Salmon Fishinghalted

Skeena River closed 10 Days

Salmon net fishing in the Skeena River area came to a halt at 6 o'clock tomorrow night and must remain at a halt for 10 days. The closure does not affect the southern part of the river. Whittmore, chief superintendent of fisheries, said the closure is a conservation measure. The order was issued at 6 p.m. on August 13, to 6 p.m. on August 24. Whittmore also announced that on August 24, gillnets of more than 6 1/2-inch mesh will be lifted. Fishermen at the time are using sockeye which vary in size. The Skeena River area extends to Port Simpson on the north end of the Channel.

The conservation measure is in effect every season, although the closure this year is a time when the pink salmon is reported at its peak. Men have been averaging over 100 a day in the past week and are "plugged" with salmon. The number of sockeye already have been set for that year with a pack of 400,000 cases. Fishermen received 25 pounds for sockeye, only a third of that for pink, a veteran fisherman said. "They are being small because they haven't had time to get good loads," he said. "After the big sockeye, although most of the gillnetters have been in the warehouses are piled with cases of salmon from their operations and some of their packs also is still in the warehouses."

CCL Protests Appointment of Sands as Deputy of Labor; Claims 'Payoff'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian Congress of Labor Wednesday protested the appointment of William Sands as deputy minister of labor. Sands was the TCL organizer in the Okanagan. George Home, president of the B.C. Federation of Labor (CCL) charged at a meeting of Greater Vancouver and the Lower Mainland Labor Council (CCL) that Sands while on the payroll of the Packinghouse Workers in 1946, "undermined its standing and position in the Okanagan by assisting in the organization of a rival company-promoted pretence of a union."

Man Loses Life Fighting Burns Lake Forest Fire

B.C. Woods Stricken by Many Fires

1 Missing, 6 Saved From Trap of Flames

BURNS LAKE—Out of control and advancing about two miles every hour, the 5,000-acre Tintagel forest fire moved deeper into rich timber stands Wednesday night. In Victoria, the Forest Service said the forest fire situation was "the worst it's been this year" with 1,000 men fighting 149 fires throughout the province.

SMUGGLED SWEETHEART—Loboria Sarraolandia, 30-year-old Spanish sailor, and Rita Cappelloni, his 25-year-old Italian sweetheart whom he smuggled aboard a Greek freighter in a duffelbag, will be deported from Canada, according to immigration officials at Vancouver. She was concealed for 52 days in Third Engineer Sarraolandia's cabin on the freighter Panagiotis Countantaras. He had to reveal the stowaway's presence when he could no longer smuggle food to her. (CP Photo)

The two worst blazes are the Tintagel outbreak and at Mosher Creek, in the Bella Coola valley, where fire has ripped through 1,000 acres of timber. Wednesday, the 20th straight day without rain, seven new fires were reported in the Vancouver forest district, where hazard has resulted in a ban of logging operations.

A steady wind was driving the Tintagel fire northward toward Babine Lake when a sudden shift in the wind Tuesday de-toured the fire away from the village of Tintagel, eight miles east of here on the Prince George-Prince Rupert highway.

James Stewart, PGA chief engineer and acting deputy railways minister, was reappointed. One vacancy will remain for a time and there has been speculation that J. A. Kennedy, PGE general manager, may be appointed to a vacant director's post, if he wants it.

New Board Appointed For P.G.E.

Gov't. to Fight For Old Contract

VICTORIA (CP)—New board of directors for the government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway was announced Wednesday by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

Premier Bennett will be president of the board succeeding former Premier John Hart. Finance Minister Einar Gunderson and Bernard Allen, retiring manager of the Canadian National Railways in Vancouver, are new appointees to board.

Follow Dozer

An oldtime firefighter in the area told the men to follow a bulldozer through the raging flames to a burned out area and forestry officials said six of the men made their way to safety by this means.

EQUIPMENT LOST

Fire-fighting crews have been reduced from 180 men to 100 due to loss of much valuable fire-fighting equipment. It is not known whether any of the six who reached safety were burned.

AGREEMENT

Meanwhile, the government intends to fight to the last ditch to force Canadian National Railways to carry out its famous 1912 agreement. "We expect the CNR to carry out that agreement," Premier Bennett said Wednesday.

Under the terms, GTP promised that on completion of the PGE to Prince George, all freight originating on the GTP from eastern points and headed for Vancouver must be routed down the PGE.

Start Now for Next Olympics

COACHING officials returning from Helsinki with the Canadian Olympic team are faced with the tricky proposition of explaining the failure of their boys and girls to make a better showing without appearing disloyal.

Theirs is not an enviable task because by no standard of measurement did the Canadians do well. Had the contests been for British competitors only, their performance would not have been much more impressive as the only Dominion they managed to beat was little New Zealand. For the British Empire Games at Vancouver two years hence it is not a happy augury.

It may be argued, of course, that Canada's climate does not encourage skill at track and field sports which form the real body of the Olympic Games. The argument, however, not only contains an exaggerated criticism of our seasonal conditions but leads into awkward defence of our strength in winter sports. Aside from our hockey teams and Barbara Ann Scott, we would be hard pressed to find examples supporting any such claims.

Instead of side-stepping into traps, the officials have placed the blame squarely on lack of training and made the constructive proposal that a permanent Olympic coach be appointed for Canada with a corps of regional assistants.

They have further recommended that, to be ready for the 1956 games, the scheme should go into effect right now.

Some may not think the Olympics merit such consideration. We do. For one thing, there is too much talk about a Canadian inferiority complex. If we have one, it is time we started to demonstrate that it has no foundation.

Truce Talks on Deathbed—Only A Step From Success

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The Korean truce talks may be on their deathbed.

They show symptoms of dying a distressing death—on the doorstep to success.

After one year of negotiating, war-prisoner exchange is the only issue blocking the path to peace. But there seems to be no solution to this question which can satisfy both parties.

United Nations and Communist delegates have met only twice in two weeks. They have talked 84 minutes in the last 17 days.

Today, the negotiators called another week-long recess. For seven more days the truce teams will bide their time at Munsan and Kaesong as the war goes on. Maj.-Gen. William Harrison, top UN delegate, today told the Communists: "There seems nothing to discuss."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, demands the Allies return 116,000 prisoners in UN stockades. He says this number must include the 20,000 Chinese soldiers in captivity.

But Harrison says "No." The UN Command offers to return 83,000 men, including 6400 Chinese. The rest have renounced Communism.

In July, delegates wrestled with the controversy for 18 secret sessions. But the Reds refused to accept the 83,000 offer.

Secrecy was ended, July 26, Harrison angrily walked out of the tent and Nam Il protested loudly. The talks have been in one recess after another since then, except for minor staff sessions.

The reluctant Chinese prisoners undoubtedly are the enemy's main concern.

The Communists don't want to let Red China's former soldiers stay south. Nam Il has told Harrison that no armistice can be achieved unless all Chinese prisoners are sent across the line.

The only visible note of encouragement for an armistice is the fact the delegates are still meeting—at least once a week. Both sides naturally would be reluctant to get the blame for ending the talks.

USEFUL NUMBER

LONDON — Citizens of many areas of Britain when facing an emergency dial the code number 999 for quick assistance. The service for speedy police, fire or medical aid was established in London in 1937 and now has been extended to about 2,000 telephone exchanges in the United Kingdom.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

Niagara's roar sounds wishy-washy, and height not so hot, compared with Grand Falls on the Hamilton River, far in the fearsome wilds of Labrador. This is according to engineers. However, here's betting that for every honeymoon couple going to Labrador 150 will stick around Niagara.

The unconfirmed report that Farouk, deposed king of Egypt, may apply for permission to live in the United States does not appear to have been cheerfully received. Neither was the request of another playboy monarch, Carol of Roumania and his read-haired girl allowed.

A GLANCE AHEAD

It's been hot, we know, but that does not stop United States tourists from buying furs in Prince Rupert, and superior, as well as more reasonable plaids and heavy woolsens in Eastern Canada. Wouldn't be selfish for worlds.

FISH IS FISH

Quite often, the same fish has more than one kind of name. What St. John knows as gaspereaux are called alewives in Maine and the West India Islands. Elsewhere in Maine they are sold as Manhattans. In Nova Scotia gaspereaux are advertised as klacs, in Philadelphia sharp-bellied herring, and south of that city, just plain "bunkers."

The Duke of Windsor, down with indigestion, is reported to be making a satisfactory recovery. He's been reading the papers telling about all the troubles kings are having in Europe and Asia.

It won't be long before much of British Columbia travel will consist of homeward bound vacationists. Why not have half a dozen holidays—a little shorter, more restful and less expensive—than one long mid-summer affair with its heat, haste, cost, flies, dust and crush.

Radio setups, taking the place of telegraph operators will mean a far reaching change in "the great big land, way up yonder." For more than half a century have these men linked Canada with distant Yukon and N.B.C. What stories could they not tell. But the chances are these tales of the outposts will die with them. The pity of it.

Adios, Alberta

CALGARY, Alberta—Instead of flying home to Vancouver, here I am in a Calgary hotel waiting for a friendly couple who are going to drive me to Radium Hot Springs.

The minister's wife had a broken foot, which was just about to come out of its cast. They were bound for Banff, but I told them Radium B.C. had Banff backed off the map fifty different ways when it comes to healing waters.

The upshot is they are taking me along to show them.

HERE in the hotel I get a chance to look over the final results of the Olympic games.

No matter how you look at it, Russia's feat in coming second in the games—in spite of the fact that she had never competed since 1912, and then only in a few events—is a milestone in athletic history.

The two giants, the U.S.A. and U.S.S.R., go about athletic training much like Henry Ford III goes about producing cars. The whole thing is planned on a mass production and long time basis.

Let us in Canada not kid ourselves. If we intend to make a good competitive showing in future games we too will have to go to our athletics a good deal more systematically than we have in the past.

WHY ARE our best young athletes going right from high schools up here down to American universities? One of the best athletic coaches in B.C. tells me it is not simply because American universities offer what are now called "athletic scholarships." In fact, he thinks the scholarships are definitely secondary to another factor.

The U.S. institutions offer athletes the best there is in the way of systematic training. A young kid may be a good swimmer, sprinter, jumper or any other kind of athlete. If he stays here in Canada he may or may not develop into a champ. But if he does it will be more because of sheer natural physical superiority than because his training has brought out the best in him.

Take swimming. In one city, which, out of loyalty, I will not name, at least while I am away from home the coaches try to develop high school swimmers while youngsters of all ages, and under no control, are diving in all over the pool, and not even giving the would-be champs a clear period, for training.

HAVE YOU ever seen a farm without a barn? No? Then you should come to Alberta where some of the finest farms, and biggest earners, are tearing down their barns!

What the farm now needs is a sort of workshop—combination garage, power house and machine on a smaller scale.

One good farmer near here sold his old barn to the local town curling rink. They were going to use the material to line their building, before insulation. But meantime the farmer needed a place to dry out his damp grain. The old barn is it.

THE ELEVATORS are chuck full now with the 1951 crop and there is bound to be an even worse congestion than last year when the new crop begins to pour in. All indications are the crop will be excellent.

One hard headed farmer gives one hard-headed explanation. It is not the fault of the railways, he says. Farmers used to feed one third of their crop to their own animals. Now, with the replacement of the horse by the tractor, on most farms, one third more of the total crop has to be shipped out.

THEY are cutting too many trees down in Alberta to make more farm land. I see with my own eyes what I saw up in Saskatchewan in the early thirties—slaughter of woodlots—penny wise and pound foolish. No wonder their lake levels are falling.

Last Rites Held For Churchworker

Funeral was held this afternoon of a city pioneer who was well known for her part in community work. Services for Mrs. Robert Wilson, 1143 Ambrose Avenue, were held from First United Church, the Rev. L. G. Sieber officiating.

Mrs. Wilson, who was 72, died last Friday. She was for several years organist of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Port Arthur, Ontario, before coming here 32 years ago, and later was pianist for the East United Church here. She was active in ladies' aid and church work and during World War Two knitted baby layettes for both the Red Cross and the IODE.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Wilson is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Sidney (Jean) Elkins, Prince Rupert, and Mrs. E. C. (Wilma) Brown of Vernon who, with her family, arrived here by car for the funeral. There are six grandchildren.

Hymns sung during the service were "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Unto the Hills."

Pallbearers were C. H. Elkins, Eugene Holliston, J. E. Davey, Peter Ferguson, A. C. Crompt and George Scott.

Burial was at Fairview cemetery.

BRITISH LEAD
LONDON — The British tanker fleet that was badly ravaged in the last war once again has taken the world lead. In the first six months this year British tanker tonnage rose by 225,000 tons to a total of 7,145,180, or 22.9 per cent of the world total. The American tanker fleet was estimated at 22.6 per cent.

Be Careful When Flying Kite; May Turn Out Flying Saucer

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Military officials here were interested when Daly Neil Bolling, 14, reported seeing a flying saucer chasing a plane and in turn being chased by another plane.

Marine intelligence officers gave the answer yesterday.

The "saucer" was a sleeve target used by aircraft for machine-gun practice. The plane it "chased" actually was towing it. And the plane "chasing" the saucer really was following the target to fire at it.

Arch Rivals in Majors Divide Doubleheader

NEW YORK (CP)—The pennant-stretch battle between Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants resulted in a saw-off Wednesday as the National League arch rivals divided a doubleheader.

Dodgers staggered to a 5-4 victory in the first game, a daylight affair, which lasted three hours, 17 minutes, and was a see-saw battle. But Giants came back in the night game to win 8-4. That left New York trailing the leaders by nine games.

Clint Hartung atoned for a two-run error by driving in three runs on a pair of doubles and a single to pace the Giants to a floodlight triumph.

The lead switched several times in the first game. Pee Wee Reese's first hit in 18 trips, a single to left in the eighth, drove home Gill Hodges with the winning run for reliever Joe Black. Hodges opened with a single and took second on Black's sacrifice after Al Dark robbed Bill Cox of a hit with a stumbling stop behind second and a good throw. Reese singled home Hodges.

Firemen Tie Nameless Nine for First Spot

Firemen moved into first place in the city softball league last night by defeating league-leading Number Ones 4-2, although the Smokies still lag by 36 percentage points.

It was Firemen's 10th win against four losses, and No. 1's nine wins against three defeats. Art Olson, pitching strong ball for the winners, gave up seven well-scattered hits, walked one and struck out five.

Pitching for the losers, Don Scherk allowed four runs on only four hits—all for extra bases. He walked seven men, two of whom scored.

Firemen scored first in the second inning when Currie walked. Webster reached first on an error and Carlson doubled them both home.

After four scoreless innings, Number Ones tied the Smokies when Sid Scherk doubled. Brother Don singled and Ray Spring lined out another double to bring both home.

Firemen wrapped up the game in the seventh and last frame with Macphee gaining first on a free ticket and an Olson double for run number one. Ken Dallyn's double scored Olson.

For Firemen, Glen Carlson's big hit scored two rbi's and for Number Ones, Don Scherk picked up two hits for three times at the plate.

Treasure of Louis XIV Rest in River Mud

HAVRE, France (Reuters)—A French salvage firm is preparing to dredge from the mud and sand of the Seine estuary a fabulous treasure worth the entire fortune of France's King Louis XIV and his Queen Marie Antoinette.

The royal treasure, said to be worth $280,000, was a gift to Marie, was hidden in the 130-ton brig Telephos when she was swallowed up in a storm only 200 yards from the village of Wullshausen in 1790. Unsuccessful attempts to find the brig were made in 1843 and 1938.

More Money Asked By U.K. Doctors

LONDON (CP)—The average net income of 19,580 British family doctors will amount to £2240 each during the current year, it is estimated by the Ministry of Health. The figure includes receipts from the National Health Service as well as private practice.

The information is disclosed in a memorandum on supplementary estimates of £35,456,000 Parliament will be asked to approve covering additional payments to medical practitioners under a recent award. For 1952 alone the award calls for distribution of an extra £10,743,000.

Turns Down $120,000 for Stamp

VIENNA (Reuters)—Newspapers here report that an Austrian woman who claims to have the oldest postage stamp in the world has turned down an offer of $120,000 for it. The paper Neuses Oesterreich said she is dickered around a figure of $155,000 with Swiss and Austrian dealers. She refuses to disclose her name or how she got the stamp. A panel of experts claim it is authentic, issued 1830—10 years before the British "Penny Black," hitherto acclaimed as the first official government-backed postage stamp.

BERTON, Ont. (CP)—A raccoon found in the woods of a deserted house has a pet on the farm of Dukekelow in this district north of Toronto. The man and his wife named the raccoon "Bobby" and raised him on a diet of milk, bread and apples. The raccoon plays with the dog and a cat around the house. Bobby spends most of his time in the fields with Dukekelow on the tractor. He sleeps in a tree handy to the door, where the raccoon comes from.

Volunteers Cross River

LOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—Some 700 miles north of Inuvik are building a marine railway on the Yellowknife River. The railway 11 miles long is designed to help prospectors and tourists, facilitate the 425-foot portage into the lake. Prosperous and attractive lakes. Besides attractors, the lakes are lined with prospectors' claims. The railway is being built through rapids in the Yellowknife river so that boatsmen can push their craft up a small wooden cart. The lakes beyond the portage are several upsets this year. Attempts to shoot a small group of citizens to start the project.

Lines offered support for the rail and the push of materials were floated in the woods and ties are being cut.

French Climbers Try African Mountains

Freighter Sunk by Guns
Salvaged in Halifax Port

HALIFAX (C)—A freighter sunk by naval gunfire in Halifax harbor, after catching fire while loading ammunition for a convoy in the last war, now is being salvaged for scrap.

Ironically, a team of German divers is doing the job. They are a father-and-sons combination headed by Karl Ross, 57-year-old veteran with 30 years' diving experience. His sons Karlheinz and Egon are the fourth generation of their family to follow the same vocation.

Working 60 feet down in the harbor, the three operate in shafts, breaking up the freighter Trongate with explosives and torches. While one is below, the others keep sharp watch from a tender, maintaining continuous conversation with the man below as a safety check.

Karlheinz handled the first part of the Trongate job, cutting a 30-foot section of the bow free from the remainder of the vessel. Egon was assigned the next cutting duties and then father will go to work.

Two other men, not divers, round out the crew. They are Henry Weiland and Ernest Schmitt.

Diving jobs previously have taken the Ross family to the waters of Norway, Spain and Sweden, but this is their first assignment in Canada.

VICTORIA, B.C. (C)—Fate of a famous "Pot of Gold" tea set manufactured in England for a British Columbia firm is a puzzle since King Farouk was ousted from the Egyptian throne.

J. Courtney Haddock, director of a department store here, said the tea set made by English master craftsmen to the order of his firm had been sold instead to Farouk. He estimated the set, which contains 400 ounces of gold, was worth $110,000.

While the monetary value of the set is not a record for such fine pieces of English craftsmanship, this particular design was described here as a masterpiece.

VANDALS DESTROY OLD WRITINGS

CHURCHILL, Man. (C)—Vandals some time during the last year have mutilated historic writings and inscriptions dating from 1741 to late in the 18th century. In one case brown paint was daubed over the signature of Samuel Hearne, famous northern explorer.

French expeditions have always combined science with mountain climbing. The Club Alpin, of which all the Kenya party are members, has a scientific commission of 70 mountaineer scholars which collates geological, botanical and glaciological information obtained in the course of expeditions.

What makes the difference?

One cheese sandwich can look just like another... but the flavor can be deliciously better, thanks to hearty Chateau! The secret of Chateau's taste-tempting mellowness is a master blending of fine Canadian Cheddar with thick, fresh cream. It's a real cheese flavor... that makes the tempting difference in cheese dishes, sandwiches, salads, snacks.
