TELLS STORY OF SHIPWRECK AND PRIVATION

TERRIFIC WINDS AND TORRENTIAL RAINS STILL PREVAIL IN OLD COUNTRY

Ketchikan Boat Goes Ashore on Dundas Island; One Man Drowns and Second Has Narrow Escape

A thrilling story of shipwreck and privation on Dundas Island which cost Dave Baldwin his life and caused Pete Duranceau to be marooned for three days without food or shelter was unfolded to the Daily News this morning by Duranceau, who arrived in port yesterday by gasboat from the Green Island Light. Duranceau was rescued on Christmas Day by Jack Moran, keeper of the Green Island light, and his son, who sighted a fire burning on the shore of Dundas Island. The two men put off from the light in a rough sea in a skiff, and after a strenuous fight managed to make the shore and rescue the shipwrecked man.

to get spark enough to set fire to the mattress stuffing. He then built a fire on a high rock on the afternoon of Christmas Day. The fire was sighted by Jack Moran, keeper of the Green Island light, who, accompanied by his son, rescued the shipwrecked man with a skiff. Duranceau tried to locate the body of his mate but found no trace of it.

The Wreck

Duranceau and Baldwin left Ketchikan bound for the Portland Canal district in the former's gasboat Violet, a 33 foot boat powered with a 35 horse power Willamette engine, on Friday, December 19, and stayed the night at Tree Point light. They left the next day at 9 o'clock in the morning bound for Portland Canal and, when a few hours out, ran into a wicked northeast wind. The engine began to balk and no headway could be made against the strong wind and heavy sea. Frankie attempts were made to get the engine going but the ignition system would not work and it was soon found impossible to get the craft under power. Without power, Duranceau turned the boat around and ran before the wind, eventually getting behind Dundas Island where they took shelter for the night.

To The Electors of Prince Rupert, B. C.

Ladies and Gentlemen—At the request of a number of ratepayers, I am offering myself as candidate for Mayor for the year 1925.

We are not out of difficulty as yet, and the finances of the City have still to be nursed carefully on account of the heavy expenditures necessary to make Prince Rupert a better City to live in, and to keep lots from tax sale.

IF ELECTED I SHALL WORK FOR:

Finances—The holding down of the assessment, of the City's debt, without impairing the progress of necessary improvements. The careful spending of the money to get the best possible results.

Public Works—The continuation of the policy of semi-permanent roads. If the bylaw for the filling of Gow Bay is passed, the establishment of proper landing facilities and anchorage for fishing boats.

Utilities—The securing of all data possible to be able to decide on the question of obtaining the power that will be required on account of development of industries.

Industries—The encouragement of the establishment of industries in this City in meeting their wishes for special treatment without jeopardising the City's interests.

Sports—The gradual finishing of the levelling of Acropolis Play Grounds.

Streets—The beautifying of the streets already graded by planting trees.

Park—The beautifying of McGlymont Park with trees, shrubs and flowers by a small appropriation every year.

Tourist—The encouragement of the tourist trade and provision for a small yearly appropriation to start the building of a trail up the mountain at the back of the townsite.

Next year will see the beginning of very important developments in Prince Rupert and it is necessary that a good business administration be entrusted with the City's affairs.

I stand on my record for the last three years in the Council and appeal to you for your support, if you believe me a competent business man, honest in purpose, and if you think that I have served your interest faithfully in the past.

Yours for a Progressive Year,
THEO. COLLART.

John McCormack and Lucrezia Bori Sing Over Radio at New York While Theatre Men Wait

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Radio broadcasting history was made when John McCormack, tenor, and Lucrezia Bori, prima donna, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, sang from a New York station linked up with seven other stations in the east to an audience estimated at eight million.

This is the first time that internationally known artists have been broadcasted and theatrical men declared the patronage of nearly every theatre in New York was affected and many theatres played to rows of empty seats. "The radio constitutes the greatest menace the theatre has ever faced," says William A. Brady.

MINER AT PREMIER LOSES HIS LIFE

Remains of Aldo Lazzarotto Brought to City Today and Will be Interred Sunday

The body of Aldo Lazzarotto, who died in the Stewart hospital on Monday morning as the result of fatal injuries received at the Premier Mine in a premature explosion on Sunday morning last while blasting, arrived in the city this morning on the steamer Prince Rupert. The remains were accompanied by L. Lazzarotto, brother of deceased.

The unfortunate man was 35 years of age and was rated as one of the best miners in the north. He worked for the Granby Co. from 1915 until two years ago when he went to the Premier Mine. He is survived by his brother L. Lazzarotto, who is in the city, and his father in Italy. The funeral will take place from the B.C. Undertakers' Parlors on Sunday afternoon.

WEDDING OF RUPERT MAN

Alfred D. Plant Married on New Year's Eve in Vancouver to Miss Olive Osburne

VANCOUVER, Jan. 2.—An interesting ceremony was performed on New Year's Eve in Mount Pleasant Methodist Church here when Miss Olive Osburne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Osburne, 160 Broadway East, became the bride of Alfred Donald Plant of Prince Rupert. Rev. A. M. Sanford officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of white georgette. Her veil of embroidered net was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Grace Osburne, sister of the bride, was attired in apricot taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Little Miss Ruth Osburne made a dainty flower girl wearing blue taffeta and carrying a bouquet of daffodils. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Hedley Tuff sang "Because."

A reception was held in the bride's home which was decorated with chrysanthemums and carnations. There were 75 invited guests. The presents were many and costly.

Mr. and Mrs. Plant left for Seattle for a short honeymoon trip and will proceed on the steamer Gardena to Prince Rupert where they will take up their residence, the groom being one of the proprietors of the Electric Window Bakeries in that city.

WAS MARTYR TO SCIENCE

Professor Bergonie Dies at Bordeaux From Effects of X-Ray Exposure

BORDEAUX, Jan. 2.—A martyr to science, Professor J. Bergonie is dead after years of suffering. Death was due to the effect of exposure to x-ray during an experiment in connection with the discovery of a cancer cure. Although his right arm was amputated and three fingers of his left hand were sacrificed to a disease brought on by radium, Professor Bergonie to the very end continued his fight against the cancer scourge. He was the inventor of the electro-magnet used during the war to draw steel fragments from wounds.

Appointment Falls Into Good Hands.

Though his appointment was somewhat unexpected because his name had not been very prominently mentioned in connection with the post, the choice of the provincial government in making Hon. F. A. Pauline the new Agent General at London would appear to be a happy one. Mr. Pauline's experience as Speaker of the legislative assembly and as a member of the House, as president of the Victoria Board of Trade and an alderman have amply endowed him with the knowledge of provincial affairs and the dignity which are requisites that the office demands. He is also known to possess the attributes of perseverance and capacity for work that are required and he will doubtless make good for the province in London.

Unemployment Not Serious Problem Here.

There is undoubtedly some unemployment in Prince Rupert this winter but there is no reason to anticipate that it will reach distressing proportions. There is plenty of necessary work to be done such as municipal and provincial government road building and it is expected that such work will absorb all those in the city who require jobs. If the necessity arises, there should be and probably will not be any hesitation in giving employment on such projects. Prince Rupert is more fortunate in this respect than many other communities in the province.

Local Police Seem To Be Doing Duty.

As far as can be seen on the surface, there is no reason to criticize the police force of this city on the work it is doing. There are always some who are ready to say that bootlegging and vice is rife here but there are few, if any, who are willing to point definitely to specific cases. As long as there is no proof forthcoming as to any inefficiency, it is unfair to suggest that there is such. At the same time, it is the duty of citizens to draw attention of the proper authorities to anything undesirable they may see.

While crime is apparently rampant in the larger centres of the south and robberies and assaults are occurring daily, Prince Rupert—perhaps from its geographic location—is remarkably free from such trouble. The local police force has apparently been successful in coping with such isolated cases as have arisen and is to be congratulated in that respect.

Mayorality Campaign Is About To Start.

The annual municipal election campaign is about to commence. Two candidates for the mayorality have announced themselves—Mayor Newton and Ald. Collart. The policies of the two candidates are fairly well known. Both have contributed to the good work that has been done by the city council during the past two years and it is admitted that good work has been done especially in the matter of road building. Both candidates will strive in the course of the campaign to take upon themselves the lion's share of credit for anything of value that has been done. They will also point out each other's faults which, through their close association, they have undoubtedly been able to ascertain. There is no need for any undesirable or personal elements to be brought into the campaign. May the issues be placed fairly and squarely before the people and may the best man win!

PRINCE JOHN HAD VERY ROUGH TRIP

Rugged Little C.N.R. Boat Arrived From Vancouver and Islands on New Year's Eve

After experiencing one of the roughest trips in her long career of service on the coast, the C.N.R. steamer Prince John, Capt. E. Mabbs, arrived from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands at 10.20 Wednesday night. The vessel left Vancouver at 4 o'clock on Christmas Eve and experienced good weather crossing Milbank Sound. Upon nearing the Queen Charlotte Island coast, however, extremely bad weather was encountered and several long stops had to be made for shelter. The fact that the ship was light made navigation more difficult. A twelve hour stop was made at Cumshewa owing to extreme darkness, and a heavy gale forced the steamer to stop over at Lockport and Queen Charlotte City. The weather encountered was a mixture of fog, snow, rain and wind and was one of the worst passages made up the coast according to Capt. Mabbs. The Prince John will leave for Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands at 9 o'clock tonight. Passengers arriving at Prince Rupert included Mr. and Mrs. Lee and daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Palmer and Son, and Miss Enyn from Buckley Bay; R. E. Burger, Mr. and Mrs. Ruttan, R. E. Robertson and Miss Carpenter from Massett.

HOW MUCH SHOULD WOMAN FORGIVE IN MAN SHE LOVES?

Whether or not a woman should forgive everything in the man she loves is the underlying theme of the Goldwyn photoplay, "Name the Man!" which is to be shown tonight at the Westholme theatre. Whether her love should triumph and her pride be submerged no matter what he has done, or whether she should let him suffer out his own salvation is the problem presented.

In Hall Gaine's characters from "The Master of Man," the question is worked out. Conrad Nagel as Victor Stowell, Patsy Ruth Miller as Fennella, and Mae Busch as Bessie Collister, are the principals involved.

Victor, who really loves Fennella, is caught in a web of circumstance, and sins. Bessie, the victim of circumstance also, does everything in her power to protect him from the girl he loves and from his public. But when suspicion dawns upon Fennella, and she realizes that he is guilty, her only comment is a sharp slap across his face.

However, when facing an incensed mob, he makes a complete confession, she glories in his honesty, her love again triumphs and she rushes to protect him from being stoned.

BRINGING UP FATHER

HIS EXPERIENCES AS ALDERMAN

Ald. S. P. McMordie Addressed Rotary Club Yesterday Afternoon

At the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday afternoon, Ald. S. P. McMordie gave a breezy address on his experiences as an alderman. In opening his talk the speaker said that as soon as a man entered the service of the city he was treated as a joke by most people and appeared to be at once put on the "cap and bells."

It was up to the electors in the forthcoming municipal election to get together and put in a good council. Speaking of past councils they all seemed to have been good councils, even if he had not been one of them. Speaking as an alderman with one year's service, Ald. McMordie said that the work of the council was not only done by the council as a whole but largely in committee.

After having been sworn in as an Alderman he had not thought it incumbent upon him to do a lot of talking for a start but he soon noticed that certain officials of the city seemed to like standing on their feet and saying something. After a while, however, he had compiled a summary of how his time was taken up in the council chamber and had figured it out by the number of words each member of the council uttered. This he had passed around in the form of a joke but it seemed to be taken seriously by certain members of the council and a marked improvement was soon noted.

HERMIT'S DANCE WAS DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

New Year Was Fittingly Ushered in by Young People Wednesday Night

The Hermit's dance held in the Boston Hall on New Year's Eve was a distinct success. The splendid decorations were the subject of much favorable comment. An arch of cedar boughs and colored balloons festooned over the lights gave a delightful effect while the orchestra stand was prettily decorated with colored streamers.

Some 60 couples attended and thoroughly enjoyed the many moonlight and novelty dances. Bright colored papers hats were distributed to all the dancers, thus adding an additional touch of brilliancy to the gay scene.

The dancers welcomed the advent of the New Year in right royal fashion by the blowing of whistles and trumpets and the serpentine dance reminded one of the gay scenes so often pic-

Seas, Bays and Rivers of Queen Charlotte Islands Abound With Fish of Marketable Varieties

(By C. Harrison)

The seas, bays and rivers in and around the Queen Charlotte Islands teem with domestic resources of fish in endless variety. We have all the species of salmon frequenting our waters that can be found elsewhere on this coast, and these fish are of first-class quality. The great drawback, however, is that they do not run in large enough quantities to warrant the erection of many canneries for their curing. Spring salmon can be caught in the spring by thousands in several bays and harbors of our islands.

The great difficulty in regard to the salmon fishing industry of these islands is the exposure at the entrance of several of the rivers to the southeast wind, which at the time of the fall fishing is the prevailing wind. The rivers being so narrow no legal fishing can possibly be allowed in the rivers themselves, as an ordinary gill-net would block the entire river and so prevent any of the fish from reaching their spawning beds. All fish therefore must be caught in Beale Straits or in the waters of the Inlets outside of the entrances of the rivers, and without the least doubt by so fishing a large quantity of fall fish could be obtained.

It is imperative that hatcheries should be created at the same time that commercial fishing is allowed, otherwise within a very short period our rivers will be entirely depleted of salmon. Reliable men also must be placed in charge of these hatcheries, and if everything be conducted on up-to-date lines, I have no doubt that the fall fishing up and around the inlets of these islands will prove successful to all parties interested.

Careful Observation

After careful observation for many years of the salmon that frequent the streams of our islands, my opinion is that the sockeyes begin to run the third or fourth week in March. The heavy run is generally from the middle of April to the end of June. The steel-heads run in August and again in December. The cohoes begin to run about the second week in August and continue to run until the end of September. The humpbacks and dog salmon commence to appear about the first of August and continue until the end of November. Special legislation I think ought to be made so as to allow the sockeyes to be caught whilst they are running plentifully. In regard to the quality of the sockeye salmon Captain Walbran, formerly commander of the D.G.S. Quadra, stated: "Whilst at Skidegate, Queen Charlotte Islands, I examined the excellent salmon rivers from which the cannery lately established there was drawing at that early stage of the season (May) some splendid fish. The fish were small but of excellent flavor, being in that respect more like British salmon than I have yet met with on this coast."

Herring Banks

As regards the herring banks, they have never yet been prospected thoroughly, but we who reside on the islands know that they make their appearance in April and are caught by the Haidas for bait in countless numbers. The Haidas dry thousands of pounds of their spawn annually for their own consumption and for trading with other Indians. These fish are admirably adapted for making bladders.

While I am writing about the herring, there is something which I think should be known and which should at once be stopped. I refer to the wanton destruction of the herring eggs by the Haidas. During the spawning season they take boughs of hemlock trees, and after stringing lines on them, submerge the boughs in the waters of the bays near their homes. After the branches have been in the water two or three days they are drawn up and great bunches of herring spawn are found clinging to them. The Haidas then take these eggs, dry them, and pack them into boxes which hold about forty pounds apiece. These dried herring eggs are considered quite a delicacy by the natives and are shipped as far as Hazelton on the Skeena and Aiyansh on the Naas. Nearly all the stores in the interior as well as those on the coast which cater to the Indian trade handle these dried eggs, and an immense number of them are sold annually.

If the herrings are of any commercial value, then this destruction of their spawn ought to be immediately stopped. At present there are no regulations governing the destruction of herring spawn, but it can readily be seen what harmful effect this indiscriminate destroying of the spawn is bound to have on any herring industry wherever established. Should the Government decide to protect the herring spawn, it would certainly aid in the propagation of the fish in the bays and harbors of our islands, but it will take many years before this can finally be accomplished.

often weigh as much as two or three pounds apiece.

The next choice and marketable fish to be found in large quantities in these waters is the skil or black cod. The cod fisheries I think must to a large extent be carried on by sailing vessels, and our islands offer immense advantages for the operation of such craft over almost any other part of the coast. The length of a fishing voyage is very uncertain, as it all depends on the presence of the cod. In the eastern waters some fishermen are absent two or three months before a catch is made, and frequent changes of ground are often necessary before a promising bank for operations can be determined, consequently the duration of the trip seems to me to indicate that the operation of steamers or motor boats in these waters for cod fishing would be a very expensive operation. Prince Rupert at the outside calculation being only one hundred miles away from any of the cod banks, when a catch is effected, twelve hours sailing would easily bring the fish to their destined distributing point. The best cod banks are about five and a half miles off the west coast of these islands, and at times are to be found in large quantities in two hundred fathoms of water, and the fish average about seventeen pounds apiece.

Mr. Mowat, who was an expert in these matters, pronounced the black cod caught in these waters the finest fish in the world, far surpassing the eastern salmon and mackerel. He predicted that any company that would go into this business properly would reap splendid results, and that such an enterprise would prove remunerative, as the superior quality of these fish would command a ready market wherever introduced.

In addition to the black cod we have the black rock, the orange rock, the red cod, flounders, plaice, crabs and shell-fish of all descriptions. Notwithstanding the matchless inducements presented by the fishing wealth of these islands, scarcely more than four companies have as yet assayed to grasp the prize.

Editor's Note.—This is the sixth of a series of articles on the Queen Charlotte Islands by Mr. Harrison. The next will appear in an early issue.

As the result of the turning over of a coal oil cooking stove, the contents of 116 Eighth street occupied by Mrs. Quarrell, were badly scorched by a fire which broke out at 2 o'clock New Year's morning. The fire department answered the call and, upon arrival, found the fire making headway with a strong breeze blowing. A line of hose was run out and the fire extinguished before any considerable damage was done.

CHINESE SHOW

Oriental Entertainment Staged Last Night in Second Avenue Hall

A Chinese entertainment under the auspices of the Pyne Min Association, a local Chinese educational society, was held in the association's hall on Second Avenue last night. The hall was packed to the doors with Chinese and invited citizens. The entertainment took the form of a play entitled "Home Sweet Home," acted entirely by Chinese and played in five parts. The parts were well sustained. At the conclusion of the play six Chinamen gave an exhibition of sword fighting and magic which was well received.

HOGMANY DANCE VERY SUCCESSFUL

New Year's Eve Celebrated at Affair given by St. Andrew's Ladies' Auxiliary

The Hogmanay dance, held in the Auditorium on New Year's Eve under the auspices of St. Andrew's Ladies' Auxiliary, was very successful. The hall was prettily decorated in blue and white effects, the colors of the society. Some 200 people enjoyed dancing until the early hours of the morning, music being furnished by the Westholme orchestra. A feature of the evening were the Scotch square dances accompanied by Pipers J. Sturgeon, Alex. McDonald, Hughie Smith, A. Leslie, A. Alves and drummers Sam Currie, A. Paton and J. Kelly.

At midnight the dancers stood in the centre of the hall and sang Auld Lang Syne as the church bells chimed in the New Year. Delightful refreshments were served soon after.

The committee responsible for the success of the evening included Mrs. Chas. Taylor, convener, Mrs. McRobbie and Mrs. J. McKeelnie who were ably assisted by other members of the society.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

One of Prince Rupert's own gales struck town during the night. Windows rattled, the spume flew like smoke across the harbor, hats went whirling, sign boards were smashed, and no one doubted the real thing had arrived. It was blowing great guns at noon.

Number six pontoon of the Grand Trunk Pacific dry dock was successfully launched yesterday at noon under superintendence of C. N. Crowell, manager of the undertaking. A large crowd watched the launching.

Alex. Yule was among those sailing by the Prince George yesterday for the south. He intends to enlist.

"Name The Man"

A screen presentation of Sir Hall Caine's celebrated novel, "The Master of Man." A superb photo-drama showing how human passions changed the lives of four persons. The story of a girl who gave blindly, without question, on the altar of love and asked not even justice from the world of men and the man who found the path of honor in the end. Many stirring scenes include mob-scenes, a sensational trial and a realistic storm. Beautiful landscapes. Brilliant cast.

MANY CLAIMS TO VALUABLE LEGACY

Correct Use of Famous Title has Encouraged Pretenders
About the year 1880 the pioneer prospectors of British Columbia discovered a remarkable coal. After many trials and tests it was positively established that this coal represented the acme of economy, efficiency and comfort. To this fuel they gave the new famous name of "Nanaimo-Wellington," representing all that was best in coal.

No sooner was it found that the public insisted on getting this Wonder Fuel than other coals were put on the market under very similar names. So much so that the public were at a loss to say which was the genuine and which the imitation. Of course it was easy after a trial—a single sack will prove it—more lasting and more powerful heat from a few shovelfuls, hardly any ash, no clinker or rock, all these points stand out when you make a practical test in furnace, fireplace, heater or cook-stove.

This famous Nanaimo-Wellington coal is sold only by Albert & McCaffery to whom all orders should be phoned direct. Prompt delivery service given by their own teams and trucks. Their phone numbers are 116 and 564.
