Canadian Migration to States Falls off One Third during Six Months just past Senator says

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—(By Canadian Press).—Recent utterances of Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, a prominent member of the Senate Immigration Committee, on the workings of the immigration law for the first six months of its enforcement, make it plain that no important changes in that law are probable in the near future. At least, Senator Reed made it plain he is opposed to overhauling the law. He believes it is working well and in what he said he reflected views of a number of other senators whose influence for the present at least will be against changes.

No quota law with respect to Canada is needed, according to Senator Reed because there has been a sharp falling off in immigration from there. Senator Reed, referring to Canada and Newfoundland, said:

"The law provides that a native-born citizen of Canada or Newfoundland may come in outside of the quota. In the last year—that is, the year ending June 30, last—under the old law, under which they were outside of the quota, we got in 200,000 and we lost only 2,000, showing a net gain of 198,000 Canadians. That has fallen off, through causes which I do not wholly understand, having nothing to do with the immigration law, because they are still free to come; that has fallen off, so that in the first six months under the new law our gain was only 64,000. I do not regard that as a problem. Even if they do come in at the rate of 122,000 Canadians a year, that means native-born Canadians; and it means people who in almost every respect are indistinguishable from ourselves.

More Telephones And Light Services Here.

It was announced yesterday that there are today in the city more telephones in use and more light connections made than ever before in the history of the city, not excepting the days when eight hundred men were employed on the shipbuilding operations. This speaks well for the city and indicates that it is making substantial progress. Very soon we expect to hear that the numbers have very largely increased.

Last month permits were issued for five new dwellings. This month the number should be much larger and as summer comes on the increase should be even more marked. The present progress is more substantial than that of the shipbuilding days when everybody expected there would be a quiet time following the flurry.

All Will Sympathize With Fishermen.

Everyone in the city will sympathize with the fishermen in the low prices they receive for their products, prices which not only fail to give them wages but which actually, in many cases, show a considerable loss on the trip. Under the co-operative system under which they work, every man suffers, the fishermen as well as the boat owners, when prices go down as they are today.

In a great many industries when the bottom drops out of the market and the employer of labor states that he is unable to continue to operate, he often does not get much sympathy from employees who seem to think he is just camouflaging or as they more picturesquely put it, "peddling bull." Now the men understand what it means to have the market "all shot to pieces." Sometimes the price paid for halibut is too high for the good of the industry and now it is much too low. What would be preferable would be a steady medium price which could be depended on. Unfortunately the supply is not steady as no one can control the elements or tell the fish when to take the bait.

Horrible Burning Case Reported.

The despatches today tell of a horrible case of the burning of a Negro in Georgia. Such cases as this have a demoralizing effect on the whole community and especially on those who live near the scene of the outrage. The effect on those who take part is worst of all. They are the real sufferers for they have reverted to the days when the savages danced around their suffering victims as they slowly tortured them to death.

We who live in the north cannot quite understand the feeling that exists in the Southern States where the Negro problem is always with them. Some people who live there state that it is the only possible way of dealing with the problem, but that can hardly be correct. Violence as a result of sudden outbursts is often most unjust. Nothing can justify such a scene as that briefly described in today's despatch.

Million Bushels Of Grain From Peace River.

Peace River has already shipped a million bushels of grain this year and that with inadequate railway facilities. Given a route to this coast and all that grain would come to the Pacific. More than that the amount produced would be steadily increased and the business with this port and with Vancouver would be on the ascending scale for many years. There is an immense country to be opened up and it is to be hoped that it will be given the best possible opportunity to develop.

It is very difficult for those not conversant with the country to give an opinion as to where the railway should be built. It should not only serve the people who are now there but also open up as much new country as possible.

Scale For Common Labor Set at 57 1/2 Cents an Hour by Council

WAGE INCREASE CITY WORKMEN

AMENDMENT VOTED DOWN

The labor element of the city council was successful at last night's council meeting in effecting the most important plank of its pre-election platform when Ald. W. M. Brown's motion, calling for an increase in the minimum common labor wage paid by the city from 50c per hour to 57 1/2c, was carried on the casting vote of Mayor Newton. Voting for Ald. Brown's motion were Ald. Brown, Ald. Larsen, its second, Ald. Casey and Ald. McKeelmie. Voting against were: Ald. Stephens, Ald. McMordie, Ald. Perry, and Ald. Smith. A compromise amendment offered by Ald. McMordie retaining 50c as the minimum wage but which would have given 57 1/2c to the permanent labor employees of the city was voted down only Ald. McMordie, Ald. Smith, the second, and Ald. Perry supporting it. Ald. Stephens, through the manner in which he voted, indicated that he was the sole member of the council who stood out and out against a wage increase.

In presenting his motion, Ald. Brown expressed the opinion that 50c was not a living wage in Prince Rupert. The inclination of the cost of living was up rather than down and there was a great deal of time lost here through inclement weather. He based his motion on the finding of a conciliation board which had established 57 1/2c as a fair rate of wages.

Ald. McMordie felt that the parties paying should be considered as well as those who were paid. He had sympathy for labor and realized that a married man and family could do little more than exist on 50c per hour. He had made an exhaustive inquiry into rates of wages that were being paid in other western cities and had found that in Prince Rupert the scale was the highest of any town in the Dominion that he had heard of. It was his desire to give the men employed by the city a slightly higher rate than they were receiving at present. At the same time, he did not wish to discourage industry by raising the minimum scale. Therefore he presented the following amendment: For permanent employees, 57 1/2c; for all married men with families in Prince Rupert, 57 1/2c; casual labor, 50c; after three months' continuous employ, 57 1/2c; foremen now receiving 57 1/2c, 62 1/2c.

Larsen Objects

Ald. Larsen was in favor of Ald. McMordie's amendment. The fifty cent reservation would not be fair to single old timers who were casually employed by the city. He felt that a single man was entitled to the same pay as a married man when doing the same work though he was in favor of the principle of giving the preference to married men when it came to a question of taking on labor. Speaking to the motion, he felt that if the city paid a fair wage the inclination to loaf would be removed and better results would obtain.

Ald. Casey said he had a good deal of sympathy for Ald. McMordie's amendment though he could not support it. He felt that Ald. McMordie was endeavoring to meet the situation in a reasonable way and he appreciated his sincere attempt with that end in view. However, having had thirty years experience with labor men and knowing their psychology, he had never known of a two rate scale that would work effectively. It always created discord and he did not believe that the city would benefit by adopting it. If the increase were put into effect this year, he felt certain that when the result of the corporation's work at the end of the year would be compared with the results last year under the 50c scale it would be found that the production had increased and that value would have been shown for the increase.

Ald. McMordie, in reply to Ald. Casey's remarks respecting a double scale of wages, presented a chart showing that there were such scales in the cities of Edmonton, Regina, Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and Saskatoon.

A man from the rather large audience that was on hand to witness the debate was given permission to speak. He took the view that to raise the minimum wage scale would not have a deterrent effect on industries. The most prosperous cities were those that had the highest minimum wage scales. He pointed to the case of San Francisco where $6.00 per day was the minimum.

Ald. Stephens

Ald. Stephens felt that Ald. McMordie's amendment, discriminating between married and single men, would lead to difficulties and work to the disadvantage of the city. The effect, he feared, would be to fill the city with single men who were not as valuable to the community as married men with families. Rather than advance single men after three months' employ, he would favor starting them off with the higher rate. As for the motion, he felt that a very high rate for unskilled labor would be dangerous to the establishment of industries. During the past two years under the 50c scale, he felt that the public works of the city had prospered as they had never done before. He was opposed to the amendment on general principles and would use his judgment in voting on the motion.

The question was then put with the result as above recorded.

At the close of a meeting, another motion was passed fixing the rate of wages for straw bosses at 62 1/2c per hour and for the general foreman at $7 per day. Ald. Casey was the mover and Ald. McMordie, the second. Ald. Larsen wanted the rate for powdermen set at 62 1/2c also but was told that the Board of Works had authority to deal with all such cases.

"I was Greatly Distressed With Pains in the Back"

Mr. Alfred McNeill, Chapel Rock, Alta., writes:

"During the winter of 1920-21, I was greatly distressed with pains in my back and felt tired and depressed most of the time. Particularly during the night I was troubled with frequent urination, some nights having to rise almost every hour. I tried several different treatments without success, until finally I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they relieved my condition before I had finished the first box. I am feeling better this summer than I have for years, and although in my 67th year, can work all day without any undue fatigue."

SEABIRDS RETURN TO BALTIC BATHING TOWNS

Protection Makes Islands Attractive to Terns and Mews
HAMBURG, Mar. 3.—Efforts to safeguard the bird life on certain islands in the North Sea are resulting successfully. Terns and mews are coming back to the islands of Jordsand, Ellenbogen and Norderoog.
A century ago the Frisian Islands were a paradise for bird life. Naumann, the celebrated ornithologist, described them as having the appearance of a lake of foam floating on the sea because of the great number of mews, terns, dreggers and other birds. But in the meantime the islands have become bathing resorts and throughout the summer are alive with pleasure seekers who have turned them into noisy amusement centers. Until recent years birds' nests were ruthlessly destroyed.

"I want to get a good novel to read in the train—something pathetic," said a woman to a book salesman.
"Let me see. How would 'The Last Days of Pompeii' do?" asked the salesman.
"Pompeii? I never heard of him. What did he die of?"
"I'm not quite sure, ma'am," replied the salesman; "some kind of eruption, I believe."

Mrs. N. of Westminster

Something over two year ago Mrs. N. (now living in New Westminster) moved up the coast where fresh milk was unobtainable. She had never tried canned milk, but being compelled to use it decided to try some of every brand. Pacific came first and she says it was a surprise. Then all the others had their opportunity, only to have her come back to Pacific, which she continues to use even after getting back to town.
We are grateful for such letters as Mrs. N.'s.

No irritation for baby's skin
Do this and keep his clothing soft, pure and comfortable
Nothing is so sensitive as baby's skin! Even the slightest roughness in his diapers, shirts and bands will inflame and irritate it.
Much trouble is directly due to washing diapers with harsh soap—soap containing free alkali. The alkali clings to the little garments in the form of a fine, white powder—almost impossible to rinse out. This causes "diaper rash."
To save baby's skin, use Lux for washing all his clothes. It is the mildest, purest, gentlest cleanser in the world. Lux contains no free alkali, and the pure suds rinse out completely. Lux keeps baby's garments soft, clean, comfortable and safe!
Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto.
How to wash diapers
Remove solid matter at once and soak diapers in cold water. Whisk two table-spoonfuls of Lux into thick suds in a tub of very hot water. Let diapers soak a few moments, then dip up and down, pressing suds repeatedly through them. Rinse thoroughly in three waters.

TIMBER CO. IS REORGANIZED

Demand for Buckley Bay Output Expected to be Steady with Resumption

BAKER STILL CHAIRMAN

Bankers Have Charge of Business Which Takes Graham Island Product

The big company of which the Massett Timber Company is a subsidiary has been thoroughly reorganized and activities are to be resumed immediately. This accounts for the recent announcement of activities at Buckley Bay, which have been already mentioned in this paper. As Graham Island is the source of supply for lumber for the big concern, it is pretty sure that the demand will be steady. A recent despatch sent from Los Angeles to a San Francisco newspaper says:

"A general reorganization of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation and the Los Angeles Lumber Products Company, together with the subsidiary concerns controlled by the two corporations, was announced today.

"As a result of the reorganization there will be followed a resumption of activities on a full scale by all the companies affected. Dan Murphy, financier and banker, becomes head of the entire group of concerns, succeeding Earle M. Leaf, who resigned as president.

"J. H. Jevne, banker and head of the Jevne Wholesale Grocery Company, becomes vice-president, and Laurence Leonard, secretary and treasurer, Leonard succeeded Lawrence Macomber.

"Fred L. Baker remains chairman of the board of directors of the entire group.

"The reorganization was made public by Leonard. He stated that it signalled a resumption of activities by all the plants controlled by the company, which had been virtually shut down for a year.

Leaf and Baker were primarily responsible for the development of the various concerns. They acquired seventy acres of tidelands about the West basin at the Los Angeles harbor in 1917 and began development work on the ground. It was under their direction that the shipbuilding company was organized a short time later. This company has become one of the largest on the Coast, having constructed more than thirty-five vessels, including many freighters.

TO INVESTIGATE FISH SITUATION

City Council to Act on Letter Received From Deep Sea Fishermen's Union

The following letter from J. H. Meagher, local agent of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union, was received at last night's council meeting and referred to the fisheries committee:

"We cannot understand why such low prices are being paid for halibut since the season opened after a three months closed season. These men who have invested all their hard earned money in vessel property, are or will be unable to operate the boats for the prices that are now being paid for halibut. They are compelled to sell the fish for six and seven cents a pound for first class and three cents for second class fish.

"There has been approximately one million nine hundred thousand pounds of halibut brought to this port for sale, and owing to the low prices offered here the boats had to take their catches to Seattle and other ports for disposal. A great many of the boats that sold here went in debt which is very discouraging to the men employed after being idle for three or four months.

"We would be very much pleased, Honourable Sir, if you and the City Council would report the situation to the Marine and Fisheries Department, at Ottawa and have an inquiry or investigation made as we cannot see why the buyers are not paying more for the fish, especially after a three month's closed season. As matters stand now it looks very much as though they were trying to put something over on us."

Mayor Newton suggested that the letter be referred to the joint fisheries committee of the city council, board of trade, etc., and it was so done on motion of Ald. Casey and Ald. McKelvie. Ald. Casey stated that all interests in the city were in sympathy with the fishermen in their present plight and, whether or not the suggestions made in the letter were justified, it seemed strange that one day 20c should be paid for halibut and the next day 6c. It was true that the law of supply and demand must affect the market but he felt that it would be a good idea for the fishing interests of the port to get together and ascertain if there was undue or unwarranted manipulation in connection with fish prices.

ISOLATION OF PATIENTS IS TALKED OVER

Medical Health Officer Recommends be Under Care of Hospital

That the isolation hospital should be staffed and managed by the General Hospital and that patients treated there should be made to pay the regular hospital rates was a recommendation made by Dr. J. P. Gade, medical health officer, in his 1924 report on infectious diseases in the city presented to the city council last night. Under the present management of the isolation hospital by the city, the report stated that patients there considered that it was a health protective measure and felt that they were not in the least liable for any expense incurred nor that they should pay fees. At present there was an understanding with the general hospital whereby the isolation hospital was supplied with a nurse, when there was one to spare, to look after the isolation cases. For such services the fee of 85 per cent had been paid. During 1924 and up to the present date in 1925, there had been eight patients in the isolation hospital representing 294 hospital days for which the city had received no remuneration.

During the year there had been a total of ten cases in the isolation hospital—one measles, one diphtheria, two small-pox and six scarlet fever. Repairing and kalsomining of the isolation hospital was urgently needed.

Summary of Diseases

In his general report on infectious diseases in the city during 1924, Dr. Gade reported as follows:

Measles—525 cases of a mild form during a continental epidemic in the spring. There were two fatalities—one a delicate infant and the other a native with complications.

German measles—four reported cases.
Erysipelas—one case.
Whooping cough—two cases.
Diphtheria—two cases, contracted in Vancouver.
Chicken pox—fifty reported cases.
Small-pox—two cases.
Scarlet fever—eleven cases.
Referring to small-pox, Dr. Gade stated that approximately five hundred children had been vaccinated free of charge by himself and Dr. Tremayne, school health officer, during 1924. Another vaccination campaign would have to be undertaken here this year.

To Prevent Goitre

There has been a considerable increase of goitre among children and, as a preventative, the general use of iodized table salt had been recommended.

Reporting on the city's milk supply, Dr. Gade reported that butter fat content during the year had been higher than previously. Since the early part of the season, cattle had been free of reactors.

After middle age little sicknesses and ailments seem harder to shake off than formerly as the heart action becomes weak and uncertain and the nerves are not as steady as they were in the younger days.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. M. O'Connor, Whitehorse, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled, most of my life, with shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, and fainting spells."

There would, doubtless, be a strong effort made by Vancouver to have a direct connection with that city and the C.P.R. might be a determining factor.

Other members of the council expressed the opinion that everything should be done towards having the Peace River outlet tributary to Prince Rupert.
