QUAKE ALMOST DESTROYS CALIFORNIA CITY

California and Central Montana
Shaken by Quakes; Alberta and Saskatchewan also had Shocks

Santa Barbara seems to have suffered worst, buildings there being destroyed and several lives lost

SANTA BARBARA, June 29, 2:15 p.m.—Ten million dollars worth of damage, twelve persons known to be dead, and the virtual destruction of most of the business section of State Street are the results of the big earthquake here this morning.

SASKATOON, June 29.—This city sustained a fairly heavy earthquake shock Saturday night. Buildings swayed but there were no casualties and no property was reported damaged.

LETHBRIDGE, June 29.—Southern Alberta was rocked slightly by an earthquake Saturday night but no damage is reported as a result.

HELENA, June 29.—Central Montana was buffeted by severe earthquake shocks Saturday evening. Scores of cities and towns in this section of the country recorded shocks while their residents, panic stricken, hastily vacated business houses, warehouses and homes.

Landslides caused by the shock took place at many points and blocked highways and railways but no loss if life occurred. Latest reports say that damage to property is estimated at half a million dollars.

Towns in Gallatin valley were the heaviest sufferers. Railway traffic there was blocked in several places by slides.

California Shaken

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Action to clean out the blind pigs of the city is being launched by the police commission and an effort to be made to get the liquor Santa Barbara, perched high above the Pacific Ocean, suffered disaster to an extent not yet determined in an earthquake which was general over Southern California at seven o'clock this morning, but apparently struck lightly in other towns.

Communication with Santa Barbara was immediately cut after the shocks but meagre reports filtering through said most of the buildings on State Street had been destroyed, one of them the famous Arlington Hotel.

There was no mention of loss of life. Two other hotels were reported destroyed.

An eye-witness returning to Ventura stated that Santa Barbara water mains burst, flooding the town, but no fires had started.

The quake was felt strongly in Los Angeles, Hollywood, and surrounding towns extending as far north as Bakersfield.

Later Reports

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The Southern Pacific Railroad reports 65 dead in Santa Barbara.

The Associated Oil Company has received private advices from Santa Barbara that "many large buildings have been leveled."

HELENA, June 29.—Montana points again today experienced quakes, but on a minor scale.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Direct communication with Santa Barbara was established late this morning. The first reports over the telephone showed the casualty list not so large as was at first feared.

SANTA BARBARA, June 29.—Four persons are known to have been killed and from 100 to 300 injured in the earthquake shock at 6:45 this morning, damaging practically all structures in the city and wrecking several of the largest buildings.

Buildings Destroyed.

The San Marcos building, the largest business structure in the city, completely collapsed along one third of its length. The Arlington Hotel and St. Francis Hospital were partially destroyed.

The first quake was followed by about 20 others of minor violence. The first shock which the survivors of the San Francisco

GRAVES WERE DECORATED

Members of I.O.D.E. Visited Cemetery Yesterday and Performed Simple Ceremony

A service of much interest took place yesterday at Fairview cemetery when members of the Adair Carss Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, together with members from other local chapters met to decorate the graves of deceased returned soldiers. The service was of a simple character, including the lowering of the flag, and the placing of wreaths on the various graves of the former soldiers.

The Queen Mary Chapter placed a beautiful wreath on the grave of Mrs. F. G. Dawson, who was a past regent of the Municipal Chapter, and also on the grave of Mrs. Chas. Youngman, who was a past vice-president of the same chapter.

The ceremony then concluded with the raising of the Union Jack and the singing of God Save the King.

About forty attended the ceremony, including many returned men.

COLONEL STEESE HERE.

Going To Hyder To Investigate Matter of Improving That Port.

Colonel James G. Steese, for the past five years president of the Alaska Road Commission and Division Engineer for Rivers and Harbors in Alaska, arrived in Prince Rupert today on the Prince Charles from his headquarters at Juneau, Alaska. He will continue this evening on the Prince Charles to Stewart, B.C., to hold public hearings on the improvement of Hyder Harbor.

He then moved quietly among the crowd greeting each and every one with a hearty handshake. Here and there he noticed those wearing service buttons, and paused in each instance to chat concerning events which were common to both. He inquired concerning the G.W.V.A. and was soon proceeding to their headquarters accompanied by a few old comrades, where scenes of former days were recalled to mind in the presence of former associates.

This was the first trip of the Governor General to the various points on the C.N.R. between Edmonton and Prince Rupert, and the different points en route accorded him a hearty reception. Prince George, Hazelton, Smithers, and other points gave considerable time to decoration and the royal party was accorded a welcome which would do credit to larger centres.

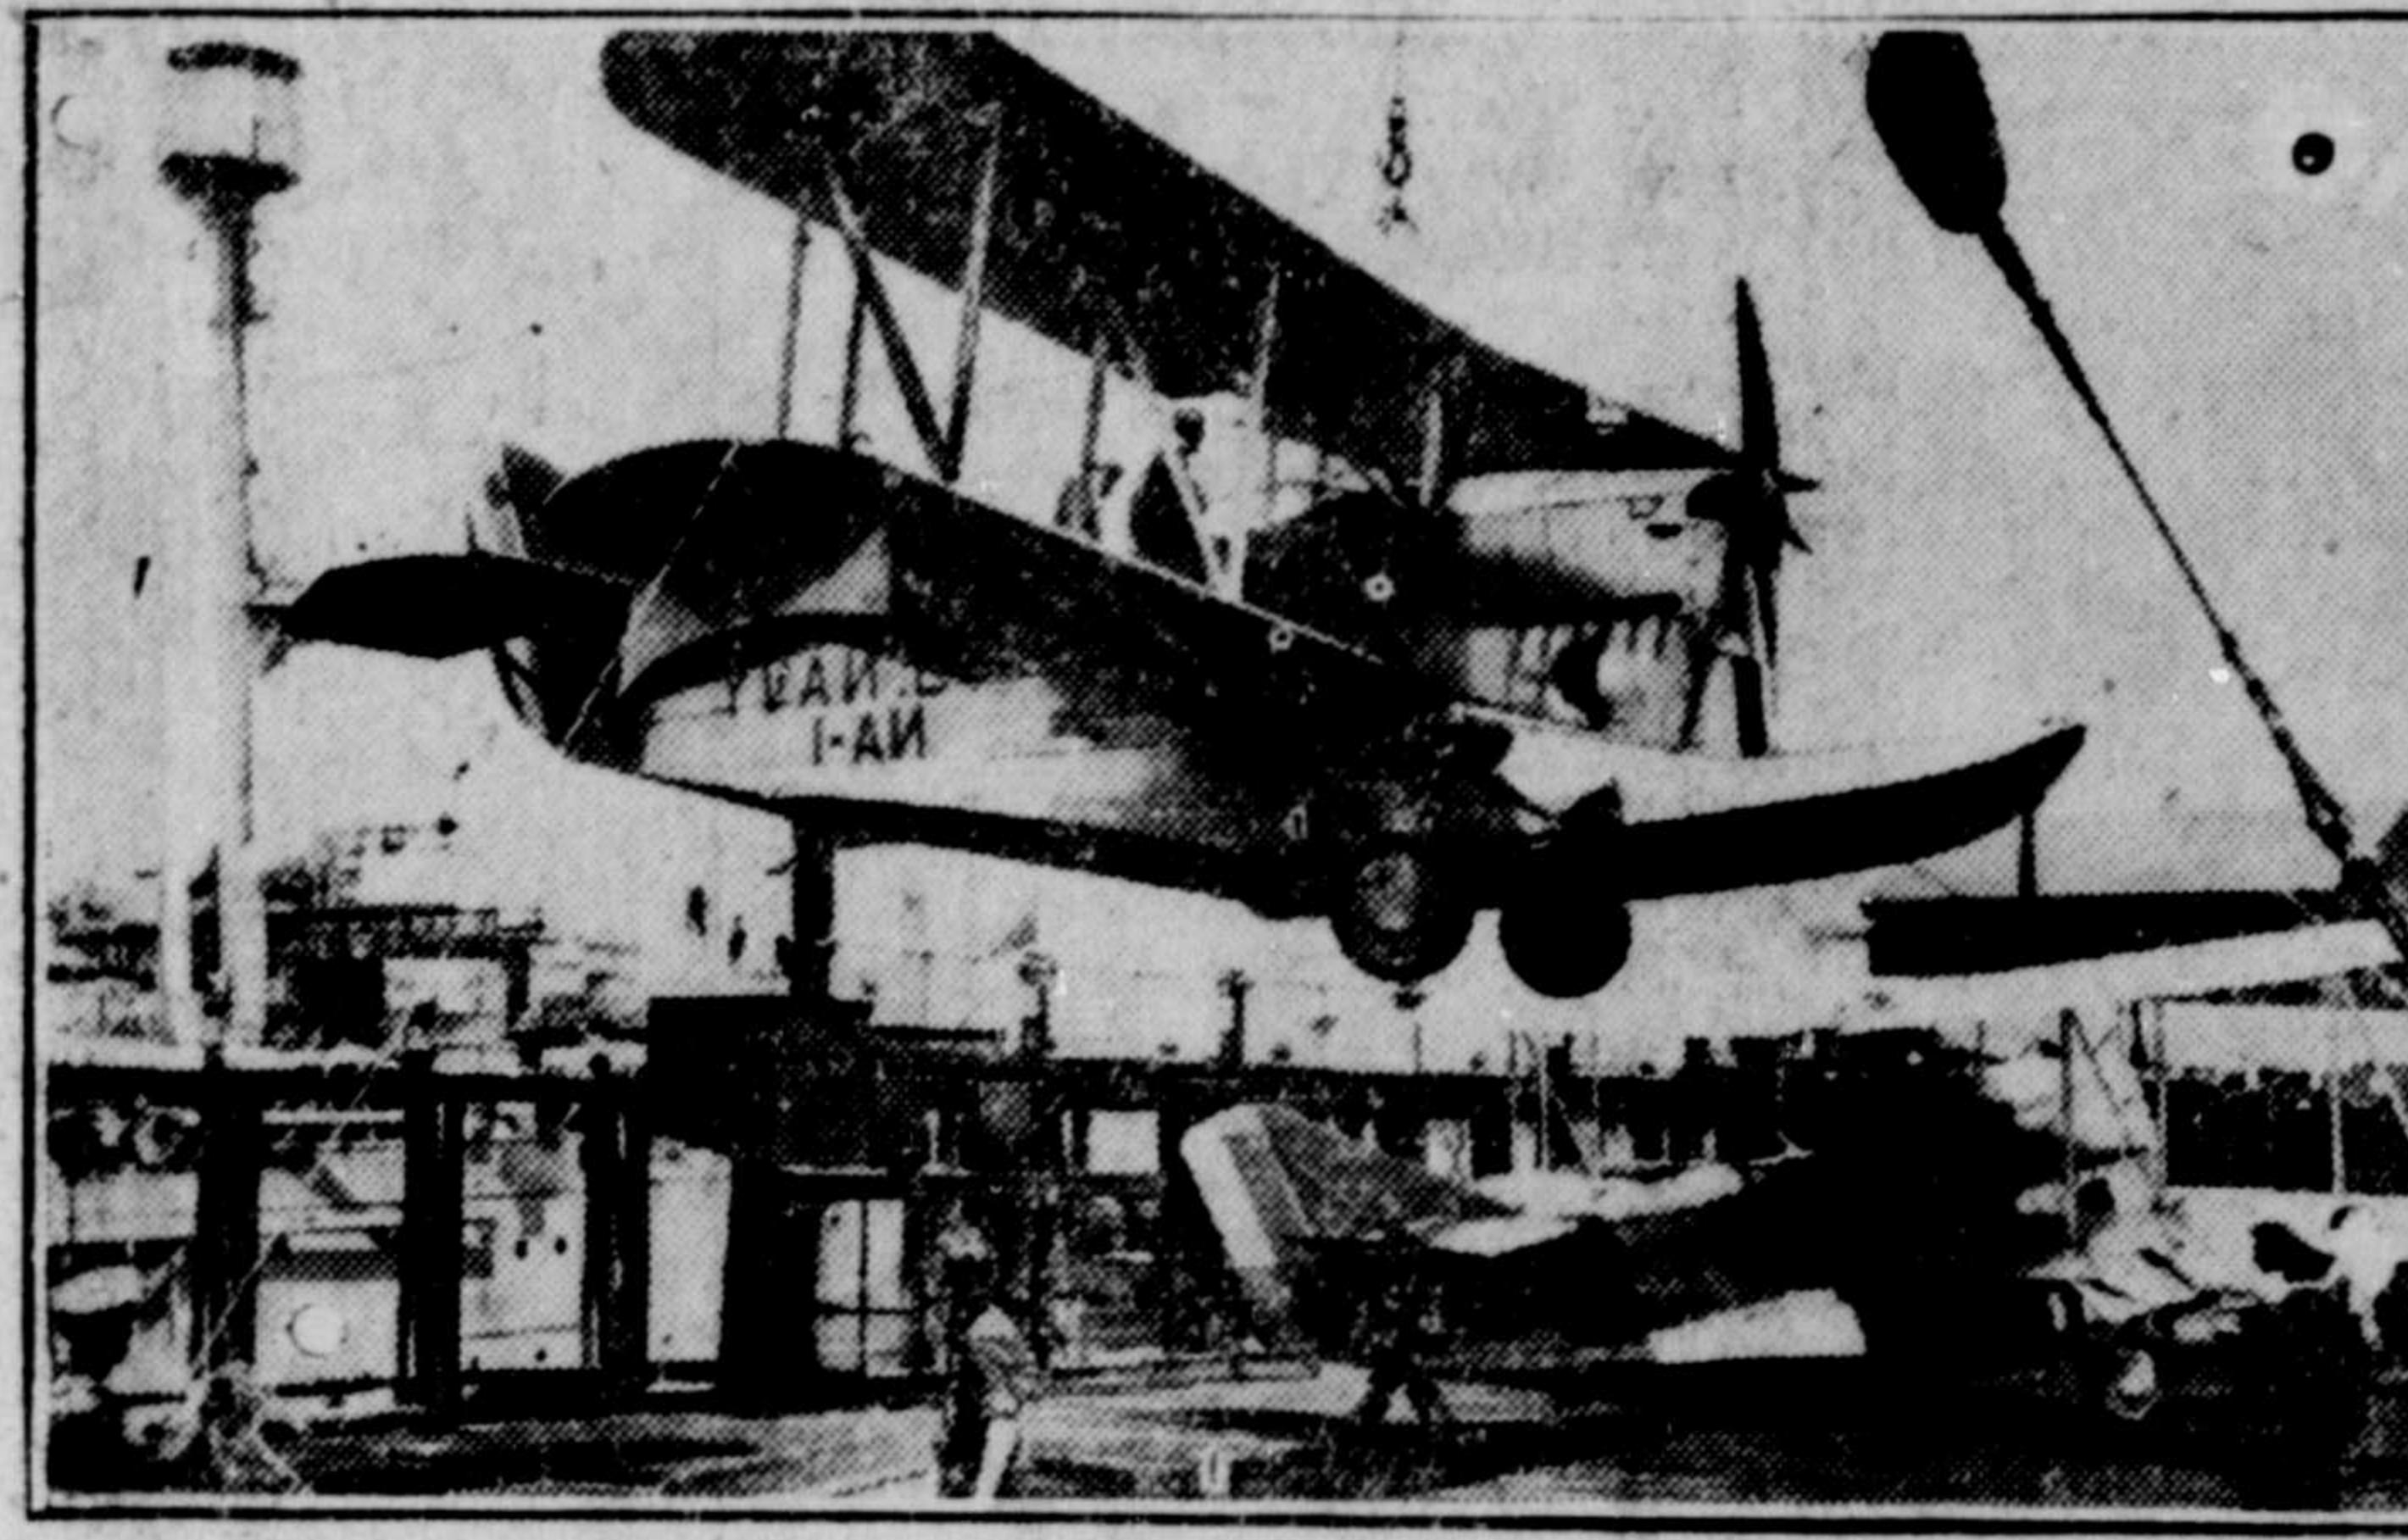

When asked to give his impressions of the country through which he had passed the Governor used only two words to cover the whole subject—"Wonderful country." Later when chatting about things in general, he said, "You have a wonderful country adjacent to you," and from the manner in which the remark was passed it was evident that Northern and Central B.C. had in no sense failed to deeply impress this distinguished visitor.

The party sailed by the S.S. Prince George for Vancouver to continue the tour of B.C. points after which they will return east.

GOVERNOR AND LADY BYNG IN CITY SATURDAY

Informally Met by Mayor Newton and Member For This Constituency

VISITED G.W.V.A. ROOMS

Quietly at four o'clock on Saturday the special train bearing the Governor General and party pulled into the C.N.R. station. This was the second trip to Prince Rupert for Lord Byng, and his express wish conveyed to the city fathers, that he was coming informally, was probably responsible for the small gathering to greet him.

He promptly alighted from the train, followed by Lady Byng, and was greeted by Mayor Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stork. He then moved quietly among the crowd greeting each and every one with a hearty handshake. Here and there he noticed those wearing service buttons, and paused in each instance to chat concerning events which were common to both. He inquired concerning the G.W.V.A. and was soon proceeding to their headquarters accompanied by a few old comrades, where scenes of former days were recalled to mind in the presence of former associates.

Future World Peace Lies with French, U.S. and British Peoples

So says Field Marshal Haig in replying to address of welcome at Ottawa

OTTAWA, June 29.—Americans and Britshers from all parts of the world have buried their dead in cemeteries of France along with memories of old mistakes. In the hands of France, of the United States and of British peoples rest today the future peace and happiness of all countries. Thus Field Marshal Earl Haig in a speech in this city yesterday responded to the welcome of the Government of Canada and the City of Ottawa.

On his arrival here to preside over the meetings of the British Empire Service League of war veterans, the leader of the British forces in the war told the Canadian people that as ambassadors of the Empire on the American continent they had a part to play in the best interests of humanity no less important than the part they had taken in the war. "A link between the old world and the new, a bond between the English speaking people of the future along the lines of humanitarian principles and ideals which the United States and the British Empire had in common."

VANCOUVER, June 29.—Bringing three sea lion pups for the Stanley Park Zoo, the fishery patrol steamer Givensby returned home at the week end from a month's sea lion hunt during which they report the killing of 2827 sea lions in the neighborhood of Queen Charlotte Sound. Some were killed with rifles and others with machine guns. Bad weather delayed the hunt a good deal.

COWPER GOES UP FOR TRIAL

Baker Declared Stories of Party At His House Nothing But Malicious Lies.

ORFORD EVIDENCE OUT

Magistrate Objects to Besmirching Character of Dead Girl Unable to Defend Self.

VANCOUVER, June 29.—You are not only throwing mud at Baker but you are besmirching the name of the dead girl who is not here to defend herself," declared Magistrate Findlay this morning in ruling against counsel for Cowper putting into evidence statements alleged to have been made by Barbara Orford. After listening to evidence of John A. Norris and Baker, the magistrate decided that Cowper should be committed for trial, but allowed a remand until Thursday to enable Cowper to arrange bail.

Norris was employed by the bakery in which Baker is interested and testified regarding questions asked Cowper following publication of the story complained of.

Baker denied all the charges contained in the article. Characterizing the stories of a party at his house the night previous to the death of Janet Smith as "malicious lies," F. L. Baker went on the witness stand this morning. In answer to questions put by his counsel, Baker emphatically declared that during the whole week previous to the death of the girl there had been only one visitor at the home and that was a man who came for dinner. "There were absolutely no parties," he declared.

Material and equipment continues to arrive both by rail and boat and soon progress will be observed in the big undertaking.

The Grippo had also in tow a barge loaded with coal for Granby, and will proceed North with it as soon as the cargo of cement is discharged.

Prince Rupert Loses Valuable Citizen.

At the week end Prince Rupert lost one of her valuable citizens, W. E. Williams, who has now finally moved to Vancouver, was a man who always spoke well for Prince Rupert and backed up his opinions by his actions. He was essentially a man who did things. He took a prominent part in public life and was one that people looked to to help any forward movement. He will be missed a great deal.

Exceeding The Speed Limit Is Dangerous.

Everybody exceeds the speed limit sometimes unless he is a snail or tortoise. There are times in everyone's life when it would have been better to go slow. Yet if everyone thought that all the time the world would slow down until a day would become forty-eight hours.

If we slow down we get the slow habit and cannot do anything else. If we speed up we get the speed habit and possibly may become careless. Between the two lies the safe way.

In some big cities a person may not drive slowly because it slows down the whole traffic of the street. It is the duty of each one to get out of the way behind.

Prince Rupert as a city must keep up in the race for supremacy. In a place far removed from other places there is a tendency to slow down and that we cannot afford to do. Each individual, if left alone, tends to become slack and now and then we have to shake ourselves and see that we are keeping up the pace, but not too fast.

British Columbia People Well Off.

Some days ago we published statistics to show that British Columbia had higher per capita wealth than any other province of Canada. Now we have just received word from Alberta of a nurse who went from Vancouver to Alberta and who writes of conditions there. She says: "This is surely 'back of beyond.' This place is nine miles from an auto road, ten miles from a telephone, twelve miles from a railroad and sometimes sixty and at least 35 miles from a doctor. The schools are open only in the summer months. They are a great distance apart and I have to visit them on horseback. I have been to two community dances to which the mothers and babies all come so that a dance is a good opportunity to meet the people."

There possibly are places in British Columbia where people are as badly handicapped as at this Alberta point, but not many.

Notable Parliament For Prince Rupert.

Parliament has prorogued after a lengthy and somewhat contentious session. Sessions tend to become contentious as election time draws near.

This particular session has been of the greatest moment to Prince Rupert. It has passed over a million dollars in appropriations for the elevator here and the local member, Fred Stork, has had a strenuous time piloting it through. There was a dead set from rival interests to kill the appropriations and thus kill or greatly delay the building of the elevator here. Now the money has all been voted, the contract is let and the work well under way. It seems as if the elevator would be ready by autumn and grain going out from this port. This is what we have been looking for, wishing for, praying for, agitating for and voting for. It means an immense lot to the port in that it is the beginning of a better era.

Even those bitterly opposed to the policy of the present government and to the sitting member will admit that great credit is coming to Fred Stork for the results he has obtained. Others have undoubtedly helped, but Mr. Stork has been on the job all the time and, after all, we judge largely by results.

During the last election we supported the candidature of Mr. Stork, urging that he be elected, not because of his personality or politics but simply because it was likely the Liberals would be elected and it would be good to have a Liberal of the right type in the House so that we might get consideration. We did elect the Liberal, the party came into power, and the result has been beneficial.

HERITAGE OF DESERT SHOWING TONIGHT

Zane Grey Yarn Filmed Into Thrilling Western Drama

Zane Grey never penned a more thrilling tale than "The Heritage of the Desert," a story of the Utah desert here tonight. It is packed full of all that makes a good Western—rides, fights, a romantic love story, a sense of the bigness of the outdoors. In type, it is close to the story of "To the Last Man." There is the same sense of inevitable conflict which must be fought and settled somehow. There is a similar, formidable gang of outlaws with the odds all in their favor. The hero fights an uphill battle all the way through, and wins out by sheer manhood.

The theme of the story is the coming of law and civilization to the desert, and deals with that part of American pioneering of about forty years ago when the deserts of Utah and Arizona were being transformed into tillable ground. Powerful drama and gripping love interest are incorporated in the tale.

You'll see Navajo Indians by the hundreds, western ranch life as it was in the days of the late seventies and the most spectacular screen battle ever waged in which an entire town is wiped out.

Something Unusual

There is unfolded a wonderful horse story. The outlaw stallion, Silvermane, leading a pack of wild horses, is one of the principal characters in the story. John Hare, the hero, captures Silvermane and tames him. The horse takes up his master's battle and his charge upon the outlaw Deno is one of the most thrilling and unusual encounters ever portrayed upon the screen. Then, too, there is a fight to the death between Wolf, the sheepdog and a cumbersome bear.

According to an Indian legend "The Heritage of the Desert" is a story of a battle that must continue till the end of the world—the struggle for water rights must go on until the end of the world. The Indians, wise in the lore of their traditions, engaged in the picture struggle with amusement, believing that this battle can neither be won nor lost.

UNCONQUERED HORSE IS NOVELTY DRAMA

As its title implies, "The King of Wild Horses," the Pathé picture showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Westholme Theatre, is the story of a horse—an untamed, unconquered, fiery spirited, magnificent horse. Hal Roach wrote the story, which tells of a stallion that is the leader of a pack of wild horses that roams through the mountain fastness of a southwestern state. Powerful, fleet of foot and untamed, he has never felt the hand of man nor known the feel of a rope around his neck. He maintains his leadership by fighting off other stallions that seek to usurp his throne. One of these fights is one of the thrills in the production.

Then a cowboy, spurred by admiration for the magnificent brute, decides to capture him. Others had tried and failed, but Billy Blair had never known defeat—neither had The Black! The chase of man after beast, up dangerous trails through a maze of caverns, across chasms, and through a blazing forest

The Vacant Chair—

WHAT OF TO-MORROW? To-day you are alive--well --happy.

But suppose a summons sounds in the darkness and tomorrow your chair stands vacant. What, then, of your wife? Your children--what of them?

Will your vacant chair spell a double tragedy to the loved ones left behind? Your own personal loss will be unavoidable. Not so, the lack of foresight which will leave them unprotected.

When your presence is no longer there to provide for them --to help them over the rough places of life--even then your care need not cease. Even then your forethought may guard them against want and adversity.

"The Love that Never Dies" fire is said to contain some of to send a chill through the most the most remarkable scenes of a blase audience, as well as to arouse the loudest laughs heard in a theatre since the side-splitting chase episodes in "Girl Shy."

The story, however, is not alone concerned with the horse, though he plays an important part in the working out of the plot in which is woven intrigue and romance. Edna Murphy lends her charm, beauty and talent to the only feminine role. Leon Bary as a rough-riding cowboy and other parts are played by Sidney De Grey, Charles Parrott and Pat Hartigan. Fred Jackson, who directed "The Call of the Wild," Jack London's dog story, put horse and actors through their paces.

This episode is only one of the three big laughing fictions into which "Hot Water" is divided. There is just enough plot in the new Lloyd opus to hold the incidents together in one trend of thought, but that is just what Lloyd and his staff set out to do. "Hot Water" is one continuous string of "gags" with the imagination being heavily drawn upon for their originality.

Johyna Balston, Lloyd's beautiful leading lady in "Why Worry" and "Girl Shy," heads the supporting cast. Josephine Crowell a veteran of the screen and one of its great artists, is the mother-in-law. Charles Stevenson, best known for his work as the Bully in "Grandma's Boy" and the conductor in "Girl Shy" portrays the lazy brother-in-law, and Mickey McBan his brother in real life, interprets the part of a trouble-making youngster.

FARMER LOST ALL HIS HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS IN FIRE THAT TOOK HOME

SMITHERS, June 29.—The farm home of John Bateson was burned to the ground on Wednesday night, the family narrowly escaped from being burned alive, and did not have a chance to save any of their household effects. The fire started about 2 a.m., supposedly from a smudge pot that had been used in the evening to drive off the mosquitos and was left by the back door. The flames were seen by the dancers who were at the Driftwood school and a number of men rushed over in cars and assisted in saving the other buildings.

The destitute family is being assisted by neighbors and friends in town in efforts to make another start. Mr. Bateson is a soldier settler and served in the navy in the Great War.

The Man in the Moon

SAYS:-

"CANADA would not be what she is today if it were not for the Senate," declares a writer. We must admit we never really liked the Senate as a factor in Canadian life, but we would not like to blame the senators for everything.

THERE'S one man in this town I hate. He calmly, deliberately and without equivocation suggested that it might be a nice idea some day to get out a special humor edition of the Man in the Moon column.

I TALKED over the situation with Jake and he says, "Oh, let her rip. She ain't always so bad."

COME June, sweet June,
Yea stifle us we pray thee,
Until we wipe our brows and cry enough!

Command the sun,
Command it to obey thee,
Get busy June old dear, and do your stuff.

NOW JUNE, Old June,

There's time enough today,
Or else tomorrow for a final show,
Give joyful heat and all our woes allay,
For little time is left ere out you go.

THERE are hundreds of different kinds of worms, including several husbands I know.

THE height of pessimism is shuddering at the thought that some day we may reach the peak of our ambitions and have nothing more to work for.

AMONG the permanent appointments to Vancouver schools just made are those of G. A. Woodworth to Britannia High School and Miss A. B. Marcellus to the domestic science department. A new appointment is Miss E. T. Sheasgreen. All of these are well known here.

T. Allardice, of Vancouver, was a passenger from train to boat on Saturday, having made the round trip to Toronto, where he attended the general assembly of continuing Presbyterians. Mr. Allardice was particularly struck with the Skeena river scenery and spoke highly of the excellent crop conditions prevailing on the prairies. The conditions are the best he has seen in over forty years' experience in the grain business.

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus

GOVERNOR WAS AT SMITHERS

Visited Lake Kathlyn.

SMITHERS, June 29.—The citizens of Smithers had as their guests for a couple of hours on Friday morning Lord and Lady Byng and party, who stopped off here while on their tour through northern B. C.

Lord Byng had accepted the invitation of the Smithers council to motor over from Telkwa to here, and he and his party were met at that town and brought over in two cars driven by Billy Orchard and Robert Barnett and thus were enabled to get a different impression of the possibilities of this valley from that obtained when just travelling through by rail.

The party arrived at Smithers about 10:15 and were met and welcomed by Mayor Orchard, and the citizens en masse at Alfred Park.

After the official welcome, Lord Byng inspected the Boy Scouts who had turned out in full force to greet him as also had the school children who were drawn up in two long lines on the green. The citizens were each greeted personally by Lord and Lady Byng. His Lordship seemed especially pleased to shake hands with the war veterans, and made inquiries in most cases regarding their services. He found many men who had served under him on the battle-fields and one had been in his regiment when he was a colonel in the Boer war.

While Lord Byng was the guest of the G.W.V.A. members at their club, Lady Byng motored down to Lake Kathlyn with Mrs. Orchard to view the beautiful scenery of the Hudson's Bay Mountain with its glaciers.

Before leaving, Lord Byng complimented Major Gale, president of the G.W.V.A. on their club rooms, saying they were the most pleasant he had yet seen in B. C., in fact he considered they compared in this respect with any in the Dominion.

Verne Eby returned to Smithers Friday after spending the winter months at Vancouver and Port Angeles.

Margaret Downey, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Downey, is an inmate at the local hospital, having undergone an operation for acute appendicitis on Friday afternoon. The operation was successful and the patient is resting easily.

Miss E. Doodson, postmistress of the local office, is on her annual vacation and left on Saturday for Vancouver.

Two pleasant dances were held at Mrs. Birnie's camp at Lake Kathlyn, one on Thursday night when a party of town folks spent an enjoyable evening and the other on Friday night when the high school girls and their friends celebrated the closing of the school year.

Muriel Adams, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mason Adams, returned to her home in Smithers after the closing of the school term at St. Joseph Academy, Prince Rupert.

In the evening a dance was held in the school house which was greatly enjoyed and made a perfect ending to a perfect day.

Mrs. J. D. Thurber and family left on the S.S. Princess Beatrice Saturday evening en route to her old home in Nova Scotia, where they will spend the summer.

FOREST FIRES NEAR SMITHERS

One Started At Lake Kathlyn And Swept Westward Along Railway.

SMITHERS, June 29.—The hot dry weather of the past two weeks has again made the risk of forest fires an active question and there are now several burning in the valley.

The fire causing the most damage started at noon Friday close to Chas. Wilson's farm at Lake Kathlyn and was soon sweeping westward along both sides of the railway before a strong wind, and throwing up dense clouds of smoke.

The forestry officials put all their force on this fire and conscripted every spare man in the district and by Saturday evening had it pretty well under control.

In the first 12 hours the red demon had burned over a tract of land one mile wide and five miles long, and was at Toboggan Lake, two or three settlers were forced to flee from its path.

George Ballard and Gust Berg had to leave their farms and it is not yet known what damage has been done as the fire is still too hot for them to venture back to see.

Two small railway bridges were in the fire zone and the crews spent a busy night trying to keep the fire from burning them out.

In the hunt for fire fighters both the local barbers were taken and the men are hoping that the fires will soon be out, otherwise Smithers might be taken for a Bolshevik or Doukhobor settlement.

SMITHERS

The C. G. I. T. girls held a campaign tea in the Roistion building on Friday afternoon, which was well patronized by their friends, who greatly enjoyed the ice cream and refreshments served by the girls.

It was also a success financially, the funds being for equipment for the girls training.

WHITE BEAR IS FRIENDLY

Elmer Palmboom of Surf Inlet And Forest Ranger Scott Got Close View.

URSUS KERMODEI AT HOME.

A fine specimen of Kermode's white bear, known scientifically as Ursus kermodei, was seen a few days ago at the head of Rivers Bight, Princess Royal Island, by Elmer Palmboom and Assistant Forest Ranger Scott. They had anchored in the bay for a short time while getting themselves a meal before returning to Surf Inlet, where Mr. Palmboom is engaged with J. R. Morgan Co., and were quite near the shore when they looked up and saw the little bear playing on the shore. They had guns but did not shoot as the bear seemed too friendly to engage in hostilities. They went ashore and watched him for a short time and were quite near enough to take photographs only unfortunately they had no camera with them.

The bear was apparently all right but smaller than the ordinary black bear.

ATTENDED CONVENTION SHRINERS LOS ANGELES

Dave Roberts Home After Holiday Spent in the "Sunny South"

Returning on Saturday's train from a trip of several weeks in California, Dave Roberts, C.N.R. locomotive engineer, reports a very pleasurable vacation.

He went south primarily to attend the big Shriners' convention in Los Angeles, and the vast crowds of these gaily attired persons were continuously objects of interest and attention.

It rained in Los Angeles while the city was entertaining these visitors. Rained hard, too, for several days, until the visitors paraded forth with fishing rods to the street corners, dragged old boats through the streets, and merrily twitted the natives about their salubrious climate.

These little incidents only served to fill in until "the clouds rolled by," and the Shriners parade was staged. Bands and bands, and more bands to the number of about one hundred were interspersed in that vast concourse that swept through the streets and stalled traffic. It was a wonderful sight and one not soon forgotten, Dave says.

When returning home Mr.

Roberts chanced to be in Portland for the rose carnival which appeared rather tame. Vancouver was accorded first prize for the best float and naturally some good advertising.

"The whole trip," Mr. Roberts said, "was very delightful and those people over there certainly know how to boost," a fact which might not be overlooked by local people.

FRENCH POLICE RESCUE SLAVESThirteen Boys Liberated at Shanghai After Six Years Had Been Badly Treated

SHANGHAI, June 29.—Thirteen boys, some of whom have been imprisoned in a filthy, airless sweat shop for six years, were identified and claimed by parents in the French Mixed Court here recently. The lucky youngsters were a part of a group of 31 rescued by the French police.

The identification came as an interlude in the trial of Yu Pahong, proprietor of a workshop, accused, together with his wife, concubine, amah and three other accomplices, of maintaining a slave pen in which the children in question worked from early morning until midnight, underfed, beaten and never allowed to see the light of day except such as filtered through a small barred window.

Tales of torture for insufficient industry, attempted revolt or inability to labor on account of illness were told by the waifs in a manner to bring tears to the eyes of listeners. Many of the children were stolen from their parents and sold to Yu for $5 each. Others were hired out as apprentices by parents little mindful of their fate. They were ordered sold to defray the cost of trial and to pay for maintenance of the unclaimed children.

EVIDENCE IN CHINESE CASENorton Says He Understood That Authorities Had Knowledge of Abduction*TO BE KEPT IN OKALLA

VANCOUVER, June 29.—Statements by V. W. Norton, confessed participant in the abduction of Wong Foon Sing, that he understood at all times that the Point Grey police and the authorities at Victoria had full knowledge of the abduction and had arranged for it, were paying for it and had promised immunity to those who participated, were given at Saturday's session of the preliminary hearing of the charge against ten persons accused of taking part in the abduction.

Another startling piece of information was contained in the statement of Norton that on the night the Chinaman was released by his abductors to be formally arrested, Police Commissioner H. O. McDonald of Point Grey told witness that it had been arranged that Wong Foon Sing was to be kept in Okalla prison for six months.

TELLS ABOUT ALASKA WORK

River and Harbor bill which authorized this survey of harbor conditions at Hyder also authorized the dredging of Wrangell Narrows at an ultimate cost of $2,000,000 in accordance with a report I submitted several years ago. Work will start next spring at the Petersburg end. The improvement of the Narrows so as to provide a channel 200 feet wide on the bottom and with a depth of at least 21 feet throughout at M.L.L.W. will benefit the two Canadian lines, the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk, equally with the two American lines, the Alaska Steamship Co. and the Admiralty Line."

Developing Alaska.

"During the current season," continued Colonel Steese, "work is actively in progress on the improvement of Wrangell Harbor by the construction of a breakwater, and on dredging in the Petersburg end. The Admiralty Line will benefit the two Canadian lines, the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk, equally with the two American lines, the Alaska Steamship Co. and the Admiralty Line."

"The Heritage of the Desert"

Yes, there is something new in Western pictures and here it is. A story as big and sweeping as the country it deals with, screened amidst rugged magnificence. Zane Grey's stirring tale of a bitter fight for desert water rights told against a colorful background of hand-to-hand encounters, gun-battles, cattle rustling, Indian attacks and a hundred other thrills. A swiftly moving photo-play, acted by an unexcelled cast, filmed in Arizona and Utah, the exact locations described in the book.

Just then the surgeon who had operated on the Irishman came into the room and said, "Has anybody seen my hat?"

Pat fainted.

An Irishman coming out of ether in the ward after an operation exclaimed audibly: "Thank God! That's over!"

"Don't be too sure," said the man in the next bed. "They left a sponge in me and had to cut me open again." And the patient on the other side said, "Why, they had to open me, too, to find one of their instruments."

Just then the surgeon who had operated on the Irishman came into the room and said, "Has anybody seen my hat?"
