FIRE DESTROYS LARGE PART OF BURNS LAKE: ROYAL BANK IS SAVED

Fire Wipes Out Large Part of Burns Lake This Morning Many Business Houses Suffer

Worked Until They Dropped in Efforts to Save Royal Bank and other Buildings

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $75,000

Bank Manager had to be Carried from the Building: Other Buildings Endangered

BURNS LAKE, Mar. 18.—A large part of the business section of Burns Lake was destroyed by fire this morning entailing a loss of many thousands of dollars. The fire started about 10 o'clock supposedly in Robb's hardware store and taking the general store, the O. K. Cafe, the Post Office, the Municipal Telegraph Office and the drug store.

After a vigorous fight the fire was at ten o'clock still raging pretty well under control. The Royal Bank building was damaged but it was thought it could be saved. Other buildings in the town it is thought will be saved.

(Special to Daily News)

BURNS LAKE, Mar. 18. (Noon)—Fire this morning completely destroyed the G. B. Robb hardware, Fred Aslin, general merchandise, the O. K. Cafe, the Post Office, government telegraph, office and drug store buildings. Only by the extraordinary efforts of men under the direction of Constable Percy Carr was the splendid building of the Royal Bank saved. Willing workers on the roofs and inside the building were in constant danger of the roof collapsing.

All the teams in the city were put into the fire fighting service for hauling water. Men worked until they fell from sheer exhaustion. The plucky bank manager, John Yool, had to be carried away from the building.

The Omicron Hotel and Imeson Store were for a time in danger but both were untouched. The fire originated in the Robb hardware store between 7:30 and 8 a.m. Mr. Robb and Andrew Anderson first noticed the fire and they gave the alarm. The chemical fire engine was immediately put into service by Anderson but was ineffective as the fire had too big a start.

It is estimated here that the total damage will amount to about $75,000.

MacNeil, the government telegrapher, removed the instruments and records and temporary quarters were quickly established in the forestry office. BIRTH

A daughter was born at the Prince Rupert General Hospital on March 18, to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fowler of Terrace.

TOKIO, March 18.—Another big fire is raging in Tokio. Fanned by a gale, the conflagration is sweeping over the city causing great confusion. The firemen, hampered by lack of water, are helpless. Troops are tearing down houses in an effort to isolate the burning district while thousands of people, laden with their household goods, are fleeing for safety.

TOKIO, March 18 (later)—Twenty thousand people were rendered homeless by a fire which swept the northeastern section of the city, destroying three thousand buildings and resulting in casualties, the number of which it is at present impossible to estimate. EDMONTON, Mar. 18.—Smallpox has mysteriously broken out in the city, one case having been recently admitted to the Isolation hospital. Several doctors are said to have seen the case and are satisfied that it is smallpox.

Premier MacKenzie King Out in Defense of Contract with Peteresen in House of Commons

OTTAWA, Mar. 18.—Premier Mackenzie King announced in the House of Commons that the government is willing to make a contract with any steamship company in Canada similar to the contract with the Petersen lines if they are prepared to give a like return. "We are prepared to make it with the C.P.R. on identical lines with the Petersen contract," the premier said, if the C.P.R. is prepared; as Sir William Petersen has done, to give us control over the ocean routes.

Mr. King said the object of the government scheme was to insure that on at least half the trade between Canada and the Old Country the rates should be controlled, not by a combine with headquarters in New York but by the government of Canada.

Referring to the efforts to secure a reduction in rates on cattle, Premier King said it was because the government found it impossible to get co-operation from Canadian shipowners that they took the further step they did with Sir William Petersen.

FREE SILVER AT VICTORIA

Bear River Property Shows the Ore That Will Make Miners Rich

MACHINERY GOING IN

Stewart is going to be a wonderful camp, according to Gus Seiffert, who returned yesterday from a visit to the property of the Emperor Mines Ltd. of which he is president. Mr. Seiffert says that just as he was leaving word was brought by Harry Toomey of the Victoria Mines that they have struck free silver and argente ore on their property. This is the ore that everyone is looking for in that district. It is in the same mountain as the Emperor, on Glacier Creek.

Just now there is at the dock at Stewart 150 tons of machinery, about 60 tons of which is going in on the snow to the Emperor. Other machinery is to be delivered in the district before the snow goes.

One feature which is interesting in connection with the development of the mines on the Bear River is the fact that most of development has been done by British Columbia capital. The mines are owned chiefly in Victoria and Vancouver and there is some Prince Rupert cash invested there. Mr. Seiffert thinks they will all make money.

Japanese Ambassador Says His Country Hopes Problem Will Come up Again

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18.—Thunoo Matsudaira, the new Japanese ambassador to the United States, denies reports that he received instructions before leaving Tokyo to reopen the immigration question. JAPANESE AT SKEENA CITY LOSES HOME

Fire Destroys Building in Absence of Mr. and Mrs. Sasaki on Visit

SPORT, Mar. 18.—The house of S. Sasaki was burned at Skeena City last night. It is not known how the fire originated but it was probably the result of an overheated wood heater.

Mr. Sasaki had just returned from a visit to Japan and had brought home some valuable property. Mr. Sasaki says the total loss is about $3,000. He is the owner of a sawmill at Skeena City and the mouth of the Khyex which is operating on a scale.

Mr. and Mrs. Sasaki were in the evening with some friends and returned to find their home almost completely destroyed and too late to recover any property.

SUIT AGAINST GENERAL MCRAE

Miner of Mines Carries on His Suit by Filing Statement

VANCOUVER, Mar. 18.—A report of claim has been filed in the libel suit begun by William Sloan against General McRae, in which Sloan asks for damages for libel in the Provincial publication that Sloan received $50,000 from the P.G.E. factors.

The Royal Commission in the Sloan case, Mr. Justice Galligher, the commissioner expressly exonerated Sloan of the charge that he seeks damages from General McRae, who was one of the parties to the document.

A World's Leap In The Dark.

On this page is an outline of the 21 articles of the famous Protocol which Britain recently refused to accept. Before Britain's action some of her writers had been urging that she refuse to become a party to it. J. L. Garvin, the famous journalist, writing in the London Observer, said:

This is the astonishing scheme which has staggered faith in Geneva as now conducted. Grandiose, logical, and futile, the thing is like a plan of the Abbe Sieyes for the government of the world. "Arbitration, Disarmament, and Security" become blessed words and sounding incantations with no more relevance to fact than had "Liberte, Egalite, Fraternite" in the French Revolution. Every principle declared in the document is perverted to the opposite in practice. The document is stamped all over by the military and Continental mentality of Paris and Prague. It ignores the conditions of the English-speaking world, and bears no trace of the English-speaking mind. Utterly overmatched, the British delegation was a cipher in the decisions which framed this contrivance. It commits the British Empire at its own glaring peril—and with a lion's share in nothing but loans and expense—to the unlimited task of helping one half of Europe to hold down the other half. We are invited to engage beyond recall all we have and are in the egregious enterprise of trying to crystallise unchangeably the status quo of 1919 and stereotype for ever the Versailles map of Europe.

Two Distinct Views On Protocol.

Good judges differ; qualified doctors disagree. Amendment is difficult; delay lucky inevitable. We must all set ourselves to think it out. For if we will not think it right out with thoroughness of mind and some patience with each other, not only will there be no chance for this Protocol as it unfortunately stands, but there may be no chance afterwards for a reconstructed Protocol or for a general agreement of any kind. There are two views. One regards the Protocol as a big, solid plan of peace, enabling all nations to know where they stand. The other view regards the scheme as a world's leap in the dark with consequences abysmally different from all that Geneva desires. We are ourselves convinced, after studying the new Covenant forward and backwards again and again, that the Protocol in practice would be fatal, either to the League or to peace, but more probably to both. In our judgment it spoils good principles by impracticable methods; introduces some bad principles under specious names; and represents a forced interpretation of the original Covenant—straining the letter that killeth and stifling the spirit that was the life. Let us see on what plain counts this criticism is supported.

Absolutely Abolishes National Sovereignty.

The Protocol absolutely abolishes national sovereignty and self-government over the supreme issues of life and death, judgment and conscience; not to speak of Parliamentary disposition of our goods as well as blood. The issues of peace and war would be taken out of the hands of King and Parliament. In circumstances impossible to foresee, we might be summoned to wage a war we thought mad or bad; and a single vote at Geneva could prevent us from making peace when we wished, however stiff and ruinous we might think the prolongation of conflict. This means the extinction of Parliamentary Government and electoral control as regards the greatest purposes for which representative institutions have hitherto existed. The women's vote, for instance, would no longer have any real influence on the choice between war and peace. Under the new system our destinies would be removed far from our own management. The House of Commons in a crisis would be the fifth wheel to the international coach. The Foreign Office would be a secondary and subordinate institution not only in a crisis, but at all times. Under Article 11 especially, our Budget would have to be framed, taxes levied, "credits" given—a euphemism for lost loans—in accordance with a policy automatically decided abroad. As our policy would be pooled, our whole finance would be subject.

The Council would have power to call upon this country to place at disposal its navy, shipping, army, air force; and likewise its financial and commercial resources. We would be bound to make "provision of raw materials and supplies of every kind"; of credits, transport and transit for all and sundry; while preserving the safety of sea-communications in the interest of any attacked and threatened State. As we said last week, it is quite certain that there would be an irresistible temptation to throw upon this country far more of the burthen and the cost than any other people would risk; and that various other nations would be encouraged to go to war at our expense.

Cannot Afford To Make Plunge.

Nothing on earth will induce any self-governing community in the English-speaking world to plunge blindly into these immeasurable and bottomless engagements. Flatly, we can no longer afford it. Bluntly, we will never do it. The product of people who know nothing of the English-speaking world and will drive the whole of it out of the League if they are not more thoughtful, the Protocol on the point of Parliamentary sanction is as dead as Tutankhamen. No amended instrument will ever be accepted unless amended to the point of recognising that the Governments and Parliaments of the British Empire, like those of the United States, shall maintain their absolute control of their own supreme matters, their just influence upon the affairs of the world, and shall determine in accordance with their own judgment of the circumstances arising, whether the cause is just or unjust, wise or unwise, and whether they shall go to war or not. In our time supernational sovereignty will never be transferred to the League, which was intended by the original Covenant to be an international medium of Voluntary Co-operation, and at this stage can only break itself by attempting an over-riding supremacy. Geneva must ask, not order. The Mother of Parliaments and those world-spread legislatures, her offspring, will weigh and decide. Our grave, unescapable commitments, like the historic guarantee of Belgium or the possible guarantee of France, including Alsace-Lorraine, must be simple, necessary, few; deliberately contracted and universally intelligible.

The Peace Protocol

Complete Outline of 21 Articles Included Under Famous Document Recently Rejected by Great Britain

Telegraphic despatches give only a short outline of what is contained in the famous protocol of peace and security which Great Britain rejected at the recent session of the League of Nations and which has given rise to a great deal of discussion. A further and more complete summary is now to hand and will prove interesting to those who study world affairs. It contains 21 articles, all of which are summarized in the following:

Preamble—The main objects are "to ensure the maintenance of general peace and the security of nations whose existence, independence or territories may be threatened." Upon the basis of a mutual guarantee by the signatories of their security and possessions, arbitration is to be enforced in all disputes and disarmament promoted.

Article 1—The signatories make a binding agreement that the Assembly and Council of the League shall have full power to wield the supreme international authority conferred.

2—No war, except as ordered by the League "in case of resistance to acts of aggression," or in other circumstances held by the League to be a grave threat to security.

3—The jurisdiction of the World Court at The Hague made compulsory to an extent defined.

4—Frames procedure for the peaceful settlement of all disputes whatever; and for the coercion of any resisting State.

5—The Hague Court may over-ride, or the League may otherwise challenge, the contention of any state that a matter in dispute is solely within that state's domestic jurisdiction.

6—When and how the assembly may mediate and decide instead of the Council.

7—During any process of pacific settlement no disputant state shall increase its armaments nor take any measure of "industrial or economic mobilization." Any state judged by a two-thirds majority of the Council to have violated this provision, may be declared outlawed and subject to war.

8—Any signatory state may accuse any other state of "preparation for war." If the charge is held by a two-thirds majority of the Council to be well founded, the accused shall be ordered to discontinue preparation on pain of outlawry and coercive war as in article 7.

9—Disputed zones like the Rhineland may be demilitarised and placed temporarily or permanently under the sovereignty of the League.

10—(a) "Aggressors," against whom all other signatories shall combine are those who violate the Protocol by resorting to hostilities or infringing the rules laid down for a demilitarised zone like the Rhineland; or increasing armaments during the League's efforts for pacific settlement; or refusing to comply with an arbitral or judicial decision.

(b) "Domestic Questions"—In the event of hostilities breaking out, no state shall be deemed an aggressor if it has previously submitted to the League any question which another state has maintained to be solely within its domestic jurisdiction. [For instance, on the question of Asiatic migration the United States or Australia or South Africa might be "presumed to be an aggressor" if they had repelled the interference of the League in that issue; while Japan or China or (in the future) India having invoked the League would be non-aggressors in any event.]

11—When called upon by the Council to act against an aggressor all signatories shall cooperate "loyally and effectively" in measures of war to the degree allowed by their "geographical good except as expressly modified by the Protocol.

20—"Any dispute as to the interpretation of the present Protocol shall be submitted to the Permanent Court of International Justice."

21—The Protocol shall not come into force until a plan for the reduction of armaments has been adopted by the Conference contemplated in Article 17; and if, within such period as the said Conference shall fix, the adopted plan for the reduction of armaments has not been carried out, the Protocol shall be null and void.

The big log carrying barge Binghamon has left Smith's Inlet for Vancouver after having loaded one million feet of logs, mostly cedar, taken out by hand loggers at Smith's Inlet.

Passengers sailing last night for Vancouver on the steamer Camosun included E. Hanson, W. S. Fisher, A. Pringle, G. H. West, Mrs. J. Gray, B. L. Tingley, W. D. Vance, H. Harris and G. Langman.

C.N.R. steamer Prince George, Capt. Harry Neiden, from Vancouver and waypoints, is due to arrive on time at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Her passenger list includes 25 persons who will go east from here by train.

TOSSED COINS TO DECIDE ON COSTS

Other Instances of Tossing in Order to Settle Disputes

LONDON, Mar. 18.—In the Chancery Court on Thursday a coin was tossed to decide whether plaintiffs should have as costs £300 (heads) or £100 (tails), and tails won. It is a procedure unusual in a court of justice, but on other occasions the impartiality of the spinning coin has been found useful.

When in 1908 Lord Ashdown and Lord Faunham secured an equal number of votes as representative peers for Ireland, the Clerk of Parliaments tossed for it, as required by the Act of the Union, and the lot fell to Lord Ashdown. Again, it is only a few years since the immemorial breach between the three branches of the Clan Macdonald was healed on the understanding that when any question of precedence arose the matter should be settled by loss of coin.

Even matters of life and death have been settled in this manner. A New York jury, trying the case of a tramway driver who had run over a girl, tossed up for the verdict. The judge, however, heard of it, and they were severely fined. But perhaps the oddest of all uses of the spun coin was when the Maréchal d'Estree and the Abbe Dessial tossed up to decide who was to have the honor of being considered the father of the first son of Ninon de l'Enclos.

NAKEDNESS ALLOWED BUT NOT HYGIENIC

Commissar for Peoples' Health Takes Opposite View to Soviet

PRAGUE, Mar. 18.—A report from Moscow tells of an amusing but interesting experiment made by eight members of the Communist Youth Movement—four youths and four girls. These young people, so the story goes, recently appeared in the streets of Moscow in broad daylight in the costume of Adam and Eve, merely wearing blood-red sashes bearing the bold legend: "Away with Shame." Naturally, the appearance of the young people caused a great deal of excitement among the general public, and when they inadvertently tried to board a tramcar there was a scene, and the police were called in.

It was discovered, however, that the "revolutionaries of naked culture" had a full written permission from the Moscow Soviet to appear in this manner. But the Commissar for Peoples' Health, Semaschko, does not look with a kindly eye on such extravagances, and declares that it is by no means hygienic to wander about the main streets of a capital unclothed.

NOW that St. Patrick's Day is over and properly celebrated let us try to get back to normal once more.

While they have been having terrible weather conditions in the East for this season of the year, we have been enjoying a salubrious climate and possibly should send a message of commiseration to the prairie folks at their ill fortune. Now all together, let us commiserate!

IT seems about time some statistician figures out how much the rain is worth to Prince Rupert.

And green stuff covered her hat.

She tagged on to a man

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

March 18, 1915.

The St. Patrick's concert in the Westholme Theatre last night was as usual successful both from the standpoint of entertainment provided and the size of the audience that enjoyed it. Those taking part in the program included the Westholme Orchestra, Principal J. C. Brady, Mr. Evans, Mrs. Scott, Miss Muriel Patmore, J. Roche, Mrs. Chisholm, Mr. Duffy, Mrs. Brady, Mrs. Hemmell, Sergeant Eddy, Miss Nauman, W. H. Fortin and Mr. Oram.

The sailing yacht Adventuress, known here through visits made in the past to the port, picked up a floating mine off the Golden Gate at San Francisco. The discovery caused a sensation.

Consequent on the decision of the legislature to split Prince Rupert district in two creating the new riding of Omineca, the boundaries in the north are being redefined. The eastern boundary of Prince Rupert district will be at Kitwanga.

See the Historic St. Lawrence

on your voyage to Europe!

To residents of North America no river in the world embraces such wealth of historic romance as the mighty St. Lawrence.

Up its great waters, the brave pioneers of New France travelled on their voyages of discovery and settlement—the renowned Jacques Cartier to found the city of Montreal, nine hundred miles from the sea; the courageous La Salle on his long journey to the Mississippi; the gallant Champlain to found Quebec; the devout Recollet Fathers on their missions to the Indians.

Travelling on the St. Lawrence Route to Europe one starts at Montreal and for two or three days the beauties and historic features of the river pass before one in an entrancing panorama. To view them adds immeasurably to the pleasure of the overseas voyage.

GOOD SEASON AT ALICE ARM

Mining Prospects Look Better Than They Have for Some Years says Government Official

Prospects for mining development in the Alice Arm district look brighter this season than they have for some years states
George A. Young, road superintendent for Allin district, who arrived in the city from the north last night.

The most important factor in again bringing into the limelight the mineral wealth in the Kitsault River valley has been the Toric mine near the Dolly Varden on which a rich strike was made last fall. Development work is being carried on by the Homestake Mining Co. and the further it advances the better
the showings seem to be. T.
Tavener, superintendent of operations, came down to Alice Arm this week with a report that a further five foot vein of good ore had been encountered. Some beautiful samples of high grade silver ore have been taken off the property.

A reorganization of the Esperanza mine, close to Alice Arm, is now in progress and it is the intention to put a small mill on the property and possibly a short tram to the railway grade.

The Abbotsford Logging Co. is resuming logging operations at Alice Arm this season and already has enough logs in the water to fill the six million foot order it has received from the Prince Rupert sawmill.

being transferred to Burns Lake.

J. E. Kirby, the chairman, on behalf of the Trustees thanked Mr. Martin for the excellent progress made during his term as scout master, and also drew attention to his willingness to help his fellow citizens whenever an opportunity presented. At the conclusion of his remarks he presented Mr. Martin with an address signed by all the Trustees as an appreciation of his good work.

Patrol leader Jiggs Graham on behalf of the boys then presented their retiring scout master with a watch and chain as a token of appreciation of his guidance and tuition.

Mr. Martin in a few well chosen words thanked those present for the farewell tendered him, and then handed over to Jiggs Graham his warrant and badges, this step being approved of by the Trustees, who authorized that Jiggs act as Scoutmaster until further action is taken.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IS CELEBRATED BY LADIES OF SMITHERS

Shamrock Tea and Sale of Home
Cooking in Catholic Hall
Yesterday

SMITHERS, Mar. 18. — The
Shamrock Tea and sale of Home
Cooking held by the Catholic Ladies' Aid in their hall on Tuesday, St. Patrick's Day, was a most pleasant affair, and those in charge are to be congratulated on their efforts to make it such a success.

The weather was ideal and there was a good attendance of patrons for the tea room and booth. Mrs. J. A. Macdonald was convenor of committee in charge of the event and was assisted by Mrs. H. Thompson as overseer of the Home-cooking booth, and Mrs. J. Carr, Mrs. Duff and Mrs.
T. Dunlop in charge of the tea room, with several of the older Sunday school girls acting as waiters.

NEW MISSIONARY WELCOMED TO NAAS RIVER BY NATIVES

Splendid Music at Communion Service at Greenville Indian Church

GREENVILLE, Mar. 18. — During the winter the Greenville Choir has done excellent work, keeping interest in the Sunday services by their singing and oratorical work.

On Sunday, March 8, they welcomed their new missionary, the Rev. A. J. Wright, who held communion service in the morning, about 30 communicants participating, and in the evening a full choral service was held, the choir rendering two anthems,
"Xavier My God to Thee" and
"The Messiah's Coming." The organist, Fred McKay, has trained the choir to do good work.
Their newly appointed conductor, Charles McNeil, is also a clever violinist and a musician of great merit. The singing was a credit to any choir, and was much appreciated by the large congregation assembled. This is Mr. Wright's first visit to this point since taking charge
at Kincolith in November.

The Sunshine group of claims in the Glacier Creek section of the Portland Canal district, which was bonded last fall by Jack Pederson, is to be developed this season by a syndicate organized by Mr. Pederson and one of the best known in the district, and samples of the ore with their native silver and argentine, are among the "show specimens" of the camp.

The property consists of four claims adjoining the L. & L.
Glacier Creek mine on the east.
A considerable amount of development has already been done on the property by the original owners, Godfrey Anderson and Fred Young of Stewart, and the Granby Consolidated Company, which had it under bond for a short time three years ago.

FINDS LARGEST SKELETON IN WHOLE WORLD

Manitoba Scientist Digs up Dinosaur in Africa Twenty Feet High

Herds of Giant Reptiles Believed to Have Wandered Over Country

WINNIPEG, Mar. 18.—Professor W. F. Cutler of the faculty of the University of Manitoba, now leading a research expedition in British East Africa, has found the largest dinosaur skeleton, according to word received in Winnipeg.

Prof. Cutler's scientific explorations are being conducted on behalf of the British museum, near Tendaguru, 60 miles north of Lindi, in Africa, where German scientists before the war found specimens of skeletons of gigantic pre-historic reptiles.

Prof. Cutler left Winnipeg about ten months ago, going first to England and sailing from there to Africa. He had as chief assistant J. S. B. Jeaky, a Kenya-born Cambridge student, who preceded him to Africa to handle the transport and make general arrangements for the expedition.

Mr. Jeaky has now returned to London with specimens, photographs and the story of the results to date.

Prof. Cutler's party took up the exploration work of the German scientists, and members of the group are of the opinion that the field of research at Lindi has only been touched by earlier efforts.

DON'T LET YOUR BOWELS GET CONSTIPATED

A free motion of the bowels every day should be the rule of every one who aspires to perfect health, for once the bowels become constipated and clogged up, all the other organs of the body become deranged.

Keep Your Bowels Regular by Using

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

They will clear away all the effete and poisonous matter which has collected in the system, give you a free, easy and natural motion of the bowels every day, start the sluggish liver working, and give tone and vitality to the whole intestinal tract.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are for sale at all druggists and dealers; put up only by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

graphs and the story of the results to date.

Prof. Cutler's party took up the exploration work of the German scientists, and members of the group are of the opinion that the field of research at Lindi has only been touched by earlier efforts.

Millions Years Old

The dinosaur skeleton is believed to be between eight and ten million years old. It had a probable height of twenty feet and an estimated length of eighty feet. A shoulder blade, the largest bone so far unearthed, measured 74 inches across, and needed sixteen men to lift it. A femur measuring 65 inches and a tibia 54 inches are among the other bones reclaimed.

The presence of the giant reptiles at the spot at Tendaguru is attributed to drowning. The subsoil is soft clay. In long forgotten ages, Prof. Cutler believes, these giants wandered in herds along the sea coast. Now and again one would step into clay too yielding for such a large animal, sink and smother to death.

Prof. Cutler before he undertook the expedition was laboratory assistant at the geological branch of the Manitoba University. He first came into prominence through his discoveries of fossil vertebrae in the Red River Valley.

ASK BUFFALO FOR PARK IN MANITOBA

WINNIPEG, Mar. 18.—Application for the establishment of a buffalo park in Manitoba, either directly under the control of the National Park Commission or by the gift of an embryo herd to an organization that would open a park, is being sought by the Old Timers' and Lord Seikirk Associations.

A petition has been prepared for submission to the federal authorities at Ottawa. The interested organizations are asking for the concession as a step toward a plan aiming at the preservation of historical features of the western plains.

MOOSE LADIES TAKE FORTY DOLLARS AT THEIR TEA AND SALE

"For Sale"

A page of real life. A photo-play which depicts the modern auction block. Just as in ages of the past, women of today are sold to the highest bidder. Then it was frankly called slavery—today it is the struggle for money and social position. Father and mother are the auctioneers, the eligible, rich men of society the bidders. Under the plea of marrying well, girls are literally offered for sale. Everyone should see this startling indictment of modern slavery cloaked in the garments of respectability. Superb dresses and settings. Excellent scenes of Paul Ellis, Tully Marshall, John Patrick, Mary Carr, Vera Reynolds, Christine Mayo and others.
