CAR SMASHED THIS MORNING

Impact With Electric Lights Put City in Darkness For Half an Hour

ONE IS IN HOSPITAL

James H. Dutton is in the hospital suffering from bad cuts on his head; J. A. Normand and William Cooper received less serious head injuries which necessitated dressing at the hospital; A. G. Bowie was shaken up; an automobile was wrecked and the electric lights in the downtown section of the city went out for half an hour as a result of a motor smash about 3.30 this morning when a taxicab (motor license No. B.C. 20-178, driven by Normand, careened at full speed into an electric light pole at the corner of Third Avenue and Seventh Street.

Sent to Hospital According to the report to the city police entered by Sergeant A. H. Bailey, who was on duty at the time, he received a call to the scene of the accident at 3.35 a.m. just a few minutes after the lights in the station had gone out. On arrival at the corner of Third Avenue and Seventh Street, he found the automobile smashed and three of the four occupants of the car cut in various places. Some of them had been rendered unconscious. They were sent to the hospital. Dutton was badly cut on the head; Normand was also cut on the head, and Cooper was bleeding from the head.

The impact of the car striking the pole was so great that it pushed the pole over in a slanting position and tore it away from the wires above. The arc light on the pole dropped and smashed in the roof of the car. The front of the automobile was also smashed in and the engine displaced. Ernest Love, superintendent of utilities, was immediately notified as high voltage wires were lying around and the lights were out. Mr. Love expressed wonder that someone had not been electrocuted. In half an hour connections were restored, the pole being put back in position later in the morning.

Sergeant Bailey, after leaving the scene of the accident, proceeded to the hospital and Dr. Tremayne arrived shortly afterwards to attend the injured men. Dutton was losing a lot of blood and was kept in the hospital. Cooper and Normand were sent home two hours later.

Made Statement In a statement to the police, Normand stated that he had picked up the three men at the St. Regis Cafe to take them home. Just before reaching the corner where the accident occurred, the man sitting next to him (Normand) grabbed the wheel of the car and turned it sharply to the right, resulting in the accident. The driver was knocked unconscious and was not able to remember anything further with regard to the accident.

FORTY DEEP-SEA VESSELS A MONTH

Over $12,000,000 Paid Out Annually in Freight, Stevedoring and Towing Charges

The lumber export business of British Columbia has increased ten fold in ten years.

For the twenty years previous to 1913 the yearly shipments of British Columbia lumber averaged around 52,000,000 feet per annum. In 1923 the export rose to 521,000,000 feet.

This figure does not include 233,000,000 feet of unmanufactured logs, 1,600,000 bundles of shingles, 15,000,000 feet of box shooks, 213 tons sash and doors, 1,500,000 feet poles, 130,000 bales of pulpwood and a large amount of newsprint.

50 Per Cent Garry Lumber About 480 deep sea vessels loaded wholly or partly with forest products at B.C. ports during 1923. This represents about 50 per cent of the freighters calling here. These ships paid dues on a total dead weight of not less than 2,500,000 tons.

The sum paid out to the steamship companies as freight on these commodities calculated at current rates exceeded $10,000,000.

In addition to Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster and Prince Rupert, in which lumber overwhelmingly predominates as export cargo originating in British Columbia, there are at least ten progressive ports in the province which are wholly dependent on their shipments of wood products for their existence. These are Chemainus, Genoa Bay, Nanose, Port Alberni, Massett, Sydney and the important pulpwood shipping centres of Powell River, Ocean Falls, Swanson Bay and Port Alice.

Keeps Waterfront Busy It is safe to say that but for the timber industries of British Columbia half of the present tonnage would stay away from Vancouver and our main ports and that the efficient maintenance of our harbors would be a very serious problem without the revenue their visit entails. Moreover, a considerable amount of money is spent by each of these vessels when in port in repairs and in the purchases of marine supplies.

Movement Is Still Toward The Cities.

The movement to the south across the boundary line is largely a result of the trend of movement to the big cities. Life in the city looks easy to the toiler on the farm. There is inspiration in companionship and the life in the crowded centres has a glamor for the young people on the farm.

Cities are growing and in some places the country is being denuded. In the Canadian west there are only half a dozen cities to which a young person with ambition can go, the result is that they pass the boundary into Uncle Sam's land.

New Citizens Are Taking Their Places.

While many young Canadians, especially those who have been educated at the universities, are going south, many new citizens are coming to Canada. Great Britain is sending a goodly quota and there are many coming from Northern Europe. The farm lands of Canada look good to them and conditions here are much better than those they are leaving behind.

The new citizens are welcome, for we have the resources and it would be nothing short of wicked to keep them from those who would use them. By populating the waste lands we are making the conditions of life for everyone better. The long stretches of country will not seem so great once they are populated.

Prince Rupert Will Gain From Settlements.

Prince Rupert stands to gain everything from the settling up of the country. The more people there are in the north, the more prosperity we shall have. It is because of the sparse population that we have so little business and so little influence politically and otherwise. Give us population and we shall have a big city. The first thing is to populate the lands of the interior, to utilize our forests, to make the most of our fish, to snatch the precious metals from the mines and in doing so we shall build up our own city and make it a good place in which to live.

Doing Our Bit In Work Of Country.

It is a great thing to feel that we are doing our bit in the development of the country. Many Prince Rupert people will feel a pride in the place because they see something which they have done there. So it is in other centres of the north. We all feel a pride in our work. It is worth a lot to live in a place which is being built and to feel that in the building we have done a not unimportant part.

Church Union Seems Difficult To Carry.

Most surprising opposition has arisen to the proposal to unite the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches and, even if the union is formally carried, which at present seems extremely doubtful, the Presbyterian church will still be carried on by the remnant that refuses to join with the others.

When the proposal to unite was made, many did not realize what strenuous objections would be taken to the movement. The result is that some who were at one time strongly in favor of union are today lukewarm or antagonistic to it.

ROTARY CLUB NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED

Take Office with Dr. W. T. Kargin at Head Following Valedictory by Dr. Grant.

Yesterday at the Rotary Club former President Hugh Grant gave his valedictory address to the members and President W. T. Kargin took over the office and asked for the support of the members. Other officers also took charge of their different departments.

Dr. Grant reviewed the work of the past year and urged some improvements. He suggested that in the coming year the program should be provided more by members of the club than by outsiders as this would benefit the members and would prove helpful all round. Some of the addresses given by members, he thought, were equal to anything given by visitors.

He urged members not to forget that this was a service club as well as a luncheon club. He congratulated the new president on being chosen unanimously by the members and also spoke of the other officers and their duties. He urged more frequent meetings of committees and closing by thanking the members for their kindness to him while in office and for their courtesy and support.

Dr. W. T. Kargin said he appreciated the honor that had been bestowed on him, but thought it was difficult to follow such men as those who had gone before. He would do his best during the coming year and asked for the support of all the members.

STORY OF SEA AND LOVE AND FATE IN WEEK END PICTURE

Anna Christie Tells of Life Which Few in Prince Rupert Can Appreciate

The feature picture, Anna Christie, to be shown tonight and tomorrow at the local theatre, is dramatic and unusual.

The sea furnishes Christopher Christopherson with his only means of livelihood, but for generations it has taken its toll in human life. Brothers, uncles—then his two little sons—have been drowned. His wife dies that in the coming year the port, penitent at having spent for drink money that was to have paid his passage back to Sweden. In his befogged mind, he imagines that the sea holds an evil power over its followers. He grows to have an intense loathing for all things connected with the sea.

He leaves his baby daughter, Anna, with relatives on a farm in Minnesota, believing she will have the protection that his wandering life makes it impossible for him to give her.

Drudge on Farm

During her childhood and girlhood, Anna works as a drudge on the farm, cooped up on land when her blood burns for the freedom of the seas. As an ignorant and innocent girl of sixteen, she is forged into a morbid underworld existence by the infidelity of one of her cousins.

Years later, after a serious illness, Anna goes to New York to look up her father, on the chance that he will "stake her to a room and eat" until she can get work. It is a strange meeting of father and daughter in "Johnny-the-Priest's" saloon in lower New York, after their fifteen years separation. Both are ignorant of the other's past—Chris childishly secure in his trust in Anna, Anna distrustful of everyone.

Days spent on Chris' coal barge perform a miracle for Anna. Out of the sunshine and moonlight and fog of the ocean a new spirit is born in her. When she falls in love with a good-hearted young Irish stoker, Matt Burke, who boards their barge when his ship is wrecked, Chris renews his half-crazed tirades against the sea and swears that no sailor shall marry his Anna.

Fearful Fight

A climax is reached when Anna acknowledges her love for Matt, refusing to become his wife. He thinks it is fear of her father that holds her back, takes things into his own hands and arranges for their marriage when the boat docks the next day. Out of a howling storm Matt breezes into the cabin the next night with ring and marriage license, and finds Chris waiting for him grasping the handle of a knife thrust in his belt. Anna interrupts the almost fatal fight that follows, and with fierce defiance turns to Matt and tells him that whatever happens he is to remember that he is the only man she ever loved. With grim determination she relates the sordid details of her girlhood—of her love that was too big to let her deceive the man she cared for even though it deprived her of happiness. Old Chris is completely broken. The effect on Matt is totally different. Wounded pride, perhaps at being deceived, coupled with his really big love for Anna, makes him wild with anger.

At the zero hour, when Anna needs companionship most, her father again fails her.

To Rescue

After fruitless hours of waiting in the hope that Matt might return, she turns to the sea for the solution of her problem. Chris interferes and takes her back to the barge.

Spent with debauchery and grief, Matt returns to Anna with the confession of love that he has been unable to destroy.

SHIPPING LUMBER TO ATLANTIC COAST

VICTORIA, May 8.—To load 1,500,000 feet of lumber from local mills the s.s. Ethelfreda has arrived here. The Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Co. will load approximately 1,000,000 feet while the Cameron Lumber Co. will load 500,000 feet. The consignment is for delivery at New York and Boston.

Practically the last of the lumber export orders will be completed this month, it was announced at the local mills this morning. The only market with a demand now is the Atlantic seaboard, and prices are being slashed at such a rate that it is hardly worth while taking the orders.

Until the Australian market returns again the local export market will be practically inactive. Very little is expected at present from the Japanese market as the yen is still falling. The Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company reports that the last export order will be 270,000 feet of lumber on the American.

Here and There

For the first time in Ontario, an attempt will be made this spring to organize a voluntary egg pool. Arrangements for the undertaking have been completed by the United Farmers' Co-operative Company, and it is hoped to control absolutely the egg market in the province.

During the year 1923, 2,380 tourist automobiles entered the province of Nova Scotia, the Land of Evangeline, according to the annual report of the Nova Scotia Tourist Commission. Altogether 63,000 tourists visited the province and distributed a sum estimated at $6,000,000.

A picked detachment of an officer and ten men of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police recently crossed the Atlantic on the Canadian Pacific liner Melita. Their duty will be to guard the Canadian exhibits at the British Empire Exhibition. The Exhibition and buildings cost about $200,000,000.

A chain of factories stretching across Canada will be established by the Dominion Tar and Paper Company, sponsored by English interests. This was announced by the Earl of Dunmore, V.O., and Sir Harold Botton after a recent visit to Canada. Sites have already been secured in Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Toronto.

Canada's trade balance is being steadily maintained, for, according to the February returns, just issued, the imports for that month, which totalled $62,133,882, showed a decrease of $3,173,814, from the same month last year, while the reports for February this year, totalling $67,274,543, showed an increase of $9,618,382.

Hon. George H. Henry, Ontario minister of public works and highways, has announced a change in the method of financing the planting of trees along public highways. Instead of sending out its own workmen, he says, the Government has a scheme whereby farmers plant trees in front of their own property will be bonused so much per tree for planting.

Over $1,000 has been paid by the Province of New Brunswick in wild cat bounties since the commencement of the present fiscal year. Already approximately 400 claims for the $3 bounty offered for each animal have been handled by the chief game warden's branch of the Department of Lands and Forests, as compared with the 91 claims made in 1923, following the bounty offer passed by the legislature in that year.

The splendid success attained by irrigationists in Alberta is evidenced by the last financial statement of the Taber Irrigation District. The report reveals a total surplus collectable or on hand of $20,000, of which $7,000 is on deposit in the bank. Operations have been so satisfactory that negotiations have been entered into with the Canadian Pacific Railway to set up a sinking fund of $3,000 to $5,000 to redeem bonds of the district held by the railway. In this way it is hoped that the district will be cleared of debt in a few years.

The Canadian Pacific Railway announces that it will resume its winter cruises in 1925, one round the world and the other to the Mediterranean. The 22,000-ton Empress of France has been selected for the former cruise, which will last four months and will completely encircle the globe. She will start from New York on January 27th. The ship has been recently converted into an oil-burner and entirely renovated. The Empress of Scotland, 42,500 tons, will make the Mediterranean cruise, lasting four months and including all points of interest on that sea.

The Trans-Canada Limited, the crack daily train of the Canadian Pacific between Montreal and Vancouver, and the longest distance and fastest long-distance express in the world, will resume service May 18th at both ends of the route. The running time between Montreal and Vancouver, formerly 92 hours, has been cut by two hours and the running time between Toronto and Vancouver, formerly 85 hours and 50 minutes, by one hour and 15 minutes. These cuts will benefit those going to Europe and the Orient.

BRINGING UP FATHER

HEAD OF ARMY IS AN ATHLETE

Commander Evangeline Booth Rides Horseback, Swims Like a Seal, Skates, and Sleeps Outdoors

Those who are interested in the Salvation Army and its work, may be interested to know that its head, Commander Evangeline Booth, was a cripple child suffering from curvature of the spine and that after being given up by all the doctors she cured herself by taking exercise and living the outdoor life. The story of this is told this month in Physical Culture.

Today Commander Booth rides horseback, sleeps in the open summer and winter, plays tennis, and in summer her bathing suit is never dry while in winter she keeps fit by skating. She says she likes to swim a mile or two across the river and breakfast on the other side. She once swam five miles in rough water, and one of the feats she has accomplished is swimming a mile or two while at the same time writing a letter without letting the paper get wet.

As well as living this strenuous life Commander Booth does an immense amount of work. She addresses meetings where thousands of people have gathered. In order to do this she finds it necessary to regulate her food, avoiding meats as much as possible and eating largely fish, vegetables and boiled rice. She says:

"Overeating is one of the great curses of modern living. I can sense a deep relationship between digestion and politics, and I know that all too often the fate of nations swing in the balance of a surgical operation. Statesmen who are weaving the destinies of nations neglect their own systems and many times when a man is at the height of his career and fashioning policies that will aid suffering humanity, his stomach succumbs to nights of heavy and wrong eating and all his nascent achievements perish on the operating table. Historians call it fate, but those who can read between the lines know it was a case of misdirected appetite."

WAS CONSTIPATED FOR SEVERAL YEARS

If you have suffered from constipation for years, tried all kinds of remedies without getting relief, if you have been subject to all the miseries associated with constipation, wouldn't you consider it a blessing to be able to keep the bowels regular and in a good healthy condition and prevent disease getting a foothold on your system?

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are indicated just for this purpose; their regular use relieving the worst cases of constipation. Mr. M. Hedican, Sudbury, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with constipation for several years. I began to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and find them to be the best remedy I have ever used for regulating the bowels and liver. I always keep them now and recommend them highly."

anceance of fans. Both teams were playing their first game of the season. The Sons exhibited some nice combination work and were generally more effective than their opponents, the margin of their win being fully justified.

Playing downhill, the Canucks scored three points in the first half and the Vets did not tally. In the second half, the Sons made another three and the Veterans scored their two. S. Erskine made four for the Sons, Eddie Smith one and J. Marks, one. T. Ashley was responsible for both the Veterans' goals.

G. S. Russell refereed and the linesmen were Fred Hardy and George Kelsey.

The teams took the field as follows: G.W.V.A.—J. Knox; C. Garney and J. Hunter; F. Roberts, W. Murray and D. Corker; V. Meagher, S. Smith, T. Ashley, J. Johnson and G. Findlay.

ALICE ARM ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING

Outlook for Baseball at Mining Camp is Very Good This Year Owing to Progress There

(Special to Daily News)

ALICE ARM, May 9.—The annual meeting of the Alice Arm Athletic Association was held here Monday. Much enthusiasm was shown, and an active campaign was scheduled for the coming season. The outlook for baseball is particularly good, as the rapid filling up of the town, together with the large numbers of men in the adjacent camps, makes available a large amount of material. A committee was appointed to arrange a program for the coming 24th of May. The officers elected for the coming year were T. W. Falconer, president, and C. Drennan, Secretary-Treasurer. H. Mann was selected as manager for the ball team.

As soon as weather permits, prospective lacrosse players are to turn out for practice on the court house grounds. Shortly there will be another meeting of the Association to line up the schedule for the season. It is the intention of the lacrosse executive to use the court house grounds for its games this year. They will share up this venue with the youngsters who have also been given permission to use it. Some improvements are to be made to the surface before the games commence.

A baseball league is being organized by the Americans of Constantinople. It will be a four team league from the employees of the American Express Company, Standard Oil Company, Robert College and the U.S. Station ship Scorpion. Seven nationalities are represented in the Robert College team.

The All Star Canadian soccer team, which arrived in Sydney, Australia at the first of the week, will play the first game of its Antipodean tour tomorrow at Sydney. The Canucks have had all week to become acclimatized and limber up and they are confident of their abilities to handle everything that offers. They were given a civic reception at Sydney on Monday last.

FARM CHILDREN ARE FREE FROM DISEASE

Only Ten Per Cent Have Tuberculosis Infection Compared With Much Higher Number in Cities. ATLANTA, May 7.—The results of the examination of 1465 school children in four prosperous farming countries of Minnesota show that only a little over ten per cent of these children showed positive signs of tuberculosis infection. This statement made by Dr. S. A. Slater, superintendent of the Southwestern Minnesota Sanatorium at Worthington, Minn., is, as pointed out by him, in sharp contrast with the results obtained by investigators in large cities where as many as 98 per cent of the children examined were found to be infected.

POLICE BOARD MET YESTERDAY

Red Light Proposal Given Moist—Motorcycle to be Sold—Caps Instead of Helmets

The regular monthly meeting of the police commission was held yesterday afternoon in the city council chamber. The three commissioners—Mayor Newton, H. W. Cameron and W. H. Montgomery—were present. Business was largely of a routine nature.

The chief's report for the month of April showed there had been 29 cases in the police court during the month. These resulted in 26 convictions and three dismissals. Intoxication was the principal offence, there being 18 such cases. The total collections for the department were $321.50 including $4.50 for keep of provincial prisoners, the balance being made up of fines. Accounts for the month totalled $116.25 and the payroll was $778.

There was some discussion of the trust account kept by Chief Vickers in which police collections are deposited and from which ready cash required is drawn. Questions asked by Mayor Newton were answered satisfactorily.

John Ogilvie of Edmonton, with experience on the Edmonton city police force and also with the Canadian National railways, applied for a position as constable. The application was referred to the chief.

Light Scheme Moist

Ex-mayor Rochester's red light system for patrol purposes was given a moist. After a brief discussion, Commissioner Montgomery moved and Commissioner Cameron seconded that it be laid on the table until it was required. Chief Vickers was not very enthusiastic about the scheme.

Chief Vickers reported to the commission that the motorcycle purchased some time ago by the city and used by Constable Macdonald was not suitable here and was of no actual service. It was decided that the machine be sold to the best advantage.

Chief Vickers reported that coal and bread weights had been tested frequently and found correct. A suggestion was put forward by Mayor Newton that all coal should go over the city weigh scales. The idea was abandoned when it was pointed out that it would probably increase the cost to the consumer.

To Wear Caps

A request from the officers of the force that they be allowed to wear caps instead of helmets was acceded to. It was pointed out by the chief that local climatic conditions made caps preferable to helmets.

Congestion of automobiles in the downtown section was discussed but it was deemed that the establishment of parking areas was not yet necessary.

Commissioner Montgomery asked if the curfew regulations were being enforced. It was suggested that steps be taken immediately in this direction if found necessary. The curfew law provides that all children under the age of 13 must be off the streets by 8.30 in the winter and 10 in the summer. Notification of the hour is given through the tolling of the fire bell.

Pioneer Spirit Is Still At Work.

President of Canadian Pacific Tells His Officers of Railway's Efforts in Nation-Building—The C.P.R. and Politics—Good Wishes for the C.N.R.

E. W. BEATTY, PRESIDENT C.P.R.

With the exception of the Canadian Parliament at Ottawa, there seldom comes together in this country a group of men so thoroughly representative of all Canada as met in the city of Quebec recently when 650 of the higher officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway gathered for one of their periodical conferences.

They came from every part of Canada and, dealing as they do, with every phase of Canadian industry and trade, they represented to a remarkable extent the progress and development which Canada is now enjoying.

The close of the gathering was marked by a speech from President E. W. Beatty, which set forth in illuminating terms the present position of the great company and something of the lines along which it is pursuing the task for which it was first constructed, namely the building of a great Canadian nation.

Mr. Beatty began with a tribute to the bold enterprising men who, under such leaders as Champlain, and within sight and sound of the Chateau Frontenac where he was then speaking, had laid the first foundations of nationhood.

The spirit of Champlain did not die in 1635, he said, it carried on through the centuries, cleared the forests, tilled the land, founded cities, established routes of trade and commerce, constructed railways and steamships and was today seen wherever Canadian men and women were at the work of nation-building. It was this spirit that had built the Canadian Pacific.

Mr. Beatty's utterance on the matter of politics was as frank as it was important. He said: "Every Canadian is naturally concerned with national politics, whether they emanate from one political party or another, and the Company because of its tremendous stake in the country and the fact that it is a trustee of hundreds of millions of British, Canadian and American capital, jealously guards those interests against unfairness or the adoption of any politics calculated to destroy the integrity of those investments. When I say that, however I have said all. The company is not in politics and I would suggest that it has little, if any, political influence. No officer or employee of the Company has, in my recollection, and certainly not in recent years, been ever asked or requested to discharge his own belief and save according to his own belief and we propose that they shall be left with that freedom unembarrassed by our own views or predilections."

Mr. Beatty's reference to the national system of railways was equally frank and timely. He pointed out the peculiar anomaly that: "The less profitable are the operations of the National Railway System the greater the taxes of the Canadian Pacific, and if the National Railways prosper through diversion of traffic from the Canadian Pacific, we lose in revenue more than we gain in taxes."

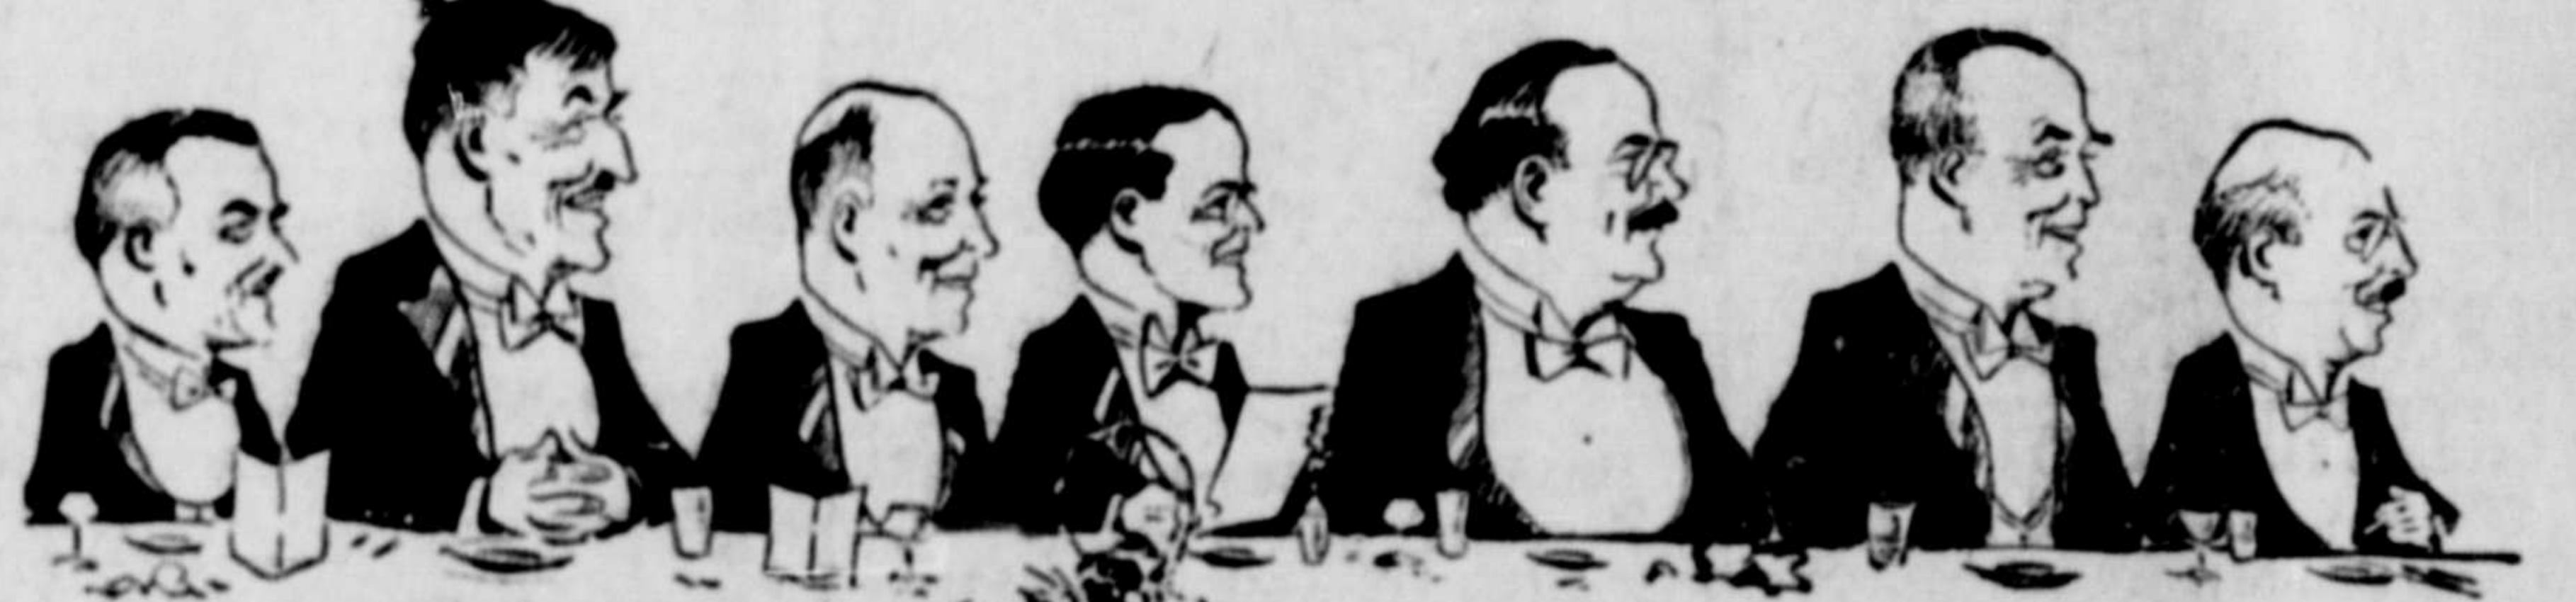

He further said: "We may conclude that the test of government ownership is being made under as favorable conditions as can be secured. The railway mileage of the country is proportionately greater than the traffic available to support it. This Company has a very real reason to hope for the success of the National Railways, provided it is accomplished without withdrawing from us the traffic which we have taken so many years to build up and secure. The greatest factor which will contribute to the development of Canada, the increase in population and the expansion of industries. If, by a happy combination of these factors the progress of the National Railways continues, I, for one, will be very glad because it will carry with it the assurance that Canadian Pacific progress will be still greater in the future than in the past.

The greatness of a railway is accurately gauged by the character of the men it produces. No other institution in the country has produced so many outstanding men in their various communities. I speak not merely of such as Sir William Van Horne and Lord Shaughnessy, I speak of hundreds of C.P.R. officers who have so finely served the Company and the Country. Owing to these men, the Canadian Pacific has not been merely a machine for earning revenues. It has been the dynamic force in the life and progress of Canada, settling vacant lands, fostering new industries, developing latent resources, opening up markets, introducing outside capital, bringing in as tourists or immigrants vast armies of purchasers to consume her produce.

The C.P.R. man is inspired by the thought that without the Canadian Pacific Railway, Confederation would never have been agreed to in principle, and would never have been maintained in actual fact. The present King of England while Prince of Wales said: "We all know how the Canadian Pacific Railway has helped to make a Nation." That knowledge accounts more than anything else for the magnificent record and the splendid spirit of the officers of this Company.

Providing our politics are conceived in wisdom and executed with vigor, we have the assurance of great national development and commercial prosperity. All we can expect is sharing in the development, because we are Canadians, and because the future of this Company is inextricably connected with the future of our great Dominion."

TENNIS DANCE AT ALICE ARM

Number of Special Features at Intervals Made Nice Variety

(Special to Daily News)

ALICE ARM, May 9. — The annual dance of the Alice Arm Tennis Club, ushering in the 1924 season, was held in the Alice Arm Hotel Tuesday evening. The spacious dining room was thrown open and a crowded house tripped the light fantastic to the strains of the "Big Six" orchestra. Interspersed throughout the evening were several entertaining features which were thoroughly enjoyed by the dancers. Among the outstanding features of the evening were the dancing of classic numbers by the Frugy Sisters—Irone and Kathryn—in costume and with special music. H. Burmeister sang "I Love You Truly" and "Boy of Mine" with pleasing effect. Mrs. J. Laidlaw and C. Dreeman in full Highland regalia accompanied piper N. McLeod through various Scottish reels and fantasias.

A most excellent supper was served, and when it was "three o'clock in the morning" the dance was adjourned, everyone saying it was the best ever, and voting their special thanks to the "Big Six" orchestra; C. Hutchinson, clarionette, leader, Mrs. T. W. Falconer, piano; L. Falconer, violin; Mrs. J. Laidlaw, saxophone; L. Johnson, accordion; J. Fiva, guitar.

VICTORIA TIMES ON POLITICAL SITUATION

Victoria Paper Thinks People of Province in no Mood to Daily With Experimenters

We see Mr. Bowser leading a dubious and hopeless aggregation seeking to regain office because it is ever the function of an opposition to aspire says the Victoria Times. We see ambitious men under General McTear seeking office because of a desire for prestige horn of wealth. But there is nothing in the deeds or misdeeds of the Government in power strong enough to overcome personal divisions, with the result that there is a condition, in which "each of these parties is undervaluing the strength of its opponents."

The people of British Columbia trying to pay up and clear up the legacies left them by the administration which operated and exploited them before 1916, have memories too long to think seriously of calling back to power the remnants of the party responsible for that record. And now just when the Province is getting back on its feet after the results of that debacle, they are in no mood to dally with fanciful experiments of the type of the McTear faction, especially when the selfish objects of these gentlemen in seeking office are becoming apparent to all.

MAY BE PEOPLE LIVING ON MARS

Earth is Approaching That Body and Possibility of Signals is Again Discussed

The coming near approach of Mars to the earth raises again the question of whether life as we know it exists on our neighbor world. Of all the problems which confront modern astronomers, this is the one which makes the biggest appeal to the average man. Granted that life probably exists on our neighbor world, is there any possibility that we may get into communication with the Martians? There are two methods which suggest themselves by which we might signal to Mars or the Martians to us. One is by means of wireless signals. It will be remembered that about two or three years ago Signor Marconi received curious messages which he could not understand, and for a time seemed to lean to the view that perhaps these had come from Mars. The evidence is much too slender on which to build such a theory. The Martian signals, being in another code, could not be understood by us, nor our signals by the Martians.

Magnesium Flares

The second possible method of signalling has long been discussed, and report has it that M. Flammarion, the veteran French astronomer, is planning to signal on a grand scale during the near approach of Mars in the autumn, using an Alpine glacier as a means of projecting magnesium flares. Professor Pickering showed some years ago that by the reflection of sunlight in a large mirror a signal could be produced which would be readily visible at the distance of Mars, and "would be dazzlingly conspicuous to Martian observers if they were intellectually and physically our equals."

For sixty years it has been recognized that of the planets in the solar system Mars is the most likely to be inhabited by beings akin to ourselves. Half a century ago the famous astronomer Proctor described Mars as "the miniature of our earth." At that time the blue-green areas on the Martian surface were taken to be oceans, while the reddish color of the "continental" areas was explained by the peculiar tint of the vegetation. "Shall we recognise in Mars," wrote Proctor, "all that makes our own world so well fitted to our wants—land and water, mountain and valley, cloud and sunshine, rain and ice and snow, rivers and lakes, ocean currents and wind currents—without believing further in the existence, either now or in the past or in the future, of many forms of life?"

Miniature Earth

The conception of Mars as a miniature edition of the earth, however, received a rude shock at the hands of Schiaparelli and his successors in Martian research. Schiaparelli's detection of the famous canals was followed by his equally significant discovery of changes in the so-called seas—changes of tint and alterations in the position of their boundaries. His investigations weakened the belief of astronomers in the aqueous character of these markings. The coup de grace was given to the old theory by the work of Professor W. H. Pickering and the late Professor Lowell, who found that the canal-like markings traversed not only the reddish-octave "continental" areas, but the blue-green regions as well. Since 1894, accordingly, belief in the existence of Martian oceans has been abandoned, and we

WILL DRILL FOR OIL WAINWRIGHT FIELD

EDMONTON, May 7.—There is every likelihood that at least six drills will be at work in the Wainwright-Iram-Fabyan oil field this season, according to the best information available at the present time.

Newton W. Emmons, geologist for the British Petroleum company, whose strike last season created keen interest in the Wainwright area, stated that his company would have two drills in the field all season, working night and day. The location of No. 3 well of this company is on land the oil rights of which have been acquired by the British Petroleum, limited from the Baxter Lake Oil company. The land is school land, and the well will go down just four miles due north of Wainwright.

Camps are being built now for the drilling crews, who are now on their way from California under a season's engagement, and the company intend to go right ahead without intermission all season. "This year's work we hope will prove or disprove the Wainwright area as an oil producing field," said Mr. Emmons.
