Keep Cheerful For Better Things Coming.

The summer holiday months are apt to be quiet in Prince Rupert, and this summer seems likely to be no exception to the rule. There has been a little letup in the march forward but that is nothing to worry about.

Possibly Prince Rupert people will think we are unduly optimistic over the future, but it seems desirable to state just now that the future looks just as rosy as ever. The good things mentioned before will yet come and we shall find ourselves more prosperous this fall than we have been for a long time.

Strong People Are Those Who Can Wait.

Strong people are those who can wait. It must be admitted that sometimes the wait is so long that it does not pay to linger. However in this case the wait will not be very long. We shall find that in spite of ourselves we shall be enjoying the fruits of the groundwork which has been done.

Big men who do big things plan away ahead. The policy of the big companies is often laid out years in advance. The men in charge know pretty nearly what is coming and they lay their plans accordingly. Also it is noted that they never give their plans to the public unless it be with a view to a specific end. Those in Prince Rupert who hope to win must also learn to wait. They have had pretty good training along that line already, but things are coming this way. The passing of the elevator vote was a step in the right direction. It was one of the mile posts on the journey. It is hoped that action will follow right speedily and that the work will be well under way this autumn.

Men Who Risk Their Lives At Sea.

Yesterday the Daily News told of some of the hardships of the fishing industry. In the salmon fisheries, which are carried on close to land, there would seem to be little danger, yet last week a number of men were lost for days, boats were broken up and narrow escapes for life were recorded.

If this is true of the salmon fisheries, what must be said of the halibut industry. The men go far out to sea and weather the storms of the north Pacific without fear. They sometimes come home in winter with their vessels weighted down with ice. They lose their gear and sometimes their boats, and on occasions we sadly have to record the loss of life.

Fishing is a life that trains men in hardihood and often the returns are meagre. Now and then we are able to tell of big catches and large sums earned in a short time. We tell nothing of the small catches, the losses, the poor returns that some vessels get. Today we mention it to draw attention to the fact that the men who earn their living on the sea of necessity have to be a hardy people. They work hard, endure much and when they are ashore take life lightly. It is well for us to show that we appreciate this.

Getting Ready To Receive MacLaren.

Last night the city council appointed a committee to meet Stuart MacLaren, the British aviator, who is expected to arrive here soon on his round the world flight. When the American flyers were here they were given a great reception, yet they were just starting out. MacLaren comes here after having accomplished a great deal of the big task he had set himself and which he has carried out alone and under great difficulties. In this British country, the first on which he will land after crossing the Pacific, he will doubtless be made to feel that he is appreciated. With great hardihood, skill and endurance he has carried on and Prince Rupert people appreciate men who show those qualities, especially if they be citizens of the British Empire.

MAYOR CENSURED BY COUNCIL FOR SENDING TELEGRAM REGARDING ELEVATOR VOTE TO PREMIER KING.

intended to injure the city in any way but that he had done it in the best interests of the city. If any injury had been done to the city's interests at Ottawa it had been done weeks ago when the elevator matter had been brought out in the recent provincial political campaign. He did not think the city was helping itself in any way but thought it was hurting the city and a personal attack against the mayor.

Ald. Casey

In addressing the meeting Ald. Casey said he was sorry to see this matter brought up again with a view to censuring the mayor. He believed that now the real harm was going to be done in trying to force this resolution through the council. The action was uncalled for and drastic. The mayor had been sending wires to first one and then the other approving or disapproving of certain action and up to to-day the action had been approved by the council and no question had been raised until this particular telegram had been sent. If a principle was wrong at one time it was wrong at all times. He believed that the mayor like himself and many other people in the community was sadly disappointed when he saw the small appropriation that was passed for the proposed undertaking. The mayor had undoubtedly been disgusted at the small amount of the appropriation. Ald. Casey said that he had written to Mr. Stark on several occasions calling his attention to matters affecting the welfare of the city. The speaker then drew attention to the laying off of 300 men between here and Red Pass junction on the C.N.R., and said that it did not look as though the railway officials were playing the game and looking after the upkeep of the system. Was there any merit in the mayor's telegram? asked the speaker. He claimed there was merit in it. He claimed that Prince Rupert had always been lying down and crawling on its belly, dining and wining government officials, but that nothing had been gained by such procedure. He was with the mayor on the question of the appropriation. He said that possibly the mayor had erred in judgment and that any mayor who did not consult his council was going to get into trouble sooner or later. However, he thought this motion was a case of wanting to "murder" the mayor. "If you drive this you will make nothing of it," said the speaker. The reason he had supported the sending of the second telegram was that he did not want to speculate with the city's welfare by interjecting his own personal views into the matter. However, he thought it was time for the citizens to rise up and show a little independence and he would vote against the motion of censure absolutely. The thing was wrong in principle.

Ald. McMordie

As the seconder of the motion Ald. McMordie in rising to speak, congratulated Mr. Casey upon his political speech. He believed the mayor had anticipated, as Mr. Casey had done, that one million dollars would be placed in the estimates. In thinking this they had shown little knowledge of the procedure followed by the government. It was customary to vote sums from time to time as required. Edmonton had received $200,000 the first year, the last vote being made amounting to $450,000 a few months ago. The procedure followed with regard to Prince Rupert was exactly in accordance with the usual procedure of the government when voting funds. He thought the mayor had been wrong in his action. In all matters of importance it was his (the mayor's) duty to call his council together and consult them. When the council had been called together at the special meeting and had learned the message had been sent or was about to be sent, the several aldermen present were unanimous that the sending of such a message was a mistake. The mayor had refused to take the advice of his council at that meeting which was wrong. He considered that the mayor of this city or any other city should not deal with matters of that kind by himself.

After further discussion the motion was put to the vote with the result stated.

JAPAN RECOVERING FROM EARTHQUAKE

TOKIO, July 15. — (Canadian Press). — Japanese cities which suffered most from the earthquake last September are gradually recovering from the terrible havoc they sustained. In Tokyo the scars of the earthquake are still visible, although new buildings are rising mushroom-like everywhere. Commerce is being rehabilitated, but it is a long way from being completely healed. The financial situation is far below normal and the whole economic status of the country has suffered as a result of the passage of the Japanese Exclusion Act in the United States.

The earthquake could not have come at a worse time, speaking in an economic sense. Fortunately, the parts of the cities most severely struck were those dedicated more to the consumption and distribution of goods rather than to their production and manufacture. Consequently commercial reconstruction in Tokyo and in the other sections affected has been more rapid than it would otherwise have been. The great manufacturing centre of Osaka was hardly disturbed at all.

The earthquake came as the climax to a long series of disturbances which had jarred Japan's economic structure to its foundations. The country had made a fair recovery from the crisis of 1920, when the post-war depression had reached its most acute stage. But under the surface there still were evidences of insecurity. Many corporations which had won prosperity during the war and the months immediately succeeding the armistice had fallen into severe depression and the general state of business was far below normal. The earthquake shock struck Japan at a time when her resources were least able to stand the strain, being already overloaded by the trials imposed by the world slump of business which seemed to affect this country more seriously than any other.

ELKS NOW READY FOR EXCURSION TO KETCHIKAN

All Arrangements Complete For Minstrel's Trip by Prince John to Alaskan City

Arrangements are now complete for the excursion to Ketchikan on Saturday, July 26, under the auspices of the Elks' Minstrels. The S.S. Prince John has been chartered and accommodation is limited to 275 passengers. The committee who went North last week to complete arrangements are very enthusiastic regarding the reception that will be given to the citizens, minstrel troupe and baseball aggregation, by the citizens of Ketchikan, upon their arrival in the Alaskan Metropolis. The Coliseum has been engaged for the minstrel show on Saturday evening. The theatre is the last word in picture-house construction, and is one of the finest on the Pacific coast. It contains a $10,000 Kimball pipe organ and arrangements have been made for organ solos to be included in the program, as well as a trio by the Balagno Brothers. Mr. Frank Balagno, noted cellist, of Victoria, is visiting with his brothers and will accompany them to Ketchikan.

Baseball games between Ketchikan and Prince Rupert will be played in the newly-constructed ball park on Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon.

The Elks are sparing no effort towards making the excursion one of pleasure and it will no doubt foster a better relationship with our cousins of the North. Special precautions are being taken with regard to the new immigration law and liquor regulations. No intoxicating liquors will be allowed aboard the S.S. Prince John when leaving Prince Rupert, and customs and immigration officers will be aboard to see that these regulations are carried out and to facilitate landing operations at Ketchikan, so that passengers may go ashore immediately upon arrival. State-room accommodation on the Prince John is being reserved for ladies, and meals can be had aboard for which there will be an extra charge. Anyone will be permitted to carry their own lunch basket.

Tickets, which are limited, can be obtained from W. E. Willis-eroff, B. F. Self, A. A. Easson, J. H. McLeod and Bert Morgan.

FIRST SOCCER SHIELD GAME

Sons of Canada Won by Score of Four Goals to Nil

The first football game in the Stuart Shield series, played on the Acropolis Hill grounds last night before a good crowd of soccer fans, resulted in a win for the Sons of Canada over the Callies by a score of 4-0. The scoring took place in the second half of the game. A. Mitchell 1, Erskine 2, and J. McDougall 1 tally from penalty.

The teams took the field as follows:
Sons of Canada—S. Gawthorn goal; V. Menzies and H. Menzies, full backs; G. Mitchell, J. Mitchell, H. Astoria, half backs; A. Mitchell, J. McDougall, S. Erskine, E. Warren and C. Smith, forwards.

Callies—A. Murray, goal; H. Hamilton and J. Cochrane, full backs; R. Woods, S. Currie, J. Harris, half backs; W. Hamilton, S. Elder, E. King, J. Campbell and J. Andrews, forwards.

Tom Jones refereed the game and A. Clapperton and O. K. Lord acted as linesmen.

The Play
The Callies took the down grade and for five minutes of the game the Sons were minus the Menzies Bros. In the opening phases the Callies missed a number of scoring opportunities. A lucky corner for the Callies off the Son's goal keeper was not converted. Later the play centered more around the opposite stronghold but the Sons were unable to score until A. Mitchell scored the first goal for the Sons with a pretty kick from a considerable distance, which Murray should have saved. Erskine for the Sons scored the second goal from a centre by A. Mitchell. The third goal was made by Erskine with an easy shot which the goal keeper fumbled. The fourth tally for the Sons was made by McDougall on a penalty award.

Criticism of Play
The defence of the Callies was very shaky and the Son's forwards had no trouble in getting through. The Callies conceded many corners by weak clearing. The goalkeeper for the Callies was very weak and let two easy shots past him. The Sons were on the attacking tactics all through, the whole team playing good style soccer especially the forwards. For the Callies S. Currie, J. Harris and S. Elder played a good game.

Definite announcement that Jack Dempsey will not enter the ring this year in defence of his title has been made by promoter Tex Rickard, after a series of conferences with Jack Kearns, the champion's manager. Rickard's pronouncement confirms reports circulated concerning the title holder's plans since the promoter signed Harry Wills, New Orleans negro heavy weight, and Luis Firpo, South American championship aspirant, to box in his Jersey City bowl August 30. In making the announcement Rickard said he spoke with Kern's sanction, and explained that conditions were unfavorable for a heavy-weight title bout before 1925. Rickard added that Dempsey would not defend his crown before late next June or early next July. The winner of the Firpo-Wills battle will be matched with Dempsey in June, 1925, according to present plans he stated. Rickard said "I expect to hold the Wills-Firpo bout on August 30 or a date around that time. Dempsey will be busy with moving picture work. Kearns has informed me, until some time in August, it would be unreasonable to ask Dempsey to prepare himself for the defense of his title in a few weeks time. By the same token it would be impossible for Firpo or Wills, after a hard struggle as late as August 30, to resume training immediately for a contest that could not be scheduled later than the second week in September."

RECEIVES MESSAGES

Now Says Crop This Year Will Not be up to Average: Hail and Cyclones

REGINA, July 15.—Every day radio stations in all parts of the world broadcast a daily synopsis of news sensations. Every day radio "bugs" of all ages and walks of life "tune in" to get the details of the interesting budget. But there is one man at least who requires no receiving set or delicate apparatus known to the radio world. He is A. B. MacNaughton, a Saskatchewan farmer of the Valeport district. There are some strange tales that come from Valeport. Those who dabble in matters mystic might call him clairvoyant. His critics—and he frankly admits it—say he is abnormal. He has been dubbed the "human wireless" and the cognomen appears to fit.

Strange if true! Though one may believe or doubt there is a chain of corroborative evidence which indicates that the sturdy little Valeport Scotch-Canadian is a real mystery man; an individual of astounding, if somewhat weird, endowments.

Had Premonition

"Mac," as he is familiarly known in the neighborhood, was no great genius as a youngster, but his inexplicable talent was manifest at an early age. Premonitions of calamities, such as beset the paths of youngsters would occur to him days and sometimes even weeks before they actually occurred. "Dreams" they were called by his parents, but strangely enough these visions generally came true. As a result of being ridiculed because of his peculiar talent, MacNaughton for years maintained a strict reticence respecting his visions. As the years passed, however, his strange "dreams" became more pronounced. They grew stronger, more vivid; the messages seeming to come out of space, were more detailed and easier understood. Like mirages in the desert they came both in waking and sleeping hours.

It was not until three or four years ago that he mustered sufficient courage to speak of them to others than his wife. He confided in a few friends whom he thought would understand, who after making several exacting tests were nonplussed by the results attained.

Harding's Tour

"Mac" foresaw that President Harding's western trip would be his last. He had a premonition that the tour would end in a tragedy. It was a depressing sensation as he recalls it. The face and figure of the President were discernible, but seemed to be formed from a block of marble. "I felt as if I were attending or about to attend a funeral," is the way he described his feeling.

Concerning this marvel's latest confirmed vision. He distinctly saw the crash of the round-the-world United States plane piloted by Major F. L. Martin. At the time he wrote to a Regina newspaper giving details of the crash. Several days later, when Martin and his mechanic Harvey, had made their way back to civilization, the vision was confirmed in practically every detail.

Explanation

MacNaughton's own explanation of the strange qualities which he possesses is this: "In all parts of the world fellow men and women are constantly thinking, scheming, contriving, suffering, experience manifold emotions and sensations. Thought-transference has been proven possible by other than the spoken or written word. Who knows but that I am just a "receiving set" for these thoughts and sensations that are unconsciously broadcasted by fellow men?"

One of the Valeport seer's favorite controls, according to his own statement, is the Prince of Wales. His Highness, Mr. MacNaughton says, will suffer another very serious hunting or riding accident, probably before next year, which will incapacitate him for some time. And "Mac" predicts that the long-discussed matter of a bride for the Prince

The "Ad" that Saved a City

Rome was being attacked. The massive walls were breached. The enemies pressed hard on every side. To the north, the invaders crept stealthily through the night to storm the gates. In the dark, they stumbled on a flock of geese. The fowls cackled loud and long—the sentries heard—and Rome was saved.

Advertising is continually saving something for someone. It will save for you, too, if you use it properly.

It will save you money by pointing out real bargains, by telling you of true values, by giving you prices to compare and by telling you how much you should pay.

It will save you time and effort by telling you exactly where and when to go for what you want to buy. You don't have to "shop around."

It will save you disappointment by telling you just what you can expect from your purchases. Every time a merchant or manufacturer advertises, he obliges himself to sell you goods that fulfil his claims. He knows it doesn't pay to advertise unworthy wares.

Read the advertisements as a plain, every-day business proposition. It is a duty you owe yourself and your purse.

The advertisements will help you save

He ate 8,000 biscuits

Not all in one day, or one week, or one month, but during twenty years of a busy life—and he is still eating them. That's the record of Doctor R. B. Thayer of Somers, Connecticut. And he further adds, "I think your claims for Shredded Wheat are justified." What higher tribute to the food value and healthfulness of Shredded Wheat could you have than the voluntary testimony of a physician? Shredded Wheat is all food, ready-cooked, ready-to-eat.

The Canadian Shredded Wheat Company, Ltd.

Shredded Wheat

will soon be settled. The queen-to-be will be of the Prince's own race.

Crop Prognostication

In and around the neighborhood of Valeport, the infallibility of MacNaughton's weather prognostications is well known. Giving his views on this subject he said: "It will be only a moderate crop year, I believe about two-thirds crop. In the latter part of July and early August when the grain is filling out, there will be some extremely hot weather which will cut yields.

"As to the price, perhaps I should not say so, but wheat will sell above the $1.33 mark this fall. That may offset the decrease in threshing turnout.

MacNaughton's most startling prediction, however, was to come. "Six cyclonic storms, one or two of which will be most severe, will sweep Saskatchewan during the present season.

"The year will be a very serious one from hail damage, particularly in the old hail areas where loss to crops from this agency will be severe," he said.

MacNaughton is a man of about middle height, strong in build, and active as many a boy of twenty. The most striking feature of his face is a pair of very bright, very deep-set green-blue eyes that sparkle and shine when he converses about his strange talents. He is a likeable sort, a good conversationalist, obviously well read and keenly intelligent.

"Mac" unquestionably is an enigma.

SMITHERS

This summer it seems as if Lake Kathlyn would be more popular than ever as a summer resort. The largest number of campers that have ever been there at a single time have gone down to spend a holiday at the lake. This year's large summer colony at the lake is made up of the combined strength of the Smithers and Hazelton Girls in Training, and under their own tents are in charge of Mrs. A. J. McIntyre and Mrs. H. Harris. A start has been made toward the permanency of this lake as a summer resort, and on the west side George Raymond has built a neat little cottage. Many Smithers and Prince Rupert people have secured lots on the lake shore and made plans for future building.

Mrs. Steele has arrived from Vancouver to visit with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. O'Neill.

Mrs. F. Ockleshaw has left on a holiday trip to the coast, where she will visit with friends in Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle.

Mrs. W. J. Fidler, with her son and daughter, Willie and Isabel, left on Tuesday morning to spend a holiday with Mrs. Fidler's sister at Boston. On their trip they will visit at Winnipeg, Fort William and Montreal, and will be absent for six weeks.

REHABILITATE ALASKA SALMON

Effort to be Made to Conserve the Fish in Neighboring Territory

SEATTLE, July 15.—Henry O'Malley, United States fisheries commissioner, declared here before sailing for Alaska to enforce the new fisheries regulations that Alaska's vast fisheries will be swiftly rehabilitated to a valuation of $30,000,000 annually in fisheries products under the new restrictions.

These restrictions, he announced were:

Southeastern Alaska—Yakutat district, north, closed for 48 hours each week. Closed area around streams extended to open sea, with remainder Southeastern Alaska covered by twenty day closed periods in middle of season, and 36-hour weekly closed season.

Bristol Bay — In red salmon grounds fishing gear limited and season limited to thirty days with 36-hour weekly closed periods.

Port Moller District—On north side of Aleutians and peninsula, 84-hour weekly closed period; 60-hour weekly closed period until July 20 and 36-hour weekly closed period after July 30.

For the rest of the peninsula and the Chignik district packers are allowed only one-half the fish migrating up the mouths of rivers.

Cook Inlet—Forty-eight hour weekly closed period and upper end of inlet reserved.

Prince William Sound Area—Forty-eight hour weekly closed period and closed area around red salmon streams extending to 5,000 yards; 60-hour weekly closed period and length of stake nets limited on Copper River flats.

SHADOW GOWNS ARE LATEST FASHION AT PARIS THIS SEASON

Neat Form to Show Through in Sunlight but Nothing Indecent About It

PARIS, July 15. — Sun-and-Shadow gowns promise to be the most popular ones on the French race-courses this season. This means real transparency, of course; the sun shines right through and leaves only the shadow of Milady in full view.

Since the passing of the petticoat the Parisienne has adopted the silk knickerbockers, snug and close, which gives her the chic, slim line she is after. So there is nothing to prevent her neat form from showing when Old Sol is on hand. He can easily creep right through the thin trifles of chiffon and crepe frocks that are in fashion now, and it has been generally agreed that this is no more indecent than wearing knickers on the golf links and for country tramps.

Douchet is carrying out the transparent idea in a charming black chiffon, knife pleated and hanging straight from the shoulders. It is tied loosely by a narrow band at the hips and has a pointed tunic which hangs long in front and back and very short at the side. This is where the transparency comes in. There is a deep band of applique work in silver thread about this tunic which looks like a delicate bit of tapestry. Another shadow model comes in pale gray satin with a soft folding bodice and front side panel with the new scarf effect about the throat.

Wrap-around Skirts
Even tailors and summer suits are going over to the new transparent idea. Tight wrap-around skirts are worn over knickers of the same color and the jackets have the thinnest of linings sometimes entirely separate from the jacket, only laced at the neck and armholes. A coat spied at the French Derby last week came in black crepe satin without a lining and the seams bound inside with beige and red braid. It was cut straight without any break or fastening, and a yoke simulated by placing circles of beige crepe de chine in rows braided with half moons of red and black soulache alternating.

The transparency idea has hit hats and hosiery as well. Diaphanous brims and crowns show all there is on top of the head and filmy stockings do not hide very much. In fact, "the thinner the better" seems to be the slogan for all things whether the summer be warm or cool.

Less and Less
"Sans undies," "naked clothing"—in other words nothing on at all to speak of, this is what Raymond Duncan, is prophesying for next year's fashions in Paris, according to one of the leading papers.

"Women are tending more and more to nakedness and that is what I have been working for many years," declared the American philosopher sitting in his academy draped in a shadowy Greek mantle, sandals on his barefeet and his long grey hair bound about his head.

As a matter of fact, the women won't have so very much to leave off, thinks Mr. Duncan, since the days when no petticoats became the fashion underclothing has been very skimpy and made of the finest clinging materials in order to produce the slender silhouette.

"Naked clothing" which means the dress slipped right over the skin will be as popular as his batik creations, according to this eccentric creator.

"If only the men would follow suit and adopt more simple garb for their unbecomingly trousers," sighed Mr. Duncan and added that he and his school of 15 or 20 neophytes will soon be starting off for a summer in Nice.
