NO DRY SQUAD ON STEAMER

Committee of Elks Declares That There Was No Need Of Them.

The following letter was received this morning from the Elks Committee in charge of the excursion to Ketchikan: Editor Daily News: There appeared in your paper of Saturday 26th, instant, a news item which was displayed very prominently on the front sheet, bearing the following heading: "Dry Squad on Prince John." "Fourteen men of U. S. Special Police service went aboard vessel." The article further states that considerable amusement was occasioned owing to the fact that the Dry Squad officers were on board and that some of the Alaskans who expected to taste of B. C. government dispensary product would have to remain dry. This information is entirely wrong as the S.S. Prince John did not have any "Dry Squad" officers aboard her on the trip to Ketchikan. All Arrangements Made. As stated in your paper previous to the excursion to Ketchikan, we desired all laws of the United States to be complied with and the prohibition law was especially mentioned. With this in mind there was a committee in advance to interview the "Customs and Immigration" department and secure the necessary requirements for so complying. Upon the request of this committee these departments were kind enough to furnish a man to make the trip with the boat. The same was for the sole purpose of eliminating the unavoidable delay of inspecting passengers after arriving at Ketchikan. This arrangement was very satisfactory, and when we arrived the Captain placed the gang plank on the wharf and asked for an inspection by the immigration officers. Their reply was "All is satisfactory, let your passengers come ashore." We received the most courteous treatment from the U. S. officials at Ketchikan and from Mr. M. L. Stepp, the local U. S. customs officer, who made the trip and handled the return checking of passengers. Was Success. All you have to do Mr. Editor is ask any person that went on the excursion from here and the people of Ketchikan if the trip was not a decided success and a credit to the "Brother Bills" of both Prince Rupert and Ketchikan for the orderly way in which it was handled. We were personally congratulated by the Customs, Immigration Departments, and City Marshal. The latter stated that it was one of the finest crowds of excursionists that he had ever met with. Now, Mr. Editor, you were prevailed on to make this trip as our guest, and when you could not see your way to go, we requested you send some one of (Continued on page 6)

Electric Sub-Station to be Erected at Cow Bay by City at Estimated Cost of $4,500

A concrete sub-station 18 by 25 feet in dimensions and two storeys in height to cost about $4,500 is to be erected by the city at Cow Bay to replace the present old steam plant as a distributing centre for light and power from the Shawatlans Lake generating plant. The project was explained to the council last night by Ernest Love, superintendent of utilities, and after some discussion the necessity for the new plant was admitted and it was decided, on motion of Ald. Macdonald, seconded by Ald. Clapp, that tenders be called for the erection and installation of the station on plans submitted by the superintendent of utilities and the city engineer. The erection of the plant it is estimated will take two months and the installation of the machinery there in one month, making at least three months before it can be put in operation. Unanimous Recommendation. In bringing up the subject, Ald. Macdonald explained that plans prepared by the superintendent and engineer were now ready for submission. The project had the unanimous recommendation of the utilities committee, although no written report was submitted. As it was important that the project should be embarked upon with the least possible delay, the superintendent was present to lay all the details before the council. The present plant was dilapidated and had been condemned and was not giving efficient service. The building now proposed, a fire-proof structure, would do away with insurance and, with its operation, the services of two men could be dispensed with. Thus $4,000 in wages would be saved in a year. The new plant would take care of emergencies that might arise and the committee was of the opinion that the time had arrived when it should be installed. Superintendent Love stated that the present building was in an unsafe and dangerous condition and had outlived its usefulness. To attempt repairing it would cost as much as to build the new plant. As matters stood now, the Cow Bay plant was ineffective, and everything was being borne by the Shawatlans plant. Asked For Delay. Ald. McMordie was desirous of having more information before adopting the suggestion. He was loath to believe that the city had been paying men to look after useless equipment at the Cow Bay plant. The matter should (continued on page five)

FISH RUNNING EVERYWHERE

Sockeye Pack This Year Well Ahead of Last on Skeena and Naas

The fishing is going well on the Skeena and Naas Rivers. The weather during the week has been generally favorable and the result is that the canneries are making large packs and the fishermen are earning good money. The Skeena sockeye pack to the end of last week was 75,300 cases as against 47,000 for the same period last year. On the Naas the catch was 19,000 of the same fish as against 7,300 to the same date last year. Pinks on the Skeena have been light, the run being much later this year. On the whole, however, fishing is good and the catch promises to be well up to expectations. Following are the packs up to July 26:

Skeena River	1924	1923
Sockeye	75,300	47,000
Springs	11,000	9,200
Cohoos	1,700	3,100
Pinks	6,100	23,300
Chums	200	340
Naas River
Sockeye	19,000	7,300
Springs	880	850
Pinks	10,000	10,000
Chums	12,600	5,000

ENGLAND PASSING INTO EASTERN SEA

Inroads Being Made on Coast by Storms Which Washes Away Land

LONDON, July 29.—England is disappearing, or at least a part of it is. Erosion caused by storms is gradually eating away stretches of the east coast and especially so in the neighborhood of Lowestoft. The government has been appealed to but so far no aid has been given.

The Daily Herald, the organ of the present Labor government, comes out strongly in demand that action be taken and suggests that obsolete ships should be sunk on the coast to form a breakwater.

Do We Try To Help Ourselves?

The question has been asked often whether we devote enough effort to helping ourselves as a community, and the evident reply is that we do not. We have never yet made any attempt, for instance, to build a trail to the top of the mountain so that visitors may make the ascent, and yet one of the most common questions on arrival is, "Where shall we go?"

A proposal came up once before the Board of Trade and then the happy idea of referring it to the government was evolved and the matter of course was allowed to stand at that, nothing being done.

The Provincial Government is spending ten thousand dollars just now in slashing the right of way for the new road to Galloway Rapids, so little can be expected from them at present for other roads. They have already spent some money on the walk to the Salt Lake. With any of these problems the only way to do is to get out and do the work ourselves.

Constant Complaints Of Shooting On Island.

Kaien Island, as everybody knows, is a game reserve. It is protected by the Government, partly because of the danger of people shooting near the city and partly because of the need of a place where the deer may have a refuge. Everywhere else they are subject to molestation.

Unhappily Kaien Island is not protected. People seem to hunt there just as commonly as in other parts of the country around and the result is that deer are seldom seen near the city. They are chased by dogs and peppered with bullets by men and even harassed by boys with their .22 rifles. The result is fatal to any idea of a game reserve.

Furs Pay Tax But Little Comes Back.

The Government collects a tax on raw furs taken in this part of the country and this amounts to a large sum annually. There are a number of fur dealers in the city, all of whom do their share toward this contribution and there are dozens of men who make their living in the winter from trapping. All these are taxed but little is spent toward game conservation. If Kaien Island were made a genuine game reserve and the idea sent abroad that it really was to be protected it would be worth a great deal to Prince Rupert. Now a few deer are shot and used for meat but if the deer were well protected they would become tame just as they do in other park reserves and they would be a great attraction to tourists.

Periodical Flurries In Massett Gold.

Everyone acknowledges that there is plenty of gold in the sands at Massett and that if it can be recovered it will make a good many fortunes for those engaged in the work. The difficulty is to recover it profitably.

Rumors and unofficial statements have been coming across Hecate Straits lately in regard to the work now going on and mention of it has been made now and then in this paper. This was followed yesterday by a telegram telling of the excitement prevailing among the settlers and others on Graham Island following the bringing in of the first shipment of gold from the east coast. Nearly all the foreshore is being staked and it seems likely that a thorough test will be made with the method of recovery now adopted.

There have been a number of somewhat similar excitements in the past, in all of which those taking part lost a good deal of money. It is to be hoped that the present flurry means something and that the treatment of the gold sands by the company operating there now will bring wealth to those undertaking it and prosperity to the surrounding country.

WEIRD STORY OF APE-LIKE MAN

Mike King of Victoria Told of Seeing Wild Creature in Woods

VICTORIA, July 29. — (Canadian Press) — The reported discovery of huge man-like apes in the mountains of Washington state, which are said by Indians to be members of a strange, hitherto unknown tribe of natives called the Neahhiks, brings to mind the fact that Michael King, British Columbia timber cruiser, amazed the people of this province twenty years ago by returning from the woods of Vancouver Island with an astonishing tale of an uncouth creature, met in the woods, that was not man although it wore man's shape.

Mr. King's story was scoffed at by the public, who variously christened his wilderness stranger as the Mowgli or Wolf Man, the latter appellation being applied for no apparent reason and in defiance of the fact that Mr. King described it as distinctly ape-like, not wolf-like.

From Vancouver Island Yet now across the border strange creatures bearing a stranger resemblance to Mr. King's discovery, have been seen, so it is said and Jorgi Totogi, noted Indian scholar, says it is well known among his people that these weird beings are believed to hail from the wilds of Vancouver Island.

It seems to have been in the winter of 1904-'05 that Mr. King met with the experience. Later the creature was reported to have been sighted by other workers in the wilds, and on Jan. 4, 1906, The Colonist quoted the original discoverer thus:

"The theory seems to me to be the only way to account for the origin of the strange being I saw a little more than a year ago," said Mr. King, referring to a report that the creature of the woods was the descendant of a gorilla cast ashore on Vancouver

Island by shipwreck. Was Close To It

"For even if a man lived in a wild state from birth he could not have assumed the ape-like attributes possessed by this creature which I saw. I came up by accident and was only about 25 feet away when it caught sight of me. The Mowgli, or whatever you like to call it, was squatted down like a monkey beside a little stream. It was washing a kind of wild onion that we prospectors sometimes eat when we run short of provisions. I thought it was a bear, but when it heard me and straightened up I brought my rifle to my shoulder, for it was the strangest sight I ever expect to set eyes on.

"Imagine being in the depths of a lonely forest and meeting an animal in the shape of a man, standing over six feet high and covered all over with long coarse black hair which, on some portions of the body was a foot long. The forehead was low and retreating, and its small eyes glared at me in surprise for an instant. Just below the eyes the hair on the face of the creature was short, but everywhere else it was long and shiny, and on the hand the hair hung down below the finger ends. The being stood quite straight for a moment in surprise and seemed to me to weigh about 240 pounds.

Ran Like Deer "If it had taken one step towards me I would have put a bullet through it, for I had it covered with my rifle. But after glaring at me for a moment it uttered a cry—a half human kind of grunt—and grasping a branch nearby, hoisted itself up the bank of the creek and ran away through the underbrush, slightly bending as it did so, with the speed of a startled deer.

"I examined the creature's footprints afterward. Its feet were short and very broad. I noticed the heel came back almost to a point like that of a gorilla. The awful wild onions that it had been cleaning at the little stream was as nicely done up as if a human being had prepared them."

The theory mentioned by Mr. King was that the wild thing was of shipwreck origin. The explanation had been advanced that about 28 years before a gorilla, part of the cargo of a vessel wrecked on the coast, was the only survivor of the disaster. Its cage had been washed off the deck by the waves and been broken up in the surf. The ape managed to climb ashore.

Such of the crew of the vessel as reached the beach were said to have been slaughtered by the Indians. Subsequently, so the tale ran, a warship was sent up from Victoria to avenge the massacre.

This apparently refers to the wreck of the British barque John Bright, lost in 1869 at Hesquiat, when the survivors were butchered by natives. Whether she carried a gorilla or not is not generally known. She was bound from Callao to Puget Sound with a cargo of lumber.

Asked No Delay. In view of the present state of affairs, Ald. Perry felt there should be no further delay in getting the project under way.

Ald. Macdonald pointed out that, with the Shawallans Lake at present carrying all the load, there was always the danger of burning out there and the city would then be in a bad position. He was not desirous, however, of rushing anything through.

Mayor Newton felt that the council would eventually realize the necessity for the new plant. He was ready to vote now that it

CARETAKER FOR PARK APPOINTED

F. Riffou Given Position at Salary of $75 Per Month—Duties to be set out

F. Riffou has been appointed caretaker of the McClymont Park playground at a salary of $75 per month. A report from the board of works to this effect was adopted by the city council last night after some discussion. Mr. Riffou's duties start as from July 24 and the appointment is a temporary one.

Ald. Collart was desirous that there should be some definite understanding as to the caretaker's duties. He felt that spare time might be employed in beautifying the grounds. Some instruction along this line should be drafted.

Ald. Perry stated that such arrangements had already been made. A great deal could not be expected, however, for $75 a month.

Ald. Macdonald felt that the caretaker's time would be pretty well taken up without asking him to beautify the grounds. He would be earning his money if he assisted the children in learning to swim.

Ald. Collart asked if the position was not to be for the year around and was told by Mayor Newton and Ald. Casey that such was not the intention. The equipment, Ald. Casey said, would be taken down during the winter months.

The report appointing Mr. Riffou was adopted with the understanding that the board of works bring in a report definitely setting out his duties.

ELECTRIC SUB-STATION TO BE ERECTED AT COW BAY BY CITY AT ESTIMATED COST OF $4,500.

he laid over for a week, he felt. The present council had been in office for six months. There had been plenty of time to bring the matter up before, so he did not see where another week's delay would do any serious harm.

Ald. Collart thought that the matter should first be threshed out in the utilities committee. Ald. Casey was also of the opinion that there should be a definite report from the utilities committee. Ald. Macdonald was willing that the matter should be laid over for a week so that the utilities committee might submit a report and the other aldermen might obtain more information.

Superintendent Explains.

Superintendent Love was then called upon to submit his plans and give further explanations. The project was not a new one as far as he was concerned. He had reported last year on the situation at Shawallans Lake and had indicated at that time that he would recommend the erection of a new sub-station this year. It had been intended to install such a station in the old steam plant but further examination of that structure had brought out that it was in no condition to house a sub-station. Some of the equipment, which had been provided for in the estimates, had already arrived. Replying to Ald. McMorde, Mr. Love stated that the street lights were operated from the present old plant. This, together with the fire hazard existing, explained why it had been necessary to keep two men there. Whereas, the street lights were now hand operated, they would be automatic in the new plant. Already fires had broken out, on account of defective switches and dangerous wiring and the whole plant might have been wiped out if there had been no men retained there. The engineering department had been asked to get out the plans in April, but, owing to pressure of work, it had been impossible to get them out until now.

The "Ad" that Saved a City

Rome was being attacked. The massive walls were breached. The enemies pressed hard on every side. To the north, the invaders crept stealthily through the night to storm the gates. In the dark, they stumbled on a flock of geese. The fowls cackled loud and long--the sentries heard--and Rome was saved.

Advertising is continually saving something for someone. It will save for you, too, if you use it properly.

It will save you money by pointing out real bargains, by telling you of true values, by giving you prices to compare and by telling you how much you should pay.

It will save you time and effort by telling you exactly where and when to go for what you want to buy. You don't have to "shop around."

It will save you disappointment by telling you just what you can expect from your purchases. Every time a merchant or manufacturer advertises, he obliges himself to sell you goods that fulfil his claims. He knows it doesn't pay to advertise unworthy wares.

Read the advertisements as a plain, every-day business proposition. It is a duty you owe yourself and your purse.

BOY WHO FIRED HOUSE IS FOUND

Will be Charged in City Police Court tomorrow With Breaking and Entering

The boy who fired the residence of J. W. Moorehouse, Eighth Ave. East, on Sunday last was apprehended by Police Sergeant Bailey yesterday.

According to the police, the boy admits having got in the basement window of the Moorehouse home. He found the gasoline torch and lit it. Being unable to put it out he placed it under a lamp and this only spread the flames. Carrying it into a bedroom, the curtains caught fire. The flames were then stamped out and the torch thrown outside.

LASH IS URGED FOR VIOLENCE IN ROBBERY

Magistrates Urged To Let Convicted Men Have All That is Coming To Them.

The Victoria Times says:—While bandits were robbing the Robson Street branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce yesterday morning the Mayor of Vancouver was advocating the lash for certain types of criminals in an interview he was giving to the press.

Public opinion in the Terminal City will not be slow to support the view of its Chief Magistrate. Since the middle of June there have been nearly a dozen hold-ups in Vancouver and prison sentences seem to have very little effect in discouraging this sort of crime.

Yesterday's attack on the bank manager was a particularly brutal affair. By a stroke of luck the blow which one of the bandits dealt to his head was not a fatal one. But it was not the fault of the aggressor. His idea was to bring Mr. Bonnallie into an immediate state of subjection in order that the robbery could be carried out. But there was no time to study a particular spot on the manager's most vulnerable point which could be pummeled and produce only a state of temporary stupor.

It is high time that violent attacks on the person should be rewarded with as many strokes of the lash as the body of the culprit can stand. He is a murderer by intent and the punishment should fit the crime. The element of surprise which he is able to introduce into his nefarious work, the speed with which he can make himself scarce, make capture extremely difficult; but if those who are brought to book were to be treated to a generous dose of physical pain, hold-ups would lose a good deal of their appeal for the criminally inclined.

Magistrates and judges will not fall foul of public sentiment if they let these brutes have all that is coming to them.

CHARGE IS MADE FOR HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

Saanich Sends About 150 Students to Victoria and Pays $85 a Year Each

VICTORIA, July 29.—Charges of $85 each for pupils from Saanich attending the Victoria High School and $100 for pupils from Esquimalt other than those taking the technical course, for whom an extra charge of $10 is made, were decided upon at a special meeting of the City School Board.

Reference was made to reports that Saanich would build a High School in the municipality, and Trustee Litchfield suggested that no scale should be set, which would force this action. Trustee Brown, however, remarked that talk of Saanich contemplating building was heard about this time each year.

In the editorial columns of his newspaper Mr. Vanderbilt has on several occasions referred to the growing importance of Vancouver Island as a source of pulpwood, and has predicted that Port Alberni would soon be the centre of a pulp and paper industry.

EXPLANATION

In connection with this letter it may be explained that the news item published Saturday was believed to have been correct, as the information was received from a source which had always been correct in the past. It was understood that the men had been here investigating conditions in connection with alleged illicit shipments of liquor to Alaska, and that they had taken the opportunity of crossing to Ketchikan on the Prince John, instead of waiting for the Princess Louise.

They naturally would not tell anyone, not even the U. S. officials, that they were dry squad men as that would defeat their purpose. The committee declares there were no such men aboard, and that settles the matter. They may possibly have gone on the Louise as originally planned.—Editor.
