CANADA AND LABOR GOVT

Delegate at Trades and Labor Congress Says It May or May Not Come in Lifetime

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 20.—A Labor government in Canada may not come within a lifetime and, then again, it may come if only because it is based on justice and right said J. T. Brownlee, delegate from the British Union to the Trades and Labor Congress here.

"If the people of Canada had the real desire to translate the Sermon on the Mount into terms of legislation they would find there were plenty of men and women in the Labor party just as anxious as themselves to practice the tenets of the Prince of Peace," he declared.

Publisher Enthuses Over the Mining Possibilities of This District Especially Stewart

That this will be one of the greatest mining districts in the world and that a smelter should be built at Prince Rupert to handle the ores, especially those which at present cannot be treated by the Granby smelter at Anxox are opinions held by Charles E. Herron, newspaper publisher and mining man of Seattle, who passed through the city yesterday on his way to Stewart.

Mr. Herron is publisher of the Alaska Weekly at Seattle and also of the Anchorage Daily Times. He has also been interested in other publishing ventures at different times. In his weekly he runs a page devoted to British Columbia mining and especially to the Portland Canal district.

That the Portland canal mines will exceed in production the Cobalt or Butte districts within ten years is the opinion of Mr. Herron, clearly and forcibly expressed. He says it is the most wonderful mining country he knows and he has been around mining camps a great deal in the past 20 or 30 years. Ninety per cent of the mines are on the Canadian side and he expects to see twenty or thirty shipping mines there within a few years. It takes time and capital to develop the mines, however, and put them in condition for producing. The work is going on rapidly but it will gain impetus as it progresses.

The latest Hohenzollerns to settle down to work is Wilhelm, the eldest son of the former czar prince. He has accepted a position with an exporting and importing firm. He is shown on the left with his father and Prince Ferdinand.

New Features in Coast Steamship Schedule Which Takes Effect at End of Month; John Remains Here

A bi-weekly service between Vancouver and Prince Rupert by one of the large steamers and a weekly service to Anxox and Stewart and fortnightly service to the Queen Charlotte Islands out of this port by the steamer Prince John are features of a new fall schedule that is to be inaugurated at the end of the month by the Canadian National Railways coast steamship service. Announcement of the new service reached the city on the Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon.

Under this schedule, the steamer Prince Rupert, on arrival at Vancouver Saturday, September 27, will leave again on summer schedule for Prince Rupert, remaining here to go into dry dock on September 30. Thus there will be no sailing from Prince Rupert southbound on Monday, September 29.

The steamer Prince George, on arrival at Vancouver on Monday, September 29, will take up the new schedule the same night until Saturday, October 4, when she will be retired at Prince Rupert and the schedule taken up by the steamer Prince Rupert from Prince Rupert at midnight, Saturday, October 4.

Under the new schedule, the large steamer will sail from Vancouver for the north at 10 o'clock Monday nights and 12 noon Fridays, arriving at Prince Rupert at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoons and 8 o'clock Saturday nights respectively. Sailings from Prince Rupert for the south will be Wednesday nights at 8 o'clock and Saturday nights at midnight. Powell River, Ocean Falls, and Swanson Bay will be touched by the steamer leaving Vancouver Monday and by the steamer leaving Prince Rupert Saturday night. The run north from Vancouver on Friday noon and the run south from Prince Rupert on Wednesday night will be direct. Times of arrival at Vancouver will be 7 a.m. Friday

The proclamation will be published on Sunday in the Russian newspapers issued at Belgrade. It will declare that the Grand Duke will devote himself to liberating Russia from the communists.

PROSECUTIONS SELLING SAKI

Auctioneer and Purchaser Under Bonds Following Carrying Out Instructions Port Warden

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20.—Harold Matthews, auctioneer, was held on bail in bonds of $2,000 to answer a charge of selling liquor and S. E. Williams on a cash bail of $50 on a charge of illegally purchasing intoxicants as the result of a salvage auction today which was ordered by Capt. A. Warsnop, port warden, with authority as a federal officer.

The charges arise out of one case of 27 bottles of Japanese liquor known as saki being included in a quantity of damaged freight on the steamer Salvor which went ashore at Campbell River recently.

The case brought up a number of interesting points. Some contend that in acting on the instructions of the port warden the auctioneer was a crown employee and was carrying out the laws of Canada in the matter of the disposal of the salvaged goods.

Matthews says he is satisfied the saki was legally purchased in the first instance but the provincial officials point out that liquor purchased in the proper manner may not under law be resold by any person.

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—Present arrangements call for the Prince of Wales being in Montreal on Monday enroute from Long Island to his Alberta ranch. Labor Congress Re-elects Chief Officers at London Meeting

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Tom Moore was elected president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. Secretary F. M. Draper was returned by election for the 24th term. The vice-presidents are James Simpson, Toronto, J. T. Foster, Montreal, and Bert Merson of Toronto. J. F. Marsh of Niagara Falls was chosen to represent Congress as fraternal delegate to the British Trades Union Congress.

Hon. James Mudrock, minister of labor, was criticized for the stand he had taken in connection with the strike of postal workers and a resolution was adopted declaring the postal workers should be taken back without discrimination and that they should suffer no loss by reason of the strike, also urging that full civil rights be granted all civil service workers, and that they should come under the industrial disputes act.

H. P. Pettipiece of Vancouver was elected chairman of the British Columbia executive and it was agreed that the remainder of the committee should be elected by the trades councils of Vancouver, Victoria and Prince Rupert and their appointments be ratified by the central executive.

Old age pensions for every person in Canada above 65 years of age with 20 years residence was recommended.

Sir Thomas Robinson will remain in the city until Monday night when he will proceed to Vancouver on the steamer Prince George.

A subsequent telegram received at the Grotto Cigar Store from Fritz' pool room, Victoria, says that Alex Roy lost to Joe Bayley on a foul in the bout at Victoria on Thursday night.

Sees Great Future For Portland Canal.

Charles C. Herron, well known throughout the north, tells Prince Rupert people today of his unbounded faith in the mining possibilities of this north country. He enthralls particularly over the Portland Canal district and its future. Also he sees that the development of the mining of this district means an immense lot to Prince Rupert.

It is curious that an outsider should be able to see things which many local people do not see, but it is true. Many local people do not realize the value of the steady general development of the district to this city. They cannot understand that Prince Rupert, being the terminal distributing point, is bound to benefit from the growth of the mining camps.

Why Not Rupert People Develop Mines?

Why is it Prince Rupert people do not take a hand in the development of the mines of the district. Some have already done so but the number is small and the comparative amount of work they have done is almost infinitesimal. We are dependent on American people to make us prosperous.

There is no objection whatever to American capital. Our only complaint is that we do not get enough of it. Our complaint is simply the fact that we allow outsiders to do all our development for us instead of doing some of it ourselves. If this country is good enough and rich enough for us to make money in, it should be good enough for us to help develop with the idea of making more money and of helping it to grow.

Wrangell Island Soviet Territory.

Wrangell Island is adjoining Soviet territory and is of little use to anyone else. It naturally belongs to them and it is satisfactory that they have taken possession of it. The holding of territory by people in districts which naturally belong to others has been fruitful of international quarrels and bickerings. It would be a pity to have a condition like that in the Arctic Ocean.

Biggest Fishing Year In Many Seasons.

This has been the largest fishing year for a long time past. The putting up of a million cases in this fisheries district means a great deal. It means that forty-eight million pounds of salmon has been packed and sent out to help supply the world's food demand. While all of this has not been directly contributory to Prince Rupert, the bulk of it was packed on the Skeena and Naas rivers and at Queen Charlotte Islands. It means that the fishermen have had a great deal of money to spend in the district and it means that the canners have done well and the transportation companies have benefited.

SMITHERS LADY IS AFTERNOON HOSTESS

Mrs. G. Hanson Guest of Honor Prior to Departure East

SMITHERS, Sept. 20.—A very pleasant afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. D. C. Simpson, on Thursday when that lady entertained in honor of Mrs. (Dr.) G. Hanson, who is leaving for eastern Canada.

The following ladies were present: Mrs. G. Hanson, Mrs. A. S. Miller, Mrs. J. G. Stephens, Mrs. Milligan, Mrs. J. N. Carr, Mrs.

Haney, Miss M. Hanna and Mrs. H. Thompson.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. Smith.

Those present reluctantly said farewell to Mrs. Hanson, who has won the esteem of all during her residence here this summer.

Ms Helen Randal, R.N., administrator of the Registered Nurses' Act and inspector of training schools, returned on last night's train from Hazelton. She is visiting the local hospital on her official duties and will proceed to Port Simpson before returning to her headquarters in Vancouver.

The Man in the Moon SAYS--

WELL, boys, furbish up the old gun.

LIFE is like a game of black-jack. You mostly lose, but you don't have to say "hit me" to get cleaned up.

THE biggest liar in the world is the one who gives a recommendation to the average cook.

A GOOD sport is a man who spends all his money at my place.

Another kind of good sport is the girl who flirts with me without taking me too seriously.

IT'S dangerous to get rich. Your friends will think you are bootlegging if you make the dough too fast.

BEING friendly with a girl who turned you down is something like eating a cold fried egg for lunch.

THE other day a thirsty person dropped into town after the booze palace on Fraser Street had closed. He went up to a stranger and asked where he could get a drink. Anywhere, was the reply. All you have to do is ask for it and look wise. He got it.

IT is curious that in their search for railway commissioners the Mackenzie King government should have found them in Canada and not in Vancouver.

WHILE in Prince Rupert there have been some rain showers on the prairies they have had snow storms.

Oh heck, do tell I don't like it very well This everlasting rain It sure gives me a pain As it comes down pell mell Yet it might be worse And it's no good to curse For a country without rain is hell.

MAY SLAUGHTER CATTLE MEANS OF ELECTRICITY

Experiment of Electric Cage Tried on Big St. Bernard Dog

LYNN, Mass., Sep. 18.—Nero, a St. Bernard dog, homeless and sick, paid the death penalty recently in the electric cage at the Animal Rescue Home on Neptune Street. Nero was executed because he had no guardian and, running at large, had become a menace to the public.

The dog was led to the execution chamber after the hair around the neck had been cut close and a steel collar connected with electric wires put around his body. His feet were doused in water and he stood on a steel plate, making a circuit for 1,500 volts of electricity.

That death was instantaneous was proved when the cage was opened twelve seconds after the current had been turned off. The dog was found lifeless on the bottom of the cage, his eyes open.

Experts who saw the execution said that a similar machine, but larger and with a heavier voltage, could be successfully operated in slaughter houses and undoubtedly would be tried in Chicago and Kansas City.

The execution cage is the invention of Huntington Smith of Boston and Prof. William L. Pusfer, formerly of the department of electrical engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Two Local Airplanes Flew Ten Thousand Miles During Season Covering All District

While the world has this year been watching the efforts of aviators representing several nations with elaborate preparations made for them and every assistance at their command to fly a distance of 27,000 or so miles around the globe, the party of Royal Canadian Air Force men engaged in fisheries patrol in Prince Rupert district during the past two months has quietly but successfully flown some 10,000 miles—more than one-third the distance around the world in mileage—under conditions which, though perhaps not so arduous, have required quite as much skill. They have, moreover, used machines which they practically built themselves and have had but four engines—two of which proved faulty and caused the only two accidents which are to be recorded during the activities of the season, namely, the breaking of connecting rods which necessitated forced landings in each case and the towing in of the machine for repairs. The total flying time of the two machines during their patrol work this year has been 143 hours. Flight Lieut. E. L. MacLeod and Flying Officer A. H. Hull have been the pilots.

The territory covered in the patrol work out of Prince Rupert this summer has been between Smith's Inlet on the south, Stewart on the north, the Queen Charlotte Islands on the west and tidewater of the Skeena River on the east—a belt some 400 miles long and 150 miles wide. During the season, one machine has been stationed at the headquarters in Prince Rupert and the other at Swanson Bay, Stewart, the Naas River, Warke Canal, Stephens Island, Porcher Island, Kitimaat, the Eestall and Skeena Rivers, Principe Channel, Gardner Canal, Swanson Bay, Bella Bella, Bella Coola, Rivers Inlet and Smith's Inlet are only a few of the points that have been regularly visited.

Not Good Season The 1924 season has not been a very good one for flying on account of rain and fog but the inclemency of the weather has not caused much interference and all the work planned for the machines has been carried out. On account of the prevalence of the fog, however, it was necessary to do a great deal of low flying.

During latter operations, both machines were equipped with wireless telephones, the use of which has proven very successful. There was so much low flying, however, that it was not possible to use this equipment because the airdials, reeled out from the machine, hang down some 100 feet and obviously cannot be used when the machines are close above the surface of the water. The longest communications were from Prince Rupert to Swanson Bay, a distance of some 75 miles.

The work this year has been but a continuation of last year's with increased scope. Many localities were visited this year that were not touched last.

Practicability of Planes One feature exemplifying the practicability of using airplanes in fisheries patrol work is that many detours can be avoided by the air. Points only a few miles distant by air but which, by water routes are very far apart, can be reached by air in as many minutes as would be required hours by water. Particularly is this the case on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

A photographic program had been planned in connection with the aerial fisheries patrol at Prince Rupert this year but this was cut short owing to Pilot Officer C. J. Duncan, the photographer, having been called to Winnipeg some weeks ago. He took several hundred pictures, however, mainly in the Porcher and Pitt Island districts showing spawning areas and section of little known coast line.

Detachment Personnel Jack Toner's ark has been the headquarters containing work shop, office and some living quarters. The housing has been augmented with army tents pitched on the railway grade—one being a wireless station and another, a store house.

Those stationed with the airplanes at Prince Rupert this year have been: Flight Lieutenant Earl L. MacLeod, in command. Flying Officer A. H. Hull, pilot. Pilot Officer C. J. Duncan, photographer. Corporal H. E. Davenport. Leading Aircraftmen N. C. Terry, W. A. Wilson, F. Young and E. C. Tennant. Acting Staff Sergeant A. R. Anderson and Signalman W. McGill of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signalmen.

Permanent Air Base. The equipment at Prince Rupert has been practically all lifted now and will be returned to Vancouver. If Prince Rupert is to be continued as an air base—and it looks as if it will be for patrol purposes at least—there will have to be some permanent provisions made for the quartering of machines. There is no way of taking them out of the water at present and, as a result, they have been moored to buoys all summer. A slipway is required and would be a great convenience in the making of repairs. There have been nine men of the Royal Canadian Air Force and two members of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signalmen stationed at Prince Rupert this summer in connection with the fisheries patrol work. The duties of the signalmen were in connection with the wireless telephony. Detachment Personnel Jack Toner's ark has been the headquarters containing work shop, office and some living quarters. BUTTERICK 5331

Tub silks and flannels run to stripes while heavy crepe de Chine and silk crepe are used in white or plain colors in straight one-piece dresses.

WOMEN in general have been very well pleased with the return of the collar which is used on most of the simpler Summer dresses and also on many of a more ambitious character. One sees them most frequently in the simple little straight sleeveless dresses made in the English blazer stripes that makes the Thames so gay in boating weather. The silk broad-cloths and plain flannels in lovely soft shades are also used for this same type of dress, and of course they are made in plaids and checks in both flannel and cotton rations. With their simple cut and kimono sleeve, or what passes for a sleeve, they are extremely easy to make.

WOMEN IN INDIA FEWER THAN MEN

Census Gives Total Population as 318,942,490; Millions Died From Influenza

LONDON, Sept. 20.—In contrast to this country the women in India are fewer than the men. According to the census of the Indian Empire which was carried out on March 18, 1921, a summary of which was recently issued, the population was 318,942,480, an increase of 1.2 per cent since 1911. The males numbered 163,995,554 and the females 154,946,926, giving a proportion of 945 females per 1,000 males.

The main cause of the small increase in the population in the last decade is the direct and indirect loss from the influenza epidemic of 1918-19. The mortality from the disease is calculated at between twelve and thirteen millions.

The proportion of the population returned under the main religions is as follows:—

Hindu	686
Mohammedan	217
Buddhist	37
Christian	19

Hospital Association Did Not Look Favorably on Resolution Submitted by Lady-Smith Delegate.

In reporting on the recent convention of the B.C. Hospitals Association at last night's meeting of the local board, Harry Birch, who attended at Victoria as delegate from Prince Rupert, stated that the delegate from Lady-Smith had not got very far with his resolution that the school qualification for a prospective student-in-training be lowered. It was likely, however, that the matter would come up again next year although not much support had been given it on this occasion.

Miss Helen Randal, R.N., administrator of the Registered Nurses' Act, stated that the inclination was to raise rather than lower the scholastic requirements.

Sport Chat

Despite all the advance heralding that was published by Victoria sporting editors, the scheduled ten-round bout between Joe Bayley and Alex Roy on Thursday night ended rather suddenly and seems at this distance to have turned out more or less of a joke. While it is hard to say how far Bayley will get with his claim for the Canadian lightweight championship, which he held ten years ago, it does look as if his opponent, Roy, must have gone down a good deal since he left Prince Rupert or really was not much good when he was here. In any case, he let a "has-been," who most everybody thought was done with the boxing game for good long ago, administer the knock-out to him in the second round. Bayley fought several battles here some ten years ago and is known to many fistie fans. Even though the lightweight title does not seem to be very much in demand, it is generally felt that Bayley will never be able to hold it officially again.

NELS JEPSEN THREW BURNS TWO OUT OF THREE LOSING FIRST

ANYOX, Sept. 20.— Recreation Hall was the scene of a wrestling match on Wednesday night, when Nels Jepsen, light-heavy-weight champion of Canada, and Jack Burns, of Spokane, worked for a decision. There was nothing at stake, but a very pretty exhibition of the big man's game was witnessed by a small crowd of fans, who waxed enthusiastic. The best two out of three falls decided the winner, and Jepsen got 'em. The first fall went to Burns in fourteen minutes, a double-scissors and hip lock doing the trick. Jepsen won the next two straight, it taking just eight minutes for each, and both falls were secured with a toe-hold.

A. Lafortune was the third man on the mat, and A. Sinclair held the watch.

COLE WINNER OF PRESIDENT'S CUP IN ANYOX TENNIS

ANYOX, Sept. 20.— The big event of the Anyox tennis year is the competition for the president's cup, donated annually by whoever happens to be president of the club, J. E. C. Stroud being the donor for 1924. The finals for this bit of silverware was contested on Sunday last, the two players qualifying being D. Cole Jr., and H. T. Ballion. Mr. Cole won in two straight sets, the scores being 6-4, 6-4, 6-1. It was expected that it would take at least four, and possibly five, sets to determine the winner, and considerable disappointment resulted among those followers of the game who were attracted to the courts for the play. Mr. Cole played a thoroughly excellent game, however, and no play seemed to be too difficult for him, while Mr. Ballion appeared decidedly off color and was certainly not performing up to his usual standard. This is the second year in succession that Mr. Cole has won the president's cup.

TYPHOON STRIKES LURID JAZZ PARTY IN BLAZING TROPICS

Dramatic Scene in "Thundering Dawn" at the Local Theatre Tonight

Gayety at its height— weird but seductive jazz of the Orient where graceful bodies swayed through soft toned lights, and no one cared for the morrow. Eager eyes sought each other through half drunken stupors.

Occasionally a man reached for his gun. A woman's eyes subdued him. Here a couple fell exhausted— from drink and drugs and endless whirling. Freedom! Bohemia! Madness! The seasons were changing. The long hot half year of white burning sun had given ground to the six month sway of rain.

Across the floor the queen stepped. A siren in soul, brazen with the conquests of unnumbered men. The picturesque swarm of men and women, refugees of every land, bold and unwavering, stepped aside to give her ground.

Straight to the young American, southeast she went. By his side was his sweetheart from the States pleading tearfully for his regeneration. The lure of the oriental vampire mounted to his brain, but the pain-wrenched face of the civilized woman beside him held him back. The crowd watched in silence. Two women were battling each other for their souls and for the soul of a man. The man was hopelessly enmeshed by both.

Suddenly a shriek of mad wind was heard—

"Typhoon!" A woman screamed.

Crash! Came the great timbers of the gilded palace splintering like bamboo. Men fled. Women tumbled and shrieked.

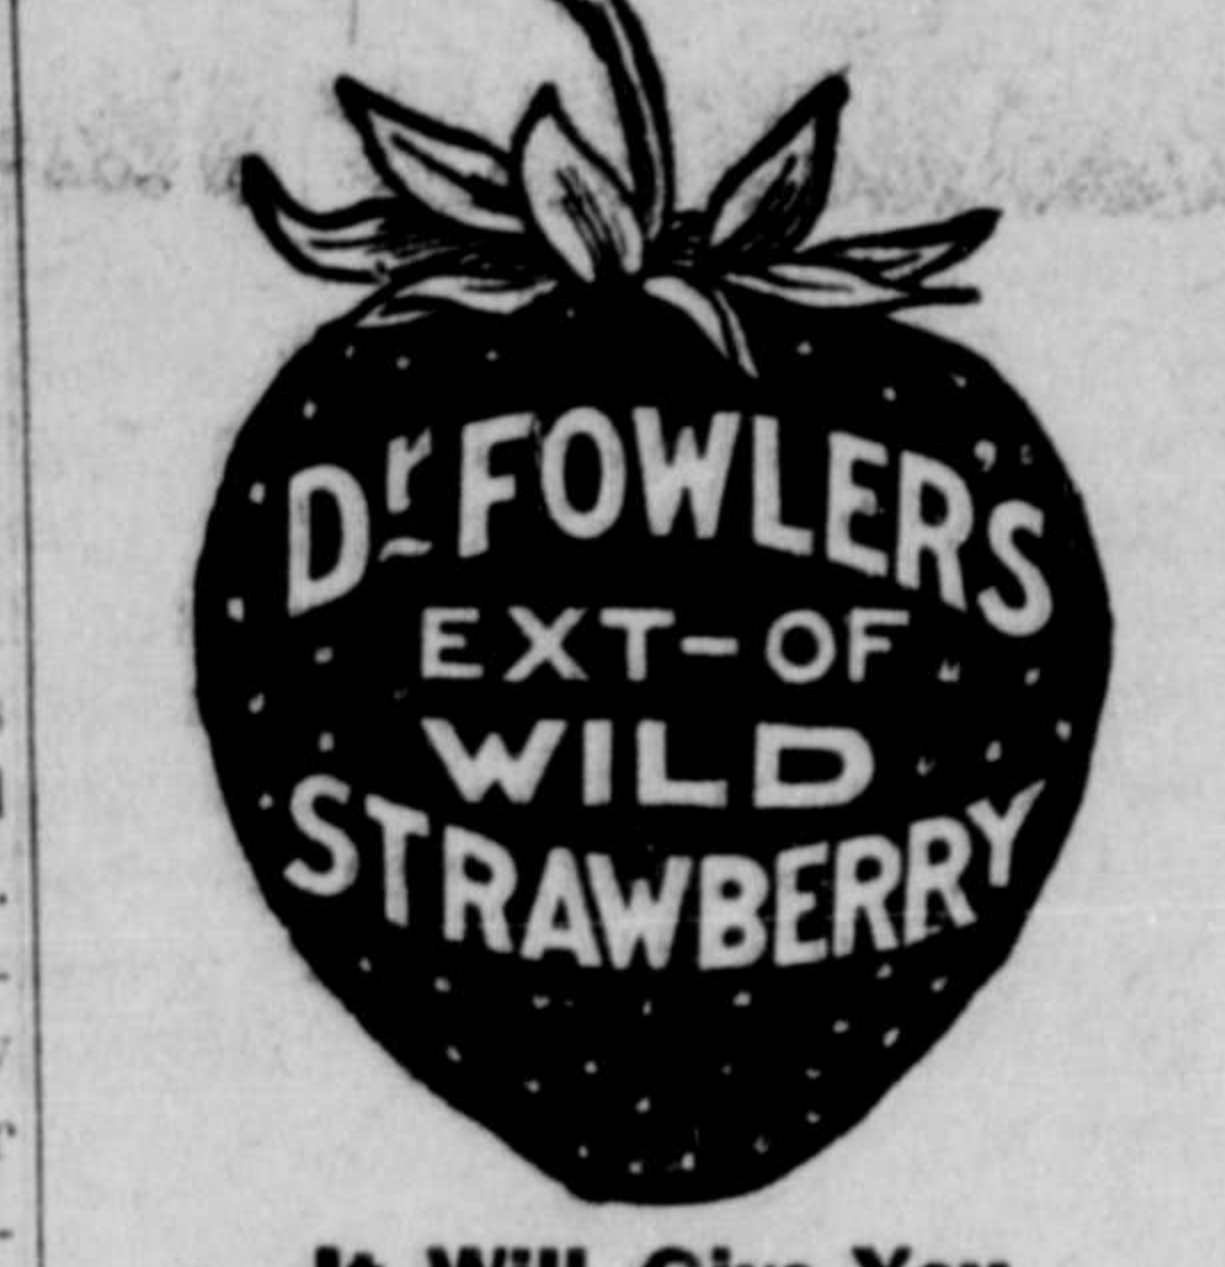

Tidal wave! The sea dashed in to wash everything away. Who could survive such a mad tropic storm?

That was one of the scenes in Thundering Dawn at the Westholme last night and tonight.

George H. Arnold, who has been in the south for the past few weeks on a combined business and pleasure trip, returned to the city on the Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon.

At a meeting last night final arrangements were made for the re-opening of the Lutheran Church night school in the King Edward High School building on Monday. It is expected to have three classes, particularly for the study of English. The classes are under the management of the church and the teachers, so far have given their services voluntarily.
