KILLING OF FOREIGNERS URGED BY CHINESE LABOR MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT WOULD ABOLISH OFFICE OF GOVERNOR

Labor Members ask for Abolition Governorship Order to Save Expense

OTTAWA, June 16.—Abolition of the post of Governor-General of Canada was recommended by J. S. Woodsworth, senior Labor member of the House of Commons last night, when a vote for the expenses of maintaining Rideau Hall was before the House. Both Labor members, J. S. Woodsworth and William Irvine of Calgary urged that in the interests of democracy and economy the post might very well be dispensed with.

Both members disclaimed any intention of disparaging the present or any incumbent of the post. Mr. Woodsworth said it was only now that Baron Byng had made it clear that he would not remain in Canada that he felt justified in recommending that such an executive officer as the Chief Justice of Canada, who is at present deputy of the Governor-General, should discharge the duties of the office and save the expenses of the Governor-Generalship proper. These expenses he estimated at $500,000 yearly.

Hon. George P. Graham, who was leading the House, said that Lord Byng had proved himself a man of the people "a real man and a democrat. So long as the Imperial government sent to Rideau Hall such men as Baron Byng, Mr. Graham said he felt that Canada benefitted by the present system in appointing governors.

H. H. Stevens, who was leading the opposition, concurred and the item carried without further opposition.

EDMONTON ELEVATOR
HANDLED 3,000,000
BUSHELS IN SEASON

Much of Grain Should Come
Through Prince Rupert This Year

EDMONTON, June 16.—Over 3,000,000 bushels of grain was handled by the new elevator, built here by the Dominion Government last year and opened for business in the autumn. This was only a little less than was handled at Calgary and more than passed through the elevators at Moose Jaw or Saskatoon.

It is expected that there will be an increased flow of grain through this city during the coming season and a proportion of it should go out through Prince Rupert.

Archdeacon G. A. Rix returned on the Cardena this morning from a trip to Stewart and Kinloch and other Naas River points.

Engineer Mine Success has Given Impetus to Mining in Atlin and Hydraulic Work is Recommencing

(Special to Daily News)
ATLIN, June 16.—The mining situation in the Atlin district is looking far more promising than it has for years. The active development of the Engineer Mine is perhaps the one thing more than any other that has been responsible for the present condition. The same quality of high grade ore as was indicated in surface showings, and in the upper workings, has been found at the lower levels at the Engineer, and the stock of the company, which has a par value of $5.00 per share, is reported to have sold recently on the New York Exchange at $56.50. Work at the mine is now being carried on under the management of A. C. Brinker, a mining engineer of wide experience.

The same interests that are developing the Engineer Mine have taken an option on over two miles of placer ground covering the bed of Pine Creek from below the Canyon up to Discovery. A large amount of gold has been

AIRPLANE DUE HERE SHORTLY

Announcement Made in Vancouver Last Week That Lieut. MacLeod Would Come This Week

That Flight Lieutenant Earl MacLeod and a mechanic of the Royal Canadian Air Force would hop off from Jericho Beach this week for Prince Rupert to begin operations here for the fisheries department during the summer was the announcement made in Vancouver last week by Squadron Leader J. H. Tudhope, officer in command at Jericho Beach. The earlier start for Prince Rupert this year is in order to make a number of flights for Fisheries Commissioner J. P. Babcock, who wishes to inspect the halibut banks it was stated. Flying Officer A. H. Hull is to leave Vancouver for Prince Rupert next month. Both machines will again be engaged in patrol work during the salmon fishing season.

ADMIRAL SEBREE COMING TO DOCK

Big Pacific Coast Steamer Limping into Port Following Damage to Propeller

Having sustained damage to her propeller while northbound from Seattle to Alaska points, the Pacific Alaska Navigation Co.'s steamer Admiral Sebree is due to arrive here tonight or tomorrow morning for docking according to advices received by the B. L. Johnson-Walton Co., Ltd., local agents for the line. No particulars were obtained as to the Sebree's plight other than what was contained in a wireless message making inquiries as to docking. The vessel has considerable cargo aboard and some of this will have to be unloaded at the lumber wharf before she can be docked.

The Admiral Sebree is a large vessel 242 feet long and of 2346 tons gross.

Looting and Burning Continues in Mining Districts Nova Scotia

SYDNEY, June 16.—Looting of stores and fires in two colliery towns are reported from New Aberdeen, Reserve, Bras D'Or and Florence, starting shortly after two o'clock this morning.

At New Aberdeen the bankhead screen of the unused Hub colliery was destroyed by fire and at Reserve fire destroyed the homes of two former employees of the corporation together with outbuildings and two old buildings. At Bras D'Or and at Florence retail stores of private individuals were broken open and goods taken.

Hon. James Murdoch, minister of labor, arrived at Sydney this morning to offer his services as mediator in what he termed a "too long drawn out struggle."

ELECTION POSSIBLE
BUT NOT VERY LIKELY

Much Will Depend on Attitude of Nova Scotia and the Canadian Senate

OTTAWA, June 16.—Ottawa parliamentarians are amused at the various attempts to make people believe that an election is imminent. While it is not at all an impossibility, it is not expected that an election will be held this year.

Should Nova Scotia return a strong Liberal delegation and Dominion by-elections indicate a proper confidence in the Mackenzie King government, there is a possibility that an election may be held directly after the harvest is completed. Much will depend on Nova Scotia and on the attitude of the Canadian Senate.

Many Killed and Injured when Train Leaves Track and Piles up Delaware Lackawanna Road

ROCKPORT, N.J., June 16.—At least sixteen people were killed and scores injured early this morning when the Delaware Lackawanna and Western train was wrecked during a severe electrical storm. Both the firemen and engineer were killed and seven of the ten cars left the tracks, the first coach piling up over the overturned locomotive, which blew up and filled the air with steam.

The roadbed was so badly torn up it was impossible to determine the cause of derailment. Of the passengers 185 were due to sail from Hoboken today for Europe.

Lest We Forget Our Water Powers.

We must not let the world forget our waterpowers, and we must not let the world forget that there is an abundant supply of potential power in this neighborhood that only needs to be harnessed in order to make this a wonderful industrial centre.

The largest of the nearby powers is that at Falls River at its junction with the Eestall. It has been recorded and the engineers state it is good for 27,000 horsepower continuously. Then there is the Khtada River with 17,500 horse power and Thulme River with 10,000 horsepower. Other powers are the Brown's River, Union Bay, and a number of smaller units. None of these are developed to any appreciable extent, although some money was spent at Falls River and Khtada River a few years ago.

Grave Danger In Oriental Situation.

The situation in China following the strike in Shanghai is a source of grave danger to the peace of the world. If as a result Japan is obliged to land an army in that country she will be a difficult country to dislodge.

China is a land of brigands. Not only are there the outlaws but also there is the brigandage of officialdom which stifles industry and holds the country back.

We read about the civilization of China and the progress she is making. Perhaps the unrest is a sign of progress. Yet the official brigandage continues. Let a person try to start up a factory or any other industry in the country and he soon finds out who the brigands are. The probability is that the strike at Shanghai was brought about because of the failure of the Japanese to pay the tolls for protection.

China has wonderful potentialities. She might have been great under Sun Yat Sen but the powerful interests of the country would not allow their powers to be interfered with. Dr. Sun was an idealist, perhaps, but he also had a good deal of political sense. The job was too big for him although for many years he held his own in the south.

What People Expect And What They Get.

There is usually a difference between what people expect in a city and what they get. Prince Rupert is not different from other places in this respect. Some people when they arrive expect to see a city as big as Vancouver and others expect to see nothing but a few shacks and muskeg and rocks. In either case they are disillusioned.

Prince Rupert is a small city making steady growth and with pretty fair streets in some sections, just as good as the average for a town of its size.

The other day a visitor was heard to remark: "However could they have built a city here? Why didn't they find a flat piece of land for the townsite?"

Within an hour another visitor said: "What I like about Prince Rupert is the townsite. It is one of the finest I have seen. I do not see how they could have picked one better suited for the purpose. It will always be healthy here because the drainage is so good and most of the houses will be built well up from sea level. It is not unlike Seattle in that respect, only Seattle streets are steeper and the hill on which the homes are built is higher."

Then there is the weather. Everybody discusses it and most people are surprised to find that it does not rain every minute of the year, that people do not develop webbed feet and that summer hats are sometimes worn. A good many American tourists are quite disappointed not to find icebergs here.

THE SEA HAWK TO BE SHOWN

Book Was One of Best Sellers
For Several Years Before It Was Filmed

"The Sea Hawk," for five years one of the best sellers on the popular fiction shelf, and dealing with the colorful adventures of English knights and sweethearts and Barbary corsairs, has required a gigantic background for its many vivid scenes.

Four gigantic sea going vessels of the Sixteenth Century, exact in every detail and manned by over a thousand sailors, corsairs, galley slaves and officers, participate in much of the action, several naval battles, during which ships ram into each other head on, then lash themselves together, while their crews engage in hand to hand combat, are said to be but a few of the unique and highly exciting scenes of the production.

Having to do with the life of Sir Oliver Tressilian as a Spanish prisoner at the oars of the galleon, his escape and final elevation to the command of a Moorish galley and all of the hashas' corsairs, "The Sea Hawk" reveals many bits of historical facts never visualized before, and there is said to be many thrills and heart throbs in the episodes depicting the struggles of the late English knight to convince his sweetheart of his innocence of the murder of her brother, and to regain his lost standing among his countrymen, and in the favor of Asad, ruler of Algiers.

The sea scenes are said to be the most unique and the biggest in physical action, although they do not overshadow the gorgeousness of the early English scenes and the quaint Oriental beauty of the Algerian sequences. More than $85,000 in costumes were designed and executed for the members of "The Sea Hawk" cast that the details of early fashion might not be neglected. The picture will be shown here at the week-end.

The fire destroyed only the main building and its contents. The dance pavilion, boathouse, swimming accommodation and ice house were untouched by the flames and will be operated as in past seasons. The building was fully covered by insurance and will be rebuilt at once.

CHURCH UNION AT TERRACE

Rev. G. G. Hacker Returns from Inaugural Event; Anglicans
Joined in Services

Rev. G. G. Hacker, pastor of the United Church of Canada in Prince Rupert, returned yesterday from Terrace where he went to conduct the inaugural services in connection with Church Union. The Anglican Church closed its services for the day and the members of the congregation joined in large numbers with the United Church. Rev. T. J. Marsh was present at both services and gave a very able address of welcome and conveyed the good wishes of the Anglican connection to new church. He welcomed the spirit of union and said he hoped to see the day when Anglican and other churches would join the United Church, making one strong spiritual Protestant church.

Rev. Harvey Young of Terrace was present at the evening service and led in the prayer and penitence service.

Mr. Hacker said he was much impressed with the fraternal spirit shown in Terrace. The Sunday school is a union of Anglican and United churches and renders much more efficient service than could two or three smaller denominational schools.

Mrs. Marsh and Miss Griffiths are in charge of the primary scholars, using the Anglican church building and Mr. Marsh and Mr. Parsons with a staff of teachers look after the intermediate classes in the United Church building. The teaching is of a very high order.

The change of pastors with Prince Rupert was greatly appreciated by the Terrace people and Mr. Hacker had numerous invitations to visit Terrace again. He was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Sundall and visits were also made to the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Marsh.

Mr. Hacker is enthusiastic over the scenery and the productive fruit and farm lands of the district and was much impressed with the artistic and substantial appearance of the new bridge recently built by the WINNIPEG, June 16.—In connection with the fire which totally destroyed Minaki Inn Thursday night the management of the Canadian National Railways announced today that preparations have already been commenced to accommodate guests at the lodge at Minaki, which was not destroyed by the fire. The lodge was originally used for the accommodation of winter guests and is one of the most substantial of the buildings standing at Minaki. It is complete in itself and will provide as comfortable accommodation for guests as was obtainable at the inn.

The fire destroyed only the main building and its contents. The dance pavilion, boathouse, swimming accommodation and ice house were untouched by the flames and will be operated as in past seasons. The building was fully covered by insurance and will be rebuilt at once.

THE way to get rid of a grievance is to talk it out.

I WISH I were a moron

I wish I were a jelly fish,

VETERANS BEAT COLD STORAGE

Two to One Victory Last Night Takes Them Into Dominion Day Cup Final

The Great War Veterans were lucky to win last night's soccer game from the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. by a score of 2 to 1 and thus enter into the final for the Dominion Day cup. The match, which attracted a good-sized crowd to the Acropolis Hill, despite the rather uncertain weather conditions, was keenly contested and rather well played all the way. The merits of the two teams seemed to be about on a par and the Cold Storage should have been entitled to at least a draw. It was only due to mistakes by the Seal Cove defense, that the Vets, within the last fifteen minutes of the game, scored the two goals that gave them victory.

Playing up hill, the Cold Storage scored its one and only goal in the first half when Bye successfully negotiated a penalty shot. Norwood, in the second half, scored both goals for the Vets as a result of good forcing work by W. Murray.

J. Corbett, right half, injured his side and the Cold Storage played the second half with one man short. This undoubtedly worked to the disadvantage of the losing side. Throughout the game, both forward lines missed good scoring chances.

In the second half there were one or two incidents savoring of hostility which should not be permitted on a football field. George Waugh was referee, W. McGee and A. Clapperton were linesmen and the teams took the field as follows:

Cold Storage—A. Murray; C. Whatman and S. Darton; J. Corbett, J. Sims and R. Matheson; J. Torney, M. M. Lamb, H. Carlson, E. Bye and Fred Hardy.

Great War Veterans—S. Gathorn; S. Erskine and W. Barton; George Findlay, W. Murray and A. Roy; A. Middleton, F. Russell, H. Norwood, Bert Long and Dido Gurvich.

Sport Chat

Weather permitting, the Gyro Club and Sawmill will meet again this evening in a Senior League baseball fixture. These two teams, in their first meeting of the season the week before last, played close baseball, the Sawmill just edging out with victory. Tonight the Gyros have blood in their eyes and will be out for revenge. They also want to get away from the goose egg mark on the standing sheet. If they do win, it will be the Sawmill for the cellar for the time being at least. Everything seems to conspire to make tonight's game an attractive one which should draw quite a crowd of fans up to the Acropolis Hill grounds.

The Sons of Canada have plans well in hand for the celebration they will stage in the city on Dominion Day. The feature of the day will be baseball games between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan—one in the afternoon and one in the evening. There will be children's sports in the morning with the usual distribution of flags and candy. There will also be a Junior League football game in the morning and another feature of the day will be the final in the Dominion Day Cup soccer ties between the winners of the preliminaries which are taking place this week. The festivities of the day will be brought to conclusion

HEART WAS WEAK NERVES ALL GONE

Mrs. J. H. Hallenbeck, 117½ Welland Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—"I was in a gas explosion; it left me with a weak heart, and my nerves were all gone. I suffered everything; couldn't sleep, endure any excitement, and when left alone I felt as if I could scream. I took dizzy spells, often falling and bruising myself. My mother read about your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and bought me a box, but having taken so many different kinds of medicine it just seemed that I did not have any confidence in any of them. I took one box of H. & N. Pills, and felt so much better I continued with them until I had used five boxes, and after I had taken them I did not need any more. I cannot praise, or recommend, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills too highly after all they have done for me."

British Review, The Spectator, Discusses Future of Canada and Urges Closer Imperial Relations

Following the lead of other British newspapers and periodicals the Spectator discusses in a recent issue the future of Canada. The article is reprinted in the World Wide of Montreal as follows:

In a visit to Canada I found that not a few Canadians believe that though the country has not yet arrived at the parting of the ways it will arrive there soon. Three roads—all different from the one Canada is now travelling—appear to be open to her. These are (1) Independence, (2) Annexation to the United States, and (3) Secession of the Western Provinces and the establishment of a new Dominion between the Great Lakes and the Pacific Coast.

In Great Britain these questions are, of course, but little understood. Canada is still regarded by the bulk of the British people as a colony, as a part of the Empire that could not take important steps along any of the roads indicated without the consent of the Mother Country, which might be withheld almost as easily as granted. But in Canada they smile at such a conception of their country's position. They know perfectly well that if they wanted to be independent, or to join the United States, they would only have to say so. However distasteful it might be the breaking of the bonds with Britain would not be challenged here.

Taking these possible roads in the order named, one might say of independence that it is one of the things which always appeals to a nation small in numbers. Every nation hopes at some time to be independent. It is a natural hope, and is cherished more or less by every nation under the sun. The fact that Canada is practically independent does not wholly satisfy some of her people. The theoretical and practical combined—absolute independence—strikes them as the most desirable future for the Dominion. Just how many people take that view no one knows, as there is yet no organized Independence Party.

The cause of annexation to the United States, if one may judge by the opinions expressed, has more adherents than independence. However alluring the prospect of being "on one's own," the inevitable difficulties are a strong deterrent. Annexation, on the other hand, makes a material appeal. Canadians are apt to look across the border at the amazing prosperity of their neighbours and to agree that Canada would also be flowing with milk and honey if she joined forces with the Republic. It is also true that enormous numbers have gone from Canada to live in the United States since Confederation, and these people, and their descendants, are constantly blowing the American trumpet so loudly that many Canadians believe in their hearts that annexation offers the best possible future.

The Canadian Premier assures us that, despite this feeling, annexation sentiment is too feeble and scattered to be of any account at present. It is the fear, however, that the sentiment may grow rapidly within the next quarter of a century that disturbs the minds of Canada's patriots. They, of course, believe that it would be uttermost folly to leave the Empire.

With regard to secession there is unquestionably a threat to take the Western Provinces out of the Confederation, unless the Canadian tariff is altered, to suit the agricultural interests of the West. The other day the Grain Growers' Association of Saskatchewan declared that it must be a lower tariff or a break-up of the Dominion. That seems to be pointing the pistol in real earnest. But the "stand-and-deliver" policy of the Western farmers is not apparently

SWISS GUIDES JASPER PARK

Alpine Club to Again Climb Mount Robson While Some are Climbing Logan

WINNIPEG, June 16.—Two Swiss guides who will be stationed at Jasper Park Lodge, Alberta, this summer to give assistance to Alpinists who will attempt to scale some of the unclimbed peaks in the Jasper National Park and contiguous sections of the Rockies, arrived here from Montreal last night enroute to Jasper. One of them, Hans Kohler, was located at Jasper last year but the second, Heinrich Fuhrer, is making his first visit to this country.

Both guides have had much experience in mountain climbing in Europe, while Fuhrer has the added distinction of having been one of the chief guides employed by General Bruce during his ascent of some of the peaks in India prior to his attempt to conquer Mount Everest. Kohler on the other hand has the ad-disturbing the Canadian Government. There will be a general election this year in Canada, and the government feels that it may get more valuable support from the manufacturing and moneyed interests east of the Great Lakes than it would in the West by merely knocking a few bricks off the tariff wall.

Secession would, of course, be fatal to Canada. It would be the beginning of the end. The United States would absorb her piecemeal. The situation in the Western Provinces is therefore of peculiar interest. Will they hoist the flag of rebellion as Louis Riel did some forty years ago? If so there would be the same results as then. The East will not allow the West to smash the Confederation any more than Lincoln allowed the challenge of the Southern States to go unanswered. Canada has poured out money in an avalanche to unite the East with the West. The threatened secession of the West may be bluff, but it will be consummate folly if carried too far.

The political outlook in Canada will thus be seen to be highly speculative. Powerful forces—premeditated and unpremeditated—are at work for a union of the two great nations on the American continent. United States capital is not the least of these factors. Over £500,000,000 of American money is now invested in the Dominion, and it is expected that before 1925 is out another hundred million will be added. Pan-Americanism, too, is busy. Its elaborate organization in Washington seldom sleeps. It has no direct connexion with the American government, yet American politicians wink at the operations of the Pan-American Bureau within a stone's throw of the Capitol.

If annexation can be prevented, either in the comparatively near future or at a more remote period, it can only be through strengthening the ties which link Canada with this country. The most important of these ties are racial and financial. Canada is always clamoring for more British settlers. It is men even more than money that she wants. A quarter of a million British immigrants per annum for the next fifty years would make the Dominion so solidly British that annexation sentiment would have little chance to develop. If to that were added a more direct financial interest in Canada, the establishment of money branches of British firms over there, and greater co-operation generally in finance and industry, the bonds of Empire would be made stronger as the years pass.

Among those who will try to reach the top of some of the unclimbed peaks in the park are M. D. Geddes of Calgary, the first man to scale Mount Geikie and Mr. and Mrs. Don Mundy of Vancouver. Mrs. Mundy was the first woman to reach the top of Mount Robson.

vantage of experience in Alpine work in Canada. Among his accomplishments last year was the conquests of Mount Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies and of Mount Edith Cavell, a peak more than 11,000 feet high in Jasper National Park.

Although the main attention of the Alpine Club of Canada is directed this year to scaling Mount Logan, near the border of Alaska, members of this club will again camp at Mount Robson which they succeeded in climbing last year and Kohler and Fuhrer have been engaged to assist them in their work at that point this summer. Several other parties of well known Alpinists have organized attempts of some of the many unclimbed peaks in Jasper National Park and the services of the Canadian National Railways Swiss guides have been requisitioned for these attempts also.

The city council received letters last night from A. Johnston, deputy minister of marine and fisheries, respecting resolutions that were passed at a public meeting held in the city on April 30.

Regarding the resolution requesting the abrogation of the pelagic sealing treaty, the deputy minister stated that it was obvious the meeting did not have all the facts before it when this resolution was passed. The letter then proceeded to review the sealing situation before and since the treaty had come into effect and gave information which, it was said, if the meeting had had before it, the resolution referred to would not have been passed.

There was also a letter with respect to the request for an embargo on American halibut landed at Canadian Pacific ports. This letter said that the department was fully alive to the situation and was desirous of protecting the fishing industry of the Canadian ports. The request was being given serious consideration but there must be care against ill-advised action. Concluding, the letter stated that it had been felt that the question could best be adjusted by negotiation with the United States government and it was hoped that negotiations would be shortly undertaken.

Both communications were tabulated for one week and, in the meantime, will be open to access by the secretary of the meeting at which the resolutions referred to were passed.

CATERPILLARS STOP TRAIN NEAR REGINA

Covered Tracks so Half of Cars Had to be Left Behind

REGINA, June 16.—Myriads of tent caterpillars swarming across the Canadian Pacific railway track near Lemberg, Sask., halted traffic temporarily when the drive wheel of a freight train failed to function on the greasy rails. The train made several futile attempts to plow through the mass, but without success. Efforts to brush the caterpillars from the tracks with brooms were also abandoned as fruitless, when the creepers numbering millions continued to swarm across the rails.

The train which consisted of a locomotive and fifty empty boxcars finally succeeded in backing up to Lemberg and discharged half the cars. Then tearing down the track at high speed, the train was able to skid along the track and continue its journey. Reports from the train crew state that practically all the trees in the district have been denuded of foliage and that the whole country presents a forlorn and blighted appearance.

Several Car Loads Lumber Already on Ground There

While the Northern Construction Co. continues to make good progress on the substructure and wharf work at the elevator site, Carter-Halls-Alldinger Co., of Winnipeg, which has the contract for the elevator itself, is now getting its equipment on the ground and actual pouring of concrete into the side forms will soon commence. The prospect now is that the Northern Co. will be finished with the wharf by July 15 but Carter-Halls-Alldinger will have commenced actual work on the superstructure well before that time.

Yesterday five carloads of equipment including jacks, concrete mixers and donkey engine arrived from Edmonton for Carter-Halls. Besides this several carloads of rough lumber have been brought down to the site from the Prince Rupert Spruce

FRUIT GROWING ON NAAS RIVER

W. E. Collison, Indian agent, accompanied by W. B. Anderson, inspector of Indian orchards, and Archdeacon Rix, administrator of the diocese, have just completed a visit to the Naas River.

Mr. Anderson has been looking into the possibilities of fruit growing on the Naas River and he will report to the department. It is understood that as a result of the visit some experimental work will be done and the future development of the industry will depend on the care taken of the trees and the general success of the experiment. Conditions there look very favorable.

The party went in as far as Gitlakdamix, which is the head of navigation just above Aiyansh.

There was an exciting time passing through the canyon as the water was high and was rushing through very fast. In honor of the visitors a holiday was declared at the upper villages and sports held in the afternoon with a concert in the evening.

Objection to Proceeding in Case at Vancouver by A.-G. Department

VANCOUVER, June 16—Habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Wong Foon Sing were adjourned after a brief hearing this morning until this afternoon to allow counsel to consider the objection of W. D. Carter, deputy attorney general, that the procedure in question is not open to the accused and that habeas corpus only lies in cases where magistrate had no jurisdiction to conduct a preliminary hearing or where accused was committed for trial on an offense not known to the law.
