LABOR JOURNAL ATTACKS LABOR PREMIER

PREMIER MACKENZIE KING SPEAKS AT EDMONTON; ARRIVES HERE SUNDAY

British Labor Journal Attacks Macdonald for Failure of His Policy

Says He Might Have Been in Power Another Year or Two if He had Co-operated With Liberals

LONDON, Oct. 11.—At the opening of what is generally described as an "unwanted election" an extraordinary attack upon Premier Macdonald in the New Statesman, the organ of the Independent Labor Party is regarded as the most significant incident as implying a serious crisis within the ranks of the party. The article pays tribute to Macdonald's gifts as a parliamentarian and foreign secretary. It says he has been the best foreign secretary in the last quarter of a century but as prime minister he has been an utter failure. He alone has been responsible for bringing the country into the present "absurd political predicament."

The article complains of what it terms Macdonald's "armour plume, vanity and aloofness from his colleagues." "If he could sink his vanity and prejudices and admit the possibility of there being other men besides himself he might be in power another year or two."

The article appears on the whole to laud Macdonald's refusal to co-operate with Liberals. On this point, however, the New Statesman is not considered in political circles to represent the general view of laborites.

Reform of Tariff and Railway to Peace River Country Both Promised by King at Edmonton

EDMONTON, Oct. 11.—Before an overflowing audience in the First Presbyterian Church last night Premier Mackenzie King gave his pledge that the Peace River country would be given a railway outlet to the Pacific coast as soon as humanly possible. The Premier promised reforms in the tariff, which would relieve the present duty on such implements and articles as are used in the development of the country's great natural resources.

HATCHERIES MAKE SUCCESSFUL HAUL OF SALMON EGGS

More Collected in Fraser River Than Ever Before in History of Fishing Industry

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—Most encouraging reports have been received by the department of marine and fisheries regarding the prospects for a bumper collection of sockeye eggs for the hatcheries operated in British Columbia. In the Fraser River hatcheries 31,000,000 have been collected, the largest number yet. The prospects in Owen Lake, Rivers Inlet, are also very promising. A feature of the run to this lake this year is that it was approximately two weeks earlier than for years past.

Five teachers are giving their services absolutely free of cost. Good progress is being made by the students and more are coming in. This shows the need of a night school in the city.

What Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Said When Campaigning Here Before Election of 1921

The following is a quotation from the Daily News of October 4, 1920, the day after W. L. Mackenzie King and his colleagues addressed an immense gathering in the Westholme Theatre, Prince Rupert:

"Was the G.T.P. policy a wise one? asked Mr. King. What was Sir Wilfrid's vision when the transcontinental railway was being planned, and his vision of this particular city? 'I know,' said Mr. King. 'It was of ships plying from this very harbor, crossing the Pacific with the products of this country, bringing back other commodities here, making this community one of the greatest marts in the world; of a railway running through a country as fertile as any in the world, with feeders running north and south, tapping the resources of the province, mineral and timber, the great national wealth; a great community with ocean wharves, docks, repair yards, dry docks, round houses, hotels, railway stations and all the sights and signs of a great world metropolis.'

"And what have you got today?" went on Mr. King. "A side line and not a main artery! The difference between the Liberal and Conservative parties."

"The Liberal party has set out to build up the Dominion of Canada, advocated freer markets, naval defence and had built a national highway with a Pacific terminus. And the Liberal party is anxious to keep up the work and to finish and carry through the plan, interrupted ten years ago. It is for you to say whether you wish that work to be accomplished or not. We can only do so much. We can go to Eastern Canada and ask for the support of the men in the East, but unless you send us men committed to see that the program is carried out, our hands are tied. For the building up of Prince Rupert, there is every reason for your support. The first thing we have to do is to carry out the great policies of our dear leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and we who have been trained by him, will see to it that his every policy will be completed."

A Public Meeting

Will be Held in the WESTHOLME THEATRE ON MONDAY, OCTOBER 13, AT 8 P.M.

Speakers will be—
RIGHT HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING, Premier of Canada.
HON. DR. J. H. KING, Minister of Public Works.
HON. P. J. GARDIN, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.
HON. HAL MCGIVERN, HON. ANDREW HAYDEN, HON. FRED STORK, Member for Skeena.
HON. T. D. PATTULLO, Provincial Minister of Lands, Chairman—Col. S. P. McMordeie.

Indian Band Will Serenade Premier Mackenzie King on His Arrival Here Tomorrow

Undoubtedly Premier King has been greeted by many bands during his public career but tomorrow afternoon, when he steps off the train from the East with his party, he will be serenaded for the first time by an Indian band—at least a British Columbia one. This is what is being planned for his reception by members of the Nishka tribe from the Naas River who are in the city today sixty strong to talk business with him.

For several years, the Nishka tribe has been taking various matters up with the federal government particularly with regard to their land demands. They have not been able to obtain the satisfaction they desire. Hence their decision to come to Prince Rupert and discuss their affairs personally with the Premier and members of his executive who will also be here.

The land committee of the tribe which is here consists of thirty members representing various places on the Naas River. Robert Smith of Kincolith is the president of the committee. Their legal counsellor, A. E. O'Meara of Victoria, is expected today from the south to assist them in their representations.

To lend more effect to their representations, the committee brought with them the Greenville concert band of thirty pieces under the presidency of Peter Calder, management of Johnson Russ and conductorship of Fred McKay. The band, besides actively participating in the welcome to the Premier tomorrow, will give a concert in the evening in the Westholme Theatre and may participate in the public functions on Monday marking the visit of the governmental party.

BARITONE SINGER MAY VISIT RUPERT

Frederick Taggart, the famous Scottish baritone, formerly of Vancouver and now making his headquarters in New York City, may be brought to Prince Rupert for a recital in December or January if satisfactory arrangements with that end in view can be made. Mr. Taggart is now in communication with the St. Andrew's Society and he has expressed his willingness to come here in the course of a tour of British Columbia that he will make this winter. Several years ago Mr. Taggart sang here under the auspices of the Symphony orchestra and he made a very favorable impression then. There are many music lovers here who would be delighted to hear him again.

The St. Andrew's Society is now drawing up its annual winter syllabus of lectures and social evenings. The program of events will open with a social on October 24.

Arrangements are also being made for the annual St. Andrew's ball which will take place on November 28.

May Be Difficult Position In Britain.

The general opinion seems to be that the Labor Party in Great Britain will get a larger group than it has now as a result of the election which is to take place this month. That will mean they will still be dependant on the Liberals for support to keep them in power or to turn them out.

If the proportion of parties after the election is anything like what it is today the government will have to institute an inquiry into the alleged irregular withdrawal of the trial of a communist editor and will also it would seem have to withdraw from the Russian treaty, because both Liberals and Conservatives have expressed themselves as opposed to its terms. If these matters are forced, it would seem as if the government will resign and there would be nothing for it but to choose the Conservative leader to again form a government. The threat to do this will doubtless be held over Liberals.

Everything connected with the election is largely a matter of speculation for no one knows what an electorate is going to do. There is a bare possibility that Labor may get a majority over all, but even the strongest supporters of the government hardly expect that.

Extend Welcome To Visiting Ministers.

There is no need to urge on the people of Prince Rupert to extend a hearty welcome to the visiting Prime Minister and other ministers of the crown who are coming tomorrow. Prince Rupert people have a habit of welcoming visitors cordially and especially will it be the case with the Prime Minister of Canada. They will extend themselves a little on so important an occasion.

Messrs. Gardin and McGivern are visitors who have not been here before, officially at any rate. The former is the Minister of Marine and Fisheries and as such will be of special interest to Prince Rupert. Dr. King as Minister of Public Works has a great deal to do with expenditures of public money. The elevator, however, is not under his department. It comes under the department of Trade and Commerce over which Hon. Thomas Lowe presides. Unfortunately Mr. Lowe is not of the party, but the Premier will be well posted as to the progress in connection with the elevator.

Shipping Lumber To Empire Points.

From a trade point of view it does not seem to be much advantage to belong to the British Empire. Whenever there is any business to be done the British people take it to the United States.

The latest example of this is seen in the purchase of a lumber mill at Sitka to supply spruce to the rubber planters in the Straits Settlements. We also see it just across the line where the Ketchikan mill is shipping lumber to Australia steadily while B.C. mills are idle. It costs as much to manufacture lumber in Alaska as in British Columbia and the timber is the same. British merchants and others do not seem to realize that Canada has anything to sell. If the business is all going to the States it would seem as if it would be better for us to be a part of the States than connected with the British Empire. The Wembley incident is being repeated in many places.

Urges Confidence In Our Country.

The European Manager of Colonization and Immigration for the Canadian National Railway urges Canadians to have confidence in their own country so as to inspire confidence in people who would come here. It is difficult to do this when they see business which should be hers going to another country, not once or twice but with increasing regularity. It is time Canadians raise a howl every time they see any slighting of this country in a business way. It is only by asserting ourselves that we can get what we want. Because we are so quiet and docile it is possible the rest of the Empire does not know that we exist.

Thorn In Side Of Republicans.

La Follette continues to be a thorn in the side of the Republicans of the United States. He is making political inroads into the party strength and seems likely to carry a great many candidates throughout the country. His is a policy of protest and he is making the whole country take notice. The outcome will prove interesting to Canadians for the politics of the United States are always of interest here.

THIS IS LAST DAY FOR MAILING VERSES

Verses mailed today will be in time for the competition which is just closing. There have been a number of good verses but on the whole the work has not been very good. There is yet chance to win that money. Following are among those received:

To Felix

(Our Family Cat)
Aristocratic feline, whose bright eyes
Hath oftimes lit thee thro' the darkest night,
Bright sentinels 'gainst ambush or surprise,
Twin glowing standards in the starkest fight.

Whose voice in cadence wild hath oft been heard,
Upon the lawn beneath the wand'ring moon
While in my heart the savage instincts stirred
In wild responses to that primal tune.

Was it the winged gods power that made thee sing
In graceful tenor on the backyard fence,
Until some outraged neighbor grabbed something
And well-aimed words and missiles drove thee thence.

O, Felix, hero of a hundred fights
May love and war be thine for many nights.

Black Beetle

There is a big black beetle
He is working quick and slick,
He is a plague to farmers
His name is Beetle Klick.
Just get the dope 'tis simple
Just bran and Paris green,
And if you kill the Beetle Klick,
You will get the "wire worm."

BURNS LAKE

Work on the Taltapin mine in the Babine is to be resumed at once. Contracts for development work have been let and the manager, Arthur Wood, and crew under E. Campbell are on their way from Vancouver. A large quantity of dynamite has already been shipped.

An interesting wedding took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Shefford, Wistaria, when Miss Flora Eveline Shefford became the bride of Erland Larson. Rev. J. H. Kerr officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Larson will reside at Wistaria where the groom is a rancher.

A. Keller and daughter have returned to Francois Lake after spending the summer in Switzerland. They also visited the Wembley Exhibition.

THIS SEASON'S TRANS-CANADA MILEAGE EQUALLED THREE TRIPS TO THE MOON

There are only 150 people in this crowd. Imagine a crowd of a hundred and sixty-six times as large and you will visualize the number of passengers carried last season by the Trans-Canada Limited.

Powerful locomotives are changed forty-eight times daily in the movement of the Trans-Canada trains and ten sets of equipment are in constant operation.

The Trans-Canada Limited, the crack transcontinental express of the Canadian Pacific Railway operated from May to September, completed its 1924 schedule on September 13th, when its last trains started and on September 17th these trains steamed into the terminal at Montreal and Vancouver, bringing to a close one of the service's most successful seasons. The train covers the 2,886 miles of its run between the two cities in 90 hours and its Toronto-Vancouver run of 2,707 miles in 86 hours.

Mr. C. B. Foster, Passenger Traffic Manager, summing up the season's performance, gave out some remarkably interesting figures which afford a partial insight into the magnitude of the task of maintaining such a service. The Trans-Canada Limited began its run this year on May 18th, and before being discontinued made 119 trips in each direction, or 238 in all. The equipment of the train is limited to one baggage, one dining car, four standard sleepers, one 10-compartment car Vancouver to Montreal, and one 10-compartment car Toronto to Winnipeg, with a drawing room-3-compartment observation sleeper Montreal to Vancouver, plus a local sleeper on the west-bound movement only from Fort William to Winnipeg. Thus the maximum accommodation available in each direction between the East and Winnipeg is forty-eight sections, twenty-three compartments and five drawing rooms, while between Winnipeg and the Coast there are forty-eight sections, thirteen compartments and five drawing rooms. The average number of passengers in the train at night varies from seventy-five to 110 on different sections of the line, but for the 319 days the train was in service last season there was a one-night use of approximately 100,000 berths. The east-bound and west-bound trains together covered 6,292 miles every day, which includes the distance between Montreal and Vancouver, 2,886 miles, and between Toronto and Sudbury, 260 miles, covered by each train and its Toronto-Sudbury connection. Thus the season's mileage was 758,748 for the 238 trips, or three times the distance from the earth to the moon.

Each day four Trans-Canada trains were in motion over the Company's lines in each direction. At 8 A.M. each day, one was west-bound between Cartier and Chapleau, one between Kenora and Winnipeg, one between Medicine Hat and Calgary, and one between North Bend and Vancouver, while at that hour one east-bound was approaching Glacier, one approaching Regina, one east of Fort William and one between Chalk River and Ottawa. Ten complete sets of equipment, of which four were in motion each way every day and one was being cleaned, refitted and turned round at each end of the run, were required to maintain the service.

The year's schedule called for 22 changes of engine on every Trans-Canada run from Montreal to Vancouver and two engines for the Toronto-Sudbury connection made by each train. There were 48 engine runs daily for the service. Including these engine-stops, the trains made only 26 stops on their whole run. It is on this steady movement at a uniform speed over long distances and not on high speed that the trains maintained their fast schedules over the transcontinental journey and the elimination of all but essential stops resulted in the smooth running for which it is noted. Owing to the necessity of changing train crews on such a long run, about 14 crews, or about 84 men, were required for one trip on each train, while 48 sleeping and dining-car employees were required for each trip on one train or nearly 400 men for this branch of the Trans-Canada service. None of the hundreds of employees whose duties also associate them with the Trans-Canada Limited, but who do not travel with it, is included in these figures.

Sidelights on a Great Industry.

A 100,000 TO SWELL THE EXODUS?

It is estimated that a quarter of a million young men and women are leaving Canada every year, and that the authorities are asking themselves how long this state of thing is going to continue.

The British Columbia Forest Industries employ over 40,000 workers who with their dependents represent a community of approximately 120,000 men, women and children, between a fourth and a fifth of the Province's whole population.

In addition there are many trades employing thousands of men whose occupation is catering to some need of British Columbia's premier industry.

The question before the people is—Are the greater number of these men to swell the exodus of skilled and able bodied workers from the Dominion?

The answer depends upon the fair and equitable solution of the British Columbia timber royalties question.

If the present Act which threatens automatically to treble the already heavy royalty rate is not repealed by January 1st, 1925, many of the lumbermen will be compelled to cease operations.

If, on the other hand, some reasonable arrangement is arrived at by which the industry will be permitted to carry on, and develop, we need not fear an unemployment crisis.

The British Columbia lumber industry is already taxed to pay a third of the Province's revenue and unless we are permitted to increase and develop our industry, it can stand no further burden.

There is no one who should be more vitally concerned in a just settlement of the timber royalties question than the wage earner of British Columbia.

This series of articles communicated by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

The regular monthly meeting of the hospital board was held last evening. President D. C. McRae was in the chair and the directors present were T. Ross Mackay, Mrs. Henning, J. B. Thompson, Ald. S. D. Macdonald and Harry Birch, secretary.

As is his annual custom, A. Perkins of Port Essington has sent his check for $5 to the hospital board for membership in the Prince Rupert General Hospital Association. The board at its meeting last night passed a vote of thanks to Mr. Perkins.

Howard Frizzell sails tonight on the steamer Prince Rupert for Vancouver en route to Indiana where he will take a six months' course in accountancy at the Valparaiso University. E. Unwin has taken charge of the office in Frizzell's butcher shop.

The sum of $16, proceeds of a dance given recently by the officers and crew of the steamer Prince Rupert, was remitted to the hospital board at its meeting last night. The secretary has already sent a letter to Norman McLean, purser of the steamer, acknowledging the donation with thanks.

Do not overlook the annual Thanksgiving services at the Church of England tomorrow, Sunday, October 12, at 8 a.m., 11 a.m., 2.30 p.m., and 7.30 p.m. There will be special music and beautiful decorations and Archdeacon Rix, who is just back from the General Synod, will preach.

RAILWAY ADOPTS OLD G.T.P. LINE THROUGH YELLOW HEAD PASS

A change in the Canadian National Railways' track system through the Yellowhead Pass is announced for November 1, when the new link of 18 miles between Red Pass Junction and Geikie, which is one station west of Jasper, will be utilized. Lucerne will no longer be the divisional centre, the offices and other facilities being removed to Jasper, says the Vancouver Sun.

Four hundred tons more freight in one train may be carried over the new line, which has a controlling grade of four-tenths of 1 per cent, than over the old line by way of Lucerne, whose grade was seven-tenths of 1 per cent.

During the war the call came to the railways for steel rails to ship to France. The Canadian National Railways, which had both the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern lines through the mountains, took up the steel on the Grand Trunk right-of-way for a considerable stretch and sent its trains over the old Canadian Northern line.

Now 18 miles of track on the Grand Trunk Pacific line, which lies north of the Canadian Northern line, has been relaid and after November 1 it will link up Red Pass Junction and Geikie. The old Canadian Northern line will be dismantled.

He also was present at preliminary executive meetings in Toronto and has been away about three weeks. He will resume the pulpit of St. Andrew's Church at tomorrow's special Thanksgiving service.

Miss Edith McCaul, R.N., superintendent of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, in her report for September to the hospital board last night, pointed out a great necessity for more stocks of linen. There was also a shortage of pillows and blankets. There had been no illness among students or nurses. Two new probationers had been taken on at the first of the month, the report stated.

Sport Chat

Even in Prince Rupert excitement was worked up to a degree of tenseness in this year's World Series. Since there never was a series before in which so many tight games were staged, it is a pretty safe statement that the interest in Prince Rupert was only in proportion to that which was manifested everywhere else on the American continent. To the majority of fans, the outcome was apparently satisfactory. The Senators were the favorites because it was the first chance they ever had and human sentiment runs towards seeing the fellow below come to the top. On the other hand, the Giants have won the National League pennant often and have been victors in three world series. In sport like in politics, the masses seem to like a change of government when one side has been in power too long. The scandal involving Giants' players which was barred just before the series started did not benefit the New Yorkers in the public eye. The opinion of the majority of people interested themselves in Major League baseball is that Washington won a well-deserved victory.

After all, there is not the same satisfaction in watching a bulletin board that there is in being right on the ground ones' self. When some event in the world o-port is on, there are people in Prince Rupert like everywhere else who wish they were there instead of here. Perhaps there were more fans in this town who wished they were in New York or Washington the last few days than who ever before wished themselves at the venue of some big athletic event. While they were posting the bulletins in Bee Self's pool room yesterday, one prominent businessman and sport enthusiast of this city said: "Just think, I have thrown away $25 here and $25 there during the past year. If I had been a little more careful, I might have been able to really see this series. Believe me, I think I will look after the loose change his next year and try to be right at the big show next year."

the power boat Surveyor with Pete Lorenzen at the wheel. The little old boat hit out on Saturday last with a party aboard for the Porcher Isle. During the ceremony of reaching the destination Pete held forth on his prowess on past game hunts and how impossible it was for a deer to get away if he once caught a glimpse of it. The rest of the passengers sat back with mouths wide open drinking in the steam which arose from Fred's well meant cooking. To cut a long story short—as the giraffe said to the monk—the boat duly arrived at the island. Pete, who was anxious to start something, got his artillery loaded ashore. The special piece of "spiffire" that accompanied Pete on the trip was a .303 Savage and he, like a good hunter, had taken the precaution to hump several hundred rounds of new ammunition along. With the artillery given the once over Pete opened up the shipment of shells and started in to fill the magazine. But this is the point of the story, dear reader. Not a danged single shell would fit the breach although Pete repeatedly bit and fugged at the end. He had taken along .303 British shells for a .303 Savage rifle and they just would not fit, that was all. Of course the rest of the gang were highly amused. The best of the joke was that upon the party returning with the trophies of the chase, they discovered Pete literally covered with inquisitive deer, in fact they thought the skipper was holding a deer convention. Of course the deer saw the joke and gathered around to take full advantage of it. The party returned to port on Monday with a good bag of bucks.

Bob Hanna Back

The genial Bob Hanna was busy renewing acquaintances on the waterfront on Thursday morning after spending a good summer fishing salmon and cohoes on the Skeena river. Bob, who is looking very fit, is all "hot up" over the medicinal properties of the Skeena River hot springs situated some three miles from Port Eslington. At the latter spot Bob spent the past month he having a seow with living quarters thereon situated right on the hot springs. A wooden sidewalk has been erected leading from his home direct to the hot baths, and he has been enjoying himself immensely taking the "hotting out" process every morning prior to partaking of a substantial breakfast.

Bob says that the hot springs have an ideal location and that a large number of men and women have been there this season from all parts of Canada. He cited an instance of a man from Edmonton, who had been kicked on the leg by a horse and as a consequence had a very bad leg. This man had treated himself at the springs and had been cured. Just now there are two sets of baths, one set run by Japanese and the other set are not being run by anyone in particular. Bob is of the opinion that it would be an ideal situation for a summer hotel and marvels that someone with the necessary cash has not erected one. However, there is a lot of work necessary to put the place in good shape.

Fish Business

From Monday to Friday 590,200 pounds of halibut has been marketed on the Fish Exchange. Canadians were high at 17.7c and 7c, and low at 14.1c and 7c. Americans were high at 19.1c and 8c and low at 14.1c and 7c. Arrivals were: American—Omamey, Polaris, Majestic, Gladstone, Summer, Albatross, Sentinel, Wave, Reliance, Volunteer, Serious, Kanatak, Virginia, Tatoosh, Atlantic, Pioneer, Panama, Rainier, Commonwealth, Vansee, Columbia, Aloha, Groth and Middleton. Canadian—Pair of Jacks, Verna, N. & S., Toodie, Scrub, Cape Spencer, Revellie and Athl.

The Fisherman's Song

Sing a song of sixpence,
 A bottle full of rum,
 What the heck do we care
 If winter has begun.
 While "closed season" is the order
 We'll amuse ourselves galore,
 We've got the best of everything,
 Could fisher folks need more?

Peter the Great

For a real "live" hunting trip you could not do better than "ring in" on a deer hunt aboard prior to the closed halibut season coming into effect.

The launch Five Roses, owned by R. T. J. Rose, is on the ways in the vicinity of the P. R. Yacht Club undergoing tank repairs.

Jack Lockwood recently purchased the launch Mae Grace from Miss Grace Brookes, the deal being made through Capt. Geo. Newcomb. The Mae Grace is a 28 foot craft fitted with a 5 horse power Palmer engine.

The forestry patrol boat Leila R., Capt. Dan Archie, suffered an engine breakdown during the week, while in Metlakatla passage en route to Georgetown, necessitating her return to port for repairs. The necessary repairs having been completed the launch left for the north on Wednesday.

On Monday last the power boat P.R.T. towed a boom of 125,000 feet of logs to the Georgetown mill from Silver Creek. The logging has been done by Capt. King, owner of the power boat Sterling. Capt. King still has a number of logs in Silver creek awaiting a full high tide to float them.

Place for Wild Geese

Incoming skippers report plenty of wild geese around Georgetown and vicinity. A flock of some 200 geese was recently seen sitting on the beach there. While a good many ducks have been seen in the vicinity, they are not plentiful as yet.

New Boat

Skipper Sam Olsen, of the power boat Riga, Porcher Island, is about to build a new boat in which he will install a Bolinger semi-diesel engine. The boat, which will likely be a 38 footer, will be rigged up for trolling off the Hippo Islands. Sam is out after the necessary boat crooks now and the building work will be started on immediately these are secured.

According to reports Capt. Brown, owner and skipper of the launch Tar Baby, has made a trade with Capt. Stromberg for his launch Ox. Both boats are moored in Sourdough Bay.

Paddy Raymond recently returned from the trolling grounds after a strenuous fishing season and has taken up his residence at his winter home situated at Lookout Point, Seal Cove.

A. Isaason, Seal Cove, has equipped his wood yard with a 5 horse power electric motor, and an ambitious program of wood cutting will be undertaken.

Capt. Edenshaw of Massett, arrived in port early in the week from the Queen Charlotte Islands on his power boat Edenshaw. Cap was in to have some necessary electrical work executed on the machinery by Ray Love. The Edenshaw left port on Thursday on her return trip to the Islands.

Oscar Hansen has purchased a new 7 horse power Vivian engine recently from Akerberg & Thomson Ltd. the agents. The engine will arrive on Monday and after its installation and trial trips, Cap will in all probability go trapping.

PERFECT FLAPPER IS COLLEEN MOORE

Story of Play Which is Being Shown Here Tonight at Westholme

Tommie Lou Pember, a debutante, quiet, modest, and wholly lacking in sophistication, invites four hundred friends to a party, but less than fifty respond. She is heartbroken because of its failure and bewails her lot to Dick Trayle, husband of Gertrude Trayle, himself extremely respectable and harmless. Sympathizing with her and desiring to quiet Tommie, Dick brings her a trayful of punch, which, without his knowledge, had been filled with stronger stuff. In a few moments both Dick and Tommie forget their troubles and become imbued with queer ideas. Tommie suggests that they go on a lark to prove that she is not as "safe" as her friends think. They leave the party and drive to a roadhouse in the country. There they are caught doing a Romeo and Juliet act on the balcony; the village constable arrests them and their names ap-

A CLEANER PRINCE RUPERT

Scientists tell us that there is no such thing as rubbish nowadays. They have turned things that were formerly the most worthless waste into valuable sources of profit and employment. Many readers will not be in sympathy with these statements as they contemplate the piles of ashes and clinkers, representing much good money all gone up in smoke. They must feel that an unnecessary proportion of their coal bill represents costly rubbish.

Fortunately the people of Prince Rupert are becoming more and more acquainted with the fact that there is a coal, guaranteed by the biggest dealers in Prince Rupert, that leaves remarkably little ash, clinker or rock, with the result that fewer trips are being made to the lanes and backyards.

This coal is called "NANAIMO-WELLINGTON" and has been proved to be the BEST by the heavy demand that is being made daily upon the local stock. To be sure that you are getting this same "NANAIMO-WELLINGTON" coal you should order direct from Albert & McCaffery Ltd., who are sole agents here. Their phone numbers are 416 and 564.

MISS RANDAL IS SATISFIED

Recommends that Local Hospital should Have Diet Kitchen for Use of Student Nurses

The following report on the Prince Rupert General Hospital training school for nurses was submitted to the hospital board at last night's regular monthly meeting by Miss Helen Randal, R.N., of Vancouver, registrar of the Graduate Nurses' Association of British Columbia:

As you know I have recently visited your hospital and inspected the school for nurses, and looked into both the practical and theoretical teaching of the students. I find the hospital well cared for, clean and with painting of the interior in progress. Patients were apparently well looked after, the food good, and well served, and a very general feeling of satisfaction with the nursing force seemed evident among the patients.

The discipline both in the matter of graduate staff and pupils is good and the class-work as shown by records is being carried on as it should be. The practical work is well-taught, the nursing procedures being all taught properly and recorded in record book.

High School Girls

The home for nurses is certainly a very comfortable building, and will, I am sure, prove a great asset, and an inducement to students to enter your school. I spoke to the pupils at the High School about the advantage of completing their course whenever possible and, advised them to do this when considering taking up nursing as those with best education have the widest fields open to them after completing their course in the hospital. Miss McCaul extended, through me, an invitation for girls to visit the Home and Hospital so they might see the place and get interested in the work.

The diet department of your school is the weak point now that the Children's Department is to be arranged. There is no place for the students to have practical teaching in Dietetics, and that is a required course of study in our curriculum. The theory of cookery for the sick is not enough, and if you can plan for some re-arrangement of the kitchens so as to provide a small well-equipped diet kitchen where the nurses may prepare and serve diets for the sick, it will help materially in training your students.

With all good wishes for the success of your institution,
Yours very truly,
HELEN RANDAL, R.N.
Registrar.

that the transformer had been fully tested before it left Vancouver and, if it had not been in good order on arrival here, it must have been damaged in transit. Mr. Hoffmeister resented any reflection being cast on the workmanship of his shop. The matter has been referred to the executive committee.

GYRO HOEDOWN UNIQUE EVENT

Affair Staged at Rink Last Night Proved Enjoyable and Profitable

What is said to be the best fancy dress dance ever given here was held last night at the Auditorium. It was known as a "hoedown" and was arranged and carried out with great success by the local Gyro Club as a means of raising money for the playground fund.

Following instructions through the press, most of those attending in overalls or some other clothes indicative of the workaday world. White collars were taboo and any found wearing them were seized upon by the special constables, taken before an impromptu magistrate and fined. If payment was resisted the prisoner was promptly rolled on a bale of hay and the money taken from his pocket. That was what happened to a prominent local doctor who is a member of the club and who it is understood was to have been the presiding magistrate.

Costumes

The ladies did not stick so closely to instructions but on the whole the party resembled a party of working people during the noon hour, with here and there a funny costume to enliven the scene. Some rather indiscriminate use of paints had changed the countenances of many so that it was difficult to distinguish them as the usually fair citizens met on the streets.

The attendance was large, possibly three hundred dancers being in the hall. All were in good humor and if there was a little bumping at times it was part of the fun of the evening. It was kept up to a late hour, the energetic encores of Eason's jazz orchestra making it necessary to delay adjournment until nearly three o'clock.

Dual Role

A. L. Holtby had thrust upon him the dual role of master of ceremonies and police magistrate and before him the prisoners were brought who were charged with infractions of the white collar law or of any other
