Airplane Left Today in Search of Gold in Rivers of North B.C.

Big Vickers Viking flying boat, carrying prospectors, is very costly to operate

Its 350 horse power Napier Lyon motor giving forth a steady drone and its silver wings glinting in occasional bursts of the sun's rays, the big Vickers flying boat, which will carry Archibald Little, Detroit mining engineer, to the Cassiar gold fields, hopped off this morning at 11:30 for the north winging its way through the clouds that hung northward over Mount Robson. Thus began the first voyage of an airplane to a gold campsite and one could not but reflect on the march of human inventiveness which has now made it possible for men to fly in

In the first three rounds Berlenbach was master but from the fourth to the seventh McTigue's artful left was continuously in his opponents' face and the latter seemed unable to penetrate the older man's defense.

Toward the end of the bout Berlenbach's youth and strength began to weary McTigue, finally proving the latter's downfall.

Advantages Of Living Here.

Are there any advantages from living in Prince Rupert? Some people aver there are. They say that life here is more pleasurable than in many parts of the world. Take this time of year as an instance. The boating cannot be excelled. There are all sorts of new places to visit and explorations to be made. There are mountains to climb, fish to catch, challenging beauties that give the photographic itch. Good bathing at the Salt Lake offers and tennis and other sports are easy to obtain.

From a social point of view Prince Rupert people are friendly and hospitable and life here is a round of pleasure for those who seek that kind of life. The city has many of the advantages of a city and all the advantages of the small community where friendships ripen quickly and people are taken at their face value.

Hudson's Bay Railway Seems Live Question.

While Alberta and British Columbia are urging on the Federal Government the desirability of building a railway to connect the Peace River country with the Pacific coast, the Manitoba and Saskatchewan people are constantly urging the completion of the Hudson's Bay railway. They see as much benefit from their project as we do from ours.

What has affected the Hudson Bay route is the development of the western outlet for grain. Now that the wheat has begun to roll toward the Pacific there is no good reason for spending huge sums on the Hudson Bay outlet which will prove very expensive and will probably be operated at a loss for many years. There are enough white elephants in the country now without adding to the number.

In developing the western outlet to the Peace River country through British Columbia, new territory is opened up which will be at once productive and will give a great impetus to settlement.

Object To Being Patronized.

A Canadian audience always feels hostile to any stranger who comes to them and talks as if they knew nothing. English and Scottish institutions are as well known in British Columbia as they are in England and Scotland, probably much better. The problems of the old land are to some extent the problems out here and any person who addresses an audience on the Pacific coast must start out by assuming that his hearers are persons of at least ordinary intelligence and that they have a foundational knowledge far beyond that found in a rural community in the Old Country.

To treat people here as children and to talk to them patronizingly is to insult them.

Intelligence High On Pacific Coast.

While it is not good form to talk about ourselves, it is perhaps allowable to mention that the general grade of intelligence on the Pacific coast is above the average. People who came west were those who had energy enough to strike out for themselves and in most cases they were educated people. Also they are people who are widely read. They are adaptable people and when they return, as they mostly do on a visit, they try to see all there is to see in the home land and to learn about the institutions and movements in the country from which they sprang. The result is that they often know much more about the Old Country than the people who live there.

The Ridin' Kid from Powder River to be Seen Here
TONIGHT

Bud Watkins, when a boy, saw the only man who had been kind to him, killed. The boy vowed vengeance.

A few years from that never-to-be-forgotten night a young man who rode, apparently aimlessly, became a mystery in all Arizona. They called him the Rambler, but few knew why he rode so aimlessly, and those few guarded against being surprised by him though they were men of daring themselves.

Out in the desert the "Spider" waited for the flies in a web of strange spinning. To that web came from afar men on whose heads the law had set a bounty. On day the Rambler came there and in him the Spider saw something different. The Rambler was induced to pause for the Spider had a beautiful daughter.

The Rambler became a knight errant of the desert, and a terror to evil-doers—but the thing he had made a vow to do he had not done. The slayer had escaped a dozen times when it seemed certain the vow was to be kept.

But the "Rambler" came to his own one day and how he did so makes a thrilling ending to a thrilling story, "The Ridin' Kid from Powder River" a romance of history, starring Hoot Gibson, to be shown here tonight and tomorrow.

RHINEHART NOVEL IS PICTURED FOR THURSDAY SHOWING

"K—The Unknown," Universal-Jewel with Virginia Valli as star, is to be here Thursday. The picture-play is the screen version of the novel, "K," by Mary Roberts Rinehart.

Miss Valli's work reminds one of her work in "The Signal Tower," although in that she was the wife and mother, while in the present vehicle she is a young woman. But in both instances the surroundings are simple and the characters are of that appealing, human sort that fit Miss Valli so well.

The name part of the story, "K," is portrayed by Percy Marmont. He is the one who deserts a great career to bury his identity in a small town, where he falls in love with Sidney, much to the grief of one of her youthful adorers, who is made to realize that the attractions of the mature men have eclipsed in her affections his bouquets and the boxes of candy of his hated rival, also a youth.

This puppy love is made the instrument on which to hang the comedy of the picture, and also much of the tragedy. Maurice Ryan takes the part of the youth whose mentality is unhinged by reason of his disappointment and who brings a dramatic denouement on which is based the finish of the story. Francis Feeney is the other youth.

SUNDOWN IS TO BE WEEK END SHOWING

Picture is One of Big Cattle Country in Early Days of West

A battery of ten camera men were required to "shoot" the thrilling scenes of "Sundown,"

First National's epic of the cattle-country which comes at the week end.

"Sundown" was very nearly the nemesis of several of these camera men during the scenes of the great stampede of one hundred thousand long-horn steers. The stampede, which was supposed to be make-believe, got beyond the control of the directors, Lawrence Trimble and Harry O. Hoyt, and assumed dangerous proportions. Many of the players, including Bessie Love, Hobart Bosworth and Charlie Murray, narrowly escaped being killed.

But the cameramen held their ground and as a consequence supplied the picture with one of its greatest thrills, the torrent of bewildered cattle surging past the camera within a few inches of the lens.

"Sundown" relates the story of the passing of the old West. It depicts a spectacular migration of cattlemen and their vast herds over many hundreds of miles of parched deserts and dust-laden plains through the Southwestern states on down into Mexico. This hegira being forced upon them by new-comers from the overcrowded cities of the East and North who have been awarded quarter-sections of land by government grants. The onrush of civilization drives them from the land they pioneered into a strange territory to seek new pastures for their cattle.

MARY PICKFORD IS TO MAKE "SCRAPS"

HOLLYWOOD, June 4.—Mary Pickford having about finished her picture "Little Annie Rooney" which was directed by William Beaudine is so well pleased with the result that she has engaged the same director for her next picture which is to be named "Scraps." This is a story after the line of "Daddy Longlegs," a drama story with considerable comedy relief.

$1,000 Damages from James Pirillo in County Court

Mrs. Florence Tibbits has launched an action in the County Court for $1,000 damages against James Pirillo who she claims, as proprietor of the Old Empress Hotel beer parlor, ejected her from the premises on May 8. According to Mrs. Tibbits' plaint, she was in the city on the date in question and went with friends into the beer parlor for refreshment. Money, she claims, was put on the table in payment but she was refused service and was eventually ejected. The allegations are denied in their entirety by the defendant who also denies that he ever was a lessee of the Old Empress beer parlor. W. E. Fisher has the case for the plaintiff while W. O. Fulton is defending. Date of hearing is set for June 23.

She tried Lux for dishwashing - now she uses it as a toilet soap, too

(Letter received from a lady in Ontario)

Dear Sirs:
Lately I have seen many articles written in praise of Lux. But I never yet have seen one extolling its use as a personal soap for dainty women. Until I used Lux three times a day to wash dishes with, I was grieved to see my hands getting disfigured, in fact I was ashamed of them when playing the piano. Finding that by using Lux for the purpose they soon became as nice as ever, I tried it in my daily ablution water, including bath! And now, I find the effect of using Lux far more softening on the skin.

Yours truly,

Lux for dishwashing, of course. Nothing better!

But use pure, dainty Lux for your daily toilet and bath, too! You will find it delightfully refreshing. Lux contains no free alkali and does not dry up the oils in the skin. The gentle, creamy Lux lather is soothng to the most sensitive skin and keeps it soft and smooth.

INSPECTION OF FIRE FIGHTING IN THIS CITY

Provincial Fire Marshal on Visit Here Finds Everything Very Satisfactory

On his way back to Vancouver after attending the convention of the National Fire Protection Association at Chicago, J. Alfred Thomas, fire marshal for the province of British Columbia, was a visitor in the city at the end of the week. Mr. Thomas arrived on Saturday night's train and sailed last evening on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver.

While here, Mr. Thomas inspected the Prince Rupert Spruce Mills' plant at Seal Cove and also the local fire department. From a fire protection point of view, Mr. Thomas found the mill in good order. There was an open brazier there but it is practically on the water and is no menace to surrounding property. Mr. Thomas was pleased with the appearance of the fire department and gratified that new equipment had been obtained since he was last here.

Coming west, Mr. Thomas stopped off at Burns Lake to inspect the situation there following the recent fire. It is difficult for small places to be fully equipped with fire protection devices. Prevention can be obtained, however, at such places by having as good a class of buildings as possible erected with some space between them.

After attending the convention in Chicago, Mr. Thomas took laboratory courses in sprinkler, valve and domestic oil burner inspection. The latter, Mr. Thomas says, are coming into very general use in the province.

COMPLIMENTED NEW BOOKLET

Board of Trade Gets Many Inquiries and Distributes Information

The secretary of the Board of Trade has received a number of complimentary letters dealing with the booklet recently published by this city. Agent General F. A. Pauline wrote complimenting the Board on the publication and asking for 500 copies for distribution in London. He said that very little information was available in regard to northern British Columbia and this was the best publication he had seen yet.

The editor of The Last Great West complimented the Board and asked for the use of some of the cuts for his publication. These are being sent.

The secretary of the Board is getting many inquiries in regard to this part of the country, especially in regard to farming, lumbering, hunting and other information connected with life in the country. A man from Montana wrote asking about the possibility of starting a brewery here.

Company Gives Quick Relief in Case of Broken Parts Anywhere on Continent.

The Duplex Printing Co. which manufactured the press used in printing the Prince Rupert Daily News, has installed an airplane delivery service for delivering replacement parts to customers in any part of the north American continent where landing can be secured. The moment a wire is received ordering a part, an airplane is despatched with it, thus often saving the tie up of the plant for an indefinite period.

Users of Duplex presses are being asked to file with the company maps showing landing fields in the immediate vicinity so that there may be no delay in making delivery. Unfortunately there is no landing field near Prince Rupert so it will be impossible at present to take advantage of the offer.

ALMOST THE LIMIT IN RADIO MESSAGES

Distance of 10,300 Miles Covered and 12,500 is Extreme Distance Possible

Almost the limit in radio communication has been reached in the recent daylight tests with low wave lengths in communicating between England and Australia. Three messages were exchanged between Gerrard's Cross, England, and Sydney, Australia, over a distance of 10,300 miles. As the farthest distance between two points on the earth surface is approximately 12,500 miles very near the limit in distance has been reached.

From this on throughout the summer the Acropolis Hill grounds will be kept busy every evening and a good many of the afternoons. The football association has the ground two nights a week as has the baseball association and the league fixtures taking up these nights have been set. Wednesday evening is given over to lacrosse which, however, has not yet been organized to the point of staging league games. On Saturday afternoons the Junior footballers have the grounds. Fixtures set for this week are as follows:

Monday: Senior league football—Sons of England vs. Gold Storage.

Tuesday: Senior baseball—Sawmill vs. Gyro Club.

Thursday: Senior league football—Great War Veterans vs. Callies.

Friday: Senior baseball—Sons of Canada vs. Gyro Club.

Saturday: Junior football.

The opening game of the Mobley Cup (city championship football series) will take place tonight at the Acropolis Hill grounds. The teams will take the field as follows:

Cold Storage—A. Murray; H. Carlson and S. Darton; Halberz, Torney and G. Hill; Lamb, Corbett, Bie, Stessinrud and F. Hardy.

Sons of England—Kattie; R. Howe and G. Kelsey; Dr. Tait, A. A. Bales and F. Hodgkinson; J. Farquhar, A. Dickens, J. Johnson, H. Hanson and G. Howe.

A. Derrick of Skidegate Mission has started a general store at Hippo and it is expected he will do well as he has lots of friends here.

C. Gladstone arrived with his new launch the Blanch W. This craft was built at his own boat building establishment at Skidegate. It is the second turned out this season. The first was the Cumshewa which is now trolling at Hippo.

Mrs. Gillett says the boat rolled so much that the children rolled out of their bunks twice.

All whistles in the harbor saluted the little mission launch when she entered the harbor and the next evening Mr. Gillett put on a moving picture show, the first to be shown on the west coast of Queen Charlotte Islands.

Two large tents were put up on the shore and they were crammed to the very edge.

Mr. Gillett is the first skipper to take a boat through Skidegate Narrows without a pilot. When he told about coming through alone, someone was heard to say "The Lord surely was with him."

The missionary expects to call at all the places in Skidegate Inlet and Moresby Island as far as Cape St. James and return to Massett by way of the West Coast.

NEW HAZELTON

The federal government is taking steps this season to preserve totem poles and native grave houses in this district and with that end in view Harlan L. Smith of the National Government museum of Canada has arrived at Hazelton to take charge of the work. He is accompanied by Buchanan Campbell of the C.G.R. who will handle the engineering features and H. S. Ballantyne who will look after the artistic side of the work.

The movement of poles for export through New Hazelton is causing congestion in the local railway yard which will have to be extended if the business is to be properly handled.

Can You Afford to Speculate?

EVERY time you buy something you are either speculating or making a definite investment.

Few people can afford to speculate. Yet many do it continually, in making their everyday purchases. And it is so unnecessary. The advertisements make it easy for any one to avoid taking a chance.

The merchant or manufacturer who advertises, realizes that the good-will of his customers means money in the bank to him. He knows that the public confidence in his product and public respect for his own character are as valuable as his credit at the bank.

So he makes the individual satisfaction of his patrons, their loyalty and their friendship paramount issues in his business.

When you buy an advertised product, you can know in advance what to expect in return for your money. You can count on its being right. You are making an investment.

But when you buy nameless, unbranded merchandise, you are taking a chance. You are speculating.

NEW METHOD USED IN SMOKING HAMS

CHICAGO, June 1.—A long horizontal gas burner playing a stream of fire into a pile of hardwood sawdust creates the smoke for curing hams and bacon in Chicago's packing plants. At one time wood fires were smudged to produce great quantities of smoke which came in direct contact with the meat, but this system has been discarded.

CANON PERKINS OF WESTMINSTER ABBEY IS VISITING CITY

In the course of a tour of British Columbia, Rev. Jocelyn Perkins, canon of Westminster Abbey, London, England, and secretary of the B.C. and Yukon Anglican Church Aid Society, arrived in the city from Vancouver on the Cardena yesterday afternoon.

Immediately on arrival here, he was taken to St. Andrew's Anglican Church where he delivered an address on "Reminiscences of Westminster Abbey." The address was most interesting and enlightening.

Canon Perkins is spending the day in the city and will proceed East on tomorrow's train enroute to Nelson where he will attend the synod of Kootenay diocese. Then he will proceed to Lennoxville University, Quebec, where on June 17 he will receive an honorary Doctor of Civil Laws degree. He will then sail for England from Quebec.

Canon Perkins has been in the Province for the past ten days and has visited Vancouver and Victoria before coming here.

it will be exposed, will cost, it is to be assumed, almost as much as the machine itself is worth, the services of the officers who man it—Col. J. Scott Williams, manager of the Laurentide Air Service, owning the plane, and G. S. Caldwell, mechanic and extra pilot, are not to be obtained for nothing.

Operating Costs

In addition to this are the actual operating costs, some idea of which may be obtained when it is known that gasoline will cost something like $2.50 per gallon at Dease Lake and beyond. This means that it will cost $50 for gasoline alone for one hour's operation of the plane.

The plane will have its first headquarters on a lake six miles south of Telegraph Creek. Later it will be removed to Dease Lake and will be operated further inland from there. It will be flown up Dease and Liard Rivers and the fact that a cache of 175 drums of gasoline has been established at Fort St. John on the Peace River indicates that the expedition may go even farther
