CATHOLIC PRIEST SECURES INDICTMENT OF BOOTLEGGERS AND POLICE

Catholic Priest Plays Lone Hand and Secures Criminal Indictments

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Twelve men have been indicted in Weehawken, N.J., as a result of wrathful warfare waged by Father George Bennet of St. Lawrence Catholic Church against political corruption in general and rum runners in particular. As a result of his single handed investigations after he alleges the authorities refused to act on the evidence he supplied, the grand jury returned indictments against Harry Stearns, the Weehawken safety commissioner, ten policemen and Bill Griffin, who Father Bennet terms the king of the bootleggers. The priest's affidavit said that Weehawken was the centre of the activities of the smugglers landing liquor for New York and other larger cities and that the police were in the rum trade.

COMPREHENSIVE REPORT ON SHIPPING ROUTES ENTERING THE HARBOR

Board of Trade Will Send Document Forward to Lloyd's Agency in Connection With Marine Insurance

The Board of Trade is sending forward to Lloyd's Agency in London a copy of a report on Prince Rupert Harbor and its approaches prepared by Capt. F. T. Saunders. This report is very comprehensive, dealing in detail with the approaches to the harbor and its various approaches and the marking of the steamship routes. This is being used in connection with the application for insurance rates for this port, the same as at other ports. The report says this is one of the easiest harbor approaches on the Pacific coast.

RIGHT OF WAY IS COMPLETED

Sixty-six Foot Slashing to Galloway Rapids Made and all Debris Burned

The right of way for the road leading from the city limits to Galloway Rapids, a distance of something over five miles, is slashed and the slashings all burned. Incidentally about a million feet of good lumber lies along the side of the road suitable for lumber or firewood. When the road is completed this lumber can be taken out. In the meantime it will be piled alongside the highway.

The new road is 66 feet wide all the way, and the final trimming up at the extreme end is just being completed. Early in the week the camp will be moved back to this end in readiness for the recommencement of work on the grading in the spring. A few men will remain to take care of the camp and to carry on a little work so that grading in a small way commences at once.

NATIVE COUNCIL AT KINCOLITH IS PUT IN OFFICE

W. E. Collison, Indian Agent, Returns to the City After Busy Week on Naas River

After spending a busy week at Kincolith where he presided over the annual election of a native council and attended to a number of departmental matters requiring his attention, Indian Agent W. E. Collison returned to the city on the Venture this morning. Mr. Collison reports that there has been very stormy weather on the Naas River lately but it is now getting colder and the river is expected to freeze over for the winter before long. There has already been one freeze-up but mild weather following caused the first ice to disappear. The Indians at all points are now beginning to entrench themselves for the winter.

The election of native councillors at Kincolith took place on December 4. There were fifteen nominations and the following were elected: Albert Allen, David Doolan, Andrew Nelson, Sam Robinson, Herbert Doolan, Henry Smart and Jacob Stewart. David Doolan was chosen chief councillor.

Committees Named

After the election, the first meeting of the new council was held. Committees and officers were appointed by the chief councillor. Chairmen of the committees for the year are as follows: Streets and lots, Albert Allen; light committee, Andrew Nelson; tax and collections, Henry Smart; fire committee, S. Robinson. Samuel Alexander was appointed pond foreman; Joseph Benson, health officer; and Silas Maxwell, chief constable.

Annually each man of the village is called upon under what is termed as statute labor to devote three days' work towards the improvement of the village. This year a new street was cut through and planked at Kincolith.

The election of the Greenville native council will take place next week and E. G. Newnham, Dominion constable, will be in charge as deputy.

Mrs. Florence King Harding, who died recently at Marion, Ohio, is shown with George B. Christian, former secretary of her husband, the late President Harding, on Mrs. Harding's last public appearance.

French Premier Pledges His Government to Fight Against Communism, Enemy to Republic

PARIS, Dec. 6.—Premier Herriot pledged his Government to fight communistic violence in France in a declaration before the Chamber of Deputies at a stormy session that brought into sharp relief an open entente communistic influence to accomplish revolution by force. Herriot, however, put what he called the "clerical offensive" on the same basis, describing both movements as hostile to the Republic.

The Premier said that at a conference with Austin Chamberlain the British foreign secretary, they readily agreed to the necessity of putting down bolshevistic activities.

TOTEM POLE SHOULD BE ERECTED IN CITY

Board of Trade Committee to Take Action with View to Holding it Here

At the meeting of the Board of Trade last night the civic committee was asked to negotiate with the object of getting the Provincial government or some other organization to erect the totem pole now lying in the Canadian National sheds in this city. It was mentioned that W. E. Collison had guaranteed the Indians the expense of getting it here and the steamer Venture for carrying it.

S. K. Campbell said the pole was a fine one and should be kept in Prince Rupert. He suggested it should be erected at the Government buildings and had already approached Norman Watt, Government agent, in regard to it.

Next Session of Parliament Likely to be Long and Bitter May be Last Until Election

OTTAWA, Dec. 6.—(By Canadian Press).—The parliamentary stage is set for the opening, probably on January 22, of a session which promises to be long, bitterly fought and may well be the last before a general election. It will be the fourth of the present Parliament. Technically, the mandate does not expire till January, 1927. There may be a still further regular session before the five-year limit expires. But Parliaments rarely live their allotted span and political prophets look forward to an appeal to the polls sometime next year.

CONSIDERING UNEMPLOYMENT

Cabinet Meeting Held Today Will Arrange Aid for Fernie Miners

VICTORIA, Dec. 6.—A special meeting of the provincial cabinet is being held today to consider measures for the relief of unemployment. Immediate financial assistance will be afforded unemployed in the Fernie district. Premier Oliver says he is opposed to the system of doles but the urgency of the situation might demand the adoption of that system. Steps will be taken to afford work for those needing it in Victoria and vicinity.

SPeAKS ABOUT PRINCE RUPERT

Fred Stork Gave Address to St. Andrew's Society on Gallant Soldier and Adventurer

MAKES PRESENTATION

An interesting address on "Prince Rupert of Bavaria," soldier and adventurer, after whom this place was named, was delivered by Fred Stork, M.P. before the St. Andrew's Society last night. Mr. Stork pointed out that while Prince Rupert was a German by birth, he had spent a great part of his life in England where he fought gallantly on the side of the Royalists against Oliver Cromwell and his forces during the Civil War. He was a nephew of Charles I. After the Restoration, he rose in favor at court and was given a commission by Charles II. to form the Company of English Adventurers to trade into the Hudson Bay which later developed into the famous Hudson Bay Company. He had thus been a prominent figure in the early development of Canada.

At the close of his address, Mr. Stork presented to the Society for its archives three historic copies of the London Times which he had obtained on his recent trip to the Old Country. One copy was of January 1, 1788; the second of November 7, 1805, containing the official report of Vice-Admiral Collingwood to the Admiralty on the Battle of Trafalgar in which Lord Nelson was killed, and the third of June 22, 1815, containing the report of the Duke of Wellington on the Battle of Waterloo. William Reid, president of the Society, was in the chair. The program also included solos by Mrs. William Millar and Jack Plint and violin solos by D. Bennett. The attendance was good.

From present indications the coming battle over limitation of Senate powers bids fair to take primary place in importance. In the closing hours of last session Premier King announced his intention, at the next session, to bring down a measure to limit the powers of the Senate. In his recent tour of Western Canada on several occasions he reiterated his intentions. Briefly, his proposal is to bring down a constitutional amendment to limit the authority of the Senate as the power of the British House of Lords was curbed by the Parliament Act. By this amendment a measure which has passed the House of Commons in three successive sessions will, on the assent of the Governor-General, become law whether the Senate has passed it or not.

The powers of the two Houses of the Dominion Parliament are defined by section 48 of the British North America Act, which reads: "The privileges, immunities and powers to be held, enjoyed and exercised by the Senate and by the House of Commons and by the members respectively (continued on page two)"

START FIRST SILVER FOX FARM IN ENGLAND

Twenty Pairs Just Arrive There From Canada For Breeding

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Twenty pairs of silver foxes, just arrived from Canada, are now in spacious wire partitions at Little Baldon, six miles from Oxford. They are to be the nucleus of an English silver-fox breeding industry. Captain A. S. Robertson, a man of much experience in this industry, which is a valuable one in Canada, brought them over and sees no reason why this industry should not flourish in England.

The 40 pioneer foxes seem comfortable enough. They vary from almost-black to a light silvery grey, and the dark ones are paired with the light ones, to obtain the exact shade of silvery grey which is most favored for their furs by fashionable women. Captain Robertson says he could not afford to lose one. A list of prices for pelts gives as high as £131, while the average price for a pelt is £50. The wire netting which encloses the foxes goes down two feet in the ground, so he thinks there is not much danger of one of these valuable animals escaping into the open country.

FREIGHT RATES CASE CONCLUDED LAST NIGHT

OTTAWA, Dec. 6.—Argument was concluded and the judgement of the Privy Council reserved last night in the appeal of the Prairie provinces against the judgment of the Railway Board, which set aside the Crows Nest Pass basis of railway freight rates.

Pillars Of West Are Fertile Lands.

A booklet put out recently by the Sanford Evans statistical service speaks of the pillars on which the West builds as the lands and their cultivation and he goes on to show what increases of wealth there have been within the past few years on the prairies, and this in spite of the periodic howl about farming not paying.

Table with 2 columns: Category and Percentage. Includes Population (1911-1921) 47.3%, Acreage under crop (1910-1923) 177.8%, Livestock on farms (1911-1923) 119.1%, Railway mileage (1910-1924) 107.0%, Electric turbine installation (1910-1924) 909.1%, Manufactures (weighted, 1910-1920) 57.7%, Branch Banks (1910) 104.0%.

Had the statistics been similarly prepared for British Columbia it would have been found that the increases here would have been equally marked.

Tell The Story A Little Further.

It might be well to tell the story a little further. Between 1920 and 1923 the area in field crops on the prairies increased by over seven and a half million acres.

From the year 1910 to 1923 the increases in production have been marvellous. Wheat increased 175 per cent, oats 133 per cent, barley 227 per cent, rye 12,721 per cent, flax seed only 8.4 per cent, potatoes 64 per cent, roots 250 per cent, hay and clover 127 per cent.

For wheat 1923 was somewhat of a peak year but that was not true for all crops and yet the increase in everything but flax was very large.

If it was true that the production of field crops, increased it is much more true that the raising of live stock showed progress. Take just one or two examples. Horses increased from 147,711 in 1891 to 2,328,851 in 1923. In the same time cattle increased from nearly half a million to nearly four million; swine from seventy thousand to a million and a half and poultry from three quarters of a million to nineteen million.

During this time villages developed into cities, merchant princes made fortunes. All the facilities of life and even the luxuries were afforded to most of the people. The principles of government, following in the course of education and accompanied by religious liberty and individual freedom developed to a very large extent.

Best Of The Story Comes At The End.

The best of the story comes at the end. As was mentioned before what applies to the prairie provinces applies also to the province of British Columbia only along rather different lines. All these western provinces from Manitoba to the Pacific Coast are continuing to develop just as fast as they did in the periods mentioned. Possibly we are advancing faster today than ever before, subject to little setbacks from time to time in various individual industries. The setbacks are small but the advances are large. In the midst of all this advancement the business of the Pacific Coast ports is increasing and Prince Rupert city and district are sharing in the movement.

In a section of the country where this is going on, there is no room for pessimism. We may not have fulfilled past expectations but it is time we revised expectations so as to make them reasonable. Prosperity is with us and we are on the top of the wave. All we have to do is to keep up our individual efforts so that we may be in at the harvest.

NEXT SESSION OF PARLIAMENT LIKELY TO BE LONG AND BITTER - MAY BE LAST BEFORE ELECTION.

shall be such as are from time to time defined by Act of the Parliament of Canada, but so that the same shall never exceed those at the passing of this Act held, enjoyed and exercised by the Commons House of Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

Likely Amendment

Exactly what amendment will be brought down by the government at the coming session remains still to be determined, but the following has been suggested as likely to be its general terms:

"If any public Bill is passed by the House of Commons in three successive sessions (whether of the same parliament or not) and, having been sent up to the Senate at least one month before the end of the session, is rejected by the Senate in each of these sessions, that Bill shall, on its rejection for the third time by the Senate, unless the House direct to the contrary, be presented to the Governor General and become an Act of Parliament on being assented to, notwithstanding that the Senate have not consented to the Bill. Provided, however, that this provision shall not take effect unless two years have elapsed between the date of the second reading, in the first of these sessions, of the Bill in the Commons and the date which it passed the House in the third of these sessions."

Issue at Election

If the usual procedure is followed, the amendment would be brought down in the form of an address from both Houses of Parliament requesting the Parliament at Westminster to amend the British North America Act. But such an address would meet with many obstacles. It would probably have to face some strong opposition in the House; there is doubt if it would pass the Senate. A likely argument against it is that Confederation was a pact of the uniting provinces and that the terms of the pact should be modified only with the consent of the provinces. On the other hand, the point has been raised that section 18 of the British North America Act contemplated definition by the Parliament of Canada of the "powers" of the two Houses at Ottawa. In any event, lively fighting over the government's

League of Nations

But limitation of Senate powers is only one of the topics scheduled for discussion at the coming session. The arbitration protocol adopted by the Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva will come before Parliament for consideration and is expected to give rise to some sharp debating. Here, the Japanese amendments, especially as affecting immigration, will come more particularly under review. The view is frequently heard in political circles that the protocol is unlikely to be adopted in its present form; and there is curiosity whether, in submitting it to the House, the Government will enunciate a policy or await House debate.

Freight Rates

Freight rates as a result of the Crow's Nest Pass decision by the Board of Railway Commissioners; bank mergers; rural credits; confirmation of trade treaties; the inquiry into charges made by Sir Arthur Currie of alleged waste of public monies in connection with the Canadian Expeditionary Force; numerous other matters which arise as session proceeds—all promise a session long and keenly fought.

MEN ARE MORE SHORT TEMPERED THAN WOMEN

Is it so, or is it not so? Some men naturally will dispute the statement, but these same men should recollect the times they have lost their tempers when they lit the fire in the morning and it went out, leaving them to do the whole thing over again.

Fortunately this trouble can easily be eliminated. Coal is being sold today which can be ignited from paper rolled into balls. A good fire is going in a few minutes and breakfast is ready in no time.

This coal is the famous Nainaimo-Wellington, sold only by Albert & McCaffery. Every pound of it double screened—no rock or shale, no slack and very little ash. It lasts longer, gives greater heat and better service. These are some of the reasons for so many repeat orders. Be one of the many wise people. Do as they do by ordering nothing but Nainaimo-Wellington coal. Prompt and civil service. Remember the phone numbers are 116 and 564.

diates from the start, and they finished on the small end of a 17 to 9 score. The Pioneers were also badly treated by the girls on the hill. Seven points was their limit, while the home players netted twenty-six. The Coke Plant Seniors saved the night from being a purely Mine evening, trimming the Mine Seniors 34 to 14.

On Wednesday night, the Coke Plant Intermediates were again defeated, this time by the Rovers, the tallies being 15 to 13. The second game was between the High School and the Pioneers and was won by the former 15 to 2.

A new king of timely hitters was crowned in the American League for the 1924 season, the title going to Leon Goslin, outfielder of the champion Washington team. Goslin is credited in the official averages with being responsible for 129 runs crossing the plate through virtue of his batting. He made this mark in 154 games played. Ruth was second to Goslin for effective hitting with 121 runs responsible for in the 153 games the Bambino played. Bob Meusel, however, had a better per centage of runs driven in per game with his record of 120 for 143 games.

Individual batting per centages in the American League for the season closed show a notable decline on the part of leading hitters. Sluggers were brought back to normalcy with an emphasis that was disconcerting to some of them. George Herman Ruth led the league in batting in 1924 with a per centage of .378 and was not pressed by any other player who took part in more than 100 games. The top mark of .378 for 1924 is compared to the .403 with which Harry Hillman led the league in 1923 when Ruth was the runner-up with .393. Charley Jamieson came second in 1924 with .358. Ty Cobb had a good year and, for his nineteenth consecutive season, batted better than .300—considerably better for his figures were .338.

Detroit finished the 1923 season as leader in team batting with a spurt in the closing days of the pennant race after St. Louis and Cleveland had been the leaders much of the season. Detroit's batting per centage was .298 and it was the first time since 1919 that at least one club in the American League had not batted better than .300. Detroit also led in runs scored with 819. Boston was low in batting with an average of .277 and Philadelphia came last in run getting with 585. The Chicago White Sox led in base stealing and the New York Yankees in number of homers made.

Elks Now Hold Place of Advantage in Senior League

Winners in all matches just a week ago, the Colts turned round last night and lost all league basketball games. In the Senior League match result, the Grotto won the Intermediate League game 29 to 22; and the Tiny Tims emerged victorious in the Junior League by 6 to 22.

As a result of their victory, the Elks now hold a place of advantage in the Senior League close at the heels of the Sons of Canada who are still in first place. They were able last night to keep a lead over the Colts—though not a very long one. The score at the end of the first period stood: Elks 16; Colts 13. The final score was 39 to 30.

R. B. Skinner refereed and the teams lined up as follows:

Elks—Dave Balfour; Willie Lambie, Eddie Smith, A. Howard.

The committee in charge consisted of Capt. Tinker, Company Sergeant Major Wright Davies, Sergeant Hoss, Lance Corporal Cadwallader and Private Symes.

A ladies' committee gave valuable assistance which was much appreciated. It was in charge of decorations and refreshments and consisted of Mrs. J. W. Nicholls, convener; Mrs. J. W. Nicholls, Mrs. C. Open Air Altar and Loud Speaker Just Outside Westminster Cathedral

LONDON, Dec. 6.—An open air altar and pulpit equipped with loud speakers is being erected just outside Westminster Cathedral, so that thousands of persons participating in processions and overflow meetings will be able to hear the preachers' ordinary voice.

Cardinal Bourne, making this announcement at the annual meeting of the Catholic Evidence Guild, said the cathedral was not sufficient on certain occasions of the year and that the whole of the land around the cathedral would be levelled and cleared to provide overflow meetings.

Boats Repairing

Several owners of halibut boats, comprising the home fleet, have already decided to make necessary repairs and the schooners All, Volunteer, E. Lipsell, Minnie V. and Gaygeon are booked to be taken up on the McLean ways in the near future for this purpose. Capt.

Art Oswald is equipping his boat Toodle with new deck rails and gurdy and otherwise giving her the once over, while the schooner Gibson has been dismantled and tied securely in Cow Bay Creek. Capt. Blondel has just finished giving the Joe Baker a thorough overhaul. The craft now looks resplendent in a coat of white paint and with her hull re-caulked is all set for any future fields of exploration Capt. may decide upon.

Joe Brown Fishes

It was Joe Brown's lucky piscatorial day on Thursday and for the sake of advertising the tourist possibilities of the city it was a pity no tourists were on hand to take in the sport. Joe, needing a little relaxation, took up an advantageous position on the provincial wharf early in the morning and armed with a line and hook was soon enjoying an attempt at flounder fishing. However, the flounders did not seem to be floundering very well and for a while things were a bit dull. Just as he was giving up hope Joe felt a strong tug on the hook and ran into the Provincial dock office to tell the boys he could hear a bite but it sounded like something in the whale class, and that the line felt as tight as a banjo string. The gang turned out a la Toonerville fashion and helped to give a heave on the line. Then the fun started, amid yells and cheers they landed a hefty bull headed looking fish which some old timers said was a mud shark. However, Joe kept his head all through the excitement and after dismissing his helpers decided to stay a little longer. It was a good lunch for the piscatorial artist was soon landing fish of every description including cod, flounder, and bass while several halibut had to be thrown back again to conform with the close halibut treaty regulations. So heavy was the catch that Joe's looks wore out and he returned to the fray after lunch with a fresh supply sufficient to enable him to nearly fill one of his spacious taxis with a miscellaneous catch of marine monsters.

Big Blow Saturday

One of the strongest gales experienced for some time struck the waterfront on Saturday last. The Cow Bay floats came in for a strenuous time and it kept all hands busy holding the boats down and preventing damage. The Prince Rupert Yacht club floats came in for a severe time also and the genial assistant commodore, Cheff Thomson, said that he had got more excitement out of the gale than watching a girl get her hair bobbed. E. H. Mortimer's boat ran amuck and tried to push the yacht club wharf down to the Cold Storage but Cheff managed to arrest her progress before any real trouble started.

G. H. Arnold's pleasure launch Nechako has been overhauled on the McLean ways this week. The hull has been re-caulked and all the gadgets have been put in good shape. There is a whisper in nautical circles that G.H. contemplates a trip to the South Sea Islands in the spring but whether the Nechako will carry him or not remains to be seen.

TRAPPERS! My record for straight dealing is known throughout the province. Bring your furs to me before selling elsewhere. I need the furs and you need the money. Highest prices paid.—W. GOLDBLOOM, Second Avenue.

Philip Douglas was in port from Kitkatla during the week and did a few mechanical repairs to his power boat.

The schooner Cape Swain, Capt. "Red" Pierce, left port on Thursday morning. Cap in company with his partner Geo. Dick will engage in trapping during the close season.

Wall Green and Angus Melvor have joined forces and will shortly go into the logging business with the power boat Yuer. A camp will be established at Port Stephens.

Capt. Claude Ketchum is busy making up his boom of some million feet of logs at S-al Cove in readiness for towing to the Georgetown mill.

The tug M.T.3, Capt. Reggie Green left on Wednesday for (to) Klutzmalen to bring down the Golligan & Prescott boom of logs to the Georgetown mill. This has been made necessary owing to the death of Pete Golligan by drowning last week.

The M.T.3 arrived on Tuesday night with a scow load of fish box lumber for the Booth Fisheries and lumber for the Big Bay yard and the city.

The samples of lumber which were on exhibit at the last exhibition by the Big Bay Lumber Co. and loaned to the C.N.R. for exhibition purposes have been installed in the front windows of the Winnipeg City Ticket office. The samples are to be shown in Toronto, Montreal and London, England.

Pigs is Pigs

There was free pork for the catching on the provincial dock on Saturday last and the fun was fast and furious for a few minutes. A consignment of pigs arrived from the south on the Princess Beatrice, all nicely crated and consigned to the Oriental piggery on Eleventh Avenue. The crates had all been landed in an efficient manner and were being transferred to the dock shed when the tragedy appeared. A nail became unseated and released a stay in one of the crates which was the signal for the pigs to make their getaway. Soon there was a wild scramble and headed by "Doc" Clapperton with a club the boys gave chase. However, a pig can run some if only blessed with four legs and it was a merry chase around the wharf. The steamer passengers enjoyed the fun immensely and should have been charged a grandstand admission. After much puffing and blowing on the part of both the pursuers and the "grunters" the latter were eventually cornered and Doc was left to stand guard over them with a club while the remainder of the pig chasers lunched up some wood and nails. The choice bacon was finally put in a new crate and sent on its way rejoicing.

The seagulls are wearing a worried look along the docks and seem to miss their fishermen friends. So lonely have they become for human friendship that flocks of them fly up town in the daytime and sit across the street watching their good nautical friends play rummy.

A. W. Hewson, engineer on the forestry patrol boat Leila R., Capt. Dan Archie, has purchased the model yacht "Shamrock I," built by Jock Gibson of the Georgetown mills. This model yacht was on display at the last exhibition in the Big Bay Lumber Co.'s exhibit.

"Fish" Pheasants

Tom Morrison, chief engineer on the lighthouse tender Newington, was accosted by Jack Keefe recently for having pheasants in his possession. Jack has a nice bunch of pheasants installed on Digby Island and having been "tipped off" that Tom had been playing fast and loose with his game preserves and seeing him pass the shop dangling a brace of the beauties at his belt Jack wanted to know the why and wherefore of such unseemly conduct. Tom was able to clear himself, however, and to the entire satisfaction of Jack by explaining he had secured the birds in question from Vancouver Island.

DEFENDS INQUIRY

Editor, Daily News.

Your complaint re the proposed inquiry strikes me that it is only a matter of whose ox is being gored. While I am not sponsor of the proposed inquiry, I am prepared to defend it with or without your proposed city manager, providing it is conducted impartially, under the peculiar conditions where workmen are called upon to render evidence against he who holds the key to their daily bread.

While I note you are not worried about your foreman being convicted, you show considerable concern over the future docility of the workers lest they should not mistake the shout of the boss for the voice of God. Let us hope that the fulfillment of such dreams belong to the dead past, with or without your city manager. To make it plain I label this city manager as yours with the full knowledge that such a person would belong to, take his orders, develop his ideas and all-round instructions from exclusive circles such as Rotary Club, Prince Rupert Club or any other club where the select few assemble and big deals are consummated.

You talk like a child when you say that if a workman does his work well or uses his intelligence he will soon get a better job. Do you impute that the hundreds of thousands of jobless workers throughout the world are those who do not work well or use their intelligence. Take a tip from an old friend, Mr. Editor. Throw off your chains when you pen your editorials. Conditions are compelling us all to think and sympathize with each other. Thanking you for space, etc., respectfully,

GEORGE B. CASEY.

"Mortgaged to a washtub"

Many women have one-seventh of their future mortgaged to a washtub. Of course, they don't realize how washdays multiply into wash-months and wash-years. If they would only stop to think that one day in every seven is lost in washing—we're sure they'd call on us. For our services are varied, our prices are reasonable, we wash the clothes carefully and return them promptly. And the mortgage the washtub holds on the future can be lifted for good and all. JOHNSON OF WASHINGTON REAL CHAMP

Big Walter was Most Valuable Player in American League This Season—Wonderful Pitching Record

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Walter Perry Johnson, who won the trophy as the most valuable player to his team in the American League in the season of 1924 by pitching Washington to its first pennant, and also to the world's championship, won as well the honors of highest percentage of victories of any pitcher in the league, and for being the most effective, allowing fewer earned runs per game than any other pitcher who is classed as a regular performer.

The relation of effectiveness to winning ball games is indicated in the fact that the first three pitchers in the list rated according to percentage of games won also were the first three rated according to earned runs allowed per game. These three are Johnson, Herb Pennock and Stanwood Baumgartner. Also these three were the only regular pitchers in the 1924 season to allow less than three earned runs to the game.

Johnson's Record

Walter Johnson is credited with having won 23 games, while he suffered defeat in but seven, giving him a win and lost percentage of .767. Ranking next to Johnson in percentage of victories, Herb Pennock likewise ranked next to him in number of games won, as well as in effectiveness. Pennock won 24 games; he lost nine, two more than charged to Johnson. Two pitchers won 20 games. They were Shaute of Cleveland and Thurston of Chicago. For a part of the season these two stood ahead of Johnson in number of games won, but as the season progressed they lost ground. However, their performances are remarkable considering the positions in which their teams finished in the pennant race.

Johnson, as might be expected, led in number of batters struck out, having fanned 158 in the 278 innings he pitched. He showed his good control by giving but 77 bases on balls, but there were other pitchers who gave fewer passes per game. Pennock's record was notably better in this respect. Sherrod Smith of Cleveland showed fine control, the veteran left-hander allowing but 42 passes in 248 innings and he also ranked fourth in effectiveness.

Other Records

Howard Ehmke of the Boston Red Sox was the hardest worked pitcher in the league last season, pitching a total of 345 innings. He stood eighth in effectiveness and ranked well up for control. He took part in 45 games all told and pitched 26 complete games. The honor of pitching the most games from start to finish went to Hollis Thurston, who was in 28 complete games and who ranked next to Ehmke in number of innings pitched in the season. Pennock was in 25 complete games. Johnson was in but 20. Wild men of the season, among regulars were Alex Ferguson of Boston and Leslie Bush of the Yankees. In 235 innings Ferguson gave 107 bases on balls. In 252 innings Bush gave 109.

Pitching Not so Good

Pitching as a whole estimated from the averages was about on a par with that of the previous season, and still is far from the effectiveness of several years ago when the moundmen were more in control of the situation. This statement is in line with the halting averages of the season. Johnson's record for effectiveness in 1924 was four points better than that of Stanwood Coveleskie, who led the league in 1923, but barring the few high ranking twirlers in 1924 the earned run percentages for regular pitchers were as good as they were in 1923.

A number of pitchers who have been found in the "regular" class in past seasons showed signs of fading by getting in less than ten full games in 1924.

Fred Marberry of Washington was the champion relief pitcher of the season. He took part in 50 games all told and pitched a total of 195 innings, yet was in but six games that he started and finished for himself. Relieving other pitchers he got a win and lost record of 11 victories and 12 defeats.

ANYOX LOSES ATHLETE

B. E. Crawford, Toller in Bank of Commerce, Took Interest in Basketball and Football

ANYOX, Dec. 6. — Athletics in Anyox became loser to a considerable extent when B. E. Crawford, for some time teller in the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, stepped aboard the S.S. Cardena Monday morning, bound for Vancouver. Prominent in basketball and football circles, Mr. Crawford at times filled the secretaryship of both organizations, and much of the success achieved during the past two seasons was largely due to his interest and working for all that was best in connection with both of these games.
