CHIGNIK, April 16 (1:45 p.m.) — The destroyer Hull rescued Major Frederick Martin, flight commander, and Sergeant Alva Harvey, United States globe flyers, at 11:34 this morning, according to a wireless report received here from the vessel.

CHIGNIK, Alaska, April 16. — The Jinx seems to be following Major Martin. Following his trouble at starting from Seattle, at landing in Prince Rupert harbor, and in nearly having his machine driven on the rocks at Sitka, he has been forced to land somewhere between Seward and this place and a search is now being made for him.

Three of the world flyers arrived here last night, but Major Martin's No. 1 plane was not with them. They left Seward in the forenoon and arrived last night and will remain here until the fate of the flight commander is known.

Steps were being taken at Seward to despatch United States destroyers, which were there when the news arrived to search the seas. A boat is also being chartered at Kanatak to help look for the missing man and his unlucky airship.

Fliers to Search

CHIGNIK, April 16 (later). — Three of the four army flyers who arrived here late yesterday were preparing in the night to back track 120 miles today in a search for their commander. The three who arrived fought their way through snow squalls and high winds from Seward a distance of 150 miles. The men showed every sign of fatigue but when at nine o'clock they received no report from Major Martin, whom they lost sight of near Kinalugvik Bay, 120 miles east of here, they prepared to work on their machines.

Home Bank Languishing for Seven Years before Collapse came; Government did not act

OTTAWA, April 16. — Reading of documents on file in the finance department with regard to the Home Bank occupied the initial sitting of the Royal Commission investigating the history and collapse of the Home Bank. Complaints of the three western directors against certain transactions of the bank were revealed in the communications sent to the department in 1916. R. J. McLaughlin, for the depositors, claimed that the bank was practically insolvent in 1916, when the western directors complained to the finance department, which merely referred them to the bank itself. For seven years the institution was allowed to go on until finally it closed its doors and the deposits had in the meantime been swallowed up.

High Tariffs
Or Lower.

The question of tariffs has at last become an important one because of the action of the Dominion Government in lowering the duties on a good many articles especially machinery and other things used by farmers, miners, lumbermen and fishermen. This action has made the manufacturers anxious, as setting a precedent for further reduction in the tariff.

The apparent working agreement between the Liberals and Progressives has made possible these reductions, which were promised by the Liberals but which it was impossible to make without the co-operation of the Progressives. With a movement for closer union between the two parties, both of which stand for the same general principles, it is clear that the policy had to be enforced. The changes will mean a good deal in some industries, especially the elimination or reduction of sales tax which has been a heavy charge. It is to be hoped that eventually the sales tax will be eliminated altogether as it keeps the cost of living high and is part of the vicious circle which keeps up prices.

Infant Industries
Must Be Encouraged.

Infant industries must be encouraged. We are all in agreement with that principle. The main difficulty is that industries remain in swaddling clothes too long. As they become more mature and develop into the adult class they cling closer than ever to the aid which comes to them through the operation of the tariff.

No one wants to see the industries of Canada injured. We must raise money from customs duties and if the policy of placing those duties in such a way as to help Canadian industries, is adopted, there will be little chance of the manufacturers suffering. Help Canadian industries in every way possible but do not do it at the expense of the Canadian taxpayer who is already overburdened with taxes. The fact that the tax is simply added to the cost of the things we eat and drink and wear does not make it any the less burdensome.

Boundary Line Keeps Up Cost Of Living.

A good many of the articles in common use are higher on this side the boundary line than on the other, the manufacturers taking advantage of the duty to keep the price up. That is using the British flag as a cloak for extortion. If there were no boundary-line, the manufacturer would have to sell at the same price as is charged on the other side. Factories there do so and flourish. We have to pay for our allegiance to the British flag in cold dollars and cents and then we are asked why it is that Canadians leave the country for the United States.

These are things to think about, and especially so at a time when the matter of customs tariffs are being considered.

Congratulations
And Regrets.

Conratulations are due to X. B. Walton, assistant general superintendent here, on his appointment to the position of general superintendent for Manitoba. The promotion is generally acknowledged to be a most deserving one and all Mr. Walton's friends will be glad to hear of his success. The fly in the ointment is that the change necessitates the superintendent and his household moving to Winnipeg.

Mr. Walton has proved himself to be one of the most popular officials that has ever been here. While having at all times the interests of the company at heart he has been able to keep the respect and good will of all employees and of the general public with whom the company has had to deal. In losing him the city will lose one of its best friends.

HEBRIDEANS AT EDMONTON

Large Party Arrives There and Will Settle in Province of Alberta

EDMONTON, April 16.—To the skirt of the bagpipes, the spearhead of this year's Hebridean immigration reached Edmonton yesterday evening shortly after six by special train over the C.P.R. With sporran swinging in the breeze, Pipe Major Laing and Piper McAllister of the 49th battalion welcomed the islanders with the appropriate air of "Ma ain name."

Tired women's faces peered out of the windows as the train drew in, and as the echo of the familiar air reached their ears some of the boys standing in the corridors waved their hats. Here was the new home at last, after the long journey across the sea and two thirds of a continent. Although the members of that crowd waiting on the railway platform were strangers, the people from northern Scotland surely must have felt that Canada was doing the utmost possible to make their entry to the new land a happy one, when they heard the strains of the familiar pipes and were greeted with broad Scots' voices which assured them that they were welcome and that all was well.

Men, women and children—and there are lots of youngsters—piled off the train as soon as it ceased motion, when at once Major Gordon, Colonel Scott, Captain Gallagher and other officials of the Land Settlement Branch proceeded to get the new and weary settlers away to the immigration hall.

Women in Motors

Rather tired of being stared at so much and apparently indifferent to public opinion the group of 150 souls kept together, and the work of separating the women from the men was one fraught with difficulty. It was explained that motor cars were waiting to take the women and children to the Immigration hall, and that a special street car would convey the men. At Calgary and Red Deer they had witnessed other separations, and with the clan spirit running strong in their blood they hesitated.

As they stood there with the big C.P.R. coach as a background it was brought home to the onlookers that here was a type of citizen of which Canada might be proud.

Sturdy, plain men with single thought leading to accomplishment, women who had known the rearing of large families and the incidental toil, bright eyed, clear complexioned girls, and frank faced, sturdy boys—the best of the islands have to offer and the same hardy breed which pushed back the frontier for the Hudson Bay company in the old days and kept the British flag flying in Canada.

Mrs. H. Gordon, wife of the Land Settlement Board Superintendent and other women busied themselves in explaining to the women and children the arrangements made for them, and presently they all trooped off to the waiting motors.

Street Car Ride

With the exodus of the women the men set about unloading mountains of baggage from the cars, and presently all were started on their way to the special street car. Held freed from the prying eyes of the street crowds, the islanders relaxed, and a torrent of Gaelic broke forth, and was kept up until the civic vehicle reached the Immigration hall, where the newcomers visualized the women and children grouped on the steps awaiting them.

PORT CLEMENTS MEN SENTENCED

Found Guilty of Selling Liquor, Oscar Dunlap and William Hastie Get Six Months Each

JOSEPHINE ROUSSEAU FINED

Della Dale Assessed $50 for Being Inmate—Two Charges Fall of Conviction

Found guilty yesterday afternoon by Magistrate A. R. Mallory of selling liquor in contravention of the Government Liquor Act, Oscar Dunlap and William Hastie of Port Clements were each sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labor at Okalla Prison Farm. Dunlap's case had been heard on Monday afternoon and that of Hastie yesterday morning. F. R. Anderson of Vancouver conducted the prosecution and Milton Gonzales appeared for both accused. Evidence was given by Detectives Ramsay, Seward and Steward of the provincial dry squad.

A charge of liquor selling against Josephine Rousseau of Port Clements was amended to possession of unsealed liquor. A plea of guilty was entered and accused was fined $50 and costs. Milton Gonzales had the case for accused.

Yesterday morning Della Dale pleaded guilty to a charge of being an inmate of a disorderly house and was fined $50.

Not Sufficient Evidence

E. Stewart was acquitted on a charge of keeping liquor for sale, Magistrate Mallory finding that there had apparently been some infringement of the Liquor Act in that accused bought liquor or his permit for other parties but there was not sufficient evidence to support the charge. Accused admitted under protection that he had bought liquor for other persons on his permit. Milton Gonzales defended.

A charge against Helen Blackburn, colored, of being an inmate of a disorderly house, was withdrawn on request of counsel for the prosecution when it was found there was no evidence to support the charge. Mr. Gonzales also defended in this case.

The Port Clements cases were in progress all day yesterday and more are continuing today. The hearing of all the charges will probably be concluded this afternoon.

BUILD HOTEL OVER AND AROUND CHURCH

Auditorium to be Preserved but Two Million to be Spent in Additions

NEW YORK, April 16.—A fifteen-storey hotel and church will soon be built around and over the old Calvary Baptist Church on West Fifty-seventh street, while the congregation will continue to sit in their accustomed seats Sunday after Sunday. The contractors have announced that the wings which form the main part of the hotel and the roof can be brought into being without interfering with the use of the auditorium.

The magnificent auditorium of the present church will remain as it has been since the church was built over 70 years ago, but the present gallery will be enlarged and a second one constructed so that the seating capacity of the new church will be 4,000. Wings on either side of the present church, and 12 storeys immediately above it will be built and leased for operation as a hotel for Christian people.

Cost of the improvements will be about $2,000,000, but it is expected that the hotel will turn in enough rental to the church to enable it to considerably widen its scope of activities.

A radio broadcasting station, "the largest in the world," according to Dr. John Roach Stratton, pastor of the church, will be one of the features of the new building.

TELLS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA'S HOUSE

Premier Said He Tried to Buy It From B.C. But Could Not do so

In discussing the purchase of the home in London for the Canadian High Commissioner, Premier Mackenzie King said:

"I might mention that there are also in London at the present time offices of the provinces of Canada. The province of Nova Scotia has finer offices for its agent than has the Dominion for its High Commissioner; and British Columbia has a building which is infinitely superior to ours. Indeed, when we sought last year to purchase their building from the government of British Columbia for the Dominion of Canada we could not acquire it. A stranger visiting London today and knowing little about Canadian affairs might think, from the accommodation enjoyed by the respective governments, that Canada was a part of British Columbia instead of British Columbia being a province of the Dominion. When we tried to acquire from that province the building which is owned in London we discovered that the provincial government had found it so good an investment, notwithstanding that it was a very large building, that the province refused to sell it."

PORT CLEMENTS WOMAN CHARGED

Case of Mrs. Alice Stafford Accused of Selling Liquor is Proceeding

The charge against Mrs. Alice Stafford Port Clements, of selling intoxicating liquor in contravention of the Government Liquor Act opened in the provincial court this morning before Stipendiary Magistrate A. R. Molloy and is continuing this afternoon. The morning was taken up in the hearing of prosecution witnesses and some of the defense witnesses. Shortly after 12 o'clock adjournment was made until two.

Resents Suggestion

Before the case opened, W. O. Fulton, counsel for the defence, took exception to the charge of selling against his client being proceeded with after a similar case against Josephine Rousseau yesterday had been reduced. Resenting any suggestion of "fixing," F. R. Anderson, prosecution counsel stated that he was conducting his prosecution as he saw fit and as the circumstances of the case in point warranted and asked that the case be proceeded with.

Evidence was given by A. D. Ramsay and J. F. Seward Liquor Board detectives. Their testimony was corroborative to the effect that two rounds of six drinks had been purchased from accused on the evening of April 3, 50¢ per drink being paid.

Lively Passages

Telling Ramsay that he need not be smart in response to questions under cross-examination, Mr. Fulton made the statement: "You are only a stool-pigeon anyway."

"And you are nothing but a shyster lawyer," quickly responded Ramsay.

"What is your occupation, anyway?" asked Mr. Fulton.

"A provincial constable and a good one too," replied Ramsay. "You are what we call a stool pigeon," stated Mr. Fulton.

"And you are what we call a shyster lawyer," was the detective's reply.

"Oh, call me anything you like, as long as the court will allow it," Mr. Fulton stated.

Veracity of Witness

Counsel for the defence proceeded to ask further questions to test the veracity of witness and there were lively passages between the two. Witness said he had been following Liquor Board work for two years and was paid $150 a month with expenses.

Witnesses for the defence were Peggy O'Neill, Mrs. Stafford and her husband. Defence admitted the serving of drinks but denied that money had been accepted in payment for them.

There now remains but one of the Port Clements cases to be heard. That is the charge against Babe Shannon of selling liquor. It will be proceeded with this afternoon.

PORTLAND CANAL MINE IS TO BE DEVELOPED WITH ENGLISH CAPITAL

Famous Property to be Bonded by General Mining and Finance Corporation of London

The old Portland Canal mine is to be rejuvenated and will be subjected to a thorough exploration and examination as soon as the snow is off the ground, according to a deal which has been completed this week between the recent owners and the General Mining and Finance Corporation of London, England, says the Portland Canal News.

According to the terms of the agreement an option has been signed whereby the purchasers have the property for examination purposes until the first of July. If by that time they are satisfied to retain it, they undertake to spend $100,000 on development work in return for his year. Agitation is continuing for a club-house.

"What is your occupation, anyway?" asked Mr. Fulton.

"A provincial constable and a good one too," replied Ramsay.

"You are what we call a stool pigeon," stated Mr. Fulton.

"And you are what we call a shyster lawyer," was the detective's reply.

"Oh, call me anything you like, as long as the court will allow it," Mr. Fulton stated.

Much Work Done

Portland Canal is one of the camp's most prominent properties of early days. A mill, tram and excellent buildings were constructed and a large amount of underground work done. The main vein system of the property can be clearly traced down the hill, across the Glacier Creek ground into the well-known Dunwell mine. It is conceded by those who are best acquainted with the ground, that there is a junction of this vein system with another very prominent one, on the Gypsy claim of the property, and it is anticipated that considerable attention will be paid to this point.

City Billiard Championship — Col. McMordie vs. George McIlmoyle—Elks' Home, tonight at 8 o'clock. Gents 25c, ladies free.

Referee Sid Macdonald. Marker J. Gold.

Col. McMordie and George McIlmoyle encounter this evening to decide which will meet Sgt. Jelison in the finals of the individual city billiard championship series at the end of the week. As this game brings together the two favorites of the entire twelve starters, it gives promise of qualifying if not exceeding the final itself in general interest. McMordie still stands the first choice favorite with McIlmoyle a close second. The general opinion is that the winner of tonight's affair will cap off the championship honors. A record crowd is expected at the Elks' Home this evening.

The Malaspina footballers, who won over a team representing the dry dock last Saturday, are to give the Callies their first workout of the season in an exhibition game scheduled to take place on the afternoon of Good Friday. The Scots, making their first appearance for a year, are expected to attract out a goodly number of soccer fans who are already restless for the season to start.

The Vanderhoof Tennis Club has elected 1924 officers as follows: President, E. F. W. Health; vice-president, Harry V. Taylor; secretary treasurer, Gilbert F. Wilks; executive, Mrs. H. H. Moore and Mrs. Taylor. The courts at Vanderhoof will be in better shape and ready earlier this year. Agitation is continuing for a club-house.

The Vanderhoof Athletic Association, at its annual meeting last week, elected officers for the year as follows: President, Dr. N. R. Stone; vice-president, E. A. Mitchell; secretary, George Ogden; treasurer, Roy Taylor. Plans are already under way for the holding of a district celebration in Vanderhoof on Dominion Day.

A CANADIAN RIVAL

Developments at Toronto suggest that the only reason Ontario isn't a "Teamed Dome" is that nature failed to construct one in that part of the continent. Within the limitations imposed upon them by circumstances, over which they have no control, the late administrators of the Province seem to have done what they could to provide a counterattraction at the great unveiling ceremony at Washington.—Edmonton Bulletin.

EASTER MARKET WELL SUPPLIED

Many Fresh Vegetable Lines Boing Offered this Week—
Potato Prices Easier

TURNIPS TO VANCOUVER

Butter, Sugar and Hams Down—
Price on Eggs is Stiffening

The local retail market is well supplied for Easter Week in green vegetables and other produce. Due to arrive are the following: celery, new cabbage, parsley, sweet potatoes, lettuce, spinach, cucumbers, tomatoes, radishes, green onions, asparagus and rhubarb. The price of rhubarb is down considerably since the last quotation was made.

Good onions are firmer in price and the best quality large size stock is none too plentiful at present. California cabbage is arriving in good shape and the prevailing price of 12½c per pound seems likely to hold for some little time.

The potato market locally is well supplied, with prices easier owing to the arrival of Alberta stock. Up country spuds are also easier in sympathy with the imported line. Genuine No. 1 Canada grade A potatoes are scarce this year and growers who have such stock do not fear that the market will drop. It is more likely to go higher.

Shipping to Vancouver

Through a local firm, the first carload of interior turnips will make their appearance on the Vancouver market within the next fortnight or so. This trial shipment will be followed by many more if the anticipated success is achieved. The shippers understand their market and, therefore, none but the best will be sacked. New sacks, nicely lettered and holding uniform weights, will command the attention of the southern dealers.

The butter market is weak and prices on all lines are due for a decline of 5¢ per pound effective Easter Monday. The egg market is firm due to considerable storage activity. B.C. eggs have advanced slightly and pullets, considerably. The latter are scarce and will soon be off the market. The price of sugar has dropped 50¢ a hundred during the past fortnight and ham and bacon prices are down about six percent due to the sales tax being cut off them.

FIGHTING OVER TWO MILLIONS

Will of Late Ambrose Small Before Courts in Ontario—Wife's Affidavit

TORONTO, April 16.—Mrs. Theresa Small, who is claiming the entire estate of her missing husband, Ambrose J. Small, under the terms of a will dated September 6, 1903, spent four hours in the witness box in the non-jury court to have the will probated. She was induced by counsel for the sisters of the missing man who are fighting Mrs. Small's claim, to reveal facts bearing on her domestic relations which they might, it is said, suggest a reason for a new will, the claim of the sisters being that a new will was made about 1917 which gave them and other members of the Small family a share of the $2,000,000 estate but this will cannot be found.

Gideon Grant, K.C., counsel for the Small sisters, produced an affidavit signed by Mrs. Small which referred to an agreement by which Mrs. Small, for $500,000 was to waive her dower right and counsel pointed out that this agreement was dated two years after Mrs. Small, according to her own evidence, had discovered her husband's infidelity.

Recalls Evidence

The million dollar check which was handed to Mr. Small on December 2, 1919, on completion of the sale of his theatres and in fact the day he vanished from view, was referred to by counsel who also read an affidavit made by Mrs. Small some months ago relating to the check. Counsel recalled her evidence at a previous hearing that she and her husband went together to the Dominion bank and deposited the million dollar check and then read the affidavit which ran:

"I was not personally present when the deposit was made by the said Ambrose Joseph Small, but I have since learned that it was made on December 2, 1919." "And this affidavit," said Mr. Grant, "was drawn by Mr. Hughes on your instructions?"

Justice Logie: "Do you mean to swear you signed an affidavit without reading it over?"

"That one, I must have." "And it was on the strength of this affidavit that you got an order from Mr. Cameron, master in chambers for $500,000." "Yes."

"An affidavit you know to be false?"

"Yes."

"You made that affidavit for the purpose of getting a half million dollars?"

"Yes."

Witness went on to explain that the wording of the affidavit might have been due to Mr. Hughes' misunderstanding of something she said to him.

The case will be resumed on April 28.

SAYS ASQUITH IS A FAILURE

Labor Government Gaining Favor in Britain While Liberal Party is Losing

LONDON, April 16.—Despite the accepted belief that a general election cannot be long postponed there is an astonishing apathy prevailing among the rank and file of the voters throughout the country.

People seem to be discussing all sorts of topics from the Wembly exhibition to the opening of the cricket season, but politics are practically never discussed. One reason for this seems to be the prevailing belief that when the next general election is held the Labor party will probably be returned to power by an even larger majority.

Handled Strike

Their handling of the five serious strike situations since they assumed power has done a great deal to allay any anxiety with regard to industrial disturbance which existed before they took office, while admittedly they have handled one or two difficult problems with considerable parliamentary skill, notably the Poplar issue and the evictions bill despite the fact that a small majority was recorded against them in the latter.

The only phase that is political that seems to be a subject for discussion is the rapid disintegration of the Liberal party under the leadership of former Premier Asquith. His absence from the house on the evictions division, although he had spoken against the embodying clause and was known to be hostile to the measure, has been the last stroke that has robbed the old Liberal party of the country's confidence.

May Disappear

It looks now as if the Liberal party as it was known for the last half of the nineteenth century and the first twenty years of the present, would disappear, although a central group will remain out of which the long-looked-for new party of anti-radicalism may emerge. The next great struggle will probably come immediately after the Easter recess when not only the resumption of trade negotiations with Soviet Russia will come up for debate but also there will be a full discussion of Britain's foreign policy, and a comprehensive study of the relations with France arising out of the report of the Dawes and the McKenna commissions.
