GRAIN HANDLING PLANT TO BE ERECTED

GREAT BRITAIN IS OFF TO FINE START AT OLYMPIAD; TWO EVENTS WON

Supplementary Estimates Tabled Today at Ottawa Contain Vote of $150,000 to Start Elevator Here

Provision for a grain elevator at Prince Rupert similar to that at Edmonton is included in the supplementary estimates which are being brought down in the House of Commons at Ottawa today according to a telegram which was received by Douglas Stork today from his father, Fred Stork, M.P.

The wire adds that the present vote is for $150,000 and that the contract will be let just as soon as the plans can be prepared.

It is assumed that this appropriation provides only for the substructure, the construction of which would take until such time as a further estimate may be passed to complete it. While described as being similar to the elevator at Edmonton, the structure here would necessarily have to possess the features of a terminal elevator allowing it to take grain from cars and transfer it to ships.

BRITISH FLEET DRY AT SAN FRANCISCO

Elaborate Reception Given Squadron When it Reached California Metropolis Last Night

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. — The British service squadron headed by the Hood, mightiest of the sea battles, will be dry during its three day visit to San Francisco harbor. The fleet arrived from British Columbia last night. Vice-Admiral Frederick Field, K.C.B., in command of the squadron, notified Gerald Campbell, British consul-general here before arriving that in deference to the 18th Amendment and the California dry laws, a seal would be put on the liquor stores of the big sea fighters. The dispensing of liquor while the vessels are in the harbor would be no violation of the law, it was pointed out by authorities here, but the drought has been declared as a courtesy to the American people.

A noisy and colorful reception, participated in by all manner of gaily bedecked bay craft a number of vessels of the United States battle fleet and the land and air forces of the Army and Navy here greeted the arrival of the visiting ships. San Francisco is the only American mainland port at which the squadron will touch.

BARBER IS SENTENCED FOR RAZOR ATTACK

Edmonton Razor Artist Gets Six Months For Slashing Man With Whom He Quarrelled

EDMONTON, July 8. — Following a quarrel in the St. James Hotel, 101st Street, on Dominion Day, Joseph Barber is alleged to have attacked Reinhardt Neilson with a razor, inflicting a deep wound in his arm. Barber appeared before Magistrate P. C. H. Primrose in the police court charged with assault and was sentenced to six months hard labor in Fort Saskatchewan Jail. In the course of evidence it was disclosed that Barber became disorderly in the beer saloon of the St. James Hotel. He left the premises and returned later with a razor in his hand, and when Neilson attempted to stop his progress, Barber, it is alleged, slashed him on the arm.

Bank Inspection Bill Given First Reading and Estimates Contain $50,000 for Salaries

OTTAWA, July 8. — The House of Commons gave its first reading yesterday to a bill providing for a government system of bank inspection.

Hon. J. A. Robb, acting minister of finance, said that a properly qualified inspector would be appointed to go through the head offices of all chartered banks. The government hoped to prevent the issue of loans on insufficient securities. The inspector would give advice on the value of all securities on which loans were made and would warn the banks of depreciation. He would have broad advisory powers though he would not attempt to prevent any particular loan being made.

The supplementary estimates brought in today included $50,000 as the salary for an inspector general of banks and his staff.

Is Sportsmanship Really Disappointing?

Is sportsmanship disappearing from sport and are the Olympic Games, taking place this summer in France—calling together the athletic youth of the world to compete in skill and endurance—going to promote international amity, or will they leave a long remembered sting of bitterness? asks Sir John Foster Fraser writing in the London Illustrated Sunday Herald.

Years ago I was much impressed by the remark of a young American Rhodes scholar, who, on being asked what had struck him most during his first year at Oxford, replied: "The consciousness of living among several thousand men who, in sport, would rather lose than win unfairly." That is the true spirit.

Last Sunday the Parisian crowd at the Colombes Stadium hissed the American Rugby team which gave a bad beating to the French team, and hissed again when the Stars and Stripes flag was run up in honor of the victors. This has been denounced as patriotic unsportsmanship, though the allegation of the hissers is that the Americans were guilty of rough play.

Anyway, the incident is unfortunate.

We British, though liking to think our love of fair play rather distinguishes us from the rest of the world, are not immaculate. Last year at Wimbledon the lawn tennis enthusiasts were not always polite to Suzanne Lenglen by being more jubilant than was necessary when the Frenchwoman's English opponent was temporarily having the best of the game. No doubt there were reasons other than the nationality of Suzanne which accounted for the conduct of some spectators.

Americans are frank in admitting that sport in their country is not so continuously gentlemanly as it ought to be. It was on the other side of the Atlantic that the famous dictum was propounded, "win, tie or wrangle"; snatch the prize, get level with the other fellow, and if he wins create a shindy about unfairness and try to get him disqualified!

Glow Of Good Spirit Should Prevail.

The last international meeting was marked by regrettable incidents, with grave charges of unsportsmanlike behaviour on the part of some competitors, and unseemly demonstration by sections of spectators, which made countless thousands mourn that the meeting should have been smudged by evidence of national antipathies.

The original idea was that it would be splendid for the flower of youth of all lands to meet in friendly contest. It is still a splendid idea. Those who are responsible for organizing this year's Games in France have done their best to wipe the memory of past unpleasantness off the slate, and have even found excuses for the rashness of folk in the past.

I have personal knowledge that the committee responsible for the organization of the British competitors are not allowing former mishaps to influence them, but are animated with a zealous desire to have clean sport and a worthy ambition to recover some of England's lost laurels.

We know how we like our school or our country to win. The flame of local patriotism blazes brilliantly. When it comes to competition between nations there is the danger that wild patriotism may outrun generosity to others. Minor accidental actions are magnified into unscrupulous sharp practices, and the nation which carries off most of the prizes is tempted to crow over the other.

It is to be hoped this year's Olympic Games will produce triumphs with modesty, losses without ill-feeling, and a glow of good sportsmanship among the competing nations.

International Feeling Now Not Of The Best.

Just now, chiefly due to political and economic causes, international feeling is not of the best. We are inclined to use magnifying glasses in the search for notes. Despite correct, appreciative speeches made by statesmen at complimentary banquets, there is, alas! an undercurrent of antagonism among great masses of people in every country toward the folk of other countries.

Are the Olympic Games in France this year to be a display of admiration for heroic athletics by the young men of the world, no matter from what land they come, or are the competitions going to stir up the least commendable qualities of patriotism by wrangling over conditions, by charges of unsportsmanship and favoritism, and by excessive jubilation on the part of the nation which captures most of the trophies, and sulky criticism of the agencies whereby the victory was attained on the part of the losers?

As a believer in the Olympic Games, recognising them as a means whereby the sterling athletes of the world may show their prowess and give genuine appreciation of each other's talents, I am hoping the meeting in France will do much to promote the fraternity of sportsmen.

But I am not negligent of the fact that there are people who look askance at them, because they feel that they excite instead of soften international jealousies.

I rest confident that those who have the management of the Games, representative sportsmen of all the competing countries, will be adamant in enforcing strict rules and in checking the mischief-makers and their friends who cannot lose without aspersions upon those who are successful.

The best sportsman is he who can lose and smile and shake the hand of the victor.

OLD TIMER'S COMMENT

LUMBER THE COMMERCIAL LIFE OF THE PROVINCE

"We Are All More or Less Dependent on It"

"I remember way back in the 'Seventies' what a serious situation was created, amounting almost to panic, when the news went round that the sawmill was going to close down. We were all more or less dependent on it." Thus an old-timer recently speaking of the early days of the historic Hastings Mill, around which grew up the present city of Vancouver.

The most effective way to realize what the lumber industry means to British Columbia is to visualize for a moment what would really happen if the 3,600 concerns exclusively engaged in handling forest products were compelled by any industrial upheaval to close down.

Here are a few things that would happen:

An investment of $200,000,000 would be imperilled.

An annual purchasing power of $100,000,000 would be destroyed.

Forty thousand workers would be without jobs.

The Province would lose a third of its revenue.

The railroads would lose a half of their freight traffic.

Half the number of big ships would come to our harbors.

The situation is in fact much the same as it was in the "Seventies," the forest industries are the life of the Province. "We are all more or less dependent on them." And every reader of this article is interested.

This series of articles communicated by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

CITY DECIDES TO ADVERTISE IN MUNICIPAL CANADA

The question of whether or not the city should spend the sum of $50 for a page of advertising in "Municipal Canada," a publication dealing entirely with municipal matters and published in Montreal, came up for discussion at the council meeting last night.

The mayor explained that some 20,000 copies of the magazine were to be printed as a special number for distribution throughout Great Britain and other countries of the world and that the magazine pertained exclusively to municipal matters. Some 5,000 copies were to be placed at the disposal of the British authorities for distribution to financial and other concerns interested in the Dominion.

The city had originally been offered three pages for the sum of $150 but the finance committee had thought that a little too much and it had recommended that one page at the proportionate rate of $50 would be sufficient. It was decided to take the one page of advertising at $50.

MOVING PICTURE MAN ON CRUISE OF COAST

Hal Roach was in Vancouver last week on his Yacht Gypsy

"If we had British Columbia's bays and scenery in California there would be a million motor boats and the southern land would be heaven," said Hal Roach, noted motion picture producer of California, who was in Vancouver last week on his private cruiser Gypsy.

The producer has with him, his wife, Dwight Whiting, a director of the Union Oil Company of California, and Mrs. Whiting, and Joe Amestoy, one of the five brothers who own thousands of acres of land adjacent to Los Angeles on which oil is being produced.

As the Gypsy ran alongside the Union Oil dock her stern bearing froze and the craft was pulled out on the Vancouver Shipyard's ways for adjustment. Mr. Roach and his party then left for Alaska and en route are viewing all the scenery of the coast of British Columbia with a view to reproducing some of the characteristic points.

"I could spend a year in British Columbia and in fact expect to come back next year with camera men and company and get the proper settings for something I have in the back of my head," said Mr. Roach.

TOUR PARTY IS DELIGHTED

C.N.R. Special Excursion Train Arrived Last Night With 205 Happy Passengers

With one of the fair excursionists riding in the cab as the special train pulled into the station, the third annual Canadian National Railways personally conducted tour party arrived from the East a few minutes before 8 o'clock last night. The party consisted of 198 women, many of them Eastern school teachers both from Canada and the United States, and seven men. They proceeded by steamer to Vancouver where they will disembark, some of them intending to continue south and others returning to their homes in the East.

Immediately on arrival here, the first business of the big crowd of tourists was to besiege the purser's office on the Prince Rupert to arrange for their berths and table sittings for the voyage down the coast. These matters settled up, they proceeded to scotch about the city and see all they could in the time at their disposal. The curio shops came in for a good measure of patronage.

On the way west to Prince Rupert, one of the most interesting experiences the party had was the visit to the Gosse-Milled cannery at Sunnyside where Manager J. Field Strang took great pains to see that they saw the full processes of salmon canning. For many of the excursionists, it was the first visit to such a plant. Each of the visitors was presented with a can of salmon. Mrs. Strang assisted in extending a welcome.

Impressed With Trip

The tourists were all greatly impressed with the scenery of the mountains and the rugged beauty of the trip down the Skeena River. The manner in which the trip had been managed and the courtesy of all the C.N.R. officials also came in for much favorable comment. E. G. Wickerson, travelling freight agent from Regina, is personally in charge of the party which was accompanied from Jasper Park by R. F. McNaughton, the local dis-

PREMIER REPLIES TO MAYOR'S TELEGRAM

Communication With Reference to Peace River Railway Sent to Minister of Railways

Mayor Newton is in receipt of the following letter from the Prime Minister in reply to a telegram sent by him (Mayor Newton) on June 27, protesting against the concerted campaign at Ottawa in favor of the Brule cut-off.

"S. M. Newton, Esq.,
Prince Rupert.
Dear Sir:
The Prime Minister has asked me to acknowledge receipt of your telegram of the 27th inst. making certain representations with respect to railway extensions into the Peace River country.

Mr. King desires me to thank you for the representations of your communications which, by his direction, has been transmitted to the Hon. Geo. P. Graham, minister of railways and canals, for his consideration.

(Signed) F. A. McGregor,
Private Secretary."

TOO HIGH

A Scotchman entered a hotel and inquired what the rates were. He was told that the charges were $5 a day for rooms on the first floor, $4 for rooms on the second, $3 on the third, and $2 on the top floor. The Scot, after a moment's reflection, started for the door, when the clerk asked him if he considered the charges too high. "No," replied Sandy, "it's the building that's not high enough."

NO PLANS FOR PRINCE'S VISIT

Manager of E.P. Ranch Assumes Proposed Trip Takes Place in October, Without Ceremony

CALGARY, July 7.—"So far as we know, no particular plans will be made for the visit of His Royal Highness," states Prof. W. L. Carlyle, manager of the E.P. Ranch. "It is probable that the Prince will make a quiet visit, just as he did last year.

"We did not know that he was coming, but we are delighted by the announcement."

Prof. Carlyle did not know when the Prince was coming, but assumed that the visit would probably take place in October.

Will Find Changes
Prof. Carlyle was at the ranch when the Canadian Press got in touch with him over the long distance telephone, and informed him of the announcement which the Prince made in London. He said that the Prince would find some changes. The gardens were being improved, in accordance with the original plans, and a cattle shed and a machinery shed were being constructed.

"But what will please the Prince," commented Prof. Carlyle, "will be luxuriant grass and hay and the abundant crops. I have never seen Southern Alberta look better than it does today. Around the Prince's ranch it is simply a paradise. The growth is wonderful."

JACK TONER ON MONEY QUEST

Going to See Millionaires in East Providing he can Raise the Fare to Leave City

Jack Toner, who is contemplating leaving shortly for New York and Boston, says he is going out purely on the matter of raising finances in the east providing he can get enough greenbacks locally in the meantime on his aeroplane crab and clam luncheon bar at Seal Cove to enable him to make the financial pilgrimage to distant cities. The money he proposes to raise in the east will be invested in transforming the aeroplane luncheon bar into a modern cod fish hand packing plant. An additional storey is to be built on the present formidable looking structure and machinery is to be installed. Also money will be invested in development work on several mineral claims belonging to Jack, sample ores from which he carries in both pockets.

"If anyone thinks that I am not coming back to Prince Rupert they are sadly mistaken," says Jack. Jack is already armed with photographs of his present luncheon bar, on which he has already done considerable work, and these will doubtless be useful in showing the eastern multi-millionaires what splendid possibilities the district of northern British Columbia offers for investment.

FAIRVIEW CEMETERY VISITED BY THIEF

Harry Smith, caretaker at Fairview Cemetery, reported to the city police this morning that his hut at the cemetery had been broken into between 5 o'clock last night and 8.45 this morning and a quantity of his working clothes stolen. The thief gained entrance to the hut by breaking a pane of glass and blood was spattered on a chair and the floor. It is surmised that in gaining an entrance the hut breaker cut his hand in climbing through the window. The police are investigating.

ALLEGED GIRL MURDERER IS ONLY NINETEEN

Mary Serafini of Montreal Was Raised in Influence of Christian Home

MONTREAL, July 8.—Mary Serafini, charged with murder of Henri Cleroux in the Hochelaga bank holdup, wife of Guiseppe Serafini, was found guilty of murder on June 23, is only nineteen years of age.

She gave her age as 26 when she appeared in the coroner's court. She looked it. Yet Mary's relatives, who live in Point St. Charles, respectable working people, swear that she will not be twenty till November and that she came to Canada less than five years ago, a sweet and simple little girl of fourteen.

In the sunny little sea coast town of Hastings, Sussex, Mary was born and reared in the wholesome influence of a Christian home. Her mother and father were strong adherents to the Salvation Army, devout and simple folk. Mary was their first child and always the favorite.

Church and Sunday School

She proved herself a fairly good student. On Sundays Mary went to church twice and to Sunday school.

Her father, Mr. Knight, was killed in France, and Mrs. Knight was persuaded by her sisters in Montreal to pay them a visit.

When the rest of the family returned to England, Mary remained. Here she met a friend, her aunt says, whose influence led to her downfall.

The dust of the big city soon began to soil the sweet simplicity of the little sea flower. Dance halls and bad companions soon showed their influence on Mary's life.

Sometimes she would remain away all night, and sometimes for days at a time. She spoke of Serafini frequently. His handsome debonair personality fascinated her. He was the only man she had ever loved. His record was known to one of her uncles, who tried to convince her what sort of a chap he was, but Mary only laughed. "I know he is not any little tin god," she said, "but I love him and I'm going to stick to him. He'll give that life up for me."

Married Last Year

At the end of last year Mary said she was married and had had a wonderful honeymoon in England and the continent.

Once or twice after that she came crying, saying that her husband had beaten her, but in spite of this she could not be persuaded to leave him. "I like a masterful man," she told her aunt, "who beats me when he's tight and loves me when he isn't tight—who would want a husband like that?"

TOURISTS USE MANY BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Advice to Canadian Dealers to Reduce Their Orders is Countermanded

Two months ago the Curtis Publishing Co., Philadelphia, were urging Canadian stationers to reduce their book and magazine orders during the summer months giving as their reason the fact that the prolonged summer days took people out of doors more and therefore they did not do the same amount of reading.

McRae Bros. are today in receipt of a circular from this publishing house advising them to take action to the contrary and to increase their orders for magazines and books in view of the large number of American tourists visiting Canada this summer, who will travel by automobile, train and boat and consequently will do a lot of reading. The Curtis people state in their circular that according to reliable official information two million American tourists will visit Canada during the summer.

Duncan McRae states that, upon receipt of the first circular to reduce the orders, he wrote the Curtis Publishing Co. pointing out the fact of the American tourists requiring reading material and suggesting that Canadian stationers should be increasing their orders instead of reducing them. As to whether or not this letter was the reason for the recent circular he does not like to say.

CROSSING OF YAKS AND BUFFALOES IN WAINWRIGHT PARK

New Breed of Livestock May Have Bearing on Future Meat Supply — Are Called "Yakalos"

WAINWRIGHT, Alta., July 8.—A new breed of livestock which may have a bearing on the future meat supply, has been developed in the national park here by crossing buffaloes with yaks. Superintendent A. G. Smith says the stock has heavy beef qualities, combined with a good rustling qualities.

The breed has been given the name "yakalos," which Mr. Smith believes will prove more practical than "cattalo," evolved several years ago by crossing buffaloes with domestic cattle. "Yakalos" breed true to type, are sturdy and able to forage for themselves, he said.

More than 1,500 buffalo calves were born this year in Wainwright park, which makes up for the excess sires killed last winter. The herd now numbers 6,000 full grown buffaloes, the largest in existence and one of the remnants of the millions of bison that once roamed western prairies, according to Mr. Smith.

LONGEVITY DUE TO SIMPLE DIET

With Ages Totalling 392 Years, Three Filipinos Pass Away

MANILA, July 8.—The town of Taytay, situated only a few miles from Manila in the province of Rizal, claims the record for longevity in the Philippine Islands. From October 1923 to the end of April 1924, six persons who had passed the century mark died there, according to the record kept by Father Dumandan.

One woman, Benita Gonzaga, according to the record was 140 years old when she died. Others who had lived far beyond the century mark were Thomasa Vivencio, 123 years and Maria Roxas, 129 years.

Father Dumandan says he believes that the simple diet of fish, vegetables and fruit which composed the chief foods of these people, adds greatly to their long lives.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 1,000 feet per acre east of that range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 30 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.
