LUMBER MILL IS REOPENED HERE TODAY

COMING OF JAPANESE LINERS NEXT AUTUMN IS CONFIRMED BY MOCHIDA

Prince Rupert Mill Reopened Today and First Logs Were Cut Following Shutdown of 4 Years

Prince Rupert people listened this morning with satisfaction to the sonorous whistle at 8 o'clock which announced that the big sawmill at Seal Cove, after a period of idleness of some four years, was starting to cut lumber again. They viewed with a great deal of pleasure that pall of smoke which declares that another industry has started.

In readiness for the resumption of cutting, the first log was drawn up the mill skidway on Saturday afternoon and placed on the carriage. Soon after 8 o'clock it was run through. It was announced during the morning at the mill that, while the machinery is still being warmed and little mechanical difficulties cannot be expected in a plant that has lain idle for such a long time, it is doing as well as was anticipated. It will be a few days before the full capacity of 100,000 feet per day is developed.

Today there are 75 men working at the mill. As the plant gets into full swing, this number will be increased until the full payroll of about 100 men is reached. D. D. McMaster is manager of the plant and J. A. O'Donnell is accountant.

The second consignment of logs—a flat boom containing nearly 500,000 feet—arrived at the week end from the Abbotsford Logging Co.'s camp at Alice Arm. This is what is being worked on today. Log deliveries will be coming in steadily from now on, a sufficient quantity having been contracted for to provide for a year's operations.

It is an interesting coincidence that just a year ago today, Seal Cove was again the centre of interest for local citizens but it was a much different event than was then attracting their attention. On the afternoon of April 6 last year, the American round-the-world flyers completed at Seal Cove the first hop of their successful globe flight.

SEALING DEPENDS ON DECISION OTTAWA CABINET

OTTAWA, April 6.—The question of whether to continue the sealing treaty with United States, Japan and Russia, is to be discussed by the Dominion cabinet in the near future, according to Hon. P. J. A. Gardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. If the treaty is ended, sealing will be resumed in Pacific waters.

BUCKLEY BAY TO OPEN SOON

According to information received by the provincial labor bureau here, the sawmill and logging camps of the Massett Timber Co. at Buckley Bay will re-open about April 15. The most of the mill men for the plant will be brought from Vancouver while some loggers may possibly be sent from here.

WAR VETERAN IS STRANGLED

Chloroform was Used in Causing Death of Alexander Buchanan

BELMONT, Mass., Apr. 6.—Alexander Buchanan, a Canadian war veteran, was found Saturday afternoon strangled and robbed near the hospital for the insane here. That chloroform in a gas mask was bound across Buchanan's face with the purpose of robbery or for the satisfaction of some grudge held by some army comrade of his, are theories advanced. He left Boston Friday to visit a sister, who is a nurse at the hospital. His home is in Sugarloaf, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia.

Doukhobors Openly Defy Laws of B.C. in Regard Education of Children; Parade Threatened

NELSON, April 6.—Twenty-five Doukhobors in a mass meeting at Brilliant Sunday afternoon declared to Inspector W. R. Dunwoody of the Provincial Police and School Inspector P. S. Schofield that they would not send their children to school.

Dunwoody and Schofield told the meeting of definite instructions from the Attorney General and the Minister of Education that the law must be enforced.

The refusal was definite and categorical. They would not obey the laws of British Columbia, they said, because those laws were contrary to the Doukhobor interpretation of the laws of God.

Hint of a nude parade as a protest against the measures the government might take in enforcing the school laws was given.

Controversy Over Smallpox Scare in Vancouver and Other Centres M.P.P. Makes Demands on Premier

Special to Daily News by Mail

VANCOUVER, April 6.—There is a considerable flurry in Vancouver over the question of vaccination. The epidemic is now under control and the number of cases has been reduced from 71 to 57. The civic vaccination clinic is being well patronized and a great many are being vaccinated at the school-board clinic and the hospital clinic. Private practitioners are also vaccinating a great many.

Frank A. Browne, Labor member for Burnaby, has written Premier John Oliver in which he states that the vaccination regulations were issued with the deliberate intent of deceiving the public into the belief that all persons in the province must submit to the "poisonous process of vaccination" under penalty of fine and imprisonment and that the real regulations were not issued. He demands the instant dismissal of the official responsible and the indictment for criminal conspiracy of the individuals who have endeavored to create a condition of panic by urging that the regulations be published.

Mr. Brown in his letter also requests that the corrected regulations be issued immediately advising the public of their rights under Section 10 of the Health Act, which points clearly to the fact that citizens having conscientious objections to vaccination cannot be coerced into being vaccinated. The letter states that instead of the people being informed of this fact in the regulations issued, the regulations were deliberately framed to disguise it and to make everyone believe that vaccination was absolutely compulsory.

Anti-Vaccination

The Saturday Tribune has taken up the cudgels on behalf of the anti-vaccinationists just as did the Toronto Saturday Night in the East. It claims that the small-pox reported in Vancouver is really nothing but chickenpox. It also charges that a number of vaccination patients have been very ill. One little girl broke out in sores all over her body and her hair is dropping out and another has developed all the symptoms of syphilis, while a boy has his

Mochida Confirms the Announcement of Jap Liners Coming in Fall

Yokohama Maru to Make Initial Call Here in September and Sail for Japan

Inaugurating Prince Rupert as a port of call for a trans-Pacific freight and passenger service which will be given whenever the business offers, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha will send its big passenger liner Yokohama Maru here about September 20, announces H. Mochida, prominent local Japanese business man, who returned here yesterday afternoon from Japan where he was appointed agent at this port for the line. September 23 is tentatively set as the date of the sailing of the Yokohama Maru from here direct to Yokohama, a thirteen day voyage. The vessel will come here after having made her calls at Victoria and Vancouver. Mr. Mochida anticipates that there will be some 40 or 50 passengers to embark in the vessel from here, the salmon canning season then being over. These steamers are said to have excellent passenger accommodation and many white people use them.

Arrangements may also be made to have some freight to load on the vessel when she comes here. Mr. Mochida is taking this matter up with C.N.R. officials. The larger vessels of the N.Y.K. handle such cargo as lumber, pulp and fish products. If there is grain to be loaded here for Japan, the line may send in their freight ships. No arrangements have yet been made for any cargo to be delivered here from the Orient, says Mr. Mochida.

Away Six Months

Mr. Mochida, who was accompanied on the trip to Japan by Mrs. Mochida and family, was away nearly six months. It was a combined business and pleasure trip. Business conditions in Japan, which have been quiet, are improving he says. There is a great deal of building in progress following the earthquake which practically laid Tokio and Yokohama in ruins. In Tokio a quick recovery from the holocaust is being made; it is not so quick, however, in Yokohama.

Regarding the shipment of fish by-products from here, J. S. Rogers of the Rupert Marine Products Co., after being told of the foregoing interview with Mr. Mochida, declared that conditions

GRANBY WILL BORROW MONEY

been closed a year

The Royal mill at Hanall is to reopen in a few days announces Ofol Hanson, owner, who is leaving on this afternoon's train for the plant. The company has some orders for Eastern delivery and it is possible that, after this business is handled, the plant may ship through Prince Rupert for export. There are sufficient logs on hand to keep the mill going for several months. It is over a year since the Royal Mill was last in operation. R. E. Allen will again be manager.

The Royal mill is a 25M. foot per day plant and employs about forty men when in full operation.

George E. Darby of Bella Bella stipendiary magistrate, has resigned and the resignation has been accepted.

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 2

Tea Production Today

If the Chinese, who first discovered tea, had realized the possibilities of the trade and had studied the nature and requirements of the plant, China might still be the largest tea producing country. Centuries of neglect, however, stunted the growth and caused the quality to deteriorate. In the mountains of Ceylon and India, tea was found to flourish. Scientific methods of cultivation and manufacture were introduced with remarkable results. Now the finest tea grown in the world and by far the largest quantity comes from these countries. "SALADA" is mainly blended from flavoury India and Ceylon teas.

Why Are They Living
In United States.

It would be interesting to know why four thousand men who fought overseas and are now drawing disability pensions from the Canadian government are living in the United States. They, apparently, loved their country enough to fight for it but not enough to stay and live in it after the war was over.

Besides the ex-soldiers who fought overseas there are hundreds of sons of soldiers and other loyal British parents who have left this country and gone to be educated or to make their way in the larger centres of population. They are working under the Stars and Stripes and very soon most of them will be citizens of that country. Why have they gone? There is no national or international reason except that they look on going to the United States much as they would look on moving to Toronto or Montreal. A good many would feel more at home there than they would in Quebec. They want to be in one of the larger centres and the U.S. centres have appealed to them.

Canadians Everywhere
Throughout States.

Almost everywhere throughout the United States Canadians may be found and so may Englishmen, Scotchmen and Irishmen. The country is full of them. Also in every town on this side the border there are plenty of American citizens or people who have been Americans. Yet it seems necessary to keep that irritating boundary line between that country and ours, a line that annoys everyone who has to pass it and suffer the indignities of customs and immigration officers.

There would be no objection taken if Canada were to annex the United States, and there would be no objection at Washington for the United States to annex Canada, but neither would submit to being annexed to the other. We are too loyal for that. We should resent any move with that in view. Instead we are willing to submit to all the discomforts and inconveniences and disabilities of the long three thousand mile boundary over which we may not carry anything without paying customs fees to governments on either side.

Another Cleanup
Order Is Issued.

Another cleanup order has been issued by the police commissioners in Vancouver, this time in respect to its notorious Chinatown. This is a regular thing, not only in Vancouver but in other cities. Orders are given for a cleanup because usually the place has become so bad that it is beginning to attract the notice of citizens and complaints are made.

In all cities of Canada and especially in the West this same complaint is made. Conditions, owing usually to the inaction of someone at the head, are allowed to become so bad that there are vigorous protests made to the mayor, the chief of police or other officials. Then the commission sits in solemn conclave and orders are given that there is to be a cleanup. The cleanup takes place, joints are closed, gambling is stopped and for a few days those who live by their wits live but poorly. The condition does not last long. Readjustments are made and once more the crime mill grinds and things go on much as they were before. In the meantime those who made the protest are satisfied that action is being taken and they forget it.

Ideal Condition
Is For No Cleanup.

The ideal conditions in any city is for things to be so well conducted that there is no need of a cleanup. If things were always clean, this would be unnecessary. When a cleanup is ordered it is pretty certain to indicate that previously conditions have been unsatisfactory.

FLAPPERS ARE MENACE TODAY

So Says Movie Actor, Whose Play is to be Seen Here Tonight

"The flappers of today—poor, super-wise little creatures—are becoming more and more a menace to the nation. And no daughter of mine is going to be a flapper of 1925!" So spoke Harry Carey in discussing the problems of bringing up his little daughter, Skeeter.

And he says it with the same conviction on his face that the camera catches when he advises the villain to let the heroine alone.

Carey is to be seen here tonight in "Tiger Thompson."

"Oh, don't think I am out of sympathy with modern American womanhood," Carey admonishes, lest you think him a self-appointed minister of morals.

"By 'flapper' I do not mean the really modern girl, who dresses sensibly, looks life in the face, loves music and books and her own independence and her boy friends—even to a point that would have shocked her grandmother."

Too Hard and Too Fast

"But I mean the real flapper who does everything too hard and too fast and too often, who wastes her father's money and her own youth and at the age of twenty-one finds herself jaded and bored and tired of life. My daughter is not going to have the opportunity to be like that."

It is interesting to know how this movie-made cowboy intends to avoid it.

"Every time I sit on the veranda at my ranch house with Skeeter in my arms and gaze at the blue sky and the gray-green hills over there, I thank Providence for the start it has given her."

The wholesomeness of the outdoors shall be hers, and the cramping of custom and civilization will not be able to reach her until she is old enough and wise enough to throw off its effects."

And, for corroboration, he turns to his wife, who has been giving acquiescence to his statements by her very solitude.

Smoke and Drink

"And then we plan to send her away to a finishing school of our own selection. But first we hope to have instilled in her a respect for us that will cause her to keep a promise not to smoke or drink at least until she is 21. By that time she will be wise enough to realize that we had told her the truth when we explained to her how she can have two or three years of idiotic and unnatural excitement or a normal happy life—always."

"The young men she goes with must be able to spend a week-end out here on the ranch with me and enjoy it. The entertainments she attends shall be selected. She shall be encouraged to keep up her languages and read worthwhile books. Her daily clothes shall be plain so that she may appreciate her dress frocks all the more."

Normal Girl

"In short, we intend to make her a normal girl, who can write a letter, talk intelligently to her older friends, direct a servant, keep some proportion between her income and her expenditures and enjoy an evening or two without gallivanting away from her own fireside."

And the smile of visualization and the fire of sincerity in Carey's eyes forecast a happy conclusion of these plans.

"Philosophy and bed-time stories from a cowboy" you may question.

No—paternal pride in a motion picture actor who is a college graduate.

BUSTER KEATON IN SHERLOCK JUNIOR IS
LAUGHABLE COMEDY

Love and Laughs Mingle in the Midweek Picture Here

Buster Keaton is coming in a full size feature comedy and it is said to be a scream. The course of love fails to run smooth. Buster loves pretty Kathryn, but the wiles of the town's best dresser are winning the girl away from the poor youth. This is brought to a culmination when the villain plants the pawn ticket for a stolen watch on him and then "finds" it while Buster is at the girl's home.

This is all the more disconcerting because Buster had taken up a correspondence school course in detecting, and this brought his downfall, since he suggested searching everybody—including himself.

With head down, he climbs the ladder to his projection booth and begins to show the picture of the evening, "Hearts and Pearls" or "The Lounge Lizard's Love." The story has to do with the theft of a string of pearls. After watching it a short time Buster falls asleep at his post.

Then occurs a stunt that is sure to have audiences in gales of laughter. Buster finds that the characters in the story he is showing are none other than Kathryn and his hated rival. The picture is evidently much in need of a hero, for the bad man is trying to get Kathryn in his clutches.

Buster, wild with anger, leaves the projection booth and walks down the aisle of the theatre.

Finally, when he can stand it no longer he climbs onto the stage and into the screen itself, just as the scene changes to the outside of the house.

In his search for Kathryn, he becomes a great detective who finds the theft-of-the-pears an easy matter to solve. This "picture within a picture" gathers speed as it goes along, until just as the villain has been blown to bits and Buster and Kathryn are drowning in their race to escape, he wakes up to find the real Kathryn has arrived to tell him he has been cleared of stealing the watch. Buster then follows out the advice illustrated by the film hero in the closing scenes of "Hearts and Pearls."

WASHINGTON PAPERS AND PICTURE PLAY

All Speak Highly of "Abraham Lincoln," the American Educational Film

No play that has ever been shown in Washington has received a set of such splendid and worth-while notices as was given Al and Ray Rockefelt's "Abraham Lincoln" when it was shown here.

The reviewer on the Washington Herald said: "As fine an achievement as has ever been credited to the motion picture industry in this country. A drama of wonderfully entertaining quality. The outstanding episodes in the life of Abraham Lincoln have been laced tightly together into a moving, pulsing, gripping entertainment that possesses much humor, frequent touches of pathos, adventure and thrills beyond number. The principal characters are played with a uniform excellence that is amazing. The familiar characters visualized in the drama are so flawlessly done that it ceases to be acting and becomes sheer reality. From the standpoint of direction, photography and the other essentials of a superlative production, 'Abraham Lincoln' is supreme."

Great Picture

Washington Times: "Abraham Lincoln" is a great picture, and some day you may be ashamed to admit not having seen it. All films of similar nature must come up to this production to find their standards.

"Abraham Lincoln" is solemnly magnificent and gravely inspiring."

Washington Star: "Portrayed

with such a richness of detail as to be intensely engrossing from beginning to end. One of the really worth-while moving pictures, one of the few that can be counted on the fingers of one hand since the very inception of the art. PRINCE CHARLES "PRETTY SHIP"

With Clipper Bow and Yacht-like Lines, is New Type in Coast Boats

The new G.N.R. steamer Prince Charles, formerly St. Margaret, which arrived on the coast last week and which is due here this month relieving the Prince John on the Queen Charlotte Island service, is a new type in coast boats. She has a clipper bow decked with a golden figurehead and yacht like raking masts and funnel.

About 265 feet long and with a forty-foot beam, the new steamer has accommodation for 100 passengers and 100 tons of freight. Her average speed is twelve knots.

The Vancouver Sun carried a picture of the Prince Charles last Thursday.

CHANGES MADE, IN MOTOR ACT

No Ladies' Pictures Must be Stuck to Upper Portion of Wind-shield Hereafter

Some changes have been made in the motor regulations. One provides that every motor cycle shall be equipped with a reflector or lamp mounted on the rear capable of reflecting or displaying a red light towards the rear and such lamp shall be kept lighted during the period from one half hour after sunset to one half-hour before sunrise.

It is provided that no motor vehicle shall use a signal similar to that used by the provincial police force.

Devices allowed for signalling are W.S.W. Auto signal, Mitchell safety signal, Universal signal system, Gordon signal, and Meljs hand signal.

Nothing is allowed to be stuck to the upper half of the wind-shield or to the rear window of a motor vehicle.

NO NEED FOR MORE LABOR

Plenty of Men Here Now to Handle all Work at Present Offering

While there is more local work in the city going on at the present time through the mill reopening, elevator building, city street work, etc., than there has been for a long time, the provincial labor bureau emphasizes the statement that there are plenty of men here to meet requirements and there is no call for further people to come here seeking employment. There are very few permanent residents of the city without work but there are about 100 men registered as seeking jobs. The most of these have come in from the south and prairies and there are a number of loggers among them. The movement of men to the city still continues despite warnings that have been issued that there may be no work for them.

COUNTY COURT

Cases Were Set This Morning for April—Three Actions on Docket

County Court cases for the month of April were set as follows by Judge Young this morning:

Charles Lewis vs. Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., $175 wages in lieu of wrongful dismissal; Williams, Manson & Gonzales for plaintiff, W. E. Fisher for defendant; April 8.

Mrs. Emma Edwards vs. Bert Hanson, $97 for room rent; Patmore & Fulton for plaintiff and Williams, Manson & Gonzales for defendant, April 25.

Imperial Machine Works vs. Charles F. Ward, $35.10 for repairs to gasboat; Patmore & Fulton for plaintiff, Williams, Manson & Gonzales for defendant, April 15.

The application for Exposito Vincent for naturalization was approved.

The Gazette announces that William Deering Lukens of Pallin has been appointed a notary public.

CHAPMAN WAS, DARING BANDIT

Escaped Number of Times After Engaging in Many Holdups in States

NEW YORK, Apr. 6.—Gerald Chapman, who Saturday was sentenced to hang on June 1, often called a modern Jesse James, first gained notoriety in his daring leadership of the sensational $2,400,000 holdup of a government mail truck on lower Broadway in October, 1921.

Chapman and his band had watched the downtown post office for weeks. Learning of a rich shipment of registered mail, they followed the selected mail truck in an automobile when it started to the general post office uptown just before daybreak. Drawing alongside, they crowded the truck to the curb. With both vehicles still moving, Chapman boarded the government van and covered the driver with a pistol.

Then the robbers turned the truck into Leonard Street and removed its wealth of cash and securities at their leisure.

Chapman was traced and caught a few months later in fashionable Gramercy Park where he was found living in a luxurious apartment.

During his subsequent grilling on an upper floor of the Federal building, he suddenly disappeared through an open window while his captors' backs were turned. He was cornered after crawling along a narrow ledge high above Broadway and opposite the Woolworth building. He had nearly reached a window in another office farther down which would likely have led to freedom.

MADE GET-AWAY

Chapman and George R. ("Dutch") Anderson, an accomplice, were sentenced for the mail robbery in August, 1922, both receiving 25-year terms in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Georgia. Both afterwards escaped. Anderson is still at large.

Chapman made his own first successful dash in March, 1923. He was re-caught two days later, bleeding from various wounds, and placed in a hospital

AN INACTIVE LIVER IS THE CAUSE OF CONSTIPATION

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers.

Your bowels become constipated; you have sick and bilious headaches; your tongue coated and furred; your breath bad; specks float before your eyes, and often you feel as if you were going to faint, especially if in a crowded place where there is little or no ventilation.

In this condition there is only one thing to do, and that is to take

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

They will stimulate the sluggish liver so that it will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, and thus clear away all the poisonous matter that is responsible for all your liver troubles.

in Athens, Ga. Within a month, and still in the care of the surgeons, he escaped mysteriously a second time. For months he eluded a nation-wide search in which some of the best man-trackers in the country took his trail. Various crimes and "jobs" meanwhile, which apparently could not be otherwise explained, were put down as "It's Chapman." Almost invariably, however, they proved to have been done by someone else.

ESCAPED AGAIN

Patrolman James Skelly of New Britain, Conn., was slain when he surprised two safe-blowers in a department store Sunday morning, October 10, 1924. He fell under the bullets of one yegg who shot his way out. The other was caught and proved to be Walter E. Shean, son of a Springfield, Mass., hotel owner. Shean and Chapman was the man who got away.

Three months later, January 18 last, Chapman was finally run to earth in Muncie, Ind., by postal agents who had never relaxed their two-year hunt. He was taken back to Atlanta, but was later brought to Connecticut for trial for the Skelly killing.

John Smith arrived in the city from Smithers this morning to take up his duties as stenographer in the local office of the provincial police.

POWER BOAT'S GREAT SPEED

Between Eighty and Ninety Miles Made by Racer

DETROIT, Apr. 6.—The greatest speed test of all time, so far as power boats are concerned, is anticipated when Commodore Gar Wood and a French driver, as yet unnamed, match skill and craft on the Detroit river for the Barnswoth trophy. When the trophy last was defended Wood was prepared to show a speed of between 85 and 90 miles an hour. The speed was not necessary, however, for his opponent met with mishap and sank before the race was completed.

That was in 1921, and Wood's Miss America II, which had developed more than 80 miles an hour in official trials, never has raced since. A new craft of the hydroplane type, powered as was Miss America II, with four Liberty motors of 12 cylinders each, probably will be built for Wood to defend the "BLT" as the Barnswoth officially is designated.

Since the deed of gift covering the gold cup trophy has been revised to limit competition to craft of the runabout type, the British International trophy is the only remaining event that gives free rein to contestants seeking speed records. The gold cup went back east last fall for the first time since 1915.

Sport Chat

With considerable improvements to be effected at the Park Avenue range, and competition with outside teams in prospect for later in the season, the Prince Rupert Gun Club is looking forward to an active and enthusiastic trapshooting season. This will be the third year that the club has been in active operation. The past two seasons have been thoroughly enjoyed by the members who are on the increase. It is expected that some trophies will be put up this year to further stimulate the interest in the sport.

The twenty-seventh annual congress of the Canadian Whist League will take place in Toronto from Thursday to Friday of this week. The tournaments will consist both of whist and bridge and there will be an international bridge game open to the entire world for teams of four players. Gold medals will be presented to the winners. Among the cities to be represented at this congress will be Toronto, Hamilton, London (Ont.), Woodstock, Collingwood, Montreal, Cleveland, New York, Hartford, Detroit, Springfield, Chicago. As far as the congress is concerned, interest in whist has been flagging in recent years, giving way to bridge.

Delayed slightly through having made an extra call at Claxton in the Skeena River, Union steamer Cardena, Capt. A. E. Dickson, arrived from the south at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, sailing at 8 for Anyox, Alice Arm and Stewart. Among her passengers, the Cardena had the following: for Prince Rupert—James Spiers, Mr. Johansen, J. Rimell, Alex Yule, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mochida and family, E. Carson, A. Richmond, N. E. Hyman; for Arrandale, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Walker and family, Hans Christensen, H. Ruffell, Mr. Smith, George Lands, A. Rowan, F. Rowan, D. Fletcher, L. Wilkins and Mr. Fotheringham; for Stewart—Mr. Hamilton, Mr. N. Wilson.

At the end of washday— how old do you feel?

—And a few years of this tiring toil will make you actually as old in appearance as one day's work now makes you feel.

Keep your youth by using our Thrif-T-service. Its cost is very slight, yet your entire bundle will be washed carefully, the flat work will be ironed, and just the wearing apparel left for you to finish. And this comes back to you damp, ready to starch and iron or hang on the line. May we send for your bundle—next washday?

"My Greatest Thrill In Sport"

Being an Account of an Adventure Which Overtook Ozark Ripley
On the Nipigon.

For many years I have hunted and killed all kinds of big game on the American Continent except polar bear, and I have taken most kinds of fresh and salt water game fish. But the greatest thrill I ever experienced during my thirty years' devotion to outdoor sports came to me this summer in July on the Nipigon River in the rapids just below the Canadian Pacific Bridge at Nipigon, Ont.

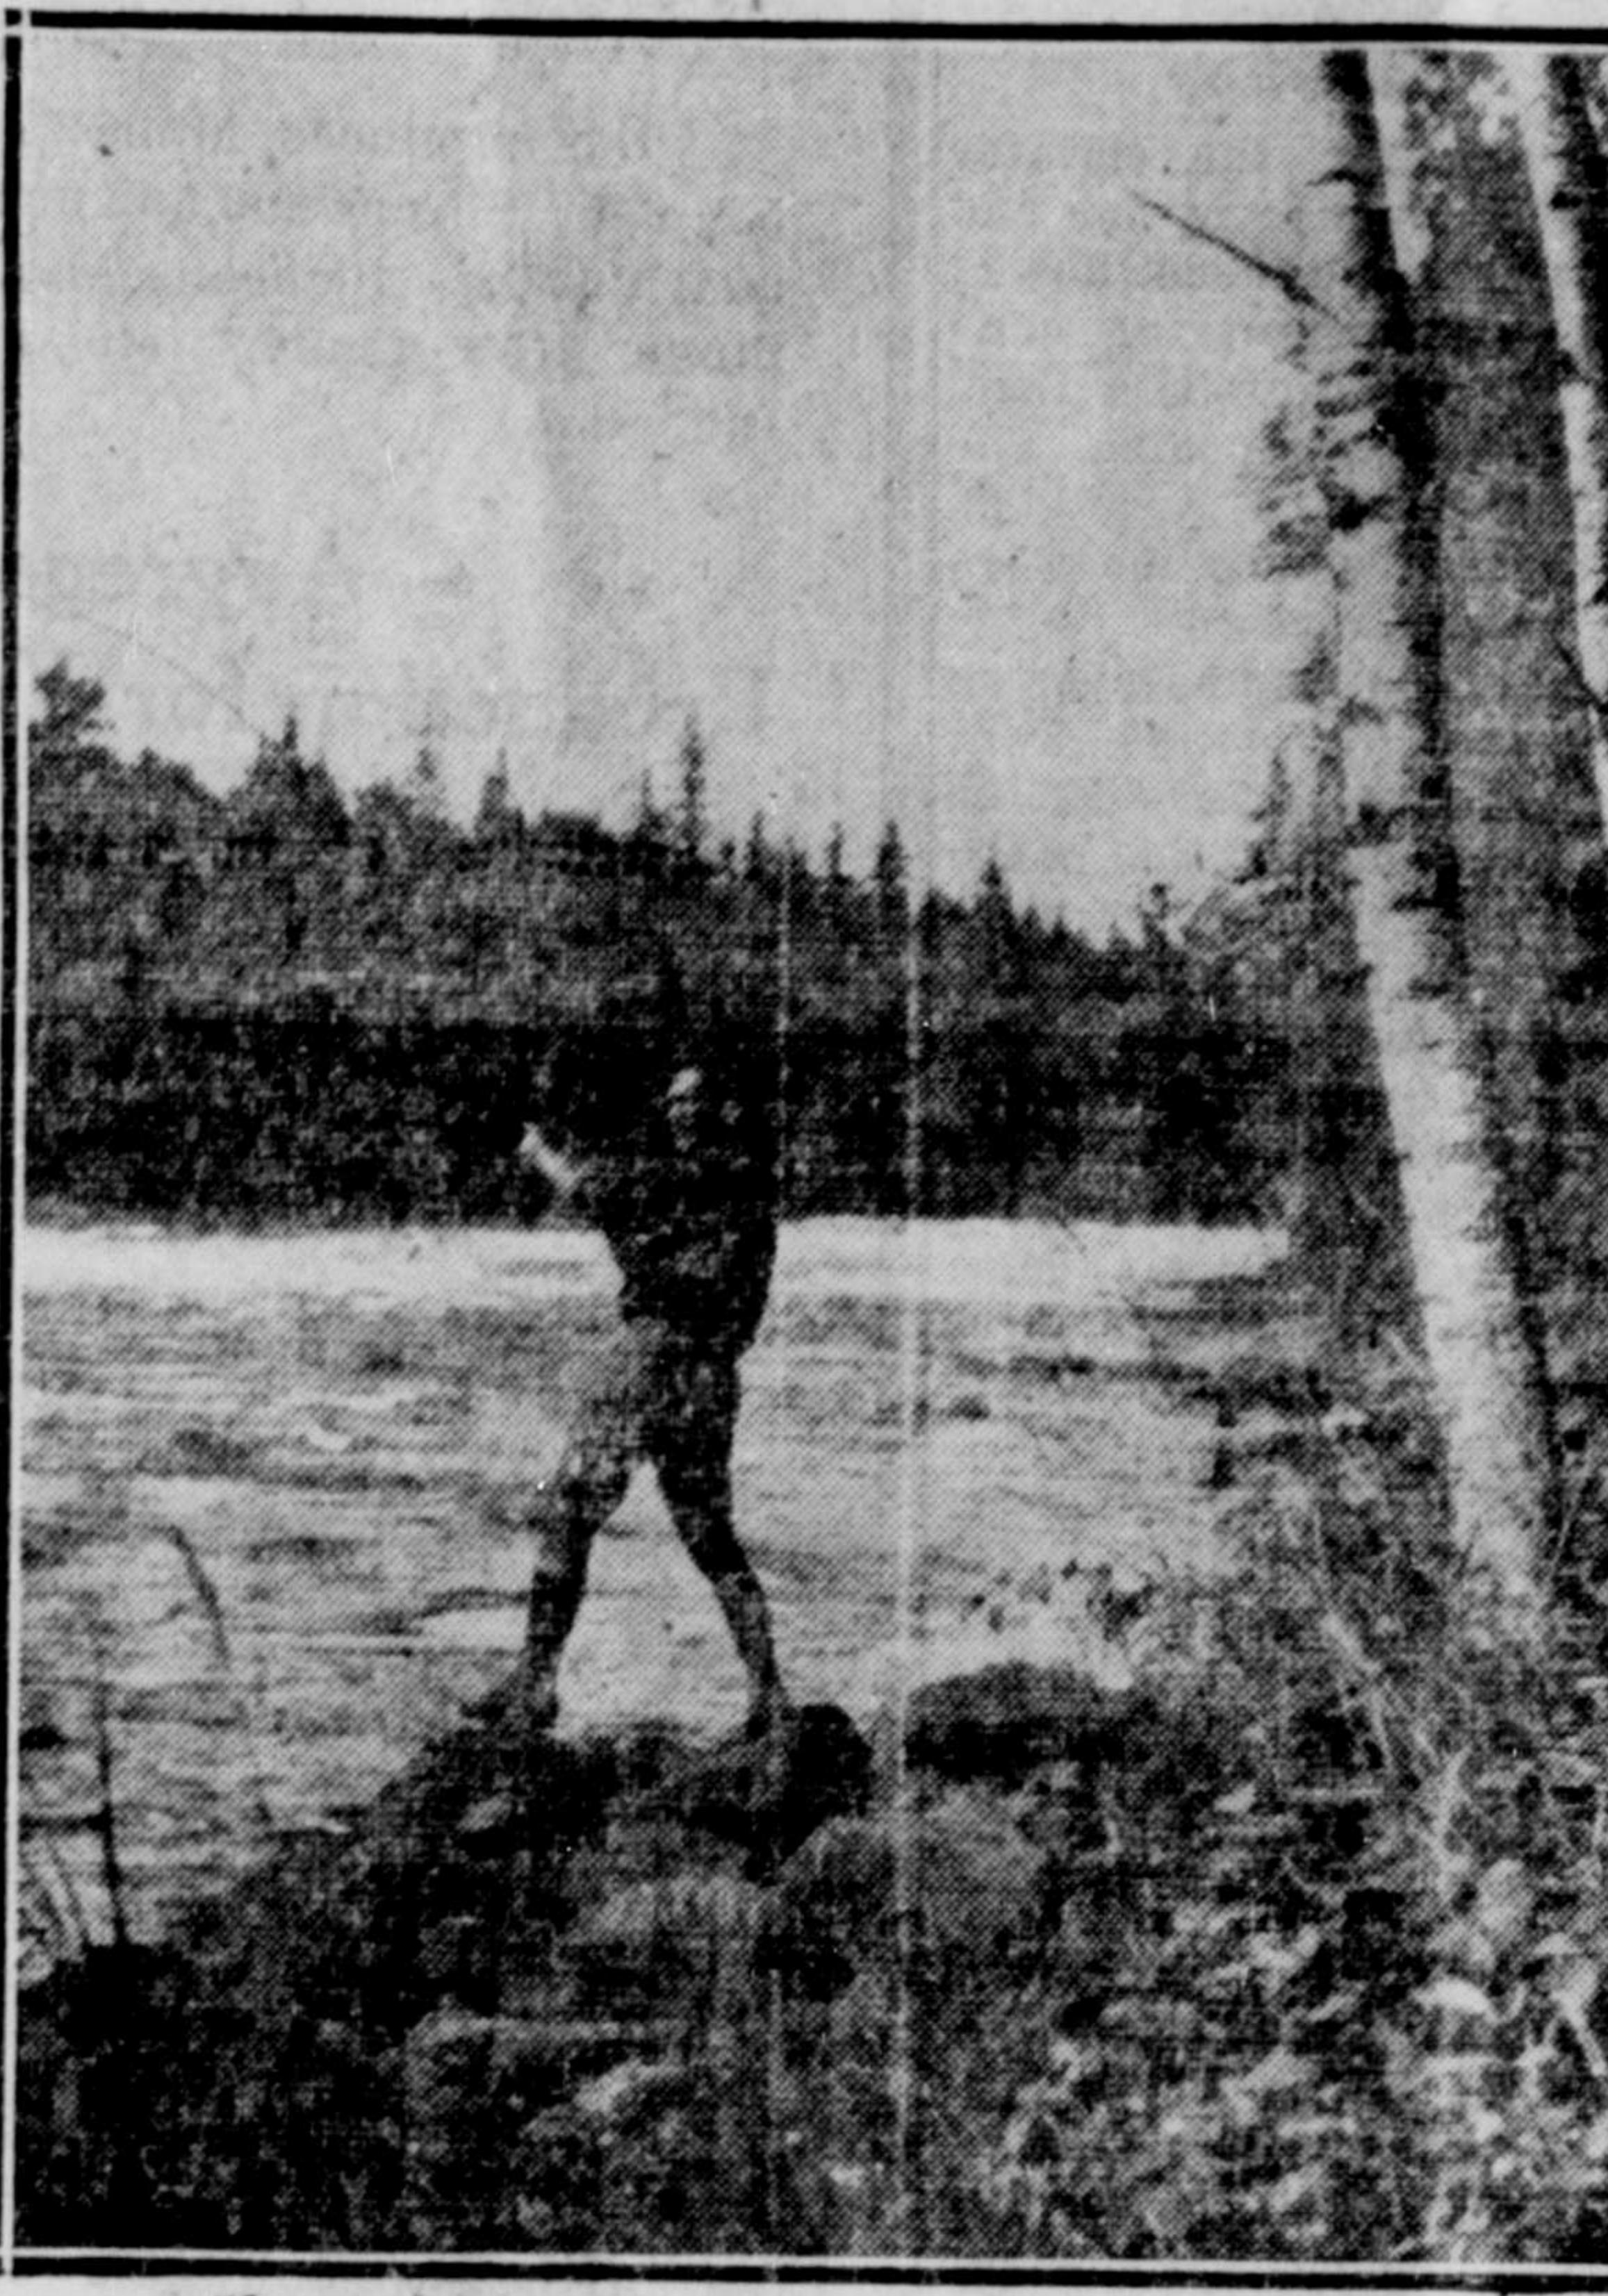

It all happened late in the evening. The trout at this point are the most famed and largest brook trout in the world. But just at that time they were not striking as usual on account of the exceedingly cold night. However, I decided to go to the river to try out little split bamboo bait casting rod, 2 1/4 ounces, that I had made for casting very light lures. It would be a revelation to myself and other anglers to take trout in this manner, when fly casting is the vogue.

The water under the Canadian Pacific bridge, and below for a quarter of a mile at least, flows like a millrace. I attached to my line a small weighted feather casting minnow, just to see if the little rod would shoot it. At the first try I shot the lure at least 125 feet across the water toward the west bank and in the opposite edge of fast water.

The very instant that the tiny lure struck the water the second of the only two large rainbow trout that up to then had even been taken out of the Nipigon rose and seized my lure. He was a monster. It seemed an impossible accomplishment ever to land that fish.

I worked in a bad light nearly an hour, and in danger of falling into that deep, swift reach, trying hard to lead that fish out of the fast water where the current would not aid it into the long upstream swirl on my side. The only thing that helped me in that fight was the generous supply of filled line I had in store on my reel to help perfect thumbing of it.

I worked up and down those rapids in despair and hope, and as the whims of the strong leaping fish directed. Yet the thrill of trying to land that fish with the little rod and the fine nine-pound test casting line. The thrill that came in that approaching darkness was incredible. The killing of moose and grizzly bear was tame in comparison.

I worked in a bad light nearly an hour, and in danger of falling into that deep, swift reach, trying hard to lead that fish out of the fast water where the current would not aid it into the long upstream swirl on my side. The only thing that helped me in that fight was the generous supply of filled line I had in store on my reel to help perfect thumbing of it.

should then be prepared to take its chance without other interference from the department or time of it dies. The doctor gets $25 to $100, the undertaker from $50 to $100. The editor publishes an account of the funeral and the names of the mourners two columns long, Lodge and society resolutions, a lot of poetry and a card of thanks and gets $8000. And that's how editors of newspapers get so wealthy.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:

BLAH, Blah! and again I say Blah!

DON'T ask questions or I may say something worse than Blah. How can a man be funny when he feels like swearing? How can he help swearing when he has lost a button. In fact how can he be decent in any respect without the proper number of attachments to his jeans. IN view of the recent developments in heir, it may be mentioned that "Bacchus is willin'."

I'VE already forgotten those blasted buttons. They are gone, so let them go. I have found a long lost friend to cheer me. Years ago I met him wandering in the mazes of the country papers and here he turns up again at the head of the "Just Among Ourselves" column of the Ottawa Citizen and on the front page at that. Skip the next dash and you will meet him.

Institutions

MONTREAL, Apr. 6.—Leading

American educators, including the presidents of seventy-five universities and colleges, sent greetings to the Hebrew University on Mount Scopus overlooking Jerusalem, which was dedicated last week in the presence of world famous scholars and statesmen from practically every country in the world. Lord Arthur James Balfour, dean of British statesmen made the principal address at the dedication exercises.

Over five thousand persons are in Palestine to attend the opening of the University, which marks the cultural climax of the Jewish Homeland movement.

Shop-windows on parade

IN THE quiet and comfort of your home, newspaper in hand, the shop-windows of the town's best stores pass in review. Look at that charming little hat—just the style you have been looking for, and so reasonable!

And say, isn't that coat a darling? . . . Not only do you see illustrations of the merchandise, but you are told in detail of its merits and prices. A passing panorama that may be halted and started and halted at will. A shopping trip at home!

How long do you suppose it would take you to reverse the process—to go up one street and down another, until you had visited personally every worth-while store in town? And how exhausted you would be, physically and nervously.

There's no doubt about it. The modern way to shop is to read the advertisements, then make notes of the stores and the particular offerings that appeal to you. What a lot of time and bother such a method saves. You know beforehand what you want to look at, who has it, and what you will have to pay.

Read the advertisements. Make it a daily habit. The regular reader of advertisements is better informed, makes the family budget stretch further, has more time for recreation, gets more value for her money, and profits in many other ways. Advertisements are frequently the most interesting news in the paper.

Every day these shop-windows are lined up for your inspection in this newspaper

Imperial Company Will Finally Establish Worth of Fort Norman Field

CALGARY, April 6.—The Imperial Oil Company will seek for a definite decision of the old prospects in the Canadian Arctic this summer. The company, which has been drilling at Fort Norman since 1921, hopes this summer to establish the true worth of the field. It is known that a party under Augus Sutherland, who superintended the operations last summer, will leave here for Fort Norman as soon as it is possible to travel. Going in by way of Fort Nelson they will avoid Great Slave Lake and will be able to reach their destination earlier than if they waited for the ice to clear from this body of water. With the best of luck, however, it is not likely that the party will reach Fort Norman before July 1.

When the party arrives at Fort Norman they will continue drilling the No. 2 well which is now down 800 feet. They will push the hole down another 500 feet, to the same depth at which oil was struck in No. 1 well. Great care has been exercised in drilling this hole in order not to freeze in.

WATER NOTICE.

TAKES NOTICE that the Skeena River Packing Company, Limited, whose address is 1318 Standard Bank Building, Vancouver, B.C., will apply for a license to take and use up to one second of water out of West Creek, which flows northwesterly and drains into Porpoise Harbour about north end of 11th Avenue, Port Edward Townsite. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about 100 yards above the mouth at point of diversion of Port Edward Townsite water system and will be used for industrial purposes upon the lands described as part of forest lot number 412, section 5, townsite. This notice was posted on the ground on the 23rd day of March, 1925. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the Water Act, 1917, will be filed in the office of the Water Commissioner, Prince Rupert, B.C. Objection to the application may be filed with the said Water Commissioner or with the Commissioner of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., within thirty days after the first appearance of the notice in a local newspaper. The date of the first publication of this notice is March 26th, 1925.
