UNITED STATES FLYERS WILL CONTINUE

BRITISH AIRMAN LEFT DUTCH HARBOR FOR PRINCE RUPERT SATURDAY

American Flyers Will Make Effort To Reach Greenland And Complete Their Journey

REKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 11.—There is no question of calling off the United States globe circling flight. Officers here believe it will be completed successfully. Search today is being made for a safe landing place on the hop from Iceland to Greenland.

Fog and ice conditions are bad and the aviators are considering three possibilities. The Cruiser Raleigh may find a safe landing haven on the coast of Greenland. The flyers may go to Angmagalik Harbor, which is free of ice provided the Raleigh's scout planes can take enough fuel to provide for the next lap, or they may attempt a non-stop flight from this port to Ivigtut on the western coast of Greenland or to a base near Cape Farewell on the southernmost tip.

If the last mentioned plan is adopted it will entail a flight of 780 miles necessitating the hazardous task of landing at sea to re-fuel the machines from the cruiser Raleigh.

JONES PROVED POOLEY'S RIVAL

Leader Was Chosen After Three Hours Session: Is Fearless Critic

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11.—The choice of R. H. Pooley as leader of the Conservative party in the Legislature was made after a three hour private session on Saturday. His closest competitor for the position was J. W. Jones, member for South Okanagan.

Mr. Pooley has been member for Esquimalt since 1912. He is a lawyer by profession and his political ability as well as his seat in the Legislature was inherited from his father, Hon. C. H. Pooley, who sat as member for Esquimalt for 22 years.

The new leader is a trenchant and fearless critic but lacks the ability to enthuse his followers and is not an able public speaker.

The largest and most powerful of the many new American halibut boats which have made their appearance in this port this year is the schooner Foremost of Seattle which arrived today to sell her first catch on the local Exchange.

The Foremost is owned by Ness Bros. and Petersen and it is said that it cost $40,000 to build her. She is 86 feet long and is powered with a 165 h.p. Enterprise diesel engine.

SUDDEN DEATH FRANK CARVELL

Chairman of Railway Board Was Found Dead on His Farm Saturday Afternoon

St. JOHN, Aug. 11.—Hon. Frank Carvell, chairman of the board of Railway commissioners, was suddenly stricken at his home in Woodstock Saturday afternoon and was found dead on his farm shortly after five o'clock. He had walked to the farm through the fields. It was very hot and it is believed this contributed to the fatal seizure.

Mr. Carvell arrived from Ottawa at noon, appearing in the best of health. He is survived by a widow, one brother and two sisters. The funeral will take place tomorrow.

Mr. Carvell was a member of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's cabinet and also accepted a portfolio in the Union Government along with a number of other Liberals. He was 62 years of age.

Miss Jessie Rothwell arrived on last night's train from Regina to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. F. G. Dawson.

Prince of Wales Will Lunch With President Coolidge at White House On His Arrival

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—A private lunch with the executive family at the White House is planned for the Prince of Wales on his arrival in the United States next month, according to the Washington Post.

The Prince's call at the White House was decided upon after King George had vetoed the proposal that he come to the United States incognito as Lord Renfrew. The King held that international courtesy required the use of the Prince's highest title on the occasion of the visit, necessitating arrangements for him to pay his respects formally to the President.

IOCO WAS IN DANGER FIRE

Wind Drove Flames Toward Town and Fire Fighters Busy

IOCO, B.C., Aug. 11.—Fanned by a strong wind, a forest fire threatens Ioco and the Imperial Oil Company's large tanks today. Unless the outbreak can be checked heavy damage will result. Wind is driving the flames toward town.

In addition many homes and other structures are endangered and there is three million gallons of oil stored there. Fire fighters are battling desperately in an effort to save the plant.

CROP CONDITIONS IMPROVE

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11.—Crop conditions throughout Western Canada have greatly improved as a result of the general rains last week, say unofficial reports. Cattle grain cutting is expected to be general by August 15 and wheat cutting by the 25th.

The crops in Saskatchewan and Alberta have been revived very considerably by rain and in the districts where the outlook was very poor two weeks ago they look for a fifty per cent crop.

Thiepval Left Saturday For Prince Rupert with Stuart MacLaren Aboard

Stowaway Who Claims To Have Been Robbed Coming on Vessel: Rowe Flew With High Fever.

DUTCH HARBOR, Aug. 11.—The Canadian trawler Thiepval with Stuart MacLaren and the rest of the party of British flyers arrived here Thursday and left Saturday night for Prince Rupert.

MacLaren had little to add to his story of disaster as broadcasted at the time. He expressed delight at the success of the American flyers and said he appreciated the hazards they had overcome. All the personnel were well. Flight Engineer Rowe, engineer on the plane, flew for hours with a fever at 104 degrees due to sunstroke contracted at the Kurile Islands.

When the Thiepval crew began loading bunkers, a naturalized American of Russian nativity was found at the docks of the Unalaska Co. He was covered with dust having been stowed in the bunkers.

The stowaway claims to have served the United States navy, to have been captured in Russia and the sum of $10,000 taken from him and then ordered to shift for himself. He slipped aboard the Thiepval hiding in the fuselage of the wrecked plane.

The Canadian authorities will be asked to consider the case.

POOLEY SAYS OPPOSE OLIVER

Conservatives Will Contest Any By-election The Liberals Call at Present

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11.—"Nelson or any other by-election called by the Oliver government will be contested with all the energy and resources of the party," declared R. H. Pooley, M.L.A., newly elected leader of the Conservative party in British Columbia, following a meeting of Conservative members of the Legislature on Saturday. The conference was declared to be unanimous in favor of opposition to Oliver's move to find a seat. "Public opinion voted 68 per cent against the government in the general election," said Pooley, "and have indicated that they are determined to be rid of Oliverism. Co-operation and manipulation attendant upon the handling of the absentee ballots have turned the public even more solidly against the present Liberal administration."

SPECIAL BOAT TO KETCHIKAN

Fair Board Has Made Arrangements For Transportation of Alaskan Visitors to City

The Fair Board at a conference on Saturday night with B.C. Keeley, Pacific Coast manager of the Canadian government Merchant Marine; J. J. Carroll, local superintendent, and R. F. McNaughton, C.N.R. district passenger agent, concluded an arrangement whereby transportation will be provided for visitors from Ketchikan and Juneau who have expressed the desire to take in the forthcoming exhibition. A baseball team from Ketchikan is expected will also come to play a series with the locals or visiting teams that may be here. To bring the Alaskan visitors to the city, the Prince Rupert on the Thursday of Fair Week will make a special run to Ketchikan after her Anyox call, arriving here on Thursday evening. The excursionists will be given Thursday evening, all Friday and Saturday in the city and will be taken home on the Prince John which will sail for Ketchikan early Sunday morning.

The Fair Board is also endeavoring to make arrangements for special transportation of Anyox visitors.

SALMON STILL RUNNING WELL

Sockeye Season Closes on Aug. 20 and Cohoes Not Worth Packing Says Cannery

Sockeye salmon fishing will close the middle of next week and by that time it is expected the catch will be almost a record for the Skeena river. The fish continue to come in large numbers.

The big run of pinks is still on and cannery men are making every effort to cope with it. The limit of two hundred to the boat has been raised to three hundred and all canneries, where there is a sufficient supply of cans, are working all the time.

Cans are being rushed north as fast as possible and little delay will be caused from lack of supplies. The coho situation is worrying cannery men. While the fish have not come in large quantities yet, they are expected soon and the cannery men are not sure whether they will pack them or not. They say that the fish do not fetch a very high price and it is doubtful if it will pay them to handle that grade this year.

New Leader Of Conservative Party.

The selection of R. H. Pooley as leader of the Conservatives in the Legislature will make him official leader of the opposition and it is to be assumed that he will be leader of the party throughout the province. If the Liberals should be defeated, he would be the choice for premier.

R. H. Pooley is fearless and energetic but not magnetic. He has not the least semblance to an orator and lacks the ability to seize upon the big things and ignore the little ones. Many of his criticisms of the Liberal administration have been puerile to such an extent that his own followers have been anything but pleased. He got the position, undoubtedly, not because of his outstanding ability but because of the lack of outstanding ability on the part of any of the other members of the party who were elected.

Mr. Pooley is a Canadian who was educated in England. He is a member of the Union Club, where Victoria's select coterie meets and where it is claimed Conservative policies have in the past been formulated.

On the other hand Mr. Pooley has a way of making himself popular. He can be vivacious and a delightful companion, and he makes a point of knowing every man, woman and child in his constituency and informing himself as to their personal welfare. Through this personal work he has been able to keep their confidence through a term of years. Once he came near being beaten, saving his seat only on a recount by about three votes.

Difficult To Prophecy As To The Future.

As to Mr. Pooley's future as a leader of a great party in this province it is difficult to prophecy. If with the mantle of leadership he can put on the mantle of political wisdom and learn to select important matters for his attention while eliminating trivialities, he can make a name for himself that will go down with the generations. If, on the other hand, he is determined to follow in the footsteps of his former leader, opposing for the sake of opposition and using no judgment as to manner or method, he will hardly secure the confidence of the mass of the people of the province. It is to be hoped that he will rise to the occasion and forget the school of politics in which he has been trained. There is a great opportunity for him as leader, for what British Columbia needs today is real leaders.

W. J. Bowser Retires After Many Years.

W. J. Bowser has been leader of the Conservatives for a number of years and has never led them to victory. He inherited the premiership from Sir Richard McBride and on his first appeal to the country was defeated. Twice since that he has been turned down by popular vote until at last, even in his own constituency, he was rejected.

Yet Mr. Bowser had many good points. He was an indefatigable worker. When Attorney General the chief complaint against him was that he wanted to do everything himself. He was not content to leave anything to subordinates. As a leader he has been particularly free from charges of scandal of any kind. He was a good speaker and an incisive critic but he made the mistake of occupying the time of the Legislature discussing minor matters when there were big subjects that required attention. A total abstainer from alcoholic liquor, he secured a large measure of support from liquor men. Living a moral life he often was supported by those who were loose in their habits and careless as to moral conduct.

In his fight for health Mr. Bowser has proved himself a hero. He has suffered from an affection that has required all his energy to combat and a few years ago it became necessary for him to retire temporarily to a dry climate to recuperate.

Mr. Bowser will retire with the goodwill of his friends and the respect of his enemies, many of whom were to be found in his own party. It is to be hoped that he will find in private life that which he failed to find in his dealings with the public.

DOES NOT EXPECT TO SHIP LUMBER FROM HERE AT ONCE

On account of the present unfavorable condition of the Japanese market, it will be some time before any further shipments of lumber for the Orient will be sent through this port from district mills according to H. R. McMillan, well known exporter of Vancouver, who was in the city Saturday afternoon on his way south after paying a visit of inspection to the Big Bay mill at Georgetown in which he is interested. Mr. McMillan, through whose efforts a considerable quantity of lumber was shipped through here to the Orient last season, is still shipping on a reduced scale from Vancouver and hopes to use the port of Prince Rupert again just as soon as market conditions warrant.

A shipment of 15,000 feet of rough clear spruce from the Big Bay mill will go through here on August 20 bound for the United Kingdom via Vancouver.

ROMANTIC LIFE OF COWPUNCHER

Tom Mix Who Comes Here Tonight "North of the Yukon" is Unique Personality

Tom Mix, the star of the production "North of the Yukon," which is being shown at the Westholme tonight has a private life that is undoubtedly more colorful than that led by any other man now appearing in any one of his pictures. His personal adventures are, collectively, far more interesting than any series of adventures in any one of his pictures.

Few of the millions who have followed his pictures enthusiastically, are aware, for instance, that the star has been a cowpuncher, a soldier in five campaigns, has faced a firing squad in Central America, was with the British cavalry that relieved the famous beleaguered city of Ladysmith in the South African war; was with the American army when they entered Tien-Tsin in the Boxer rebellion, and was with General Madero when he entered the city of Juarez. The troop records of the late Colonel Roosevelt's Rough Riders show him to have been with them when they stormed San Juan Hill.

Texas Rangers

When Tom Mix wasn't in a soldier's uniform he held other spirited jobs. When he returned from the Boxer uprising he went to his beloved West and resumed his old job with the Texas Rangers, chasing outlaws and cattle rustlers. While he drew the pay of a United States revenue officer, he had several experiences with moonshiners in the hills of Tennessee. He also held down the comparatively peaceful position of marshal in a little Oklahoma town that, in those days, was trying to rid itself of the reputation of being the State's headquarters for cattle rustlers.

Tom also worked on various ranches as a cowpuncher. In the rodeos each year he never failed to emerge with the highest honors as a "ridin' man," and as a roper and cattle thrower. It was his proficiency in such work that first attracted the attention of a moving picture director.

Daring and Enthusiasm

Since his advent into the moving pictures Tom has been known chiefly for his astonishing daring and enthusiasm in performing hazardous stunts. All who have worked with him have declared it a pleasure to follow, or try to follow, his lead. Few, however, have been able to keep up the pace. He has never permitted a "double" to be hired for him, no matter how dangerous has been the scene, nor has he ever been hesitant in assuming the duties of an extra in speeding up the work of a picture. He even "shoes and stables" his own horses, rather than permit strange hands to care for them.

The outstanding point of some of Tom's apparently superhuman efforts is the ease which marks them—the swift action without visible effort, and the grace that bespeaks absolute control and confidence. But his charm is his ever present concern for all others, his unflinching good nature, his calm boldness and his sheer joy in his work.

with oxy-acetylene torches. They found the door closed and the combination locked, but this did not figure in their work, so they paid no attention to it.

Stared Aghast

Soon after they started, they heard a thumping, rumbling noise within the concrete and steel cabinet. All stopped and stared aghast.

Excitement followed.

The workers, stimulated by the possible peril of the person imprisoned within, redoubled their efforts to cut through the combination and open the vault. The time was cut one-fourth of what had been estimated by experts.

Mr. Smith reached into the hole burned into the door and threw the lock mechanism over. The doors were torn open. Then everyone with a cry of horror jumped back.

Bess Sniffed Air

Bess, the studio bear, walked out on all-fours feebly and sniffed the fresh air with ominous relief. It seems, according to the night watchman, that Bess had escaped from her cage in the studio and had wandered into the set. When the watchman came along during his last round he saw her dark form crawl into the vault. Mistaking the bear for a burglar, he tiptoed over and slammed the door shut and twirled the combination.

Then, when his shouts brought no reply, the night watchman thought he had imagined the whole thing and neglected to report the incident, fearing he would be suspected of having forgot the Volstead Act.

MARRIES IN ORDER GET RID OF SISTER

"The Enchanted Cottage" is Romance in Which Richard Barthelmess Takes Leading Part

No actress ever made the hero of a motion picture more uncomfortable than Florence Short does in Richard Barthelmess' latest First National starring vehicle, "The Enchanted Cottage." As the long-nosed Ethel who blusters into the little cottage in the wood where her war-shattered brother has sought refuge from the outside world, she unwittingly makes him miserable instead of happy. She opens wide the windows, clangs the gong for the housekeeper, whom she orders to brighten up the house, yanks the cigarette from Oliver's mouth, and soundly upbraids him for acting the hermit. All of which impels him to marry a very homely little governess in order to get rid of his sister. And then a romance that makes the title of the play live up to its name develops.

BEAR WANDERS INTO VAULT OF STUDIO AND IS RELEASED BY FIRE

Exciting Scene When She Wanders Through Opening Made for Her

Rather than needlessly endanger the life of Alice Calhoun in making the spectacular safe rescue scene in "The Midnight Alarm," which will be exhibited at the week end, David Smith, Vitagraph director, ordered that practical tests be made on the vault in use.

For this purpose a substitute vault door of similar dimensions was installed. When the work was completed it was too late to go ahead with the test. The experiment was postponed until the next morning.

With Director Smith holding a stop watch to determine the length of time to cut through the steel door to make the rescue, the technical staff started work

KIDDIES' RACES ELKS' FLAG DAY

Many Entrants in Various Events—Interesting Novelty Competitions

Miss Doris Candow was adjudged to have the prettiest red hair at the Elks' Flag Day celebration on Saturday. Jimmie Newman was chosen as the possessor of the best combination of red hair and freckles; Bobbie Hale had the most freckled face, and the best sets of teeth were those of Mary Hudema and Albert Styles. The judges were Chief Vickers and John Pinder-Moss.

The novelty competitions concluded the afternoon's field day sports. There were many entrants in the foot races, as many as forty young sprinters entering some of the classes. The duties of Jimmie Neville, Jarvis McLeod and George Waddell in judging were thus very exacting and the running off of some heats was necessary.

The winners were: Boys under 6.—1, Lee Fow, 2, Arthur Thompson, 3, Bobbie Webber.

Girls under 6.—Annie Mildred Monezaba, Isabel Georgeson, Freda Mussallem.

FOOTBALL TENNIS SWIMMING

Sport Chat

A large number of the league players being away for the series at Ocean Falls, there will be little doing in the football line in town this week unless it is decided to stage one of the playoffs in the Gilhuly Cup semi-finals towards the end of the week. So far no games are scheduled for the week. Next week will be occupied with the opening games of the second half of the Stuart Shield competition and, as soon as the players are back from the south, there will be a meeting of the executive to set the dates for the Gilhuly Cup games. The boys sailed for Ocean Falls Saturday night quite confident that they will be able to hold their own with the paper makers. The first game is to be played this afternoon and the second on Tuesday, the players being due to return home on Wednesday.

The City League baseball games between the Columbus Club and the Sons of Canada are scheduled for this week—one on Tuesday evening and the other on Friday. If a little more enthusiasm is not shown this week than has prevailed recently, there may be no more City League games. Whatever decision is made in this regard, however, it is important that the local players should be kept in practice and there seems no better and effective way of continuing the practices than in league games. The series with Ocean Falls showed that the home team was out of form and the brand of ball displayed therein will not do for the proposed games with Anyox and Ketchikan during Fair Week. The baseball talent in Prince Rupert is capable of better performances than any that have been staged so far this season.

Quits as a game was introduced at a recent hospital picnic in Smithers and, since that time, it has become popular overnight. Each evening sees an ever increasing gathering of the devotees of the sport to settle feuds by mighty combat in the interior railway centre. Interest has reached the point where a competition is planned for the Fall Fair at Smithers and a handsome prize has been hung up.

OCEAN FALLS WINS SECOND

Baseball Game on Saturday Resulted in Locals' Defeat by 9 to 6

Loose fielding was again responsible for Prince Rupert's defeat at the hands of Ocean Falls by a score of 9 to 6 in the second game of the Flag Day series on Saturday afternoon. There were errors on both sides but the home team made the most and the visitors showed themselves to be the best players of the day maintaining at least a tighter field. Pitching was of the mediocre quality, both sides making enough hits to win an ordinary game.

Fortin opened in the box for Prince Rupert but in the third inning, after four runs had been made on him, was transferred to first base in place of Bazett-Jones who was sent to Alex Mitchell's place in the outfield. Lidstone then pitched the remainder of the game for Prince Rupert but was unable to stop the paper makers from further increasing their score. Marshall pitched the full game for Ocean Falls.

W. Mitchell scored the first run for Prince Rupert in the opening frame. He was walked, stole second, advanced to third on Balfour's sacrifice and scored by Fortin who sent a fly which the paper maker's short stop failed to get under. Ratchford fanned and Menzies was put out at first. Ocean Falls did not score although an error and a walk put two men on bases.

With two men down, Prince Rupert filled the bases in the second inning with Lambie and McKeown being walked and Fortin making a safe hit. Lambie, however, showed poor base running ability missing the opportunity to score on Fortin's hit and being put out at the home plate through being too slow when Balfour made a base hit. Ocean Falls made the first score in the second inning when Knapp scored Burden who had got around to third on a hit which but for fumbling in the field, would have been worth no more than one base.

After Fortin and Ratchford were felled out in the third inning, Menzies, after being walked, got an unearned run in the third inning. Alex Mitchell sent out a fly to centre field which was dropped by the second baseman on the return. Menzies then advanced to third base and made home on an overthrow from second to third. Bazett-Jones struck out.

Game Put on Ice

In their end of the third, Ocean Falls found no trouble in hitting favor of Fortin. W. Mitchell Fortin and, with several errors from Rupert further working in their favor, put the game on ice with four runs. Arcand got first base when Balfour fumbled and was scored when E. Jolliffe put a hit into left field which might or might not have been worth the three bases it got. McKeown sacrificed to score Jolliffe and Maulding found the weak spot in left field again for two bases. Burden was fielded, Knapp walked and Maulding got home when Bazett-Jones dropped the ball at first where Fortin was trying to get Knapp. Jolliffe got first when Lambie failed to negotiate another in left field, Marshall searing Knapp with a hit which Willie Mitchell caught on his mouth. Mitchell was incapacitated for a short time and the occasion was taken for a general re-adjustment in the field. Lidstone took the box, Fortin went to first, Bazett-Jones to right field in place of Alex Mitchell and Harry Astoria replaced Lambie in left field.

In the fourth inning Lambie, McKeown and Lidstone struck out for Prince Rupert. Arcand and E. Jolliffe of Ocean Falls were put out on bases but the visitors got two runs nevertheless. On an error Maulding got to first and Burden scored both runners when W. Mitchell hesitated too long with the ball. Murphy got to first but, with Maulding, died on bases when A. Jolliffe struck out.

Better Play

The fifth inning was brief, the Prince Rupert batters being felled and two Ocean Falls men striking out and the other being caught at first. The Ocean Falls catcher and short stop each made nice fly saves. Lidstone covered first smartly for Rupert after Fortin had to chase after a ball which he let by.

The Prince Rupert batters again went down in rapid succession in the sixth but Ocean Falls picked up another two runs. E. Jolliffe was put out at first. McKeown got first on a fumble in the infield and Maulding made a base hit. The two runners advanced a base on a passed ball and scored when Mitchell erred again in attempting to field Burden. Knapp popped out to first and Jolliffe struck out.

The seventh inning was also of short duration, two Prince Rupert batters fanning and Lidstone popping into the tight opposing field. Improved fielding by Rupert rather than pitching put the Ocean Falls batters out.

Local Boys Score

A batting rally with fumbling by the visitors gave Rupert two runs in the eighth. Balfour singled and got to third on a fumble. Fortin scored him with a three bagger. Ratchford struck out, Menzies sacrificed in walked and Bazett-Jones fanned. Jolliffe struck out for Ocean Falls, McKeown was put out and hurt his leg at second on a throw from his brother, the Rupert catcher. He had got first on a left field single. Maulding was put out on a pretty running fly catch by Balfour.

The ninth inning opened with Rupert needing five to tie and six to win. Astoria struck out. McKeown walked, and Lidstone struck out. Balfour came up with blood in his eye and lammed the sphere into centre field. The Ocean Falls fielder some how or other touched it and the ball glanced off into the side of the rock pile thus making it a home run for Balfour with McKeown ahead of him. The game ended when Fortin knocked a fly which was caught by the Ocean Falls second baseman.

AGE OF MAN ON THIS CONTINENT DOES NOT DATE VERY FAR BACK
Fossils Indicate Only Few Thousand of Years; Los Angeles Oldest Yet

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—Six human skeletons unearthed during the course of excavations for a sewer in the outskirts of Los Angeles are to date the oldest evidence of the existence of human life on this continent according to Dr. A. Hrdlicks, curator of the United States National Museum, who discussed Man's Antiquity in America in the anthropology section of the British Association today. "Findings of fossilized human remains in Ecuador, the Valley of Mexico and parts of the United States, especially in California have stimulated research on the early inhabitants of this continent," Dr. Hrdlicks said. Discussing specimens of varying antiquity which have been found recently, he inferred that a geological antiquity for man's habitation in America has still to be proved, despite the fact that some of the remains have been found under conditions which strongly suggest it.

"According to indications, man's antiquity here is still not geological, it is not an age to be measured in tens of thousands of years." Thus the specimens found in America are relatively recent in comparison with latest to be unearthed in Europe, which date back tens, and possibly hundreds of thousands of years.

FINE LITTLE YACHT ARRIVED LAST NIGHT
Arro Brought Mr. and Mrs. Frost Snyder From Tacoma En Route Ketchikan

It was only in Johnstone Strait that the power boat Arro, owned by Frost Snyder of the Tacoma Yacht Club, had any trouble coming north. There a sudden squall of wind blowing against a fast flowing tide whipped up the waves so that they came over the yacht and made things unpleasant for a few minutes. The Arro arrived in port last evening and tied up at the Yacht Club and left for Ketchikan today. Mr. Snyder has Mrs. Snyder with him and a pilot. On the return he is proposing to visit Gardner Canal of which he has heard and which he was persuaded to visit since his visit here.

Mrs. Snyder says she did not mind the waves going over the boat but she objected to the long swell on Queen Charlotte Sound. Both visitors expressed themselves as very pleased with the cruise. Ketchikan was to be their furthest point north but also they hoped to get some fishing in Alaska.

Mrs. Snyder said they walked all over town and they were particularly pleased with the gardens and flowers. The lawns were so green and the homes had an air of prosperity. This was one of the things that particularly pleased her.

The Arro is of the seine boat type 53 feet long and powered with an Enterprise gas engine. She is fitted out very conveniently for cruising and has every convenience for a long trip.

RUSSIAN CROPS ARE A FAILURE
Famine Again Stalks in Land of Soviet But Full Extent Not Known

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(Canadian Press).—Soviet Russia is again faced with famine, says Prof. S. Procopovitch, a well known Russian economist who was a member of the Famine Relief Committee formed in Moscow in 1921, in a communication to the London Times. Professor Procopovitch was a member of Kerensky Provisional Government in 1917. The Famine Relief Committee in 1921 was dissolved by the Bolsheviks, many of its members arrested, and some, including Prof. Procopovitch, were exiled from Russia. The professor writes to the Times as follows:

Soviet Russia is again faced with famine. The south and south east are under the influence of prolonged heat and drought, while the north and northwest are suffering from continuous cold and rainy weather. Under normal conditions this would only result in bad harvest, a calamity which would be merely local, and which, like that of 1891, could be overcome by local means. But now it is otherwise.

Communist Rule

For seven years the country has been under Communist rule. The national revenue has fallen below 40 per cent of its pre war figure. Professor Liashenko, a well known corn industry expert, writes in a Soviet publication that the cereal harvest per head of the population in Russia was 10.6 cwt. in 1913-14 and 4.7 cwt. in 1920. The year 1920 was the last of a systematic Communist policy. Lenin's partial renouncement of Communism in March, 1921, resulted in an increase of the cultivated area and in the size of the harvest. The extent of this increase we do not, unfortunately, know, as Soviet statisticians are wont to increase the figures given them of the area under cultivation by 10, 20, and even 30 per cent. Even Stalin, one of the Triumvirate which at the moment rules Russia, has expressed his disapproval of Soviet statisticians on account of their untrustworthiness. This, at all events, is certain, that after the export abroad in 1923-24 of 2,700,000 tons, the population is left almost entirely without a supply of grain.

Wide Region

The failure of harvest in south and south-east Russia is spread over a wide region. According to the Soviet press the harvest has failed completely in many areas. It was found by the expert commission that the local June showers lasted only from 15 to 40 minutes without any change in the temperature, with the result the crops were completely blighted by the sun. The winter crops there have perished completely, while in those districts where they still survive the harvest will not be above that of 1921—i.e., 15-300 lb. per acre. Of the spring crops the fall below the normal will be as much as 50 per cent.

There follows in the same issue another communication from the Northern Caucasus: "In the Saar district, in the north eastern portion of the Stavropol and Terek provinces, and in the whole of the Kisliar region the winter crops have perished and have been cut down as hay."

MAN IS AN OFFSHOOT FROM ANTHROPOID STEM
Common Ancestry of Ape and Man Argued Before British Association at Toronto Today

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—Teeth in three lower jaws of fossil apes recently discovered in the Siwaliks by Barnum Brown, of the American Museum of Natural History afford an added confirmation of the common origin of their former owners and the human species. This was shown in the anthropology section of the British Association today by W. K. Gregory, associate professor of paleontology at Columbia University, and Milo Hellman, who went into anatomical details which linked the contour of the newly discovered bones with similar structures in existing apes, and man himself. The fossils are examples of the Dryopithecus type of anthropoids, and the distinctive markings on the lower molar teeth, known as the Dryopithecus Crown pattern, have been traced in detail into the molar crown patterns of each of the existing anthropoids, and also into those of primitive human types. The anterior molar of Dryopithecus falls in between the compressed type exhibited by chimpanzees, and the bicuspid of the human being.

"These facts, in the light of cumulative anatomical evidence for the relatively close relationship of man with the existing anthropoids afford strong support for Darwin's view that man is an offshoot from the anthropoid stem," the scientists decided.

The discoveries also locate on the geological calendar the time at which the distinctively human modifications of dentition took place.

LIFE DEMANDS UPON FAT-SOLUBLE VITAMIN
Constituent of Butter and Cream Necessary to Reproduction and Lactation

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—The average length of life, and success in reproduction and lactation depend on the existence in the body of a sufficient amount of the vitamin known to science under the name, Fat-Soluble A. This was announced by Prof. H. C. Sherman of Columbia University at a joint symposium on vitamins held by the Chemistry and Physiology sections of the British Association today.

For ten years it has been known that this constituent of butter and cream is essential to growth and the prevention of eye disease, but its importance for other functions has hitherto not been recognized.

The vitamin has been named Fat-Soluble A because it is dissolved by the solutions which dissolve fats.

Lung Diseases

Diets, in which it is present in relatively small amounts, fail utterly to support successful reproduction and lactation, though the individual may be enjoying apparent good health. It is believed, also, that susceptibility to lung disease is due in part at least, to the absence from the diet of sufficient quantities of Fat-Soluble A.

Professor Sherman pointed out that sufficiency of this vitamin in what are considered normal dietaries cannot be taken for granted. Enormous variations may occur in the plant tissues, from which the cows, and in turn, the human beings, obtain their store of this important substance. Measures must be taken to ensure its presence in amounts which provide an adequate sufficiency.

Yours truly, John Smith

ALL the world despises an anonymous letter. We like a man to sign his name to what he writes.

But did you ever think that unknown merchandise is anonymous? Nobody to vouch for it. No name signed.

Notice the advertisements in this paper. There in bold print are the names of those who stake their reputations--stake your good-will towards them on the truth of what they have written.

The maker of advertised goods realizes that he might fool you once--but never the second time. His success is dependent upon your continued confidence in what he says in the advertisements.

Read the advertisements with confidence. They tell truths that you should know.

The measure of satisfaction is larger in advertised products

PRINCE GEORGE

Sir Henry Thornton spent three hours here on Friday morning. The railway president was met by representatives of the Board of Trade and city council and asked to give adequate consideration to the establishment of a British Columbia connection into the Peace River Valley.

Arthur Dixon, resident engineer for the provincial department of public works, left on Saturday for Victoria going out by way of the Quesnel road.

The officers and members of Nechako Lodge, A.F. & A.M. held their annual picnic at Six-Mile on Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance of members of the craft and their families.

Delegates of the farmers' institutes of this district at a meeting last week decided that there were not enough cattle in the district to warrant the establishment of a creamery at Prince George.

A strongly worded protest against the delay of the government in completing the road from Quesnel to Prince George has been drawn up by the city council and will be submitted at the annual convention of the Good Roads League of B.C.

OUT AFTER BUSINESS FOR PORT OF VICTORIA

VICTORIA, Aug. 11.—At a meeting of the chamber of commerce the question of a harbor board for the port was discussed. Some favored the appointment of a board with limited powers while others opposed it as likely to lead to a condition similar to that obtaining at Vancouver where the harbor charges were very high. It was shown that at present Victoria had the advantage of a dollar a ton on average cargoes.

The matter was allowed to drop after a number of members had expressed themselves. It was, however, the general opinion that there should be someone appointed to go out after business for the port.

TOWED HIS FRIENDS INTO KETCHIKAN

Linden Pentz When on Way From Here Was Delayed Helping Other Craft

Telling of that part of his trip from here to Ketchikan after coming all the way from Seattle with his wife and infant and goat in a sixteen foot boat, Linden Pentz told the Alaska Chronicle that it was intended to make the run from Prince Rupert to Ketchikan in two days. In Prince Rupert, however, the Pentz personally conducted tour was joined by four young men from California who had been experiencing trouble with the engine in their boat and requested that they be permitted to proceed to Ketchikan in company with the Pentz craft. A stop was made at Cape Fox for the night and in the morning the two parties started off in high spirits expecting to be in Ketchikan by night. The Californian's engine stopped on them when between Tree Point and Mary Island and refused to move further so Pentz gave them a tow line and kept right on for Ketchikan.

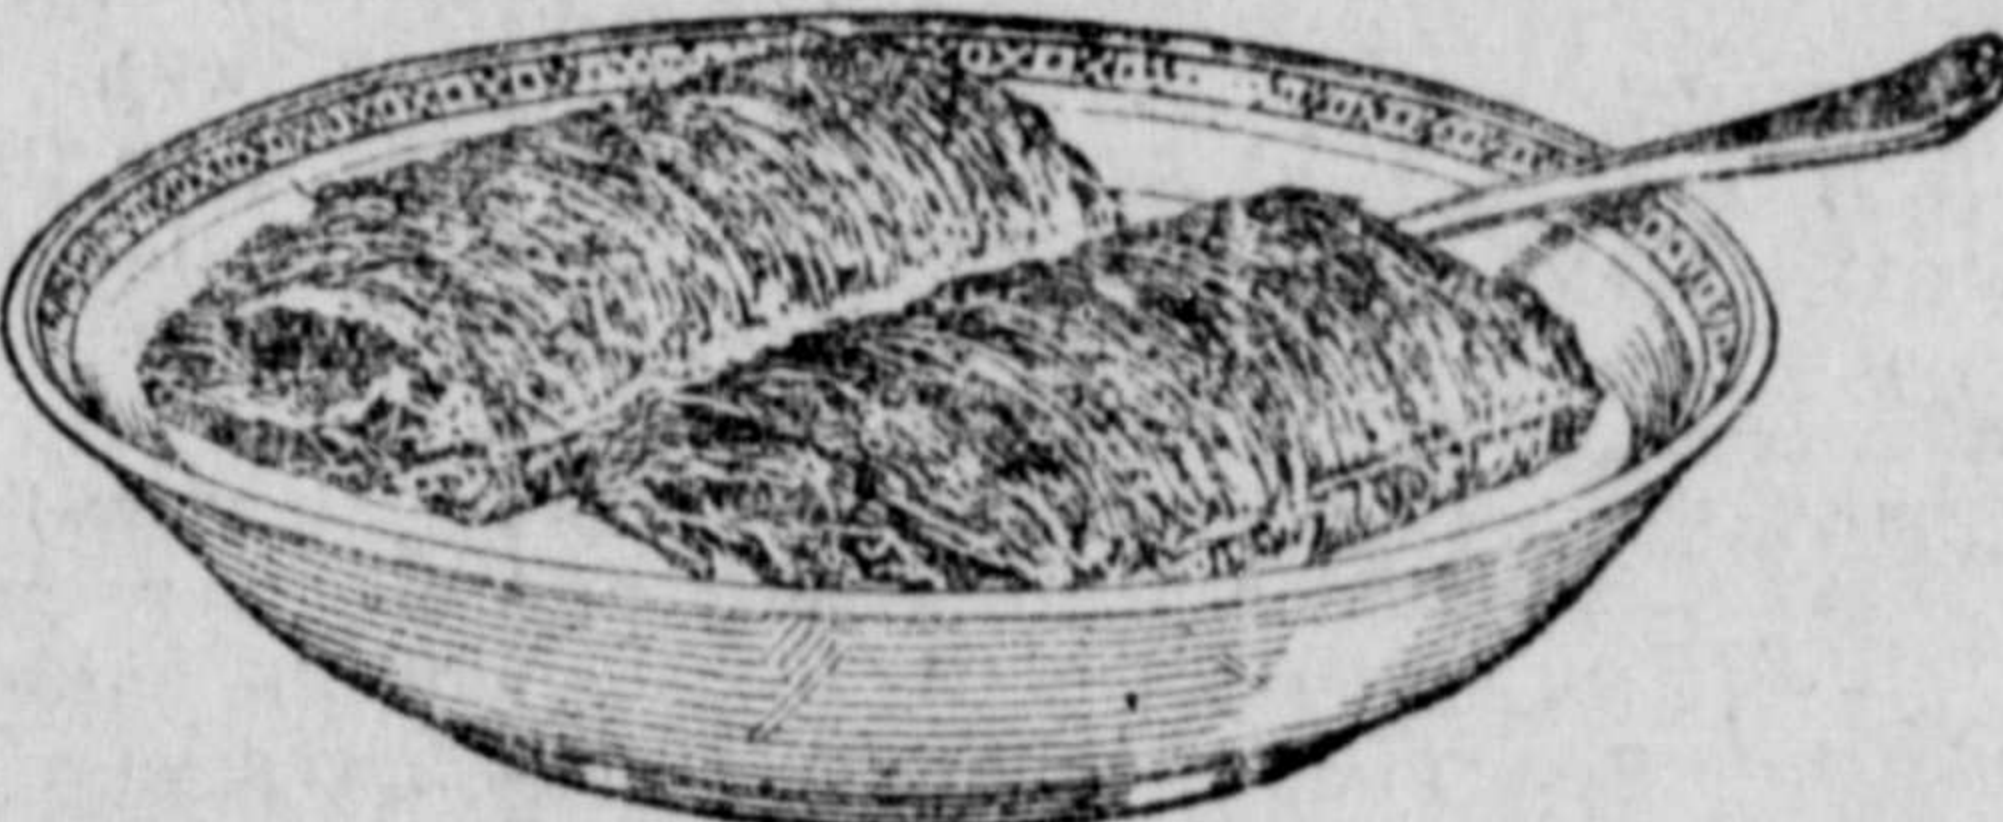

They were forced to stop at Mary Island because of the late hour the paper said, but it must be admitted that it is some tow-line for an open boat with an outboard motor, in those waters, and speaks well of Pentz's confidence in himself and his vessel.
