MUCH DAMAGE FROM VEDDER RIVER FLOODS

LOCAL STEAMER ARRIVES SHEATHED IN ICE CAUSED BY THE COLD SNAP

Vedder River Dykes Swept Away by Floods; Houses and Other Buildings Destroyed

NEW WESTMINSTER, Dec. 15.—Cherryvale Orchard ranch owned by E. G. McBride of this city, including an eight roomed house, fruit packing sheds, stables and outbuildings, were swept away Saturday by floods which broke down the dykes on the site of Vedder River and converted the passage into a mass of turbulent water and took toll of all in its way.

Red Mountain Mine, forty miles from Chilliwack, is completely flooded and the power house has been washed away. All mining work has ceased.

British Capital to Develop Group of Claims and Tatlapin to Operate

BURNS LAKE, Dec. 15.—The Harriet group of mining claims in the Babines adjoining the Tatlapin Mine, north of Burns Lake, is to be developed by British capital, the sum of $75,000 being already subscribed for the purpose. The new company is known as the B.C. Mining and Development Co. with Arthur Wood as managing director.

Mr. Wood who is already on the ground, expects to bring in a mill early in the new year with concentration tables.

At the Tatlapin mine valuable ore and plenty of it has been uncovered and a shaft is to be sunk to a depth of 150 feet. This company is planning to erect a warehouse here commencing in February with the object of prosecuting vigorous mining operations in spring.

LOGGING AT USK BEGINS

Horses Coming from Minneapolis: Dry Kiln Being Built and Mill to Open

Logging has already commenced by the Skeena River Lumber Company at their mill at Usk, and it is expected that in a few weeks the mill will be running. The new company is in charge, having taken over the assets of the Kleanza Company.

In the logging camp eleven teams have started and two car loads of horses are stabled to be on their way from Minneapolis to augment the supply already there.

A large dry kiln is being built and the cable across the Skeena is being put in working order. This cable had to be strengthened and a good many changes made in the mill equipment.

The mill has a contract to supply half a million feet of lumber a month to Minneapolis firms, kiln dried and dressed, the first shipment to be made in February.

The new officials have taken over the actual management of the mill and Messrs. Peterman, Swanson and W. Bjornstad are to live at Usk. Mr. Peterman, who is managing director, has been in the business before. Mr. Bjornstad was a stockholder in the old company and Mr. Swanson, the secretary treasurer, has been in the banking business in the United States.

The mining interests of the concern will be handled by a separate company to be known as the Kleanza Mining Co. which is now being formed.

Port Blocked
Under the treaty there will be a blockade of Vancouver and supervision of outgoing cargoes by Canadian officials who will "have to be shown" that exports are going to South America and not to the U.S.

The co-operation of Panama and South American countries in the checking in of cargoes from Canada hooked to them, and their co-operation otherwise is asked.

EARLY MORNING TRAINS PLANNED AFTER NEW YEAR

A change in Canadian National Railway service which it is proposed to put into effect about January 4, will bring the westbound passenger trains in here at 7 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings instead of at 4 o'clock Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday afternoons as at present. There will be no change in the time or days of departure of eastbound trains from here.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE AT PORT SIMPSON RESULT OF GALE

The cold snap which hit the city last night was so sudden that it caught many householders unawares. The water pipes suffered considerably on that account.

The Digby Island meteorological station reported that the coldest point reached was six degrees above zero.

Word received in town today from Port Simpson is to the effect that the storm of last Wednesday did a lot of damage at that village. A number of buildings were blown over and one store was lifted up and landed on the beach. The windows in the Eagle House were all smashed in and most of the glass in the other exposed buildings was broken. Boats went adrift, trees were blown down and much damage resulted. Such a storm has never been known there before.

Asks for an Investigation into Alleged Combine of Steamships

SMITHERS, Dec. 15. — The Brownies' bazaar held on Saturday afternoon proved a great success and the little girls are deservedly proud of their first attempt to hold an affair of this kind. The receipts amounted to some $48.00 but had the weather been more pleasant this might have been considerably increased.

The girls in charge of the fancy work and doll booth were Carrie Furness, Winnie Hann and Margaret Windt; home cooking table, Alice Gazeley, Jean Smith and Patty Hetherington; candy booth, Nellie Champion, Kathleen Downie and May Smith; waitresses in the tea room, Jerry Warner, Nora Borland, Lorna Apps, Edith Conroy, Orlean Mutch, Wanda Hann, Annie Furness, Myrtle McIntyre and Jennie Miller.

Most of the fancy work and the dolls were the work of the girls, they being greatly assisted by Mrs. D. Simpson in making the latter.

PORTBELL, P.E.I., Dec. 15. — Senator John Yeo aged 87 died

Steamer Prince John Arrives From Islands Sheathed in Ice Caused by Cold and Rough Sea

Her decks sheathed with six inches of solid ice formed last night as the vessel was crossing over the rough waters of Hecate Straits in a stiff northeast wind. G.N.R. steamer Prince John, Capt. E. Maibis, formed a picturesque sight as she steamed into port at 9:30 this morning from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands. Not only were the forward decks, cabins, rails and mast caked with ice but the water tanks on the upper decks and all the pipes leading to saloons and rooms were frozen up last night and this morning Chief Steward Adam Ramsey made his breakfast coffee from water obtained from the boilers. It was too rough crossing the straits during the night to attempt the work of thawing out, which, together with chopping off the ice which held the hatches and doors fast, was started after the vessel got into port today.

The John had a long voyage from Vancouver, having left there at 10 o'clock last Monday night. The vessel laid in at Alert Bay on Tuesday in order to go into Allison Harbor by daylight and was further delayed yesterday at Watson River where she spent 24 hours loading 10,500 cases of salmon. The John left Massett at 6:30 last night and, in the face of the strong northeast wind she had to buck, took 15 hours to make the passage across Hecate Straits which usually takes nine hours.

The vessel brought 32 passengers from the Islands including a number of persons who are on their way south for the Christmas holidays. They had a cold night of it last night and were glad to get some Prince Rupert warmth. It is not likely the John will get away on her return south until tomorrow morning.

LIGHTING FIRE RANGE BLEW UP

Sudden Cold Snap Last Night
Caught Householders Unaware and Pipes Suffer

The sudden cold snap last night coming unawares and accentuated with a severe north wind caught many citizens unaware and many frozen water pipes was the result. In a few cases there were bursts.

Perhaps the most serious damage was done at the residence of J. A. Lindsay, 1152 Park Avenue, where, after the fire had been kindled this morning in the kitchen range, the water jacket blew out and wrecked the stove as well as doing some damage to the kitchen including the breaking of two windows.

At 11:30 last night, J. Hogeland, 913 Ambrose Avenue, was thawing out a frozen pipe and the floor caught fire. The fire department was called and put out the blaze before any serious damage was done.

There was a burst pipe in the heating system at the Post Office this morning which caused consternation for a short while.

GRAIN COMMISSION NOT TO BE ASKED VISIT PRINCE RUPERT

A letter has been received by the Board of Trade from Albert Davidson of Vancouver, assistant general freight agent of the C.N.R., stating that the Board of Grain Commissioners were sitting in Vancouver and suggesting that if it was wished that they visit Prince Rupert a telegram of invitation might attain that object.

A reply has been sent saying that the time is not yet opportune for such a visit as the elevator is not yet ready for busi-

GIVES CORNELIUS VANDERBILT JOLT IN LEGISLATURE

VICTORIA, Dec. 15. — In a speech in the Legislature Major Dick Burde referred to Cornelius Vanderbilt in discussing speed laws as follows:

"It's time we called a halt. We are all gearing ourselves up too high. We live too fast; altogether too fast. Why there's young Mr. Vanderbilt, my friend from my own riding, goes tearing along our roads, with a red handkerchief round his neck, at 40 miles an hour."

"It is true he doesn't knock anyone into the ditch. They know him. They jump the ditch and climb a tree when they see him coming. Safety first. I think doctors responding to an urgent call should break every blooming speed limit there is and a few that don't exist, but the rest of us should go slow and look at the scenery. That's what we get the blooming tourists like my friend Vanderbilt here for, and he can't see any scenery tearing around at 40 miles per hour."

Outstanding Book
By B.C. Author.

One of the outstanding books of the season is "A Sour-dough Samaritan," by Charles Harrison Gibbons. It is a tale of the Yukon rush of 1898 and is fascinating, healthy, and true.

One of the supreme tests of a book is whether the characters stand out clear and can be recognized as types of the time by all who read. This book stands the test. It has its Lawrence Hammond Fitzmaurice with the monocle, who eventually becomes the hero of the story. There is Pat Dacey, the Irishman, also a type. The Montana Kid rings true and the three girls also play their tunes on the human emotions. All the time the atmosphere of the far north can be felt and the reader dislikes having to stop reading before the last page is reached.

The author is a British Columbia man although now living in the East. He was in the Yukon at the time of the rush and as a journalist he held responsible positions with almost all the coast newspapers at different times. He is a man who knows life in all its phases and has the ability to interpret. When he tells about a man being dead broke he tells of something of which he has had experience and can make the reader imbibe the emotions that go with it. The book he has just published is one that every northerner should read and he who is not a northerner should enjoy it equally well.

Britain's Position Regard To Payments.

The British newspapers are insisting that if the debt to the United States is to be paid, the debt to Great Britain shall also be paid. This seems a reasonable stand to take and one that they can stick by to the end. They should go one further and insist that payments commence soon.

Western Route For Grain Crop.

A despatch last week seems to indicate that Vancouver was expecting that a great deal of the western wheat crop would come out by the Pacific and that disappointment was shown at it's going by the lakes as usual. In spite of this it seems as if the western route was more popular than last year. One of the Edmonton papers says of it:

"More grain is going out via the western route than went that way last year. Up to date more than ten million bushels have passed through Vancouver for foreign ports. That is four million bushels more than the total at the same date a year ago."

"The Alberta crop this year is estimated at half that of last year. Late harvest and broken weather has interfered with threshing. The conclusion seems to be that the farmers are marketing earlier than they did last year or that the western route is drawing from a wider range of the wheat producing country."

"The significant fact is that whether the Alberta crop is larger or smaller, the western route continues to draw more grain each succeeding year. The present gain no doubt is the result of the establishment of better elevator facilities at the coast and the building of the large elevator at Edmonton. As facilities continue to develop and trading relationships are established it is to be supposed that the western outlet will continue to increase in use and importance to the growers of this province."

Size Of Families On The Decrease.

With the increase in the cost of living and with the general tendency for parents to take advantages of the facilities for culture and enjoyment, the size of families is decreasing. Possibly one of the chief reasons accompanying the others is a growing knowledge of birth control. In a great many families today parents have children because they want to and not because they have to.

In Great Britain and other countries there is a growing tendency toward restricting the size of families and this is in the interests of the race. The objection is that in many households there is no family. Parents are too fond of a good time to submit to the restrictions which must come with children.

Gompers Was Big

Samuel Gompers, who died at the week end, was a great leader. Too conservative for many of late years, he was at one time a Radical, and to the end he retained the confidence of the mass of union workers. His passing is a distinct loss to the United States, and Canada loses in him a powerful influence.

IN THE LETTERBOXMASSETT CONTROVERSY

Editor, Daily News:
In your issue of the 20th of November, a letter appeared over the name of Doctor Dunn, secretary, of the G.I.M. Association, which was intended to be in answer to a letter that appeared over my name, on the 6th of November.

I see that he neither denies nor answers any of my questions. Instead of trying to explain the circumstances he did what the cooter-monger in the slums of London do, sling mud at one another, but in Canada abuse is no argument.

In regard to the telegram that seems to worry the doctor so much he had better find out who were the men that are responsible for the contents of the telegram, when he will find out the truth, he will find out that the "unhumorous humorist" is a member of his own pet association. Further, I wish to ask the doctor a few more questions.

1—Is it not a fact that all the officials of the above association hold claims on the beach they are trying to boost as gold sands?

2—What amount of money were they promised for each claim in cash and in bonds?

3—How many members from Prince Rupert had their names on the list of the association that did not know about the association till they saw their names on the list?

4—Have all the members paid their two dollars fee personally?

RICHARD EVANS.

MINERS' ASSOCIATION

Editor, Daily News:
Sir—in your issue of December 1 you printed under the heading of "Resignations from Graham Island Association" the letters sent by D. R. Willemar and C. Milligan, to this association, may we have the same privilege and ask you to print our reply forwarded them December 1, as follows:

Messrs. Willemar and Milligan,
Masset, B.C.

Sirs—Your letters of November 29 to hand, the committee of the Graham Island Miners Association accept your resignations with pleasure but regret that they cannot accept the reasons given in your letters as the correct ones.

The committee do not require any one resigning to give any reason for their action, but they do think they have a right to ask anyone who publishes his resignation in a newspaper to give either true ones or none at all.

Yours faithfully,
J. C. S. DUNN,
Sec. G.I.M.A.
Thanking you in anticipation.
J. CECIL S. DUNN,
Sec. G.I.M. Association.

APPROVE FOREMAN

Editor Daily News:
We the undersigned workers wish to express our views in the discussion regarding the city foreman, J. McRae.

We have now been working about three months under him, are still working and like the work.

He has always treated us fair and square. He demands good work, and we consider that is part of his duties as foreman. We think every fairminded person will admit this.

Any person with experience in construction work would also admit that under local conditions it would be very difficult to carry on the work in a more practical way, than he has done.

As far as we have been able to observe, he has carried out his duties for the best interests of both the workers and the city.

Your very truly,
B. J. SKOG.

MANY CLAIMS TO VALUABLE LEGACY

Correct Use of Famous Title has Encouraged Pretenders

About the year 1880 the pioneer prospectors of British Columbia discovered a remarkable coal field near Prince Rupert, Friday, December 19th, until 4.00 p.m. This boat will arrive in Vancouver early Sunday morning, December 21st, in sufficient time to make connections with the Victoria and Seattle boat.

To this fuel they gave the new famous name of "Nanaimo-Wellington," representing all that was best in coal.

No sooner was it found that the public insisted on getting his Wonder Fuel than other coal fields were put on the market under very similar names. So much so that the public were at a loss to say which was the genuine and which the imitation.

Of course it was easy after a trial

— a single sack will prove it — more lasting and more powerful heat from a few shovelfuls, hardly any ash, no clinker or rock, all these points stand out when you make a practical test in furnace, fireplace, heater or cook-stove.

MRS. ROSS RESIGNS FROM GIRL GUIDES

Executive Looking For New Leader For Local Company View to Carrying on

At a recent meeting of the Girl Guides' Association the resignation of Mrs. D. Ross as guider was received with regret. Since then efforts have been made to secure a leader for the company but without success.

Great interest has been taken by the girls in girl guide work and the executive, presided over by Mrs. (Dr.) Tremayne, are anxious to continue it here but without an instructor nothing can be done. They are hoping that someone will offer their services in order that the guides may continue as an active organization.

SMITHERS RINK IS RENTED FOR SEASON

Skating will be sport of interior town commencing this week

SMITHERS, Dec. 15.—The executive committee of the Smithers Athletic Club held a meeting in the G.W.V.A. club rooms on Thursday night to plan a line of sport for the winter months.

Applications for manager in connection with the operation of the rink were considered and Eddie Hann was chosen to take charge this winter. He is to take over the rink and the club's equipment and run it himself but certain hours are to be reserved for hockey practice for members of the club. In previous years the rink was operated by the club and the manager received a salary.

Mr. Hann intends to start work this week and expects to soon have the rink ready for the public.

The club is also going to have basketball this winter and has made arrangements to rent the Town Hall and start the games this week.

PROFESSIONAL BANDITS

Editor Daily News.

It is seldom nowadays, on picking up the daily papers, that we do not see such headlines as: "Great Bank Robbery," "Armed Bandits secure big loot," "Paymaster held up," "Payroll $50,000. Seized," "Bandits escape in high-powered car," and so forth.

This implies that an existing state of lawlessness prevails hitherto unparalleled in any country unless during periods of open revolution, and it would seem that such crimes are alarmingly on the increase.

Now, banks have always been looked upon as impenetrable places for the safe-keeping of money, valuable securities, and precious jewels, etc., but the consummate skill, daring, and complete mastery of all details generally associated with such robberies, banks would appear to be no longer immune from attacks by this class of desperado.

Open Questions

We will ask ourselves the following questions:

1. Is this an aftermath of the World War, with a consequent disregard of the value of human life by men taking such chances?
2. Has the invasion by women tellers and clerks in banks reduced the apparent inside strength of such institutions from a bandit's standpoint?
3. Is the "Get-rich-quick" idea a new form of insanity not properly diagnosed by medical science?

4. Are our present laws and punishments for such offences in need of revision so as to deal adequately and act as a deterrent to this class of crime?

5. Is the drug evil responsible?

6. What do you suggest as a remedy?

We will endeavor to answer these questions:

1. It is not to be assumed for a moment that these crimes are being committed by returned men. Where captures have been effected by the authorities, some of the criminals have been found to be young men, who were mere boys when the war was in progress.

2. Banks assume responsibility for the safeguarding of the public funds, consequently the fact of women being employed there does not lessen such responsibility. Whether such employees are instructed in the use of automatons for quick action should occasion arise is a matter with which the writer is not conversant.

3. The non-productive element of the population today predominates to an extent greater than probably it should be, with the inevitable result that opportunities for the spendthrift abound. That enormous sums are spent on pleasure yearly is apparent, and while undoubtedly legitimate, it certainly does not convey the impression that all such money was earned by the sweat of the brow or otherwise.

4. The minor signs of stomach distress such as gas pains, burning stomach, bloating, belching, and after-eating misery, you are condemning your body to years of chronic stomach trouble. So sold by druggists everywhere, will quickly relieve all stomach misery.

Punishments for Crime
In years gone by, when men were hanged for horse-stealing and other similar offences, it is presumed that it was then considered a punishment fitting the crime. It has also been recorded—we doubt the authenticity of this—that in olden times certain criminals were hanged first and tried afterwards. At the present day, the law provides long terms of imprisonment and the lash for such offences. But does this meet the case? Again, sometimes long delays—caused by mere technicalities which should not be permitted to interfere with serious crimes—render the conviction of offenders more difficult, and oftentimes assists them, thus countenancing a deplorable situation not compatible with the strict administration of justice. The fact that prisoners have been known to escape from penitentiaries in which they were confined is a matter upon which the public are not in a position to judge, but it has been established that these men—once again free—return to their former life of crime.

Drug Addicts

5. It would be well to examine statistics dealing with drug addicts and information regarding them before venturing an opinion as to their connection with such crimes.

6. The question "What do you suggest as a remedy?" to the professional bandit of today will be dealt with at a later date.

HE SURE FELT MEAN BUT MENDED HIS WAYS

Said a well known local man the other day "Well, Sir, the meanest feeling I ever had come over me was last Christmas morning. I had passed up the Christmas card idea entirely and of course was deluged with all sorts of lovely Christmas greetings from relatives and old friends. And there, I hadn't sent out a single one. I thought then if everyone had been like myself a lot of real joy would have been lost. I determined to see that nothing of the sort occurs this Christmas. I am going to dispense sunshine on the "glad morn" as well as receive it." A number of them, through one way and another, learn that Pacific Milk is a different product to the canned milks they know. A woman living in Hammond writes: "It took me a long time to make up my mind to try Pacific Milk. I have used it over a month now and prefer it above even cream for baking."

Then comes love and conflict.

Interesting Series of Articles About U.S. World Flight Running in American Papers

An interesting series of articles syndicated by the Chicago Tribune and McClure News-Papers Syndicates written by Lowell Thomas and giving the personal story in detail of the flight as told by the flyers and, now that the story is being themselves is now running in all of their experiences around the world, they have not forgotten many American newspapers in the world, they have not forgotten the Chicago Tribune, ten to record this feature.

Interesting Excerpts
Interesting excerpts from Lieut. Smith's diary now published are as follows:

"The representative of the Canadian government who met us when we landed at Prince Rupert last April has now come to hand. It has a great deal of local interest and gives the impressions of this place gained by the flyers. The difficult conditions under which the flight on April 6 from Seattle to Prince Rupert was made is graphically told with frequent quotations from the diary of Lieutenant Smith and Arnold.

"As soon as we had gotten ashore the Canadians regaled us with hot tea and other beverages for which Canada is famous and our first toast was to Lieutenant Smith and Arnold.

"Lucky for us British Columbia is the land where the finest spruce in the world is grown, our education had been sadly finding a man whose job had been making of airplane struts during the war. We discovered to our joy that Major Martin's ship had not been hopelessly strained and could be repaired.

There are big shipyards in Prince Rupert so, with the aid of a fifty ton crane, we hoisted the four ton Seattle up on to a dry dock. After working all day and all night and part of the next day, our men fixed the Seattle up as good as new."

Felt Out of Place

"The people of Prince Rupert gave us an official banquet and although this is a new city, those who attended were dressed as though in a Fifth Avenue or Pall Mall Club. In our rough clothes, we felt as conspicuous as a crew of lumber jacks at a tea dansant at the Waldorf. A splash of color was added to the function by the presence of a number of officers of the famous Royal Canadian Mounted Police in their fancy scarlet tunics. We had a tragic reminder of how

Old Jack Toner

"Among our experiences at Prince Rupert that we will remember longest were the hours we spent in a fisherman's shack with old John Toner. Toner was a queer character who used to row us back and forth from the shore to the cruisers at Seal Cove. John's home was a floating shack—a sort of Arctic ark inhabited by dogs, fish, clams, crabs and John's fishermen cronies. About once every hour we used to duck into John's shack and sit around his sheet iron stove listening to him spin yarns while we devoured the clams, crabs, cheese and hot coffee he had prepared for us. One day John had us sign our names in bold scrawl on his front door and so envious became his neighbors that shortly afterwards some one stole the door."

"Because of the unending snow, rain and piercing winds at Prince Rupert we were mighty glad to get off for Sitka. But, in leaving, we felt that we had gained much valuable experience in buffeting storms and taking care of nor planes."

A NEW EXPERIENCE

In her country house Mrs. X has a number of old-fashioned open fire places. One chilly day she asked her new colored maid to make a fire in the drawing room, and entering a few minutes later she saw Hannah hopelessly contemplating the andirons, tongs, etc.

"Have you never made a fire before?" Mrs. X asked somewhat sharply.

The story of marriage and freedom. The problem that confronted Jeanette confronts every modern young woman. It is worked out brilliantly in this photo-play of ordinary people of every-day life. To have someone to pay the bills, to gratify her every whim, was her idea of marriage. You have never seen a more vivid role than that of Jeanette Sturgis, the girl who forsook her husband for a business career and then returned to him. Lovely dresses, superb mountings. Strong cast. SERVICE NOT SERVITUDE

Has it ever occurred to you that the multitude of "Household Helps" offered for sale are of themselves lifeless and incapable of service unless controlled and directed by the already overburdened housewife.

Laundry service alone is alive, vital, imposing no new obligations, and asking nothing but your friendly disposition, to change servitude into service.
