Special City Lots Slashed To 50 Per Cent of Value

13 Bail Out Safely From Crashing Air Force Bomber

PHILLIPSBURG, Mont. (AP)—Thirteen crew members bailed out of an air force B-29 that developed engine trouble near this western Montana town Monday. All landed safely as the big bomber crashed and burned.

Several Changes Listed In Land Sales Policy

Price of single city lots located between two privately owned lots will be slashed to 50 per cent of the assessed value, effective immediately.

Chamber Urges Pressure For Large Land Airbase

Prime Minister St. Laurent's visit to this city has further stimulated action by city business men to press for construction of a land airfield here.

Business Endorses Phone Bylaw

The Chamber of Commerce doesn't believe enough publicity has been given to the by-election and telephone plebiscite on which electors will vote this coming Thursday.

A motion was passed at last night's meeting of the organization (the first after summer recess) endorsing the telephone bylaw which, if passed, will give the city a new automatic dial telephone system.

President T. Norton Youngs, said however, that "I'm not in favor of it because I think telephones should be left in hands of private enterprise."

A meeting of the executive council tonight will draft an advertisement endorsing the plebiscite and calling for electors to vote "yes."

This is one of the changes in policy outlined at city council meeting last night by the finance committee.

Ald. H. F. Glassey, acting committee chairman in the absence of Ald. Mike Kreuger, listed two other points "which will be the policy of the city in connection with the sale of property." They are:

The city will not sell any property which, after the sale would leave less than 1 1/2 lots unsold. This measure is being taken because of a former policy change discouraging any future home owners building on less than a lot and half of frontage. City lots are 25 feet wide.

The city will leave open to purchase by anyone who makes a bidding of the assessed value of a lot or lots adjoining or abutting another's property, effective Oct. 1.

The view in this is that "owner of the property adjoining vacant lots has had ample time to make a bidding for the additional property," said Ald. Glassey.

This policy was set, he said, because arguments had occurred in the past when property owners maintained they had the first right to purchase city land adjoining their own. On the price cut of lots between two privately owned pieces of property, Mr. Glassey said that formerly the lots had been sold for two-thirds of their assessed value.

"We hope this will encourage more taxpayers to buy up the vacant lots and improve them," which was endorsed unanimously by the council.

It was also suggested that property owners each buy half of these lots if one did not want the entire lot.

UK Market Sought For Rail Ties

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia lumbermen hope to sell chemically treated railway ties to the United Kingdom, it was reported here today.

B. C. Lumber Manufacturers' Association is paying passage for two British railway engineers to come here and see the ties being cut and treated and to talk to engineers of the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways.

Lumbermen say they have perfected a process whereby hemlock is preserved and its undesirable features are overcome making it possible for the wood to be used to make good ties.

The two engineers are Col. H. B. Everard and Walter Rothwell, both of the nationalized British Railways.

Senior Railway Lawyer Arrives

Norman J. MacMillan, vice-president and general counsel of the law department of the Canadian National Railways, arrives here tomorrow on the CNSS Prince George to spend the day. He expects to leave east by train on the same day.

IWA Pickets Arrested by Court Order

VANCOUVER (CP)—Arrest of 17 union members in connection with picketing of a freighter during British Columbia's summer lumber strike was ordered Monday by Chief Justice W. B. Farris in Supreme Court.

He ordered members of the International Woodworkers of America to appear before him next Monday. He ruled they could be released on $500 bail each before appearing in court.

The shipping company obtained an injunction July 15 against the union to prevent picketing of the Motor Vessel Vedby at Nanaimo.

Sheriff William B. MacKenzie of Nanaimo said in court he had read the injunction to picketers but they had ignored it. He added that a request for help from the RCMP to disperse the pickets had been ignored.

"There has been apparently a willful violation of court orders," the chief justice said. "I think it is imperative that these men appear before me to explain their stand."

American Bids 8 Cents For B.C. Salmon

VANCOUVER (CP)—A union official said Monday an American buyer has offered striking British Columbia fishermen eight cents a pound for chum salmon—2 1/2 cents more than offered by B.C. companies.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 fishermen struck Saturday midnight. They want last year's prices for chum—11 cents a pound.

Homer Stevens, secretary of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (UFAW) said the American offer will be considered. He declined to identify the buyer.

Meanwhile, 27 boats maintained floating picket lines along the Fraser River.

Nanaimo Tory Spurns Sacred Offer

NANAIMO (CP)—Dr. Larry Giovando, Progressive-Conservative Member of Legislature for Nanaimo, said Monday the Social Credit party had offered him a cabinet post if he would join the Social Credit.

He quoted two party members as saying if he made up his mind to switch his party allegiance before Sept. 18, Social about the Vancouver-Burrard Credit would cease to worry about its strength in the Legislature would then be 20 against the C.C.F.'s 18.

(Dr. Giovando's statement caused speculation that Social Credit might call a general election soon or that it might be looking for a "safe" seat for one of its two non-elected cabinet members.)

Dr. Giovando said the two members told him they were not an "official" delegation.

He said he had turned down the offer.

"How could I abandon the people who elected me as a Conservative and go into the Legislature as a Social Crediter?" he asked.

"I don't speak that language nor approve of that kind of politics."

In Victoria, Premier W. A. C. Bennett said any proposal to Dr. Giovando was made without his knowledge or consent.

"At no time have I ever discussed the matter with Dr. Giovando," the Premier said, "nor have I thought of such a possibility."

Vote 'Yes' on Telephone Bylaw Says Mayor; New System 'Overdue'

Installation of a modern automatic telephone system in Prince Rupert is "long overdue," Mayor Harold Whalen said today as he again urged ratepayers to pass the $675,000 bylaw to be voted on this Thursday.

"Maintenance costs of our present obsolete set-up are eating up practically all the revenue from one of our best assets.

"If we don't endorse this bylaw, it will not only be a backward step in our present progressive city, but a disgrace," said the mayor.

He said that although there has been some criticism of the cost of a new system, "council, as the elected representatives of the people, has endorsed the bylaw and its now up to the people to give them the go-ahead signal." The bylaw calls for purchase of the old Government Liquor Store at a cost of $32,500 and Automatic Electric Company of Canada, which has been awarded the contract pending approval by the ratepayers, is prepared to begin construction of the system immediately.

The new system will be one of the most modern in America.

WOODEN KEY USED BY JAIL ESCAPEES; $26,000 POSTED

TORONTO.—A wooden key believed used in the escape of four desperadoes from the Don jail was found today behind the plumbing in the cell of one of the men who sawed his way out yesterday.

It opened the cell doors and police think it may have been made in the jail carpentry shop.

Another development, Reforms Minister John Foote announced, was the suspension of Alexander Noble, deputy governor of the jail, and a reprimand of jail governor T. W. Brand.

The four desperate men, one hobbling on one foot, squeezed through the severed bars of the jail window, inched along an 18-inch-wide wall and dropped 15 feet to freedom.

The escape in yesterday's pre-dawn darkness has produced the most intensive manhunt in Ontario's history and the makings of a first-class fight between the city and province.

Two of the escapees, Steve Suchan and Leonard Jackson, were soon to go on trial for the murder of a Toronto detective, Eddie Tong.

All of the four were charged with a number of bank robberies.

The others, Edwin Alonzo Boyd, generally believed to be the mastermind of the gang, and William Russell Jackson, no kin of Leonard.

Leonard Jackson's escape added a bizarre touch. Officials, mindful of his escape from the same jail with Boyd and William Jackson last November, has grown agile since he was crippled in a railway accident some years ago and limped to freedom.

$26,000 POSTED
A total of $26,000 is posted for their capture. The Canadian Bankers Association has put up $10,000, the province $2,000 each with the city announcing it would meet the provincial reward dollar for dollar.

Mayor Allan Lamport early today said:

"Our police took every security measure that was within their power but it was the human element among the staff appointed by the province that failed us."

"The place was so wide open they could have walked out the front door. All that was wanted was a cocktail bar."

Right on The Mark

OUR Chamber of Commerce was on its toes when it presented the Prime Minister with a resolution calling for action on the establishment of a land airport here.

It is very well to talk about our need in this connection but it is far better to get it down on paper and into the right hands.

Working through a busy itinerary such as he has, Mr. St. Laurent cannot be expected to bear in mind all the verbal solicitations directed at him—and there will be many.

A written resolution, however, cannot be overlooked, and we are confident that Mr. St. Laurent is sufficiently appreciative of our problem to harbor no wish that it should be.

Prince Rupert found the Prime Minister a kindly and interested visitor. In making a specific demand upon his attention we did so with the realization that his deep interest in Canadian development encompasses the very kind of progressive project which we have placed before him.

Aside from this, we enjoyed having Mr. St. Laurent with us and hope that he comes back soon, whether he lands at the airport in question or not.

Early Election Best Solution

WE MAY belong to a minority in thinking so, but it strikes us that an early election is after all the best way out of B.C.'s current political dilemma.

Elections being costly in time and money, we earlier expressed the hope that the Social Crediters would endeavor to make a go of it with their present representation. That, however, was before the problem of the two unseated cabinet ministers materialized.

Although at first glance by-elections for these two seem the logical answer, the dangers in the final analysis outweigh the advantages. Should the government lose both, or even one, of these elections, its numbers would be reduced to such an extent that another general election would develop in any case. Thus we would be back where we started, only that much later on.

In making this point we are not expressing a partisan apprehension of a CCF victory in the two elections. The argument would apply regardless of the parties concerned. Adding to the opposition's strength now would accomplish nothing, for no government can be run from across the floor of the House.

The province needs leadership, not criticism, and if this cannot be obtained under the present composition of the legislature, we should plunge at once into the rough waters of another general election, no matter whether we have a precedent for so doing or not.

There will be those who contend that, since there has been no session and therefore no new issues, an election now would be as inconclusive as the last. The contention, however, is not really valid.

While there has been no formal debate on various pressing questions there has been a great deal of informal sniping, and we have in the interim become much better acquainted with the character, if not the policies, of the Social Credit party. We have also heard the voice of the voters which next time might act as a guide for our own individual expression of opinion.

Radium - Needle Cures Many Cases of Cancer

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE CHICAGO (AP) — A new radium-needle treatment is saving many people with bladder cancer, Dr. Raymond Darget of Bordeaux, France, reported today.

Radium-filled needles are put into the cancerous part of the bladder, to kill cancer with X-rays. A balloon inside the bladder, filled with lead solution, keeps the rays from damaging the healthy tissue of the bladder. This damage has been a serious drawback before in using radium.

As I See It

Ike's Bad Start

LOS ANGELES. — The U.S. presidential campaign still has almost two months to go. New issues and new trends can arise which could change the whole picture.

But at this moment, and from a Canadian observer's point of view, the outlook is anything but good for an Eisenhower victory. Ike has definitely lost ground since his nomination in July. Stevenson has just as clearly gained ground since his nomination a week later.

The two points on which Ike has lost most ground at home and abroad are these:

1. He has failed to repudiate Senator Joe McCarthy, but on the contrary implies he will support him if he again wins the Republican primary. McCarthy is the character assassin who carries his reckless charges even to the point of calling General George C. Marshall "a traitor."

2. He has taken up the Dulles program of promising to drive Russian Communist power out of eastern Europe and Asia by some unexplained process. (How else, than by war?) As this proposal was the very point in the Taft program which made observers in Britain and France so openly fearful of a Taft victory the overseas consequences are obvious.

Ike is personally trusted by almost all political elements in the NATO countries. But this adoption of the Dulles program by Ike was bound to have exactly the effect it did have. British and French papers have correctly concluded that Eisenhower has had to truckle to the extreme right wing in his own party in the hope of getting their active support in the campaign.

The British and French papers are not deciding this election in the U.S. But the same events that are compelling them (and even me) to change their minds about Ike are typical of what is working here too.

This state of California is one of the key states in the whole republic in this election. One expert tells me that had the Republicans got just one more vote in every precinct in California and Indiana in the 1948 election Dewey and not Truman would have won.

But the chances of the Republicans carrying California look pretty grim. Right now even the A.P. of L. is getting ready to come out openly for the Democrats—something that the right wing laborite organization has never done in these parts before. So far as I can discover, Ike's running mate — Senator Nixon — has little chance of helping him (Ike) get the fluctuating centre-ground vote which decides all elections.

TO SUM up this first survey on the election trends:

Ike seems to me to have fallen disastrously between two stools. His great asset was that he was immensely popular with all classes in all countries. If any Republican could gather in that vital middle slice of the vote—then Ike was the man to do it. So ran the argument.

But no sooner had Ike won the Republican nomination than he was faced with a sit down strike within the right wing of the party he had been elected to head. To re-activate them he has felt compelled to go away over to the right—where the independent vote simply won't follow him.

C-O-L - FALLS - The cost-of-living index declined by four-tenths of a point during July to 187.6 from 188.0, the Bureau of Statistics reports. The index rose during June and May following a four-month drop from the peak of 191.5 last December. Lower prices for some foods was the main factor in the decline. The dotted line shows the United States consumers' price index which reached an all-time high of 190.5 July 15. These indices measure percentage changes in prices in each country but should not be used to compare actual levels of prices between the two countries. (CP PHOTO)

Labor Feud Brews For National Convention

By JOHN LEBLANC Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The hottest feud in Canadian labor is due to explode for a couple of rough rounds this month.

The mauling scrap touches on the dual jobs of 71-year-old A. R. Mosher, president of the 350,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor and president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CBRE), Canada's biggest rail union.

The veteran labor chief is embroiled in a bitter fight within his own union—meeting in triennial convention here Sept. 15—and that battle will inevitably spill over into the CCL annual convention in Toronto a week later.

The CBRE tussle is between Mosher, founder of the union and its president for about 40 years, and James McGuire, long-time national secretary-treasurer, who was fired out of his office and out of the union on insubordination charges in March.

At the time the CBRE dropped him, McGuire was a member of the policy-directing executive of the Congress. The Congress promptly dropped him, too, on the ground he no longer was a union member.

McGuire now is carrying an appeal to the CBRE's "Grand Division," which meets every three years. His formal appeal calls only for his reinstatement, but he said today he will also renew at the convention a series of accusations against Mosher which he made public on March 28.

SLANDER SUIT The president has a slander suit lodged against McGuire concerning these charges.

The 54-year-old McGuire will be trying to unseat Mosher at the CBRE convention. In this, it was learned he receives some support from a number of branches that have sent in resolutions calling for a constitutional amendment to retire brotherhood officials at the age of 65. At present, they get a pension at that age but are not forced out.

Don Secord, secretary-treasurer of the CBRE since McGuire was expelled, refused today to confirm or deny that such resolutions have been sent in. However, other informants said they are to go before the convention and suggested leadership strategy will be to sidetrack their effect for the time by having them carried but only to take effect in 1955, the year of the next Grand Division meeting.

The whole struggle stems largely from the last convention of the CCL in Vancouver. There, Pat Conroy resigned as national secretary-treasurer and policy director because of a power play between opposing forces in the Congress.

For the coming convention, there is reported to be some quiet activity directed towards getting Mosher out of office. It got to the point where recently the organ of the big United Automobile Workers of America (CIO-CCL) disclaimed any part in this.

In Salvador, military men on active service have no right to vote.

Cubic Scale Ordered For B. C. Timber

VICTORIA (CP)—All B.C. Crown timber will be sold on the basis of cubic scale instead of board foot scale in future, Lands and Forest Minister R. E. Sommers said here.

The traditional measure applied to logs, continent wide, has been the board foot log scale which purports to predict the number of superficial board feet that a sawmill will recover from logs, the minister explained.

"No board foot log scale ever is accurate and the B.C. scale, constructed more than 50 years ago, is proving progressively more and more unreliable and inaccurate with changes in logging methods and the steady decrease in the size of logs," said Mr. Sommers.

Under the present conditions, he said, the log scale frequently is 69 per cent in error. Inaccurate log scale has about the same relation to timber transactions as an inaccurate weight scale would have in a grocery store, the minister said.

Sea Cadets Get Praise From Prime Minister

If the future Canadian Navy will be made up of the type of young men as those in Capt. Cook's Sea Cadets "there will be a marvellous representation of manhood."

That is the opinion of Canada's Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent who was "highly impressed" with his observation and inspection of Prince Rupert's Sea Cadet corps in the Navy drill hall Sunday.

While Training Officer Sub. Lt. Ed Daves put the corps through its paces, the young sailors aged 14-16 demonstrated the precision which they had accomplished by weeks of special training for the event.

The Sea Cadet guard of honor was also the pride of Lt. A. A. Ogilvie, commanding officer of the corps now in training for a little more than a year.

The entire Corps had worked hard for this moment, realizing they would be one of the few—if not the only—Sea Cadet guard of honor on the Prime Minister's visit to the province.

Some of the boys worked more than an hour on their boots, giving them a shine," said one officer. All of the Cadets must have put much effort on their footwear, for as they stood in straight lines, not moving a muscle, a twinkle of light winked back from each boot.

Mr. St. Laurent stopped to chat for a few seconds with several of the cadets, asked them what they thought of Navy life and told them:

Model T Clips Along At Easy 40

VANCOUVER — Henry G. Jahnsen, a 61-year-old adventurer from San Antonio, Texas, looked at his car today and told reporters:

"Got pretty good performance out of this car. We can breeze along up to 40 miles an hour on level road."

The car is a 1920 Model T Ford, an open air ancestor of today's chromium monstrosities.

Jahnsen and his 26-year-old travelling mate, Joe Sanz of Mexico City, breezed into Vancouver Thursday headed for Vancouver Island. He started his flyover-tour from San Antonio June 23.

Joe had covered 4,000 miles and wants to be back home for the November election so he can vote for Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate.

"By the way," he asked, "what you got up in these parts—Republicans?"

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Never Stake Everything On a Single Line of Play

Never stake everything on one line of play until you have made certain there isn't another line you contest without jeopardizing your first plan.

Mr. Abel spent all his time in today's deal worrying about how to play the club suit. Of course, he was under a strain, playing with Mr. Champion who had been yelling at him all during the rubber.

In any case, he did not give himself every chance for his contract. Mr. Dale opened the four of hearts and Mr. Masters' king was permitted to hold. The jack of hearts was returned and Mr. Abel had to win it.

He led a low club toward the dummy and Mr. Dale played the 10. Dummy's ace won and Mr. Abel went into the library. Was that 10 a singleton or had Mr. Dale started with the queen and 10 alone? There was another very real possibility.

Mr. Dale may have started with the 10 and a low club. He would play the 10 from that holding, hoping to talk Mr. Abel out of finessing the jack on the second club lead.

Mr. Abel finally decided to play Mr. Masters for the queen of clubs. He led back the eight from the board and let it ride. Mr. Dale won and rattled off enough heart tricks to defeat the contract.

Mr. Champion shook his head angrily. "Abel," he said, "you seem to have lost track of the basic fact that there are four suits in the deck."

"It was just a guess about the queen of clubs," replied Mr. Abel defensively.

"I am not asking you to drop lone queens," Mr. Champion continued. "I am merely asking you to play the hand right. Maybe you would have gone down playing it right, but at least you would have given yourself an extra chance."

Mr. Abel was flustered now and still didn't see the point. "Here's what I mean," went on Mr. Champion. "You thought only about the club suit. But what about spades? If the spade finesse is successful, you can win four spade tricks—enough for nine tricks in all."

"Well, why not play the ace and king of clubs first? If the queen drops, your problem is solved. If it doesn't, then go after the spades. Two chances instead of one seems like good sense to me."

Jockey Brings Home First Winner Riding 30 Years

By ALAN HARVEY
 Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Here's a persevering character: A British jockey who'd been riding for 30 years and began at 14 finally brought home his first winner at the ripe old age of 52.

"Yep, that's right, 52," George Cracknell grinned to reporters after his successful ride aboard a horse named Festival of Britain in a modest race at Lingfield, Surrey.

Up to that time Cracknell was known around the stables as the jockey who'd been riding for 30 years or more without a winner. In a way it was a slander. George had been around horses since that first ride 38 years ago, but he hadn't had many mounts.

His best year was 1946. He got up to second that year on War Hero and almost got credit for a third on Woodmer Park at Windsor. Getting that close was so unusual for Cracknell that he neglected to weigh in and was disqualified from third place.

WINNER AT 20-1
 Festival of Britain just scraped home. Idle Fanny was a length behind and Marihana, third, only a short head away in the 1 1/4-mile race. As befits a jockey's first winner in 38 years of riding, Festival of Britain paid the handsome price of 20-1.

The winning owner, aluminum magnate Jabez Barker, threw a champagne party to celebrate Cracknell's patient success in proving that all things come to jockeys who wait.

Apart from such racing rarities as that one, the summer season has provided little high-class sport. It's the same every year, large because of the hard going that prevails in July and August. Owners won't risk their best animals when the course is like concrete and the result has been limited fields that take the tang out of racing.

Some of the sharper critics on the racing journals think that the old British bugaboo, too much tradition, makes things a lot worse than they need to be. These experts say it's about time the racing programs at the summer meetings were revamped to provide more events for four-year-olds. Something should also be done, they say, to cut down the number of races for which entries must be made years in advance.

Whatever the reason, racing has been extremely dull. When the York meeting opened Aug. 15, with its slate of high-class races, horsemen and writers breathed a large sigh of relief. The highlight of the meeting, probably, was the narrow victory of the Queen's Aureole, already touted as a possible derby winner next year, and the triumph of Jack Gerber's filly Bebe Grande, which staved off the previously unbeaten whistler in the six-furlong Gimcrack stakes, a famous British race for two-year-olds.

MEDAL MARKSMAN—George Genereux, 17-year-old sharpshooter who brought Canada its only gold medal at the summer Olympics, shows his dad, an eye-nose-throat specialist, his winning form in their Saskatoon home. The six foot, three-inch marksman started shooting when he was 12 and collected awards when he was 13. He used to accompany his father on shooting trips where he acquired a liking for the feel of a big scatter gun and the thrill of accurate shooting. (CP PHOTO)

Sonja took the test with five American girls and was the only one to achieve the medal. She was awarded the Canadian Gold Medal a year ago. Her tutor at Denver, Eugene

IMPRESSIVE RECORD—George Genereux, 17, of Saskatoon has been winning awards and trophies consistently for his remarkable sharp-shooting since he was 13. At that age he won the Manitoba-Baskatchewan Junior Championship and repeated the next three seasons. Last year at Vandalla, Ohio, he won the junior championship at the Grand American Shoot, mecca of all sharpshooters. He was the first Canadian to win a major competition there. He climaxed his record by winning Canada's only gold medal at the summer Olympics at Helsinki. (CP Photo)

Mueller's 11th Hour Double Gives Giants Twin Bill Split

NEW YORK.—Don Mueller's double down the left field foul line with two out and runners on first and second in the last half of the ninth inning scored Hank Thompson from second and gave the New York Giants a 3-2 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers Monday night and split in their day-night twin bills. Dodgers won the first game.

The second game triumph pulled Giants back to within five games of the National League leading Dodgers. Sal Maglie, coming back in relief after being knocked off the hill, stifled a Dodger rally in the seventh and hurled three scoreless innings to receive credit for the victory. It was his 15th victory of the season and his sixth over Brooklyn.

The double header made up the only games scheduled in the major leagues.

LONDON (CP)—Film star Paul-ette Goddard gave London's jewel-conscious women something to think about. She wore a diamond brooch made in the shape of her own lips—with pearls for teeth.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The length of time between sunset and pitch darkness doesn't mean a great deal to the average person and there is no reason that it should. However, if you are thinking of running a tennis tournament it is a very good thing to know.

If there is going to be a really nasty incident in the course of a tournament, chances are it will arise when some player who is ahead in the deciding set wants to keep on playing and his opponent claims he no longer can see to hit the ball. The decision always is a tricky one for the referee, but he can at least make an intelligent stab at the right answer if he knows his twilight.

There is a man here, a retired naval engineer named Edward O. Cutler, who can take up a few tools and tell you at exactly what minute the sun will go down at any spot in the world on any given day in the year. Also he can tell you when it will become necessary to light the lamps.

Every year before the National championships begin, he sits down and draws up a chart showing precisely what the light conditions will be in the West Side Tennis Club stadium minute by minute for the 10 days of play.

With his trusty chart at hand the official referee knows for example that the sun will duck behind the Metropolitan Hills today at exactly 6:24 (EST); that at 6:32 it will be necessary to halt play, and that at 3:52 it will be as dark as the inside of a mule's stomach.

Thus armed the referee is able to plan ahead. When things threaten to get sticky in an important match he simply strolls out stiff legged and advises the umpire when to call it off right on the dot. This takes the umpire off the spot and forestalls a lot of arguments.

Cutler has been providing the chart as a hobby ever since 1939, when there was the granddaddy of a row about playing the final set of a match between Frank Guernsey of this country and Ferenc Puncce of Yugoslavia. The system's only weakness, as Cutler readily admits, is that all bets are off on a cloudy day.

TO TOUR CANADA—The United Church of Canada's "Exposition Van" will tour major centres in Canada during the next two years with what is called the largest exhibition any church has ever put "on the road." Opening in Hamilton Sept. 12, to coincide with Church General Council meeting there, the exposition, which took a year to prepare, will feature movies, exhibits, speakers and a 2½-hour pageant. The van carries a team of five under Rev. Arthur Kewley of Toronto. Aim of the exposition is to "take the church to the people, wherever they are," with a supplementary goal of recruiting 1,000 volunteers for full-time missionary work in Canada and abroad. Ex-Headhunters May Fight Red Guerillas

By WILLIAM PARROTT

KUCHING, Sarawak (Reuters)—A "state of emergency" now has been declared in this British colony in north-west Borneo to deal with Communist terrorists.

But the terrorists here have little chance of repeating their successes in Malaya where for four years they have kept British and Malayan troops busy fighting a hit-and-run, guerilla war against an enemy they seldom see.

Here the jungle and former headhunters are against them. Unlike Malaya, the jungle in Sarawak does not offer the hospitality of the Malayan forests from which forays for food, supplies and information may be made by convenient tracks and roads to nearby villages and towns.

In Sarawak, vast stretches of the jungle are trackless. There are few roads, and only a handful of large towns.

In Sarawak, too, where the Communist movement has so far proved to be entirely Chinese in character, the jungle is mostly controlled by sea Dyaks who are barely tolerant of the Sarawak Chinese as is, and would need little encouragement to start a campaign of their own against them.

The possibility of using these lusty warriors against Chinese terrorists is, in fact, receiving serious attention from the authorities. But the authorities fear that the sea Dyaks might wage an anti-terrorist campaign too enthusiastically and show little discrimination about the political principles of the Chinese attacked.

They also fear that the sea Dyaks might, at the slightest provocation, revert to their traditional head-hunting practices. There are other reasons why Communist terrorists, whatever their race, might not have the successes in Sarawak that they have achieved in Malaya.

For one thing, the essentially Agrarian industries in Sarawak are less vulnerable to Communist influence than in Malaya, where it had been possible to disorganize labor.

Sarawak does not provide the "ammunition" for Communist propagandists which more developed territories do.

The many races that compose

Sarawak's population of about 600,000 are, by and large, contented with their lot and have no serious economic problems.

Nor are there any important grievances against the government which could be used to stir up unrest.

No Atom Bombs in Russia Says New York Engineer

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Reporter

Chicago (AP)—"I don't believe Russia has one single atom bomb," Carlton S. Proctor, prominent New York engineer who has worked in Russia, said today.

"I think every one of the atomic explosions in Russia was just a premature explosion in an effort to produce a bomb."

Proctor is president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, one of 64 engineering societies celebrating a Centennial of Engineering opening today.

He gave his views on Russia during an interview telling of U.S. engineers' vast accomplishments in the last 100 years.

(The White House has announced three atomic explosions in Russia, referring to the second one as "another atomic bomb" without amplifying further. Other sources have estimated Russia has a stockpile of 100 or many more A-bombs by now.)

Proctor said it takes teamwork and co-operation to make an A-bomb work, and that Russians don't trust each other.

Such co-operation, he said, "is essentially impossible in Russia or any other totalitarian state. There is no possibility of one man trusting another and integrating his efforts with any other man."

In 1930, Proctor worked on building Russia's second-largest dam at Svirstroy, east of Leningrad. In the First World War he was an army engineer, building the Persian corridor road from the Indian Ocean to funnel supplies to Russia.

"The Russians have no confidence in their own engineers," he said, "and I have never met a Russian engineer who was a Communist who was any good."

Soviet jet planes are good, "but the Russians got the practical end of how to build them from Germans whom they took over."

"The Russians have brilliant physicists and mathematicians, brilliant purely in theory. In jet propulsion, they are probably ahead of us in theory. But theory alone doesn't produce an A-bomb, or an army, or morale."

New "Long Liners" For Gaspe Fishing

QUEBEC — Picturesque but not-too-safe fishing smacks that dot Gaspe Peninsula waters will soon be replaced by 40-ton high-powered vessels costing $22,500 each.

The vessels, designed for long line cod fishing, are 55½ feet long and are powered by six-cylinder, 105-horsepower diesel engines. They'll be offered to fishermen on the instalment plan without interest.

Quebec newspaper men were treated to a ride recently on the sleek, green and white Saïda, prototype of others that went into production Sept. 1 at a Gaspe shipyard.

The vessel, tested in 1951 at provincial government stations, is equipped with ship-to-shore and ship-to-ship radio telephones, direction finders and modern sounding apparatus.

Its 15-foot beam and five-foot draught enables easy coasting in shallow Gaspe bays. The motor burns four gallons of crude oil an hour. It carries 80 gallons of fresh water.

It is called a "long liner" because it plays out a line with 8,000 baited hooks which can be hauled in by a winch. A 48-foot vessel, similar to the "long liner," is being designed for fishermen preferring to net their cod.

But fisherfolk in Gaspe prefer long line fishing and Dr. Arthur Labrie, deputy minister of Quebec's department of fisheries, said he hopes to sell 10 "long liners" a year.

The federal government will pay $6,600 on each vessel, the fisherman will make a down payment of $3,500 and give the provincial government 13 per cent of his yearly catch until the remaining $12,400 is paid. Already 40 ships are on order.

Partly Maimed Woman Turns In Fire Alarm

VANCOUVER — A partially-paralyzed woman crawled up a flight of stairs to warn tenants Sunday night when a fire broke out in an apartment building here.

Firemen said 25-year-old Mary McIntyre sounded the first warning to persons living on the second floor of Beach Park Lodge on suburban Cornwell Street.

There were two casualties, a man and wife Robert Kerr was overcome by smoke and his wife was burned about the arms.

Miss McIntyre, paralyzed on her left side escaped through a bathroom window to the roof of an adjoining garage with Lieut. Art Bird and his wife and Mrs. Bird's mother, Mrs. M. Seager of Edmonton.

IT WAS SHOCKING!

Where do your children bank?

Many of our customers are youngsters—thrift-minded and conscientious—who visit BNS branch offices regularly to make savings deposits. We've always tried to make a special effort to serve these young Canadians who are investing in their own and Canada's future.

When your children start saving with BNS, it's the beginning of a lifetime partnership. And you will be surprised at how quickly this partnership grows. Not only does regular saving lead to a secure future, but the simple banking principles learned are also of value.

Next time you visit the bank, bring the young members of your family with you. Our staff will be glad to greet them and help them start a savings account.
