DREDGING EQUIPMENT ON ITS WAY NORTH

BEER REGULATIONS ANNOUNCED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL VERY DRASTIC

Beer Only to be Sold Under New Regulations Announced by the A.G.

No Foreign Waiters to be Employed; Licenses from $150 to $1000

VICTORIA, Feb. 3.—British Columbia's new beer halls will operate from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.

There will be no barmaids and dancing will be taboo. The regulations are specifically designed to prevent any return to the beer parlour.

According to regulations announced by Attorney-General Hanson it is specified that patrons will enter the beer halls from the door opening on the street the beer premises in all cases to be that of a hotel but there must be no doors connecting with the hotel.

The room in which the beer is served will contain chairs and tables and the waiters must be only British subjects and otherwise eligible to get on the voters' list. The commissioner thus hopes to head off the invasion of foreign ex-bartenders. The proprietor likewise must be eligible to vote.

The bar and brass rail will be conspicuous by their absence and this is expected to eliminate the system of wholesale treating.

Beer and beer only will be sold. The licenses do not provide for light or heavy wines or porter or ale or even soft drinks and sandwiches. Draught and bottled beer will be on sale with as high as 4 1/2 per cent alcohol content and not lower than 3 1/2 per cent, provision being made for the sale of beer in wet spots only.

Of the electoral districts which voted for beer in the June plebiscite, the Vancouver hotelmen must pay $1,000 each for beer licenses. Applications will be considered in detail by the commissioner. He will examine the various premises, study the neighborhood needs and then decide how best to meet the requirements.

Victoria, New Westminster and Kamloops voted against beer so the next class of city to obtain the glass system will include Nanaimo and Fernie. They will pay $500 for the license privilege.

The $300 license class will include industrial towns up to 2,500 population. Then comes hamlets where the fees will be as low as $150 a year.

Commissioner Supreme
The commissioner will have very wide powers and his judgment is final in connection with the cancellation or suspension of licenses, for which no compensation is allowed.

Application for a license must be advertised and if the neighbors object to any proposed license, the commissioner will consider such objection.

Holder of beer licenses will have no direct dealings with the brewers. The government will be the intermediary, buying from the brewers and selling to the licensees.

Cy Arnett Gets Sub-Contract for Gravel Fill in connection with Building of Elevator and Dock

Information has been received here that the contract for gravel filling in connection with the construction of the dock for the new elevator has been sublet to Cy Arnett, a well known dredging and pile driving contractor. Mr. Arnett recently purchased the dredging and pile driving outfit of Grant Smith & Co.

The outfit is expected to leave Vancouver today in tow of a tug. It will include a dredge and two dump scows and will take several days to make the trip, possibly not arriving here until next week, unless the weather conditions are very favorable.

There is something like 100,000 cubic yards of fill to be dumped at the site before the piles can be driven. This is to give a proper hold to the piles. At present there is not sufficient mud at the bottom to make a good job. The gravel will be covered with rip-rap or broken rock to prevent the waves washing it away.

C. D. Howe, architect in charge, is said to be coming here tomorrow from Vancouver in connection with the work.

WARD BELL WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW ON MILL BUSINESS

J. A. Ward Bell, associated with J. A. Smith of Vancouver in the purchase of the Seal Cove sawmill here, will arrive from Vancouver on the Prince Rupert tomorrow afternoon to confer with the city regarding arrangements looking to the re-opening of the plant at an early date. This information was conveyed to the city council last night in a telegram from Mayor Newton who himself will be returning from a trip south tomorrow. The mayor asked that a special meeting of the council be called for Wednesday night to meet Mr. Bell. It was decided, on suggestion of Acting Mayor Casey, to hold the meeting informally in the mayor's office at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

RAILWAY LINE AT KWINTSA STILL BLOCKED BY SNOW

Yesterday's Trains Cancelled But Both Inbound and Outbound Tomorrow on Time

More snow came down during the night over the Canadian National Railway track near Kwintsa where traffic is now being delayed and it was stated at the general superintendent's office this morning that the train, which should have arrived here yesterday morning, would not be in before tonight at the earliest. The train which was to have left for the East last night is being held here until the trouble is cleared up.

GREAT VALUE OF ELEVATOR

Mayor of Victoria Speaks to Gyro Club of Advantages of That Port

VICTORIA, Feb. 3.—In an address to the members of the Gyro Club at their luncheon here Mayor Carl Pendray spoke of the future bright prospects for progress in Victoria and said the location of a grain elevator there would prove highly profitable alike to railways, grain shippers and the city. Shippers would benefit from low harborage charges and low insurance rates.

The institution of a lumber assembly plant at Ogden Point docks would also add to the commerce of the port and encourage new mills to start operations.

Later
It was announced at the superintendent's office this afternoon that both Monday morning's train in and Monday night's train out have been cancelled. It is expected that the line at Kwintsa will be cleared during the night so that the train due here tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock may arrive on time and the train scheduled to leave at 5 tomorrow afternoon may pull out on time.

City Delays Appointment of Engineer for Woodworth Lake Until Further Investigation

A report from the utilities committee certifying to the competency of A. G. R. Yuill, Vancouver hydro-electric engineer, to make investigations required with a view to increasing power development from Woodworth Lake was received at the meeting of the city council last night. A move launched by Acting Mayor Casey and Ald. McMordie to engage Mr. Yuill forthwith to make the required investigations was delayed on suggestion of Ald. Stephens and other members of the board who felt that the new members of the council should first have the opportunity of looking into reports along similar lines that the city already has in its possession.

After the competency report had been read, Acting Mayor Casey suggested that further action might be taken at this time.

Taking up this suggestion, Ald. McMordie asserted that, if further power development work was to be undertaken, action should not be delayed. The utilities committee deemed that Mr. Yuill could serve the city in an advisory capacity as well as any other available expert. It would hardly be possible to obtain the services of Mr. Ross of Seattle for he was employed by that city. Mr. Yuill had already gone over the plant at Shawatlans Lake. In view of the fact that the pipe line was in bad shape and the dam was reported to be in almost dangerous condition, he (Ald. McMordie) was prepared to move that Mr. Yuill be engaged to examine the present plant and make a report as to the possibilities of extension. Ald. Perry seconded the motion.

Many Reports Already
Ald. Stephens declared that the statements as to the condition of the pipe line and dam came as a surprise to him. From conversation with the superintendent, he had been led to believe that the situation was not as serious as Ald. McMordie had stated. Apart from this, however, the city already had several thousand dollars worth of reports in its possession and he felt that these reports should be fully perused by the council before incurring further consulting engineers' fees which would, undoubtedly, come high. He did not see why the city's officials were not competent to take care of repairs to the present dam and pipe line.

Ald. McMordie was inclined to agree to a considerable extent with the remarks of Ald. Stephens. The Ross report was, however, along somewhat different lines to what was now required. Mr. Yuill had stated that the cost of such an investigation as was proposed would be about $1,000 or $1,500. He was not opposed to delaying the appointment of Mr. Yuill but he was satisfied that, when the council had all the facts, they would agree that it would be advisable to engage him. Moreover, if an examination was to be made it should be made when the water at Woodworth Lake was low—in February or July.

Early Decision
Acting Mayor Casey urged the advisability of making an early decision if the situation was to be met. He advised all the aldermen to make themselves acquainted with the information the city already had as soon as possible.

The discussion ended with the filing of Mr. Yuill's competency report.

H. S. Wallace, who has been here on business for the past week, is returning to Vancouver on the Cardena this evening.

Could We But Strike The Happy Medium.

The happy medium is what we would like to strike all the time, but if we did life would perhaps be too drab and grey and we should lose all the high lights of life. The merchant is almost idle all day until well on into the afternoon and then suddenly his place of business fills up with customers and he is unable to serve them all and some go away dissatisfied and complain of the service. The barber sits and sharpens his razors for hours and then ten people come in all together and want to be shaved or trimmed all at the same time. In the newspaper office there is no news. Not enough copy is in sight to keep the machines running. Then the telegraphs bring long accounts of foreign happenings, several things happen locally and there is not time to print half the news that comes in. So it is in every walk of life. The happy medium is what we like but what we never get. It is always too much or too little.

Too Rich Or Too Poor, Too Good Or Too Bad.

People in this world are either too rich or too poor. Those who are very poor have a bad time in life and are often led into crime because of their poverty. Those who are too rich are just as badly off because the money is a temptation to them to go the pace and they get into trouble and often die early.

People are sometimes so good that they are objectionable to the ordinary run of people. They flaunt their goodness and it has an odor of priggishness. On the other hand there are those who flaunt their badness and they are bad. It seems such a pity we cannot have a happy medium. None of us want to live with angels just yet. We like a person to be human. At the same time we do not care to live with devils. The person who is neither an angel nor a devil but just a real human creature with a good smattering of brain and a regard for the rights of others is the person we like.

Remove The Rock If Possible.

The rock on which the Prince Rupert Club is built is undoubtedly objectionable. Tourists take snapshots of it as an illustration of how Prince Rupert is built. If, while protecting the interests of the city it is possible to have that rock removed it will be a great improvement. The whole street will be better and specially the Bank of Commerce property next door.

It has been argued that the club is owned by prominent businessmen and if they wish to remove the rock they should do it themselves. On the other hand the club is even more attractive to them where it is than if it were lowered. There is a fine view from the top of the rock which would be partially eliminated if the rock were removed.

It is to be assumed that the club will not approach the city with any proposal to get something for nothing. If it can be arranged to have this part of the street improved once for all, however, it will be one more step toward making Prince Rupert conform with the usages of other places.

Old Folks And The Youthful.

Some people grow old early in life and others are youthful until the end of their days. The mental attitude is responsible to a great extent. Dr. Millar mentioned Sunday night that he hoped he would never grow old, or something to that effect. He would. So a great many other people will remain perennially young. They have within them the fountain of youth.

Age is not altogether a matter of years. Some men at 25 are old men, old in experience and mental attitude. Others at sixty are young. It is well not to grow old too quickly, for life is short at the best, and we probably pass this way only once.

"Best Thing in the World For Delicate Girls"

Mrs. John Bennett, Boggy Creek, Man., writes: "My little girl had organic nervous trouble, could not sleep, had severe headaches and fainting spells. This went on for three years, and three doctors helped her very little. After reading of what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food had done for others, I got some for her. She is now so well that she is like a different child. She is fourteen years old and looks the picture of health."

"We have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for different members of the family, when recovering from 'flu' and scarlet fever, and it has always helped them."

Purchase of Air Compressor for City Delayed Until Further Report Made

A report from the Board of Works recommending the purchase of a portable air compressor with Fordson tractor engine and a jack hammer costing $2,262 and $212 respectively was referred back to the board of works last night by the city council for further data as to the necessity of such a purchase being made.

Ald. Perry urged that the purchase be made. The equipment would be useful in connection with rock work on street grading and later could be put to good use when sewer work was undertaken. The present compressor was unwieldy and unsatisfactory. The new one would be portable on wheels with a tractor engine.

Ald. Larsen was surprised that the city already did not have such a machine. He felt it would pay for itself in a very short time.

Acting Mayor Casey questioned if the machine would be as effective as the city engineer thought it would be. As far as he could see, once it was put on a torn up street it would be tied up there until there was a road built to it.

Amends Motion

Ald. McMordeie agreed that the machine would be very effective where heavy and extensive rock work was to be done but he doubted if there was sufficient rock work in sight now to warrant the purchase. He moved that the report be referred back to the board of works for further information as to the quantity of rock that would have to be taken out on such projects as cemetery road and Eleventh Avenue grading.

Ald. Brown seconded Ald. McMordeie's amendment.

Ald. Perry asserted that the cost of the machine would be saved on the cemetery road and Eleventh Avenue alone. Eight men's work would be saved by using it. Ald. Larsen endorsed this view stating that whereas it cost from 50c to 75c per yard to take out rock by hand, the work could be done by the machine for 13c or 14c.

Ald. McKechnie supported Ald. McMordeie's amendment. It had not yet been decided, anyway, whether the cemetery road would be done by the city engineer or by contract.

After some further discussion, the recommendation that the machine be purchased was withdrawn and the amendment of Ald. McMordeie seeking further information was carried.

COMPLAINT OF PRINCE GEORGE TO BE LOOKED INTO BEFORE ACTING

A lengthy resolution from the city council of Prince George protesting against the action of the provincial government in making deductions from the municipality's share of liquor profits to cover administration of the Government Liquor Act was presented to the local council last night for endorsement but was laid over for two weeks pending information on the matter, which the city is seeking, being received. The Prince George resolution states that, in addition to losing all its liquor profits for the six months ending September 30, an extra assessment over and above of $300 had been imposed on that city. The resolution requests the minister of finance to show his authority for the action which is described as a "vicious injustice."

Ald. Perry and Ald. Larsen moved that the resolution be endorsed. Ald. McMordeie took the view that the council had not thoroughly digested the contents of the resolution and moved, in amendment, that the matter be tabled for a couple of weeks pending further investigation and receipt of information the city had asked of the provincial government. The amendment was seconded by Ald. Stephens who felt that the Prince George resolution was a little drastic, to say the least, and it would be unwise for the city of Prince Rupert to antagonize, without careful consideration, a government which was not unfriendly to the city. He was not in favor of taking up other people's quarrels unless he was certain that this city also had a real grievance.

The amendment was carried. Ald. McMordeie, Ald. Stephens and Ald. McKechnie voting for it and Ald. Perry and Ald. Larsen against.

GREAT INCREASE IN TEA DRINKING

The last few years have witnessed a tremendous increase in tea drinking. Production has fallen far beyond demand. Tea now costs more than at any time in the last 75 years. It may even reach $1.00 a pound, for the price is expected to rise still further. When such profits are being made by the tea plantations, overproduction and a sudden drop in price is bound to come. It may take a year or longer or the price might fall when least expected. Not even experts can foretell what will occur.

SERVICE

NOT SERVITUDE

Has it ever occurred to you that the multitude of "Household Helps" offered for sale are of themselves lifeless and incapable of service unless controlled and directed by the already overburdened housewife.

Laundry service alone is alive, vital, imposing no new obligations, and asking nothing but your friendly disposition, to change servitude into service. May we call?

LEARNED PROFESSORS DISCUSS BOBBED HAIR

One Declares in Favor and the Other Argues Against Custom

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Arguments for and against bobbed hair are prolific, and have agitated the minds even of learned professors. Lecturing to members of the London College of Physiology, Professor H. J. Harper Roberts said bobbing had evidently come to stay. Its advantages were threefold; it was becoming to a certain type of woman, it made for freedom, and it was easy to dress and wash. The disadvantage was that it exposed a sensitive part of the neck, which often broke into a rash for about a month afterwards.

A beauty specialist, Dr. Jacques Brettmon, takes exactly the opposite view. He condemns the modern craze for bobbed and shingled hair, and says many women have told him they wish they had not been bobbed.

"Man's ideal woman is still the ideal of the ages," Dr. Brettmon says, "a woman with flowing hair over her shoulders. When she bobs her hair she cuts just so much from our conception of her. In our eyes it enhances the beauty of very few women."

TRAINING FOR FOOTBALL

Importance of Goal-keeper is Emphasized and Pointers Given Making Saves

(By "Andy" Duceat, Manager of Fulham Club.) (Reprinted from "Greenock Herald")

Years ago I played in a village team. One of our muster was a born footballer. Rather the reverse. After one fatal error our enraged captain turned to this unfortunate and shouted indignantly "Next match, young 'Enry, you're going to keep goal!"

This attitude towards the goal keeper still persists in small teams. A man not strong enough for strenuous work in the field is put back between the posts.

First-class matches works out at one goal. Because of this, the goal keeper is one of the most influential men on the field. He only has to keep out two balls that should properly have gone through, and he reverses the result of the match.

The tallest man on your side might well be trained for work in goal. Strength, however, must go with his height. A strong punch or a long goal kick at critical times make a vast difference to the state of the game.

Activity in "diving" and jumping is needed. Ability for concentrating on the game must be accompanied by a complete freedom from "nerves."

Goal kicks must never be left to do without taking on the goalies' responsibilities. Hard kicking out takes more out of a man than no end of running.

You cannot decide a goal keeper's merit by the brilliant saves he makes. A first class goal keeper depends for success on putting himself into positions that make brilliant dives unnecessary. Some of the finest goal keepers rarely seem to do anything sensational at all.

Spectators are not always so good as they think they are at picking out the best goal keepers. Give me a man who saves the goal before it is kicked rather than one who springs—as they do in story books—up into the top left-hand corner and retrieves a dazzling ball.

Robbing the Forwards Thousands of goals are saved by brisk custodians who get out and stop the forward before he shoots. This is a good way when you know how to do it.

Which is the proper time to run out? Attacking forwards—when being pursued by defenders—are seldom able to keep the ball close to their feet. It is quicker to kick it through the defence than it is to dribble it up. Therefore, an oncoming forward will at times be considerably farther away from the ball than he would like to be. This is your opportunity to dash out.

Get to your man. That is the secret of successful dashes. Don't hesitate or he will think he has beaten you. Run to him. Get the ball.

You won't always succeed, of course. Sometimes the forward reaches the ball first. No harm is done, however, provided you are close to him. The closer you are the less margin you leave him for a shot.

Your dash out, too, if made with determination, is almost certain to check his speed. Your backs are presented with an opportunity of renewing the combat.

A bold rush frequently bluffs a nervous forward into shuffling yards before he should. Mind, I do not recommend running out, except as a last resort.

Stopping Wing Shots When a forward must shoot from the wing, never run out. The risk is completely unnecessary. The portion of the goal mouth open to receive a shot from the wing is so small that you can cover it completely by staying at home.

Keep your eye on your own backs. It is from their positions that you judge whether a wing forward will centre or be compelled to take the shot himself.

The best people to watch nearly always are your own defenders. How they meet the attack gives you the surest indication of how the ball will come through.

Extremely big men in goal have a peculiar effect on opposing forwards. I remember a goal keeper who weighed 22 stone. Forwards sometimes lost their nerve altogether when called on to shoot at him. His bulk dominated the situation.

Many young goal keepers do not allow the body to "give" enough when stopping a fast shot.

They stand rigidly in a "let-me-like-a-soldier-fall" attitude. This is very bad. Stiff standing stops your getting quickly to the ball. Should the ball hit you, painful consequences ensue.

Whichever part of your body receives the impact must give, just as a cricketer's hands give when he brings off a catch.

Wait with all your weight thrown forward. Stand reasonably flat on your feet, but thrust your weight forward as though you were standing on tip-toe. Bend your knees. A bent pair of knees enable you to spring in the air or "get down in the basement" without an instant's hesitation.

Low Balls Hardest The most difficult shots to stop are those along the ground. Crouch rather than kneel to them. Get your hands out and your elbows near the pit of your stomach. Move into the way of ball and take it in your hands. Don't kneel. Remember you have to dispose of the ball immediately. While you keep on your feet and take it in your hands or arms, you can clear at once.

Wind sometimes produces a big swerve. The worst part of the ball's swerve comes in the last few yards of the flight. Therefore—don't jump forward. Watch and wait. While you keep your gaze glued on the ball you can't miss it, no matter how much it swerves.

Turn the ball round the posts if you can't collar it. Fast drives at shoulder height must always be caught if possible.

SPORT CHAT

Benny Leonard, the lightweight boxing champion, has retired and they are talking about elimination fights to select a successor, Jack Dempsey has just announced that he too is retiring and will try married life again. The fight fans believe that Benny Leonard means it for he has not been very well of late but they shake their heads in disbelief at anything that Dempsey may say in that line. Public opinion will probably force the heavyweight champion into fighting at least once again before he retires. It is pretty well understood, however, that, if Dempsey really does retire, Tommy Gibbons will lay claim to his mantle. Whether Gibbons is or is not entitled to the belt is a question upon which fans are divided and it is not expected, if he does get it without warfare, that he will hold it long without fighting.

Complimentary Things Said About F. A. Pauline at Dinner in His Honor

SECTIONALISM DEPLORED

Premier and Minister of Finance Defend Appointment of Former Speaker

VICTORIA, Feb. 3.—"If I am spared for the next few years I am confident that I shall confirm the judgment of the Government in appointing me to this high and honorable post, and then when you come to scan my work you will agree that I have done credit to myself, and the Province of British Columbia," said F. A. Pauline, agent-general for B.C., in a valedictory speech at a complimentary dinner here.

Mr. Pauline who will leave for London this week to take up his appointment, was the guest of honor at the dinner tendered to him by the City Council, directors of the Chamber of Commerce and Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The function was attended by a number of representative citizens.

Proud of Representative

"We are very proud that one of our members should have been chosen to his high post," remarked C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, in submitting the toast of the guest of honor. Mr. Pauline has been one of the best and most active members of the chamber. In his personality Mr. Pauline united many talents most desirable for the position he was to occupy. Mr. Schwengers said he regretted the attitude of a portion of the Vancouver press to the appointment, but how could the Government expect to pay much attention to the matter when it was recognized from what quarter it came?

Mayor J. Carl Pendray indicated that the occasion was one in which all classes of the citizens united, because they all wished Mr. Pauline well. He could tell Mr. Pauline the citizens would be only too glad to aid him, while, when the Agent General returned to Victoria he could be assured of the warmest welcome. (Applause.)

On behalf of the Publicity Bureau of Victoria, Joseph Patrick, its president, declared that he did not attach too much stock

MOST OLD FOLKS REQUIRE A HEART AND NERVE TONIC

After middle age little sicknesses and ailments seem harder to shake off than formerly as the heart action becomes weak and uncertain and the nerves are not as steady as they were in the younger days. Now is the time when all aged people who wish to maintain their health and vigor and retain their energy unimpaired should use

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. M. O'Connor, Whitestone, Ont., writes:—"I have been troubled, most of my life, with shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, and fainting spells. I was advised, by a friend, to try Milburn's H. & N. Pills, which I did, and at once found relief, and I have never had a really bad spell since. I am 80 years of age and I always keep them in the house, and feel that with their help I will see many years yet. I always recommend them to anyone who is suffering from heart trouble."

to the Vancouver criticism of the appointment. Vancouver wanted not only the Agent Generalship but the white bear. The new Agent-General knew the class of population wanted in B.C., men of industry and character, who would build up the community as it should be.

The Premier

Premier Oliver remarked that the occasion was eminently fitting for such a gathering to be held. He expressed his surprise at the criticism levelled at the appointment, but said he had arrived at the conclusion that, mainly it was sectionalism, directed unfortunately against Mr. Pauline. The Government could not afford to make mistakes, and of the names of men submitted to the Government for this very important appointment, Mr. Pauline was chosen.

The Government had had a particular opportunity to judge him in the eight years that Mr. Pauline had been a member, in a great many varied circumstances which would test out any man, added Mr. Oliver, in commending the choice.

Mr. Pauline was going to London, the Premier went on, to perform a work eminently to the advantage of the people of B.C. "He has those characteristics which will enable co-operation to bring about the best results. I venture to say that if the public bodies perform their share as well as Mr. Pauline will, then the best results which we can hope will result." It was unfair to hit the Government a crack over the shoulder of Mr. Pauline, he observed, in declaring that politics ought not to have anything to do with such an appointment.

Hon. J. D. McLean, minister of finance also spoke appreciatively of Mr. Pauline.

COMPEL CHILDREN TO ATTEND AT SCHOOLS

NELSON, Feb. 3.—The school board is once more wrestling with the problem of compulsory attendance at schools. Complaints have been made that some pupils are kept at home by their parents without good reason contrary to the School Law. The latter was discussed at some length at a recent meeting of the board but no action taken pending notice being sent to offending parents.

REMOVE ROCK SECOND AVENUE

Prince Rupert Club Eyesore Again to be Taken Up With City Council

At the annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Club last night representations were made to the members that the rock beneath the present building was an eyesore and that if possible steps should be taken to have it removed.

After considerable discussion the directors were given power once more to approach the city council to see if some feasible arrangement could be made by which the rock could be removed while the crusher is there. It was felt that while the building suited the members very well, it was not a good thing for the city to have it stand in its present position. The difficulty is, the club has a number of outstanding debentures against its property and the debenture holders have refused to sanction the carrying out of any proposal made so far.

A number of suggestions were made at the meeting and as a result it is expected that some concrete proposal will be made to the city with a view if possible to the improvement of the appearance of the street.

CLARENCE WOODRUFF MARRIED TO HELEN BURNSIDE IN SOUTH

Local Interest Attaches to Marriage Certificate Issued Last Week in Seattle

Because both the parties concerned are very well known among the younger people of Prince Rupert, particular interest attaches itself to the following marriage certificate issuance which was recorded in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer of January 28:

"Woodruff-Burnside—Clarence M. Woodruff, 25, Seattle, and Helen Burnside, 24, Vancouver, B.C."

The bride, who is a graduate of the Vancouver General Hospital training school for nurses, was operating room supervisor in the local hospital for nearly two years. The groom was formerly on the staff of Bryant & Greer's men's furnishing store and was a member of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club. Both left the city for the south last summer. They will receive the congratulations and best wishes of many local friends.

SCHOOLS WILL BE CHARGED ON METER FOR WATER SERVICE

On recommendation of the utilities committee, the city council decided last night to charge water rates to the city schools on the basis of meter consumption instead of the present flat rates. Whereas, a flat rate of $50 per year was now charged Booth School, on basis of meter consumption, the charge would be $258. If the meters were not installed, flat charges of $200, $175, $175, and $30 might be charged Booth, King Edward, Borden Street and Seal Cove schools instead of $50, $50, $50, and $12 respectively as at present.

Ald. McMorde pointed out that the city would eventually pay the

Is your wife wiser than you?

IF YOU read only the stock and sporting pages, and your wife is like other women, she is wiser than you. She reads the shopping news.

She likes to hear you jingle money in your pockets. She likes to stretch money to the limit, so she won't have to ask for more. She likes to shop strategically. Know what she does.

Comfortably at home in a cushiony arm-chair, she scans advertising columns. She compares, judges and selects the goods she desires; maps her route; with least effort and minimum time, goes direct to the planned store and buys.

She obtains what she wants at the lowest price it is offered. She is certain of full satisfaction, for she knows advertised goods live up to their claims. She saves time and steps, and returns sufficiently alert to enjoy new advertisements--and to prepare you an appetizing dinner.

A GOOD WAY TO INCREASE BUSINESS

Many advertising messages fail to attract attention because they are either unattractive or are too stereotyped.

This is the opinion of one of our busiest and most successful business firms—Albert & McCaffery, Ltd. They have succeeded in interesting many new customers in the story of the famous Nanaimo - Wellington coal and since the coal itself lives up to its reputation these customers are coming back daily for more. Nanaimo - Wellington coal is the premier fuel for the fireplace, range and furnace. More heat—less ash—no rock or clinkers.

You should try Nanaimo-Wellington as soon as your present supply gets low. Better still, if you order some now you can test it out with the coal you are now using. Nanaimo - Wellington stands supreme when a comparative test is made.

To secure a supply phone Albert & McCaffery Ltd., who are sole agents here. Their phone numbers are 416 and 564.

LIVED A FAST LIFE AND NOW CASH IS GONE

Countess Was in Class With Adelina Patti and Rich: Now Resides in Barn

BUDAPEST, Feb. 3.—Countess Alexandra Forgach, daughter of the late Count Alexander Forgach, who was one of the wealthiest landowners in Hungary, affords the unique spectacle of a countess living in a chicken barn. In the little commune of Hudegkut, immediately outside of Budapest, and adjacent to the fashionable residential section known as "Cool Valley," the countess lives within four plain board walls in a room about 6 by 9 feet, amid numerous chickens and a large brood of dogs.

Withered Dame

The countess is now an old, withered dame, clad in a man's long coat and soldier's boots. She speaks French fluently with a rich, mellow voice, and makes

Mr. L. A. Deibert, Allan, Sask., writes: "For several years I was troubled with boils and pimples. I tried many treatments but could get no results. I then took Burdock Blood Bitters and became free of my trouble. It is the only medicine I ever took that did me any good."

no bones whatever about her story.

"I am a daughter of Count Alexander Forgach," she said recently. "My sister Elise committed suicide; my brother Anton was killed at the same time with his friend and master, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico. From my father I inherited 40,000 gulden.

Frivolous Girl

"I was frivolous when a young girl. As I had a good voice, I was determined to go to the opera, but my father said that a Countess Forgach could not choose such a profession. So I ran away to Paris. There I got along well on the stage. I appeared under the stage-name of Carolina Mare, and was in a class with Adelina Patti and Christine Nielsen. Verdi composed roles especially for me. In Paris, Rome and London I achieved great triumphs. Later I became the friend of Princess Galliera at Paris. When I learned that my father was dying, I hurried back to Hungary.

"After his death I remained in Hungary and took charge of my inheritance. I really don't know what happened to my money. I should like to get back to my castle at Etes. All I want is a room and a hundred chickens and twenty dogs."

Fast Pace

Her relatives state that the countess has lived at such a fast pace that there is literally nothing left of her estate.

JAPANESE PRINCE LEAVING SOON FOR ENGLISH UNIVERSITY

Yasuhito Will Spend Four Years at Oxford and Will Study Sociology

TOKIO, Feb. 3.—Prince Yasuhito Chichiku, second son of the emperor, will sail for England in May for a stay of possibly four years. He will enter Oxford University and, breaking all precedents for a prince of the royal house, will live in college premises.

The prince's first year abroad will be spent in the home of a British family whose name has not been divulged, and after a grounding in English he will enter upon his university course and specialize in sociology. This will be the first time that a Prince of Japan has studied in a foreign university except military institutions, and the radical departure from custom is looked upon in Japan as indicating a marked change in the position of the royal house.

A three-ring drama of circus, stage and society. A picture which throws the spotlight on the secret, behind-the-scenes life of a circus funny man showing him as he really is, stripped of his grease paint and bag of tricks. A brand new kind of love story with a clown as the lover and the Big Top and the Sawdust Ring as the settings. The love-drama of the fun-maker who rose to a higher plane; who had to choose between the society girl of his new world and the circus girl he had left behind him. A strong mixture of romance and comedy. Strong cast:

Stolen said. The stories of these wild parties came from the lips of "town girls" haled into juvenile court for delinquency.

University authorities refused today to comment on Judge Stolen's assertions and declared they were with him in his determination to give any offender, whether a student or not, the limit of the law.

But they quietly pointed out that the conditions he referred to prevailed in fraternity houses only during vacation periods when the men were away and the empty houses are taken over by irresponsible parties. University officials emphasized the fact that no coeds are involved in the court cases on which Judge Stolen based his jeremiad.

The judge did not confine his accusations to the university. Sixty per cent of Madison youths are, or have been, diseased to some degree, he said. "I cannot understand how business men, who would not cash a check for the Angel Gabriel unless it was countersigned by God, will trust their own daughters with any acquaintance they may pick up. Liquor and women are the craze of the age, crime increases, and the county jail could be filled twice a week if every offender was sent up," Stolen continued.

VELVET POCLETTE LATEST NOVELTY

Are About Half the Size of Women's Hand Bags and are Vogue in Paris

PARIS, Feb. 3.—The "Velvet Pochette" is the latest fashion in bags which the Paris creative genius, always on the alert in imagining charming new frivolities to tempt the fashionable woman's fancy, has invented. They are mostly made in old-rose velvet, brightened by a formal design of steel paillettes and are to be had in all the colors of the rainbow. Small in size—about half the usual size of women's hand bags—they are just now enjoying a tremendous vogue in Paris.

A flowered bag in nigger-brown silk, ornamented with a bouquet embroidered in gold thread cut out on a yellow silk background, small enough to be put in the pockets of the wearer's great coats, was very much in evidence at the Auteuil race-track recently when the thermometer was hovering around zero and fingers became numb with cold. The little bags only came out of the pockets to draw out the bank notes necessary to feed the ever hungry pari-mutuel booths.
