Prize Fighter Murders Woman and Wounds Two Men, Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 14. — Norman Selby, known in the prize ring as Kid McCoy, confessed to the murder of Mrs. Theresa Morse, who was found shot to death yesterday, the police announced.

Mrs. Morse was the wife of a wealthy antique dealer who was suing for a divorce. She had been living with McCoy who planned to make her his legal wife.

Shortly after the body was discovered, McCoy appeared in a brokerage office brandishing a revolver and proceeded to rob the patrons. William Ross, who attempted to escape, received two bullets in the thigh. McCoy then fired four more shots wounding Sam Schapp, the broker, and his wife. He then left.

The police theory that McCoy shot Mrs. Morse because she was in the verge of reconciliation with her former husband, and planned severing relations with the ex-pugilist, receives support from several witnesses. McCoy also sought to find and shoot Morse but was unable to locate him, it is alleged.

McCoy was one of the most colorful figures in the ring. Years ago he claimed the welter-weight championship of the world.

CHARGED WITH MONEY THEFT

Incident on Steamer Prince Rupert Leads to Arrest of Man; Trial This Afternoon

Walter Wilson of Ladner who has been fishing at Claxton, is appearing before Stipendiary Magistrate Walter Gale in the provincial police court this afternoon for preliminary trial on a charge of having stolen $120 in cash, a pair of trousers and a bank book, the property of William Westwood of Anyox.

The theft is alleged to have taken place on the steamer Prince Rupert early last Sunday morning when that vessel was departing Prince Rupert for Swanson Bay. On rising in the morning in question, Westwood found that his trousers were missing together with the cash and bank book which they contained. A pair of trousers were left in the stateroom. They contained a fishing license made out to the accused who, it is stated by the police, was located shortly afterwards by the pursuer of the steamer wearing a pair of trousers which were identified by Westwood as his. Only $4 was found on accused at that time but he was removed from the steamer at Ocean Falls by Provincial Constable Collins, who was a passenger, and locked up. Subsequently, the officer found $96 in the toe of Wilson's shoe. It is alleged that Wilson entered Westwood's room while he was sleeping and removed the trousers.

The palatial seagoing yacht Conquista, of Los Angeles, owned by R. L. Gifford of Pasadena, was president of the Illinois Engineering Co., Chicago, arrived in port this morning from Ketchikan and tied up at the Prince Rupert Boat House after cruising as far north as Sitka and Skagway. The yacht called here in order to permit of Mr. Gifford catching the eastbound train tonight for Chicago, whence he has been called on business. Mrs. Gifford, and son Bruce, have been accompanying Mr. Gifford on the Pacific coast cruise their guests being Mrs. Nora Puterbaugh and daughter Elizabeth, of Hollywood, and Mr. Harry Grandy, of Pasadena. The party have been making a leisurely tour of the Pacific coast and called into port on their way north about two weeks ago. The weather has been ideal while in the north and fishing and exploring has been thoroughly enjoyed.

Premier Oliver Would Leave Unstained Reputation When Stepping Out Of Present Office

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14.—Disavowing any connection with alleged wrong doing in connection with the North Vancouver election, Premier Oliver, addressing the Laurier Club before leaving last night for Nelson to conduct the by-election campaign, declared that if any wrongful acts had been perpetrated the guilty should be punished. He suggested that the charges were propaganda and asserted that his greatest ambition before rounding out his political career was to finish his work for freight rate equalization. Above that, "my one ambition in life is to have my career draw to a close so that my reputation, when I am gone, may be as unstained as was the man's after whom this club is named."

British Flyers, on Arrival Here, Once More on Native Soil

It is fitting that the people of Prince Rupert should have prepared a right royal welcome for Squadron Leader A. S. C. Stuart MacLaren and his companions of the British round the world flight who are due here within 48 hours on the Canadian Government steamer Thiepval. This port will be the first land under the British flag which the intrepid though perhaps unfortunate airmen have trodden on since they boarded their airplane and flew away from Hong Kong nearly two months ago. They have had wonderful adventures

SEND MESSAGE TO MACLAREN

Great War Veterans Welcome British Flyers and Offer Them Courtesies During Visit Here

The following wireless message was sent this morning by Fred Pyle, president of the local Great War Veterans' Association to Squadron Leader A. S. C. Stuart MacLaren, commander of the British round-the-world flight, who is on his way to Prince Rupert on the Canadian Government steamer Thiepval.

"The Great War Veterans' Association extends you and your officers of the British round-the-world flight a hearty welcome on the occasion of your visit to our city and offers you the freedom of our club rooms during your stay."

DEADLOCK EVACUATION OF THE RUHR

LONDON, Aug. 14.—There is a deadlock between the French and German delegates in regard to the time limit for withdrawal from the Ruhr. British intervention may however save the situation. MacDonald urges Herriot to accept a compromise.

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—The delegates are backed by the German cabinet and newspapers.

"OUT OF POLITICS; BACK TO BUSINESS"

Gen. A. D. McRae returned last night on the Prince John from Watun River, Graham Island, where he is interested in the Wallace Fisheries cannery and left again this morning for Claxton. He expects to be back tomorrow and will then proceed to Stewart where he has mining interests.

"Out of politics and back to business," is the remark that Gen. McRae made in the course of a conversation here. He still manifested a keen interest in the provincial political situation, however, and it might have been inferred from remarks he let drop that it was the intention of the Provincial Party to join forces with the Conservatives at least for the contest at Nelson against Premier Oliver. Gen. McRae has led the Provincial Party since its inception and was defeated in the recent provincial general election at Vancouver.

Organized Himself

MacLaren organized the expedition himself, being given official permission although it was a private undertaking. He enlisted the help of the Asiatic Petroleum Company, the Vickers interests and D. Napier & Company, which firms furnished him out with machines, engines, fuel and oil.

Preferred Amphibian

MacLaren differing from most long-distance airmen, preferred an amphibian machine—that is, a flying boat with a land undercarriage, which can be withdrawn above the keel line. This made possible easy water landings. MacLaren arranged to discard the under carriage altogether on the Japan-Prince Rupert section.

How Does He Work And How Does He Play?

In the old days the main thing people wanted to know about a man was how he worked. If he was a good workman he was valuable. Today people are wanting to know how a man plays. Where and how does he spend his spare time?

The other day a man was asked to give his opinion of a young man who was a candidate for a good position. "What do you think of him?" he was asked. "Is he a young man who will last, who has ambition and who is likely to take care of himself and of the reputation of his employer?" Unfortunately in that case the answer had to be an adverse one. While the lad was industrious and keen on his work, he had loose habits of life, associated with those who were not of very good reputation and used very little of his time in improving himself and fitting himself for more and better work.

As a rule today if a person is asked for an opinion of a man, he commences to think of his private life rather than of his business associations. To play right is just as important as to work right.

Will Sympathize With China In Her Troubles.

China is suffering from floods and this may be followed by famine in those districts. The telegraphic report indicates that thousands have lost their lives and millions are homeless. This does not mean quite the same in China as it would here, because the Chinese do not depend for happiness on ornate furnishings or valuable fittings to their homes. All the average person asks is a shelter. Even that, however, will be difficult to secure for many. Possibly an appeal will be made to Canadians to help alleviate suffering in that country soon.

Art Department At Fall Fair.

The Daily News has been asked to make a plea for the art department of the annual fall fair. Last year this section was one of the most important at the fair and it attracted a great deal of attention and it is hoped that those who do water color and oil art work will send in their exhibits, especially those of local interest.

All Will Welcome Ketchikan Here.

People of this city will undoubtedly unite to extend a hearty welcome to the people of Ketchikan. That city is making good progress, and, although a rival to Prince Rupert, should benefit a good deal from co-operation between the two places. It is unfortunate that the boundary line along Dixon Entrance separates the two centres in such a way as to divert business and prevent that spirit of co-operation and mutual helpfulness which otherwise would exist. It also keeps us from knowing each other in a social way as we should if the irritating boundary were not there.

In spite of the line which separates, it is satisfactory to know that we are able to get together a good deal and the more this happens the better for the two places. We have much in common socially and in a business way. We both are interested in fishing, we are frontier towns, and we belong to the north.

Now Leader Will Make Effort To Defeat Oliver.

R. H. Pooley, newly chosen leader of the Conservative group in the Legislature and official leader of the opposition, will, it is announced, lead the opposition forces against Premier Oliver in Nelson riding. All the forces of the party will be organized, for on this contest depends very largely the leadership of the party. If Mr. Pooley can down the big chief this time, he will be entitled to continue in the position. If he fails, it will be said that the taint of Bowserism is still too strong and another leader will likely take his place after the session.

Anyone who knows Oliver and knows Pooley can hardly imagine the latter winning over the former in a fair fight. If Oliver is returned, he will go back to a government strong enough to carry on without great difficulty, but if he is defeated another premier will be chosen from the Liberal ranks and the party will be weakened considerably.

MADE EXPLORATION IN JASPER PARK AND WERE MUCH PLEASED

JASPER, Aug. 14. — After spending ten days traversing territory some of which has probably never been visited by white man, a party of Saskatoon and Regina men reached civilization again last night and started on their homeward journey on the Continental Limited from Mount Robson station. The party are members of the Alpine Club of Canada and commenced an exploration and climbing trip at the close of the annual camp at Berg Lake on August 4. A. S. Sibbald of Saskatoon, treasurer of the Alpine Club led the party which consisted of H. E. Sampson, K.C. of Regina, D. J. M. McGeary of Saskatoon and G. A. Gamba of Washington, D.C.

"We found one of the most striking beautiful Alpine territories that any man could have come across" declared Mr. Sibbald last night. "Ice fields, snow peaks, Alpine meadows and glacial lakes and streams all combine to make this an ideal holiday country for the Alpine enthusiast and certainly it is one which in future years will attract its full share of Canadian and American climbers."

Smokeless Locomotive

Built of wood at the Angus Shops, this full sized model of one of the latest D type locomotives was designed originally as a feature of the dinner decorations at the Chateau Frontenac on the occasion of the Quebec conference of the Canadian Pacific Railway officers. Equipped with bell, whistle and electric lights, not a bolt or bar is lacking to mar the illusion which is that of a perfect engine coming through the wall against which it is placed. The headlight holds a portrait of E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific. At the Toronto Exhibition, August 23rd to September 5th, the model will be given a prominent position in the Company's exhibit.

PRINCE RUPERT WAS UNABLE TO SEND ANY MESSAGE BY WIRELESS

The steamer Prince Rupert arrived from Vancouver and way ports last evening several hours late, having been detained by fog between Ocean Falls and Milbank Sound. Several boats found themselves close together when the fog lifted. Owing to the conformation of the country the vessel was unable to get in touch with the local office by wireless until after the newspapers went to press, so everyone was expecting the boat to come in on time. Following were the passengers:

Making wash day pleasant—

THE hardest part of wash-day, rubbing, rubbing, has given way to the new method of soaking the clothes clean with Rinso. This wonderful new soap gently loosens the dirt and a thorough rinsing leaves things white and glistening as you never could get them before.

Only spots where the dirt is ground-in, such as neck bands, cuff edges, and the like need a light rubbing, and a little dry Rinso rubbed on these spots quickly makes the dirt disappear.

Just use Rinso where you used to use bar soap—for soaking, boiling, or in your washing machine.

Rinso is sold by all grocers and department stores

FINE FOOTBALL AT OCEAN FALLS

Prince Rupert Lost Second Game on Tuesday by Score of One to Nil But Play Was Close

The two football games played between Ocean Falls and Prince Rupert at Ocean Falls were as even, fast and clean as were ever seen in the paper town, all those who saw them agreed. The first match on Monday resulted in a tie score of one all, while Ocean Falls won the second by one to nil. The local players returned home last night on the steamer Prince Rupert.

In the first game Prince Rupert scored through McDougall who made a fine shot after some nice combination work was performed by Erskine, Warren and McDougall in bringing the ball up the field. This was fifteen minutes after the opening of the second half, the first half being scoreless. Ten minutes later Ocean Falls' equalizer came, the inside right scoring on a cross from the left wing.

The Second Game

The one and only score in the second game was made with about twenty minutes to go when a shot from a corner was miskicked and accidentally glanced into the goal. Prince Rupert played hard from then on but was unable to score. The locals undoubtedly had the best of it in the first half as did the Ocean Falls men in the second. Both sides missed scoring chances and for Prince Rupert Warren, Westwood and Alex. Mitchell just missed by hitting the bars.

The Prince Rupert men were handicapped to some extent by the strangeness of the field which is a small one. The stars for the locals were McDougall, inside right, O. K. Lord, full back, and Steve Gawthorn in goal. Westwood, McDougall and Marks received minor injuries in the course of the games and other players were stiffened up.

The fact that some 1,200 people witnessed each game shows that soccer enjoys a large measure of popularity in the paper town and that the opportunity to see outsiders perform was appreciated.

McSwan of Ocean Falls refereed the first match and Fred Roberts of Prince Rupert the second.

Local Lineups

The locals lined up as follows: First game—S. Gawthorn; O. K. Lord and J. Marks; P. Cameron, W. Murray and Hunter; J. Andrews, E. Warren, E. Erskine, McDougall and A. Mitchell.

Second game—Gawthorn; Hunter and Lord; Tinker, Murray and Kelsey; Warren, Westwood, Erskine, McDougall and A. Mitchell.

H. Astoria and W. Lambie made the trip as spares, Fred Roberts being manager.

A fine reception was accorded the Prince Rupert visitors by the Ocean Falls hosts. A trip by speed boat 14 miles up the lake, a dance on Tuesday night which lasted until the boat sailed at 1.30 and a rousing send-off on the departure of the local players for home were features. The men returning last night had nothing too good to say about the hospitality extended them. They hope that it may be their pleasure to return the compliment at a date not too far removed in the future.

Sport Chat

Judging from the crowds of kiddies that may be seen almost any day now at McClymont Park, the Gyro Club playground equipment and the city's swimming pool were not provided any sooner than they were needed. The place has become the centre of attractions for the juvenile population of the city.

The baseball players of the city are apparently taking the tip and getting down to practice which they need so badly in preparation for the Exhibition week games. It is not up to the players altogether, however, and the Fair Board should make it worth while for the proposed games will undoubtedly be good revenue producers.

The Alice Arm baseball team scored its fourth straight victory over the Anxoy recently by a score of 12 to 11. Having defeated everything that offers in the gas town, the Alice Arm boys are now rarin' to try conclusions with Maple Bay, Stewart, Ketchikan, Prince Rupert or anything else in the north.

The recently established Anxoy Miniature Rifle Club is going strong with both men and women taking part in the weekly shoots for medals and buttons offered by the president. The membership of the club now stands at twenty and the officers are: Honorary President, H. S. Munroe, president, J. Beckett; secretary-treasurer, L. F. Champion; range captain, R. O. Cutler; executive committee, C. Parmiter and B. Buck. Most of the members are using the B.S.A. marksman rifle and some good scores have been turned in, the leader being that of President Beckett—94.

Wrestling—Nels Jepson of Edmonton vs. Jack Burns of Spokane for the middleweight championship of Canada, Monday, August 18, Empress Theatre.

There is again talk in the city's community service circles of staging a baseball game between the Gyro and Rotary Clubs for some worthy object. Some such game was proposed earlier in the year but no suitable day could be found so it was called off.

W. Holmes, a printer who has arrived in the city from Edmonton to take a position here, was at one time champion trapshooter of the province of Alberta. He has already become a member of the Prince Rupert Gun Club and took part in the shoot last week. The conditions being strange, he did not make a high score but it is expected he will be topping the list before very long.

NO FOOTBALL GAMES TO BE PLAYED THIS WEEK IT IS DECIDED

The football schedule has again been changed and, in view of the fact that several of the players had a strenuous time of it this week at Ocean Falls, it was decided last night to postpone the opening games of the second half of the Stuart Shield series which were to have been played tonight and tomorrow night.

The replays of the Gilhuly Cup ties will take place next week and the Stuart Shield series will be resumed the week after. The present schedule is being re-drafted and will be issued in a day or so.

Edmonton Man Says People Overburdened With Taxes and Bullied by Police

Harrowing tales of oppression and suffering under the Soviet government are told by a former Edmonton soldier who has just returned to the city from Russia, where he went in 1921 to bring his wife to this country, says the Edmonton Journal. After once arriving at his old home in western Ukraine, it took him three years before being able to get out of the country to return to the place of his adoption.

Overburdened with taxes which they are unable to pay, bullied and downtrodden by police and officials, the people around his native home, he says, apparently have lives that are without parallel in this world. The Canadian ex-soldier tells of starvation and misery, of men crying out to passengers in trains for a gift of bread or any food to prevent them from starving.

Harry Pasechnik was born in Ukraine some thirty years ago and emigrated to Canada in 1912, leaving his wife in his native country. He joined the 192nd Crow's Nest Pass Battalion, C. E. F., on June 2, 1916. In France he was transferred to No. 5 Field Company Engineers and was discharged at Calgary on March 8, 1919.

Troubles Began

On February 26, 1921, he started out from Alberta to return to his old home at Kamen Podolsk, about three days' train ride from Odessa. Everything went smoothly until after he arrived at Riga, on the Baltic, when his troubles began and did not end until he has been able to get back to the British consul at that place more than three years later.

Thirty miles or so after leaving Riga he passed through the large gates of the Soviet republic. From then on men and boys ran alongside the train crying for something to eat, and many times he was asked why he had not brought three or four sacks of flour back with him.

He was detained in Moscow

two weeks and his money taken from him. He applied for tickets to carry him to his old home in western Ukraine and was delayed. He gave his occupation as a miner, the one he followed in Canada, but was told that he would be sent to a Communist farm at Krim, some four or five days' journey from his home.

Took Away Clothes

Although he declared his intention of not going there he was told he would have to obey, but was eventually sent to a station two miles from Kief. Here some of his good Canadian clothing was taken from him, and after being promised to be sent to his home he was only sent one station further on.

Eight men from Canada and the United States were in his party, and, by one of them giving a trainman 2,000 roubles, their car was put on the end of the train and they were sent to Gmirinka, about 300 miles further on. Here they were detained another three days and cigarettes were demanded of them by railway officials. Eventually he arrived home with a cent in his pocket, about April 29, more than two months after leaving Calgary.

At Proskurof, the large station where he parted company with his companions, he had to bargain with a driver to take him the twenty miles to his home, and the price was fixed at 5,000 roubles, now worth about $3, but a deal was eventually made by which he gave a shirt in exchange for the ride.

Object of Curiosity

On arriving at his home the people flocked around him on seeing his good clothes, and he found them almost dying, being without food, clothing or almost anything. One thing he did find, however, was that everyone had lots of home made whiskey.

Arriving at his mother's home a further bargain was made with the driver of the rig that transported him from the railway and the consequence was that the man who owned the horse and cart went back with 120 pounds of rye instead of the shirt.

Busy Time as Barber

Pasechnik commenced to shave and cutting hair with his clippers from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. After staying with his mother he went to his wife's father's home to obtain her and the trunks of clothing and a cow that made up the dowry of a Ukrainian bride. He stayed at the home of his wife's parent for two days, and after that time obtained a team and wagon for the purpose of taking his wife and dowry over to his mother's farm. At that moment three police and two civic officials appeared on the scene and demanded that he drive them to a place fifteen miles away. This he refused to do and was threatened with arrest. They demanded to see his papers and he produced one from the Soviet at Moscow showing that he was allowed to travel home. They stated that he had not paid enough money for it and demanded more from him. This he refused to pay and was placed in custody. One man standing guard with a rifle told him that if he would pay him 500 roubles he would let him escape. In this way he was able to bundle his wife and possessions into the wagon and gallop off while the policeman chased after him, yelling hard, for a mile, and then gave up the chase.

Lived by Carpentering

For a while he lived by doing a certain amount of carpentering work and his wife made clothing. He built a small shack near his mother's house in which he and his wife lived. After two months the chief of the village appeared and demanded that he pay a tax of 2,000,000 roubles, then worth about $2 in Canadian money. As he had no money he sold one of his razors for 6,000,000 roubles, and was left alone for a while.

His mother gave him four and a half acres of land which he farmed but after another month taxes were levied against him to the extent of 11 bushels and 18 pounds of rye, two pounds of pork, eighteen pounds of beef, four eggs and other foodstuffs, which he had to deliver to the nearest town. This went on from time to time, and he was also forced to pay 6,000,000 roubles for owning a cow.

Compelled to Do Hauling

In October soldiers visited the village and declared that he had to take his team and wagon to carry foodstuffs. This he declined to do as he said the horses did not belong to him, as they were owned by his mother. Eventually he was compelled to take his mother's team to the town twenty miles away, and on arriving was ordered to carry ten sacks of grain to a mill several miles off.

Many others were there on the same compulsory errand, and the load was the same in each case, whether the horses were good or poor.

In December, 1924, he entered Poland with the intention of trying to get to the British consul in order to get sent back to Canada, but he was stopped by the authorities and sent back home. He tried again in March, 1922, but was not allowed to see the consul and was sent back again. In May again he had to pay taxes, this time on every piece of machinery he used. Again in August and at other times the amount was increased so that the number of bushels of rye he had to turn over now totalled nineteen.

Prison For Non-payment

Non-payment of taxes meant imprisonment by the Soviet. Some poor people had to pay as high as eighty bushels and others as much as 400 bushels. One man of his village was ordered to pay eighty-five bushels and could only manage eighty. He was placed in prison, and after three months died. On receiving the news of his death, the wife also died, leaving two children, one under six months, and the other only about eight years old. A woman was sent to prison for not paying her taxes and died there, leaving six children unprovided for. Then the Soviet took the oldest, aged nineteen, for the army. Imprisonments like this went on continuously and in one year four people died while in custody.

In 1923 the rate of taxation for the Edmonton ex-soldier had more than doubled. He had to pay 36 bushels, out of a crop of 85, and he tried hard to get away. Towards the end of the year another Canadian ex-soldier wrote to Ottawa for him, and soon after he received a permit for himself and his wife to proceed to Canada.

Had Many Troubles

From then on he had unbelievable troubles with police, government clerks and agents, and at every office where he applied for passport, transit cards, permit, or the stamping of a document, he was forced to pay out many roubles or bushels of grain and delayed until on being held up in Moscow for three days by an official, who would not deliver transit cards until he had paid out another $50; things were so bad that his wife implored him to throw her into the river.

At last he was able to scrape together the money by selling his few remaining possessions and was eventually able to bribe his way through to Riga, where after purchasing some poor food for his wife and baby, he found himself with 25 cents left in his pocket.

Papers Waiting

One can well understand his feeling then, upon going into the British consulate, and the relief that must have come, on being greeted by the Britisher with a laugh when, with crest-fallen face, he asked how much he would have to pay for having his documents vised. Then and then only were his troubles over for the official informed him that papers were actually waiting for him. Furthermore the consul wired to London and Ottawa and received instructions that the ex-soldier and his wife and baby were to be sent on and that $100 was to be loaned him, which amount would be taken out of the separation allowance due his wife.

A picture of rare beauty and artistry, a picture enchanting, fascinating, one that will charm you with its magic spell—one you will never forget. The story of a boy and girl the world thought homely; they thought so themselves; then through the power of love they became beautiful, for beauty comes from the soul. TENNESSEE WHITES LIVE IN PAST

Make no Progress Through Lack of Contact With Rest of World

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—Colonies of whites, geographically isolated in the Tennessee mountains, still use the same methods of agriculture, tanning of leather, spinning, weaving and cooking, which were in vogue when the district was settled over a century ago. This was shown in the anthropology section of the British Association today by Miss Isabel Gordon. Although these activities have remained practically stable, well marked peculiarities have been developed in certain directions due to the prolonged isolation from contact with advancing civilization.

TIMBER WILL BE ALL GONE IN 30 YEARS

Speaker at British Association Meeting in Toronto Asks Conservation

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—"At the present rate of depletion, the virgin forests of Canada and the United States will not last more than 25 or 30 years," said R. D. Craig and F. Storey, in the botanical section of the British Association yesterday, in issuing a plea for the protection, conservation, and extension of timber resources.

"Apart from fuel, usually obtained from hardwoods, an overwhelming proportion of the timber required for industrial purposes is produced by coniferous species, such as pine and spruce, which with few exceptions, are limited in distribution to the North American continent, Northern Europe and Siberia.

"These regions cannot be relied upon permanently as sources of supply. The position in Europe is unfavorable because timber consumption each year far exceeds forest growth.

"Siberian resources are to a large extent unexplored, but as in Northern Russia, large areas of forest are likely to remain undeveloped owing to the difficulty and expense of extracting the timber."

The United States consumes nearly one half of the world's production of timber, the speakers said in pointing out that a limit will be reached to present resources within 30 years, unless preventive measures are taken.

"In view of failing supplies and the slow growth of trees, there is urgent need of reforestation of devastated areas, the protection of young growth, and the conservation of such original forests as still remain," the scientists concluded.

NOTICE. WHEREAS under the provisions of the Royalty Act, Chapter 76, Statutes 1914, the royalty on timber to be extracted, beginning January 1st, 1925, will, from information now available, be more than three times the royalty now being collected.

AND WHEREAS urgent representations have been made that this increase in royalty is much heavier than the industry can bear.

AND WHEREAS the representations made have gone so far as to say that any attempt to collect this royalty beginning January 1st next as upon the basis of the present Royalty Act would immediately result in a shutdown of the entire industry in the Province.

NOTICE is hereby given that a public hearing upon this question will be held in the Executive Chamber, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, before the Executive Council or such Members thereof as may be then present, beginning at 10 o'clock Wednesday, September 3rd next. Anyone who has any evidence to submit or representations to make on the question of timber royalties will be given opportunity to be heard and the public is requested to take notice accordingly.

CLERGY HOLD MEETING HERE

Methodist Ministers of District Urge Better Care for Cannery Children—Three Sessions

The regular annual financial meeting of the Methodist clergy of this district took place in the Methodist Church here yesterday. There were three sessions—morning, afternoon and evening—and much routine business as well as several special items was transacted. Rev. Dr. J. C. Spencer of Bella Bella, district chairman, presided and those attending were Rev. Dr. Oliver Darwin of Vancouver, superintendent of Methodist Missions; Rev. William Allan of Port Simpson; Rev. W. H. Pierce, Port Essington; Rev. Joseph Herdman, Anxox; Rev. Oliver Mann, Skidegate; Rev. J. H. Joffe, Sandspit; Rev. G. G. Hacker, Prince Rupert, and Capt. James Oliver of the mission boat Thomas Crosby.

Following the recent fatal fire at Prince Rupert cannery, Tucks Inlet, a resolution was passed requesting all canneries in the district to provide suitable quarters as playgrounds with some responsible person in charge for the children of mothers who work in the canneries. The church offers to co-operate and, in the case of Prince Rupert cannery, it was suggested that quarters might be obtained which could also be used for church services. The Japanese of Sunnyside already have such a place.

The meeting decided to send the mission boat Thomas Crosby to Bella Bella to work in the Smith's Inlet and Rivers Inlet district for the next few weeks. Accordingly the vessel will sail tomorrow with Capt. Oliver and Rev. Dr. J. C. Spencer in charge. Dr. Darwin urged that special efforts be made this year in view of the fact that it was the hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Methodist Missions in Canada.

INSTALL MILL SALMON RIVER ALASKAN MINE

Complete Concentrating Plant to Arrive at Hyder End of This Week

Within the neighborhood of a mile of underground work done and a large tonnage of good milling ore blocked out, the owners of the Riverside mine at Sevenmile, on the Salmon Valley road, are now preparing to realize on their investment of many thousands of dollars spent in developing this property says the Portland Canal News. A complete concentrating plant of 60 tons daily capacity has been ordered and should arrive on the Curacao about the end of this week. Otto Trojanowski, who built the Premier mill, has arrived to construct the Riverside plant. The work will be rushed, and barring unforeseen delays the mill should be ready to turn over about the 1st of October.

Without attempting to describe the flow sheet in detail it may be said that included in the equipment will be Traylor gyratory crushers, Colorado ball mills, Wilfley tables for controlling the iron content of the ore, two O and D. flotation cells, Oliver filter, etc. Power will be supplied by a 150 h.p. Fairbanks Morse engine for driving the generator. A bunkhouse to accommodate 60 men has just been completed, and 45 men are now employed.

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

by Shirley Sharon

Mah Jong with its east wind, its white dragons, its four seasons and the great wall has brought to popular notice the picturesqueness of the straight Chinese blouse.

All sorts of things influence dress—a world war, an interest in sports, a new way of cutting the hair, the introduction of an old game. With Mah Jong has come an appreciation of things Chinese—Chinese colors, embroideries worked in jade and bamboo, coral and mandarin yellow, splendid blue and carnelian, Chinese styles in coats and collars and straight blouses such as Manchu ladies wear. Many women wear the Chinese blouses in Georgette crepe, crepe de Chine or cotton voile embroidered or beaded for their Mah Jong parties.
