DISCUSS COALITION PROSPECTS IN BRITAIN

MURDER MYSTERY AT HAZELTON IS STILL BEING PROBED BY THE POLICE

Liberal-Conservative Coalition Openly Canvassed in Great Britain Following Nomination on Saturday

LONDON, Oct. 20. — In the British elections 1,422 candidates were nominated on Saturday including 42 who were unopposed. They were made up of 532 Conservatives, 501 Labor, 342 Liberal, 12 Independents, 9 Co-operatives, 8 Communists, Nationalists and Christian Pacifists.

Owing to many withdrawals of Liberal candidates, there will be 247 straight fights between Labor and Conservatives. Owing chiefly to Labor party activity in nominating at the last minute, there will be 227 tripartite contests.

Women candidates number 41, of whom 22 are Labor, 12 Conservative, six Liberal, one Independent.

The possibility of a Liberal-Conservative coalition is now being frankly canvassed in the press.

PRINCE ALBERT IS LIBELLED. SHERIFF IN CHARGE OF SHIP

Commercial Cable Co. Claims Vessel Cut Cable Near Frisco and is Suing for $90,000

Libelled for $90,000 by the Commercial Cable Co. of New York, the steamer Prince Albert, formerly the property of the Canadian National Coast Steamship Co. and for the past year engaged in the liquor carrying business south from Vancouver and Victoria, is tied up at Victoria with the sheriff in charge and the crew paid off.

Claiming that the Prince Albert was responsible for the cutting of the Pacific cable outside of San Francisco last spring, the cable company has launched suit against the vessel. The company holds that the cable was broken in three separate places at the time in question by rum runners anchoring thereabout and using the cable as a catch for their anchors. Capt. John Nicholls of the Prince Albert denies that his ship caused the damage to the cable.

MURDER APPEAL IS DISMISSED

Five Out of Six of the Men Convicted Must Hang; Other Being Heard

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—Without calling counsel for the crown, the supreme court of Canada today dismissed the appeal of five of the six Bank of Montreal bandits under sentence of death. The proceedings were by way of an application for a writ of habeas corpus the only ground of argument being that Judge Watson, who tried the case, was without jurisdiction. This disposes of the case of Frank Morel, Gambino, Serafini and Valentino. The appeal of Leo Davis, which was a separate one, was taken up and is being heard today.

SCHOOL POPULATION OF KETCHIKAN ONLY HALF PRINCE RUPERT

The school population of Ketchikan it is announced is 467, which is about one hundred more than for last year. That is only about half of the school population of Prince Rupert. The big new Ketchikan school, which cost $150,000 is now open and a picture of it in the Ketchikan Chronicle shows it to be a very fine building worthy of a progressive city.

BULKLEY VALLEY FARMER MARRIED

John B. Langston of Smithers Weds Miss Bessie Forrest at Victoria

SMITHERS, Oct. 20.—Another well known farmer of the Bulkley Valley, who has decided that single bliss and batching were not intended for the life on a farm is John B. Langston, who arrived back home on Thursday morning accompanied by his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Langston were married in Victoria on October 7, and spent part of their honeymoon there and in Vancouver.

Mrs. Langston who was formerly Miss Bessie Forrest of Newport, N.S., is a sister of Mrs. C. L. Dimock with whom she had been visiting for the past year.

Mr. Langston is a real pioneer of the district, having come here from Chicago about seventeen years ago several of which were spent in prospecting, mining, and trapping before he located on his farm which is about two miles from Smithers. In addition to the regular farming, "Shy," as he is popularly known, is somewhat of a chicken rancher and has a large and profitable flock of fowl on his place.

On Thursday evening a number of town residents and neighbors gathered at the home of the newly weds to tender them a welcome and wish them every happiness.

Dennis Drake and John Tiboo, fishermen from Newfoundland, were lost in a fog off the Grand Banks, finally to be picked up by a Portuguese schooner. When they arrived home their families were holding memorial services for them.

SALVOR IS CRIPPLED AFTER HITTING TREE TO BE DOCKED HERE

Towed to Prince Rupert by "Salvage Boy" Commanded by Capt. P. F. McManus

Crippled after having hit a floating tree in Queen Charlotte Sound early one morning last week while coming up the coast from Vancouver, the John Gall freighter Salvor, formerly owned by the Pacific Salvage Co., arrived in port at 10.30 yesterday morning in tow of the Vancouver Salvage & Dredging Co.'s boat Salvage Boy, Capt. P. F. McManus. The vessel has a damaged rudder and propeller and will go into the local dry dock after she has unloaded a cargo of package goods for the Imperial Oil Co.

After the accident, the Salvor was picked up by the American motorship Oregon and was towed to Safety Cove from where the Salvage Boy brought her to Prince Rupert. The Salvor is commanded by Capt. Rush, a well known coast skipper.

Suspected Murder at Hazelton Difficult to Explain but Police Working on Case There now

Further particulars of the suspected murder among the Indians at Hazelton are contained in the last issue of the Omineca Herald published at New Hazelton. An Indian named Matthews is mysteriously missing and it is feared that he may have met with foul play. However, his body has not been found nor trace of who might have been responsible although Inspector T. W. S. Parsons, assisted by members of his own force and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, has been working on the case for several days.

REGISTRATIONS COMING SLOWLY

City Solicitor E. F. Jones Advises Household to Make Their Declarations Early

Though about 600 persons have this year paid their $5.00 poll tax which entitles them to vote at the civic election next January providing they are otherwise duly qualified and take out their declaration before October 31, up to this morning only 18 persons had so far registered to thus qualify themselves as householders. The time for the taking of such declarations expires at midnight on October 31 but City Solicitor Jones was urging this morning that declarations be made as early as possible so as to avoid congestion towards the end of the period. In past years there has always been an eleventh hour rush to get on the lists.

It is thought at the City Hall that the most of persons subject to the $5.00 poll tax had already paid up as a result of an effective canvass that was made during the summer by George Crate who was engaged by the council for the purpose.

CANADIANS IN O. C. POLITICS

Number of Candidates Connected With the Dominion on Conservative Side

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Canadians or those connected with the Dominion nominated Saturday include:

Sir Hamar Greenwood, East Walthamstow, where as a Conservative he will be opposed by both Liberal and Labor opponents.

Colonel W. Grant Morden, Conservative, who is again standing for Brentford and Chiswick also has two opponents.

G. S. Hall Caine, son of the novelist who is associated with the Canadian pulp trade, is again contesting East Dorset as a Conservative.

Captain E. Wallace, aide to the Duke of Devonshire when he was Governor General of Canada, is fighting as Conservative in Hornsey.

Percy Hurd, newspaper correspondent, Conservative, is contesting Devizes.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born at the Prince Rupert General Hospital on October 19 to Mr. and Mrs. G. Fasolo of Prince Rupert.

A daughter was born at the Prince Rupert General Hospital on October 19 to Mr. and Mrs. Nishikawa.

The Omineca Herald says:

"Matthews was last seen about a month ago, following a general jamboree held by a number of Indian men and women and half-breeds on the reserve at Hazelton. During the celebration considerable liquor was consumed, and the missing man left the cabin to get a further supply, and that was the last seen of him. The police, however, have since found remnants of clothing and other indications which lead to the belief that Matthews was done to death and his body disposed of. As Matthews left the party alone, and as no one saw him after, it is difficult to explain who the assailant was, indeed there was an assailant, and it will likely be some time before there will be any material evidence which will lead to the arrest of the guilty party.

The police know and have questioned all the members of the party, except one, who has since been picked up at Prince George. Those people can give little information upon which to work, although there is some hope for the officers. The clothing recovered was found near the roadway down by the Slough, so it is not believed that the missing man ever reached South Hazelton, the reported source of the liquor supply.

Inspector T. W. S. Parsons of the provincial police arrived from Prince Rupert on Wednesday morning and with Corpl. Bryce, of Telkwa, and Chief Service of Smithers, held a consultation with Constable Cline in Hazelton on Wednesday morning and plans were made for further investigation.

In the meantime several of the boys and girls in the party are in jail, awaiting charges of being drunk on the reserve and of supplying liquor to Indians. Their cases will be heard this week. Other cases are also expected to develop.

STORIES OF ARREST JANET SMITH KILLER DENIED BY POLICE

Allege Rumors Originate at Pink Teas and Other Parties; Dramatic Action Threatened

(Vancouver Sun)

Following persistent rumors that an arrest had been made in connection with the murder of Janet Smith, nursemaid, found shot to death in the home of F. L. Baker, Shaughnessy Heights, some months ago, Walter Owen, superintendent of Provincial Police, denies that there is any new development in the case.

"There are some terrible stories being passed around and when we trace them down we find that they originated at 'pink teas' and other gossiping parties. Something will have to be done and drastic action taken if these rumors, which drag the names of citizens through the mire, persist," Superintendent Owen said.

City Manager Plan Worth Considering.

If the people are to be asked to vote on the question of the adoption of a city manager plan for Prince Rupert it will be necessary to do a lot of educative work between now and election day in order that the people may be in a position to understand what is meant.

Already the method of civic government has been discussed by a few local clubs and societies but this might well be followed up by an educative campaign which would help people to realize the need of the change and the benefits of the system to be introduced.

The city manager plan has been successful elsewhere and there is no reason why it should not be a success here.

Alderman and Mayor Would Serve Free.

Under the scheme the duties of the mayor and aldermen would be so much lightened that it would be unnecessary to pay them as at present. Meetings fortnightly or monthly would be held instead of almost every night of the week as at present. All matters of detail would be handled by the manager while the mayor and council would deal only with questions of policy. The money saved from paying members of the council would be devoted to securing a good man for manager. In that way there would be very little increase in the overhead expenditure, as claimed by its opponents.

Present System Makes Politicians.

Under the present system people are always worrying members of the council for jobs or for favors of some kind. Some aldermen like the feeling of importance that comes from being able to dispense favors. Also it gives them a political advantage. The manager system is designed to take the management of the city out of politics altogether. If it will do that it will be worth a trial.

System Has Passed Experimental Stage.

The system of government under a city manager is not any longer experimental. It has passed that stage. It can be seen in successful operation in dozens of cities today, large and small, and in every case, it is said, the change has been justified. It is a reasonable system in that it prevents overlapping of duties and correlates all the activities of the city thus making for efficiency.

All Eyes Still On British Election.

The American presidential election is completely overshadowed by the interest taken in the election in Great Britain. In the republic there is no great principle at stake, neither is there anything outstanding or spectacular about it. In Britain, however, there is the first Labor government the country has ever had struggling for its life and in danger of being overwhelmed by the other two parties working in collusion. It is almost a life and death struggle, speaking politically. A lot of interesting sidelights enter in and the result is being watched by the whole civilized world.

The Man in the Moon

SAYS:-

NO one understands women except the travelling stock salesmen.

EVERY man knows that his wife is like Maggie, but he never dreams of breathing the fact to anyone.

BOBBED hair is valuable. It saves the wearer a lot of time and it does not catch in a man's coat buttons.

A ROLLING stone is about as smooth as anything I know.

GIRLS used to giggle, gabble, gobble then get. Now they smirk, smash, smile and set their net.

MANY a girl is saved on the principle that if you save the surface you save all.

THE old fashion of kissing a lady's hand would be looked on today as a fearful waste of time.

THE more hardboiled the egg, the easier the shell comes off.

IT is reported that what the Prince liked about American girls were the things they said and did and failed to wear.

THE other day I met a man who said he understood the war in China. I left him abruptly.

IF the short skirt returns it will be like the second run of a motion picture. It will have lost most of its interest.

WHAT I like about both the British and American elections is that they are a long way off.

THE more laws are passed the more lawless a nation becomes.

VERSE TOO LATE FOR THE COMPETITION

Two verses arrived too late to be entered in the competition. One is a little too personal for publication. The other follows:

Honk, Honk!

The gray geese swam on a glassy bay.

Towards the wooded shore-line making way;

A hunter skulks behind the trees, With ready gun across his knees.

Nearer approached the unwary flock;

Upon the pebbly beach they stalk. A hail of lead upon them pours, Across the bay the echo roars.

The screaming birds take fearful flight

And wildly scatter to left and right.

Their bleeding friends left on the shore

In fluttering pain, will honk no more.

ENGLAND'S GRANARY

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The United States is no longer the chief exporter of wheat to the United Kingdom. The largest supplies of this grain to the British Isles now come from the Dominion of Canada, with the United States second and Argentina a close third.

It is only in barley and oats that the United States has retained its hold on English imports; in the case of oats the importations have slightly increased.

Raymond Fisher, field agronomist for the provincial department of lands, who spent the summer in the Stuart River district north of Vancouver, is at present spending a month in the Cranbrook district before returning to Victoria where he will spend the winter at departmental headquarters.

SMITHERS

M. Gonzales, of Prince Rupert is a business visitor in Smithers arriving here on Friday morning.

Geo. McBean who has been at Hazelton for the past week looking after his affairs in that district returned to town on Thursday and is again a guest at the Bulkeley Hotel.

The Bonanza, Babine Mining Co.'s claims are to receive an inspection and for this purpose, L. E. Drummond, a mining engineer of Edmonton arrived in town on Wednesday and started on the trip for the mines the next day. Considerable work has been done on these claims under the supervision of James Cronin, and a most favorable report is expected.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid of St. James Anglican Church was held at the home of Mrs. Oekleshaw, on Wednesday afternoon. The ladies are very busy these days preparing for their annual Bazaar which they intend holding about the end of November.

John A. Aldrich, miner and prospector, who has been a patient in the Smithers hospital for the past month has now been discharged from that institution and is well on the road to recovery. Mr. Aldrich is taking the Insulin treatment and as he must be on a diet for a couple of months yet, has rented a house on Third Ave, where he proposes to do his own cooking, it being most important that he use only specially prepared food stuffs.

The many friends of Mrs. Geo. Kidd who has been taking Insulin treatment, will be pleased to know that she is continuing to gain in health and strength since leaving the hospital some weeks ago.

Mr. Welch, the Provincial assessor for the Omineca Assessment District, and Mrs. Welch, returned to Smithers on Thursday morning's train after a holiday of six weeks spent in eastern Canadian cities.

JAPANESE ARE GIVING MILITARY INSTRUCTION IN MIDDLE SCHOOLS

TOKIO, Oct. 20.—Military instruction in middle schools, higher schools and universities in Japan, along the lines of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in American colleges, will be instituted shortly, according to plans of the War Office.

Officers of the regular army on active service will be attached to each middle school and higher school in the country. Since the army is planning a re-organization that will decrease its units by four divisions, about 2,000 officers will be released from duty with the troops for this service.

Military drill is already part of the curriculum of Japanese schools, from grammar grades up, but theoretical instruction is not given, and in the higher grades the training is not compulsory. The new system would make the training compulsory for three hours a week.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HAD CHARGE OF SERVICE METHODIST CHURCH

Parents Welcomed by Pastor Who Told of Work Being Done

Intermediate scholars of the Methodist Church Sunday School took the entire service at that church last night and acquitted themselves in a manner that won the most favorable comment of a congregation which took up all the accommodation of the church. The centre seats had been reserved for the Sunday School children while adults took their places at the sides.

The musical program consisted of congregational hymns and choruses by the Sunday School with A. J. Lancaster at the pipe organ and an orchestra consisting of Clifford Cameron, William Murray, jr., and Eddie Walters accompanying. The singing was exceptionally good.

The scripture lesson was on the Beatitudes which were recited from memory by Clifford Cameron's class. There were also appropriate recitations by Geo. McLean, Bob Irvine, Neil McLean, Bronson Hunt and Billy McLean. Concluding features were a tableau picturization of "The Gleaners" and a chorus "We are the Reapers" by girls of Miss Harding's class, and a dramatization of "The Ten Virgins" by Mrs. John Manson's class.

Back up School
In the announcement period, Rev. G. G. Hacker extended a welcome to the parents and told of the work that was being done in the Sunday School. There were 173 boys and girls enrolled—80 in the primary department and 93 in the Intermediate—and 17 teachers. He urged that the parents back up the work of the Sunday School by showing an interest in the church.

As a means of observing the one-hundredth anniversary of the founding of Methodist missions and further stimulating the work, special services will be held every Sunday in the Methodist Church this month. Next Sunday evening the Women's Missionary Society will be in charge with Mrs. P. S. Bonney and Mrs. H. C. Fraser as soloists. The following Sunday there will be pictures of the missionary work in Japan. On Sunday, November 9, there will be special Thanksgiving Services.

The crown appeal against the dismissal by Magistrate McClymont of Clarence Doane on a charge of selling liquor to Indians will be heard by Judge Young in the County Court to-morrow.

While reasonable success has attended many of the hunting expeditions which have gone forth since the season for deer and birds opened, the weather so far has not been altogether favorable, it is said, but from now on the bags ought to be bigger. Deer, which were chased out of the lowlands soon after the season opened, are still high in the mountains and it will take a good snowfall to bring them down. While stormy weather is not considered a handicap to bird hunting, it has been at least too bad recently to be comfortable for the hunters and a spell of clear, frosty atmospheric conditions would be welcome all around. The best of the season is yet in store.

RAILWAY CARMEN MEET AT SMITHERS

Grand Lodge Deputy Robert Hewitt and Members of Branch Entertained by Mat Norton

SMITHERS, Oct. 20. — The Smithers branch of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, has had the pleasure of an official visit from the Grand Lodge Deputy, Robert Hewitt. A meeting was held at the home of Mat Norton on Wednesday evening to which the members turned out in full strength to greet the visitor.

The B.R.C. of A. usually meet in the Boy Scouts' Hall but the boys were using it that night, so Mat, the genial secretary had the pleasure of being the host to the gathering. Mr. Hewitt in a very interesting address explained to the members the plans made for the future activities of the Brotherhood and expressed himself as being well pleased with the local organization.

ATTACK ON SHANGHAI HAS BEEN AVERTED

Troops Surrender Arms and Receive $20 Each to Return to Their Homes

SHANGHAI, Oct. 20.—Arrangement has been made with the Chekiang troops to surrender their arms, each to receive $20 and free repatriation. The authorities believe the danger of attack on Shanghai has been averted.

New York's baseball fans are very fickle. Like those of other cities they felt that too many pennants were coming Gotham's way and all through this season it is said that 50 per cent of the city's fans were hoping the New York clubs would crack. Instead of rooting for the home team many of them applauded the efforts of the visiting team and, when Washington nosed the Yankees out in the American League, there was a general feeling of satisfaction. When the Giants, too, began to slip they suddenly realized, however, that this was more than they had bargained for. Thus there was a reversal of feeling and in the last stages of the National League and also in the world series the fans of New York were turning out again in great numbers rooting for McGraw's men to win their fourth pennant and bring the world's championship to the metropolis.

CHILDREN VICTIMS OF THEATRE ALARM

SOUTH SEA ISLAND STORY OF LOVE AND ADVENTURE GREAT

On the beach of a South Sea island sat a young and pretty white girl, crooning to a babe in her arms. The clothing she wore consisted chiefly of rags; and her living quarters were a squalid hut visible a short distance up the white, sandy beach. Now and then she would look up toward the horizon, where the blue sky met the green waves. Thousands of miles away in that direction she possessed a palatial home, with a wardrobe containing many luxurious garments, servants and everything that wealth could give her. As she thought of them and then looked down at her attire a smile of amusement lighted up her features; she could find only humor in the incongruous situation.

ELINOR GLYN DEFENDS HER "THREE WEEKS"

Elinor Glyn makes an interesting reply to those critics who have attacked her novel, "Three Weeks," she states: "I have often been condemned as an immoral writer. Now this is not American justice. I challenge anyone carefully to read every word of "Three Weeks" with an open mind, not with the determined idea to search for sensualities, and then see if he can find a single sentence taken with its context and meaning, which can degrade — a single place where the Lady's words were not to elevate Paul's brain, and his soul, and turn him, as they did into a thinking, responsible being of use to his country."

"Three Weeks" was adapted from Mrs. Glyn's famous novel by Carey Wilson, associate editor of the studios, working in connection with the authoress. It is shown at the Westholme tonight and tomorrow.

FRENCH LIFE SEEN AS INTERPRETED BY POLA NEGRI IN "MEN"

Wonderful Story Told in Picture at Week End at the Westholme

"Men" is the type of story made for Pola Negri. In this she is once again the woman who was known throughout Europe as that "Wild Cat." It is a story in which Pola is practically the only woman. From the days of her girlhood when she dominates the little wine shop, to the time when, as the famous dancer, she reigns contemptuously over a wealthy host of admirers, she is the Pola of old, the flame around which moths flutter, the Pola the fans remember in her earlier continental productions.

The story is an evenly balanced mixture of drama, humor, tragedy and sadness. It is French life from the plain and colorful lower classes to the artificial and brilliant aristocratic levels. Pola has a role which begins in happiness, continues along through tragic lines and closes with a strong happy ending. Hers is the part of a girl in France whose beauty, like that of Helen of Troy, attracts the attention of many men. It is a picture of the eternal pursuit of the female by the male.

POINTED AERIAL TOWARD RUPERT

Dr. MacMillan Tells How He Developed on Jack Barnsley for Communication

"Jack Barnsley, a Canadian amateur at Prince Rupert, B.C., handled over 46,000 words of our total 30,000 words of messages in addition to sending us press news when we failed to hear the powerful commercial stations," stated Dr. Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, in an interview given to the New York Times on his return recently to civilization after spending over a year exploring in the vicinity of Greenland. "The waves of our station and those of Barnsley's, seemed to have an ideal path through could talk to him almost any night. On September 8, 1923, we raised Barnsley, 2,140 miles away. He proved our main and often our only connection with the American continent."

Dr. A. MacMillan stated that static was bad in the north especially when big storms were on. The aurora borealis apparently had no effect on radio transmission or reception. After the Bowdoin passed Newfoundland, there was no further communications with Eastern stations. All the radio waves reaching the excursion thenceforward generally came from the northeast and southwest.

Ground Connection

The 1700 pound steel plate of the Bowdoin was used as the ground connection for the radio apparatus. A few wires were also frozen in the ice to act as counterpoise ground for an antenna stretched between the ship's mast and the shore.

The aerial was pointed directly towards Jack Barnsley's station at Prince Rupert because preliminary tests indicated it was the best route of communication. It was noticed that waves under 200 meters in length travelled much better than the longer wave lengths. The Bowdoin carried a 100-watt transmitter with two 50 watt tubes. The short wave tuner ranged from 150 to 800 meters and the long wave set could tune in from 10,000 to 20,000 meters.

"We had a wonderful foreign news service especially from the big station at Nauen, Germany, and Leafields, England," stated Dr. MacMillan. Besides transmitting the 30,000 words, Operator Mix copied over 100,000 words of press matter. A great deal of it was handled while the Bowdoin was locked in the ice north of Greenland.
