NURSE KILLED TRAIL HOSPITAL

Shot by Man Who Was Infatuated With Her and Who Turned Gun on Self

WAS KNOWN LOCALLY

VANCOUVER, Feb. 7.—Mildred Neilson, 25 years of age, a nurse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Neilson of Vancouver, was shot and killed in the hospital at Trail this morning and a charge of murder laid against P. Hanley of Trail.

Hanley had just returned from Vancouver and it is believed the shooting took place when he called at the hospital to deliver packages from Miss Neilson's parents.

Hanley is said to have been infatuated with the girl and came to Vancouver to interview the parents but did not ask their permission to marry her. Prior to his arrival they received a letter from their daughter advising them to pay little attention to Hanley, whose mind she thought slightly deranged.

Hanley turned the gun on himself after shooting the girl but is recovering.

Miss Neilson was known to some of the nurses here and was a class-mate of Miss Taylor.

WHEAT SHIPMENT TO VANCOUVER IS SMALL

AMERICANS WILL NOT BE EXCLUDED, GRANT MAHOOD HAS DECLARED

There is no truth in the rumor that American prospectors will be excluded from the Gasparian district near the Alaska-B.C. border," said Grant Mahood, well known Stewart mining man, in an interview given the Seattle Post-Intelligencer this week. "That rumor started from an ill-advised speech of one man and he was misquoted to boot. The Canadian government is anxious to have all the American prospectors and capital we can attract to the Dominion. We appreciate what Americans are worth to us."

TRAGIC MANNER

Woodshed Collapsed on the Late Clyde Earl Babcock, Killing Him Instantly

Clyde Earl Babcock, aged 39, and a recent arrival from Minnesota, lost his life in a tragic manner at Owen's logging camp on Hawkesbury Island, 130 miles south of here, last Monday.

The unfortunate man was going out to clear snow off the camp woodshed and went inside the shed to get a shovel when the roof, owing to the weight of snow, suddenly collapsed. A heavy beam fell on the top of his head smashing his skull and causing instantaneous death.

Deceased is survived by a widow who was with him at Hawkesbury Island. Interment took place there.

Provincial Constable Alex Saint returned to the city last night after investigating the fatality, the circumstances of which were entirely accidental.

Big Losses in Wheat as Prices Tumble and Warning Given to All

WINNIPEG, Feb. 7.—"Just how far prices will fall none can tell but when wheat prices are at high levels unprecedented except during the war period, it might be well to utter a word of warning, so that those who still have profit or any part of their original capital left may protect themselves while there is still time," says the Free Press.

The newspapers point out that wheat prices have dropped 28 cents within the week in three drastic declines, wiping out many of the weak holders.

It is said that a number of commission houses or black-board rooms on the Winnipeg exchange have grown from six last year to nearly forty now, and all doing a rushing business. Among their clients are men and women of all ages. Wheat closed at 87-8 cents loss yesterday from the closing price the previous day.

Matter Came Before Board of Trade at Meeting Last Night Connection with Abattoir

The delay of the railway company in holding up the construction of the P. President George Nickerson in the chair. It was reported that Mr. Moore had been complaining of the delays and asking that the matter be pressed.

The President of the Board told of telegrams he had sent in connection with it and that he was expecting an answer to one just now. The matter had been taken up several times with Mr. Warren. The engineer, who was supposed to have come here, went to Vancouver instead and had now gone East.

Always Someone Ready For Any Great Work.

When there is big work to be done, there is usually someone ready to rise to the occasion. When men were needed to cross the barren wastes of northwestern Alaska to help rescue the stricken people of Nome, there were experienced mushers ready with their dog teams to make the dash, enduring all kinds of hardships in order to get the medicine to those who were needing it.

Just now there is another dog team working its way, more slowly but just as surely, into Number Five cabin on the Yukon Telegraph line to fetch out the sick man who is lying there unable to help himself. Days of strenuous toil, battling with the elements and obstructions on the road, are nothing to these men. The return will be even more difficult but it will be undertaken.

It takes the north to develop men of courage and endurance. They often go south later and make good in any undertaking, but they look with longing to the great free country, and the call is always going out to them to come back.

Call Of The North Mysterious Thing.

A mere lad who spent a year or two in the northern interior and who now lives in one of the Puget Sound cities, where he holds a good position, spoke recently of his desire to return to the north. He said there was a fascination about the life that made it attractive. He could not get away from it. Some day he intended to go there again and it might be soon.

Service told in many of his poems, about this wonderful magnetic force that brought people back to the wild wastes of the Yukon. It is a wonderful life we lead and the people in the south cannot quite understand it. The call of the north is as strong as ever to the man with red blood in his veins. The weakling may reside in the tropics or semi-tropics but up where the Frost King reigns part of the year, where there are elemental forces to brave and where a person depends largely on himself, is where the real man likes to live.

Speech From Throne Interesting This Year.

Once a year Parliament is gathered and the cabinet, through the mouth of the Governor General announces its policy. Usually this is very brief and this year, judging from the summary sent through, does not seem to have been any exception to the rule but it is unusually interesting. In it the government asserts that it is their policy to develop the ports of the country. That in itself is important. Then it will open up the Peace River country. There again we are intensely interested. There are several reasons why we should be.

Freight Rates Revision Up.

Possibly the most interesting part of the speech was the intimation that there would be a thorough revision of the freight rates for the Dominion. Equalized rates will be in order, and over that there is bound to be much discussion. Some localities will have to pay more than they are paying today, and they will object to the change.

British Columbia is asking for an even break with no preference to anyone. The King Government must be prepared to treat all justly and that is all we ask in regard to this matter.

Lloyd's Underwriters Association
Have the Matter Before
Them For This Port
LIMIT TO BE EXTENDED

A lot of correspondence has been going on with Lloyd's in connection with marine insurance rates to this port as at present ships cannot come here without paying extra premiums. The matter is now before Lloyd's Underwriters Association and they have promised consideration at the next meeting. The following is one of the interesting letters received by the board of trade and read at the monthly meeting last night, G. W. Nickerson in the chair. It is from J. & J. Denholme Ltd., shipbrokers, Glasgow, and reads:

Dear Sir — Your letter under date of the 17th December with the enclosed came duly to hand.

I am afraid this has been addressed to me by mistake; while I am chairman of the Glasgow Committee of Lloyd's Register of Shipping, I have no connection or influence with Lloyd's Underwriters Association, to which I think your communication should have been directed. However, as a shipowner naturally I am interested in anything helpful to the development of trade in the working of our boats, and although Lloyd's Institute Clause restricts certain ports of the Pacific my firm have been able to get a slight extension of the Pacific Coast Limit from our Underwriters without exacting any extra rate from us, and consequently I am sending on your letter to our Insurance Brokers in London pointing out that for the future it would be desirable when arranging the Annual Policies that our fleet of the Northern Pacific Coast Limit should be extended to 54.40 degrees latitude as you suggest. I hope this will be generously supported by other shipowners as it is very awkward in trading with Time Policies if we are restricted on your coast. —Yours truly,

JOHN DENHOLM,
STEWART ROUTE
GOLD DIGGINGS

Board of Trade of Mining Town
Ask Government to Make Way into Cassiar

The Board of Trade heard a request from the Stewart Board of Trade for endorsement of a plan to construct a trail from that town into the new gold diggings at Cassiar. A recommendation was made to the Government at Victoria to investigate with the assurance that the plan had Prince Rupert's support if feasible. The letter follows:

With the possibility of a great influx of prospectors and others into the Dease Lake country this spring, we beg to solicit your assistance in our endeavor to bring before the government of British Columbia, the desirability of establishing road communications between Stewart and Telegraph Creek a distance of approximately 175 miles.

At the present time the only route available is via the Stikine River from Wrangell, which during the period the river is navigable, is the most economical and direct route to the interior. During the freeze up in the fall and break up in the spring this route is not available for transportation. This means that the river route can only be used five months in the year!

Already Used

The route, of a horse trail which later could be converted into a wagon road, from Stewart to Telegraph Creek has been investigated many times and has been used in part by prospectors and trappers for many years. Recently two men "Swashed" over the whole route in five days.

The construction of this road would be the means of diverting a large proportion of the traffic entirely through British Columbia territory and practically all of it during the time the Stikine River was unnavigable.

Without the construction of this road the whole of the traffic between the seaboard and the Cassiar country will pass through Wrangell, Alaska and the upholding of alien interests

GRIZZLY REAPPEARS
CALIFORNIA MOUNTAINS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The California grizzly bear, supposed extinct, has appeared after a lapse of 40 years in the Sequoia National Forest, according to a reliable report.

At one time the California grizzly ranged the Sierra Nevada and Coast ranges in such large numbers that he was made the official emblem of the state and still graces the state flag. He is considerably larger than the Rocky Mountain grizzly, is of a grayish tinge and has a distinct hump on top of his shoulders. As a fighter he was feared by all other animals of the early California days. Yet he was not considered by man a dangerous animal, and he usually took to flight on man's approach. He was even less carnivorous than the smaller black or brown bear and lived largely on acorns, berries, roots and grasses.
