VANCOUVER, Mar. 16. — John Smith, 65 years of age, boarded the steamer Charming at Powell River and disappeared from the cabin last night. Arrest Made in Robbery Case by Sergeant Bailey and Man is Committed for Trial Today

Following a speedy capture made on Saturday afternoon within 24 hours of the time when the alleged robbery took place, Jean William Beuregard, alias Tom Bouchard, was committed for trial by Magistrate McClymont in the city police court this morning on a charge of breaking and entering the store of Wilfrid Gratton about 2 o'clock Saturday morning and stealing therefrom goods to the value of about $150, including two 38 Colt revolvers, Smith & Wesson revolver, gold watch and chain, gold-filled watch case, pair of opera glasses and case, oil hat, socks, hunting knife, two razors and cases, leather suitcase, club bag, shirts, underwear, towels, looking glasses, khaki shirts, three pair of cuff links, three watch chains, leather gloves, flash light, pocket book, mackinaw shirts, cap, brown boots, etc. E. F. Jones prosecuted and the witnesses at the preliminary hearing were W. Gratton and Sergeants Bailey and McGlinchy.

Offered to Sell Revolver
According to his evidence, Sergeant Bailey, towards the evening of Saturday, obtained information that a 45 revolver had been offered for sale in the G.T.P. yards. He, thereupon, made a search and learned that a man was hidden in a sand shed near the round house. The officer was warned that the man was carrying the revolver which was fully loaded—the weapon he had offered for sale. Sergeant McGlinchy and Constable Macdonald were called upon for assistance and it was decided that the best course to follow was to allow the negotiations for the sale of the gun to proceed. This was done and, after the gun had been handed over, the arrest of Beuregard was made. At first he refused to disclose to the police where the rest of the goods were to be found but later took the officers further along the track, where the goods were found in the suitcases hidden underneath a pile of wood. On being taken to the police station and, after being warned, accused, in the presence of Mr. Gratton, made the statement that he was sorry for what he had done and asked for leniency.

Goods Identified
Mr. Gratton identified the goods produced in court and Sergeant McGlinchy gave evidence corroborative of that of Sergeant Bailey.
On the deposition being read to him, Beuregard said that he had nothing to say and was then committed.

According to the police, Beuregard stated that he was 26 years of age and had arrived on Friday from Giscome where his father resides. He is a tailor and shoemaker and was intending to go into business at Giscome.
After the case had been heard in court, Sergeant Bailey pointed out that this was the second time the store of Mr. Gratton had been robbed of revolvers, one of the weapons being the same one as was taken in a former robbery. He suggested that it was unwise to allow such weapons to be exhibited as it constituted temptation to steal them. The magistrate pointed this out to Mr. Gratton who stated that it was not his intention to exhibit such goods in future and that he was considering the advisability of discontinuing handling them at all. He said this was the fifth or sixth robbery of his store.
Beuregard will come up for election before Judge Young in the County Court this afternoon.

Was United States Back Of British Action?

Indications seem to point to the United States being back of the British and Canadian action in opposing the Protocol of Peace and Safety at the meeting of the council of the League of Nations last week. The United States is not a member of the league but her influence in any international court would be very great and in order to secure the best possible results it is desirable that she should be represented.

Possibly this may be the reason for the action of Great Britain. That country and United States are very closely associated in matters of world policy and every day sees them getting closer.

Great Interest Taken In Big Hockey Games.

Great interest is taken here in the big hockey matches and the reports appearing here Saturday and today have been appreciated by those interested in sports. They are the games leading up to the world championship, which will be commenced Saturday. It is interesting that while the world championship baseball games are played in United States the hockey world championship is decided in Canada.

Free Convoy For Rum Running Vessels.

The United States is providing free convoy for rum running vessels which go south from British Columbia ports, ostensibly bound for Mexico or Central America but really intending to discharge cargo into small boats in the open sea off the coast of California or some other state. American authorities are notified by Canada when the vessels sail and they are followed all the way and their actions watched.

Naval Defence Important Here.

The subject of naval defence is an important one to people of Prince Rupert because under any scheme Prince Rupert would have to be considered as an important base and doubtless Prince Rupert harbor would be strongly fortified. Naval vessels would either be stationed here or would make frequent and lengthy visits.

The local harbor is well suited to the use of naval vessels as it is deep and there is plenty of room for ships without in any way interfering with commercial shipping.

Things Of Interest On Every Hand.

There are interesting things to be seen everywhere. It is impossible to take a walk or to visit anywhere without seeing something new and interesting. There are always pleasant things to see if we are in the right attitude of mind. They may not be jazzy or spectacular but they are full of interest to those who are students and who are looking for the best in everything.

While some people find it difficult to find sermons in stones and good in everything, there are others who would find great interest even in a prison cell.

A Girl of the Limberlost

Story of the play that is to be shown here mid week is a most fascinating one

Elinor Comstock was a child of hate. Born on the night her father met a tragic death in a quicksand pool in Limberlost swamp, close to the Comstock farm, Elinora grows up without mother love. For Kate Comstock's whole heart had been her husband's, and for sixteen years she has clung to the belief that had it not been for the baby's coming, she might have been strong enough to have saved Robert Comstock. So Elinora, unable to find companionship and love at home, seeks it among the woods and the swamp.

Entering high school, in spite of vigorous parental objections, her simplicity and genuineness, appeal to Philip Ammon, a senior, as in sharp contrast to the selfish snobbishness of Edith Carr, to whom he is engaged largely through an association which began in their childhood. Edith Carr is the daughter of a wealthy oil operator, pampered and accustomed to adulation and her own way. She bitterly resents Phil's interest in Elinora's struggle for an education in the face of poverty and parental wrath.

When it seems as though Elinora must abandon her efforts to get an education which would make her independent of her cruel mother, a chance comes to earn some needed funds. Wesley Sinton and his wife, neighbors who had tried in a small way to make up for the love Elinora never found at home, interest the Bird Woman, a professional naturalist, in Elinora. The Bird Woman teaches the girl how to collect and preserve valuable moths, and how to market them for other collectors.

As graduation time nears, Elinora needs only one moth to complete a collection worth several hundred dollars. With this money she hopes to enter college. Coming in from the woods, she discovers her mother unknowingly striking at the very moth she needs, which has climbed up the screen door. In the moment of excitement she commands her mother sharply to stop. Learning that she has the power of crushing the girl's hope of going to college, Kate Comstock deliberately crushes the moth before Elinora's eyes. The tragedy fans to flame the smouldering rebellion in Elinora's breast. She denounces her mother, and then flees hysterically to her refuge in the woods.

Mrs. Sinton, who witnesses this dramatic scene, concludes it is time to bring Kate Comstock to her senses. Whipping out her secret, from which she has shielded Mrs. Comstock for many years, like the snap of a rawhide whip, she stuns the woman with the announcement that Robert Comstock was a cheat! Kate Comstock prepares to kill Mrs. Sinton, but the little neighbor, thoroughly aroused, presents her irrefutable proofs. The man had been illicitly courting Elvira Carney, a neighbor. He was sneaking home from there the night he lost his way and got caught in the quicksands!

The revelation is heart-breaking to the woman who has cherished her husband's memory all these years. But Kate Comstock has always been methodical. Methodically, she disposes of what is left of Elvira Carney, and proceeded with all her energy to devote herself to Elinora, and making up for the twenty years of tragic neglect.

Meanwhile, during Philip Ammon's absence at college, Edith Carr has imperiously commanded the company of Hart Henderson, a young and successful business man, to keep her amused. However, Hart is only a diversion, and when Philip Ammon comes home from college their engagement is formally announced, in spite of constantly widening differences of interests between the two.

At the commencement ball, Philip Ammon rushes to the assistance of Elinora when the very moth she needs so badly floats into the ballroom. When he has succeeded in capturing the coveted moth for Elinora, he returns to Edith to tell her how much it will help the girl. She flings his engagement ring at his feet, ridicules him and tosses his love aside before the crowd of dancers. Her selfish superficiality revealed to him, Phil accepts her rejection and leaves the room. Nonchalantly, she beckons Hart Henderson to dance with her.

Edith's mother hurried the

"The four characters about which the story of "Married Flirts" revolves puts an entirely new light on a plot of this sort, and gives a twist to the picture that makes it absolutely unique.

Story of Loves
Nelly Wayne, known under the pen name of Mrs. Paramor, is trying to combine a writing career with that of married life, and in neither is she any too successful. In her quest for fame she has neglected her husband, Pendleton Wayne, a well-known lawyer of forty, and has not attempted to appear attractive in his eyes.

As a result he becomes irritated with Jill Wetherell, young and beautiful, who has been enjoying what is to her, only a flirtation. When Nelly discovers Pendleton kissing Jill at a social function at the Tanglewood Club, she begs Jill to release her husband, but the girl defies her, saying "...a woman who can't hold her husband doesn't deserve to have him."

SHOWS HOW MANICURIST PLAYS WITH FINGERS OF THOSE SHE CAPTIVATES

"Tarnish" is Week End Picture Showing Past and Present and Indicating Future

Although the pivotal situation in the George Fitzmaurice production, "Tarnish," the Broadway stage success sponsored by Samuel Goldwyn, through First National Pictures, reveals a depressing but all too true phase of young men and women, the subject has been treated with a skill that defies description. "Tarnish" will be shown here at the week end.

Briefly the photodrama lays bare the past of a young man who is on the verge of matrimony. It tells a story of genuine vitality, realistic, convincing, of the tragedy that threatens young love when the past intrudes upon the blissful present. In the mesh of the revelation is caught a young designing manicurist, a sweet innocent girl and a serious, romantic youth.

Upon this premise the success of the stage play, "Tarnish," has been built, and it has astounded and entertained thousands of theatregoers. There is also some stirring domestic by-play furnished by the manicurist, who not only provides the hero with a past, but also engages in philandering with the heroine's foolish father.

Mothers Treat Colds The New "Direct" Way

No Longer Necessary to "Dose" Children With Internal Medicines to Break Colds.

Children's digestions are easily upset by too much "dosing." Vicks VapoRub being externally applied, does not upset little stomachs.

At the first sign of croup, sore throat, or any other cold trouble, apply Vicks freely. There is nothing to swallow—you just "rub it on."

A MARTYR TO CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" brought early relief

"I first heard of 'Fruit-a-tives' through a friend of mine living in St. Johnsbury, and as I was troubled with very high Blood Pressure and Constipation, I decided to try the fruit treatment. The result is that I am feeling very much better, and I am glad to recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to anyone." Mrs. C. W. Thompson, Lyndonville, Vermont.

All your physical and mental energy is drawn from your blood stream. If the bowels and kidneys do not function properly, poison enters the blood-stream, and the heart, brain and nerves are all affected. "Fruit-a-tives" clear the system of all waste matter, purify the blood and tone up the whole system. They are made from the intensified juices of luscious healthful fruits combined with tonics. Sold everywhere 25c & 50c.

Date of arrival on this coast of the new C.N.R. coasting steamer Prince Charles is now set for April 10, according to unofficial word that has been received locally. The Prince Charles, on arrival, will relieve the Prince John in the Queen Charlotte Island run and later in the season will ply between Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Stewart and Anyox.

Northbound from Vancouver to southeastern Alaska, C. P. R. Steamer Princess Mary, Capt. C. C. Saintey, is due in port this afternoon. The following passengers are booked to sail for the north on the steamer: for Ketchikan, Nels Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Patton and C. Barlow; for Skagway, T. Williamson; for Juneau, B. Olsen and A. N. Peterson.

Promenade room on the decks of the C.N.R. steamers Prince Rupert and Prince George has been considerably added to in the course of the annual overhaul this winter by the removal of the winch and boom aft of the officers' quarters on the hurricane-deck and the sky light over the music room aft of the first class smoking room on the awning deck. The former change will make room for passengers' chairs in a well sheltered position and the latter will permit of a large deck dancing space.

In conjunction with the further loan of $3,000,000 for colonization to be authorized by the Quebec legislature this season, it is also intended to raise the bounty to settlers on the acreage cleared. At present the government gives a bonus of $6 an acre. It will be raised to $8 an acre. The province spent $30,000 in this way in the last fiscal year.

The amount of butter exported to Japan through Vancouver during 1924 was nearly twice that of 1923, according to figures supplied by the Japanese consulate at that point. The report shows that in 1924 the quantity was 476,454 pounds, as compared with only 299,695 pounds in 1923. Total cheese shipments to the same destination last year amounted to 2,685 pounds, as against only 40 in 1923.

A recent analysis of immigration according to occupation of immigrants arriving in Canada since 1920 shows a steady increase in the ratio of agriculturists and domestics towards all others. In 1921 the figure was 35 per cent. It was 44 per cent for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1922, 47 per cent for the fiscal year 1923-24 and 51 per cent for the nine months April to December, 1924.

One of the outstanding features of the Grain Commission Board's report for the season 1922-23, was the tribute paid to the excellent service rendered by the Canadian Pacific Railway in handling the western crop. Though the company handled 105,000 cars of grain, it received only six complaints about lack of cars from the railway and commission combined. In 1923-24, with an even larger number handled, there were only eight complaints.

Orchestras from the Canadian Pacific steamships "Empress of France" and "Empress of Scotland", when they arrived recently at New York and before sailing on their round the world and Mediterranean cruises which the company starts annually from that port broadcasted through WJZ a forty-five minute programme of selected Scots, English, Welsh, Irish and Canadian airs, while the "Montroyal", on her return from the company's cruise to the West Indies, broadcasted British and Spanish music through WJY of New York.

Information furnished by J. Frank Callbreath, packing contractor and general merchant, shows that during the 1924 hunting season, parties secured 12 moose, 25 caribou, 26 goat, 31 sheep, 15 black bear and 11 grizzlies in the Telegraph Creek district of British Columbia. Of the caribou, the largest, shot by J. J. Sartori, of Brooklyn, N.Y., has a spread of 47 inches, is 39 1/2 inches long and has 27 points. The largest sheep horns were 4 1/2 inches long, with a spread of 31 inches, and were secured by A. D. Stewart, of New York.

The third annual Eastern International Dog Sled Derby, run off at Quebec on February 19, 20 and 21, was a tremendous success. Twenty-two mushers and their teams from many parts of Canada and the United States competed over the 120-mile course, the race being won by Emile St. Goddard, of Le Pas, Man., who also won this year's derby at that place. The last day's lap was run through a blinding snowstorm, which gave the thousands of sports visitors from Canada and the United States who witnessed it, a vivid impression of normal conditions experienced by these outfits.

Alberta Paper Argues that Coal is of Only Ordinary Quality

(Edmonton Journal). Apparently Government officials, Parliament and the public have been setting an exaggerated value on the coal deposits in what has come to be known as the Hoppe area. This tract, lying in the foothills of the Rockies along the Smoky River and Sheep Creek, about mid-way between the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific and Grande Prairie, has been supposed to contain a larger deposit of anthracite coal than the State of Pennsylvania.

Geologist Report
 A Government geologist, after making an investigation of the district, says there is no anthracite there at all. There are, of course, immense coal deposits but of other grades. One seam is said to be semi-anthracite, the others to vary from a high quality of steam coal to the varieties popularly known here as the "domestic" coal. Valuable as these will be for future use, and as growing demand warrants their exploitation, the announcement that there is no anthracite in the region will have to be accepted as exploding a supposition upon which there were built very large hopes of early development.

Another declaration by the same investigator is also of great importance, he says the configuration of the country forbids the construction of a railway south of Grande Prairie to the Grand Trunk which would serve the double purpose of providing an outlet for Peace River grain and an outlet for coal from the Hoppe area. The latter, he says, will have to be tapped by lines built in from the eastward, not from the north or south.

Forget It
 There have been hopes that a line could be located which would give the required outlet for Peace River products and also provide shipping facilities for anthracite from the Hoppe tract. As there is no anthracite there, and as a dual-purpose line could not be built if there were anthracite there, the problem immediately of interest is resolved into one of providing the most efficient outlet for the Peace River crops, "forgetting" the Hoppe area for the time being.

SIXTY PER CENT OF CREDIT SOCIETIES ON PRAIRIES GO BROKE

(Edmonton Bulletin) Six more of Manitoba's rural credit societies have gone "broke." That is what it amounts to, though the polite phraseology employed says they have been "placed in the hands of the provincial supervisor of rural credits as administrator." If they were private concerns it would simply be said that they were bankrupt. Out of 74 of these societies in the Province, 44 of them are now in that position, with liabilities totalling a million and three-quarters.

At a time when the privately-owned banks are being subjected to a deal of criticism, because one of them went to the wall through mismanagement, it is informing to note that these credit societies in Manitoba have established a record for failures which stands altogether by itself. These institutions are publicly-owned and operated in any kind of a concern comes under that category. But they have the banks beaten to a frazzle when it comes to collapsing. Sixty per cent. of the banks in Canada have not gone broke, nor any percentage comparable to that. The theory that the public know how to run a financial institution better than financiers know is correspondingly put at a discount.

SMITHERS MAN IS MARRIED IN SOUTH

Miss Edith Frances Buss Becomes Bride of Major Reginald L. Gale

An interesting wedding took place in Saanich on Saturday, March 7, when Miss Edith Frances Buss, youngest daughter of the late Edward Buss and Mrs. Buss, Mount Newton Cross Road, became the bride of Major Reginald L. Gale, M.C., son of the late Mr. Charles Francis Gale, of Cheltenham, England. The ceremony was performed at St. Stephen's Church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Henry Buss, was beautifully gowned in liberty satin made on long straight lines, with real lace; a tulle veil worn with a fillet of orange blossoms and silver leaves, and an arm bouquet of red roses completed a most charming toilette. Mrs. William Paterson, matron of honor, was gowned in a most becoming ensemble suit of blue poplin with grey hat en suite. Her bouquet was of pink roses, carnations and maidenhair ferns. Little Miss Nancy Paterson made a most bewitching flower girl dressed in a frock of white silk and a mob cap of tulle with tiny flowers. She carried a bouquet of daffodils and carnations. The groomsmen were C. R. M. Gale, brother of the groom. For traveling Mrs. Gale wore a dark blue costume with cloche hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale will spend their honeymoon in Tacoma and California after which they will proceed to Smithers where they will reside. Major Gale is engaged in the brokerage business in the interior town.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

March 16, 1915

The provincial government has now granted the city's record on Warke Channel power rights. This announcement was made to the city council last night by Mayor Newton following the return from Victoria of William Manson, M.P.P.

A committee from the hospital board consisting of O. H. Nelson, George W. Morrow, Harry Hoffman, Len Bell and D. G. Stewart appeared before the city council last night with the request that a grant of $10,000 be made to the hospital. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

The Mayor and Ald. Morrissey at last night's meeting of the city council presented a full report on their recent financial mission to Montreal.

It is said that, as one result of the fishery concessions recently granted, part at least of the Seattle halibut fishing fleet will be moved to Prince Rupert. In some quarters it is expected that fully thirty boats will be here by the end of April.

The Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company announce that a large supply of herring arrived at the week end and they are well satisfied with the catch so far this season. The supply of bait promises to be a good one.
