled since."

It is very nice to be able to eat anything you like and not have heartburn any more."

DOROTHY DALTON IN LAW OF THE LAWLESS

Famous Star Gets Role in This Play that Suits Her Well

Dorothy Dalton in "The Law of the Lawless," with Theodore Kosloff, Charles de Roche and Tully Marshall in featured roles, has a role that suits her perfectly and one she likes immensely. She is seen as a Tartar girl, and this enables her to wear the picturesque costumes of the Rounmanian hills, which enhance her charm and give the colorful effect which she always registers so admirably on the screen. Besides, the part is one which gives Miss Dalton an opportunity for the display of the vivid acting, fiery, almost primitive in character, for which she is famed.

FARNUM PICTURE IS STORY OF LONG FEUD

Girl Starts Killing Orgy but Cow Puncher Stops it Finally

Nell Camp, a girl of great beauty, is the contested daughter of the Benchleys. At her birth she was substituted for a dead baby, the guilty man confessing his act when at death's door. But the family which has raised her at its own fails to believe the story. It announces its intentions to keep the girl. The Benchleys, to whom Nell really belongs, open the feud which endures for seventeen years.

The warring families spend their lives murdering each other. Each suffers terribly, but stubbornly refuses to quit or even compromise.

The advent of Billy Buell, a hardy gunman and cowpuncher, changes events. He is lured by the Camps, who are the losing side, for his fitness to join them in their war on the Benchleys. At first, for pecuniary gain, he joins the Camps. When he meets Nell, the contested girl, his interest becomes entirely personal and he speedily ends the feud.

That is the theme of the story in the Gun Fighter featuring William Farnum at the Westholme Friday and Saturday of this week.

Theodore Kosloff is also cast in a Tartar role and to this his strong personality, artistic preceptions and dramatic force lend themselves perfectly.

Charles de Roche is excellently cast as a gypsy chieftain. His splendid physique, his strong features, his immense acting, all come into play in this part. Tully Marshall is seen as a village money lender, Fred Huntley and Margaret Loomis also are in the cast, and the latter, always a favorite, brings to her characteristic beauty, charm and grace, as well as her ability to act.

The story of "The Law of the Lawless," which will be seen at the Westholme theatre Wednesday deals with a Tartar girl who is sold at auction in payment of her father's debts and bought by a gypsy chieftain. He compels her to marry him and his many qualities soon prompt her to love him. When her husband is captured by her countrymen, she goes to his rescue with highly dramatic results.

BADMINTON TOURNAMENT IS BEING ARRANGED BY COMMITTEE LOCAL CLUB

The executive of the Prince Rupert Badminton Club met on Saturday evening and decided to inaugurate a tournament and to carry out arrangements. A committee consisting of Bob Bartlett, Ed. Jenner, Miss Caroline Mitchell, and Miss Irene Stewart was appointed. The committee announces that it will be glad to hear from members wishing to take part. Doubles will be played throughout, just one game each, and the better players will be handicapped.

It is proposed to serve tea in the hall and make the event somewhat of a social event, and to have all games played on one night so far as possible.

The executive added to their number Miss Caroline Mitchell. It was reported that the financial condition of the club was good and that several new members had just joined. The courts were in use almost every evening and Sunday afternoons.

Sport Chat

The headline features of tonight's basketball program will be the Senior League game between the Sons of Canada and Colts and the Ladies' League match between the Maple Leafs and Adanacs. In the Senior department so far this season the Colts have been giving the Sons of Canada plenty to contend with and, while the Canucks have succeeded in winning pretty consistently, the fans have been given their money's worth. The conventions and do the proposing herself. The captain was being banished from the country for political reasons. He was about to board the boat when the girl appeared on the beach with her fiancé as escort.

Getting rid of the latter through a ruse, the girl handed the captain a basket of food. "We will need this," she said. "But you are not going," he declared in puzzlement. "How can I remain behind when you are going to kidnap me" was her tantalizing response.

Then came enlightenment and as the girl's fiancé came running back from the errand he saw the girl being carried out to sea.

The girl of the story is Constance Talmadge, the star of the production, and the part of the captain is taken by Conway Tearle. "The Dangerous Maid" is a First National picture and was directed by Victor Heerman. It is a delightful romance interlarded with moments of thrilling adventure.

TEA and TALK

Our enquirer called at a home on 8th Avenue West, where she enjoyed a cup of tea and a splendid talk about foods and other things. This lady says she has used Pacific Milk for many years, because she likes it better—but in anything they eat she looks for quality, even before the made-in-British Columbia address. And in checking up her pantry, nearly 80% of the supplies were local.

Historic Papers
The Canadian History Society has lately received a gift of important public papers and family documents, about 700 in number and covering the period of 1688-1802, from Lord Dartmouth. The most interesting of these papers relates to the term of office (1722-75) of the second Earl of Dartmouth, secretary of state for the colonies. They deal almost entirely with the contemporary affairs in Canada, Newfoundland and the Maritime Provinces. There are papers, relating to the Province of Quebec (1757-1792), and others concern Nova Scotia, whose governor (Legge) was related to the Dartmouth family.

Among the documents relating to Labrador there is an account of settlement there of the Moravian missionaries. Their first attempt to establish a mission ended with the murder of the pioneers by the natives; but in 1764 a fresh and successful effort was made, and five years later an order-in-council granted land to the mission for its services.

Wolfe's Bicentenary
At Westerham, in Kent—now practically a suburb of London—the 197th anniversary of the birth of General James Wolfe was celebrated on January 2, at a dinner attended by many people who could claim direct link with personages or regiments associated with the victory on the Heights of Abraham. The chairman was the Hon. F. C. Wade, agent-general for British Columbia, and the principal guest of the evening was Sir Hamar Greenwood, Mr. Wade, referring to the approaching bicentenary of Wolfe's birth at Westerham, said that the hero's memory had never been fittingly honored by the Empire which he did so much to found. He hoped that an Empire-wide effort to remedy this long neglect might be made within the next four years.

BELLINGHAM PLANS FOR CITY MANAGER

BELLINGHAM, Feb. 2.—A city manager with five councilmen elected at large to appoint him is recommended in a new charter submitted by the board of fifteen freeholders to Bellingham. The manager would have general charge of administrative affairs and make all minor appointments. His term would be indefinite, at the pleasure of the council, and he would not be paid more than $5,000 a year for the first four years if the charter is adopted. He must keep the expenditures of the city within an eighteen mill levy.

BANK OF SCOTLAND ABSORBS DRUMMONDS

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Drummond's Bank, the most aristocratic of London's many aristocratic private banks, declared by legend to have lent money to the pretender in 1745 and reputed to handle the accounts of half the peers of Great Britain, has been absorbed by the Royal Bank of Scotland, a comparatively new bank in the city's financial circle.

The famous old bank, building with its Jacobite appearance and traditions which hides under the splendor of the new Admiralty Arch will remain as the oldest banking house still functioning in London. The partners of the bank, all members of the Drummond family, will remain with the bank which will be a branch of the larger institution.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be kept covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e. carrying over 1,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 4,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to the value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE
Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stampage.

HOMESITE LEASES
Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES
For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING
Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.
