LIBEL SUIT BEGINS AGAINST J. S. COWPER

DR. SUTHERLAND TELLS OF WORK BEING DONE ON NORTHERN TRUNK ROAD

Northern Highway is Soon to be Opened as far as Skeena Crossing

Section between Burns Lake and Endako to Open in August giving Road to Kamloops

AERIAL RECONNAISSANCE PROMISED

Minister pleased with progress made on Kaien Island Road toward Galloway Rapids

Hon. W. H. Sutherland, who was here Saturday, announced that the section of the highway between Burns Lake and Endako would be opened in August and that next fall automobiles would be able to pass all the way from Kamloops to Skeena crossing west of Hazelton.

Surveys are being made of the section connecting Hazelton and Terrace, part of which is already constructed. Between Terrace and Prince Rupert the work is more difficult and it is not yet sure what route can be taken. At the request of the executive of the Liberal Association and a delegation from the board of trade, Mr. Sutherland promised to try to arrange for Major McLaren to undertake an aerial reconnaissance to see if an interior pass through the mountains could be discovered. Major McLaren is expected to be in the north during the summer and while here it is probable arrangements will be made for a series of flights for the government.

Two cars of the train were derailed and Abbott was thrown out on the street, the wheel passing over his head. David Wells of Burnaby, said by the police to be the owner of the automobile, is being held for investigation.

SHIPPING SPRUCE

Prince Rupert Mill Ships First Quota of Airplane Stock for Vickers

The week-end saw considerable shipping activity in the harbor in addition to the regular passenger ships.

The Coast Steamship Co.'s steamer Celtic arrived yesterday afternoon and is loading 70,000 feet of airplane spruce at the ocean dock. This represents the first shipment of this stock from the Prince Rupert Spruce mill to fill an order running into millions of feet that the local concern is to fill for Vickers, England. The mill has been piling the lumber in the ocean dock for some time now.

Yesterday afternoon the steamer Robert H. Merrick, Capt. Gillam, arrived at the Albert & McCaffery wharf, and, after discharging lumber, lime and coal there, sailed at noon for the Naas River. The C.P.R. freighter Princess Ena is now due at the Albert & McCaffery wharf with 450 tons of cement.

Also in port over the week-end was the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Co.'s freighter Anyox, Capt. McKinnon, which arrived from the south on Saturday evening and, after discharging 200 tons of coal at the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.'s plant, sailed last night for Anyox.

Passenger vessels in port over the week-end included the Princess Beatrice, Prince Rupert and the Venture on Saturday; the Carajena and the Princess Louise yesterday and the Princess Louise this morning.

Among the directors of the company who attended the meeting were A. J. Thompson of Usk, manager of the company; J. D. Wells, secretary, and James Darby a heavy shareholder. Mr. Fortner of Portland, Oregon, is president.

Expedition is Going North to Take Official Charge of the Canadian Islands of the Arctic VANCOUVER, June 8.—The Province says: "During the summer Canada will organize an administrative body and police for all islands that have been discovered in the Arctic region and which the Dominion claims as part of this country. For this purpose George P. Mackenzie, gold commissioner of the Yukon, who arrived here from the north, has been given an assignment that in point of territory over which he becomes chief executive is the most extensive that has been placed under the jurisdiction of any person heretofore. It embraces islands in the Atlantic adjoining the Arctic as well as in the Pacific.

"The first expedition to bring order into Arctic outposts and to report on the natural resources of these far off Canadian possessions will leave on July 1 under the leadership of Mr. Mackenzie who will have a staff of zoologists and other experts in his party.

"While Mackenzie, who is here en route to Ottawa to complete preparations for the expedition, which will be by vessel to the North Atlantic, would not deny the new undertaking to which he had been assigned, he had nothing to say regarding details of the government's plan for administration of the new territory.

Cowper Sued for Libel in Connection with an Article on Murder Case

F. L. Baker Objects to Statements in Regard to Murder said to have been brought out in Confession

VANCOUVER, June 8.—Information was sworn to here Saturday night before Magistrate J. A. Findlay by F. L. Baker charging criminal libel against John S. Cowper, editor of the Saturday Tribune, a weekly paper published here. The charge is a sequel to the publication in the Tribune of an article relating to the Janet Smith murder case.

G. L. Fraser, counsel for Baker, was in consultation with Magistrate Findlay today as to whether a warrant should be sworn out or only a summons issued. Later in the afternoon it was decided to issue a summons, which was done and Cowper is summoned to appear in court next Monday.

Had a warrant been issued, Cowper would have been arrested. As it is he appears in court to answer to the charge.

In the meantime the provincial police are investigating statements in regard to a Vancouver woman making a confession that she knew more than has been published about the murder, that the girl was killed in an upstairs room in the Osier Ave. house during a fracas, that Chinese were there and that bloodmarks may yet be seen on the floor in the upper room. The alleged confession has been received by the Attorney General's department and investigations are being made, which, it is stated, may involve persons in high positions.

Wake Up Prince Rupert People.

This morning the passengers from the Princess Louise were parading the streets of Prince Rupert from seven o'clock and of course those who came up town first found the stores closed. That was all right. Then a good many arrived about eight or shortly after and still a lot of stores were closed. Probably they did not want to buy much, but every little helps. Also it looks so much better to see people on the job.

In some cities, situated similarly to ours, the stores open up whenever a boat arrives, even if it is at eleven o'clock in the evening. While we do not suggest that they do it here, it seems reasonable that any place appealing to tourist business should be open at eight in the morning and it would look much better if the others were open also.

Freight Rates Are To Be Revised.

Freight rates are to be revised throughout Canada with the object of equalizing the rate to the east and west coasts and also for the purpose of facilitating the export of grain through Pacific ports. That is designed to relieve the farmers and make it easier for them to get their grain to market. It will also mean a great deal to Prince Rupert in that it will tend to improve the grain business with this port.

If rates are equalized it will make practically the whole of Saskatchewan crop available for export through British Columbia at competitive rates. Much of it will not come this way but a great deal will, especially when the market is established. It always takes some time to establish new routes of trade.

Dealers Will Now Look To This Port.

Grain-dealers and exporters will now be looking to this port as one means of getting grain to market. Two years ago when Prince Rupert was trying to interest firms in the export business from here, one of the prominent buyers stated that just as soon as the freight rates were revised they would be interested in Prince Rupert. It now seems that the revision is to be brought about and that Pacific ports would come into their own so far as the grain trade is concerned. Prince Rupert as one of them should benefit very materially.

Coal Bunkers As An Investment.

It is understood that coal bunkers may be erected here as an investment by private persons interested in the coal export business. That looks like a practical development. If the parties now interested do not go through with the plan, there ought to be enough people in Prince Rupert who would be glad to put up sufficient money to build the bunkers and operate them as a private concern. There is a chance now for something of this sort to be done and for Prince Rupert to benefit. We have had pretty nearly enough of public ownership of such things and it will be a treat to see private persons taking an interest in the port.

DOG PICTURE WITH A BITE

Is Silent Accuser in Case of Murder: An Exciting Chase With Confession at Close

While preparing to elope with Jack Warren at midnight from her old Southern home, Barbara Jane is surprised by Phil, an ardent admirer of hers. She resists his advances and in the struggle that ensues, a chair is overturned. The girl's step-father hearing the noise ascends the stairs, where he meets Phil, who has left the girl in a faint. The men quarrel.

Jack comes to the house, accompanied by his dog, and the animal peers through the window in time to see Phil shove the old man down the stairs to his death. Phil, terrified, sees the face of the dog—a silent accuser.

Jack is found bending over the body of the dead man and as a result is sent to the penitentiary. The dog trails him to the prison, and after various attempts, succeeds in reaching his master. The dog carries notes back and forth between Jack and Barbara Jane, until he effects his master's escape, and brings him to the girl.

With the intention of forcing a confession from Phil, the three of them follow him to the Argentine where his conscience and fear of the dog as the only witness to his crime, have driven him.

Barbara Jane eventually finds Phil in a dive—convinces him that she has come there to be with him, because she loves him—and tricks him to her cabin where Jack waits with the dog.

On the Culprit's Trail
The dog, getting the scent of his old enemy dashes out the window of the cabin before Jack can stop him. Phil sees the dog—realizes he has been deceived—grabs Barbara Jane—and dashes away with her.

An exciting chase ensues with Phil and Barbara Jane, followed by the dog—and Jack. The chase ends at the edge of a lake, where the dog attacks Phil, Phil, torn and bleeding, pleads with Jack to call off the dog. Jack consents if Phil will confess to the killing of the old man. Two mounted police, seeking Jack to return him to prison, overhear Phil's confession. As they are about to take Phil away, he begs for a drink of water. As he bends over to drink, the dog jumps on his back, knocking him headlong into the water. Phil rises, dripping with mud and slime.

Jack, Barbara Jane, and the dog are reunited in their happiness.

That is the story of "The Silent Accuser" here for mid-week.

GIRL IN LIMOUSINE AT THE WESTHOLME

Good Picture Has Number of Real Thrills all of Them Real says Larry Semon

There is a chase scene in which I pursue an auto on a road running parallel to the railroad. The auto comes to a crossing swerves sharply and gets in front of a speeding railway train, which it misses by inches. As the next crossing is reached I in my motor cycle do the same thing. A quick turn and full speed and I cross in front of the train by a half second margin. "All these things were actually performed in this picture, and performed at the rate of speed shown on the screen. It was much easier for me to drive in front of the train at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour than at fifteen miles an hour. You see I got across quicker. It is on the same principle that a man skates faster over thin ice. He wants to get over the danger zone as quickly as possible. "One of our most difficult jobs in making "The Girl in the Limousine" was to skid a heavy limousine in two complete circles. We did this of course by applying the brakes quickly, but there was always the danger of the heavy car upsetting. And we had to do this stunt twenty-nine times in order to get the effect we desired.

THE SIGNAL TOWER NOT A SPECTACLE

Proneness to over-emphasize the manner in which human beings with whom the world is acquainted intimately as a class has been held to be a fault in motion picture stage or screen delineations of life, but this criticism cannot be applied to "The Signal Tower," Universal-super-Jewel, starring Virginia Valli, to be here at the week end. For once, at least, the screen has given its devotees real human beings, and, evidently, exaggeration is taboo among the working materials of Clarence L. Brown, who directed the picture.

Virginia Valli has done some fine things before the screen but never has she appeared more as if she were going through an ordinary routine of daily existence without thought of "acting" than in her present vehicle. Here, she takes the part of a young wife who lives for her husband and their child in the home of a signal tower along the line of rails running through a lonely forest.

Of course there is a big theme—a powerful theme in fact—in "The Signal Tower." The spectator is filled with understanding just by reason of the innate humanness of the glimpses of "just living."

Majestic in Its Settings

"The Signal Tower" is not a "spectacle production" in the way of numbers of east and hugeness of "sets," but if there be any more majestic setting for a story than the giant redwood forests of Northern California, or any more appealing setting than happy life in a humble home, then neither has been found by producers of motion pictures. Whether photography can be said to enhance such settings is a debatable question, but if it can, then the cameramen who filmed "The Signal Tower" have done it. "The Signal Tower" truly is a faithful story and picture. Rockliffe Fellows is convincing as the husband; and Wallace Beery is at his best as the boarder.

ASSIZES OPEN HERE TUESDAY

Judge and Attorney General Arrive this Morning—Prisoners and Witnesses Also Here

Officials, prisoners and witnesses are now in the city in readiness for the spring session of the Supreme Court assizes which is to open tomorrow.

Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, who is to preside, arrived on the Princess Louise this morning. Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney general, who will personally act as crown prosecutor, also arrived as well as the official stenographer, W. E. G. Johnson.

Besides the three cases already announced, another charge of manslaughter has been added to the local list. The venue was changed from the Prince George assizes to Prince Rupert. In the case, a Chilcotin native named Nekanie stands charged, with manslaughter in connection with the death of another native who, it is alleged, died following a blow struck by accused in a drunken brawl. E. F. Jones has the defence in the case and among the witnesses who are here are Dr. G. A. Charter of Williams Lake and Ian MacRae of Hanceville. Accused was brought to the city by Provincial Constable Marshall on Saturday.

Provincial Constable J. A. Williams of Bella Coola also arrived in the city on Saturday bringing W. Pollard, Bella Coola native, who is charged with manslaughter following the death of John Clelland in an automobile collision. Dr. G. E. Bayfield of Bella Coola is among the witnesses who have arrived to give evidence in this case.

The other two criminal cases to be heard at the assizes are: Rex vs. Symes, charged with manslaughter, and Rex vs. Arthur Stewart, wounding with intent.

The docket of civil cases is a light one.

EXPLOSION REPORTED ON HALIBUT SCHOONER

Forward Tank of Young America Exploded According to Belated Message

The halibut schooner Young America, of Ketchikan, is believed to have been seriously damaged at Sitka by an explosion occurring in the forward gasoline tank, according to word received here today, says a belated message from Ketchikan.

The Young America is a vessel of 27 tons and carries a crew of six men including the master, Olaf Olsen.

The message received here was to the effect that the forward tank of the vessel had exploded shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, believed to have been caused by the engine back-firing. The boat was tied to the W. P. Mills dock and immediately caught fire. Efforts were made to tow the vessel onto the tide flats to save it if possible. Reports, however, are that the vessel will be a total loss.

One man, whose name is unknown, was reported to have been injured slightly about the face and hands by the explosion. No other casualties are known.

According to records at the local customs house the Young America was last in Ketchikan on March 27, since which date the vessel has been fishing out of Sitka.

GILSONITE ON GRAHAM ISLAND

The Quarterly Report of the Graham Island Miners' Association Tells of it

The quarterly report of the Graham Island Miners' Association just received says:

"In several parts of Graham Island there are deposits of Gilsonite which so far have not been given much attention. Mr. Cabrera has received a commission from Eastern interests to investigate these deposits with a view to ascertaining their suitability for working for economical purposes of a secret nature. Special furnaces and chemical processes are being devised for treatment and recovery of the various constituents. The principle employed being a modification of that evolved by J. H. Robertson in his patent furnaces for the recovery of volatile matter from slags. According to latest accounts everything points to a solution of the problems involved and the start of a suitable commercial undertaking may be looked for at an early date."

While here he called on a number of former Victorians. Also he was taken to see Salt Lake Park and particularly enthused over the possibilities of that place as a pleasure ground. He expressed the opinion that the city should spend some money annually in making of it a show place and amusement park.

GYRO CLUB HAS ANNUAL PICNIC

Day Was Most Pleasantly Spent on Tugwell Island by Service Organization and Friends

Under most favorable weather conditions members of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, their families and friends to the number of forty or more enjoyed the club's first annual picnic which was held yesterday at Tugwell Island. Boats left the yacht club at 10:30 and 1:30 and, after having spent the day playing games, indulging in other sports and working up huge appetites for the basket lunches, the happy party returned home about 8:30. Boats for the occasion were provided by Charlie Balagno, Charlie Mills, Ned Tail, Doug Stork, Stan Taylor and Milton Gonzales. The committee in charge consisted of Charlie Mills, Doug Stork, Charlie Starr, Bob Robertson and Leo Waugh.

Sport Chat

If the first two games of the season may be taken as any indication, it looks like the old town is to have some real interesting Senior Baseball this year. The first game between the Sons of Canada and the Sawmill was declared by fans to be one of the best openers that was staged in town for years and certainly the second on Friday last between the sawmill and Gyro Club was as close as anybody could have desired. Tonight Canucks and Gyros will meet and, should the latter win as they are confident they will, the three teams will be tied up in the standing with one victory and one loss each.

Prince George took one step ahead of all other towns in the north as far as sporting activities are concerned when a Golf Club was organized there last week. Officers were selected as follows: President, W. K. Nichols; vice-president, John Galt; treasurer, C. A. Payne; secretary, J. M. Gibson; directors, Mrs. E. J. Lyon, Mrs. J. H. Johnson and George C. Perkins. It is expected that a temporary seven hole course will be obtained in the vicinity of the old government buildings at South Fort George.

It looks like the curtains for Tommy Gibbons, heralded much as late as the logical rival for the heavyweight crown held by Jack Dempsey, Gibbons' defeat by Tunney at New York on Friday night will probably settle him as far as another chance at Dempsey is concerned. Despite what Jim Corbett says about Tommy, he must have gone down hill considerably since he gave the champion such a battle at Shelby two or three years ago. Not only was he knocked out by Gene Tunney but the despatches indicated that Tunney had the best of him all the way until the fatal twelfth.

STEVENS ADDS OPPOSITION TO P.R. ELEVATOR

Toronto Conservatives and Red Deer Progressive Critical of Proposal

During the recent debate on the Prince Rupert elevator vote David Spence, a prominent Toronto Conservative, and Alfred Speakman, Progressive, of Red Deer, both criticized the expenditure and Mr. Speakman touched up Mr. Stork for advocating it. Then H. H. Stevens, Conservative, of Vancouver, opened fire. He said:

"I have no intention of criticizing the government for constructing an elevator at Prince Rupert, but I want to point out that the Minister of Public Works (Mr. King, Kootenay) suggests as a justification for the work the development of the hinterland, the northern part of British Columbia, with particular reference to the district around Ootsa Lake—Francis Lake, Nechaco Valley, Bulkley Valley and Vanderhoof. There are some excellent agricultural lands in the northern part of British Columbia, but I want to tell the Minister of Public Works and the government that had they built an elevator at Prince Rupert at one-half of the present cost it would have served the purposes of the locality and could have been enlarged later on to meet any development in trade. Had they done that and taken the balance of the vote, of $600,000 or $700,000, and devoted it to some demonstration farms for the assistance of mixed agriculture in the northern part of the province, they would have advanced the interests of that section."

Red Herring

"The elevator, if its success warranted an extension, could easily have been enlarged. But what is the government doing now? It is wholly disregarding the dairying and mixed farming possibilities of that great northern section; and the one thing that northern British Columbia requires is the development of mixed farming, for this is its basic agricultural possibility, rather than the growing of grain. Some grain may be grown in one or two districts but not to any great extent, while undoubtedly there are large possibilities in the direction of mixed farming."

"I suggest to the Minister of Public Works that as the chief adviser of the government from the province of British Columbia he certainly has not done the

Plans and forms of contract can be seen and specification and forms of tender obtained at this Department, at the office of the District Engineer, Old Post Office Building, Victoria, B.C.; and at the Post Offices, Vancouver, B.C.; Prince Rupert, B.C., and Port Clements, B.C.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with the conditions contained therein.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender. northern part of that province a good turn by advising the government to spend $1,300,000 in a new elevator. The government could have provided first rate elevator facilities at a cost of $500,000, and the structure could easily have been extended next year if the circumstances made such an extension imperative. Instead of that we are committed to a contract for $1,300,000, which I think it will be admitted will be largely experimental.

Admits Handicap

"A word with reference to the suggestion made by the hon. member (Mr. Stork), that it costs $13 a car to haul grain from New Westminster to Vancouver. That is true; the Canadian National Railways have to pay for the service when moving grain over the line from New Westminster to Vancouver. Furthermore, the New Westminster bridge has about reached its traffic capacity. I have no hesitation therefore in saying that the time is past when the government is warranted in longer delaying building on the Fraser River facilities for the export of grain from the terminals of the Canadian National. After many years of study of the whole problem, I do not hesitate for a moment to say that this expenditure on the Fraser River is more warranted than the expenditure of this $1,300,000. I do not want hon. gentlemen to go away with the impression that I am opposed to development at Prince Rupert; I want to see Prince Rupert developed and the harbor there utilized. I do say, however, that the Minister of Public Works has advised the government in neglecting the mixed farming possibilities of northern British Columbia while, so to speak, putting all his eggs in one basket."

Mr. King (Kootenay): Oh no.

Mr. Stevens: That is what my hon. friend has done. The government could have spent half a million on this elevator and provided first class facilities for some years, adding to them as the grain trade developed; and the balance of the money could have been devoted to developing other branches of agriculture more suitable to the district than that of grain growing.

MANY AT AUDITORIUM ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Dancing Enjoyed by Great Many, Exhibition Sword Dance

The Auditorium proved a popular rendezvous of entertainment on Saturday night when a large crowd thoroughly enjoyed dancing from 8.30 until 11 p.m. Mr. Marren says that dancers can enjoy themselves just as much between 8 and 11 as between 11 and 2 a.m. without the proper amount of sleep being interfered with. During the first part of the program on Saturday Miss Mary McKenzie, Moricetown, a pupil of Miss Nettie Nicol, Vancouver, gave a clever exhibition of the Highland fling and the sword dance accompanied by piper Leslie. The dances were much appreciated both by the management and the spectators.

On Wednesday evening H. Astoria will give an impersonation of a Chinaman singing a song and on Thursday evening there will be songs by Messrs. Sabourin and Couture.

Can You Afford to Speculate?

EVERY time you buy something you are either speculating or making a definite investment.

Few people can afford to speculate. Yet many do it continually, in making their everyday purchases. And it is so unnecessary. The advertisements make it easy for any one to avoid taking a chance.

The merchant or manufacturer who advertises, realizes that the good-will of his customers means money in the bank to him. He knows that the public confidence in his product and public respect for his own character are as valuable as his credit at the bank.

So he makes the individual satisfaction of his patrons, their loyalty and their friendship paramount issues in his business.

When you buy an advertised product, you can know in advance what to expect in return for your money. You can count on its being right. You are making an investment.

But when you buy nameless, unbranded merchandise, you are taking a chance. You are speculating.

Know what you buy. The advertisements will tell you.

SPENDING CASH ON SARCOPHAGUS PETER VEREGIN

Five Thousand Dollar is Cost so Far and Another Five Thousand to Complete.

GRAND FORKS, June 4.—The body of the late Peter Veregin, ruler of the Doukhobors, now rests in its tomb on the hill high above Brilliant under a costly sarcophagus, made of three kinds of Kootenay granite. Three doves of white marble stand in the gable of the main cap, fruit trees are carved in the panels of the sides, and the end panel is ornamented with three singing birds on a branch, carved in relief. These decorations were the suggestions of Anastasia Veregin, niece of Peter Lordly.

Son to Choose Wording
The inscription plate incised at top and bottom, is blank at present. When "Young Peter," son of the late ruler, and present leader, arrives from Russia, he will be asked to choose the wording for this.

The sarcophagus has cost the Doukhobors $5,000 up to the present time, and it is expected it will cost a little more before it is finally completed.

It rests on a concrete platform which in turn lies on the cemented top of the tomb in which the body lies. It is 12 feet 8 inches long, 5 feet 6 inches wide, and about 8 feet high at its highest point.

The lower base and the slightly smaller upper base are of light grey Nelson granite. The sarcophagus itself is of dark grey Nelson granite with light grey granite caps and pilasters of brown pearl Ymir granite.

Ground Terraced
The ground all about the tomb has been terraced by the Doukhobors, and will be sown in lawns. Before it stands a little red table on which are the huge loaf of bread, the jug of water and the fruit always put beside their dead by the Doukhobors, as typifying the necessities of life.

Miss Pearle, L. Zinck, Barrs Corner, N.S., writes:—"I was awfully troubled with my liver, and used to get such dizzy spells I would have to sit down while I was doing my work.

I suffered in this way until a friend of mine who had used your

The local office of the Hecate Straits Towing Co., Ltd., announce that the company has recently purchased the American barkentine "Puako" which will be added to their fleet and used in their coastwise coal and lumber trade. The "Puako" is a wooden vessel of 1,085 tons gross, 221 feet long, 42 feet beam and was built in Oakland, California in 1902. She has lain at anchor in Esquimalt Harbor for about five years awaiting litigation against her, and was sold to the present owners at a sheriff's sale.

The tug Cape Scott owned by the same company is due to arrive at Prince Rupert tomorrow with a large tow from Surf Inlet for the Prince Rupert Spruce Mills Ltd., and the tug Lorne, now enroute from Gumshewa, N.C.I. to Captain's Cove with a deep-sea raft is due here for fuel oil on the same date.
