Decision of Railway Board is Set Aside Until Appeal Heard

OTTAWA, Dec. 26.—The cabinet has ordered a temporary restoration of the Crows' Nest Pass rates set aside by the railway commission. The rates are restored pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada by the prairie provinces. The order will come into effect within fifteen days but no person or corporation is given the right to demand refund on freight charges paid or owing in respect of shipments made during the period that the higher rates were in force.

CONTENTION OF LONG STANDING IS NOW ENDED

Settlement Between Hudson Bay Co. and Government Regarding Rupert's Land

VANCOUVER, Dec. 26.—The Vancouver Province carries the following Ottawa cable:—Contentions of long standing, involving a million acres of land in western Canada, have been amicably adjusted between the department of the interior and the Hudson's Bay Company, Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior announced. Under a deed by which it surrendered its ownership to Rupert's Land, comprising what is known as prairie provinces, the company claimed there was still due to it nearly 7,100,000 acres of land. After negotiations by the government, the company agreed to accept 6,639,000 acres in complete satisfaction of its claim.

BURGLARY ON CHRISTMAS EVE

Home of Mrs. A. Fortier, Eighth Avenue Was Ransacked on Wednesday

The home of Mrs. A. Fortier, 201 Eighth Ave., East, was entered by burglars on Christmas Eve, the place ransacked and jewelry, gold nugget scarf and private papers stolen. The robbery occurred while Mrs. Fortier was shopping down town between 3 and 8 Wednesday evening. Immediately upon receiving notification of the burglary, City Police Chief Vickers put his men on the case and, upon investigation, it was discovered that an entrance had been made to the premises at the rear by the use of a duplicate door key. Footprints in the snow were discernible leading from the building to Eighth Avenue. Sergeant Bailey, who is in charge of the investigation, arrested George Cunningham, Fred Auriol and Thomas Cook this morning on suspicion. Cunningham also faced a charge of assault on Prof. Utell, the case being remanded until tomorrow. Another arrest in this connection is expected to be made today. At noon today Sergeant Bailey had recovered some of the stolen property. Teddy Hutchings was fined $25 in the city police court this morning by Magistrate McClymont for intoxication.

WHARF AT BELLA COOLA FINISHED

Local Contractors Complete Job and are Returning to City

The new Dominion government wharf at Bella Coola has been completed by J. and C. Currie, local contractors. Charlie Currie and Joe Jack returned to the city on the power boat Birdie B. on Christmas Eve and John Currie will return on the Union freighter Chilliwack today bringing with him the pile driver and machinery used on the job. The new wharf, which replaces the old one built 28 years ago, measures 100 feet by 60 feet and connects with the new provincial government road now being built into the Bella Coola valley for which Robinson Bros., of Vancouver, have the contract. This road is to cost in the neighborhood of $65,000.

PAT PLAYERS FINISH TOUR

Launch Gunhild, which was here this Summer, Hit Rocks Down Coast and was Lost

The rather checkered experiences of a party of vaudeville players known as the "Pats" who cruised along the coast this year and played at Prince Rupert incidentally having their boat, the Gunhild held here for several weeks at the dry dock on account of disputed ownership and debt, came to a climax last week when the craft wrecked at "Hole in the Wall," a narrow passage across from Bute Inlet, and they had a ten hour fight for their lives in the bitter cold. The Gunhild, a steam launch, was caught in a rip and struck a rock. Landing on the rock with difficulty, when the water started to rise in the craft, the party of seven danced up and down for hours trying to keep warm, with ice cakes an inch thick on their clothing. They signalled a small passing boat in vain, but were eventually taken from their precarious landing by the Victoria tug Ghehalis, which took them to Church House, where the Indians took charge of them. Members of the party were the Henderson sisters, Miss Nan Walker, Pat McCallum, manager, Jerry Tomlin, engineer, and Geo. Brodeur, captain of the launch.

SICK PEOPLE ENJOY XMAS

Hospital Nurses also Enjoyed Festive Season—Many Special Features

Christmas Day at the General Hospital was fittingly observed yesterday and nothing was left undone by Miss Edith McCaul, R.N., lady superintendent, and her staff made the lot of the patients under their care happy and bright. The wards, both public and private, were prettily decorated in evergreen, holly and mistletoe effect while the beautiful Christmas trees in every ward added a truly Yuletide atmosphere. Special Christmas trays were served to all patients in the institution. They contained the old fashioned turkey and Christmas plum pudding far and many little holiday favors. The gifts from the ward Christmas trees were distributed to the patients at 8.30 yesterday morning amidst much merriment.

Christmas Eve
The Salvation Army band paraded to the hospital on Christmas Eve, and cheered the lot of the patients with many much appreciated Christmas carols and musical selections. In the afternoon the young choristers of the Lutheran Church visited the institution and sang seasonal carols, much to the enjoyment of the patients and staff. Ladies of the Royal Purple visited the hospital in the afternoon and distributed useful gifts.

A Christmas tree for the pupils nurses was held at the Nurses' Home at eleven o'clock Christmas Eve, the reception room having been artistically decorated in Yuletide effects for the occasion. Miss A. J. Grene, R.N., and Miss T. Bailey, R.N., head nurses, cut the many gifts from the tree. After the Christmas tree refreshments were served and merriment reigned supreme until midnight.

Christmas Day
Archdeacon Rix administered the Holy Communion to all the nurses at 7 o'clock yesterday morning in the hospital. The graduate nurses celebrated their Christmas tree in the Nurses' Home yesterday morning when Miss M. Hebdon played the role of Santa Claus, after which the nursing staff sat down to Xmas dinner in their tastefully decorated banquet hall. The table groaned under the weight of the good Christmas fare and additional gift surprises were on hand for everybody. There are thirteen more patients in the hospital this Christmas than there were last year.

JAPANESE WOMAN DIES IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. K. Suda Arrived in the City Christmas Eve and Expired Next Morning

The death occurred in the Prince Rupert General Hospital at 8.15 yesterday morning of Mrs. K. Suda, Japanese, of Swanson Bay, at the age of 18 years. Deceased, who was admitted to the hospital on Christmas Eve in a precarious condition, is survived by her husband who returned with the remains from the B.C. Undertakers to Swanson Bay this morning.

Witnesses Identify Men Held in South as Those Who Committed Robbery

SEATTLE, Dec. 26.—A legal battle to obtain the freedom of four men held in jail here in connection with the $42,000 robbery from the Royal Bank of Canada at Nanaimo is expected to develop. The men's attorneys have announced that they will try to obtain release on habeas corpus proceedings. The men are Ross Watson, former city detective Thomas Johnson, William Bagley and Harry Stone. Charles Shively, the fifth suspect, will not contest incarceration. Extradition papers for all have already been prepared. These five men have been positively identified by witnesses of the robbery. The sixth man arrested, William Hunter, was released when the witnesses could not identify him. Three more witnesses from Canada are expected this week.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—The Echo de Paris states that officers of the inter-Allied control commission have discovered in Berlin a depot of rifles and machine gun barrels. An inventory has already accounted for forty thousand and the total it is expected, will reach one hundred thousand. The weapons were concealed in a cunningly devised hiding place.

Gasboats Lancelot and Pauline Were Totally Wrecked in Local Waters During Past Few Days

The power boats Lancelot, owned by Charlie Orquist and the Pauline, owned by Billy Lapointe, were totally wrecked in local waters recently according to word received in the city on Wednesday afternoon. The engines in both cases were salvaged. The Lancelot got into difficulties in the Skeena river while towing a barge of lumber and was driven ashore off Point Lambert. The hull is a total loss. The Pauline, a 30-foot gas boat, was driven on to Prescott Island last Saturday and only the 10 horse power Palmer engine was salvaged. Billy Miller picked Lapointe up on Prescott Island and took him over to Lewis Island, Ivor Wick bringing him to port on Wednesday morning. Lapointe had a miraculous escape having been buffeted about in a heavy sea with the boat leaking badly for many hours. Finally the waves drove the boat on to the shore and he was able to scramble to terra firma.

AWFUL XMAS DISASTER IN SCHOOL ROOM

Thirty-Six Children Burned to Death at Entertainment in Hobart, Oklahoma

HOBART, Oklahoma, Dec. 26.—When a candle ignited a Christmas tree in a school house here, 36 children were burned to death. The merry makers made a dash to extinguish the flames and the tree was overturned. Two hundred people were crowded into the room and the windows, screened with woven wire, barred egress thereby. Those who did escape got through one door. Fathers and mothers fought madly to find and rescue their children.

NO PREFERENCE GIVEN SALMON

Baldwin Tariff Proposals Will Benefit Sugar, Tobacco and Wines

OTTAWA, Dec. 26.—Under the new preference proposals of the Baldwin government at interpreted here, Canadian products chiefly benefiting will be sugar and tobacco and to a certain extent Canadian wines. Full details of the proposals are not yet available but the plan apparently is to put into effect, such of the imperial conference preference offers as do not involve the levying of new duties, but to drop those which would necessitate imposition of new duties on foodstuffs. If this interpretation is correct, the offer of new preferential duties on canned salmon, canned lobster, crayfish and crab, green apples and honey—the articles of the imperial conference offer in which Canada was most interested—will go by the board. Under these proposals Australia and South Africa, producers of the dried fruits to get an increased preference, will be the chief beneficiaries.

ROTARY CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS LUNCH

Proceedings on Wednesday Featured by Attendance of School Boys and Turkey Dinner

The Rotary Club entertained the first year High School boys at their Christmas luncheon on Wednesday in the St. Regis Cafe. The event was conspicuous for its turkey and plum pudding spread, snappy music by the Rotary orchestra, community singing, addresses both humorous and serious, and amusing presentations to the boys. President Dr. W. T. Kergin, occupied the chair assisted by Geo. Rorie, sr. The luncheon opened with the singing of "O Canada" after which the large company sat down and did ample justice to the excellent and seasonal fare provided. Prior to making a short address to the boys, Dr. Kergin read a telegram received from Rotarian F. G. Dawson from Montreal in which he sent Christmas greeting to his fellow Rotarians. In addressing the boys, Dr. Kergin said that they had been invited to the luncheon to show them that the Rotary Club took an interest in their welfare and urged them to remember that whenever in any difficulty or if they had ambitions, which for certain reasons they could not fulfil, if they would make their needs known through the Rotary Club the members would always be willing to assist them. In closing the speaker wished the Rotarians and boys a very happy Christmas.

Don't Curse Our Politicians.

A novel and interesting article described as a biting indictment of shiftless citizenship and a clarion call for constructive "followership" is published in the current number of MacLean's Magazine. It is entitled "Don't Curse Our Politicians — Help Them," and is written by Grattan O'Leary.

In part it says: There are four classes of persons who constantly assail politicians.

There are the merely malevolent, motivated by partisan, or financial, or political reasons.

There are the well-meaning but unthinking people who are seemingly ready to swallow anything told them to the detriment of politicians, as a class.

There are the people who are incapable of distinguishing between gossip and demonstrated facts.

And there are certain journalists who, either belonging to the underworld of newspaperdom, or oblivious to the responsibilities and traditions of their calling, are more concerned with being smart or sensational than with the well-being of the government of their country.

Untruthful, Exaggerated And Unjust Criticism.

I have been watching Parliament and politicians for thirteen years. I have sat in the Parliamentary Press Gallery at Ottawa through fourteen sessions. I have observed the functioning of five parliaments; have seen the rise and fall of four ministries; have had a personal knowledge of most of the men of all parties, from Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Mr. King. In consequence of what I have seen, as a result of continuous and critical scrutiny of men and facts from a vantage ground offering every opportunity for detection of wrong, I am convinced that current criticism of politicians is mostly untruthful, nearly always exaggerated, and frequently cruelly unjust.

There are people who talk as though politics and dishonesty were synonymous terms. Yet what are the true facts? Since Confederation politicians have administered between four and five billions of public money. How many of them have been found guilty of dishonesty? How far back into political history does one have to go to find a public man of note who actually used his position for his personal gain? In the federal field, more than a quarter of a century.

Last session E. Guss Porter, a few days ago defeated in Hastings, rose in parliament to impeach a member of the ministry. In making his accusation he said a very wonderful thing. He said that he labored under some difficulty in framing an indictment, because, although he had searched the records, he could find no precedent in Canadian politics for the wrong-doing of the minister in question. And Mr. Murdoch, be it remembered, was not charged with anything like tampering with public funds. The sole crime alleged against him was that he used information secured in the cabinet to avoid personal financial loss.

One wishes that those who talk so glibly and ignorantly about the crookedness of politicians would ponder over that passage by Mr. Porter.

Truthful Or Not, Effect Still There.

During the war Canadian governments spent something like two billions of dollars. It was expenditure made in desperate haste, surrounded by complex difficulties, and without chance for public scrutiny which time and deliberation permit; never was there a richer field for the grafter or the crook. Yet despite the most minute post-war dissection by rival parties, despite that practically every item was subjected to microscopic examination by partisans all too anxious to find wrong, every investigation vindicated the honesty of politics. Only in one solitary case—a very insignificant one—was an obscure politician condemned; and the verdict was open to reasonable doubt. Yet during all of those years, when Canada's war effort was being prosecuted with an integrity, a resolution, an intelligence and a patriotism that was a glorious tribute to democracy, the critics of politicians, the retailers of cloak-room gossip and of slander, flourished like green bay trees. It mattered not that inquiry after inquiry revealed charges to be lies! It mattered not that accusations and innuendoes were successively run down—the evil tongues continued.

The great trouble is that for every lie that is nailed there are scores that go unanswered. They are rolled as choice morsels on the tongues of thousands; they are seized upon by every Bolshevik and misfit in the country; they are paraded eagerly by every defective, glad to balance his own shortcomings by the alleged errors of others; they are swallowed by the glibble; and they do infinite harm.

Great Farming Possibilities Exist on Queen Charlotte Ids. But Some Capital Is Required

By C. Harrison

The Queen Charlotte Islands lie approximately 180 miles north of the City of Vancouver. The shores on both sides of the land-locked course of steamships are invariably steep and densely clothed with forests. Graham Island offers a remarkable contrast to all the land observed after leaving Vancouver Island. Instead of shores rising abruptly out of the water and attaining heights of 1,900 to 3,000 feet within a mile or less, here there is a sandy shore with a white beach, and back of it long level stretches giving promise of agricultural lands when ware can be purchased from the Haidas at reasonable prices.

F. Nash, Esq., B.C.L.S., in his report to the ministry of lands, 1912, states: "The northern and eastern portion of Graham Island offers the largest area of semi-level land suitable for cultivation in the coast line of British Columbia embracing approximately 650,000 acres. Oats, wheat and barley have ripened in small experimental patches. Potatoes, turnips, cabbages, in fact all kinds of root and garden produce have been grown successfully on various points of Massett Inlet. Cattle and horses do well thriving on the wild grass, hay and clover have also proved to be profitable crops."

No Cold Weather

It is a remarkable fact that although lying in the same cold latitude as Alaska, Graham Island enjoys mild winters with scarcely any snowfall and no summer frosts. The reason is that the islands lie in the set of the warm Japanese current, and often at Christmastide roses and other flowers are blooming. Report on Graham Island's climate made by C. de B. Green, Esq., B.C.L.S., for the ministry of lands, British Columbia, 1914, states: "The Japanese current seems to exert rather a greater influence over the temperature of Graham Island than the Gulf Stream over Scotland, for extremes of temperature are less here though the rainfall is about the same in both countries."

In my opinion the climatic conditions are about the same as those in Ireland. There are no high mountain ranges. Immense flocks of wild fowl and bird life of all kinds, driven by the severities of the winter on the mainland winter here. Competent authorities state that the richest agricultural lands on the islands are limited, especially as it is a country where farming can be carried on all the year round, and not frozen up six months of the year as it is in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Eastern Canada. In all open spaces a bunch of grass grows called scutch attaining a height of three feet and similar to Italian rye grass and very succulent, possessing rich feeding properties for stock raising, making exceptionally luscious beef equal to the best English article. The cattle live out on the grass all the year round, but it is wise to provide hay in case of a bad winter. A few short and long wool sheep have been raised and hogs can feed in the bush, living on roots, plants and grass, and make excellent pork. All kinds of small fruits thrive, and earlier varieties of apples, plums, and cherries grow in abundance. The hillsides are covered with wild raspberries, salmon berries, blue and red huckle berries and black currant berries. On the sandy downs quantities of wild strawberries of excellent flavor are obtained annually. Excellent potatoes are raised, swede turnips and mangel wurzels do well; sugar beets and English berries of all descriptions give remarkable results. Mr. Leary, formerly of Skidegate, picked an average of eighteen pounds of gooseberries from each of his small bushes several years ago the size of pigeons' eggs. Red, white and black currants and onions also yield big results.

Prince Rupert Centre

Up to the present time no attempt has been made to farm on large scale but in all cases where small patches have been cleared and experimented on the results have been prolific. There is an excellent chance on these islands for dairy farming, fruit growing, poultry and truck farming, as Prince Rupert, 78 miles distant, is, owing to its geographical position, bound to become the whole sale distributing point. To the tourist the islands offer great attractions. Beautiful furs, curios, and silver engraved ware can be purchased from the Haidas at reasonable prices.

F. Nash, Esq., B.C.L.S., in his report to the ministry of lands, 1912, states: "The northern and eastern portion of Graham Island offers the largest area of semi-level land suitable for cultivation in the coast line of British Columbia embracing approximately 650,000 acres. Oats, wheat and barley have ripened in small experimental patches. Potatoes, turnips, cabbages, in fact all kinds of root and garden produce have been grown successfully on various points of Massett Inlet. Cattle and horses do well thriving on the wild grass, hay and clover have also proved to be profitable crops."

Mr. Green, B.C.L.S., also reported that "this land has proved to be perfect for all kinds of grasses and vegetables, which mature more quickly in the long northern summer days and warm nights than further south. The hay sown in June was three feet high in a thick crop in August. Growth is very rapid and the country is absolutely free from frost between April and mid-October. The grass is green the year round and the temperature very steady, about 60 degrees day and night, making good conditions for all kinds of crops. Cattle have always been able to winter out."

Small Fruits

Another surveyor for the British Columbia government, F. D. Rice, in 1913 reported: "Small fruits of all kinds yield exceptionally well, and apples, plums and cherries have been successfully grown in this locality. Wild fruits of the following varieties thrive all over the islands—strawberries, salmon berries, red and black huckle berries, high and low bush cranberries, sallow berries, blue berries and white crab apples. There were some excellent flower gardens on the islands. Flowers of all kinds do well and a number of settlers have splendid rose bushes, honeysuckle vines, English ivy and holly trees which grow to perfection. Numerous ruby-throated humming birds gather around the honeysuckle and creepers. The English holly, lilac, virginia creeper and ivy grow in profusion; roses, poppies, dahlias, chrysanthemums, violets, primroses, bluebells, marigolds, buttercups and daisies are cultivated and grow to perfection similar to those grown on the meadow lands of southern England.

Great possibilities exist on these islands for farming pursuits, but the fact that the "Charlottes" being a new country, the land demands clearing, so would not advise anyone to go there unless they are possessed with funds to keep them the first two or three years whilst they bring their land under cultivation and make it revenue producing, and once this is accomplished the returns are certain and the land rapidly appreciates in value. Muskeggy land may be easier to bring under cultivation by draining than the timbered country, but even then the land cannot be made revenue producing under two years as the land so drained is sure to be sour for that period at the least. I know of what I am writing as I have cultivated both classes of land, and personally I prefer timber covered land to clear and cultivate to that of the muskeg. Graham Island wants settlers, farmer-fishermen and others of good repute, and in return it offers opportunities that will pay them for their time, energy and capital invested. OF THE DAY HERE AND EVERYWHERE

NEXT CHAMPION IS NOW BOXING

Successor to Heavyweight Crown is Likely Among Leading Contenders

One of these days Jack Dempsey is going to be flattened for the long count and a new champion set up in his place. Dempsey being a very able-bodied, sure-fisted young man at the present time, when it is sought to visualize the man who ultimately will wrest the title from him, one is prone to picture some raw youth now toiling in a mine, a shop, or on a farm, ignorant, as yet, of the destiny which awaits him. As a matter of fact—and this particular fact has its basis in the record books—the man who will beat Dempsey is fighting today. Moreover, it is a two to one shot, according to the book, he was fighting when Dempsey battered Willard into submission at Toledo.

The book contains the following information for the compiler of dope:

J. L. Sullivan
John L. Sullivan won the heavyweight championship from Paddy Ryan in 1882 and held it for ten years, when he was beaten by James J. Corbett. Now Corbett did not embark upon his ring career until 1885, three years after Sullivan won the title but, with the exception of Willard, who was a product of a peculiar situation in boxing, Corbett was the only man to win the championship who was not fighting at the time the championship was won by the man he defeated.

Corbett lost to Bob Fitzsimmons in 1897 and Fitz's record reveals he first boxed professionally when he took part in a tournament in 1880, though it was not until 1889 that he may be said to have begun to follow the game for a living. At any rate this later date preceded Corbett's winning of the title by three years.

Jack Johnson
Fitzsimmons, in turn, lost to James J. Jeffries in 1899 and the book shows the conqueror of Lanky Bob took up the business of fighting in 1896, when Corbett's reign still had a full year to go. Jeff retired in 1904, but came out of retirement in 1910 to meet Jack Johnson, who had beaten Tommy Burns, claimant of the title as a result of his victories over a number of second raters during Jeff's period of idleness. Johnson, who clinches the championship by beating Jeffries at Reno, dates the beginning of his service in the ring to 1899, the year in which Jeff first knocked out Fitzsimmons.

Then Willard loomed on the scene, Willard, a farmer and horse trader in Kansas, was one of the horde which flocked to the ring in response to a call for a white man to beat Johnson, who had made himself obnoxious to followers of the game, and his first appearance within the ropes was not until 1911, a year after Johnson had reached the top of the heap. Winning the title in 1915, Willard surrendered it in 1919 to Dempsey, who had begun to fight the same year Willard, toppled the negro in Havana.

Present Contenders
Which brings us down to the present. The leading contenders for the heavyweight championship at this writing are Harry Wills, Tom Gibbons and Jack Renault, with outside chances accorded for the sake of argument to Luis Angel Firpo, who already has had one crack at it, and Ermino Spalla. If these men seek encouragement in their quest they may get it from their records. Wills began to fight in 1911, Gibbons in 1913, Spalla in 1918 and Firpo and Renault in 1919—either before or in the same year that Dempsey sealed the heights.

Sport Chat

This is the season when the professional baseball promoters and owners of clubs fight things out, and it has been generally expected that the aftermath of the meetings may have unpleasant results. One of the causes of trouble is the dislike some of the wealthy men in the business have taken to High Commissioner ex-Judge Landis. But others besides these now realize that when the Major League made provisions for a High Commissioner in 1921, they tied themselves down a little bit too much and did worse for the future of baseball than they realized. They thought in fact that they had done the best thing possible.

Landis, though he has ruled with an iron hand, seems to have done pretty well so far, and the baseball law which was passed regarding his appointment, is likely to favor his re-election after his seven-year term is up, because if the league should not be able to agree upon him again or upon someone else, they are bound to acag baseball into politics, which is the last thing either the club-owners or the patrons of the sport should desire.

The agreement made between the Major Leagues in 1921, and which the best lawyers in the United States say is next to unbreakable, provides amongst other things, that: "The first Commissioner under this agreement shall be Kenesaw M. Landis. Upon the expiration of his term of office (January 12, 1928) or upon his resignation or death during his term, his successor shall be chosen by a vote of the majority of the clubs composing the National and American Leagues. In the event of failure to elect a successor within three months after the vacancy has arisen, either Major League may request the President of the United States to designate a Commissioner."

All billiard players are requested to attend a general meeting of the City Billiard League in the G.W.V.A. rooms on Sunday at 8:40.

GETTING READY FOR DOG DERBY

Big Event at The Pas, Manitoba, Attracting More Interest Than Ever This Year

THE PAS, Man., Dec. 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—Probably never before in the history of dog racing in Northern Manitoba has such keen interest been shown by all lovers of this fascinating outdoor sport as is manifest this year.

While Manitoba's eighth annual 200-mile non-stop dog derby is some six weeks distant, yet nearly 100 racing dogs are being trained daily and prepared for the gruelling grind over the long route. The glorious uncertainty of this sporting classic has attracted world-wide attention, for it is recognized as a test of supreme endurance. Owners, drivers and trainers are daily exercising their teams, dashing secretly over the course and taking good care to conceal their speed.

No list of competing teams is yet available, but it is a well-known fact that several new entries will face the starter at 11 o'clock on the morning of February 3. These new teams will be composed of young and speedy, well-bred, wolf-hound huskies, which are expected to maintain a fast pace throughout the race.

Since the abandonment of the All-Alaskan Derby Sweepstake in 1916, the dog derby staged annually at The Pas, Manitoba, has become known as the greatest feature of its kind in the world.

This thrilling event originated in the fall of 1915 when a small coterie of dog-loving northerners formulated plans for a race. It has since been proved that Northern Manitoba is ideally adapted for the conduct of these races and the development of such racing dogs, who have carried the banner of civilization northward.

First Race 1916

The details of establishing the first annual dog race, over a distance of 150 miles, carrying with it a purse of $1,000, was worked out by the late Grant Rice and later perfected by the late Walter Coyne, of Alaska racing fame. The names of these two men are now inscribed upon the memorial cup presented to The Pas Dog Derby Association by A. L. Matthesand, now being competed for together with a purse of $2,500.

The first derby race was held on March 17, 1916, with the old style toboggan used, with the dogs hitched to it in tandem fashion. The next race was staged in 1918 and was similarly carried out with the exception of shortening the course by fifty miles. In 1920 it was for Coyne to introduce the Alaskan hitch and sleigh, driving his dogs two abreast. In this race, Coyne easily outdistanced his rivals and covered the 100 miles in the record time of 13 hours 14 minutes. It is perhaps a coincidence that all these races were run in a raging snowstorm and each team was driven by its owner. Today it is different, and drivers are engaged to train the dogs for the event and run them in the races.

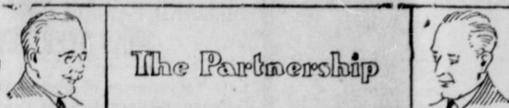

In 1924 the distance of the course was lengthened to 200 miles while the purse was increased to $2,500 and thus began the great racing classic as it is shown today.

Previous Winners

Following are previous winners of the race:

1923, 200 miles—1, W. Grayson, driving for C. B. Morgan; 2, "Shorty" Russick; 3, W. Winterton. Time, 26 hours 52 minutes.

Change in Course

This year a change in the course has been adopted and the teams will race to the Herb Lake gold camps and return, a distance of slightly more than 200 miles. The starting point will be again on the Saskatchewan river at the Hudson Bay railway bridge, thence the route will follow along the Hudson Bay railway right-of-way as far as mile "81" and there the teams will turn into Herb Lake to the village of Herb Lake where the homeward turn will be made.

This route is served with telephone communication throughout and every few hours word will be despatched to The Pas reporting the progress and standing of each team and driver during the entire route. This new innovation in dog racing, it is believed, will prove very popular and will go a long way to make the event more interesting and attractive.

In addition to the feature race, a contest will be staged between freight-carrying dog teams for a purse of $600. Each dog team will be limited to five dogs, hitched to a toboggan in the old single style fashion and hauling a load of 500 pounds. They will race 33 1-3 miles each day for three days, the winner being determined by the lowest time for the aggregate 100 miles. The main object of promoting such a race is to encourage the breeding and raising of better commercial dogs which are indispensable to the northern traveller.

Never Use Whip

It is the usual rule and in fact an unwritten law amongst dog mushers never to use a whip on the dogs during the long race. "Shorty" Russick, last year's winner declared after the 1924 event that his success was attributed to the correct treatment of his team. During the 200-mile grind, "Shorty" fed his dogs three times, about 6 p.m. on the first day of the race, next 10:20 p.m. when he turned for home and again at 5 o'clock in the morning, some fifty miles from the finishing line. He stopped only 17 minutes at the half-way mark and he arrived back at

The Pas with his dogs still going strong and in the pink of condition.

DINNER FOR UNEMPLOYED

Salvation Army Affair Yesterday Was Deeply Appreciated by Many Who Attended

The Salvation Army Christmas dinner and supper for the unemployed, held in the Citadel yesterday afternoon and evening, were each a huge success and the men were highly appreciative of the many kindnesses extended to them in the way of Christmas eats and clothing by the citizens of Prince Rupert.

It was a very busy day at the Salvation Army barracks. The voluntary workers arrived early and by noon the three large tables were loaded with good things which go to make up the one big feast of the year. Fifty-five men, who had no home at which to spend the day came along and enjoyed an old-fashioned Christmas dinner including turkey, plum pudding, mince pies and many other delicacies. Before leaving Capt. Rea invited the men to return for supper at 5.30.

Promptly at 2.30 o'clock the hall doors were opened and a very pleasant afternoon was spent in games, music and songs. Supper was served to seventy-eight men and five diners were delivered to men who were unable to attend at the hall. Directly following the supper, the hall was darkened and a short but interesting lantern lecture was given. The projecting machine and "Klondyke" slides were kindly loaned by Rev. G. G. Haeker and a set of slides by R. F. McNaughton, district passenger agent of the C.N.R. Several old favorite hymns were sung and Capt. Rea closed the proceedings with a prayer of thanks giving. Those who assisted Capt. and Mrs. Rea to make the lot of the unemployed a happy one included Mr. Kessler, Chris Gross, Amiel Gross, Mr. Moore, Amiel Keuhn, Mr. and Mrs. E. Godwaller, Mrs. M. Forrest, Miss Elva Mumford and Miss Rose Burri.

Vote of Thanks

At the dinner a vote of thanks was proposed by one of the men to the Daily News for the kindly interest it had taken in the unemployed at the festive season. The men also extended sincere thanks to their friends who had donated underwear and clothing following the request in Tuesday's paper.

The campaign for funds started last week by the Salvation Army and the Daily News in connection with the holding of this dinner was well supported and reached the total of $121.30. In addition to this, there were generous donations of goods by local merchants. The sincere thanks of the Army is extended to all who assisted in any way.

Following is the list containing the balance of the cash donations:

MANY CLAIMS TO VALUABLE LEGACY

Correct Use of Famous Title has Encouraged Pretenders

About the year 1880 the pioneer prospectors of British Columbia discovered a remarkable coal. After many trials and tests it was positively established that this coal represented the same economy, efficiency and comfort to this fuel they gave the new famous name of "Nanaimo-Welington," representing all that was best in coal.

No sooner was it found that the public insisted on getting this Wonder Fuel than other coals were put on the market under very similar names. So much so that the public were at a loss to say which was the genuine and which the imitation. Of course it was easy after a trial—a single sack will prove it—more lasting and more powerful heat from a few shovelfuls, hardly any ash, no clinker or rock, all these points stand out when you make a practical test in furnace, fireplace, heater or cook-stove.

This famous Nanaimo-Welington coal is sold only by Albert & McCaffery to whom all orders should be phoned direct. Prompt delivery service given by their own teams and trucks. Their phone numbers are 116 and 564.

TAKES OVER OLD THEATRE

Rupert Table Supply Co. is Branching Out in Mail Order Business

The Rupert Table Supply has taken over the old Empress Theatre building including both the theatre and the downstairs store which is to be turned into a mail order department to enable the company to keep pace with the ever growing mail order business stated J. G. Gavigan this morning. The stage will be dismantled, the floor lowered in the theatre and an electric freight elevator will be installed. This work will be commenced upon early in the New Year probably about February 1. The upstairs portion of the building will be used as a warehouse and the downstairs will be converted into a shipping department for out-of-town orders.

Mr. Gavigan has implicit faith in the future business prosperity of the town. This is reflected in its go ahead policy. Speaking of business conditions generally, Mr. Gavigan expresses the opinion that not only has his own business improved considerably in the past few years but that of the city generally has shown a steady and marked improvement in the past ten years. He claims that the local merchant has kept well abreast of the times and does business on a far higher plane than ever before.

The business of the Rupert Table Supply Company has grown from a very small beginning to one of large proportions. At the present time the payroll of the grocery and meat departments alone amounts to between $18,000 and $20,000 yearly, the company employing at present eighteen people, while in the Universal Trading store, the dry-goods end of the business, nine people are employed.

Mr. Gavigan is a strong believer in judicious advertising and it will be his future policy, as it has been in the past, to pursue an aggressive newspaper advertising campaign.

FEWER DEATHS THAN IN FORMER YEARS SAY INSURANCE RECORDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Life insurance death claims for the first ten months of the current year reflect marked improvement in the health of the people of the United States during 1924, according to original statistics presented to the Eighteenth Annual Convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents here this morning, by Dr. Oscar H. Rogers, Chief Medical Director of the New York Life Insurance Company. Notwithstanding the normal average increase expected in population during 1924, the life insurance mortality records indicate that there will be 30,000 fewer deaths this year than during 1923, when the total deaths in the United States amounted to 1,360,000.

Automobile accidents and suicides are practically the only causes among adult deaths that show an increase in rate over 1923. Noteworthy reductions are recorded in influenza and typhoid fever. In typically children's diseases, an increased death rate is indicated in meningitis, diarrhea, enteritis, and scarlet fever, while there has been a substantial falling-off in measles, diphtheria and whooping cough.
