GILLIS MURDER HORRORS TOLD BY WITNESS AT BAKER AND SOWASH TRIAL

Horrors of Gillis Murder on Schooner Beryl G. Recounted by Witness Stromkins to Court

VICTORIA, June 18.—Taking the stand in the trial yesterday afternoon of Owen Baker and Harry Sowash, charged with the murder of Captain Gillis and his son on the schooner Beryl G. last September, Paul Stromkins, the star witness for the crown, piled horror upon horror in the recital of the slaying. So gruesome were the events described by Stromkins, whose boat was used in the hi-jacking of the Gillis craft, that he broke down repeatedly while giving evidence. Twice he collapsed and once he was overcome by a flood of hysterical tears and sobbing.

HOSPITAL IS IN THE HOLE

Up to May 31, the operating deficit of the Prince Rupert General Hospital has been $6,047.79 it was announced to the board last night by J. L. Christie, chairman of the finance committee. This total may be reduced, however, to something like $3,000 through share of liquor profits and accounts receivable.

For the month of May, Mr. Christie reported, receipts had totalled $3,569.97 and expenditure, $5,057.79. There were 1284 hospital days and the cost per hospital day was $3.45. Further referring to hospital finances, President Campbell stated that the matter had been taken up recently with Hon. William Sloan, provincial secretary, with a view to having assistance from that direction.

Arrests Made in Connection with Kidnapping of Chinese House Boy Janet Smith Case

VANCOUVER, June 18.—On a warrant charging kidnaping of Wong Foon Sing, Chinese houseboy, now in custody on a murder charge in connection with the death of Janet Smith, O. B. V. Robinson, manager of the Canadian Detective Bureau there was arrested last evening by provincial police.

The officers, acting on a search warrant, took possession of the large safe and piles of books and papers found in Robinson's office and removed them to provincial police headquarters. Prior to the arrest of Robinson, another man named Verity W. Norton was taken into custody.

It is understood that summonses have been applied for implicating several well known persons in connection with the alleged kidnaping.

Many Involved

Besides the arrest of Oscar B. V. Robinson, V. W. Norton was arrested in the state of Washington yesterday and brought back while warrants are issued for K. W. Wrighton, who is now said to be in California and who is believed to have been the driver of the abduction car, and William Robinson and his son, Oscar.

Norton and Robinson were remanded for eight days and are now at Okalla.

Summonses, connected with the same charge, were sought by the crown from Magistrate McQueen of Point Grey against David Paterson, president of the Scottish societies; John Murdoch, Point Grey chief of police; H. P. McCraney and H. O. McDonald, Point Grey police commissioners; A. S. Matthews, former official of the Scottish societies; J. S. Cowper, editor of the Weekly Tribune, and Sergeant P. ### Wong Foon Sing Declares Was Hanged by Captors

Tells of Treatment Received while Held in Captivity after being Kidnapped

VANCOUVER, June 18.—The Vancouver Sun this morning publishes what is said to be "Wong Foon Sing's own story of his abduction" in which the statement is made that the Chinaman was actually hanged by abductors after repeated unsuccessful efforts to force him to tell the circumstances under which Janet Smith met her death and the incidents preceding the tragedy.

According to the story, the Chinaman described the incidents from March 29 until he was released on May 1. Wong was unable to say where he was held but he described the circuitous route of the automobile ride after being seized by three masked men. He believed he was kept within the boundaries of the municipality of Point Grey all the time.

Threatened With Revolver

Describing the treatment received, the Chinaman claims he was threatened with a revolver several times after being put in chains and finally, after fourteen days' inquisition was taken to an upper floor of the detention place where he saw a rough scaffold hanging from a beam while above was a rope with a noose. Again being asked to tell all he knew, the Chinaman claims he informed his keepers that he knew nothing, whereupon they put him on the chair, fixed the rope over his head and again offered him the chance to confess. Failing to secure the confession, the Chinaman declared that one man pulled the chair from under him and he lost consciousness, remembering nothing more until revived by a man he described as a doctor. After this it is presumed the captors gave up efforts and after a time released him.

Big Tourist Party here on Wednesday Express Surprise at Conditions in the North

Prince Rupert proved very interesting to the 129 members of the Gottfried-Krueger Association and their families of Newark, New Jersey, who were in town yesterday aboard the steamer Princess Mary, Capt. A. H. Rippon, on their way to Alaska on an eight day cruise. The Krueger Association is a political-social club and one of the most prominent members of the party was Dr. C. F. Kraemer, metropolitan port commissioner of Newark, who is taking the opportunity afforded by the tour to make an official inspection of Pacific coast harbors and ports. Naturally enough, he was interested to see the development that is going on in Prince Rupert—the newest seaport on the Pacific coast and one with a most rosy future. The Itinerary The party has already had an extended tour through the United States and at Seattle it was taken in charge by the B.C. Coast Steamship Service of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the trip to Alaska. The party will visit Lake Bennett and on its

Urges Development of Railway and Port and Defends Elevator Here

President of Board of Trade writes to Ottawa Journal setting forth Industrial Position and Refuting Fallacies

The president of the Board of Trade, G. W. Nickerson, has sent the following letter to the Ottawa Journal in answer to criticisms of the elevator expenditure here: After reading the arguments advanced by those sponsoring the vote for the Prince Rupert elevator, I am not surprised at the abundance of criticism raised in the House, and by the press. Failure on the part of those who should have furnished the information prompts me to offer, through the courtesy of your paper, some facts which I believe justify its construction.

All of those who spoke in opposition, stressed the fact that there is an additional two hundred miles of haul to Prince Rupert as compared with Vancouver, but the government speakers neglected to inform the House that by reason of superior grades and curves (in spite of the longer haul), a train of equal size can be pulled from Jasper to this port as cheaply as to Vancouver, and this notwithstanding that our westbound tonnage was only about one twentieth as against Vancouver. By reference to the monthly statistical reports, issued by the Canadian National system, these figures can be verified. Further, probably 70 per cent of the west-bound traffic on the Vancouver division goes for export, while ours was practically entirely for local consumption.

It is regrettable that those who spoke in favor of the elevator failed to quote eastbound traffic data. While I have not been able to get the figures from official sources, according to figures quoted by Sir Henry Drayton, the total freight tonnage, originating in British Columbia, handled by the Canadian National system in 1924, amounted to 496,727 tons, and from figures obtained locally, it appears that of this amount approximately two hundred thousand tons originated in the Prince Rupert division bound east. It is reasonable to assume that the Vancouver division should have produced at least one hundred thousand tons of westbound freight, therefore, it follows that our eastbound traffic was greater than that of the southern division.

We also sent out about thirteen thousand tons in express shipments, which is a much greater revenue producer than freight, consequently it is a fair assumption that our passenger train came closer to meeting expenses than that on the Vancouver division, which is truly a wonderful showing.

Half Originated Here It is worthy of note that out of 4,182,579 tons of freight originating in British Columbia, handled by all railways, the Canadian National got only 496,727 tons, of which nearly half originated in this division. The people of Canada must realize that approximately $100,000,000 of their money is invested in that portion of the Canadian National system from Jasper to Prince Rupert. Notwithstanding our limited population, the figures available show that we have been able to produce, from the resources along this line, more tonnage than has the southern division, although this other division serves a population of more than three hundred thousand. In view of this development, which is probably going to ninety-five per cent of the people of Canada, I am satisfied that no sane business man would for a moment suggest that the government and the railway management should hesitate to give us facilities necessary to reach the world's markets. I do not think in view of the comparative figures that it would be going too far to suggest that it might be better for Canada as a whole, if the Canadian National would leave the southern territory to the C.P.R. and centre all of their efforts on development along this division.

Every Mile Productive

The Canadian National from Jasper to Prince Rupert travels through the central part of British Columbia, practically every mile of which is capable of producing traffic, and allows of feeders being built both north and south, in some cases as far as 700 miles through productive territory.

As one instance of its timber resources; in the district from Vanderhoof to McBride, which comprises an area of 250 square miles, there are two billion feet of the finest commercial timber in Canada; this does not run to clear, but produces a select common grade which brings a premium on the New York market, the price today running about $47, and this allows the mills located in that territory to operate at a profit at a time when most mills in British Columbia are operating at a loss.

Of the total production of fish in this province, 70 per cent is produced in territory adjacent to this city, value about $7,000,000, yet through lack of ocean transportation the most of it has to be shipped to Vancouver in order to reach world's markets.

Mixed Farming Land

In what is known as the Stewart Lake country, which is the territory through which any railway tapping the Peace River should come, we have over 200,000 acres of mixed farming land that cannot be surpassed in Canada.

The total mineral production in this territory was valued last year at $10,500,000, which is 30 per cent of the entire production of the province, yet we have only been doing development work for a few years, and it is a safe estimate that 70 per cent of the future supply of the province will come from this territory.

Had the C.P.R. owned this road I am satisfied that ere this they would have induced private capital to construct a paper mill here, and would have given them a pulp wood rate that would have allowed of bringing their raw material from as far east as McBride.

Meaning of Elevator

If the building of an elevator here meant only that grain would be hauled here at the expense of the Vancouver division, I would agree that the opposition to such an expenditure of the people's money was well taken. It means, however, a great deal more. At a Rotary Club luncheon in Ketchikan, Alaska, a few days ago, Mr. Daley, who operates a sawmill there, told his fellow citizens that "the building of this elevator meant that he would be able to load his lumber on the boats calling here for wheat instead of shipping it from Seattle." Mr. Daley's statement in connection with his business is equally applicable to the Alaska salmon canners for that portion of their pack sold outside of the U.S. The movement of this Alaskan traffic through this port means that we, instead of Seattle, get the benefit of the money expended in handling charges and other incidentals that goes through the movement of traffic through a port. It will also afford a frequent transportation service between here and Alaska, thus allowing a considerable volume of general merchandise originating in the east and destined for Alaska to come through this port, all of which helps to give a larger local market for those who are engaged in developing our natural resources in addition to a more ready access to the markets of the world.

Future Development Here

Owing to the size of Vancouver, eastern people fail to realize that 75 per cent of the future development in this province is going to take place in the northern half, of which Prince Rupert is the natural outlet. Even if this were not the case, Vancouver is of sufficient size to furnish all traffic necessary to show a profit on their division of the Canadian National system, if it's citizens so desire. If on the other hand, they persist in giving their business to the C.P.R. and at the same time clamor for the government and the Canadian National to spend money on their port, then they might be left to their own resources, and more attention paid to that end of the road which is still in its infancy, and where the Canadian National would get the benefit of all business created.

The people of Canada as a whole, fail to realize that while we are contributing over $100,000,000 annually to take care of the deficits of our railway, the C.P.R. is paying a dividend of 10 per cent to stock holders, 80 per cent of which is going outside of the country. Is it not time that we should be loyal to our own interests by patronizing our own system, and allow the C.P.R. to draw on its reserves for dividend purposes for a few years (as Mr. Beatty states they can do), while we put our own road on a paying basis.

Was it Politics?

The Conservatives on the floor of the House accuse the government of building this elevator for purely political purposes. They seem to have forgotten that a few years ago, it was necessary for the Meighan government to elect the Hon. Mr. Tolmie in the city of Victoria, and taking advantage of that government's necessity the Victorians demanded that they be given a dry dock, 1150 feet long, which would be capable of taking any ship afloat. Take note that there was already at Victoria a dock capable of taking ships 325 feet long, which is sufficiently large to handle all ships docking on this coast, except in case of accident. In addition there was a dock here that would handle ships 600 feet long, and naturally one would think that this would be sufficient docking facilities for the government to finance within one province, particularly as Seattle offered facilities sufficiently large to handle any ships that could not be taken care of in B.C. Further, the government knew that ships visiting Oriental and European ports would not dock on this coast for general purposes, proof of which was available to them from the fact that the C.P.R. had always docked in the Orient, and I venture to say will continue to do so by reason of the lesser cost. Yet in face of all this, the Meighan government obligated us to an expenditure of $7,000,000, a sum almost sufficient to have given rail connection to the Peace River. But the Conservatives were not satisfied to stop there; they went to Vancouver and guaranteed the Wallace shipyards 3 1/2 per cent on $3,000,000 for twenty years to construct a dry dock, thereby becoming financially interested to the extent of about $15,000,000 in four docks in B.C., knowing all the while that one dock, in addition to the old Esquimalt dock, could have taken care of all the business offered. In view of this, it ill behoves the opposition to accuse anyone of buying seats.

Obstruction Not Helpful

In conclusion, permit me to say that Canada's troubles cannot be settled by the Conservative party in and out of the House acting purely in the role of obstructionist; they must realize that their duty to Canada is to assist the government of the day in carrying on the business of the country in a manner conducive to its welfare; they must offer constructive suggestions as well as criticism of bad legislation; in other words, no matter what government is in power the opposition must consider themselves as directors of a giant corporation, whose problems they are endeavoring to solve. After all, it does not matter a great deal whether the Hon. Mr. King or the Hon. Mr. Meighan occupies the premiership, so long as the members of the House give them constructive assistance.

G. W. NICKERSON.

The Conversion of Andrew MacLean

(An experience from life)

"It has to be a pretty good idea to make me change the habits of a life-time, and when I first heard about Hatchway Buttonless Underwear—well—I just laughed to myself.

Time went on, and man after man kept on telling me about the new kind of comfort he was experiencing and I began to wonder. . . . Then one day I bought a suit of Hatchway—I took it home and slipped it on.

I never would have thought that a suit of Underwear could make such a difference to a man's feelings—it was so down-right easily comfortable, and certainly the no-button idea saves a wonderful amount of time and trouble. Believe me, I am sold on Hatchway now and I have got a hunch that I shall stay that way for life."

Over half a million Canadian men and boys wear Hatchway, and each year the number grows.

LONDON CHAT ABOUT PEOPLE

Those Who are in Public Eye in England Told about by Special Writer

LONDON, England, June 18.—(By Canadian Press)—Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. Harry Brown, the rich Pittsburg widow, have started issuing their invitations. It is by coincidence, of course, that their first big party has been arranged for the same night.

Mrs. Brown has invited some 130 people to dinner and dance in the wonderful Spencer House Ballroom, adding that the orchestra will play from 12 to 5 a.m. Mrs. "Neily" has broadcast the first shot of the season to all her guests of last year and to every member of the younger royal set who is in town. According to the dilemmas in which half of social London is now placed, both lots of invitations appear to have been sent off at the identical hour.

It seems, however, that Mrs. Brown will beat the most social of the Vanderbilts to it once more, to lapse into the vernacular, for Mrs. "Neily," unlike Mrs. Brown, has given no indication of how late her own ball is likely to continue. Between midnight and one o'clock therefore is likely to see a procession of limousines from the doors of Norfolk House Mrs. Vanderbilt's, up to the massive gates of the deca home of the Spencer which the Pittsburg widow has filled with a battalion of powdered footmen.

Take Interviews
Trust the bright young people of London to find a new game. You remember the Treasure Hunts, and the Night-Time Days. Now they've found something that requires not only skill and ingenuity but a good deal of luck as well.

This is it. They arrange between themselves to interview a number of famous people by telephone, as if they were newspaper reporters, and see just how much a person's views on this and that can vary during 24 hours. The actresses have fallen for it beautifully. Gladys Cooper, Beatrice Lillie and a few others have all been interviewed by the Bright Young People—and no doubt are still looking for their views to appear in various London papers—but the typed out interviews are reposing in a certain esoteric in Mayfair.

The other day one famous author and playwright who has three plays running in London at the moment was rung up by a sweet young voice and asked for his views on "Women's Mannish Modes of today." It took up 15 minutes of his time, and he nearly stopped his wife's dress allowance when she presented him with his interview that evening.

English princes may be scarce this season, but there are plenty of Indian Maharajahs here, and very exalted Potentates indeed, in the "millionaire hotels," and occupying the Imperial suits are no fewer than four Indian princes and Maharajahs. These are the Rajahs of Kapurthala, Rajpipla, Vizianagram, and the Prince Karamjit Singh of Kapurthala.

Rajpipla is the youngest and handsomest of them all and, as many a debutante will bear witness, dances divinely. All the Rajahs have brought long Suites with them, and some of the latter keep to their Eastern dress. When the Rajah of Kapurthala dines in the restaurant or the Cafe a seven feet high Indian waiter stands behind his chair and makes a pretence of tasting the foods and wines before the Rajah begins his meal.

Million Dollar Beauties
The interesting problem "Is money the great breeder of good looks" has been propounded by the English author G. V. Lendrum, on seeing a number of debs who are visiting London this season.

"Girls grow prettier and prettier as their fathers grow richer and richer," declares Mr. Lendrum. "Some of the London society girls, despite all their ancestors, will have to keep a close eye on their rivals—and perhaps take a hint or two."

According to the mumsers one of the prettiest debs of this season will be Miss Monica O'Shea, the daughter of U.S. Senator O'Shea, who is being presented by the American Ambassador, Mrs. Houghton. She has red hair which is neither bobbed, bingled or shingled and a complexion that doesn't owe a lot to the beauty parlor. With a chap-erone Miss O'Shea has started the season at the Berkeley and her father is joining her later.

The regular monthly meeting of the hospital board was held last night in the city council chamber. Those present were President S. K. Campbell, Vice-President J. H. Thompson; H. H. Little, Ald. W. M. Brown, Leo Waugh, Dr. H. E. Tremayne, C. H. Elkins, Mrs. R. C. Parsons, J. L. Christie and Managing secretary H. W. Birch.

The American Medical Publishing Co. has already sent the Prince Rupert General Hospital twenty pounds of bond stationery and has offered to furnish a year's supply of stationery for the institution free of charge. Letters presented to the hospital board last night stated that there were strings to the offer. It was accepted by the board.

The matter of the Fifth Ave. approach to the hospital, which is in a dilapidated condition, was referred to at the meeting of the hospital board last night and the finance and house committees were authorized to proceed with repairs. It is proposed to replace the plank roadway now there with a piece of surfaced road similar to that on Fifth Avenue.

Mrs. Ingabor Falk of Vanarsdol, who is to be admitted to the mental hospital at Essonvale, and her sixteen year old son, who is to be placed in the Industrial School, were brought to the city by Provincial Constable J. P. Eggleshaw last night. They will be taken south tonight by Mrs. J. Warne of Terrace and Provincial Constable Smith of the local office.

Ald. Brown, reporting to the hospital board last night on behalf of a special committee which had repair work at the institution in hand, stated that, whereas the estimate of the work in question had been $1300, it had actually been done for something under $1200. President Campbell complimented Ald. Brown for keeping down the cost and at the same time having the work effectively done.

Outlook for Mining on Islands Brighter; Black Sand Project Graham Island Reported Upon

(From Annual Report of Resident Mining Engineer)
The Queen Charlotte Island Division has had more activity in mining this year, due to the experiments in the recovery of gold from the beach black sands of Massett Inlet and the east and north coasts of Graham Island. Apparently these have been conducted in a thorough and competent manner; the results obtained, therefore, give every reason to believe that this industry will develop into something worth while.

Further oil investigations were made on the west coast and interior fields of Graham Island. Shuttle Island produces a little gold each year. Altogether the outlook is brighter than usual. There has been great activity this year in staking and investigating the beach sands at Massett and on the north and east coasts. The records show that thirty-nine leases have been granted and six more applied for. These being 80 acre leases, represent a total of 3,600 acres, apparently an abundance of sands if the gold recovery can be made profitable.

P.B.C. Mines

P.B.C. Mines Co. is a State of Delaware incorporation with an authorized capitalization of $75,000. The head office is at Dover, Delaware. It was registered in British Columbia on March 31, 1924, as an extra-provincial company, with a paid up capital of $75,000, with its head office at Victoria. The company's holdings consist of seven hydraulic leases situated on the northeast coast of Graham Island; one lease is recorded in the name of the company and six are owned by the three individual stockholders comprising the company.

Operations have been under the supervision of Chas. T. Cabrera, with D. R. Willemar as assayer, starting the latter part of March and continuing up to October. At the time I was on the ground, May 13, tests were being made on sands obtained from Massett Inlet, but operations were shortly afterwards transferred to Rose Spit, where the majority of the experiments and tests were made. The following information was obtained from Chas. T. Cabrera, who, as stated, supervised all the work:

Preliminary Tests

Preliminary tests consisted of a thorough sampling of the sands at Massett Inlet, concentration, and fire assays to determine their average gold content. Experiments in concentration were made by hand-rockers, sluicing, etc., and it was determined that any form of concentrating may be used and that an 8-to-1 concentration carried the most gold in the concentrate and the least in the tailings. Over a ton of concentrates obtained as above were used for fire assays and for cyanide-test runs in a Bracon Laboratory cyanide outfit, having two leaching tanks holding 50 lb. each, bottom and top feed for solutions, one settling tank, and one sump tank. The record of results of both cyanide and fire assays was sufficiently encouraging to warrant going ahead on a producing basis, and in June the erection of a cyanide plant was started on the beach at Massett. The building is 84 by 40 feet, in which have been installed, so far, six 8 by 5 foot leaching tanks, each with capacity of 8 tons of concentrates; the balance of the equipment will be installed, it is claimed, at an early date. An assay office complete in every detail, a blacksmith shop, a bunk house, and a residence have been built on land purchased in the townsite of Massett.

At Rose Spit, on the northeast coast of Graham Island, tests and experimental work were carried on during July, August, and September. Forty-seven test holes, varying in depth from 6 to 12 feet, were sunk along the beach. Samples taken up the faces of these pits, cut down and assayed, gave an average gold value of 77 cents per ton.

A bunk house was put up and an experimental cyanide plant with a capacity of 3 tons a day was installed. The equipment consists of three 5 by 4 foot leaching tanks; two 4 by 4 foot settling tanks; one 4 by 4 foot solution tank; one sump tank; one 10 compartment zinc box; an ore car and 400 feet of 12 lb. rails; hand pumps were used in the plant and water obtained from a well, using gas engine and rotary pump.

Details of Treatment

Eighty tons of sands, just as they came from the beach, not screened or concentrated, were treated in this plant as follows: A charge of 3 tons was dumped into the leaching tank and subjected to a leaching solution for one hour; the solution was then drained off at the rate of 6 inches per hour; the charge was then covered with one-quarter of 1 per cent cyanide solution and treated by percolation for seventy-two hours, the solution draining into a settling tank where the cyanide content was slightly raised before running over the zinc. Assays were made after each charge was completed of the pregnant solution and precipitates. Mr. Cabrera claims that the results were sufficiently conclusive to justify the erection of a 100 ton daily capacity plant at Rose Spit.

Should this plant be successful there is plenty of area of auriferous sands for other similar enterprises.

ADDRESS GIVEN ELKS' BANQUET

Colonel Royal Burritt Speaks to Local Members on Work of Order

VERY RAPID GROWTH

Colonel Royal Burritt, grand exalted ruler of the Canadian order of Elks, was last evening the guest of honor at a banquet given by the local lodge in the St. Regis Cafe dining room. L. M. Fuller, exalted ruler of the local lodge presided and there was a good representation of local Elksdom present. Arthur's orchestra provided the music and a vocal selection was given by E. Sabourin.

The feature of the evening was the address given by the visitor, Col. Burritt who spoke for three quarters of an hour, giving an exposition of some of the problems faced by the order and an oration on Elksdom, its aims and aspirations and the duties and responsibilities of members of the order.

Colonel Burritt thanked the officials of the local lodge for the reception they had given him and for the opportunity for seeing the greatest city in western Canada. All the people he had met here admitted that it was the greatest. He found they were all optimists as they should be. The men he had met had been a great inspiration. They were anxious and willing to be of service.

Western Order

Speaking of the order, Colonel Burritt said it was founded on charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity. It was a western order having been founded in Vancouver in 1912. It had no hoary traditions but was imbued with the spirit of youth that laughs at years. It emphasized the value of friendship and glorified the relations of man to man.

Speaking of the growth of the order in Canada, the speaker said that it had increased 35 per cent in less than two years. There were now 36 lodges of which there were in British Columbia 24, Alberta 17, Saskatchewan 10, Manitoba 5, Ontario 28, Quebec 10, New Brunswick 1 and Newfoundland 1. These lodges were not of mushroom development but all were on a firm foundation doing good work in the communities in which they were located.

Elksdom, the Colonel said, had now attained a momentum which would carry it forward, and it was bound to be one of the greatest fraternal orders in Canada. They were founded on

MISS McCaul HAS RESIGNED

Lady Superintendent of Local Hospital Leaving to Accept Important Position in New York.

Miss Edith McCaul, R.N., who has been lady superintendent of the Prince Rupert General Hospital for the past two years, last night submitted her resignation to the board, same to take effect on July 8. In her letter of resignation, Miss McCaul thanked the board for help and co-operation that had been extended her during her stay in Prince Rupert and wished the hospital all future success.

Miss McCaul has accepted a position as assistant superintendent of St. Mary's Hospital, a large institution just outside the city of New York. President Campbell, after explaining to the board why she was resigning, said that it was with a great deal of regret that Miss McCaul's resignation would be received. Her work had been of a high order, routine and discipline at the hospital had been excellent under her supervision and results obtained spoke amply for her ability.

On motion of H. H. Little, seconded by Ald. Brown, Miss McCaul's resignation was accepted with regret. H. H. Little, chairman of the executive committee, reported that applications for the position of lady superintendent were being sought in Vancouver, Victoria, Calgary and Winnipeg. They were to be in by June 30. The board confirmed the action of the executive committee.

The resignation of Miss Viola Cameron, R.N., effective a month hence, from the night staff was also reported to the board.

patriotism which taught people to act honorably and to revere the flag as the symbol reminding the people of their rights and duties. With this end in view an annual flag day was instituted which it was hoped would some day be officially recognized and declared a public holiday.

Red Blooded Men

Elksdom taught people to be law-abiding citizens. Their activities were not restricted to the few but the idea of brotherly love as exemplified in service was inculcated. "The world needs red-blooded men of the strong kind; true men who will play life's game," declared the speaker. It was not unlike to bear a grudge and they should avoid the poisonous tongue of gossip. The best way to benefit themselves was to benefit others, to radiate happiness, to make life sweeter, man better and the world happier.

At the close of the address, Ben Self presented the visitor with a black slate totem suitably engraved and a packet of pictures of the scenery between this city and Vancouver, which was suitably acknowledged.

ORE DISCOVERIES ALICE ARM DURING WEEK ANNOUNCED

Alice Property Joining Esperanza Shows High Grade Silver and Good Values on Riverside II.

Several important ore discoveries have been made during the week in the Alice Arm district says the Alice Arm Herald. These discoveries are not "promoters' strikes," but have been made during development work by the owners of different properties.

Welcome news comes from the Alice property that a high grade vein of silver ore six inches wide has been encountered at a depth of about fifty feet, and a distance of about fifty-six feet from the portal of the tunnel. Specimens of the ore brought to town are magnificent specimens, and contain brittle and ruby silver, also galena and zinc ore. The Alice is owned by a number of Anxox residents. It joins the Esperanza, and the location of the discovery is about 3000 feet

Can You Afford to Speculate?

EVERY time you buy something you are either speculating or making a definite investment.

Few people can afford to speculate. Yet many do it continually, in making their everyday purchases. And it is so unnecessary. The advertisements make it easy for any one to avoid taking a chance.

The merchant or manufacturer who advertises, realizes that the good-will of his customers means money in the bank to him. He knows that the public confidence in his product and public respect for his own character are as valuable as his credit at the bank.

So he makes the individual satisfaction of his patrons, their loyalty and their friendship paramount issues in his business.

When you buy an advertised product, you can know in advance what to expect in return for your money. You can count on its being right. You are making an investment.

But when you buy nameless, unbranded merchandise, you are taking a chance. You are speculating.

Know what you buy. The advertisements will tell you.

from the Esperanza workings.

On the Riverside No. 2 an ore discovery has been made that may place that property among the producing mines at an early date. A sample of ore recently taken from a dyke gave assay returns of $12.00 in gold per ton. This dyke is three feet wide and can be traced on the surface for a long distance. It cuts an ore vein from which samples have been taken giving returns of 13 ozs. silver and $6.50 in gold per ton.

MISS ORFORD IS DISMISSED

Girl Who Made Confession Regarding Janet Smith Murder Loses Job

WILL GIVE EVIDENCE Says She Will Tell all She Knows When The Proper Time Comes

VANCOUVER, July 18. — Relieved of her appointment by the Designer Publishing Company of Toronto, for whom she was working in a local department store, Barbara Orford, star witness for the defence in the criminal libel charge against J. Sedgewick Cowper of The Saturday Tribune, and whose alleged "confession" in connection with the Janet K. Smith mystery slaying led to the libel charge and aroused a furore of excitement in police circles, stated that an attempt was being made to force her to leave the town before giving her testimony.

"They couldn't buy me to get out, and they couldn't scare me out; now they are trying to starve me out, but they will not succeed," the girl declared after exhibiting a telegram from Toronto which intimated that she had lost her position.

"Must request your resignation to take immediate effect," is the bald announcement in the telegram, but Miss Orford declares it has been engineered from this end. She refuses, however, to say who is behind the attempt to make her leave Vancouver, or give further information as to the attempts which she alleges had been made previously to get her to go.

"I'll tell everything I know at the proper time," she said. "This has only made me more determined than ever."

Sport Chat

Many soccer fans are saying that the real battle for the Dominion Day Cup this year will be fought tonight when the Gallies and Sons of England meet in the first round to decide who will go to the final on July 1, with the Great War Veterans. The Gallies, if performances so far this season may be taken as indication, seem to have about the strongest aggregation of soccerists in town and the Sons of England have been the only ones that have been causing them much worry. The fact that these two teams are meeting tonight will ensure a good game which will doubtless be attended by all enthusiastic football fans in town. The Gallies have yet to be beaten this season though the Sons of England played them to a draw once in the Stuart Shield series.

After a thorough study of the plans and photographs presented to him, George S. Lyon, Canada's best known golfer, has placed his approval upon the course which the Canadian National Railways has constructed in Jasper Park. Norman Scott, crack amateur of Montreal, who went over the course recently, has approved Mr. Lyon's judgment. The result is a move among members of the Royal Canadian Golf Association to take the national amateur championship of 1927 to the Jasper Park course. Mr. Lyon authorized the statement that the course would meet the requirements of the championship, provided it possessed the turf. "It appears to be a wonderful proposition and will be very an equal in Canada—the very spot for the national amateur in 1927," said Mr. Lyon.
