Algarsson Expedition Leaves for North on Little Steamer Iceland

Former Vancouver man held up in Liverpool two months owing to lack of funds

LIVERPOOL, June 23.—Smiling at the ill-fortune which has dogged them for the last two months, Grettier Algarsson, the Vancouver explorer with commander Worsley and their little band of volunteers, who make up the crew of the steamer Iceland, sailed down the Mersey to the open sea yesterday, beginning the attempt to go further north than any other polar expedition this year.

Algarsson abandoned the idea of flying to the North Pole and will confine his activities to a geographical survey and to making preparations for a polar flight next year.

The expedition was delayed here for two months owing to lack of funds.

VICTORIA, June 23.—An order that Charles Morris be extradited to British Columbia for trial on a charge of being implicated in the murders of Capt. J. Gillis and his son on the Beryl G., has been upheld by the United States federal court of appeal, according to word received here yesterday. This quashes the Morris appeal and will mean that he too must stand trial for his life as a result of the hijacking murders for participation in which Owen E. Baker and Sowash last week were sentenced to hang.

EXCESS RATES BEING REMOVED

Prince Rupert to be put on Equality With Other Ports in Insurance

VANCOUVER, June 23.—The excess insurance rates on vessels calling at northern B.C. ports is likely to be removed. The Imperial shipping committee has reported in favor of removing the excess on ports as far north as Prince Rupert. The fact that northern waters are well charted and lighted and that Prince Rupert harbor is easy of access is largely responsible for the proposed change.

Windsor to be Flippant With Judge

WINDSOR, Ont., June 23.—Mrs. Ghloe Lucier, aged 35, talked and laughed herself into an extra jail term in Judge Gunys' court yesterday following her conviction on a charge of keeping liquor on sale. She was fined $500 and costs or three months and thirty days in jail. The woman laughed and remarked: "That's good" and then stuck out her tongue.

"Isn't thirty days sufficient?" asked the judge.

"Why, no, make it six months if you wish," flippantly replied the woman.

"Well, I'll make it two months," the court retorted.

Mrs. Lucier is the first woman to go to jail under the new Liquor Act.

Australian Trade Treaty is Opposed by Conservatives and also by Progressive Leader

OTTAWA, June 23.—The Australian trade treaty met with opposition in the House of Commons yesterday. The Conservatives attacked it, charging the advantage under the treaty lay with Australia. They also charged that under its provisions for reduced duties on imported Australian meats and for placing Australian eggs and cheese on the free list, a blow would be struck at mixed farming in Canada.

Robert Forke, leader of the Progressives, said he thought the treaty a mixture of good and evil and he intended to vote against it.

MELBOURNE, June 23.—Premier Bruce announced yesterday that amendments to the trade treaty with Canada had been submitted to him last week and he had thereupon advised Premier King that if Canada finally approved them he would submit them to the Commonwealth Parliament.

HAREMS ARE NOT POPULAR

Turkish Women Have Tastes
Similar to Occidentals:
Cost too Great

NEW YORK, June 23.—Turkish harems are virtually extinct, not because of moral or religious reasons but because they are too expensive to maintain, according to W. W. Peep, treasurer of the Constantinople Red Cross branch, who returned here yesterday.

Polygamy has become economically unpopular, he said, because Turkish women have acquired the same tastes exhibited by her Occidental sisters.

Free Fight in French Chamber of Deputies During Debate on Moroccan Question Follows Blow

PARIS, June 23.—Today's session of the chamber of deputies considering the Moroccan question broke up in a free-for-all fight when the white-haired Colonel Picot of the right bloc rushed to the rostrum, slugged the communist deputy Doriot squarely in the face as the latter was attacking the French government.

The socialists have decided to withdraw support from Premier Painleve.

Fish Running Well at Opening of Season for Skeena River Sockeyes

Satisfactory reports as to the sockeye run on the Skeena River are made. Prospects are good for a medium pack which will probably exceed the low cycle year of four years ago. The average per boat is ten, while some of the boats have caught as high as 60 since the season opened on Sunday night and some have gone as low as two.

About 800 gill net boats started fishing Sunday night—about 300 for springs and 500 for sockeyes. By the end of this week the number, it is expected, will be well up to 1,000.

There will not be much seining until the pink run starts later.

Spring salmon fishing is still continuing with the best run expected about the end of the month. The spring salmon season will continue until July 15.

The airplane patrol has not yet been started and the planes will probably not be in full operation until seining commences. In the meantime, Flight Lieutenant Earl MacLeod and his officers are getting all their arrangements ready at the base on Digby Islands and at the wireless depot at Seal Cove.

Wash Dishes In U.S.

Rather Than Live In Canada.

A letter from a subscriber of the Daily News in Minneapolis says: "If I was a young man I would go up there (to Prince Rupert) to live, as Prince Rupert is destined to be quite a city in time. It seems to me that too many young Canadians would sooner wash dishes in the U.S. than settle in their own wonderful country."

There it is. The lure of the big cities is too strong and many go out of Canada and find conditions nothing like as good as they are here. Sometimes glowing letters come from those who have gone and in some cases the writers of the glowing letters are trekking back before long. Far away fields look green.

Things Are Not Always What They Seem.

Things are not always what they seem. We sometimes are jealous of our neighbors and think they are doing well, when all they do is spend well. We sometimes think other places are more progressive than ours or more prosperous and yet when we look closer we find that all is not gold that glitters. Their prosperity is often on the surface and not real. To put it more plainly we often do not know when we are well off. We see the gaudy side of our neighbors and are not sufficiently familiar with them to know the eating sores that are beneath the gay raiment.

Interesting Facts About British Columbia.

Interesting facts about British Columbia have been dug up by statisticians who have made special investigation for trade purposes. It is found that this province has the highest per capita wealth of the whole province, that immigrants coming to this province from 1901 to 1920 numbered 381,497, mostly British. There are in B.C. about 40,000 motor vehicles and 123,000 dwellings. Nearly half the people of the province live in cities. The same return shows that land is valued twice as high west of the Rockies as east of it, probably because of the cost of clearing it.

There are in this province more telephones to the 100 than in any other province, in spite of the fact that in some provinces the telephone is owned by the province.

The same return gives the newspaper circulation. It shows that in Prince Rupert there are 1200 families and that the net paid newspaper circulation is 1554. This is the circulation of the Daily News, the only one with a net paid record and with an audited return.

Good News From Central Interior.

F. G. Dawson brought good news yesterday from the central interior of British Columbia. He stated that the prospects for a good crop were excellent. Things had never looked as good before. The lumber business was humming and everyone seemed busy.

Mr. Dawson made a detailed study of the interior prospects. He drove through much of it in an auto and he took his time there, spending two weeks in the country between Hazelton and McBride. He is much pleased with the general outlook.

Value Of Planes In North Country.

British Columbia is a part of the country where airplanes may be used with great advantage because of the physical difficulties to be met with. Alaska, even more than B.C., can use them to advantage. Here is what the Juneau Empire says of them:

"The use of airplanes in the Fairbanks district for the last several years is now followed by the establishment of an air service between Wrangell and the new gold strike in the Dease Lake country. This is followed by an announcement that next year will witness aerial mapping in Alaska.

"To provide for the increasing demand for air navigation, the Legislature has provided for the construction of landing fields in various parts of the Territory, and carrying out that legislation, Territorial Highway Engineer Sommers is now in the interior.

The indications are that within a very few years airplane transportation will be in general use in various parts of Alaska. When that time comes the different sections of the Territory will be closer together and progress will be faster, due to the time that will be saved."

GREAT CONCERT BY GLEE CLUB

Well Filled House Greets Visiting Entertainers Who Proved Very Popular

A well-filled house at the Westholme last night enjoyed to the full the excellent program of music and songs presented by the University of California Glee Club. Under the able direction of C. R. (Brick) Morse, a leader of many years experience, the members of the club entertained their audience with many pleasing numbers, revealing at every turn the careful training they have received at his hands. Variety was the order of the night and every item was put over in capital style. Many encores were demanded and generously responded to. Rounds of applause greeted every number on the program which ranged from grand opera to the latest comedy hits.

The opening chorus "Hail to California" was delightfully rendered by the whole club and as an encore "Love's Own Song" was given.

E. Sapire displayed his ability in an excellent saxophone solo followed by Clyde Diddle, who was in good voice, in the bass solos "Bells of the Sea" and "On the Shore."

In number four the Club Chorus gave (a) "The Sword Song," (b) "My Home" with "Desperado" and "Two Little Flies" as encores.

The Great Bear Quartette, Messrs. J. Smale, K. Courtright, W. King, B. Cowan, rendered "Far Away in the South" followed by "Billboard" in fine style and in response to a recall "Green Apple Boy."

Bud Toles came next in songs and dialogue sending the house into shrieks of laughter by his clever patter. His account of some of his experiences rendered nervously was the big comedy hit of the evening.

After "Ging Trail" by the Club, Frank Roberts delighted with two baritone solos "Skippers of St. Ives" and "Irish Eyes."

J. Kelly and C. Diddle were vastly entertaining in an exhibition of second sight and thought-reading and Geo. Dyer brought down the house with his "Barnyard Chorus" in which his clever imitations of birds and animals were featured.

The Club Jazz-Band was in great form and its efforts were well received. College songs by the Club followed by H. Rosenblum with popular songs, self-accompanied were pleasing.

J. Kelly and C. Quale in comedy numbers and dances received an ovation, the evening concluding with further college songs by the Club and the National anthem. J. Smale, assistant director was announcer and K. Courtright, stage manager.

PRINCE GEORGE

The city council has decided to impose a tax of $100 per annum on the beer parlors. They will be assessed this amount as hotel keepers. Hotels without beer privileges may escape the fee by classifying themselves as rooming houses.

Advice has been received here from Ottawa that T. G. McBride, member for Cariboo, has secured an appropriation of $12,500 for the building of a telephone line from Quesnel to Prince George. The utility, which has long been sought, will give Prince George more direct communication with southern centres.

The London rooming house on Third Avenue, of which Nick Gabrielle was the proprietor, was completely destroyed by fire last week. There was insurance on the building and its contents.

Clifford Chalmer (Gee) Torner, of the local forestry office returned to the city last week with his bride who was formerly Miss Doris Lineham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald M. Lineham of Vancouver.

Mrs. L. R. Seldon, wife of the government telegraph operator at Fort Fraser, died in the hospital here last Wednesday. She was the daughter of Sheriff E. S. Peters and leaves four small children to mourn her loss. The funeral took place from the Catholic Church on Sunday.

COMMENDS WORK OF MINISTER OF MINES

Roads and Trails Built in Mining Sections; Old Country Capital Interested

VICTORIA, June 23.—Tribute to the work of the Provincial Department of Mines in aiding in the development of the mining industry of the province, and to Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines, in particular, for his interest in the welfare of the great basic industry of the province, is paid in resolutions passed at the recent convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia held at Cranbrook.

These resolutions set forth the appreciation of the members attending the gathering at the great interest shown by the minister of mines in the mining industry of the province by the financial assistance granted to the construction of roads and trails, the compilation and publication of accurate information pertaining to mineral development as contained in the annual reports of the department setting forth the immense possibilities for development, and "in every way furthering the best interests of the mining industry of British Columbia."

The resolutions also emphasize the excellent work done by Fred Starkey, who represented the department at the Wembley exhibition in England last year when he did much towards directing the attention of Old Country capital to the possibilities of the province as a mineral producing section and a centre for profitable investment.

The Beate Straits Towing Co.'s tug Lorne, Capt. Lewis, arrived yesterday afternoon from Vancouver with scow M.H.P. No. 1, loaded with creosoted piles and heavy timbers for the elevator foundations. After dropping the tow here, the Lorne left for Queen Charlotte City to pick up a raft from Kelly's camp for delivery at Powell River.

A splendid program has also been arranged for the afternoon. Everybody will be cordially invited.

Tenders for transformers and other electrical equipment to be used by the city in connection with the power line to the elevator site were opened at last night's council meeting and referred to the utilities committee for report. The bidders were Scott-Foster Co., Vancouver; Northern Electric Co., Bartholemew & Montgomery, Vancouver; and the Gross & Ross Corporation, Philadelphia.

W. F. Barrie, C.N.R. general agent at San Francisco, was largely responsible for the visit to this city of the California Glee Club. It was he who arranged the itinerary for this popular musical organization to give concerts at Kamloops, Prince George, Ketchikan and Prince Rupert. They will proceed to Alaska tomorrow and are booked to sail from here for the south on Saturday night of this week.

STREET WORK IS DISCUSSED

Ald. Stephens Urges Council to go Slow With Its Grading Program

In connection with the passage at last night's council meeting of the local improvement bylaw providing for the mattress grading of Graham Avenue Ald. Stephens was again active in his opposition of such work being done unless it was immediately necessary and the passage of such bylaws if it was not intended to proceed with the work at once. He pointed to the warning that had been sounded by the inspector of municipalities in connection with the large amount of local improvement work being done by this city and expressed the belief that such work was affecting the general finances of the city much more than might be believed. He was not in favor of going ahead with grading if the plank roads could be kept in use for a while longer without too great cost.

Ald. Perry said that, as far as Graham Avenue was concerned, the plank road would have to have large expenditure made on it this year if it were to be used next winter. It had been deemed by the board of works to be in the interest of economy to grade it now.

Ald. Casey was in favor of proceeding with grading so that the city might get away from the large costs of repairing plank roadways. The machinery was now ready to do the work and he thought it should be proceeded with. Mayor Newton took a similar view.

Asked For Figures
 Ald. Stephens asked for some figures as to plank road repair work so it might be compared with the cost of grading and keeping up graded streets. Ald. Casey in reply announced that the labor bill alone in 1924 for maintenance of plank roads had been $11,207.55, this not including material.

After some further discussion, the Graham Avenue bylaw was put through its first stage and will come up for reconsideration next week. In the meantime, work of taking out the plank roadway in preparation for the grading was started this morning by a force of city men.

An initiative bylaw to provide for the mattress grading of Musgrave Place between Fifth Avenue and Sixth Avenue was also put through its first readings. Ald. Stephens stated that he was also opposed to this.

Are Superstitious
 Then too, the Eskimo is superstitious; he believes in certain spirits and is convinced that he who dies a violent death goes at once to the highest regions of bliss. This leads to their disposing of one another in a way that we would regard as murder, but they look upon it as the shortest to valhalla.

STRANGE CUSTOMS OF ESKIMO PEOPLE

Leave Old People to Die; Sometimes Exchange Wives; Women Chew Husbands' Shoes

Criticizing the appointment of George P. Mackenzie, formerly gold commissioner in the Yukon, to be administrator of the Arctic Islands of Canada, A. E. Ross of Kingston is reported by Hansard to have said:

"The Eskimos have their own peculiar laws, and it would be very difficult for us to interfere with them. For instance, the minister says there are rumors that the Eskimos are suffering from famine. Well, part of the daily household work of the Eskimo woman is devoted to chewing her husband's shoes to keep them soft, and if an inexperienced man found these women so employed, he would be quite mistaken if he rushed to the conclusion that there was a scarcity of food.

It would also be very difficult for us to interfere with the marriage customs of these people. They have always practised polygamy, and very often they trade their wives. An inexperienced administrator would find himself in trouble if he said to those people, "You must discontinue this custom." However strange the custom may seem, to us, naturally the Eskimo thinks it is all right, and very often he returns to his first wife if he is left alone.

This leads to their disposing of one another in a way that we would regard as murder, but they look upon it as the shortest to valhalla.

Their customs are also peculiar with respect to their old people, and in this they are not very far behind what the Greeks practised in their palmiest days. The Eskimo believes in enjoying the present to the full, and he gorges himself at every meal. Consequently, when they come to a time of want and famine they move out to find food and they leave the old people and the sick behind to die. They believe that is a thoroughly proper custom, and it would be difficult for any inexperienced administrator to go up to that country and tell

NO FATALITIES IN COAL MINES

Only One Death in Metalliferous Mines in Three Months

VICTORIA, June 23.— Indicative of the results achieved under the policy inaugurated by Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines, when he assumed that important portfolio in 1916, the annual toll of lives claimed of mine workers in British Columbia has annually been cut down until today this province ranks ahead of other mining countries in the number of casualties among underground workers and is looked upon as a shining example of what can be done to protect the lives of workers in the mines by intelligent and persistent effort in enacting adequate regulations enforcing mine safety.

In the first quarter of the present year, according to figures just issued by Hon. Mr. Sloan, not a single fatality occurred in the coal mines of British Columbia, and but one death in the metalliferous mines. In the same quarter in 1924 there were five fatalities. This showing is all the more satisfactory in view of the great increase in mining operations in the province during the past year. For the whole of 1924, according to Hon. Mr. Sloan's figures the ratio of accidents per 1,000 men employed in the coal mines, was 1.66 compared with 7.32 in 1923, and 10.42 in 1915.

The number of fatal accidents per one million tons produced during 1924 was 4.52 compared with 11.27 in 1916 and with 26.36 in 1915. Every year the casualty percentage has been getting lower.

B.C.'s regulations are a model which has brought forth generous encomiums from other coal mining countries of the world.

Can You Afford to Speculate?

EVERY time you buy something you are either speculating or making a definite investment.

Few people can afford to speculate. Yet many do it continually, in making their everyday purchases. And it is so unnecessary. The advertisements make it easy for any one to avoid taking a chance.

The merchant or manufacturer who advertises, realizes that the good-will of his customers means money in the bank to him. He knows that the public confidence in his product and public respect for his own character are as valuable as his credit at the bank.

So he makes the individual satisfaction of his patrons, their loyalty and their friendship paramount issues in his business.

When you buy an advertised product, you can know in advance what to expect in return for your money. You can count on its being right. You are making an investment.

But when you buy nameless, unbranded merchandise, you are taking a chance. You are speculating.

Know what you buy. The advertisements will tell you.
