Britain's Labor Government Comes to an End as Result of Defeat in House of Commons

Huge Majority Demands Appointment of Select Committee to Inquire Into Action of Attorney General

CONSERVATIVE CENSURE IS BEATEN

Government Will Put Through Irish Boundary Bill Before Retiring; Ask King for Dissolution Today

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Britain's first Labor Government virtually came to an end at eleven o'clock last night when by a combination of Conservative and Liberal votes the House of Commons carried a motion demanding that a select committee of the House investigate the action of the Attorney General, Sir Patrick Hastings, in withdrawing the prosecution in the case of the communist O. R. Campbell, editor of the Workers' Weekly charged with inciting His Majesty's forces to sedition.

The Government declined to accept the motion and treated it as a vote of censure which, if adopted by the House, would involve an appeal to the country.

After a sharp and exciting debate, the opposition wanted to drop Sir Robert Horne's motion of censure and vote on Sir J. A. Simon's amendment calling for an investigation. On the government's refusing to accept this course, the House divided on the question as to which it should vote on. By a vote of 359 to 198 it decided to vote on the Simon amendment. This was equivalent to defeat of the vote of censure motion.

The Simon amendment was then put and carried 364 to 198.

Following the announcement of the vote Premier Ramsay Macdonald immediately arose and moved the adjournment which was agreed to unanimously. It is understood, however, that the government has agreed to carry on until the Irish Boundary bill is safe and the Boundary Commission appointed.

The Premier will see King George today and ask for the dissolution of parliament.

Washington Senators Win Over Giants and Even up World Series

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—In a game which was featured by the spectacular work of E. G. Rice, the Washington right fielder, the Senators today won the sixth game of the world series from the New York Giants by a score of two to one and evened up the race. The seventh and deciding match will be played tomorrow in Washington, the Senators having won the toss to decide the venue.

New York got its one and only run early in the first inning and in this inning Rice, for Washington, with a wonderful running one-hand catch after leaping into the bleachers, prevented Meusel of New York making a home-run which, as it happened, would have tied up the score. Another spectacular running fly catch was made by Rice in the fourth inning.

Washington got its two winning runs in the fifth inning with safe hits.

In the ninth inning, Roger Peckinpaugh, the Senators' short stop, was injured and had to be taken off the field.

It was fielding that won the game for Washington for the Senators only got four hits while the Giants had seven. The only error of the game was chalked down to New York. It was the tightest game of the entire series with several innings having no hits, no runs and no errors.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
N.Y.	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—1

Lineup and Umpires

The teams lined up as follows:

New York — Lindstrom, 3b.; Frisch, 2b.; Young, rf.; Kelly, 1b.; Meusel, cf.; Wilson, lf.; Jackson, s.s.; Gowdy, c.; Nehf, p.

Washington — McNeely, cf.; Harris, 2b.; Rice, cf., Goslin, lf.; Judge, lb.; Bluege, 3b.; Peckinpaugh, ss.; Ruel, c.; Zachary, p.

The umpires were Klem, Dineen, Quigley and Connelly.

The weather was clear and pleasant and 37,000 howling spectators were in the stands and bleachers.

Before the opening of the game, the players of both sides, as a mark of respect to the memory of Jake Daubert, first baseman and captain of the Cincinnati Reds who died this morning, stood for one minute with their heads bared.

President and Mrs. Coolidge attended the game. As they entered, the band played the National Anthem and, when they had taken their seats, the players stood before their flag-bedecked box with heads bared.

It was announced this morning that, as a result of the split of gate receipts for the first four games in which they share, the players of the winning team will each receive $6,398 and those of the losing team, $4,265.

The total score for the series to date is: New York, 24 runs; Washington, 21.

Local Men Have Established Fox Farm on Island Near Here; Took Stock Through City This Morning

The Ness brothers of Prince Rupert have established themselves as the pioneer blue fox farmers of Northern British Columbia, having started a farm under the name of Ness Fur Farm, on a hundred acre island in Kitkatla Inlet situated at the south end of Porcher Island. Andrew Ness arrived here early this morning from Hotspur Island, near Ketchikan, where he purchased six pairs of four months old blue foxes from the Ketchikan Fur Company with which to stock the farm. The six pairs consist of six male and six female blue foxes. They are four months old.

The arrival of the foxes caused a great deal of interest on the waterfront this morning and the boat carrying them was visited by a number of people. In spite of the many caliers, the little foxes did not seem much afraid and comfortably stretched themselves out, after a good feed of raw meat, in their straw filled boxes. The foxes were brought down in separate boxes to prevent any damage to themselves by disagreement.

The Fox Farm

Two men have been working out on the island for some time past getting the place in readiness for the reception of the live cargo. Mr. Ness is leaving this afternoon for the island. When he arrives there, the foxes will be released and will live practically in their wild state. They dig clams and kill birds for food and also take cooked rice and oatmeal. Blue foxes average six to a litter while in some cases there are as many as fourteen.

Mr. Ness says that there are 129 islands in Alaska on which are situated fox farms.

Stewart Holds More Promise Today Than Ever Before Says Businessman of That Town

In the opinion of J. P. Hawkinson, who was in the city on business yesterday, Stewart today holds more promise than it ever did of becoming the biggest and most successful mining camp in the country. Particularly in the Bear River Valley, which is really of more importance to Stewart from a business standpoint than the Salmon River, development work is proceeding on more properties than ever before and the beauty of it is that not a single one is proving disappointing. In fact the showings are really better than were anticipated in many cases.

Mr. Hawkinson for one is imbued with the greatest confidence and optimism for the future. A great deal of work is planned for the winter and next summer should see the biggest season of activity in the history of Stewart.

Investing Everything

Mr. Hawkinson, who is well known to all mining men of the north, conducts a flourishing restaurant business at Stewart and has invested extensively in Bear River mining properties. He has, in fact, sunk all his profits there and is now in a position where he could sell out and realize a tidy fortune. He is, however, not considering the idea of selling but is still buying. He is eventually going to become a quite wealthy man or he is going to lose everything he has. He is not much afraid of the latter eventuality.

Chatting with a Daily News representative last evening in the Prince Rupert Hotel before he returned to Stewart on the Prince John, Mr. Hawkinson told of work that is being carried out on many of the properties.

Dunwell Mine

A crew of men is driving towards the main body ore in No. 4. tunnel on the Dunwell. There is still 300 more feet to go and it is expected that this main body will be reached about November 1. If as good ore is encountered in No. 4 tunnel as was struck in No. 3, the worth and extent of the mine will have been proven and it is pretty safe to predict that Dunwell stock, which is now selling around 84, will take a sudden jump in the direction of $10. In anticipation of ore being shipped from the Dunwell this winter, a wagon road is now being built into the property from the main Bear River road. The Dunwell mine is controlled by Stewart Bros. and Harry Thomey is in charge of its development. The property lies about a mile north of Glacier Creek about a mile and a half from its junction with the Bear River.

Lakeview

The Lakeview, something less than a mile up Glacier Creek from the Dunwell, is another property that is looking exceptionally good. Present work consists of drifting on ore which is

LIBERALS OPTIMISTIC OVER THE PROSPECT

Prophecy From Victoria That Government Will Stay In Power Four Years

VICTORIA, Oct. 9. — Despite the defeat of Dr. K. C. MacDonald, provincial secretary, in North Okanagan by-election, the Oliver government will face the new Legislature on November 3 with every probability of getting through the session unscathed. Although Dr. MacDonald's defeat was regretted, friends and political foes of the administration concede that the Liberals will be in power four years hence, and that a Liberal-Labor coalition will give the premier comparatively easy sledding.

The premier's announcement Saturday that the Legislature will convene on November 3 leads to the belief that the session will be a short and snappy one. It will probably be over on Saturday, December 20. Little contentious legislation is on the agenda. This is due chiefly to the fact that for the past four years social, labor and financial legislation has been kept well abreast of the times, if not in advance of other provinces. Barring liquor amendments and the final settlement of the beer question, no clouds appear on the legislative horizon and the administration should have no difficulty in getting through the session.

PREPARING TO PUT MILL IN OPERATION

Airplane Spruce Plant at Port Clements Being Taken Down and Graham Island Renovated by F. L. Buckley

A small crew of men under the direction of A. E. Weaver of Vancouver is proceeding with the demolition of the Airplane Spruce mill at Port Clements and the renovation of the Graham Island Spruce & Cedar mill which it is expected will be put in operation next spring by F. L. Buckley who now owns both plants. Certain of the equipment in the Airplane Spruce mill will be put in the Graham Island plant and the site of the mill that is being taken down will provide increased yardage for the proposed operations.

Superstition Difficult To Eradicate.

The story of the tragedy of the far north when a young Indian lad was hanged by the legs because he was accused of wizardry is something not to be surprised at. It was not many years ago that similar occurrences took place in the New England states by the Christian people who lived there and who ought to have known better.

We are all more or less superstitious. We still are influenced by what we call ill luck. We dread to break a looking-glass or to upset the salt. The majority of people are afraid of their shadows in the dark and something white scares them and almost sends them crazy. We are living in the shadow of the past and are influenced by the lives of our progenitors. While it is necessary to teach the Indians that they are wrong and if necessary to use extreme measures in doing so, yet we can hardly blame them for doing something that only a few years ago our own forefathers were doing.

Humdrum Life Not Attractive.

A humdrum life is not attractive, yet the duties most of us perform are largely a matter of routine and become very monotonous. That is why holidays are desirable and why recreation for evenings and week ends is needed to provide an impetus for carrying on. While our work should always be the most important thing in our lives, our recreation is bound to loom large because it is the part that changes.

Those who put brains into their work will always find something new and interesting in it. Very few jobs are so monotonous that they cannot change. In the newspaper life there is a great deal of routine but there are occasional changes and a certain amount of excitement. Efforts to do work well help to stimulate the worker and keep him from deteriorating. Staleness in work is always to be avoided.

Letter Writing For Recreation.

For those whose work is not too sedentary, letter writing is a useful recreation and mental stimulant. To learn to tell uninteresting things in an interesting way is worth while. It is an art to be learned and cultivated and one that can be lost when out of practice. It is something like stenography, it goes very quickly but can be brought back.

Writing a good letter is a joy to the writer and a joy to the recipient, as well as a means of developing the intellect.

There Is A Limit To Everything.

Almost every virtue has its limitations. If a person is good natured and carries it too far he finds himself without any means of displaying his good nature and also he cultivates in his friends the habit of sponging or taking advantage of that good nature. It can be carried to extreme and the extreme is bad. So it is with almost everything else. It is a good thing to save money but not a good thing to be too saving. That leads to meanness, stingyness, and the person practicing it becomes a miser and therefore miserable. Good food is desirable but too much is beastly. Good drink is good for the body but too much drink is objectionable. We all enjoy a good conversationalist but too much talking becomes a bore. There is no end to the number of examples that may be cited. The moderate method is the one to be followed.

Roger Babson And Port Of Vancouver.

Roger Babson, in an address which he gave at Ottawa on Thursday last, went even further than the telegraphed summary indicated, says an Edmonton paper. Not only did he say that he was firmly convinced that children of those in the audience would live to see Vancouver the greatest city o nthe Pacific coast, but that it would take the place held so long by Liverpool as the principal wheat exchange of the world. If he had said this in Vancouver, he might have been accused of merely trying to make himself agreeable to those among whom he found himself and the fact that it was a body of eastern business men that he was addressing must lend to more weight being given to his predictions.

Canada, he is convinced, has an era of the greatest opportunity ahead of her. In the sale of fundamental natural resources in which she is so rich, the dominion will, in his opinion, be able to control the world's markets. "Were I a young man," he declared, "I would not stay five minutes in the United States, but would come over to your great country and blaze my own trail through the bush."

COHOE RUN IS GOOD SKIDEGATE

Dog Salmon Fewer Than Ever Known: Activities of Fishermen on Islands

SKIDEGATE, Oct. 9.—Cohoe trolling was good at the week end. All the boats averaged one hundred each. The dog salmon run is very poor, the worst that has ever been known.

The halibut boat Point May of Prince Rupert called in to take over 500 cohoes to market for the local trollers.

George Ness, skipper of the Clara N. has been collecting cohoes from the trollers to take over to Prince Rupert.

Captain Nels Larsen and Sam Larsen came in Saturday from the West coast. They report the weather has been very rough and that it has been impossible to do any trolling there.

E. S. Richardson and A. Beebe of Skidegate launched their trolling boat early in the week.

SKIDEGATE INLET

Capt. J. B. Gillett of Murgi Farm, Sandspit, was over in his yacht at the week end on business. He returned the same day.

Miss E. Richardson, teacher at Dead Tree Point, was in on Saturday visiting friends here and returned Sunday evening.

A dance was given in honor of Miss Dorothy Barge who came home on the last boat. It was held in Barge's Hall, Queen Charlotte City. The crowd from Skidegate was taken over by Capt. C. Hann on the seine boat Nikko.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Turner came down Saturday from their farm "The Willows." Mr. Turner is retiring from the mail contract and is succeeded by J. Ragant. Many regret to see Mr. Turner give up the work.

"Child's Eyelids Inflamed Stuck Together and Bled"

Mr. E. P. Kimball, Entwhistle, Alta., writes:

"Our little girl from birth was troubled with inflamed eyelids and in spite of several remedies, grew worse until at the age of sixteen months her eyes could not be opened after sleep without bleeding, a waxy discharge sticking the lids together and adhering with great tenacity. The child's grandmothers were consulted by mail, and both responded with a little sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. These were used as directed, and lasted until we could obtain a further supply from Edmonton. Improvement was very marked from the first application. The waxy discharge was easier removed and did not reappear. Inflammation subsided and has not returned."

Three miles above the Dunwell and back from the Lakeview is the North and South mine which is being developed on the unit system by Gus Seifert and Jack Pederson. Operations are now in progress in a body of low grade ore not less than ten feet in width with very attractive mineral coming out of the drifts. The North and South gives promise of being a low grade shipper on a large and profitable basis. Transportation will present no difficulties if the volume of ore is proven.

Taking in Supplies

Several other properties on Glacier Creek look very encouraging.

The Independence mine, about ten miles up the Bear River from Stewart and just across the ridge from the Premier, has a big body of galena ore which looks promising indeed. A compressor was put on this property last spring and winter quarters are now being built. Supplies are being taken in for work that is to be carried out throughout the winter. Porter Ida o Ships

The Porter Idaho mine on the Marmot River has shipped 150 tons of high grade ore this year and there is a large amount sacked and ready for shipment when packing conditions are better. The smelter returns for the first shipment ran $176 per ton and picked ore ran $300. This property is being worked on the unit system by Clay Porter. Transportation will be an easy matter here. The ore, containing native silver, resembles very much the high-grade stuff that was taken out of the Dolly Varden at Alice Arm in its heyday.

William Fraser has a property on the Marmot River which is showing up just as well as the Porter-Idaho.

Development of the Gold Cliff property, close back of Stewart on the west side of Bear River, by A. B. Trites who just last week bonded it from William Danh and associates will mean much to Stewart, Mr. Hawkinson thinks. Mr. Trites has decided on an extensive outlay of expenditure to thoroughly prove the property and this is looked on with a great deal of satisfaction by Stewart people. If this proving up work proves successful, it will definitely put the Bear River valley on the map.

Salmon River Active

In the Salmon River valley, the Premier continues to ship and development is proceeding on the B.C. Silver, Daly-Alaska, Riverside and Indian. Salmon River development has, however, not been so spectacular this year as has been that on the Bear River.

GOOD PROGRESS AT BLACK SAND PLANT

Herman Block of Baltimore, Vice-president, Here Yesterday on Way East

Herman Block, vice-president of the P. B. C. Mines Ltd. which has installed an extensive plant at Massett to extract the gold from the black sands of Graham Island, arrived in the city on the Prince John yesterday afternoon and proceeded by train to Baltimore, Maryland. George B. Fletcher of Philadelphia, is still at Massett. Good progress is being made on the plant installation and, according to word arriving from the Islands, the prospects for successful and profitable operation are even better than at first was anticipated.

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

by Shirley Sharon

"One in every trunk" should be the rule applied to this bouffant little frock when girls are being fitted out for boarding-school and college.

RULES and customs differ with individual schools and colleges but in most of them young girls make a change from their sports clothes to a pretty little frock for dinner. In some schools a semi-dianer dress in a dainty color and with short sleeves and a round neck is permitted. In others the dress is made in a color that can also be used for tea, church and Sunday dinner. Almond green, powder blue or one of the new cranberry or currant reds is excellent for this purpose. Taffeta and gros de Londres emphasize the bouffant effect of the skirt. Satin, silk crepe and crepe de Chine are softer.

Major Bullock Webster has opened a branch of the B. C. Dramatic School in a studio on Granville Street, Vancouver. His headquarters remain in Victoria.

Mrs. Morte Craig sailed last night on the Prince Rupert for Victoria on a holiday trip. She was accompanied by her son-in-law, D. D. McTavish, who has been visiting here for the past few days.

Stipendiary Magistrate A. R. Mallory of Port Clements is in the city on business, having arrived yesterday from the Islands on the Prince John. He is registered at the Prince Rupert Hotel.

After the luncheon to Premier Mackenzie King on Monday afternoon, a public reception will be held in the luncheon hall at which everyone will have an opportunity to meet the premier. 240

Major Fred M. West of the United States Army was a passenger arriving from the East on last night's train. He boarded the steamer Prince Rupert and went south bound for Camp Perry, Oregon.

Dave Mackenzie, pioneer of the city and engaged with the provincial government Island road crew, was taken last night to the General Hospital suffering from blood poisoning in his hand resulting from a slight injury sustained while on the job.

Mrs. Hal. Kane Clements, special correspondent of the Chicago Herald, visited the city yesterday afternoon and was shown around by C.N.R. officials. Mrs. Clements has been on the prairies and is returning to Chicago by way of Vancouver and Prince Rupert She arrived from the south by boat and proceeded East by train.

Mrs. Thomas F. Peterson, Grand Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star for British Columbia, arrived from Vancouver on the Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon to pay her official visit to the local chapter. She will be here until Saturday and many hostesses of the order are planning social functions in her honor while she is in the city.

At least one local wholesale house reports having received communications from customers on the Queen Charlotte Islands complaining of "the disgraceful service" now being given the Islands by the Canadian National coast steamers. It is suggested that the matter be taken up with the Board of Trade. The people on the Islands, it seems, would be more satisfied with a fortnightly service such as was given last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wynne, who arrived this week from the Stikine River after having spent the summer there, sailed last night on the Prince Rupeert for Vancouver where they will spend a fortnight on vacation before heturning to the city where Mr. Wynne will take up his duties with the customs department for the winter. Mr. Wynne will receive treatment at the hands of an eye specialist in Vancouver.

Practically the only social function which the Prince of Wales attended while in Vancouver was a dinner party and informal party given on Saturday by Major and Mrs. J. G. Fordham and their daughter, Miss Catherine Fordham, in their home on Cadero Street. Among the guests at the dance was J. A. Hobday, a commercial traveler well known here, who arrived from the south on the Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon.

The Gyro Club held its regular monthly business luncheon in the St. Regis Cafe last night, Dr. L. W. Kergin, director, presiding in the absence of President Milton Gonzales. The main topic under discussion was in the program of the club for next year. Extension of playground facilities and the possibilities of the gymnasium idea are being considered. The club is making great preparations for the Hoe Down dance to be held in the Auditorium tomorrow night. The affair promises to be one of the most novel and entertaining ever staged in the city. The ticket sale to date already ensures a large turn-out.

ONLY TWO DAYS IN WHICH TO SEND VERSE

There are but two days in which to enter the verse competition and try for that ten dollars or a part of it. There are three prizes—five, three and two dollars respectively and the competition closes absolutely Saturday night. Following are entries:

The Germ

A little dust; a little rain,
A little chill; a head of pain,
A leaking shoe; a loud ti-choo,
Oh! germ of Flu; I know it's you.

A Germ

Do you remember, not long ago,
Perhaps a year, or two, or so,
A germ, came floating through the air,
Which gave you, and me, an awful scare.

A germ so small, we could not see,
Came o'er the land, and o'er the sea.
Without the slightest bit of noise
Took off the strongest of our boys.

Maybe, you'll ne'er forget the time
When that first shiver ran down your spine
Your friends they took one look at you
Then said, By gad; you've got the flue.

A Little Girl's Cat

I had a little cat,
I made a pet of him and called him Pat,
But he got so lazy he would not eat a rat,
So I threw him out and said, "Exit cat."

The verse must have to do with some form of animal life such as a bird, fish, animal, insect or germ. It may take any form desired such as an ode, a quatrain or even the popular limerick. Three prizes will be offered. $5 for first, $3 for second and $2 for third.

The verses will be pubiished as submitted but the name of the author will be reserved to be used only in case of his winning a prize.

The verse should be neatly written on one side of the paper only and addressed to "Competition Editor," Daily News. No manuscripts will be returned.

PREPARING TO OPEN BADMINTON SEASON

Club Takes Over DeLuxe Hall and Will Have Opening Night Probably Next Wednesday

Preparations are being made for the opening of the Badminton season. The club has closed a deal for the use of the DeLuxe Hall and last night the hall committee got to work on marking the courts and moving back the partition. The hall committee consists of Alex. Rix, Fred Gilhuly, and Bob Bartlett and last night W. H. Hamilton and G. L. Warner helped them with the work. The single court was measured and chalk marked and tonight will be painted in. Tonight the double court will be marked.

The club made tentative arrangements a week ago for the McIntyre Hall, but the strengthening of that hall is rather a big job and will not be completed for some time. It will also interfere with the usefulness of the hall for Badminton purposes.

GYRO HOEDOWN BARN DANCE! Revive your memories of the old homestead. Easson's Jass Orchestra. October 10, in Auditorium. Proceeds for children's playground fund. 239

It is still early in October but the organization of the various indoor sports for the winter season is well under way. The Whist League, with ten men's teams enrolled and six ladies', issues its schedule today, the games to start next week. The Billiard League has had two meetings and will receive entries for two leagues, senior and intermediate, next Tuesday. The next thing will be the drawing up of the schedule which will be under way before the end of the month.

Perhaps of more general interest, however, than either whist or billiards, is basketball. The annual meeting of the Association will be held this evening. Officers will be elected and, doubtless, some idea will be forthcoming of the number of teams to be entered. There will probably be the same number of leagues as last year—Junior, Intermediate, Ladies' and Senior. Last year, when basketball was being organized, the main difficulty was the securing of a suitable hall. This was settled, however, with the obtaining of the Elks' Home and it was found very satisfactory except for the limited seating capacity. It will probably be used again this winter. All interested in basketball are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

GOVERNMENT CUTS DOWN EXPENSES ON PUBLICITY BUREAU

Department Eliminated for the Present But May Later be Revived

VICTORIA, Oct. 9. — On the ground of economy the Provincial Government has decided to do away with the provincial publicity bureau which is costing the government $7,000 a year and returns from which were not considered to be of that much value to the province.

It seems to be the opinion here that either the bureau should be increased in efficiency and its scope extended to include the tourist traffic or it should be dropped altogether. The latter course has been decided upon for the present but should the government find upon investigation that the larger scheme is warranted a reorganized bureau will be instituted.

Making wash day pleasant—

Just use Rinso where you used to use bar soap—for soaking, boiling, or in your washing machine.

THE hardest part of wash-day, rubbing, rubbing, rubbing, has given way to the new method of soaking the clothes clean with Rinso. This wonderful new soap gently loosens the dirt and a thorough rinsing leaves things white and glistening as you never could get them before.

Only spots where the dirt is ground-in, such as neck bands, cuff edges, and the like need a light rubbing, and a little dry Rinso rubbed on these spots quickly makes the dirt disappear.

Rinso is sold by all grocers and department stores

ENGLAND AS SEEN BY U.S.

Sinclair Lewis Says Americans Would Love Cousins if Minus Superciliousness

STUDY IN CONTRAST

LONDON, Oct. 9. — Sinclair Lewis, the author of "Babbitt," spoke with an entertaining exasperation on Tuesday about some common English misconceptions on the subject of America and the Americans. He took part in a debate with Major Beith (Ian Hay) at the London School of Economics on the differences between the English and the Americans.

Major Beith, as the exponent of "High Street," commented in a light and amusing manner on some of the superficial differences. He contrasted the American who, he said, was a born "uplifter" and "booster," with the Englishman, who was a born "knocker"—a man who surrounds everything with an atmosphere of gentle depreciation. He made an ingenious defence of the English sentimental novel as a safety valve for the English who are afraid to express sentiment, and he accounted for Mr. Lewis's realism as an attempt to counter the exuberant sentimentality of the Americans. Hence "Main Street" and "Babbitt."

Mr. Sinclair Lewis, a young man with a knotty forehead, a fresh complexion, and extraordinarily fluent speech—the most expert short-hand writers present gave him up in despair,—followed.

"Insufferable Lecturers"

Mr. Lewis plunged into Anglo-American relations. He said the misunderstandings reminded him of what happened when a young man called upon his future mother-in-law. They were both so correct that they could not get on together. So long as hands were shaken across the sea so vigorously everyone was miserable, but when the young man discovered the common love of cigarette-smoking in the other "in-law" all went well.

The trouble was that all American who appeared in England must be either humorous or inconsequent. Mark Twain had established the reputations of Americans as a very humorous people. According to the English, Americans were only interested in real estate or the punching of cattle. "I don't know exactly how you punch cattle," said Mr. Lewis, "but it seems a disagreeable business." An American who is a realist, interested in the sordid and more interesting side of life, was held to have no right to represent America.

It was one of the most absurd beliefs that England was a very old and America a very new country. "When I come back from Rome I look round and say, 'How extremely raw and new this country is. I must go back to a country with an old and mellow civilization.'"

Old American Families

There was less difference between America and England in age than there was between England and Rome. He knew American families who had lived on the same farm for 200 years, and there were certainly families in America who had always had afternoon tea at the same time, and who were tremendously ignorant about everything. America had a peerage the same as England. "We don't call them Lord this or that; we call them Jim and Bill, but they are exactly alike. You must remember if we gave up having democracy in America and had titles we should have three times as many dukes as you."

Mr. Lewis gave some examples of the sort of thing which, he said, made Americans coming to England and wanting to love it come near to hating it at times. He read from a Sunday paper a paragraph on Bohemian changes, in effect that Bohemia was dropping its eccentricities because 'Americans and bank clerks are imitating them." Crushing up the paper in his hand, he exclaimed, "This man is the kind of rotten little fool that makes Americans hate England when they want to love her."

Jokes Important

Such things were like the bacillus of some disease which, although a very small thing, caused a tremendous upheaval in the organism. Jokes were the most important things in the world. After giving more instances of caricatures of Americans on the music hall stage and alluding with irritation to a cartoon in Max Beerbohm's new collection, in which Europa offers America 2½d. for her art in exchange for what America has taken from us, Mr. Lewis said that America would love England if Englishmen overcame their complete superciliousness, and, he added, "as an American I hope to be allowed to love England."

WHALING STATIONS CLOSE FOR WINTER

Prince John Brought Nearly 100 Chinese from Islands Yesterday Afternoon

C.N.R. steamer Prince John, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived in port yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock after having made her first trip to all Queen Charlotte points under the new fall schedule. The vessel had some 132 passengers — 100 of whom were second class, mostly Chinese from the Lockeport cannery and Rose Harbor and Naden Harbor whaling stations which are now closing up for the winter. The majority of the passengers transferred to the Prince Rupert and went south last night. The Prince John sailed at 10 o'clock for Stewart and Anyox.

COMMON SENSE IS THE MOST UNCOMMON

Be that as it may, it is a matter of considerable interest that more and more householders in Prince Rupert are using common sense in making comparative coal tests for themselves.

Common sense says that although many coals may be good there can be only one BEST coal—the one lasting longest, giving the greatest heat, showing smallest ash deposit and being free from rock and clinkers. We believe the public has pronounced an undeniable verdict that "NANAIMO - WELLINGTON" is the BEST. This is also proved by the heavy demand that is being made daily upon Albert & McCaffrey's stock of this famous coal. Watch our delivery wagons and be convinced that we are selling most of the coal in Prince Rupert. There's a reason. Ask the woman who burns it.

Phone 116 or 564 for a trial order. Satisfaction guaranteed. Prompt delivery.

Don't forget Albert & McCaffery are sole agents for "Nanaimo-Wellington" coal. tf

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

by Shirley Sharon

Little coats of gay colored woolens take kindly to the idea of the scarf and flare out above plump bare knees.

HAVE you ever noticed that you can usually tell the age of a child's mother by the color of the child's coat? Sober, practical colors generally mean the youngest child of a family of middle-aged parents. Gay colors, a mother still young enough to be frivolous and impractical. One envies the bit of femininity in a French coat of powder-blue cheviot, geranium homespun, soft green kasha or an amazing green and lilac plaid. She may be a bit short on vitamins, but you may be sure she'll have strap slippers, socks and the new scarf collar and that her tiny flared coat will be as brief in length as those you see on smartly dressed children in the Bois, in Hyde Park, on Fifth Avenue and other delightful places.

PREMIER TO TRAVEL H.M.S.C. PATRICIAN SAYS VICTORIA PAPER

According to the Prime Minister's itinerary, he will arrive in Victoria on H.M.C.S. Patrician next Thursday, and will leave here on Friday night says the Victoria Colonist. His time of arrival is not yet definitely known, as the length of time the ship will take in making the trip from Prince Rupert to the British Columbia capital cannot be definitely estimated. There is a probability, too, that the Prime Minister will stay for a short time at Port Alberni on the West Coast to see Mr. A. W. Neill, M.P.

Upon his arrival in Victoria he will be met by members of the Provincial Government and the Victoria Liberal Association and on Thursday afternoon from 3.30 to 5.30 he will be the guest of honor at a reception to be given him in the library, Parliament Buildings. Thursday evening he will be the guest of Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Nichol at a dinner at Government House, and on Friday evening he will address a mass meeting of citizens. It is planned to hold the meeting in the Bay Street Armory.

SIDELIGHTS ON A GREAT INDUSTRY

ROYALTY MEASURE TAXES WAGES

1914 Act Imperils Sixty Million Dollar Payroll—Present Act at Variance with Real Principle of Royalty

About the very last thing a royalty act should tax is wages. Yet the present measure, by taxing all the factors that enter into the cost of production places a heavy impost on wages which is, of course the greatest of all these factors.

The true purpose of the Timber Royalties Act of British Columbia should be to take care of the public's equity in its standing timber. If that timber gets more valuable the public should benefit accordingly. The equity of the public in the forest stops when the trees are felled. After that they become private property. Any further taxation of the raw or manufactured material should certainly not be on a royalty basis. A Royalty Act which impedes any process of manufacture is unfair and illogical.

British Columbia has done, and will continue to do, very well indeed out of its standing timber, which has contributed $45,000,000 to the public revenue in 20 years.

British Columbia timber has also attracted to it an investment of $200,000,000 by an industrial group that paid out $60,000,000 in wages last year alone.

The present act, if unamended, threatens to tax that purely industrial payroll out of existence by raising the royalty 300 per cent, and so preventing the lumber industry from functioning and paying wages at all.

The immediate result of the enforcement of the present timber Royalty Act after January 1st, 1925, will be that no timber will be cut and no royalty collectable. British Columbia will lose its main source of revenue and a period of unemployment will ensue unparalleled in the history of the Province.
