TWO MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF DRUGS ARE SEIZED IN NEW YORK CITY

BODY FOUND ON SIDEWALK UNDER WINDOW

Word Received Here of Death of James M. Bacon, Formerly of This City

Word has been received by J. H. Pillsbury of this city of the death in New York City of James H. Bacon, who fell from a sixteen-story window and was killed. His body was found on the sidewalk beneath the offices formerly used by his brother, Henry Bacon, architect, who died last spring. He had been using these offices since.

Mr. Bacon was harbor engineer in charge of the townsite for the Grand Trunk Railway, left here in 1910 and had paid one or two visits to the place since. Since leaving here he had been in the lumber and general contracting business in the south Atlantic states associated with J. W. Moore, locating engineer on this end of the railway.

In spite of their protests we know that Bowser and his cohorts are opposed to Oliver and his freight rates campaign. To vote for any but an Oliver candidate is to vote against the interests of Prince Rupert.

EDITORIAL

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO PRINCE RUPERT?

What does the present election mean to Prince Rupert? It means that when we get the elevator, we do not want it to be a white elephant but a real live institution. We want a steady stream of grain to pass through it to the ships that will ply to the Orient and to Europe.

How are we to get that? By returning a supporter of Premier Oliver who will back him in his fight for lower freight rates. If Pattullo is defeated it would be an intimation to the Railway Commission and to the Dominion Government that this shipping port was not interested in the freight rates question.

It cannot be ignored that the securing of equitable freight rates is the one big issue of the present campaign and it will be so construed in the east. The only way to show the people there that we are a unit in demanding lower rates is to vote for the Oliver candidate, T. D. Pattullo.

In spite of their protests we know that Bowser and his cohorts are opposed to Oliver and his freight rates campaign.

To vote for any but an Oliver candidate is to vote against the interests of Prince Rupert.

POPULAR LOCAL GIRL MARRIED

Miss Gladys Orchard and Edward Mayon Wedded This Morning

A pretty wedding took place this morning at 10 o'clock in St. Andrew's Anglican Church when Archdeacon G. A. Rix united in marriage Miss Gladys Jessie Orchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Orchard, of this city, and Edward Mayon, son of the late E. Mayon of Liverpool, England, and Mrs. Mayon of Burnaby, B.C. Mrs. Rix played the wedding march while Mrs. D. Ross rendered a vocal solo during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charmingly attired in ivory brocaded charmeuse with veil of embroidered silk net arranged in cap fashion with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. Miss May Pringle, as bridesmaid, was gowned in mauve taffeta with georgette accordion pleated peas in pastel shades. J. Finnerty of Smithers acted as best man and A. Rix and G. Woodruff were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at Musgrave Place when Mrs. Orchard, gowned in black pan velvet with ermine furs, received the guests.

The rooms were effectively decorated with white and yellow flowers and greenery artistically combined to form an arch centered with a wedding bell under which the bride and groom received.

Assisting in serving the guests were a number of girl friends of the bride, including Mrs. S. W. Taylor, Mrs. D. Ross, Miss Marguerite Young, Miss Edith McCaul, Miss Ruby Scott, and Miss Helen Burnside.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayon left on the steamer Princess Louise for Alaska on their honeymoon trip, the bride travelling in a beige imported suit with hat of brown bocage and French flowers. On their return south the couple will reside in Vancouver.

A Solid North

Kergin of Atlin, Pattullo of Prince Rupert, Manson of Omineca, Perry of Prince George and Vorst of Cariboo by co-operation and unity of action were able to accomplish a great deal for Northern and Central British Columbia.

In the next House the North will be stronger by two seats, namely Skeena and Mackenzie, while Lillooet, adjoining Cariboo, seems certain to go over to the Liberal column.

These eight seats cover three-quarters of the area of British Columbia. By standing together, the representatives of these eight ridings can put up a strong front in the House.

As matters stand, the only way this can be accomplished is by the people electing eight Liberals, which there is every indication they are going to do.

The slogan for the North should be "A Solid North."

Stevens' Objection To Rates Reduction.

Oliver has been campaigning to secure for the province of British Columbia a reduction of freight rates. He has so far succeeded so well that, in the words of a prominent Vancouver Conservative, he has saved the people of the province four million dollars already in freight charges. He is continuing the fight with every prospect of success. He has secured the co-operation of the people of Alberta and Saskatchewan and united the forces in favor of equal rates for all parts of the country.

Then comes along that modern Don Quixote, Hon. H. H. Stevens, and objects to Oliver's method and says he has a method all his own for reducing the freight rates. He wants them low but not in the Oliver way.

As matter of fact Stevens is a C.P.R. man and he is fighting the battles of the big corporation. He is using his ability as a campaigner to try to flimflam the people into turning down the one champion they have. Oliver is the only man who has ever fought the freight rates question and who has ever done anything to bring it within the sphere of practical politics. If the other side were only jealous of his success, it would not matter much. The difficulty is that they are influenced by the interests that stand for keeping the rates high.

Mr. Stevens was a member of the government at Ottawa and prior to that he sat in the House of Commons for many years. During all that time nothing was heard from him in regard to these excessive rates. He has never made any effective move. Now he comes forward in opposition to Oliver's method, simply because Oliver's method has been the only effective method.

What Is Policy Of Conservative Party?

Saturday night there was a meeting called by the Bowser party presumably to lay before the people of Prince Rupert their policy which they will pursue. Apparently they do not expect to get into power because there was nothing said about what they would do if they attained office. They had no program. All that was said was to quibble over the manner in which affairs had been conducted. The policy was wholly destructive. There was nothing constructive about it.

Everyone knows, and none better than Mayor Newton, that the only party that has ever done anything worth mentioning for the workingmen of British Columbia has been the present administration of which T. D. Pattullo is a member. Nothing was said of this splendid record Saturday night. Why? Because the opposition here is not honest with the people. It is simply an attempt to deceive. They never acknowledge that the present administration has done anything good and because of that dishonest method of stating their position, the people here will have none of them.

Look Through Newton's Speech In This Issue.

Electors are urged to look through the speech of Mayor Newton which he delivered here on Saturday night and a good report of which is published in this paper today. Let the electors ask themselves if they think it is a fair presentation of the political situation. Not one here, be he ever so partisan, will dare to say he thinks it is. It is the grumbling of a disgruntled and disappointed politician and will carry little weight with those who are making up their minds how to vote on Friday next.

LUMBERING PROVIDES THE RAILROADS WITH HALF OF FREIGHT TRAFFIC
$1,000 Cars Needed to Handle
British Columbia's Rail
Shipments of Wood Products

Imagine the effect on our rail transportation system if half their outward freight traffic were withdrawn.

Figures issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show that one-half of the rail freight traffic originating in British Columbia is made up of forest products.

Last year the railways carried well over 2,000,000 tons of lumber, shingles and other wood products out of British Columbia.

At a low estimate the amount paid in freight exceeded $25,000,000.

$1,000 Cars

It took 81,000 cars to handle the lumber shipped to our rail markets last year. These cars would make up a train 600 miles long that would reach from Vancouver to Banff, Alta.

The above figures do not include the millions of feet of logs moved on public railways from camps to mills.

The railways benefit enormously by the heavy freights paid on camp and mill machinery, equipment and supplies, entering the Province.

The forest products group buys more material and employs more persons than the three or four next biggest industries put together. Both coming and going, it is logging and lumbering that keeps the railway tracks from rusting.

This series of articles communicated by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

The children of St. Peter's Church (Seal Cove) Sunday School enjoyed their annual picnic at McNicholl Creek on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Nellie Smith returned home on the Princess Beatrice Saturday night from Vancouver where she attended the wedding of her brother, Stanley Smith.

Alex. Stewart, found guilty of drunkenness, was fined $25 with the option of thirty days' imprisonment by Magistrate McClymont in the city police court this morning.

With a full list of passengers including many tourists, C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. Arthur Slater, was in port today from 11 to 2 o'clock northbound on her first voyage of the season to Alaska.

Mrs. Jack Judge and family returned this morning on the Princess Louise after having spent the past few months holidaying in California. Mrs. Judge was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Fred Shaw, who will spend the summer here.

G. H. Jenkins, general fuel agent for the Canadian National Railways, arrived in the city on Saturday afternoon's train from the East and sailed for Vancouver on the Prince Rupert. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Constable J. A. Williams of Stewart reports to the local headquarters of the provincial police that two men named Scott and Johnson were arrested by him on a charge of theft of a dug-out canoe from Port Edward. They will be brought to the city tomorrow to face trial.

At a meeting of the Lacrosse Association held Saturday night in the city hall Don Brown and Harry Menzies were elected captains of the two league teams, Maple Leafs and Kaiens. Weather permitting it is now planned to open the eight game series for the Stork Cup on Wednesday evening of this week.

Mrs. N. Makes White Sauce

One of the nicest White Sauce recipes we have tried comes from a lady on First Ave. West. Not least of its virtues is simplicity.

Simply scald 1 cup of Pacific Milk, thickened with corn flour which has been mixed with cold water. Season to suit. No butter is required.

This is so easy to make that one cannot imagine what a delectably flavored sauce it turns out to be.

What Financiers Think of the Oliver Government

MacNeill, Graham & Co., Toronto, wrote as follows to Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, on March 18, 1924:

"We have been much interested in the perusal of the Financial Statement of the Province, and it is very evident that your position has been materially improved during the last seven or eight years. We are particularly interested in the sinking fund."

The Oliver Government adopted a "pay-as-you-go" policy.

Now that the finances of the Province are stable, taxes have been reduced, and further reductions are coming. For every dollar of debt, the Province has 31 cents to meet it, plus $10 in assets for every man, woman and child in the Province.

BY NO MEANS ALLOW YOUR BOWELS TO GET CONSTIPATED

If you allow your bowels to become constipated you will have bilious attacks, sick headaches, coated tongue, foul breath, sallow complexion, specks floating before the eyes, whites of the eyes dull and yellow, earburn, water brash, etc. Keep your bowels regular by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, as by doing so you will be able to keep well and have no more trouble with your liver.

Mrs. J. Rubin, Bathrite, Sask., writes: "I was very badly troubled with constipation, often had bad headaches, my tongue was coated, and I felt anything but well."

After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills I have felt much better as they certainly did me a lot of good."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25¢ a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

You feel the verve, the warmth, the high passion of her. Can this be Mary Pickford? You are electrified—thrilled by her dynamic anger. Chills run up and down the spine as she takes the jewels from her neck and throws them on the floor before the King. Next moment you feel the tears starting, as she pleads with the King for the life of her lover. A flushed awe of suppressed emotion prevails. But Mary Pickford would not be Mary Pickford without humor, too. She steals back into the set and, child-like picks up the jewels she has so recklessly thrown on the floor.

Just that human touch—that bit of humor has every one laughing—a laugh relieving the emotional strain.

Following she plays a love scene with just such a combination of spiritual and physical ardor as one could ever wish to see

TOM MIX HERE TO OPEN THIS WEEK

Is to be Seen Tonight in "The Lone Star Ranger" at the Westholme

The week opens well with a picture that will please everybody and especially the boys. Tom Mix, beloved king of the saddle, and "Tony," his wonder horse, are coming to the Westholme Theatre tonight in the screen version of "The Lone Star Ranger," the popular narrative from the pen of Zane Grey.

It is story of the life of the daring Texas Rangers who went out "to get their man" despite hazard and obstacle." It is such a stirring hard-riding part, replete with romance, that has made Tom the favorite film actor he is.

Lambert Hillyer, who directed the photoplay, took his company to the plains of Texas that he might instill into the picture every element of beauty and interest that has become traditional to the Lone Star State.

Such a combination as Tom Mix and Zane Grey in the Fox production promises to present an excellent picture.

TEMPORARY HUSBAND PROVES PERMANENT

Bewhiskered Invalid Fails to Die and Curious Results Follow

The mission of "Her Temporary Husband" is to provoke laughter, to cure the blues and to take one away from the usual monotony of every day life. And it fills its mission one hundred per cent.

The picture provokes laughter—lasting laughter. Unlike most comedy features it is something more than a hodge-podge of "gags." It tells a story, based on a well-founded plot, unusual it is true, but nevertheless plausible and convincing.

The picture is a screen version of Sidney Paulson's popular stage comedy success of the same name. While taking the main theme of the play for its plot the director, John McDermott, enhanced the picture with added situations and circumstances

MARY PICKFORD AS GROWUP THIS WEEK

Plays Leading Part in Rosita in Emotional Role but With Touches of Humor

To retain the Mary Pickford poise and personality throughout the entirety of "Rosita," wherein she portrays a highly emotional role of dramatic intensity is one of the greatest accomplishments ever demanded of any actress. This attainment is clearly shown in her latest production which comes here Friday.

The retention of her personality was accomplished through the strength of Miss Pickford's remarkable sense of humor, which has enabled her to enact heart-rending scenes of emotionalism, then, to relieve the tension created, immediately present a humorous touch to bring forth a smile.

The description of one scene between Rosita and the King during the making of "Rosita," may suffice to present the humorous side of a dramatic scene.

One Scene
Rosita's voice is heard outside the door of the set, the door is opened. In dashes a beautiful young woman, her eyes blazing, her form a-quiver with emotion.

warehouse at Vancouver from Charles Campbell and said that the overpayment in that connection had permitted the purchase of the Vancouver World as a Liberal organ in that city. Major Burde, Independent member for Alberni, was described as a servile supporter of the Liberal government and Capt. Ian Mackenzie of Vancouver came in for criticism on account of the receipt by his law firm of a check for services rendered. Capt. Mackenzie's portion of which had been surrendered when he learned of the circumstances under which it had been earned. This scandal he described as even worse than one for which Lloyd George and Sir Rufus Isaacs had once been rebuked in the Mother of Parliaments.

Presumptuous Young Man

Attorney General Manson then came in for Mr. Carmichael's criticism. He described as most presumptuous "this young man from B.C." who, without contemplating his utterances, had rashly attacked in forceful language the Senate of Canada, the clergy of Vancouver and even Hon. H. H. Stevens. The speaker also took occasion to refer to the reception accorded Mr. Manson on his first visit to his home town after having been appointed Attorney General, but he did not go into any details about this.

Criticising the administration of the Liquor Control Act, Mr. Carmichael charged the Attorney General with change of heart in connection with his avowed determination to clean up the breweries and suggesting frame-ups between Mr. Manson and the brewers regarding an increase in the price of beer, accused him of assisting the brewers financially at the expense of the taxpayers. This constituted Mr. Carmichael stated, nothing less than plunder of the exchequer.

Warning the electors not to be confounded by the noise of the campaign, Mr. Carmichael stated that the Oliver government was not a business administration as was claimed and that $163,000,000 had been recklessly expended in seven years. The taxes had been increased but where were the assets to be seen for the extravagance? He criticised the South Okanagan irrigation scheme, the Sumas reclamation, Merville, Camp Lister and Fernie settlements as extravagant and useless undertakings.

Tories Like Rupert

Mr. Carmichael denied that there was any antagonism on the part of the Vancouver Conservatives towards Prince Rupert. If there was, he asked, why had the appointment of F. G. Dawson, on the recommendation of Attorney General Manson, to the C.N.R. board of directors not been injected as a campaign issue? The speaker also declared it was ridiculous to think that British Columbia would no get a square deal at Ottawa if the Liberal provincial government was not returned.

Declaring that it was a shame to ruin a good farmer by making a poor premier in John Oliver, Mr. Carmichael blamed Mr. Oliver for releasing the firm of Foley, Welch & Stewart from its P.G.E. contract thus incurring this burden on the taxpayers of the province. He went at length into the P.G.E. situation and said that the Oliver government had made no progress with its promises in that regard at the last election. Having failed in his promise to have the federal government take it over, Mr. Oliver now came back with the promise that a committee consisting of the railway heads of Canada would go into the matter. That undertaking, Mr. Carmichael said, might be given no more heed than had been the others.

Cost plus contracts, Mr. Carmichael said, has enabled the Liberals to build up the strongest political machine in the history of the province. He made remarks involving General Odium, Liberal candidate in Vancouver, with the government through the Ryan Construction Co. of Vancouver which had contracts for the University at Point Grey.

These cost plus contracts, Mr. Carmichael asserted, might account for the Liberal campaign funds which allowed of such elaborate election advertising.

England's Government

"We want to return men," Mr. Carmichael concluded, "in whom we have confidence and whose public records will stand the test—men who, by their acts, records enterprises, are worthy of our confidence. How diligently has Mr. Pattullo looked after your affairs? We want conscientious men without reference to factions. Ramsay Macdonald the new Premier of Britain, is such a man. There the system of governmental co-operation is exemplified. Why cannot we have such a situation here? The only way to do it will be to efface Oliver and his friends including Pattullo on June 20."

Those Telegrams

Before Mr. Newton took the platform, W. W. Wright, secretary of the Conservative Association, was called to the platform by the chairman. Mr. Wright announced that he had communicated with Hon. H. H. Stevens by wire following a statement that had appeared in the Daily News on Saturday with respect to his (Mr. Stevens') attitude on the fight for better freight rates. The effect of the wire read by Mr. Wright from Mr. Stevens was that any statement made by Mr. Oliver that he (Mr. Stevens) was opposed to the fight for relief of excessive freight rates was absolutely and unqualifiedly false and that he (Mr. Stevens) was fighting now as he always had fought for reduction of unfair and discriminatory rates. Mr. Oliver's demands, however, would result in the loss of special commodity rates for lumber and fish, etc., and it was this action of Mr. Oliver's that he was opposing.

Pure Evening Breezes

On opening, Mr. Newton expressed his pleasure at the attendance of so many people who would undoubtedly rather be outside enjoying the pure evening breezes. He felt that volumes were thereby spoken for the success of the campaign. He was also pleased to see so many ladies present. Their influence in public affairs would help to eliminate such despicable public records as had been enumerated by Mr. Carmichael. The people could not but blush with shame at the terrible depravity that had overtaken the government of the province in the last eight years. If the Bowser government at the end of 1916 was bad, the Oliver government had eclipsed it twice over. Such shameful administration had never been equalled in the history of the province as far as he knew. For the first year or so the Liberal government had been tolerably fair, but when Mr. Brewster went down to his grave as head of the government affairs had taken a decided change. Other elements had come into play and things had gone from bad to worse until now he felt warranted in stating that they had reached a stage of shameful degradation.

No patronage, purity, economy and fair play had been promised but had the country been getting it Mr. Newton asked. Instead, policies of the rankest deception had been practised. Forgetting their duty to uphold the province any old methods to catch votes and hold office had been adopted.

Biggest Lie Yet

Mr. Newton said that there was never a bigger lie published than the statement that Pattullo would get eighty per cent of the votes on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

He had just made a visit to the Islands and, from end to end, it was a tale of opposition not only to the Oliver government but to Hon. T. D. Pattullo as well.

Several million dollars at least had been collected as a result of immumerable taxes and licenses in the north but where was it spent? It was spent in the south on extravagant schemes such as the Sumas reclamation and to build paved roads to allow the American millionaires to come to B.C. and buy booze. Could any one wonder that all the outside ridings were out in rebellion? The people of Prince Rupert, and he would not except himself, had had a struggle to get along but it was as nothing compared to that of the people of the Queen Charlotte Islands. They had paid but had received nothing back to open up their areas. As a result, Mr. Pattullo would look more like mine-meat than a well groomed gentleman after election day.

Persecution of North

The people of the outside districts, Mr. Newton said, had put in their money, built homes and assisted in building up the country but they were given neither roads nor bridges. People became discouraged and got out and now the scene of scores and scores of vacant homes was to be found. Such was the situation not only on the Queen Charlotte Islands but on Porcher Island and into the very gates of Prince Rupert. The people had gone because the public money had been ruthlessly, extravagantly and partizanly spent not to aid the struggling settlers but to permit their sacrifice so that the party in power might gain some strength from the population of the south.

Mr. Newton then told of his plan to have a portion of the revenues separated for development of the north and said that it was the only way to get fair play for this part of the province. People would become more prosperous and more settlers would come in under congenial and co-operative conditions. There would be increased development and trade for Prince Rupert. That would be one of his main efforts, Mr. Newton said. It was one of the main things Mr. Pattullo had not attempted to achieve.

Mr. Newton attacked Mr. Pattullo. He asserted that he had practically forgotten the struggling masses that composed his constituency. He had a fat salary but the people here had had to struggle and what had he done for them? He had been globetrotting at the public expense, joy-riding and enjoying the elaborate office that had been furnished at the expense of the poor struggling mortals in the north. Could any one wonder that everyone was wanting a change?

Backs the Farmers

Mr. Newton read and endorsed a letter from the United Farmers of B.C. outlining a platform for the benefit of the farming interests. He said that people had wanted to go into the business of fox farming, mink, goat and sheep raising on Islands of the coast but, on writing to the government with a view to getting land, they were often not even given an answer. Some people had been forced to abandon their projects on account of the excessive taxation that faced them. The Groundhog coal field had been blanketed. If opening up of such things as these had been encouraged there would have been great development.

At this point Mr. Newton said he would close. At a later meeting he would go more fully into the local situation and would endeavor to show where the present population of the district could not only be retained but increased.

Carmichael Correct

"In closing I would like to say that Mr. Carmichael has given you a correct resume of the condition of affairs in connection with the administration of the province during the past eight years. I believe he has given you the true facts. Remember what we were led to anticipate and now listen to Mr. Carmichael's stories. You can only conclude that it is high time that there was a change.
