MACLAREN HAD NARROW ESCAPE NORTH

W. J. BOWSER DEFINITELY HAS DECIDED TO RETIRE FROM POLITICAL LIFE

Stuart MacLaren had Narrow Escape from Death when his Engine Failed in Far North

CORDOVA, Aug. 6. — Squadron Leader Stuart MacLaren and his two companions had a narrow escape from death as the result of engine trouble which caused the British round the world plane to fall near the Kommanderski Islands on Saturday. A wireless message caught here indicates that failure of the engine was the primary cause for the wrecking of the British plane and frustrating the expedition. The message, which was sent by Squadron Leader MacLaren from the Canadian fisheries patrol steamer Thierval on which he and his companions are en route to Vancouver, says that, after the machine hit the water, the three men had difficulty in keeping the engine running until they reached the surf at the foot of Bering Island cliffs. Meanwhile it seemed that certain death was facing them.

"I am sorry that we have failed at the last moment," says the message. "The engine was perfectly magnificent, having run for one hundred hours under all conditions of climate without replacements of any kind. Frequently we had to fly above the fog. Previous to the last failure, we had gear trouble due to the machine being too heavily loaded."

TWO DROWNED LAUNCH SANK

VICTORIA, Aug. 6. — Mrs. William Trott, wife of an employee of the James Logging company and William Riley, one of the company's engineers were drowned in Cowichan Lake yesterday afternoon when the launch in which they were proceeding to meet Trott on his return from Victoria, struck a deadhead, filled with water and sank. Two children who were in the launch were saved.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

President Coolidge Likely to Call It Before November Elections

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. — It is stated here that President Coolidge will call an international conference to discuss limitation of armaments both of land and sea forces after the reparations settlement has been completed and before the November elections. The result of such a move, it is said, would greatly strengthen the President with the voters, who are strongly for peace.

IRELAND AGAIN BEFORE PUBLIC

Parliament to be Summoned for September 30 Unless Ulster Takes Action

LONDON, Aug. 6. — Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary of state for the colonies, announced in the House of Commons today that after a full and frank discussion of the Irish boundary problem by the members of the Free State government and the British government they had decided to summon parliament to deal with the question on September 30 unless by that time the Ulster government nominated boundary commissioners in accordance with the provisions of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

MACLAREN IS INVITED HERE

Mayor Newton Sends Message to Commander of British Round the World Flight

The following message has been sent by Mayor Newton to Capt. Beech, master of the C.G.S. Thierval, which is bringing Squadron Leader A. S. C. Stuart MacLaren and his companions from Nikolski, Kammanderski Islands, to Vancouver after their unsuccessful effort to fly around the world:

"Please convey to Squadron Leader MacLaren Prince Rupert's keen regret over his mishap. Nevertheless, we are all proud of what he accomplished and wish him to visit Prince Rupert before going south. We promise him a warm welcome."

With the understanding that he leave town immediately, Peter Campbell, who came before Justice of the Peace S. D. Macdonald in the city police court this morning on a charge of drunkenness, was released on suspended sentence.

Settlement With Russia Was Reached This Afternoon Says Announcement Made In Commons

LONDON, Aug. 6. — A settlement was finally reached between the British Government and Soviet Russia this afternoon, it was announced in the House of Commons today. #### FAILED CLIMB MT. WHITEHORN

Two Attempts to Scale Magnificent Peak But Weather Against Climbers

BERG LAKE, B.C., Aug. 6. — Two attempts were made this week to scale Mount Whitehorn but the party was obliged to give up and returned to the Alpine Club camp yesterday afternoon. The party consisted of five Americans, including three boys from Harvard College, and two Englishmen. With them was Hans Hothler, one of the Swiss guides employed by the Canadian National Railways at Jasper. They spent two nights on a rock ledge high above the clouds below the saddle of the Whitehorn, braving violent rainstorms that sent people in the camp far below to crouch over their stoves. The party on Whitehorn had the canvas fly as their only shelter weighed down with stones at each end and supported by their ice axes in the middle. On two consecutive days they made determined efforts to scale the mountain but the weather remained frigid and the wet rocks were like a sheet of ice so they gave it up and returned to camp. The three Harvard boys are going on to spend three weeks at Jasper, climbing the mountains round the Tonquin Valley and the Malgine Lake in company with the Swiss guides at Jasper Park Lodge.

Armed Men Stole Mail from Transfer Wagon on a Montreal Street

MONTREAL, Aug. 6. — A mail pouch with its twenty packages of registered mail, taken last night by armed bandits from a transfer wagon on St. James Street, was found slashed and empty on Shuter Street this morning. A number of men halted the transfer men, covering the driver with a gun and took the registered bag which is said to have contained at least two packages of money for Ottawa and other mail. The bandits escaped leaving no trace of their whereabouts.

BOWSER OUT OF POLITICS

Decides to Retire From Political Life This Week

VICTORIA, Aug. 6. — Hon. W. J. Bowser, leader of the Conservative party in this province, will after more than twenty years' service leave politics for good on Saturday. Mr. Bowser's definite decision to retire from the Conservative leadership and from the Legislature was announced yesterday. "The elected Conservative members will meet in Vancouver at my invitation on Saturday when I shall inform them that I am definitely retiring," Mr. Bowser said in a statement to the Times.

DEATH SENTENCE BEEN COMMUTED

OTTAWA, Aug. 6. — Sentence of death passed on Alfred Corbett for the murder of his wife at Courtenay in April last, was commuted to life imprisonment, interference and little static. #### RADIO CLEAR ON WEST COAST OF MORESBY ISLAND

Richmond Mortimer Has Success With Single Tube Set Made by Himself

The west coast of Queen Charlotte Islands seems favorable for the use of wireless apparatus. Richmond Mortimer, who is with the survey party of A. E. Wright at Tasso and Gold Harbor on the west coast of Moresby Island, recently sent home for his radio set. It is a small single tube instrument which he made himself, but it has a pretty good battery. Mr. Mortimer reports that messages come in very clear with no interference and little static. He has heard stations at Los Angeles, Berkeley, Portland and other places.

Wireless Tests With Fishery Patrol Airplanes Last Night In Spite Of Poor Visibility

Last night tests were made of the ability of the wireless plant at Seal Cove to receive communications from the fisheries patrol airplanes while in motion. Shortly after 7 o'clock, Lieut. MacLeod took the air to carry out the tests which it is reported proved very satisfactory.

A plant has been established at Seal Cove, the object of which is to keep in touch with the planes whenever and wherever they may be flying in the district. This plant is also capable of communicating with the headquarters of the squadron at Jericho Beach, Vancouver.

DUKE OF YORK MAY COME IN SEPTEMBER

TORONTO, Aug. 6. — The Mail and Empire says the Duke of York will accompany the Prince of Wales on his visit to his Alberta ranch in September. LONDON, Aug. 6. — There is no foundation whatever for the suggestion that the Duke of York may accompany the Prince of Wales on his forthcoming trip to Canada and the United States.

RAILWAY HEAD ARRIVES HERE

Sir Henry Thornton and Party Reaches City on Steamer Prince George this Afternoon

The Canadian National Railways presidential party headed by Sir Henry Thornton will arrive in the city at 3.45 this afternoon on the steamer Prince George, Capt. Harry Nedden, which is 45 minutes late. Such local inspections as are necessary will be made by the various officials and tonight at 7 o'clock Sir Henry will be the guest of honor at an informal dinner to be given in the Boston Grill. Tomorrow the party will proceed East by special train. While Sir Henry and the large party are on this tour of the west, the business of the company is being carried on as usual. In fact, some important conferences have taken place among the officials while travelling. This is the reason why the party is so large.

NO BRITISH TO BE BROUGHT TO CANADA FOR THE HARVESTING

OTTAWA, Aug. 6. — There will be no harvester movement from the United Kingdom to Canada this year, according to immigration authorities today. The department regards it as inadvisable to permit a repetition of last year's influx of British men for work in the fields of the West.

MEN DROWNED AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Aug. 6. — Two dead bodies were taken from local waters yesterday. One was that of S. A. Dorsey, C.P.R. train porter, who lost his life late Monday while swimming in English Bay. The other was that of a man picked up in Burrard Inlet by the crew of the tug Fearless in the city, Oakland, San Francisco, Berkeley, Portland and other places.

JEPSON BEATEN BY JACK BURNS

Holder of Title Beaten by Challenger Last Night, Two Falls Out of Three

In a real good exhibition of the mat game, Jack Burns of Spokane, challenger, last night defeated Nels Jepson, holder, in a match announced to be for the light heavyweight championship of Canada. The attendance was not large but the spectators who were present were well satisfied with the contest. The match was decided in three falls. After 41 minutes and 51 seconds had elapsed, Jepson pinned Burns to the mat with a head scissor. Twenty-one minutes and 32 seconds after resuming, Burns obtained the second fall with a scissor on the head and double wrist lock on the arm which forced Jepson to give up in pain. Burns won 11 minutes and 30 seconds later with a similar lock. P. Laporte was referee and Ben Self timekeeper of the wrestling match as well as of two snappy three two-minute preliminaries in which R. B. Skinner vs. Tom Fraser and George Boulter vs. Mike Comadina engaged. Jepson has challenged Burns for a return match, the winner to take all. Burns has accepted and the event will take place towards the middle of the month. In view of the excellent contest last evening, the next one should prove attractive and will likely draw out a larger crowd than was in attendance last night.

DAILY EDITION Wednesday, August 6, 1924.

Welcome To Sir Henry Thornton.

The Daily News takes pleasure in again joining with the rest of the people of Prince Rupert in welcoming Sir Henry Thornton, the head of our railway system, on the success of which the success of Prince Rupert depends.

Everyone here realizes the difficulties which have to be met and overcome in building up a big business like that of the National Railway system. It is the biggest business in the country and one of the biggest businesses in the world.

Everyone Has His Own Opinion.

The articles written in this column are usually the opinion of one man and cannot be said to represent all the community. Many people do not agree with those opinions and it would be queer if they did.

It is generally understood that people disagree on politics but they also disagree on matters pertaining to religion, sociology, economics, and almost every subject that may be discussed.

Some people never trouble to read this column and others read it religiously every day. To find out how many read it, the writer has only to step hard on somebody's toes and the fun is on.

Pleasant To Meet Visitor From Abroad.

It is pleasant to meet a visitor from abroad and to get his outlook on things and perhaps absorb some of his enthusiasm. Here we live much to ourselves and we are apt to get in a rut.

Should Guard Against Gradual Slowing Down.

The tendency in a small place where there is not very keen competition is to slow down. Gradually the influence of the community affects the stranger and he succumbs in time.

It is said that people leaving Prince Rupert and going out into the busier places find it difficult to maintain their own in competition. The slowing down for a period of years has had a deleterious effect and the result is fatal if kept up too long.

ALICE ARM, Aug. 6.—Large shipments of logs are being made from here to the pulp mill at Ocean Falls. The Cape Scott is taking a boom of over two million feet today or tomorrow after having already delivered two large booms of about the same size.

BEAR CAPTURED AT TOP OF TALL TREE

ALICE ARM, Aug. 6.—There is a pet bear at Carlson's camp which was captured by Carl Johnson, high rigger for the concern. A few days ago two bear cubs took refuge in a tall tree here and Johnson went up after them. He roped one of them and brought it down and now the cub is the centre of attraction at the camp.

5,000 LUMBER WORKERS IN FRASER VALLEY

FIVE-FOLD INCREASE IN THE TIMBER CUT IN ELEVEN YEARS

Over 100 Big Freighters Load Lumber in Fraser River in 30 Months

The Fraser Valley provides another very striking example of what the British Columbia forest industries are doing to assist the development of the province.

Approximately 9,000,000,000 feet of the finest merchantable timber on the Pacific Coast represents the stand of the Fraser Valley from North Bend to the sea.

In this district there are over 70 saw and shingle mills, including the largest plant in the province, also some 40 logging camps with 100 miles of logging railroad actually built and under construction.

These concerns employ over 5,000 workers, with an annual payroll exceeding $6,000,000.

In 1913 the timber cut of the Fraser Valley was 29,000,000 feet, in 1923 it was 157,700,000 feet, an increase of 540 per cent in eleven years.

In 1923 the timber revenue collected by the New Westminster agency of the Dominion Government exceeded $300,000.

During the first six months of this year over 45,000,000 feet of lumber has been exported overseas from the Fraser. This was more than the whole of British Columbia shipped by water in 1917.

The revival of the port of New Westminster is due almost entirely to the lumber industry. In 1921 five vessels loaded lumber in the Fraser. During the last two years and a half over a hundred big ocean going steamers have berthed at its wharves. All these vessels were lumber carriers.

The progressive authorities of the "Royal City" are realizing that a stabilized and freely operating, unharassed lumber industry is the "best bet" of the Fraser River.

This series of articles communicated by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

BANK REPORT SAYS CROPS ARE IMPROVED

Heavy Rains Benefitted All; Hail Damage is Negligible

Heavy rains have benefitted all crops in Manitoba and have improved summer fallow in Alberta and Saskatchewan, says the Bank of Montreal weekly report. Prospects generally are fair to good except in southern and eastern Edmonton district, northeast Calgary district, northeast Lethbridge district and in the Saskatoon district. Hail damage to date is negligible. In Ontario, Quebec and the eastern provinces, rains have been fairly general and the results have been beneficial.

In Quebec haying is general and the yield will be average. Grain prospects are satisfactory. In Ontario haying is practically completed and cutting of wheat is general in the Maritime Provinces. Potatoes are in excellent condition but other crops are light. In British Columbia haying has been completed with yield below the average. Peaches, plums and early apples are now being picked.

DIFFICULTIES OF BEING CANDIDATE

John W. Davis Finds Out Things About Himself Since Nomination

LOCUST VALLEY, Aug. 6.—John W. Davis, to use his own words, has discovered that the life of a presidential candidate is not a bed of roses. Mr. Davis announced his discovery during a recent speech here after a reception by his neighbors of the Locust Valley section of Oyster Bay, which was much like the hvarions that another man of the neighborhood, Theodore Roosevelt, used to receive.

The Democratic nominee caused laughter among his audience when he related the contents of two letters he said he had received since his nomination. One of them was from an old cobbler in a town of that state who had been a lifelong Democrat but who, since the convention, had announced that he "was a Methodist and a Prohibitionist, and would never vote for any man who had been president of a bar association." The other letter was from a man in Pennsylvania who assured Mr. Davis he was sorry to hear the nominee had been sued for breach of promise.

"He added that he knew the lady," said Mr. Davis, "and could tell me something about her that could help me in my defense."

Canadian National Has Never Considered Purchasing Road Says Major Bell

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—"It has not been considered," said Major Graham Bell, deputy minister of railways and canals, when shown a Victoria despatch stating that the Canadian National Railways might take over and operate the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. He stated that, if Canadian National engineers had been looking over the Pacific Great Eastern, it had probably been with the intention of arranging for a connection between this road and the Canadian National. The question of purchasing the British Columbia line had, however, never been under consideration.

PRESENTATION TO LIBRARIAN

Miss Muriel Grant Recipient of Handsome Gift on Retiring from Position

APPRECIATION EXPRESSED

Book Club and Music Club Join With Library Board in Interesting Event

Voicing the unexpressed sentiments of the whole community representative members of the library board, the book club and the ladies music club last night gathered in the public library at the close of the library board meeting and made a presentation to Miss Muriel Grant on the occasion of her giving up her position in Prince Rupert as librarian.

Rev. G. G. Hacker, chairman of the library board, on behalf of the three representative groups asked Miss Grant to accept a beautiful silver tea tray and a silver sandwich tray and these were handed to the recipient by Miss Macdonald and Mrs. J. Greer. Mr. Hacker spoke of the very efficient work done by Miss Grant and also the geniality she had put into her work. He desired to express the esteem in which members of the board and also members of the book club and music club held her. The small token was just to show in some tangible way how they all felt. He hoped she would have a long, useful and happy life.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick then presented Miss Grant with a lovely bouquet of Prince Rupert grown sweet peas.

Book Club

On behalf of the book club, Mrs. Brady, president, spoke of the help Miss Grant had given them. She had introduced them to many new friends in the book world. One of these was James Branch Cabell who in one of his books told them of the power of thought. How potent a power, she said, was a library with an efficient librarian at its head.

Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, president of the music club, said when she entered the library first the atmosphere was too bright and beautiful to last. She wished to join with the others in praise of the work done by Miss Grant.

H. F. Pullen spoke of the early efforts of the promotion of the library which had now become an established institution in the city. Miss Helen Stewart of Victoria had given them a week of her valuable time in organizing the campaign and not the least service she had rendered was in sending Miss Grant as Librarian. She had promised she would send a good librarian and she had done so. Mr. Pullen said he wished to testify to the good service given by the librarian by her persistent and painstaking work in a quiet unobtrusive way.

Best She Had

G. W. Wilkinson, who was also one of the active organizers of the library, spoke appreciatively. He said Miss Stewart had promised to send them the best librarian she had and he was sure she had done this.

James Black seconded what the others had said and suggested that if Miss Grant should ever return here to live she would make an excellent member of the library board.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick told of what a great pleasure it had been to know the librarian.

Miss Grant made a feeling reply in which she thanked the three organizations for the beautiful present and also for the appreciation they had expressed. She said she had enjoyed the work here very much and would always look back with pleasant recollections to the two years she had spent in Prince Rupert.

New Librarian

Miss Violet Mortimer, the new librarian, who takes up the work at the beginning of next week, said she realized what a difficult thing it would be to follow Miss Grant in the position, but she would do her best and with the co-operation of the board she felt sure they would make the library a credit to the city. She spoke appreciatively of the work that had been done here. Compared with other places of about the same size in California they had a good record.

At the meeting of the board which preceded the presentation a formal resolution of appreciation was ordered to be sent to Miss Grant by the secretary. This it was thought might be useful if at any time she should return to the profession she was leaving.

Coffee, cake and sandwiches were served by the ladies at the close.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vickers and daughter, Miss Edna Vickers, are sailing tomorrow evening by the steamer Prince George for Vancouver on a holiday trip.

Mrs. E. H. Mortimer left Monday for Kitwanga where she will be the guest of Captain and Mrs. Clive.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Massey of Prince Rupert, Miss Massey of New York City are returning to the city on the Princess Alice this afternoon after a trip to Skagway.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Alice, Capt. Ormiston, southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, will be in port this afternoon from 3.30 to 6 o'clock. No passengers will embark here, all space having been sold in the north.

GOOD SOCCER LAST EVENING

Sons of Canada and Callies Tied One all in First Gilhuly Cup Game

The Callies and Sons of Canada ran true to form in the opening game of the Gilhuly Cup series last night and the large crowd of fans which climbed Acropolis Hill expecting to see a close match between these two rivals of long standing was not disappointed, the final score being one all which was quite indicative of the merits of play on the respective sides. Both teams were full of pep and entered into the match with the idea of winning, so the game was a fast one with play better than average. Defence work was effective and forwards were kept in check pretty well all the time. The work of A. Murray, goalkeeper for the Callies, was a feature.

Playing on the down grade in the first half, the Callies did most of the pressing. D. King scored the one goal for the Scots and Jimmie Currie missed a penalty.

The Sons of Canada got their share of the play in the second half, and after several tough luck shots, were successful in scoring towards the end through J. McDougall.

Tom Jones was referee and George Kelsey and James Kelly officiated on the lines.

The teams took the field as follows:

Callies—A. Murray; H. Hamilton and W. E. Williseroft; J. Sims, J. Currie and J. Harris; W. Hamilton, G. Cochrane, D. King, R. Woods and J. Andrews.

Sons of Canada—S. Gawthorn; H. Menzies and V. Menzies; G. Mitchell, J. Marks and H. Astoria; A. Mitchell, J. McDougall, S. Erskine, E. Warren and Eddie Smith.

The second Gilhuly Cup game will take place Thursday night between the Great War Veterans and the Sons of England. Last night's game will be replayed.

Sport Chat

Baseball fans are looking forward to the series at the end of the week with Ocean Falls. With the exception of the Japanese team from the paper town which was here last month, it will be the first outside team that has played in the city this year. The Elks should find the engagement a successful one and, if weather keeps favorable, the gates at the games will no doubt be large. An all star aggregation is coming and the best local players will no doubt be selected for the occasion.

players were successful in winning nine of them. The good showing of Prince George was due mainly to the success of the lady players from that town who made a sweep of the games in which they were engaged. In the men's singles, Prince George took two of three events and the mixed doubles were even. The Vanderhoof players will be the guests of Prince George within the next fortnight.

GREEN CORN IS NOW ON MARKET

Little Demand For Good Raspberries — Canned Goods Are Going to be High

The feature of the vegetable market this week is green corn, retailing at 2 for 15c. The quality is extra choice.

Cucumbers are now coming in more plentifully with prices averaging from 10c to 25c according to size.

Apricots are practically over for this year. Shipments have been very poor, more than fifty per cent arriving over-ripe and unsaleable.

Raspberry shipments received from Terrace and interior points this year have more than trebled those of any former season in volume. Quality has been good but demand only fair. It has been practically a buyers' market the past few weeks with sales being as low as $2 per crate for over-ripe stock and $3 per crate for No. 1 berries.

Strawberries are almost over for 1924. When returns are all in it is doubtful if the growers will have averaged as well as in previous years. This was due to the glut which usually occurs for a period of two weeks when prices drop lower than the cost of production and everybody but the consumer is hit. The rainy season this year also hurt sales. Many crates arrived which had to be sacrificed on arrival for berries picked when wet will not stand up 24 hours.

Housewives who are not preserving this year in the hope of getting low priced canned goods are going to be disappointed. It is doubtful if the peach pack will be more than 25 per cent of normal. Canned fruits are going to be much higher this year than last and a shortage may occur in some lines.

The market report this week records a decrease in the price of sugar and the much heralded advance in flour.

WHITE BEARS FROM NORTH

Specimen of Ursus Kermodei Secured from Princess Royal Island

Out in Beacon Hill Park today, so timid that he climbed a tree at the first sight of a horse, is a little white bear that is worth his weight in gold says a Victoria paper. He's a modest, unassuming little fellow and to look at him it would hardly seem that zoologists the world over have been looking for one of his kind for twenty years and would pay a small fortune for him. But the little bear is going to stay in British Columbia. There isn't the slightest chance of his going away, regardless of the offers that may be made for him, according to M. B. Jackson, chairman of the Game Conservation Board.

Extremely Valuable

"We know the little fellow is extremely valuable, but there isn't enough money to buy him, so far as the Game Board is concerned," Mr. Jackson told the Colonist. "We will keep him at Beacon Hill long enough for Mr. Kermode, curator of the museum, to make a thorough observation of the bears habits and after that we aren't certain where he will go, but it won't be outside this Province."

Meanwhile the white bear — Ursus Kermodei, is the scientific name—because Mr. Kermode discovered the species—is making the best of things in a strange world. Following the announcement in yesterday's Colonist that the only white bear ever in captivity was now at Beacon Hill hundreds of people went out to visit him in the park. He is only a cub, about seven months old, and because he had been a captive since his young days he is becoming accustomed to the sight of human beings. He seemed to enjoy performing for the spectators yesterday and jumped about his cage to the delight of the children who watched his antics for hours. The bear did not seem to mind the presence of a mountain goat, either, but he displayed a pronounced dislike for a stray horse.

Captured by Indians

How the bear was captured by Indians last spring on Princess Royal Island was told to The Colonist last night by Max E. Lohbrunner, big game hunter, who lives at 1215 Dominion Road.

"I was cruising northern waters on the way to Alaska when I heard about the find," said Mr. Lohbrunner. A couple of Indians had been hunting in the mountains of the island, going towards the sky-line about 1,500 feet above sea level. That is where they came across the little bear with another cub and its mother. The two cubs climbed a tree while the old one moved off. One of the Indians climbed up after them. One dropped off a limb and joined the mother, but the other snarled and bit at the Indian and was captured. When she heard her cub squealing for help the mother returned, but by that time the Indians were on their way with their captive securely tied. The return to the village created a sensation. Everyone was talking about the white bear when I reached the island. I knew how rare white bears were, but the Indians had some idea of their value too, because they balked when I offered $60 for it. Finally I offered $75, saying I was in a hurry to start north again, but they continued to haggle and I left them. When I went back to the Queen Charlottes on the way south a halibut fisherman told me the Indians had sold the bear finally to a white man for $60."

"After that the provincial police became interested in the future of the priceless cub and brought him to Victoria.

Not an Albino

Urus Kermodei is of a light cream color and has brown eyes, proving that he is not an albino or "sport." Until his capture scientists declared that the white bears killed by an expedition on Gribble Island to the north in 1904 were the only specimens in existence.

But Mr. Lohbrunner doesn't believe that.

"I know the islands and their game well and have explored them for years and I know that there are more white bears there," he said. "The white bear is not an albino. I know all about albinos. They are freaks, just as you get a freak white chicken in a setting of black hens' eggs. I have seen albino wolves and albino otters, albino rabbits and minks and I've heard of albino racoons. All albinos have pink eyes and the white bear has brown ones."

Origin of Bear

Mr. Lohbrunner has a theory of the origin of the white bear, too. "People are inclined to think of the polar bear when they see a white bear like this one," he said, "and scientists will say that there is no relationship between the two, claiming that there is a closer kinship between the white bear and the black. There are plenty of blacks on Princess Royal Island, but no grizzlies. The head may not be like the polar bear's, but the paws of the white bear at Beacon are like fish in the water and their paws are wide. So are the awes of the white bears at Beacon Hill. My idea is that many, many years ago some polar bears lost their way and headed south out of the Arctic regions. I believe that years of inbreeding produced the white bear of Princess Royal and Gribble Islands. Inbreeding has produced a caribou on Queen Charlottes no bigger than a deer."

ANYOX GAMES HOLDING WELL

Baseball and Football Nearing End of Schedules With Close Matches

ANYOX, Aug. 6.—All the excitement in Anyox now is centred in the baseball and football games played by the different league teams. As the outdoor sport schedules are nearing completion the teams are tightening up and the fans are getting great value. In football the Mine is leading, with the Smelter second and the Beach last. This Beach team was the last to organize in the spring and have found the way hard; but owing to the good sportsmanship of its members held together and, while there is no hope for it in the finals, continues to fight hard for a win. It drew with the Smelter team, one to one, in the last game played, but lost to the Mine aggregation in the previous game.

Baseball

In baseball the brand is airtight and equal to the best amateur ball played anywhere. In the last two games the scores were three to one and one to nothing. In the first mentioned game the Elks won from the Smelter and in the latter the Mine won from the Elks. The Elks-Smelter game was won in the first inning, when two runs were scored on a two-base hit by Hall. The Smelter had plenty of chances to win, but fell down in the pinches. In the first inning they had the bases full with nobody out and failed to score. They made five hits to the Elks four and their pitcher had seven strike-outs to his opponents six. A feature of the game was Loseke's catch in right field. The Elks battery comprised F. Fitzpatrick and J. Cody, while the Smelter had B. Fitzpatrick on the mound and L. York receiving. Fitzpatrick went behind the bat in the fourth and Wells pitched the remaining three innings. Only one run was tallied in the second game, the Mine getting the counter in the opening inning, when Brown connected for a three-bagger and scored on a sacrifice by Kirke. The Elks only got one hit off Ferguson, the Mine twirler, while the Muckers connected with the offerings of Fitzpatrick for seven safeties. These were well scattered, however, and were of no advantage. Features of the game were the catches made by Anderson and Halverson, of the Mine team.

RELIGIOUS WAR IN NEW YORK

Jews of Ghetto Excited When Member of Race Joins Catholic Church

MAKE DEMONSTRATION

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The Ghetto is still in a state of disquiet and extra police patrol its teeming streets as a result of a recent outbreak of racial and religious antagonism which followed the death of Jennie Lefkowitz, wife of Dominick Seola, for love of whom she had renounced the religion of her own people and thereby started a flood of religious hatred which for a time threatened to cause serious rioting in the neighborhood.

On the day of the woman's funeral mob demonstrations were subdued by force as the police escorted the body, accompanied by the husband and his friends, to the Church of the Most Precious Blood and thence to Calvary Cemetery.

Howling Throgs

The howling throgs who had clamored outside the home of Dominick day and night lined the funeral right-of-way by thousands. They gestured threateningly and muttered, but there was no violence.

Well armed and mounted police pranced at the head of the little cortege. Officers of the bomb squad brought up the rear. Alongside, crowding the ominously murmuring humanity to the curb, strode patrolmen and detectives.

Authority was compelling the peaceful fulfillment of Jennie's dying wish. She who had forsaken the Jewish religion for love, who had embraced the faith of her Italian husband, and who during the months of her dying had been an outcast, "already dead" to her parents and her sect, was receiving Christian burial. Born and reared in the Ghetto, Jennie and Dominick had been playmates since he was 11 and she 10. Two years ago they hurdled the invisible wall of religious and racial prejudice which Jews and Italians of the Ghetto rear against each other.

Joined Other Church

They married. Jennie's parents told their friends "She's dead." And Dominick's parents told their friends, "We have no son Dominick." Last June, when she learned death awaited her, Jennie renounced the religion of her fathers and joined the church of the husband.

On the night of her death the ever-alert eyes of the Ghetto saw a priest enter the Seola home and the news spread like prairie fire. Soon the adjacent streets were filled to the narrow brim with jostling, frenzied thousands—long bearded men, most of them—who screamed denunciation of her who had joined a forbidden church.

Police Called Out

All night and all through the following day and night they swarmed the streets of the Ghetto. Police reserves were called, but for hours it was feared an open outbreak of religious rioting was inevitable. Early on the second morning, however, the demonstrations waned, under the ministrations of police clubs, and the crowds which lined the path of Jennie's funeral were silent though ominous.

But the police were taking no chances. Instead of taking the young wife's body from her home to the church next door, Our Lady of Sorrows, the funeral directors were ordered at the last moment to proceed to the Church of the Precious Blood, where secret arrangements had been made for the services.

DEFENCE OF BRITISH

New Hazelton, B.C.
Editor, Daily News—In your issue of the 24th inst I notice the remarks made by a Mr. Rorie at the Gyro Club dinner when he stated that the city councillors of Great Britain were old men and lacked initiative. I wish to contradict that statement as being absolutely incorrect and a very unfair criticism, and that Mr. Rorie lacks respect as his remarks indicate.

The city councillors of Great Britain are men varying in age all the way from 28 to perhaps 60 years, men of great initiative and business acumen, men whose practical knowledge and methods we in Canada could very well afford to emulate, men who carry their public trust conscientiously and who have no axe to grind. Not always so here though.

Gives Instances

To prove, or to substantiate my remarks, I wish to say at once that large schemes of public utility have been and are still being carried out by the various municipal corporations throughout the length and breadth of Great Britain, the direct result of initiative, genius and thoroughness exercised by the aldermen, councillors and officials of the various municipal corporations of that country. There is no equal elsewhere. It is through lack of initiative that Prince Rupert and some other cities in Canada lag behind the times. There is too much talk and not enough action.

People of Great Britain go about their work quietly and accomplish much more than any other nation in the world. That is the secret of her greatness.

Thoroughly Trained

The officials of the various departments of the municipal corporations of Great Britain are men thoroughly trained and experienced in their various professions and are well paid for their services, whereas here we pay for inefficiency all the time.

Mr. Rorie mentions Edinburgh and what pertained in 1887, and in this connection I wish to say that the public men of that city lagged behind the times in municipal affairs, whereas Glasgow, London, Manchester, Liverpool, Bristol and Plymouth and hundreds of other cities, towns, etc., have forged ahead bringing their municipalities up-to-date in every way possible, and although there may still be room for improvement we need it mostly here.

Study Belgium

Mr. Rorie suggests that there should be a different municipal system adopted here. I quite agree with him. He may take a few lessons from Great Britain. He may also enquire about the system in vogue in Belgium, and together it may help him to formulate some system of municipal government that may be generally adopted in Canada.

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

by Shirley Sharon

Since sleeves are too short to be out at the elbows and the young girl must break out some place, she does it below the shoulders of her tucked frock.

A CHARMING frock worn by a young girl at a recent wedding on Long Island was made of pale lemon-yellow Georgette with a belt of orange ribbon and flowers of yellow and absinthine. Very short sleeves split below the shoulder and were bound with an orange ribbon, and the small collar was of lace. These straight dresses are quite narrow and the tucks give body to the rather scant skirt. It makes a charming frock in powder-blue cotton crepe with the collar and flowers of apple-green organdy.
