OFFICIALS ARE ARRESTED FOR INDIAN AFFAIR

Side de Camp of Maharajah Said to be Mixed up in Shooting

Plot

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Seven officials have been arrested at Indora, British India, including the side de camp of the Maharajah of Indora in connection with the affair in Bombay a week ago which resulted in the death of a wealthy merchant, Abdul Kadir Baulta, says a despatch. The Maharajah's chauffeur also was arrested.

Others arrested include two step uncles and a step aunt, of Mumtaz Begum, the dancing girl, who was accompanying Baulta at the time of the shooting and who was wounded.

JAPAN-RUSSIA TREATY SIGNED

Nippon Gets Some Coal and Oil
Concessions and Soviet Apologizes

PEKIN, Jan. 21.—By a treaty between Japan and Russia signed here at midnight each agrees not to tolerate persons or organizations likely to endanger the order and security of the other.

The Soviet grants to Japan certain coal and oil concessions and expresses regret for the Nikolaivsk massacre of Japanese in 1920.

Under the treaty the Japanese are to evacuate Saghalien by May 1925.

STERLING GETTING CLOSER TO PARITY

Sterling is getting steadily closer to par and it is thought that in the near future it will actually be of the same value as the Canadian or American dollar. Little by little it is advancing on the market and today it reached 4.78 1/2. When at par it is worth 4.86 2/3.

Today United States money is selling at a premium of 13-32 and the price of Hong Kong money is 56.80.

WILLIAM S. HART'S MATRIMONIAL TROUBLE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21.—Although William S. Hart on the eve of departing for New York on a vacation trip reiterated the determination to appeal the Appeal Court decision allowing his wife to resume screen acting, a statement issued by Winnipeg suggested reconciliation of the couple rather than further litigation.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—A special to the Vancouver Province from its Ottawa correspondent says: "The initial contract for the Prince Rupert terminal grain elevator was awarded today when the tender of the Northern Construction Co. of Vancouver for the foundation work was accepted. The contract figure is $225,000."

While, at an early hour this afternoon, there was no official announcement forthcoming in the city, a private wire received this morning by a local business house from one of the interested parties at Ottawa stated that neither the Prince Rupert Construction Co. nor S. S. Magoffin had been awarded the contract for the construction of the dock and foundation for the terminal grain elevator here but that the successful tenderer was a large outside firm. The wire received added that "Prince Rupert could be assured of getting a good job."

Will Rush Work.

It is understood that the Department of Trade and Commerce received a large number of bids for the job. Consideration of these doubtless, took some time. The successful firm will undoubtedly start at once rushing its equipment here. It is probable that actual work will start within a fortnight's time. Fred Stork was not here today to hear the news of the final consummation of his work at Ottawa but he may have had a telegram on the train. He will arrive tonight and doubtless then was submitted.

Industrial Disputes Act is Declared Illegal by Privy Council in Toronto Appeal

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Industrial Disputes Act is not constitutional, according to the finding of the Privy Council of Great Britain given in an appeal judgment. According to it, the Act is not within the powers of the Dominion Parliament.

The appeal was brought by the Toronto Hydro-Electric Commission and was the outcome of the appointment of a board of arbitrators to deal with a dispute between the Electrical Trades Union and the Toronto Hydro.

LEON TROTsky IS RELIEVED

Communist Central Committee
Removed Him From Position

LIVING ON ESTATE

Nine Years Ago Was Dead Broke in New York; Later Signed
Treaty For Russia

MOSCOW, Jan. 21.—A resolution relieving Leon Trotsky as chairman of the revolutionary war council was adopted by the Communist central committee.

Trotsky, in retirement on his suburban estate, reiterated the statement that it was untrue he had ever attempted to revise Lenin's principles but admitted that "the condition of affairs seems to demand that I be removed from the post."

Trotsky went into retirement recently when it was announced he was going to Southern Russia for his health. He refused to be banished summarily but instead retired to his suburban home and has since taken no part in affairs of state.

It was only nine years ago that Trotsky was in New York without a dollar in his pocket. He rose on the breast of the revolution and seven years ago signed the treaty of Brest-Litovsk on behalf of Russia which ended the participation of that country in the war. He reorganized the Russian army, building up an efficient fighting force of a million and a half men. He always professed to believe in peace but at the same time expressed his willingness to fight and kept the country always prepared. The wisdom of his policy was shown in the fact that the foes of bolshevism were defeated in every front.

It was the ambition of the war minister which ended in his downfall. He was anxious to be dictator but the Soviet named three men with equal powers to take the place of Lenin. He led the Jewish faction and strove to have a Jew succeed to the leadership.

Trotsky was responsible for introducing conscription in Russia. This he did in spite of pledges of himself and Lenin that the workers would not be conscripted.

LARGE MAJORITY FOR CHURCH UNION

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—The Church Union bureau summary of voting shows the result up to today as 928 congregations favoring union and 208 opposing. In British Columbia 23 voted for it and five opposed. Many are unanimously in favor and are not voting.

The minister believes a thousand prospectors will invade the country soon, if weather permits.

Banff's new stone bridge over the Bow River is in keeping with the natural beauties of the district. Cascade Mountain is seen in the distance, which is size dwarfs the little town.

Liberal Candidate for Peace River Urges Shipping by way of Pacific Rather than U.S.

In the last Financial Post, January 9, is an article from its Ottawa correspondent containing the statement that Montreal shipped 153,071,993 bushels of grain in 1924 and of this 85,925,524 bushels were American.

The writer seems to be rather proud of this, thinking no doubt, that it is inevitable that both countries should use each other's ports indiscriminately and that there is mutual advantage in so doing. Let us see where we come in on the "mutual" part of the advantage.

We may assume that all this American grain arrived at Montreal by water in American boats. It would be a poor guess that Canadian boats or railways profited to any extent. Also, it is doubtful if any Canadian deep-sea vessels were used. But it all passed through our canal system, the entire cost of construction and maintenance of which is upon us, as there are no tolls in the case of the Panama canal. It patronized the Montreal elevators. They were built on such a generous scale that for the last four years Montreal is the largest grain-shipping port on the American continent. They were built from money advanced from the treasury of the Dominion but as they were built "for use" and not "for profit" we get nothing out of handling American grain there. Of course, there is not much damage from wear and tear on our water but the hinges on the lock-gates in the canal, together with other little odd fixings cost a mint of money and are bound to wear out. So it does not seem that we get very much out of the hop, skip and jump operation of American wheat across Montreal wharves. It goes up a spout from an American vessel into our elevator operated "at cost" down another spout into an American or a "tramp" vessel.

Costs Great Deal

On the other hand this short entertainment of our cousin's grain costs us a great deal. It is suggested that the haste to reach the good European market was the reason the short Montreal cut was taken. This was likely one reason. But there is a much better one. Last year American railways and ships took over 30,000,000 of our discounted dollars for handling grain. They liked the look of these dollars so well that they rushed up an elevator at Hoboken, working three shifts a day to handle Canadian grain exclusively believing, as they are no doubt warranted in doing, that we are always going to remain blind and stupid in our refusal to develop our own resources and facilities.

While Montreal was handling 88 odd million bushels of the 1923 crop Buffalo handled over 153 million bushels and was the greatest Canadian grain handling port in the world. Without doing our wily neighbor any injustice, we

No Opposition to Proposal Al-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Without discussion or record of vote the Senate accepted the amendment to the naval bill requesting President Coolidge to call another arms conference.

There was an indication recently that President Coolidge did not consider the time ripe for such a conference and the administration senators had been expected to oppose the amendment as untimely. They did not explain their failure to do so.

GIVING WORK WHITE GIRLS

These Are Taking Place of Orientals on Waterfront at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21.—As part of the campaign to keep white people in employment and to avoid doing anything which would encourage Orientals to come to the province, the work of tabelling salmon cans and similar light work on the waterfront is to be given to white girls instead of Orientals.

Nearly 50 girls are already employed at Ballantyne pier and they are proving faster than Orientals and are doing the work better. Some of them make good wages. It is expected that the number employed there will be doubled in a very short time.

SNOWSLIDE EAST OF KWINTSA DELAYS TRAIN DUE TODAY

Heavy snows up the line during the past few days resulted yesterday in a slide of snow and ice coming down and covering the Canadian National Railway tracks at Mile 48, four miles east of Kwintsa, for a length of 300 feet. Roadmaster R. A. Harlow went out with equipment yesterday afternoon to clear the track and Superintendent L. A. McPherson hoped this morning that the passenger train, which was due at 7 a.m., would get through and arrive here by 10 o'clock tonight. The train for the East will leave on time at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

NEW CABLE OPEN AZORES AND SPAIN

They have been advised by the Western Union that the new high speed cable from New York direct to Azores and Spain is now open for handling cables direct and the line of the final section giving direct connection between Canada and Italy has been begun. Messages previously were sent via the British Isles.

Looking Forward With Hope.

We are always looking forward to something that is going to happen in the future. Forgetting business hopes and fears and thinking of other things, no sooner are we through with Christmas holidays than we look forward to the coming of spring, the outdoor life and the sunshine and flowers. When spring comes, it is summer we want with its balmy air and languid breezes. In the summer we begin to prepare for autumn activities and in the autumn we live for the Christmas holidays. So it goes the year round. It is always something ahead. Hope springs eternal.

Labor Woman On Russian Liberty.

Mrs. Phillip Snowdon, wife of the British Labor Chancellor of the Exchequer, is lecturing in this country and, among other things, she tells about her visit to Russia. She has no sympathy with communism or bolshevism. Bolshevism she classes as communism plus militarism. She says there is not an ounce of democracy or liberty in Russia. However, she sees the change coming, peasants being re-established, shops opening and, as she says, "a man can own his clothes again." She urges that Russia be aided as much as possible.

Experiment Necessary
But Not Too Much Of It.

It is all right to experiment. The world would stagnate if we did not do it. Also it must be expected that many experiments will fail. They have in the past and they will in the future. Many of the panaceas for government that we thought would be effective have proved to be unworkable. Something else has to be tried in their place, but it does not do to go on experimenting too much. It is too costly. Anything that will interfere with individual effort is hardly likely to succeed because individual effort is the one force that makes for progress.

British People Not Concerned.

In a recent editorial article the Victoria Times has:

Stephen Leacock says Canada is holding the British capitalist at arms length because the Dominion is insisting too much on the shibboleths of independence. The present attitude of British capital and the history of British investments prove that Mr. Leacock is off the mark.

The average investor in Great Britain, whether he be the man who puts his money to work in the realm of municipal security or the man who drives a substantial stake in forest or mine, is not a student of the political evolution of the British Empire and is seldom influenced by so-called imperial controversy. His one object is profit. If Canada can show him where he can invest and earn dividends, he will invest. He will neither consult The Morning Post nor The Montreal Star to find out about the relations between Ottawa and Downing Street. These things never worry him.

British capital is all over the world. The Briton is a hard-headed businessman. The traditional fiscal policy of Great Britain, the howl that goes up every time there is a suggestion of a change, reflects the utter lack of sentiment when it comes to buying and selling and investing. Independence and semi-independence talk does not interest him. He has been worried, however, for some time past about exchange. Up till fairly recently he has not been enthusiastic for Canadian investment at a discount of ten per cent. As long as his pound was worth only about eighteen shillings to Canada it was not likely that he was very keen about sending it here.

What Mr. Leacock and other publicists can do to encourage British capital to Canada is to use every occasion to advertise the opportunities that await it. Our trouble is too great a crop of pessimists who work overtime telling our own and other people that the country is virtually no good.

Struggled for Years at Massett;
Farm Sold for Taxes but Later
Redeemed; Oil and Gold Found

(By G. Harrison.)

Prior to leaving Canada for Strassburg where I was a chaplain for eighteen months, I had bought 1,015 acres of land from Messes. Glifford and McKenzie in the neighborhood of Massett. I returned from Strassburg to look after this property and finally became a farmer. I cleared two acres of heavily timbered land without any outside help and without the aid of blasting powder as in those days blasting powder was impossible to get in a place like Massett. These years five hundred sacks of vegetables annually which I sold to the Indians at the rate of one dollar per sack. I had many a hard struggle to make both ends meet. One winter I cut one hundred cords of firewood which I sold to the Indians for $1.50 per cord. They took this wood across to Port Simpson and sold it for $3.00 per cord. For two years I was unable to raise sufficient money to pay the taxes on my land, and the Government sold my land, cattle and houses for $150 to Mr. Macintosh, at that time chief of police at New Westminster. I was, however, able within the two year limit to buy everything back again through the Government, but was charged twelve and a half per cent interest. From that day to this my affairs seemed to prosper.

During these hard times I often shipped two steers, dressed, across to Port Simpson for sale, weighing about a ton in the aggregate. The men in charge of the meat were, many a time only able to sell outright one quarter and brought the rest back in a soiled condition and utterly unfit for salting. During these years I offered the best of beef for nine cents a pound for the fore quarter and ten cents for any cut from the hindquarter, and even then could not find any purchasers.

No Government Help

In regard to roads and trails to enable me to get the cattle and produce shipped, I had to make all my own; and sometimes I got the Indians to help me by giving them presents. I received no help whatsoever from the Government and had either to build the roads myself or do without them. During these long, dismal and dreary years that I held on to my property, whenever and wherever I could I did my utmost to get parties interested in these islands and I was exceedingly glad when the first settlers began to take up homesteads.

In regard to the timber on these lands, Messrs. Collison, Edenshaw and I staked the first sixteen limits that were staked up Massett Inlet and for months we could not get any one interested. The parties we saw in Victoria and Vancouver told us distinctly that we could not have any on the islands worth taking up as the climate was too wet. At last we succeeded in selling our interests to Martin & Sonnen of Vancouver for twenty cents per acre, and six months after they sold the same limits to an American Syndicate for $2.50 per acre. Many timber cruisers then came to the islands and staked all the available limits possible which at the present time amount to five hundred and twelve thousand acres.

Oil Territory

As regards the oil territory on the west coast, I was the first to inform the public that we had, as I thought, petroleum on these islands. It came to my notice in a peculiar manner. A party of Indians at their own expense took me down the west coast as far as Otards Creek to look at some supposed gold they had discovered. This gold discovery was only iron pyrites. Whilst at Otards Creek they showed me rock out of which gum, as they termed it, was running. I obtained about two gallons of it and sent some down to the government analyst at Victoria. It was almost similar to coal tar but without the tarry smell. This material was afterwards called liquid bituminous matter. Failing to get any of the Victoria or Vancouver people interested, I made a trip to Ketchikan on the American side and there succeeded in getting parties to investigate this petroleum field. In the meantime a reserve was placed on the island by the Government. When the reserve was about to be lifted, the Ketchikan Syndicate sent Capt. Thompson over in the "Eurus." Mr. Watson and Mr. Vigilius were with him. They examined the oil district, and being satisfied with what they had seen, staked ten claims for the Syndicate which they held under license and did a lot of experimental work during the two following years. They failed to get capitalists interested, and it requires capital to develop an oil field, and that the local parties with the knowledge of the oil territory were unable to do, consequently the licences were allowed to drop. They have been restaked from time to time by other parties, but like ourselves they also were unable to get the necessary capital required for drilling. That oil will eventually be found is the definite opinion of the experts, and some of them report that the surface indications are not exceeded by any of the western oilfields.

Black Sand Deposits

After Mr. Watson had returned from examining the petroleum lands on the west coast, I sent my son with him down to Cape Fife where the black sand deposits are. After carefully examining the whole district, he then staked several placer claims and leases, and formed a company to thoroughly prospect the district. The following summer he came over again with Mr. Vigilius and a large party of experienced miners. They examined and worked the different deposits carefully with the result that the concentrated samples which they took back with them to Ketchikan to be assayed ran from $10 to $18 in gold and 46 per cent iron to the ton, but the general averages ranged from twenty five cents upwards.

The late Mr. Dawson, in his report of these islands to the Government Survey Department in 1879, in reference to these deposits makes the following statement: "On some parts of the shore near Cape Fife magnetic iron sand is abundant, and in this numerous colors of gold can be easily found."

Mr. Watson after he had staked the claims and leases of black sand at Cape Fife went down to Moresby Island and located the first copper claims at and around Edway. During this prospecting trip he was grub-staked by Mr. Vigilius. In giving every man his due we must give credit to Vigilius and Watson for what they have done in bringing the mining resources of Moresby Island so prominently before the general public.

Editor's Note.—This is the seventeenth of Mr. Harrison's series of articles on the Queen Charlotte Islands. The eighteenth will appear in an early issue.)

may assume that he did not lose sight of this situation when he plugged the Montreal elevator full to the roof with his grain and chartered all the vessels that Montreal could accommodate before the close of navigation, for such, we are told, was the case. ### STYLES OF CENTURIES AGO ARE FOLLOWED IN LATEST WOMEN'S HATS

LONDON, Jan. 21.—"Pikeman's pot" styles in women's hats, designed after the steel helmets of the 17th century pikemen, represented in the collection of arms and armor of the Tower of London, are the latest sensation in fashionable London millinery.

For some time, milliners have hunted for designs that would, by their novelty of appeal, lure women away from the popular cloche fashion. Earlier in the season they thought that a successful rival had been found in the square-crowned hat, but this was voted down by fastidious clients.

Now the 17th century helmet is being used as a model for the mid-winter hat. The feather-weight felt of the season—steel grey is the favorite color choice for realistic effect—is blocked to the 17th century outline and a tuft of feathers gives the feminine touch.

ALLIES TO REPLY TO PROTEST OF GERMANY

PARIS, Jan. 21.—The allies have decided to reply to the German note protesting the non-evacuation of the Cologne bridge-head. It is expected the next reply will go further into details of the German alleged violation of the treaty's disarmament clauses than the preceding one.

TAX BACHELORS AND CHILDLESS

Frances Makes Those Who Have No Children Pay For Those Who Have

PARIS, Jan. 21.—Bachelors and childless couples are to be still more heavily taxed for the benefit of large families under the terms of a bill introduced in the chamber of deputies and backed by members belonging to almost all the parliamentary groups.

The bill proposes to raise the monthly allowance to parents with large families from 90 francs as provided by the law passed in July, 1923, to 360 francs.

To provide the necessary funds the incomes of bachelors of both sexes would be taxed on a sliding scale, the levy amounting to two per cent on incomes from 7,000 to 10,000 francs, four per cent on those from 10,000 to 20,000, and six per cent on those exceeding 20,000.

Married persons without children would get off more lightly, being asked to pay only two per cent on incomes from 10,000 to 20,000 and four per cent on incomes over the latter amount.

This tax is applied over and above the ordinary income tax.

TEAM WINNERSBeat Alice Arm in Fast Game
by Three Goals to Two

ALICE ARM, Jan. 21.—Two goals for Alice Arm in the first period, a scoreless second period, two for Anyox in the third, and the odd counter won by Anyox in the overtime play is the result of the first game of the Alice Arm-Anyox winter hockey schedule. The game was played on the local ice here Sunday, the Anyox players making the journey over from the Smeifer town.

This being the first game of the winter season, it is a little early to dish up much of a line of dope on plays and players. Anderson and Phoyer are the only two Anyox players that performed here two years ago. The others of the team are new recruits and need to be seen in action again before the dope sheet can be filled in as to their outstanding stickhandling and puckhandling abilities.

Alice Arm played their all star team, the same being a selection from the three inter-camp teams that are playing a winter schedule. Also, Alice Arm had one advantage in that they were in better form as a result of the Inter-camp league playing.

The ice was good, the game fast and both teams fought hard to win. Among several outstanding players, it should be noted that Warner for the Alice Arm Stars played a good game in goal. Also, Anderson of the Anyox team played winning hockey, being credited with two of the three Anyox counters.

Alice Arm—Warner, goal; T. Falconer, def.; A. Falconer, r.w.; Kergin, T.W.; Anderson, c.

Anyox—Peters, goal; Phoyer, def.; Elliott, r.w.; Moody, l.w.; Anderson, c.

ANYOX PREPARING FOR A VISIT FROM PRINCE
RUPERT SCHOOL TEAMS

ANYOX, Jan. 21.—At the regular meeting of the Community League Council a request was made by the High School Club for the use of the gymnasium for the purpose of staging basketball contests with Prince Rupert High School boys and girls the date to be set later. This was granted.

The report of the secretary showed that a loss of approximately fifty dollars had been sustained at the Christmas dance and the children's treat had cost $1.50 which did not include the cakes and soft drinks supplied by the Granby Company. Accounts for these were passed and those taking part thanked.

An appropriation was voted for two more orchestral concerts and the secretary was asked to write and thank Mrs. R. Lamborn, Miss V. McKay and J. Mitchell for assisting with former concerts.

The rearrangement in the Grotto line-up last week seemed to have worked well and the players tonight are being ranked as they were then. The line-ups

SHIP FRESH FISH WITHOUT ANY ICE

Carbon Dioxide Used With Good Results from Halifax to Montreal

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—Recently a progressive fish organization discovered that one-fifth of the area of each car shipped inland was occupied by ice; in other words, they were paying each year freight for an enormous quantity of ice. This seemed to be a waste of money and the head of the organization looked abroad for a substitute for ice and, as is usual in such cases, he found it. The result was that last April the first fresh fish shipment ever made without ice in the world took place when a carload of fresh sea food left Halifax in a car in which two tiny blocks of CO<sub>2</sub> or carbon dioxide were the only refrigerants. The experiment proved highly successful. The car in question was placed on a siding in Montreal for five days before being unsealed and yet when opened up the fish were in perfect condition.

PUBLICITY PLANNED FOR THE PAS RACE

Several Big Movie Corporations to Have Men Present and Radio to Send Out
Results

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21.—That greater interest is being evinced this year than ever before in The Pas annual Dog Derby is shown by information received by Canadian National officials from the committee in charge of the northern festival, who state that arrangements have been made for at least two or three big movie corporations to be represented by cameramen, while several of the more important American papers have made arrangements with local newspapers to file accounts of the race for them.

Press associations on both sides of the line will receive accounts of the race and arrangements are also being made for the progress of the race to be broadcast by radio. Several of the teams taking part in the Northern Manitoba classic are expected to journey later to Quebec where they will compete in the Dog Derby's there.

INSULIN IS TAKEN FROM UGLIEST FISH

Skate Utilized off Nova Scotia
for Securing Life-Giving Secretions

Perry J. Giffen, writing in a Toronto paper says: "And now the medical world has turned to the lowly Nova Scotia trawler for assistance. Last winter the trawler "Venosta" sailed into Halifax with her holds full of fresh fish, but in her cabin was something infinitely more precious than these. For in rows on the shelves there were quart bottles filled with the magic fluid of the decade—insulin. Formerly, this precious life-giving secretion had only been found in animals, but the "Venosta" had discovered that the ugliest fish of the sea bottom, the skate, contained a sack of insulin. Formerly this fish was thrown over the side as it was not edible and therefore had no market value. But now the "Venosta" carries two additional members in her crew whose duties are to do nothing but discover these tiny sacks and preserve their contents, destined later to conquer death and banish suffering."
