H. G. PERRY IS ELECTED FOR FORT GEORGE

FISHERMEN LOST AND HAVE NARROW ESCAPE RESULT OF BAD WEATHER

Perry is Elected as Fort George Member

Gets Good Majority over Burden in Final Count of Absentee Vote and Strengthens Government

VANCOUVER, July 14.—H. G. Perry, Liberal, who has represented Prince George since the Liberals have been in power in the last two Legislatures, has been elected by the absentee ballots, which were counted on Saturday.

The election of Mr. Perry was not unexpected as he was but three votes behind the Conservative candidate and he is well known as a champion of the needs of the Prince George district. The final figures were:

Perry 1,079
Burden 1,028
Shearer 206

The election of Mr. Perry is welcomed here, not only because of the particular fitness of the candidate to represent the constituency but also because it strengthens the Oliver Government and makes it certain that they will remain in power during another term.

ABSENTEE VOTE BEING COUNTED

Number of Ballots May be Spoiled Through Irregularities in Vancouver

RECOUNT IN BEER VOTE

Hoped That Mrs. Ralph Smith May be Elected and Other Changes Possible

VANCOUVER, July 14.—Opening of the absentee ballots in Vancouver began on Saturday but apparently actual counting may be delayed until the end of the week as the task of checking up the 3,200 votes to insure that those who cast them were entitled to vote, will be long and tedious.

The Moderation League has demanded a final count of the beer ballots and has announced that final counts will also be demanded in eight other ridings where decisions are close.

The Prohibition party has filed a protest against the returning officer counting the absentee ballots, alleging that the plebiscite Act gives him no jurisdiction to do so.

Conservatives have intimated their intention to ask for a final count on the election ballots in Vancouver, Richmond-Point Grey and possibly other ridings.

The probability that the absentee vote will make considerable change in Vancouver has materially diminished when it was noted that the absentee vote was comparatively light and it was found that irregularities may spoil two or three hundred ballots. Supporters of Mrs. Ralph Smith are hopeful that she will yet be returned.

The absentee vote may make changes in other ridings, notably Alberni, Richmond-Point Grey, North Vancouver, and the Islands. The vote in Fort George has already been completed giving Perry a majority of 51 over Burden, Conservative.

MAKING HOT DOG OF SALMON

Giant Springs from Skeena River Sent to New York to Feed Hungry

Spring salmon valued at something like $150,000 are likely to be sent to New York during the present season milled and cured to be used in making hot dog for the hungry transients in place of the old fashioned variety. So popular has this class of food become in some quarters of the American metropolis that it has practically ousted the old fashioned barker.

Several of the Skeena River canneries are putting up the spring salmon in big tins instead of canning it and it is being shipped right through to New York and the demand for it is increasing.

Adrift Five Days in Fishing Boat Two Haysport Men Fast Three Days Before Picked up

Swept out to sea in an open gill-net boat and adrift for five days with little to eat and drink was the stirring experience of Messrs. Redman and Brown, two fishermen engaged in fishing for the Haysport Cannery. They were picked up and brought in on Saturday to Inverness by one of the Inverness Cannery tenders which sighted them 40 miles beyond Port Simpson and 80 miles from their own station.

The two men went out to fish on Sunday evening, July 6, at 6 o'clock and were missing until picked up Saturday. From reports to hand it appears that the boat was driven out to sea by a gale which sprang up on the evening of July 6. Unable to do anything to help themselves they drifted away until it was impossible for them to pick up their bearings. The small stock of provisions and water on board was soon exhausted and they had nothing to eat from Wednesday, July 9, until picked up. When found both men were in good shape physically but naturally very hungry. After a good meal and a good rest they appeared to be none the worse for their exciting adventure.

Storms of Last Week Played Havoc with Fishing Boats off the Mouth of Skeena River

After being posted as missing for several days John Langdon, a fisherman operating for Sunnyside Cannery, was on Saturday morning picked up off South Dundas Island heading for Hecate Straits in the fog. He had been out fishing near Rachael Island on Tuesday and when the storm struck him had cut adrift leaving his net in the water. When his non-return was reported, search was made for him under the direction of Manager Field Strang of Sunnyside Cannery and he was eventually posted as missing, it being thought that he had fallen a victim to the storms which raged for several days.

Play Politics But Stick By The City.

It is all right to play politics. No one objects to that as long as it does not injure Prince Rupert. When the interests of the city are at stake, however, all other matters should be allowed to sink into insignificance.

Let us be patriotic. No one wants to live in a city that is not making progress. We must, if we are good citizens, take a pride in the progress of the place in which we live. If we have this civic patriotism we shall refrain from doing anything which will hurt the city, even if in doing so we fail to advance the cause of our political party or our own particular individual political ends.

All are liable to make mistakes. To err is human. Yet when we look for a man to act as the representative of the city or province or country we look for one who will make a minimum number of mistakes. A leader should be one who leads and who is able to do it wisely.

Bad Condition Of Several Streets.

There are one or two streets in the city that should have attention as soon as possible. Attention has been drawn to the bad condition of the road leading to the cemetery and also to the lower end of Third Avenue. In one case there must be improvement if we are to continue to use the cemetery; in the other, the loss to owners of vehicles is very great owing to the rough condition of the road surface. The road to Cow Bay is used a great deal both by light vehicles and also by trucks. It is in marked contrast to the section of road made for the city by the Provincial Government which crosses Cow Bay. Complaints have also been made of the bad condition of the road in the railway yards, the keeping up of which seems to be the work of the railway company.

Election Of Perry Strengthens Government.

The election of H. G. Perry as member of the Legislature for Fort George riding strengthens the government and weakens the opposition. It makes the position of Premier Oliver more secure and seems to indicate that for several years to come there is likely to be a Liberal Government in power at Victoria.

The condition under which Mr. Perry was elected makes the result interesting. Just as he was in the thick of the campaign he was stricken down with appendicitis and had to spend the days which would ordinarily have been the most active of the political fight, lying on his back in the hospital at Edmonton. Prince Rupert's member went to the rescue and others lent their aid with the result that the former member has been re-elected by a substantial majority.

The result seems a little hard on Mr. Burden, who, on the first count was leading by three votes, but that is the fortune of political life. Someone has to win and someone has to lose. He speaks well for the Conservative that he polled as high a vote as he did against as able and popular a man as H. G. Perry.

Where Is The Horse Gone From The Streets?

The horse has practically disappeared from the streets and his place has been taken by motor vehicles. While many will regret to note the change, the consensus of opinion will be that it is better for the horse and better for the city that he should not be here. Now there are no charges of cruelty to animals brought against horse owners. The rattle of the old flapper is the only cruelty and it is to the general public.

With the passing of the horse the streets have become more sanitary than formerly. But where is the horse gone? All we know is that he is not here.

BIG SOCKEYE RUN EXPECTED

Predictions of Good Season on Skeena Have so Far Been Borne Out

AVERAGE 350 TO BOAT

Within the next week the big sockeye run on the Skeena River should be on, if the predictions of those who have studied the conditions come true. Already the fish are more plentiful than they have been for three years past at this time. The only difficulty has been that the weather has been too rough for regular outside fishing.

Catches for last week averaged about 350 to the boat, according to unofficial advices received from some of the canneries. High boat has gone about seven hundred for the week. This at the price paid, twenty-two and a half cents when the canneries supply the gear or thirty-four cents when the fishermen supply their own, has provided a fair profit for the fishermen.

Spring salmon have been coming fairly well. A good many canneries have been canning these fish while others have mild cured them. Cohoes have been coming in only small numbers so far.

Last year the canneries did not want cohoes but this year it is announced they will take all that are offering.

MILLIONS SPENT ON MARKETS

MAINTENANCE OF SALES FORCES A HEAVY CHARGE ON FOREST PRODUCTS INDUSTRIES

Every British Columbian's Duty to Render Assistance to the Lumber Industry

Every man and woman in British Columbia should endeavor to realize what the lumber industries mean to the community they live in and should constitute themselves active boosters of B.C. forest products.

This is one of the readiest ways in which they can help the industry that has put this province on the map and is busily engaged in keeping it there.

No merchandise, however unique, can sell itself in these days of substitutes and keen competition. The searching task of finding steady markets for their products is perhaps the most important the lumberman of this province is up against.

Market Expansion The maintenance of costly sales forces and far-reaching market extension organizations is a very heavy charge amounting to millions yearly on the lumber and allied industries of British Columbia.

New markets must be found and old ones preserved. Agents at home and abroad must be employed in keeping open the channels along which B.C. wood products are distributed to consumers in every part of the world.

In exchange for these millions of dollars spent in the marketing of our forest products the people of British Columbia receive what really amounts to their principal means of support.

Every British Columbian should therefore ask himself or herself how best they can help out the industry that means so much to them.

This series of articles communicated by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

It Isn't a Secret

We have a letter from a woman living in Chilliwack in which she says that for some months she watched each day to get any recipe we might be giving. "They all turned out so, well I thought you had discovered the secret of good cooking, and you have, though not in the way I expected," she says. She goes on to say it is not the recipe so much as the richness and delicate flavor of Pacific Milk. "It improves any recipe wonderfully," she says.

WEEK AT WESTHOLME
Monday and Tuesday "The Shepherd King," International News.
Wednesday and Thursday "Boy of Mine," Comedy, Fun from the Press.
Friday and Saturday Thomas Meighan in "Pied Piper Malone," Comedy Cartoon "Felix on the Trail," Fox News.

THE SHEPHERD KING—A WILLIAM FOX Special Production
At the Westholme Tonight and Tomorrow.

Booth Tarkington is the author of two of the plays that are being shown at the Westholme Theatre his week—"Boy of Mine," on Wednesday and Thursday and "Pied Piper Malone," on Friday and Saturday.

Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford are expected back in Los Angeles about August 1 from their European tour. Some members of their party are already back.

James Johnson, manager of the Pickford-Fairbanks Studios, is known on the "lot" as "Radio Jim" because of his enthusiasm for that form of entertainment. He recently went on a motor tour into the high Sierras, and W. W. Kerrigan, manager of the Mary Pickford Company, made his trip miserable with a post card campaign which read "Radio-ater B-O-I-L will now come on the air." Johnson received these postals in every town where he stopped.

"THE SHEPHERD KING" ANCIENT ROMANCE

Dramatic Story of David is Produced With Impressive Results

It is said that every great play and every tremendous novel had its origin in life somewhere down the ages. The truth of this is splendidly demonstrated in the William Fox production of "The Shepherd King," which comes to the Westholme Theatre Monday and Tuesday night.

The dramatic story of David, the shepherd boy, who finally became monarch, with its romance and pathos, has been reproduced on celluloid with impressive results. Realism was sought and was found only at the base of the pyramids, where the camera clicked in the sardonic face of the Sphinx. More than 5,000 extras, with 500 camels and as many donkeys, form the sorrowful army of the children of Israel, being led out of Egypt by Moses.

As Princess Michal, youngest daughter of Saul, who eventually becomes the queen of the Shepherd King, Violet Morsereau rises to the emotional peak of her career thus far.

Nerio Bernardi, as David, is supreme. Guido Trento, as Saul, King of Israel; Alessandro Salvini, as Doeg, the King's army chieftain, and Edy Darclea, as Princess Merab, elder daughter of Saul, have powerful parts which they portray with the maximum of effectiveness. Samuel Belesetra, as Goliath, the giant whom David slew with a stone from a slingshot, has the appearance and the talent necessary for the role.

Massive sets and impressive mob scenes add to the spectacular beauty of the picture at every turn. The interiors are remarkable enough, but the active desert scenes, filmed in the shadows of the ancient pyramids, are even more so. Spectacles of this nature are few and far between, but "The Shepherd King" has many of them.

WELL KNOWN BOY STAR IN PICTURE

Ben Alexander and Rockliffe Fellowes Were in "Penrod and Sam"

"Boy of Mine," is from the pen of Booth Tarkington, and centers about a child, and, while it is highly amusing to children, it is of even more appeal to adults. It is a human interest drama with a range of appeal that covers picture-goers of all ages. Tarkington has so cleverly built the story that children can focus eyes and thoughts on the actions of the juveniles and adults can look upon the child artists as merely incidental to the building of a great plot.

Ben Alexander, who played the role of "Penrod" in "Penrod and Sam," is seen as "Bill Latimer," a typical American small-town boy. Rockliffe Fellowes, who was Ben's stern father in "Penrod and Sam," is seen in the antithesis of that type. This time he is a lover of children and a man who understands them.

"Boy of Mine" is interpreted by an all-star cast which includes Henry B. Walthall, Irene Rich, Rockliffe Fellowes, Ben Alexander, Dot Farley and Lawrence Licalzi. The picture will be seen at the Westholme Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

THOMAS MEIGHAN HAS MANY FRIENDS

Acquaintance With Booth Tarkington Resulted in "Pied Piper Malone"

Probably no screen star numbers among his acquaintance so many people in the public eye as Thomas Meighan. It is a tribute to the likeable personality of the handsome Paramount player that flappers and philosophers, governors and ball players, authors and concert singers are proud to number him among their friends.

John McCormack, the singer, is a close friend of Meighan's. Tom would as soon wear orange on St. Patrick's Day as miss one of the New York McCormack concerts, when he is within commuting distance of it. At Pinehurst, N.C., recently during the governor's conference, attended by the chief executive of practically every State in the Union, Meighan, who was there for a rest, was sought out by the statesmen and treated them to a pre-release showing of his newest picture.

The friendship of Meighan and George Ade is well known. This started when Tom was playing the masculine lead in Ade's stage comedy, "The College Widow." Here Meighan met his future wife, Frances Ring. The Meighan-Ade acquaintance has resulted in such popular pictures as "Our Leading Citizen," "Back Home and Broke," and "Woman-Proof."

Another author-friend of Meighan is Booth Tarkington, considered by many to be America's foremost writer. For a long time the star has been trying to induce Tarkington to write an original story for him to play on the screen. At last the famous author consented, with most gratifying results. The story is "Pied Piper Malone," a comedy-drama, with scenes laid at Oldport, Maine, near Tarkington's summer home. The plot deals with an attractive sailor-man and a girl and a bunch of cute kiddies. Lois Wilson is the girl.

"Pied Piper Malone" will be shown at the Westholme Theatre next Friday and Saturday.

TERRACE LADIES IN AMATEUR THEATRICALS

Old Time Ladies' Aid Meeting is Well Illustrated in Comedy by Church Society

TERRACE, July 14. — Friday evening the Ladies' Guild of the Presbyterian Church presented an old time Ladies' Aid meeting at Mohawk crossroads which provided a continuous laugh from start to finish. Mrs. Sundal in her role of hostess presented just such a quaint figure as the imagination could paint, as she dusted an already dustless room and fussed amusingly over her carpet, as she waited for the members to arrive, talking all the while to her two guests from Boston, Mrs. Kindly and Mrs. DeLloyd FitzHammon.

The former part was played most graciously by Mrs. Munro while Mrs. Bert Kenney looked most handsome and aristocratic in the latter role which she sustained with an air of intellectual hauteur throughout.

The part of Mrs. Smith, president of the Ladies' Aid was well taken by Mrs. Parsons and she drew numerous laughs from the audience as she conducted the meeting to the entire satisfaction of its members in the manner men always imagine women's meetings to be conducted.

The cast which was all good and in which each member created and sustained a distinct impression of the part she was playing was as follows:

The Minister's Wife, Mrs. C. Gregie; the Deaf Member, Mrs. E. Kenney; Young Mother, Mrs. Downing; the Nervous Member, Mrs. Creelman; Anti Suffragette, Mrs. W. Smith; Her Husband's Wife, Mrs. Thomasson; Fighting Suffragette, Mrs. Burrison; Man Hater, Miss Grieg; Mrs. Brooks as the singing member deserves especial mention.

The costumes and stage effect were splendid. The room with its antimacassars, piano drape, patchwork quilt, hair wreath, etc., carried one back fifty years while the costumes were each a

The "Ad" that Saved a City

Rome was being attacked. The massive walls were breached. The enemies pressed hard on every side. To the north, the invaders crept stealthily through the night to storm the gates. In the dark, they stumbled on a flock of geese. The fowls cackled loud and long—the sentries heard—and Rome was saved.

Advertising is continually saving something for someone. It will save for you, too, if you use it properly.

It will save you money by pointing out real bargains, by telling you of true values, by giving you prices to compare and by telling you how much you should pay.

It will save you time and effort by telling you exactly where and when to go for what you want to buy. You don't have to "shop around."

It will save you disappointment by telling you just what you can expect from your purchases. Every time a merchant or manufacturer advertises, he obliges himself to sell you goods that fulfil his claims. He knows it doesn't pay to advertise unworthy wares.

Read the advertisements as a plain, every-day business proposition. It is a duty you owe yourself and your purse.

The advertisements will help you save

Dainty Dorothy Wants to Know if you are a good manager when it comes to clothes

Why, honey, don't you know that a little time spent upon alterations and a little of your clothes allowance spent for dry cleaning would make you the best dressed girl in town?"
